ROAD TRAFFIC (

STOP PRESS:

The Driving Instruction (Suspension and Exemption Powers) Act 2009 provides for the suspension in certain circumstances of registration and licences relating to the provision of driving instruction, and makes provision about exemptions from prohibitions concerning registration (including provision about suspension) and about compensation in connection with suspension. The Act received royal assent on 12 November 2009 and ss 5 and 6 came into force on that day. The remaining provisions come into force on a day or days to be appointed. For details of commencement, see the COMMENCEMENT OF STATUTES table in the Current Service Noter-up booklet.

Sections 1-3 amend the Road Traffic Act 1998. Provision is made by the 2009 Act s 1 for the suspension of a person's registration to give driving instruction, where the registrar is considering either terminating the person's registration, or where the registrar has already so decided, and he believes such person presents a significant threat to the safety of members of the public. By virtue of s 2, the Secretary of State must make a scheme for the making of compensation payments in respect of suspension. Provision is made by s 3 for exemptions from prohibitions concerning registration. Section 4, Sch 1 make transitory amendments to the existing registration regime. Consequential provision is made by s 5 and transitional, transitory and saving provisions are made by s 6. Section 7 deals with short title, commencement and extent.

Amendments, repeals and revocations

Subscribers should note that the list below mentions repeals and amendments which are or will be effective when the Act is fully in force. Please refer to the top of this summary for details of the in-force dates of the provisions of the Act. This information may also be found in the COMMENCEMENT OF STATUTES table in the Current Service Noter-up booklet. Please also note that the list is not exhaustive.

Specific provisions of a number of Acts are added, amended or repealed. These include: Road Traffic Act 1998 ss 128(7A)-(7G), 128ZA, 128ZB, 129(9), 130(7)-(13), 131A; Road Traffic Offenders Act 1998 s 18(1).

(i) Introduction

201. Road traffic.

At common law a person's right to use the highway was regulated mainly by the duty of care owed to other users of the highway<sup>1</sup>, by the law of nuisance<sup>2</sup>, and by limitation of that right to the purposes of legitimate travel<sup>3</sup> and to the class of traffic for which the highway had been dedicated<sup>4</sup>. The detailed regulation of all forms of traffic by road which is the subject matter of this title is entirely statutory<sup>5</sup>. Certain definitions are common throughout the road traffic legislation<sup>6</sup>.

202. The legislation.

The principal enactments relating to road traffic are the Road Traffic Act 1988, the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 and the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 ('the Road Traffic Acts')<sup>1</sup>, which came into force on 15 May 1989<sup>2</sup> and which consolidated earlier legislation<sup>3</sup>. These Acts have been amended and extended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 and the Road Safety Act 2006. Many detailed provisions are contained in subordinate legislation<sup>4</sup>. Nothing in these Acts authorises a person to use on a road<sup>5</sup> a vehicle so constructed or used as to cause a public or private nuisance, or affects the liability, whether under statute or common law<sup>6</sup>, of the driver<sup>7</sup> or owner<sup>8</sup> so using such a vehicle<sup>9</sup>.

Separate enactments govern the taxation, licensing and registration of all road vehicles<sup>10</sup> and the operation and special licensing of goods vehicles<sup>11</sup> and passenger vehicles<sup>12</sup>. There is also legislation containing powers for controlling traffic, parking, speed limits and other matters<sup>13</sup>.

Some statutes remain in force which were enacted when road traffic was principally horse drawn. The older statutes include the provisions of the Town Police Clauses Act 1847 relating to hackney carriages<sup>14</sup>, a number of provisions applying in London, principally those relating to hackney carriages or cabs<sup>15</sup>, and some minor provisions relating to stage carriages<sup>16</sup>.

2 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 197(2); Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 99(2); Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 s 8(2).

3 For the repealed enactments see the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 s 3(1), Sch 1 Pt I; for consequential amendments see s 4, Schs 2, 3; and for transitional provisions, including savings for things done or begun under repealed enactments and the construction of references, see ss 2, 5, Sch 4. Certain enactments remain in part unrepealed: see eg the Road Traffic Act 1930 Pt V (ss 101-109) (as amended) (see PARA 1260 post), which deals with the powers of local authorities to operate public service vehicles.

4 As to the exercise of powers to make regulations see PARA 243 post.

5 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 post.

6 As to public and private nuisance and liability for it see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARAS 322-339; and as to the distinction between public and private nuisance see NUISANCE vol 78 (2010) PARAS 105, 107.

7 For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 post.

8 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 207 post.

9 Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 s 7. Similar provision has been made in respect of the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981 (see s 85 (applied to the Transport Act 1985 Pts I, II (ss 1-46) (as amended) by s 128)); the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (see s 143); and the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 (see s 54).

10 See the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994; and PARA 518 et seq post.

11 See the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995; and PARA 1319 et seq post. The Road Traffic Act 1988 also includes provisions as to the parking of heavy commercial vehicles (see ss 19, 20; and PARAS 220, 997 post), the testing, plating and type approval of goods vehicles (see ss 49-65A (as amended); and PARA 657 et seq post) and the licensing of drivers of large goods vehicles (see Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as amended); and PARA 487 et seq post). The Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 contains provisions restricting the use on roads of heavy commercial vehicles (see PARAS 209, 220 post): see s 122(2)(b); and PARA 734 post. It also contains the reserve powers of the Secretary of State: see s 124(1), Sch 9 Pt I para 5 (as amended); and PARA 736 post. Further legislation is contained in the International Road Haulage Permits Act 1975 (see PARA 1334 post), and certain provisions of the Transport Act 1968: see further PARA 1380 et seq post. As to stamp duty under the Transport Act 1968 see s 160 (amended by the Finance Act 1973 s 59(7), Sch 22 Pt V; the Transport Act 1985 s 57(6), Sch 3 para 20; the Finance Act 1988 s 148, Sch 14 Pt XI; and the Railways Act 1993 s 152(3), Sch 14). As to expenses paid out of moneys provided by Parliament under the Transport Act 1968 see s 163.

12 See the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981 and the Transport Act 1985, which continue the system of licensing under the traffic commissioners which was originally enacted under the Road Traffic Act 1930: see PARA 1141 et seq post. The Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 provides for the regulation of the use of highways by public service vehicles: see s 19 (as amended); and PARA 767 post.

13 See the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984; the Road Traffic Act 1991; and PARA 718 et seq post. The operation of tramcars is, in general, controlled by the Tramways Act 1870: see PARAS 1555-1561 post.

As to the law relating to hackney carriages see PARA 1434 et seq post.

16 See eg the Stage Carriages Act 1832, which is repealed except as it applies to the Blackpool tramway system. Provision limited to animal drawn vehicles is found in the Highways Act 1959 s 309, Sch 22; continued in effect by the Highways Act 1980 s 340(1).

204. Regulation of road traffic.

Local authorities have statutory powers to make orders regulating the use of roads and car parks within their areas<sup>1</sup>. The Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> has certain reserve powers enabling him to secure the compliance of local authorities with their general duty<sup>3</sup> with respect to road traffic<sup>4</sup>. He may direct an authority to make an order or may prohibit it from doing so, or may make one himself on its failure to comply; and, in certain cases, he may vary or revoke an order made by a local authority<sup>5</sup>. The consent of the Secretary of State is required before certain orders are made<sup>6</sup>. Provision is made as to notification of proposals for orders and consents<sup>7</sup>, the variation and revocation of orders<sup>8</sup>, public inquiries as to traffic orders<sup>9</sup>, the procedure for the making of orders<sup>10</sup> and for the right to challenge orders<sup>11</sup>.

205. Application to the Crown.

Certain provisions of the Road Traffic Acts<sup>1</sup> apply to vehicles and persons in the public service of the Crown<sup>2</sup>.

The following provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1988 apply to the Crown with certain exceptions: (1) the principal road safety provisions<sup>3</sup>; (2) the provisions as to the construction and use of vehicles and equipment<sup>4</sup>; (3) the provisions as to the licensing of drivers of vehicles<sup>5</sup>; (4) the provisions as to the licensing of drivers of large goods vehicles and passenger-carrying vehicles<sup>6</sup>; and (5) certain provisions as to the production of documents and the giving of information and other general provisions<sup>7</sup>.

The following provisions of the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 apply to the Crown: (a) provisions concerning prosecutions and proceedings for certain offences<sup>8</sup>; (b) provisions concerning the giving of specimens in relation to certain offences<sup>9</sup>; (c) the provision relating to the admissibility of certain evidence of speeding offences<sup>10</sup>; (d) the provision relating to offenders escaping the consequences of an endorsable offence by deception<sup>11</sup>; and (e) provisions connected with the licensing of drivers<sup>12</sup>.

The provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 relating to traffic regulation orders<sup>13</sup>, experimental traffic schemes<sup>14</sup>, temporary suspensions, prohibitions or restrictions of traffic<sup>15</sup>, excess weights on roads or bridges<sup>16</sup>, traffic regulation for special areas of the countryside<sup>17</sup>, pedestrian and school crossings<sup>18</sup>, bus and coach stations<sup>19</sup>, parking places<sup>20</sup>, parking in the royal parks<sup>21</sup>, stands and racks for bicycles<sup>22</sup>, parking attendants<sup>23</sup>, traffic signs<sup>24</sup>, speed limits<sup>25</sup>, removal of illegally, obstructively or dangerously parked, abandoned or broken down vehicles<sup>26</sup>, immobilisation of vehicles illegally parked<sup>27</sup>, and boundary roads and parts of roads<sup>28</sup> apply to vehicles and persons in the public service of the Crown<sup>29</sup>.

Nothing in the provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1991 concerning traffic in London<sup>32</sup> apply to any vehicle which at the relevant time is used or appropriated for use for naval, military or air force purposes<sup>33</sup>. However, the provisions of that Act concerning parking penalties in London<sup>34</sup>, and the immobilisation of vehicles in parking places in London<sup>35</sup>, apply to vehicles in the public service of the Crown which are required to be registered under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994<sup>36</sup> (other than those exempt above) and to persons in the public service of the Crown<sup>37</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'the Road Traffic Acts' see PARA 202 text and note 1 ante.

2 See the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 183(1) (as amended); and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 92 (see PARA 1023 post). As to the meaning of 'the public service of the Crown' see Nottingham No 1 Area Hospital Management Committee v Owen [1958] 1 QB 50, [1957] 3 All ER 358, DC. See also Salt v MacKnight 1947 SC (J) 99, 1947 SLT 327 (Crown vehicle used for purposes other than Crown business).

3 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 183(1)(a). The principal road safety provisions are contained in Pt I (ss 1-40) (as amended): see PARA 963 et seq post. Where an offence under the Road Traffic Acts or the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 is alleged to have been committed in connection with a vehicle in the public service of the Crown, proceedings may be brought in respect of the offence against a person nominated for the purpose on behalf of the Crown, and he is guilty of the offence as well as any person actually responsible for it, but without prejudice to proceedings against any person so responsible: see the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 94(1), (2); and PARA 1023 post. However, where a person is convicted of an offence by virtue of this provision, no order may be made save an order imposing a fine; payment of the fine may not be enforced against him; and, apart from the imposition of any fine, the conviction is to be disregarded for all purposes other than any appeal, whether by way of case stated or otherwise: see s 94(3); and PARA 1023 post. This avoids the difficulties over endorsement etc discussed in Barnett v French [1981] 1 WLR 848, [1981] RTR 173, DC.

In their application to persons subject to service discipline, the Road Traffic Act 1988 ss 5-10 (as amended) apply outside as well as within Great Britain and have effect as modified by s 184(1) (amended by the Railways and Transport Safety Act 2003 s 107, Sch 7 para 6), and a member of the provost staff may arrest a person for the time being subject to service discipline without warrant, outside as well as within Great Britain, if he has reasonable cause to suspect that that person is or has been committing an offence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 4 (as amended) (see PARA 975 post): s 184(2), (2A) (s 184(2) substituted, and s 184(2A) added, by the Serious Organised Crime and Police Act 2005 s 111, Sch 7 para 59). As to persons subject to service discipline and as to provost staff see ARMED FORCES. 'Great Britain' means England, Scotland and Wales: Union with Scotland Act 1706, preamble art I; Interpretation Act 1978 s 22(1), Sch 2 para 5(a).

4 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 183(1)(b). The provisions as to the construction and use of vehicles and equipment which apply to the Crown are contained in Pt II (ss 40A-86) (as amended) (see PARAS 260-266, 376, 625, 657 et seq post), with the exception of ss 68-74 (as amended), s 77 (relating to the inspection of public passenger vehicles and goods vehicles, prohibition of unfit vehicles and the operator's duty to inspect, and keep records of, goods vehicles) (see PARA 686 et seq post). The provisions of ss 49-63 (as amended) (see PARA 679 et seq post), s 64A (as added and amended) (see PARA 708 post), s 65 (as amended) (see PARA 701 post) and s 65A (as added and amended) (see PARA 709 post) apply: (1) to vehicles in the public service of the Crown only if they are registered or liable to be registered under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 (see PARA 518 et seq post); and (2) to trailers in the public service of the Crown only while drawn by vehicles, whether or not in the public service of the Crown, which are required to be so registered: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 183(2) (amended by the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 63, Sch 3 para 24(1); and the Motor Vehicles (EC Type Approval) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/3107, regs 1(2), 16, Sch 2 para 6). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 183(2) (as amended) is further amended by the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 s 4, Sch 2 para 18 so as also to apply the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 63A (as added) (see PARA 716 post) to the Crown. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

Where those provisions apply they do so subject to the following modifications: examinations of such vehicles in pursuance of regulations under s 49 (as amended) (see PARA 676 post) or s 61(2)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 711 post) may be made by or under the directions of examiners authorised by the Secretary of State for the purpose instead of by or under the directions of examiners appointed under s 66A (as added and amended) (see PARA 698 post): s 183(3) (amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 ss 48, 83, Sch 4 para 77, Sch 8). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 183(3) (as amended) is further amended by the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 Sch 2 para 18 to include the directions of authorised inspectors under the Transport Act 1982 s 8 (as amended) (see PARA 699 post). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

Military vehicles are exempted from certain of the requirements as to the lighting of vehicles: see the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1996, reg 7; and PARA 401 post.

5 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 183(1)(c) (amended by the Police Reform Act 2002 ss 107, 108(10)(b), Sch 7 para 12, Sch 8). The provisions as to licensing of drivers which apply to the Crown are contained in the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109) (as amended) (see PARA 442 et seq post). Neither s 97(3) (as amended) (see PARA 464 post) nor s 98(3) (as amended) (see PARA 466 post), in so far as they prevent such a licence as is there mentioned from authorising a person to drive certain motor bicycles and mopeds, applies: (1) in the case of motor bicycles and mopeds owned by the Secretary of State for Defence and used for naval, military or air force purposes; or (2) in the case of motor bicycles and mopeds so used while being ridden by persons for the time being subject to the orders of a member of the armed forces of the Crown: s 183(4) (amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 34; and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 15). As to the Secretary of State for Defence see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARAS 438-447.

Subject to regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(2) (see PARA 479 post), s 101 (as amended) (in so far as it prohibits persons under 21 from holding or obtaining a licence to drive motor vehicles or persons under 18 from holding or obtaining a licence to drive medium-sized goods vehicles) does not apply: (a) in the case of motor vehicles owned by the Secretary of State for Defence and used for naval, military or air force purposes; or (b) in the case of vehicles so used while being driven by persons for the time being subject to the orders of a member of the armed forces of the Crown: s 183(5).

6 Ibid s 183(1)(d). The provisions as to licensing of drivers which apply to the Crown are contained in Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as amended): see PARA 489 et seq post. The functions under Pt IV (as amended) of the traffic commissioners in relation to licences issued to persons subject to the Naval Discipline Act 1957 or to military or air force law to drive large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles in the public service of the Crown must be exercised by the prescribed authority: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 183(6) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 23). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 192(1). The authority prescribed is the traffic commissioner for the South Eastern and Metropolitan Traffic Areas: see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 81. As from a day to be appointed, the Secretary of State may by regulations provide that the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt V (ss 123-142) (as amended) (driving instruction: see PARA 411 et seq post) is to apply in relation to persons in the public service of the Crown but subject to any prescribed omissions, additions or other modifications: s 183(6A) (prospectively added by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 29). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

In relation to vehicles used for naval, military or air force purposes, while being driven by persons for the time being subject to the orders of a member of the armed forces of the Crown, the Secretary of State may by regulations vary the provisions of any statutory provision imposing a speed limit on motor vehicles, subject to such conditions as may be specified in the regulations: s 130(3). At the date at which this volume states the law no regulations had been made under this provision but, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Motor Vehicles (Variation of Speed Limit) Regulations 1947, SR & O 1947/2192 (amended by SI 1954/943; SI 1964/489) have effect as if so made.

However, Pt VI (as amended) does not apply in the case of motor vehicles owned by the Secretary of State for Defence and used for naval, military or air force purposes or in the case of vehicles so used while being driven by persons subject to the orders of a member of the armed forces: s 102(2). Where an offence under Pt VI (as amended) is alleged to have been committed in connection with a vehicle in the public service of the Crown, proceedings may be brought in respect of the offence against a person nominated for the purpose on behalf of the Crown, and he is guilty of the offence as well as the person actually responsible for it, but without prejudice to proceedings against any person so responsible: s 102(3) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 s 4, Sch 3 para 6(6)). However, where a person is convicted of an offence by virtue of the Transport Act 1968 s 102(3) (as substituted): (1) no order may be made on his conviction save an order imposing a fine; (2) payment of the fine may not be enforced against him; and (3) apart from the imposition of any fine, the conviction is to be disregarded for all purposes other than any appeal, whether by way of case stated or otherwise: s 102(3A) (added by the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 Sch 3 para 6(6)).

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(ii) General Definitions/206. Meanings of 'road', 'bridleway' and 'footpath'.

(ii) General Definitions

206. Meanings of 'road', 'bridleway' and 'footpath'.

The terms 'traffic' and 'road traffic' are not defined in the road traffic statutes generally<sup>1</sup>.

'Road' means any length of highway or of any other road to which the public has access, and includes bridges over which a road passes<sup>2</sup>. In this context, 'the public' means the general public and not members of a limited class<sup>3</sup> and the access must be lawful access<sup>4</sup>. A road includes the footway as well as the carriageway<sup>5</sup>, and may include a private road<sup>6</sup>. Whether any place is a road is a matter of fact in each case<sup>7</sup>.

'Bridleway' means a way over which the public has the following, but no other, rights of way, that is to say, a right of way on foot and a right of way on horseback or leading a horse, with or without a right to drive animals of any description along the way<sup>8</sup>.

'Footpath' means a way over which the public has a right of way on foot only<sup>9</sup>.

In Oxford v Austin [1981] RTR 416, DC, it was held that the proper approach to this provision was to determine first whether there was a road in that there was a definable way between two points over which vehicles could pass, and then to determine whether the public, or a section of the public, had access to the road. See also the cases cited in notes 3-4 infra.

In certain statutory provisions, there are references to 'a road or other public place': see eg the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 1 (as substituted) (see PARA 963 post). Where admission to a particular place is subject to conditions, the question to ask is whether the screening process operates or endows those passing through with some special characteristic whereby their identity changes from being members of the general public to members of a special class: DPP v Vivier [1991] 4 All ER 18, [1991] RTR 205, DC. See also R v DPP, ex p Taussik (7 June 2000) Lexis, DC.

A road used only for access to a group of houses may not be a road for these purposes: see Knaggs v Elson (1965) 109 Sol Jo 596, DC. An access to a farm and caravan site may not be a road although heavily used: R v Beaumont [1964] Crim LR 665, CCA. Roads on a housing estate may not be open to the general public and therefore not amount to roads under the legislation: Deacon v A T (a minor) [1976] RTR 244, DC. Some roads with limited access are, however, declared by statute to be roads for certain purposes of the road traffic legislation: see eg the Port of London Act 1968 s 199 (as substituted and amended). A Crown road (defined as a road other than a highway, to which the public has access by permission granted by the appropriate Crown authority) is normally a road for the purposes of the road traffic legislation: Kellett v Daisy [1977] RTR 396, DC.

Consideration of access by the public only arises if the place is a road; whether a particular area is a road is eventually a matter of fact, but in the ordinary use of language a car park did not so qualify: Cutter v Eagle Star Insurance Co, Clarke v Kato [1998] 4 All ER 417, [1998] 1 WLR 1647, sub nom Clarke v General Accident Fire and Life Assurance Corp'n plc, Cutter v Eagle Star Insurance Co Ltd [1999] RTR 153, HL. See also DPP v Vivier [1991] 4 All ER 18, [1991] RTR 205, DC.

The width of the road is a matter of fact: A-G and Croydon RDC v Moorsom-Roberts (1908) 72 JP 123; A-G v Beynon [1970] Ch 1, [1969] 2 All ER 263. The position of the frontages of buildings or other obvious features such as railings and walls as affording evidence of the boundary is a rebuttable presumption: see Harvey v Truro RDC [1903] 2 Ch 638; Fisher v Winch [1939] 1 KB 666, [1939] 2 All ER 144, CA; Davey v Harrow Corp'n [1958] 1 QB 60, [1957] 2 All ER 305, CA.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(ii) General Definitions/207. Meanings of 'driver' and 'owner'.

207. Meanings of 'driver' and 'owner'.

'Driver', where a separate person acts as a steersman of a motor vehicle, includes that person as well as any other person engaged in the driving of the vehicle, and 'drive' and 'driving' are to be interpreted accordingly<sup>1</sup>. This definition does not apply in relation to driving offences<sup>2</sup>.

'Owner', in relation to a vehicle which is the subject of a hiring agreement or hire-purchase agreement, means the person in possession of the vehicle under that agreement<sup>3</sup>.

The Road Traffic (Foreign Vehicles) Act 1972 s 7(1) and the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 s 58(1) further specify that, in relation to a trailer, 'driver' means any person who is the driver of the motor vehicle by which the trailer is drawn: see the Road Traffic (Foreign Vehicles) Act 1972 s 7(1); and the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 s 58(1). The definition of driver contemplates two persons being in charge of the same vehicle, and accordingly a person steering a broken-down vehicle that is being towed is not a 'driver': Wallace v Major [1946] KB 473, [1946] 2 All ER 87, DC. However, a person who steers a vehicle down a hill under the force of gravity is its driver: Saycell v Bool [1948] 2 All ER 83, 112 JP 341, DC. As to whether one or other or both of two persons are driving in particular circumstances see also Marsh v Moores [1949] 2 KB 208, [1949] 2 All ER 27, DC; Langman v Valentine [1952] 2 All ER 803, 116 JP 576, DC; Evans v Walkden [1956] 3 All ER 64, [1956] 1 WLR 1019, DC. The motion of a vehicle is not the only consideration when establishing whether a person is driving it: Planton v DPP [2001] EWHC 450 (Admin), [2002] RTR 107, DC.

- 1 (1) inclusive of the body and all parts (the heavier being taken where alternative bodies<sup>4</sup> or parts are used) which are necessary to or ordinarily used with the vehicle or trailer when working on a road; but
- 2 (2) exclusive of the weight of water, fuel or accumulators used for the purpose of the supply of power for the propulsion of the vehicle or, as the case may be, of any vehicle by which the trailer is drawn, and of loose tools and loose equipment<sup>5</sup>.

1 Ie the Transport Act 1968 Pt VI (ss 95-103) (as amended): see PARA 1380 post.

2 For the meanings of 'motor vehicle' and 'trailer' see PARA 210 post.

3 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

A highway authority may: (1) provide, erect, maintain and operate, or join with another highway authority in providing, erecting, maintaining and operating, weighbridges or other machines for weighing vehicles; or (2) contribute towards the cost of the provision, erection, maintenance and operation of any such weighbridge or other machine by any other authority or person: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 196(1). The Secretary of State may exercise the powers so conferred whether or not in his capacity as highway authority, but may provide, erect, maintain and operate any such machine on a road for which he is not the highway authority only with the consent of the highway authority: s 196(2). Accordingly, the presence of any such machine on a road in consequence of the exercise of those powers by virtue of s 196(2), as in any other case, is not to be taken to be an obstruction of the road: s 196(3). The provision or erection, or the making of a contribution towards the provision or erection, of any such weighbridge or other machine is a purpose for which the highway authority may borrow: s 196(4). Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(ii) General Definitions/210. Meanings of 'motor vehicle' and 'trailer'.

210. Meanings of 'motor vehicle' and 'trailer'.

'Motor vehicle' means a mechanically propelled vehicle<sup>1</sup> intended or adapted for use on roads<sup>2</sup>. 'Trailer' means a vehicle drawn by a motor vehicle<sup>3</sup>.

A sidecar attached to a motor vehicle is, if it complies with such conditions as may be specified in regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>, to be regarded as forming part of the vehicle to which it is attached and not as being a trailer<sup>5</sup>.

In a case where a motor vehicle is so constructed that a trailer may by partial superimposition be attached to the vehicle in such a manner as to cause a substantial part of the weight of the trailer to be borne by the vehicle, that vehicle is deemed to be a vehicle itself constructed to carry a load<sup>6</sup>. In the case of a motor vehicle fitted with a crane, dynamo, welding plant or other special appliance or apparatus which is a permanent or essentially permanent fixture, the appliance or apparatus is not deemed to constitute a load or goods or burden of any description, but is deemed to form part of the vehicle<sup>7</sup>.

For the purposes of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, the Road Traffic Act 1988 and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988, the following are to be treated as not being a motor vehicle:

- 3 (1) a mechanically propelled vehicle which is an implement for cutting grass, is controlled by a pedestrian<sup>8</sup> and is not capable of being used or adapted for any other purpose<sup>9</sup>;
- 4 (2) any other mechanically propelled vehicle controlled by a pedestrian which may be specified by regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>10</sup>; and
- 5 (3) an electrically assisted pedal cycle of such class as may be prescribed by regulations so made<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'mechanically propelled vehicle' see PARA 211 post.

Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 s 58(1); and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table. In relation to the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, the Road Traffic Act 1988 and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988, this definition is expressed to be subject to the Chronically Sick and Disabled Persons Act 1970 s 20 (as amended) (which makes special provision with respect to invalid carriages): see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE vol 44(2) (Reissue) PARA 1023 et seq. For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante. For the meaning of 'invalid carriage' see PARA 215 post.

A motorised scooter known as a 'Go-ped' is a motor vehicle for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 185(1), in relation to which a driving licence and insurance are required to drive it: DPP v Saddington [2001] RTR 227, DC.

3 See the Road Traffic Act 1960 s 253(1); the Transport Act 1968 s 103(1); the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 136(1); the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 185(1); the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 98(2) (as amended: see note 2 supra); the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 s 58(1); and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

The Road Traffic (Foreign Vehicles) Act 1972 specifies that any reference to a motor vehicle drawing a trailer, or to a motor vehicle by which a trailer is drawn, is to be construed as a reference to a motor vehicle to which a trailer is attached for the purpose of being drawn by it; and where, for the purpose of being drawn by a motor vehicle, two or more trailers (one of which is attached to the motor vehicle) are attached to each other, the motor vehicle is, for the purposes of that Act, to be treated as drawing each of those trailers: s 7(3).

The provisions of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078 (as amended) relating to trailers do not apply to any part of an articulated bus: reg 3(9). As to articulated buses see PARA 271 note 6 post.

4 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 post. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 post.

8 For these purposes, 'controlled by a pedestrian' means that the vehicle either: (1) is constructed or adapted for use only under such control; or (2) is constructed or adapted for use either under such control or under the control of a person carried on it, but is not for the time being in use under, or proceeding under, the control of a person carried on it: Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 140(2); Road Traffic Act 1988 s 189(2).

11 Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 140(1)(c); Road Traffic Act 1988 s 189(1)(c). The Electrically Assisted Pedal Cycles Regulations 1983, SI 1983/1168, have effect as if made under these provisions.

The class of electrically assisted pedal cycles prescribed for these purposes consists of bicycles or tricycles which:

- 1 (1) have a kerbside weight not exceeding: (a) in the case of a bicycle, other than a tandem bicycle, 40 kg; and (b) in the case of a tandem bicycle and a tricycle, 60 kg (reg 4(a));
- 2 (2) are fitted with pedals by means of which they are capable of being propelled (reg 4(b)); and
- 3 (3) are fitted with no motor other than an electric motor which: (a) has a continuous rated output which, when installed in the vehicle with the nominal voltage supplied, does not exceed, in the case of a bicycle other than a tandem bicycle, 0.2 kilowatts, and in the case of a tandem bicycle and a tricycle, 0.25 kilowatts; and (b) cannot propel the vehicle when it is travelling at more than 15 mph (reg 4(c)).

211. Meaning of 'mechanically propelled vehicle'.

The term 'mechanically propelled vehicle' is not defined in the road traffic legislation<sup>1</sup>, although for some purposes it is defined exclusively<sup>2</sup>. Following amendments made by the Road Traffic Act 1991, it is the term used in a number of provisions relating to offences of dangerous driving<sup>3</sup>, careless or inconsiderate driving<sup>4</sup>, and driving when under the influence of drink or drugs<sup>5</sup>. The term is also used in relation to the prohibition of driving mechanically propelled vehicles elsewhere than on roads<sup>6</sup>, in relation to the power of police to stop vehicles<sup>7</sup>, the duty of a driver to stop, report an accident etc<sup>8</sup>, and in relation to the power to hold accident inquiries<sup>9</sup>. It is used, too, in the definition of 'trolley vehicle'<sup>10</sup>.

1 The words are words of classification, not of definition: Lawrence v Howlett [1952] 2 All ER 74, DC. Where a vehicle (eg a motor car) is so designed that it has only mechanical means of propulsion, it is a mechanically propelled vehicle whether or not the engine is being used or is capable of being used (Lawrence v Howlett supra; Nichol v Leach [1972] RTR 476, DC (towed vehicle)) or being made usable (Newberry v Simmonds [1961] 2 QB 345, [1961] 2 All ER 318, DC; Law v Thomas (1964) 62 LGR 195, 108 Sol Jo 158, DC), unless there is no reasonable prospect of the engine ever being put into working order again (Smart v Allan [1963] 1 QB 291, [1962] 3 All ER 893, DC). However, where a vehicle (eg a pedal cycle fitted with an engine) is designed to have a non-mechanical as well as mechanical means of propulsion, the engine is not in working order and the non-mechanical means of propulsion are being used, it is not a mechanically propelled vehicle (Lawrence v Howlett supra); but if the engine is in working order although it is not being used, the vehicle is a mechanically propelled vehicle (Floyd v Bush [1953] 1 All ER 265, [1953] 1 WLR 242, DC).

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(ii) General Definitions/212. Meaning of 'motor car'.

212. Meaning of 'motor car'.

'Motor car' means a mechanically propelled vehicle, not being a motor cycle<sup>1</sup> or an invalid carriage<sup>2</sup>, which is constructed itself to carry a load or passengers and of which the weight unladen<sup>3</sup>:

- 6 (1) if it is constructed solely for the carriage of passengers and their effects, is adapted to carry not more than seven passengers exclusive of the driver<sup>4</sup>, and is fitted with tyres of such type as may be specified in regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>, does not exceed 3,050 kilograms<sup>6</sup>;
- 7 (2) if it is constructed or adapted for use for the conveyance of goods or burden of any description, does not exceed 3,050 kilograms, or 3,500 kilograms if the vehicle carries a container or containers for holding, for the purpose of its propulsion, any fuel which is wholly gaseous at 17.5° Celsius under a pressure of 1.013 bar or plant and materials for producing such fuel<sup>7</sup>; or
- 8 (3) in a case falling within neither head (1) nor head (2) above, does not exceed 2,540 kilograms<sup>8</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 post.

2 For the meaning of 'invalid carriage' see PARA 215 post.

3 As to the method of calculating the weight of motor vehicles see PARA 209 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 ante.

5 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 post. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 post. As to regulations made in relation to tyres see PARA 292 et seq post.

6 See the Road Traffic Act 1960 s 253(2)(a) (amended by the Road Traffic Acts 1960 and 1972, Road Traffic Regulation Act 1967, and Transport Act 1968 (Metrication) Regulations 1981, SI 1981/1373, reg 2, Schedule Pt I); the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 136(2)(a); the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 185(1); and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 98(2) (amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 48, Sch 4 para 111(2)). See also the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table, which contains a similar provision, with the exception of the requirement as to tyres.

The Secretary of State may by regulations vary any of the maximum or minimum weights specified in the expressions relating to vehicles; and such regulations may have effect: (1) either generally or in the case of vehicles of any class specified in the regulations; and (2) either for the purposes of the provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, the Road Traffic Act 1988 and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 and of all regulations made under those provisions or for such of those purposes as may be so specified: see the Road Traffic Act 1960 s 253(11) (amended by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 146, Sch 13 para 1); the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 137(4); the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 186(4), (5); and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 98(2) (as so amended). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. Nothing in the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 86 (as amended) (see PARA 850 post) is to be construed as limiting the power to make such regulations: see the Road Traffic Act 1960 s 253(11) (as so amended); the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 137(5); the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 186(6); and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 98(2) (as so amended). As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(ii) General Definitions/219. Meanings of 'tramcar', 'trolley vehicle' and 'trolley bus'.

219. Meanings of 'tramcar', 'trolley vehicle' and 'trolley bus'.

'Tramcar' includes any carriage used on any road<sup>1</sup> by virtue of an order under the Light Railways Act 1896<sup>2</sup>. 'Trolley vehicle' means a mechanically propelled vehicle adapted for use on roads without rails under power transmitted to it from some external source, whether or not there is in addition a source of power on board the vehicle<sup>3</sup>.

The Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> may by regulations provide that certain provisions<sup>5</sup> specified in the regulations are not to apply, or are to apply with modifications: (1) to all tramcars or to tramcars of any specified class; or (2) to all trolley vehicles or to trolley vehicles of any specified class<sup>6</sup>. Such regulations:

- 9 (a) may make different provision for different cases<sup>7</sup>;
- 10 (b) may include such transitional provisions as appear to the Secretary of State to be necessary or expedient<sup>8</sup>; and
- 11 (c) may make such amendments to any special Act<sup>9</sup> as appear to the Secretary of State to be necessary or expedient in consequence of the regulations or in consequence of the application to any tramcars or trolley vehicles of any of the applicable statutory provisions<sup>10</sup>.

'Trolley bus' means a bus adapted for use on roads without rails under power transmitted to it from some external source<sup>11</sup>.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(ii) General Definitions/220. Meanings of 'heavy commercial vehicle' and 'goods vehicle'.

220. Meanings of 'heavy commercial vehicle' and 'goods vehicle'.

'Heavy commercial vehicle' means any goods vehicle which has an operating weight exceeding 7.5 tonnes<sup>1</sup>. 'Goods vehicle' means a motor vehicle<sup>2</sup> constructed or adapted for use for the carriage of goods or burden of any description, or a trailer<sup>3</sup> so constructed or adapted<sup>4</sup>.

The operating weight of a goods vehicle for these purposes is:

- 12 (1) in the case of a motor vehicle not drawing a trailer or in the case of a trailer, its maximum laden weight<sup>5</sup>;
- 13 (2) in the case of an articulated vehicle<sup>6</sup>, its maximum laden weight (if it has one) and otherwise the aggregate maximum laden weight of all the individual vehicles forming part of that articulated vehicle<sup>7</sup>; and
- 14 (3) in the case of a motor vehicle (other than an articulated vehicle) drawing one or more trailers, the aggregate maximum laden weight of the motor vehicle and the trailer or trailers attached to it<sup>8</sup>.

The Secretary of State<sup>9</sup> may by regulations amend the above provisions (whether as originally enacted or as previously amended) by substituting weights of a different description for any of the weights there mentioned, or in the case of operating weights<sup>10</sup>, by substituting a weight of a different description or amount, or a weight different both in description and amount<sup>11</sup>. Different regulations may be made for the purposes of different provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 and as respects different classes of vehicles<sup>12</sup> or as respects the same class of vehicles in different circumstances and as respects different times of the day or night and as respects different localities and roads<sup>13</sup> in different localities<sup>14</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'trailer' means any vehicle other than a motor vehicle: see the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(3); and the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(4). For the meaning of 'trailer' generally see PARA 210 ante.

4 Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(3); Road Traffic Act 1988 s 192(1). For the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988, 'goods' includes goods or burden of any description: s 192(1).

5 Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(2)(a); Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(2)(a). References to the maximum laden weight of a vehicle are references to the total laden weight which must not be exceeded in the case of that vehicle if it is to be used in Great Britain without contravening any regulations for the time being in force under s 41 (as amended) (see PARA 260 post): see the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(3); and the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(3). As to the laden weight of vehicles see PARA 584 seq post. For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 205 note 3 ante.

6 For these purposes, 'articulated vehicle' means a motor vehicle with a trailer so attached to it as to be partially superimposed upon it: see the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(3); and the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(3).

8 Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(2)(c); Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(2)(c).

9 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 post. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 post.

10 In the case of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(1) or the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(1): see the text to note 1 supra.

11 Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(4); Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(5). Such regulations may not amend the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(1), or the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(1) so that there is any case in which a goods vehicle whose operating weight (see the text and notes 5-8 supra) does not exceed 7.5 tonnes is a heavy commercial vehicle for any of the purposes of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 or the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 19 (see PARA 997 post): Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(6); Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(7). At the date at which this volume states the law no regulations had been made under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 138(4) or the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 20(5).

13 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

205-223 Application to the Crown ... Road safety grants

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(iii) Road Safety/221. The Highway Code.

(iii) Road Safety

221. The Highway Code.

The Highway Code<sup>1</sup> is a code of directions for the guidance of persons using roads<sup>2</sup>, and was originally issued under the Road Traffic Act 1930<sup>3</sup>. The Highway Code continues to have effect, subject to revision in accordance with the following provisions<sup>4</sup>.

The Secretary of State<sup>5</sup> may from time to time revise the Highway Code by revoking, varying, amending or adding to its provisions in such manner as he thinks fit<sup>6</sup>.

Where the Secretary of State proposes to revise the Highway Code by making any alterations in its provisions, other than alterations merely consequential on the passing, amendment or repeal of any statutory provision<sup>7</sup>, he must lay the proposed alterations before both Houses of Parliament and must not make the proposed revision until after the end of a period of 40 days<sup>8</sup> beginning with the day on which the alterations were so laid<sup>9</sup>. If within that period either House resolves that the proposed alterations be not made, the Secretary of State must not make the proposed revision, but without prejudice to the laying before Parliament of further proposals<sup>10</sup> for alteration<sup>11</sup>.

Before revising the Highway Code by making any alterations in its provisions which are so required to be laid before Parliament, the Secretary of State must consult with such representative organisations as he thinks fit<sup>12</sup>.

The Secretary of State must cause the Highway Code to be printed and may cause copies of it to be sold to the public at such price as he may determine<sup>13</sup>.

A failure on the part of a person to observe a provision of the Highway Code does not of itself render that person liable to criminal proceedings of any kind<sup>14</sup>; nor does it necessarily establish negligence<sup>15</sup>. Any such failure may, however, in any proceedings, whether civil or criminal, and including proceedings for certain statutory offences<sup>16</sup>, be relied on by any party to the proceedings as tending to establish or negative any liability which is in question in those proceedings<sup>17</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'the Highway Code' means the code comprising directions for the guidance of persons using roads issued under the Road Traffic Act 1930 s 45 (repealed), as from time to time revised under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 38 or under any previous enactment: s 38(8).

2 The Highway Code includes guidance for pedestrians, pedal cyclists, motor cyclists, drivers of all types of motor vehicles and those using the roads who are in charge of animals.

4 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 38(1).

5 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 post. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 post.

6 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 38(2).

7 For these purposes, 'statutory provision' means a provision contained in an Act or in subordinate legislation within the meaning of the Interpretation Act 1978 (see STATUTES vol 44(1) (Reissue) PARA 1381); and the reference to the passing or repeal of any such provision accordingly includes the making or revocation of any such provision: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 38(9)(a).

8 In reckoning any period of 40 days, no account is to be taken of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than four days: ibid s 38(9)(c).

9 Ibid s 38(3). For these purposes, where the proposed alterations are laid before each House of Parliament on different days, the later day is to be taken to be the day on which they were laid before both Houses: s 38(9)(b).

10 Ie in accordance with ibid s 38(3): see the text and note 9 supra.

11 Ibid s 38(4).

12 Ibid s 38(5).

13 Ibid s 38(6). The Highway Code is published by The Stationery Office. The Council of Europe published at Strasbourg in 1979 a guide as to future legislation on road traffic offences entitled 'Guidelines concerning offences to be included in a European Highway Code'.

14 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 38(7). Such a breach may as a matter of fact amount to strong evidence of lack of proper driving: Trentham v Rowlands [1974] RTR 164, [1974] Crim LR 118, DC. See also note 13 infra.

15 Croston v Vaughan [1938] 1 KB 540 at 552, [1937] 4 All ER 249 at 252, CA, per Greer LJ; Joseph Eva Ltd v Reeves [1938] 2 KB 393, [1938] 2 All ER 115, CA. The observance of the Highway Code is not of itself an answer, necessarily, to an allegation of negligence: Goke v Willett [1973] RTR 422, CA. See also NEGLIGENCE vol 78 (2010) PARA 54.

16 Ie an offence under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, the Road Traffic Act 1988, the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988, the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988, the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981 or the Transport Act 1985 ss 18-23 (as amended).

17 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 38(7). To rely on the provisions of s 38(7) it is not necessary to prove that the other party to the proceedings had available to him a copy of the Highway Code or had actually read it: see O'Connell v Jackson [1972] 1 QB 270, [1971] 3 All ER 129, CA. The mere breach of the Highway Code does not amount to prima facie carelessness; the question is whether the accused has in fact exercised his duty of care: Scott v Warren [1974] RTR 104, [1974] Crim LR 117, DC.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(iii) Road Safety/222. Road safety information and training.

222. Road safety information and training.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may, with the approval of the Treasury<sup>2</sup>, provide for promoting road safety by disseminating information or advice relating to the use of roads<sup>3</sup>.

Each relevant authority<sup>4</sup>: (1) if it is a local authority, must prepare and carry out a programme of measures designed to promote road safety<sup>5</sup>; or (2) if it is Transport for London, may prepare and carry out such a programme<sup>6</sup>, and a relevant authority may contribute towards the cost of measures for promoting road safety taken by other authorities or bodies<sup>7</sup>.

Without prejudice to the generality of heads (1) and (2) above<sup>8</sup>, each relevant authority must:

- 15 (a) carry out studies into accidents arising out of the use of vehicles on roads<sup>9</sup>;
- 16 (b) in the light of those studies, take such measures as appear to the authority to be appropriate to prevent such accidents, including the dissemination of information and advice relating to the use of roads, the giving of practical training to road users or any class or description of road users, the construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of roads for the maintenance of which it is responsible and other measures taken in the exercise of its powers for controlling, protecting or assisting the movement of traffic on roads<sup>10</sup>; and
- 17 (c) in constructing new roads, take such measures as appear to the authority to be appropriate to reduce the possibilities of such accidents when the roads come into use<sup>11</sup>.

4 For these purposes, 'relevant authority' means a local authority or Transport for London: ibid s 39(4) (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 279(1), (6)). 'Local authority' means, in relation to England and Wales, the council of a county, metropolitan district or London borough or the Common Council of the City of London: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 39(4). As to Transport for London see PARA 246 post; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 269 et seq.

224. Excise duty.

Subject to certain exemptions<sup>1</sup>, excise duties<sup>2</sup> are charged in respect of mechanically propelled vehicles<sup>3</sup> used or kept on public roads<sup>4</sup> in the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup>, and must be paid periodically upon a licence taken out by the person keeping the vehicle<sup>6</sup>.

1 For descriptions of exempted vehicles see the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 5, Sch 2 (as amended); and CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 741 et seq.

225. Tolls.

Tolls may be payable under a grant from the Crown or under statute<sup>1</sup>. There no longer exist any statutory turnpike tolls<sup>2</sup>, but tolls are payable in respect of some bridges, ferries and tunnels<sup>3</sup>. The New Roads and Street Works Act 1991<sup>4</sup> makes provision for new roads in England and Wales, particularly by way of an agreement with a private sector concessionaire who will design, build, finance and operate the roads in return for the right to collect tolls<sup>5</sup>.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(iv) Cognate Law/226. Negligence and breach of statutory duty.

226. Negligence and breach of statutory duty.

A road user owes to other users a duty to exercise due care<sup>1</sup>. Driving with defective apparatus, if the defect might reasonably have been discovered, or leaving a motor car unattended so that it runs down a slope by itself or so that a mischievous stranger could start it, or failure to remove an obstruction as soon as possible or to guard it so as to reduce the risk to other highway users so far as possible are examples of acts of negligence which may give rise to civil liability<sup>2</sup>. Special care must be taken at cross roads, level crossings, on motorways and by a user who has notice of special circumstances which enhance the danger to other users<sup>3</sup>.

A driver may be negligent even though he complies with the relevant statutory requirements<sup>4</sup>. Conversely, the commission of a traffic offence is not always an actionable wrong, although it may be prima facie evidence of negligence<sup>5</sup>. However, to permit a motor vehicle to be used by an uninsured person<sup>6</sup>, or to fail to stop at a pedestrian crossing when required<sup>7</sup>, are actionable breaches of statutory duty<sup>8</sup>. Failure to observe a provision of the Highway Code may be relied upon as tending to establish or negative liability<sup>9</sup>.

A person having control over a vehicle owes a duty of care, in most cases, to any passengers whom he carries to exercise reasonable skill in his driving of the vehicle<sup>10</sup>.

The manufacturer and seller, hirer or repairer of a vehicle or a part of a vehicle owes a duty of care towards persons using the vehicle or other road users in its vicinity<sup>11</sup>.

1 See a duty to exercise the care which could reasonably be expected from a skilful driver, including driving at a proper speed for the prevailing conditions, keeping a proper look-out and observing traffic signals and rules: Hay or Bourhill v Young [1943] AC 92 at 104, [1942] 2 All ER 396 at 403, HL, per Lord MacMillan. See also NEGLIGENCE vol 78 (2010) PARA 53.

2 See NEGLIGENCE vol 78 (2010) PARAS 51-60. The user of a vehicle must be insured in respect of any such liability for death or bodily injury to, or damage to the property of, third parties: see the Road Traffic Act 1988 ss 143, 145 (both as amended); and PARA 937 et seq post. See also INSURANCE vol 25 (2003 Reissue) PARA 706 et seq. An antecedent agreement or understanding is of no effect in so far as it purports to, or might be held to, negative or restrict the driver's liability to his passengers: see s 149(1), (2); and PARA 949 post. See also INSURANCE vol 25 (2003 Reissue) PARA 737. The defendant may still claim the defence of contributory negligence, but not volenti non fit injuria: see s 149(3); and PARA 949 post. ### 226 Negligence and breach of statutory duty

NOTES--Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in this paragraph are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(iv) Cognate Law/227. Nuisances and obstructions.

227. Nuisances and obstructions.

An abuse or misuse of a highway will often be a common law nuisance, for example where an unreasonable obstruction is caused, or where a vehicle of unreasonable size or character is used which causes injury, danger or substantial obstruction<sup>1</sup>. Moreover, many acts of misuse or abuse are summary offences<sup>2</sup>; for example wilfully damaging a highway or various appurtenances of a highway or depositing anything whatsoever on a highway which damages it, or interrupts any user or causes a user to be injured or endangered<sup>3</sup>, and wilfully obstructing the free passage along a highway<sup>4</sup>. Byelaws may be made for the prevention or suppression of nuisances on the highway<sup>5</sup>. Byelaws may also regulate queues for public vehicles<sup>6</sup>.

A person, merely as a user of the highway, has no right to remove an object which is a nuisance unless it does him special injury or unless it is impossible otherwise to pass<sup>7</sup>. However, highway authorities and local authorities have numerous powers to remove obstructions and deal with obstructions and nuisances to highways<sup>8</sup>.

1 See HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 322; NUISANCE vol 78 (2010) PARA 141. As to statutory savings for the law of nuisance see PARA 202 text and note 9 ante.

2 See HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 333.

3 See PARA 1020 post; and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 345.

4 See PARA 1021 post; and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 348. It is not possible to pass responsibility for a criminal action to another by a contractual term: C Gabriel Ltd v Enfield London

Borough Council [1971] RTR 265, DC (skip causing obstruction on highway). Obstructions to the highway are to be distinguished from interference with traffic: LCC v Cutts [1961] 1 All ER 600 at 603, [1961] 1 WLR 292 at 297, DC, per Lord Parker of Waddington CJ.

228. Repairs to highways.

Most highways are maintainable at the public expense, although in some cases the liability to repair may rest upon an individual or on no one<sup>1</sup>. Expenses due to extraordinary traffic or excessive weight may be recovered from the person responsible for it either at common law if the matter amounts to a nuisance, or under statute where the highway is maintainable at public expense and whether the user is lawful or not<sup>2</sup>. Persons executing works in a highway are subject to various duties at common law or statute, and in particular undertakers' works executed in streets under statutory powers are generally subject to the street works code<sup>3</sup>.

Traffic may be diverted from any road where works are being or are proposed to be executed<sup>4</sup>.

1 See the Highways Act 1980 Pt IV (ss 36-61) (as amended); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 249 et seq.

2 See ibid s 59 (as amended); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARAS 307-313.

3 See ibid ss 171-175 (as amended); the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 Pt III (ss 48-106) (as amended); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 406 et seq.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(iv) Cognate Law/229. Dual carriageways, roundabouts and street refuges.

229. Dual carriageways, roundabouts and street refuges.

A highway authority<sup>1</sup> may construct and maintain, in a made-up carriageway<sup>2</sup> comprised in a highway maintainable at public expense by the authority, works: (1) for separating parts of the carriageway to be used by traffic moving in opposite directions<sup>3</sup>; (2) at crossroads or other junctions for regulating the movements of traffic<sup>4</sup>; and (3) for providing places of refuge for the protection of pedestrians crossing the carriageway<sup>5</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'highway authority' see the Highways Act 1980 ss 1-3 (as amended); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 49 et seq.

2 'Made-up carriageway' means a carriageway, or part of it, which has been metalled or in any other way provided with a surface suitable for the passage of vehicles: ibid s 329(1).

3 See ibid s 64(1)(a); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 487.

4 See ibid s 64(1)(b); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 487. Works for this purpose must not stop the movement of traffic: Birmingham and Midland Motor Omnibus Co Ltd v Worcestershire County Council [1967] 1 All ER 544, [1967] 1 WLR 409, CA.

5 See the Highways Act 1980 s 68; and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 549.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131; VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(iv) Cognate Law/230. Animals.

230. Animals.

A person who brings an animal onto the highway must use all reasonable care to prevent it doing damage to other persons; and if animals are driven along a highway without proper control over them and damage is caused, this may amount to negligence<sup>1</sup>.

If any livestock which is kept by any person strays onto the highway owing to the negligence or lack of reasonable care of the owner, he will be liable for any injury or damage caused<sup>2</sup>.

If any horse, cattle, sheep, goats or swine are at any time found straying or lying on or at the side of a highway, except on any common, waste or uninclosed ground, their keeper is guilty of an offence<sup>3</sup>.

1 See ANIMALS vol 2 (2008) PARA 756. Negligence cannot be established merely by proof that a defendant has failed to provide against a possibility that a tame animal of mild disposition will do something contrary to its ordinary nature: Aldham v United Dairies (London) Ltd [1940] 1 KB 507, [1939] 4 All ER 522, CA; applied in Haines v Watson [1981] RTR 90, CA. A driver overtaking animals should give them adequate clearance: Carryfast Ltd v Hack [1981] RTR 464. As to negligence generally see NEGLIGENCE.

2 Animals Act 1971 s 8(1). No liability for negligence will attach if the animals strayed from unfenced land which was common land, land in an area where fencing is not customary or a town or village green and the person placing them on the land had a right to do so: s 8(2). This includes a licensee of the owner: Davies v Davies [1975] QB 172, [1974] 1 All ER 817, CA. As to animals trespassing and straying onto the highway see ANIMALS vol 2 (2008) PARA 754.

3 See the Highways Act 1980 s 155(1); and ANIMALS vol 2 (2008) PARA 754. 'Keeper' means the person in whose possession the animals are: s 155(1). A person guilty of such an offence is liable to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: s 155(2) (amended by virtue of the Criminal Justice Act 1982 ss 35, 37, 38, 46). 'Standard scale' means the standard scale of maximum fines for summary offences as set out in the Criminal Justice Act 1982 s 37 (as amended); see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1 (definition added by the Criminal Justice Act 1988 s 170(1), Sch 15 para 58); and SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142. At the date at which this volume states the law the standard scale is as follows: level 1, £200; level 2, £500; level 3, £1,000; level 4, £2,500; level 5, £5,000: Criminal Justice Act 1982 s 37(2) (substituted by the Criminal Justice Act 1991 s 17(1)). As to the determination of the amount of the fine actually imposed, as distinct from the level on the standard scale which it may not exceed, see the Criminal Justice Act 2003 s 164 (as amended); and SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 144.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(iv) Cognate Law/231. Carriage of explosives and other dangerous substances.

231. Carriage of explosives and other dangerous substances.

Regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> regulate the carriage of explosives by road<sup>2</sup>, including their proper packing and marking for carriage<sup>3</sup>. Regulations made by the Secretary of State also govern the carriage of dangerous goods by road<sup>4</sup>.

If an accident which occasions loss of life or personal injury occurs by explosion or fire in connection with a vehicle in which an explosive, any petroleum-spirit or any of a large number of inflammable substances is being carried, notice must be given to the Health and Safety Executive<sup>5</sup>.

Regulations control the carriage of dangerous or inflammable substances on public service vehicles<sup>6</sup>.

UPDATE

231 Carriage of explosives and other dangerous substances

NOTES 2, 4--SI 1996/2093, SI 1996/2095 and SI 2007/1573 now replaced by Carriage of Dangerous Goods and Use of Transportable Pressure Equipment Regulations 2009, SI 2009/1348.

232. Carriers.

A common carrier<sup>1</sup> of goods is bound to carry goods when required, subject to certain lawful excuses, and must carry them by his normal route and deliver them within a reasonable time<sup>2</sup>. He has particular duties in respect of animals<sup>3</sup>. He is liable for loss or damage of goods except in the case of an act of God or of the Queen's enemies, fault of the consignor or inherent vice<sup>4</sup>, but his liability is limited in the case of certain valuable objects<sup>5</sup>. The consignor impliedly warrants that the goods are not dangerous<sup>6</sup>. An unpaid seller may stop goods in transit<sup>7</sup>. These duties and liabilities may, however, be varied by contract<sup>8</sup>.

A common carrier of passengers is in certain circumstances bound to carry passengers and their luggage<sup>9</sup>. The carrier owes a duty to his passengers to take all due care for their safety<sup>10</sup>, but this duty may normally be varied by special conditions in the contract<sup>11</sup>.

A universal service provider may, for any purpose in connection with the provision of a universal postal service, require the owner or operator of a ship or aircraft carrying on regular communications with places in the United Kingdom, one of which is not readily accessible by road, to carry mail-bags in the ship or aircraft<sup>12</sup>.

2 See CARRIAGE AND CARRIERS vol 7 (2008) PARA 7 et seq.

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(1) ROAD TRAFFIC AND HIGHWAY LEGISLATION/(iv) Cognate Law/233. Application of the factories legislation.

233. Application of the factories legislation.

Any premises in which persons are employed in manual labour<sup>1</sup> and in which the construction, reconstruction or repair of locomotives, vehicles or other plant for use for transport purposes is carried on as ancillary to a transport undertaking or other industrial or commercial undertaking, are included in the expression 'factory' and the factories legislation applies to them<sup>2</sup>. However, premises used for the purpose of housing vehicles where only cleaning, washing, running repairs or minor adjustments are carried out are not subject to the factories legislation<sup>3</sup>. Premises used for housing locomotives are not subject to the factories legislation unless they are used for the purposes of a railway undertaking carrying out running repairs to locomotives<sup>4</sup>.

234. Supply, sale, hire purchase and hire of motor vehicles etc.

In a contract of sale or hire purchase of goods, including motor vehicles, there are generally implied: (1) a condition that the seller has, or will have, the right to sell the goods<sup>1</sup>; (2) warranties for quiet possession and freedom from incumbrance<sup>2</sup>; (3) a condition that the goods are reasonably fit for the purpose for which they are required, where the purpose is expressly or impliedly made known<sup>3</sup>; and (4) in certain cases, a condition that the goods are of merchantable quality<sup>4</sup>. Warranties of fitness and for quiet enjoyment are also implied in contracts for the hire of vehicles<sup>5</sup>.

In certain circumstances, it is unlawful to supply, sell, offer for sale or expose for sale<sup>6</sup>: (a) a vehicle in an unroadworthy condition<sup>7</sup>; (b) a goods vehicle lacking the necessary certificates<sup>8</sup>; (c) vehicle parts which are defective or unsuitable<sup>9</sup>; (d) motor cyclists' protective helmets which fall short of the prescribed requirements<sup>10</sup>; and (e) reflectors or tail lamps which do not comply with the prescribed conditions<sup>11</sup>.

235. Employees and agents.

A statute may expressly or by implication impose liability upon an employer or principal for an offence, such as using a motor vehicle on a road without third party insurance<sup>1</sup>, which is an act or omission of his employee or agent<sup>2</sup>. It is an implied term of a contract of employment that the employee will not be required to do an unlawful act, and therefore that the employer will insure as required a vehicle which the employee is to use<sup>3</sup>.

Where the driver of a vehicle is an employee his employer is liable for negligence and other torts committed by the employee in doing something which he is employed to do<sup>4</sup>. The owner of a vehicle is also liable for the negligent driving of another person as his agent where he allows that person to drive the vehicle in his presence or authorises him to drive it in the execution of the owner's own purposes over which he retains some control; but is not liable if the driver is merely a bailee engaged exclusively upon his own purposes<sup>5</sup>. A cab driver is normally, as between himself and the owner of the cab, a bailee of the cab from the owner<sup>6</sup>, but the effect of certain provisions of the London Hackney Carriages Act 1843<sup>7</sup> and of the Town Police Clauses Act 1847<sup>8</sup>, in districts where either statute applies, is to put the cab driver in the position of an employee so that the owner is thus made liable to other persons for the driver's torts<sup>9</sup>.

Where a vehicle and driver are hired, the hirer is generally liable for the driver's negligence only in so far as he has a right to control the manner of driving; where the driver is an employee of the owner of the vehicle, there is a presumption against such a transfer as would render the hirer liable for his acts<sup>10</sup>.

(2) ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE

236. The Secretary of State and other authorities.

The powers and duties in respect of roads, bridges, vehicles, road traffic, tramways and rail transport are vested in the Secretary of State for Transport<sup>1</sup>. He is thus now 'the Minister' for the purposes of the Road Traffic Acts 1930<sup>2</sup> and 1960<sup>3</sup>, and the Transport Acts 1968<sup>4</sup> and 1980<sup>5</sup>. He is also 'the Secretary of State' for the purposes of the subsequent road traffic legislation<sup>6</sup>.

Traffic commissioners<sup>7</sup> must act under the general directions of the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup>.

County councils have the responsibility for public transport within their areas<sup>9</sup>. Metropolitan counties<sup>10</sup> are all passenger transport areas and the county council is the passenger transport authority<sup>11</sup>. In a non-metropolitan county<sup>12</sup> the county council is the highway authority for its area<sup>13</sup>.

The Secretary of State is the traffic authority for every highway in England and Wales for which he is the highway authority within the meaning of the Highways Act 1980<sup>14</sup>. In Greater London, the council of the London borough or the Common Council of the City of London is the traffic authority for all the roads in the borough or, as the case may be, in the City which are not GLA roads<sup>15</sup> and for which the Secretary of State is not the traffic authority<sup>16</sup>. Outside Greater London, the council of the county or metropolitan district is the traffic authority for all the roads in the county, or, as the case may be, the district for which the Secretary of State is not the traffic authority<sup>17</sup>.

It is the duty of every local authority upon which functions are conferred by or under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 so to exercise those functions as, so far as practicable having due regard to certain matters<sup>18</sup>, to secure the expeditious, convenient and safe movement of vehicular and other traffic (including pedestrians) and the provision of suitable and adequate parking facilities on and off the highway<sup>19</sup>. Local authorities also have certain functions in relation to speed limits on restricted roads<sup>20</sup>, traffic regulation orders<sup>21</sup>, the use of the highway by public service vehicles<sup>22</sup>, pedestrian crossings<sup>23</sup>, school crossings<sup>24</sup>, street playgrounds<sup>25</sup>, road safety information and training<sup>26</sup> and the provision of bus stations<sup>27</sup>.

Certain functions are carried out by the Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency (DVLA), which is an executive agency of the Department for Transport and is accountable to the Secretary of State<sup>28</sup>.

1 These powers and duties were originally vested in the Minister of Transport under the Ministry of Transport Act 1919 s 2(1) (repealed). Functions relating to roads, bridges and ferries in Wales were transferred to the Secretary of State for Wales by the Secretary of State for Wales and Minister of Land and Natural Resources Order 1965, SI 1965/319, art 3, Sch 2. As from 12 November 1970, the Ministry of Transport (with other ministries) was dissolved, and its functions transferred to the Secretary of State for the Environment by the Secretary of State for the Environment Order 1970, SI 1970/1681, art 2. As from 27 October 1976, the transport functions of the Secretary of State for the Environment (ie those relating to highways, road traffic, road and rail transport, ports, docks and harbours) were transferred to the Secretary of State for Transport by the Secretary of State for Transport Order 1976, SI 1976/1775, art 2. As from 24 May 1979 the functions of the Secretary of State for Transport were transferred to the Minister of Transport by the Minister of Transport Order 1979, SI 1979/571, art 2; and as from 26 February 1981 the powers exercised by the Minister of Transport were transferred again to the Secretary of State for Transport by the Transfer of Functions (Transport) Order 1981, SI 1981/238, art 2. The functions of the Secretary of State for Transport were transferred to the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions by the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions Order 1997, SI 1997/2971, art 3, apart from his functions under the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 s 49(2) (as amended) (see PARA 1376 post), which were transferred to the Secretary of State (see the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions Order 1997, SI 1997/2971, art 3(3)(a)). By the Secretaries of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions and for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Order 2001, SI 2001/2568, art 7(1), the functions of the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions were transferred to the Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions as from 13 August 2001. As from that date, the functions of the Secretary of State under the Channel Tunnel Rail Link Act 1996 s 29(4), Sch 3 para 2 were transferred to the Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions and the Secretary of State for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, acting jointly; and the function of the Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 7(6) (as amended) (see PARA 749 post) was transferred to the Secretary of State: Secretaries of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions and for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Order 2001, SI 2001/2568, arts 5, 6(1). Some functions of the Home Secretary were transferred to the Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions as from 26 November 2001: see the Transfer of Functions (Miscellaneous) Order 2001, SI 2001/3500, art 5. As from 25 November 2002, transport functions of the Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions were transferred to the Secretary of State for Transport: see the Transfer of Functions (Transport, Local Government and the Regions) Order 2002, SI 2002/2626, arts 4-8.

As to the transfer of certain functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 post.

4 See the Transport Act 1968 s 159(1) (definition amended by the Railways Act 1993 s 152, Sch 14).

5 See the Transport Act 1980 s 70(2) (definition substituted by the Railways Act 1993 s 134, Sch 11 para 9(4)). The Secretary of State is also 'the Minister' for the purposes of the Highways Act 1980: see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 49.

Road Traffic Act 1991, the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993, the Deregulation and Contracting Out Act 1994, the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995, the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995, the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997, the Road Traffic Reduction (National Targets) Act 1998 and the Road Traffic (Testing of Vehicles) Act 1999.

'Secretary of State' means one of Her Majesty's principal Secretaries of State: see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1. The office of Secretary of State is a unified office, and in law each Secretary of State is generally capable of performing the functions of all or any of them: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 355. Accordingly, many modern statutes refer simply to 'the Secretary of State' without reference to a particular department or ministry.

7 As to traffic commissioners see PARA 1138 et seq post.

8 See the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981 s 4(4)(a) (as substituted); and PARA 1139 post.

237. The Welsh Assembly and the Welsh Ministers.

With the establishment of the National Assembly for Wales<sup>1</sup> certain functions of Ministers of the Crown, in particular powers to make subordinate legislation, were transferred to the National Assembly for Wales so far as they were exercisable in relation to Wales<sup>2</sup>. Functions transferred to the Assembly included certain functions under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984<sup>3</sup>, the Transport Act 1985<sup>4</sup>, the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>5</sup>, the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988<sup>6</sup>, the Road Traffic Act 1991<sup>7</sup>, the Transport and Works Act 1992<sup>8</sup>, the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997<sup>9</sup> and the Road Traffic Reduction (National Targets) Act 1998<sup>10</sup>. Certain other functions were to be exercised concurrently with the relevant Minister of the Crown<sup>11</sup>, and functions under certain enactments were exercisable by a Minister of the Crown only with the agreement of, or after consultation with, the Assembly<sup>12</sup>. Functions under certain subordinate legislation were transferred<sup>13</sup>.

Pursuant to the establishment of the Welsh Assembly Government under the Government of Wales Act 2006<sup>14</sup>, these functions are now generally the responsibility of the Welsh Ministers<sup>15</sup>. Further transfers of ministerial functions to the Welsh Ministers may be effected by Order in Council<sup>16</sup>.

The functions that were transferred were those in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 13(2), s 13A (as added), s 27(6), s 31(2), s 36(5) (as amended) (so far as exercisable by the Secretary of State for Wales but only to the extent that functions were exercisable by the National Assembly for Wales under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 64 (as amended)), and in the Road Traffic Act 1988 159 (as amended): National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, Sch 1.

6 See ibid Sch 1. The functions that were transferred were those in the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 34A (as added), s 34B (as added and amended) (except s 34B(9) (as added and amended)), s 34C (as added and amended): see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, Sch 1.

7 See ibid Sch 1. The functions that were transferred were those in the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 31(6), s 43, Sch 3 (as amended): see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, Sch 1.

8 See ibid Sch 1. The functions that were transferred were those in the Transport and Works Act 1992 except: the order-making function under s 1 and s 3 where any order thereunder would have effect both in Wales and England; functions under s 25(4), Pt II (ss 26-59) (as amended), s 60; the order, rule and regulation-making powers conferred by s 2, s 4, s 6(2)-(6) (as amended), s 7(1)(a), (4), s 8, s 10, s 15; and the functions vested in a Minister of the Crown under s 9(4), (5): see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, Sch 1. The Transport and Works Act 1992 s 23(10) (as amended) had effect as if the references to the Welsh Office were references to the Assembly and in relation thereto the reference to the Parliamentary Commissioner Act 1967 had effect as if it were a reference to the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 111(2), Sch 9 (as amended) (now repealed: see the Public Services Ombudsman (Wales) Act 2005 s 39, Sch 6 paras 65, 69, Sch 7): National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, Sch 1. Orders made by the Assembly were subject to special parliamentary procedure to the extent provided for by the references in the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 ss 12-18 (as amended), Sch 3 para 5 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 605): see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, Sch 1.

10 See ibid Sch 1.

11 See ibid art 2(b), Sch 1. The functions to be exercised concurrently were those conferred by the following provisions: the Ministry of Transport Act 1919 s 17 (as amended); the Transport Act 1968 s 57 (this power was exercisable by the Assembly free from approval by the Treasury); the Road Traffic Act 1988 ss 39(1), 40 (free from approval by the Treasury); and the Transport and Works Act 1992 s 9: see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, Sch 1.

12 See ibid art 5, Sch 2. The functions to be exercised subject to constraint were functions under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 81(2) (exercisable only after consultation with the Assembly) and the order, rule and regulation-making functions under the Transport and Works Act 1992 s 1, s 3, s 6 (as amended), s 7(4), s 8, s 10, s 15 (exercisable only with the agreement of the Assembly).

13 National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2(a). The functions that were transferred were those in the Traffic Signs Regulations and General Directions 1994, SI 1994/1519, Direction 49 (revoked: see now the Traffic Signs Regulations and General Directions 2002, SI 2002/3113 (as amended)).

TEXT AND NOTE 9--Repealed: SI 2007/1388.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131; VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(2) ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE/240. Reports relating to levels of road traffic.

240. Reports relating to levels of road traffic.

It is the duty of every local traffic authority<sup>1</sup> to prepare, at such time or times as the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> directs, a report containing an assessment of the levels of local road traffic<sup>3</sup> in its area, and a forecast of the growth in those levels<sup>4</sup>. The report must also specify targets for a reduction in the levels of local road traffic in the area, or a reduction in the rate of growth in the levels of such traffic<sup>5</sup>. However, a local traffic authority is not obliged to specify such targets in relation to its area, or in relation to any part of its area, if it considers it inappropriate to do so<sup>6</sup>. The report must also contain any other information or proposals which relate to levels of local road traffic in the area, and which are required by guidance issued by the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup> or directions by the Mayor of London<sup>8</sup>. Such a report prepared by a London council must take account of the Mayor of London's transport strategy<sup>9</sup> and the council's local implementation plan<sup>10</sup>.

Where a local traffic authority has prepared such a report it must send the report to the Secretary of State and, if the council is a London council, send a copy to the Mayor of London<sup>11</sup>, and publish a copy in such manner as it considers appropriate<sup>12</sup>. The Secretary of State must lay a copy of every such report received by him before each House of Parliament<sup>13</sup>.

1 For the meanings of 'traffic authority' and 'local traffic authority' see PARA 731 post; definitions applied by the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 1.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

3 'Local road traffic' means traffic consisting of mechanically propelled vehicles on roads for which the Secretary of State is not the traffic authority (see PARA 236 ante): Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 1. As to the meaning of 'mechanically propelled vehicle' see PARA 211 ante.

4 Ibid s 2(1). The provisions of the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 came into force on 10 March 2000: see s 4; and the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 (Commencement) (England and Wales) Order 2000, SI 2000/735.

5 Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 2(2). The report may specify different targets for different parts of the local traffic authority's area or for different classes of local road traffic: see s 2(4).

6 Ibid s 2(5). Where targets are not specified the report must state that the local traffic authority considers it inappropriate to do so, and its reasons for so considering: s 2(5).

7 The Secretary of State may issue guidance to local traffic authorities in relation to:

4 (1) the preparation and content of reports under ibid s 2; and

5 (2) consultation in connection with the preparation of such reports, and a local traffic authority must have regard to any guidance when preparing a report: s 2(6).

8 Ibid s 2(3). The Mayor of London may give directions or issue guidance to London councils in relation to any matter in relation to which the Secretary of State may issue guidance under s 2(6) (see the text and note 7 supra): s 2(6A) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 280(2), (5)). 'London council' means a London borough council or the Common Council of the City of London: Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 1 (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 280(1)). As to the Mayor of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 81; as to London boroughs and their councils see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 30, 35 et seq; and as to the Common Council of the City of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 51 et seq.

The Mayor of London must not give any direction or issue any guidance under the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 2(6A) (as added) which conflicts with guidance under s 2(6): s 2(6B) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 280(2), (5)). A London council preparing a report under the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 2 (as amended) must comply with any directions given under s 2(6A) (as added), and must have regard to any guidance issued under s 2(6A) (as added): s 2(6C) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 280(2), (5)).

9 'The Mayor of London's transport strategy' means the transport strategy prepared and published under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 142 (see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 263): Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 1 (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 280(1)).

10 Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 2(4A) (added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 280(2), (4)). Any targets specified in such a report pursuant to the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 2(2) (see the text and note 5 supra), and any proposals contained in such a report pursuant to s 2(3) (see the text to note 8 supra), must be in conformity with the Mayor of London's transport strategy and the council's local implementation plan: s 2(4A) (as so added). 'Local implementation plan', in relation to a London council, means the plan prepared by the council under the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 145 (see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 264): Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 1 (definition added by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 280(1)).

11 Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 2(7)(a) (amended by the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 280(2), (6)).

12 Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997 s 2(7)(b).

13 Ibid s 2(8). There is to be paid out of money provided by Parliament any expenses incurred by the Secretary of State under or by virtue of the Road Traffic Reduction Act 1997, and any increase attributable to that Act in the sums payable out of money so provided under any other Act: s 3.

241. Reports containing targets for road traffic reduction.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> is under a duty, with the aim of reducing the adverse environmental, social and economic impacts of road traffic<sup>2</sup>, to set and publish in a report targets for road traffic reduction<sup>3</sup>. However, where the Secretary of State considers that other targets, or other measures, are more appropriate for the purpose of reducing the adverse impacts of road traffic, he must instead publish a report explaining his reasoning and including an assessment of the impact of the other targets or other measures on road traffic reduction<sup>4</sup>. In considering how to comply with these requirements, the Secretary of State must have regard to the adverse impacts of road traffic, including<sup>5</sup>:

- 18 (1) the emission of gases which contribute to climate change<sup>6</sup>;
- 19 (2) effects on air quality<sup>7</sup>;
- 20 (3) effects on health<sup>8</sup>;
- 21 (4) traffic congestion<sup>9</sup>;
- 22 (5) effects on land and biodiversity<sup>10</sup>;
- 23 (6) danger to other road users<sup>11</sup>; and
- 24 (7) social impacts<sup>12</sup>.

In considering how to comply with the above requirements, the Secretary of State must have regard to the mobility needs of persons with disabilities<sup>13</sup> and the need for adequate provision of taxi services in rural and non-rural areas<sup>14</sup>.

The Secretary of State must, at such times as he deems appropriate, publish further reports on progress in reducing the adverse environmental, social and economic impacts of road traffic and in achieving any targets set, and updating any earlier<sup>15</sup> targets and assessments<sup>16</sup>. The Secretary of State must lay a copy of any report published before Parliament<sup>17</sup>.

242 Disclosure to foreign authorities of licensing and registration information

TEXT AND NOTES--The Secretary of State may disclose information to which the Road Safety Act 2006 s 49A(2) applies to any person or body referred to in s 49A(3): Road Safety Act 2006 s 49A(1) (s 49A, 49B added by the Local Transport Act 2008 s 129). The Road Safety Act 2006 s 49A(2) applies to information that (1) is derived from particulars contained in a register of vehicles that is maintained in a country or territory outside the United Kingdom; and (2) has been obtained by the Secretary of State from the authority or authorities of that country or territory with responsibility under the law of that country or territory for maintaining the register: Road Safety Act 2006 s 49A(2). As to the persons and bodies to whom the information to which s 49A(2) applies may be disclosed, see the Road Traffic Act 2006 s 49A(3). The Secretary of State may use information to which s 49A(2) applies for any of the following purposes: (a) to check the accuracy of information which has been obtained under regulations made by virtue of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22A(2) (see PARA 521); (b) to check the accuracy of records maintained by the Secretary of State in connection with any functions exercisable by the Secretary of State under or by virtue of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994; (c) to check the accuracy of records maintained, or caused to be maintained, under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 45(6B) (see PARA 660) or 49(3A) (see PARA 679); (d) to promote compliance with ss 47 (see PARA 657) or 53 (see PARA 676); (e) where appropriate, to amend or supplement any information mentioned in the foregoing provisions of s 49B(2) or information contained in any records so mentioned; and (f) to trace a non-resident parent, within the meaning of SI 1992/1812.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(2) ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE/243. Secretary of State's power to make regulations.

243. Secretary of State's power to make regulations.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> has general powers to make regulations<sup>2</sup> for any purpose for which they may be made under the statutory provisions regulating: (1) the minimum age and licensing of drivers of motor vehicles<sup>3</sup>; (2) public service vehicles<sup>4</sup>; (3) the carriage of goods by road<sup>5</sup>; (4) the licensing of drivers of large goods vehicles<sup>6</sup>; (5) third party liabilities<sup>7</sup>; and (6) driving instruction<sup>8</sup>. He may also make regulations generally as to the use of motor vehicles<sup>9</sup> and trailers<sup>10</sup> on roads<sup>11</sup>, their construction and equipment and the conditions under which they may be used<sup>12</sup>. The Secretary of State has power to make regulations as to any matter incidental to the operation of the provisions relating to fixed penalties<sup>13</sup>.

Before making certain regulations the Secretary of State must consult with such representative organisations as he thinks fit<sup>14</sup>.

The Secretary of State may by regulations make such provision by way of substitution for or adaptation of the provisions relating to drivers' hours<sup>15</sup> as he considers necessary or expedient to take account of the operation of any relevant Community provision<sup>16</sup>. The Secretary of State may also by order make certain modifications to the provisions as to permitted driving time and periods of duty<sup>17</sup> and may make regulations requiring drivers and their employers to keep written records of drivers' hours<sup>18</sup>. Before making any such order or regulations the Secretary of State must consult with such representative organisations as he thinks fit<sup>19</sup>.

The Secretary of State may make regulations for the purpose of carrying the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 into effect<sup>20</sup>.

Any power to make regulations conferred on the Secretary of State by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994, the Road Traffic Act 1988, the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988, the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981, and the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 is exercisable by statutory instrument and, with certain exceptions<sup>21</sup>, the instrument is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament<sup>22</sup>. Similar provisions apply to the Transport Act 1968<sup>23</sup>, and the Transport Act 1982<sup>24</sup>.

21 The exceptions are regulations made under:

6 (1) the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 86 (as amended), s 97 (as amended), s 140 (as amended) (see s 134(3) (prospectively amended); and PARA 720 post);

7 (2) the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 8(3), s 11(2), s 14 (as amended), s 15 (as amended) (where exercisable for the purposes of s 15(3) or (3A) (as added)), s 34A (prospectively added) or s 189 (s 195(3) (amended by the Road Traffic Act 1988 (Amendment) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/3105, reg 4; and, as from a day to be appointed, by the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 s 67, Sch 7 para 7(a)); and

8 (3) the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 s 30(3) (see s 57(11); and PARA 1321 post).

22 See the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981 s 61(1) (see PARA 1134 post); the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 134(1), (3) (prospectively amended) (see PARA 720 post); the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 57(6), (7) (see PARA 521 post); the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 195(1), (3) (as amended); and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 88(3) (see PARA 1090 post). As to the bringing of subordinate legislation made by the Welsh Ministers before the National Assembly for Wales see the Government of Wales Act 2006 Sch 11 paras 33-35; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 195(3) is amended, so as to provide that a statutory instrument whereby any power conferred by the Road Traffic Act 1988 upon the Secretary of State to make regulations (with the exceptions noted in note 21 head (2) supra) is exercised (otherwise than for the purposes of s 97(1ZA) (prospectively added) is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 195(3) (prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 38(4), 59, Sch 7). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

Regulations under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 86 (as amended), s 140 (as amended) and the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 189 do not have effect unless approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament: see the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 134(4); and the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 195(5). Regulations under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 97 (as amended), the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 8(3), s 11(2), s 14 (as amended), s 15 (as amended) (where made for the purposes of s 15(3) or (3A) (as added)), or the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 s 30(3) may not be made unless a draft has been approved by each House of Parliament: see the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 134(5); the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 195(4) (amended by the Road Traffic Act 1988 (Amendment) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/3105, reg 4); and the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 s 57(10). As from the day on which the Traffic Management Act 2004 Sch 11 para 3(2) comes into force in relation to England, the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 134(5) is amended so as to refer also to s 101B (as added and amended) (see PARA 873 post): see s 134(5) (amended by the Lord Chancellor (Modification of Functions) Order 2007, SI 2007/1756, art 3). The Traffic Management Act 2004 Sch 11 para 3 came into force in relation to England, to the extent that it inserts the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 101B (as added and amended), on 23 July 2007 and is to come into force for remaining purposes on 31 March 2008: see the Traffic Management Act 2004 (Commencement No 5 and Transitional Provisions) (England) Order 2007, SI 2007/2053, arts 1-3.

As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 195(4) is amended, so as to add references to regulations made under s 34A (prospectively added) and s 97(1ZA) (prospectively added), by the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 s 67, Sch 7 para 7(b) and by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 38(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed under either amending Act.

23 See the Transport Act 1968 s 157 (amended by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 2004). Orders or regulations made under the Transport Act 1968 Pt II (ss 9-23A) (as amended) and Pt VI (ss 95-103) (as amended) (except s 95(1) (as amended), s 96(12), s 100(1), (2)) are subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: ss 22(2), 101(3) (amended by the Road Traffic (Drivers' Ages and Hours of Work) Act 1976 s 2(1)). No order or regulations under the Transport Act 1968 s 95(1) (as amended), ss 96(12), 100(1) may be made unless a draft of the order or regulations has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 101(3) (as so amended), s 101(3A) (added by the Road Traffic (Drivers' Ages and Hours of Work) Act 1976 s 2(1)).

236-245 Administration and Finance

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

244. Inquiries.

Formerly, the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> was given power under various statutes to hold inquiries<sup>2</sup>. This has been replaced by more general provisions in the Inquiries Act 2005, under which a Minister may cause an inquiry to be held in relation to a case where it appears to him that particular events have caused, or are capable of causing, public concern, or there is public concern that particular events may have occurred<sup>3</sup>. The Minister appoints the inquiry panel<sup>4</sup> and must as soon as is reasonably practicable make a statement in the prescribed manner to the relevant Parliament or Assembly<sup>5</sup>. Such a statement, which may be oral or written, must state: (1) who is to be, or has been, appointed as chairman of the inquiry; (2) whether the Minister has appointed, or proposes to appoint, any other members to the inquiry panel, and if so how many; and (3) what are to be, or are, the inquiry's terms of reference<sup>6</sup>. One or more persons may be appointed to act as assessors to assist the inquiry panel<sup>7</sup>.

The procedure and conduct of an inquiry are to be such as the chairman of the inquiry may direct<sup>8</sup>. In particular, the chairman may take evidence on oath, and for that purpose may administer oaths<sup>9</sup>. The chairman of an inquiry may by notice require a person to attend to give evidence, to provide evidence in the form of a written statement, to produce documents relating to a matter in question at the inquiry, or to produce any other thing in his custody or under his control<sup>7</sup> for inspection, examination or testing by or on behalf of the inquiry panel<sup>10</sup>.

Restrictions may be imposed by the Minister and/or the chairman on attendance at an inquiry, or at any particular part of an inquiry, and on disclosure or publication of any evidence or documents given, produced or provided to an inquiry<sup>11</sup>. Subject to any such restrictions, the chairman must take such steps as he considers reasonable to secure that members of the public, including reporters, are able to attend the inquiry or to see and hear a simultaneous transmission of proceedings at the inquiry and to obtain or view a record of evidence and documents given, produced or provided to the inquiry or inquiry panel<sup>12</sup>. However, no recording or broadcast of proceedings at an inquiry may be made except at the request of the chairman or with the permission of the chairman and in accordance with any terms on which permission is given, and any such request or permission must be framed so as not to enable a person to see or hear by means of a recording or broadcast anything that he is prohibited from seeing or hearing<sup>13</sup>.

The chairman of the inquiry must deliver a report to the Minister setting out the facts determined by the inquiry panel and the recommendations of the panel, where the terms of reference require it to make recommendations<sup>14</sup>. Before making such a report the chairman may deliver to the Minister an interim report containing anything that a report may contain<sup>15</sup>. A report or interim report of an inquiry must be signed by each member of the inquiry panel, and if the inquiry panel is unable to produce a unanimous report or interim report, the report or interim report must reasonably reflect the points of disagreement<sup>16</sup>. It is the duty of the Minister to arrange for reports of an inquiry to be published<sup>17</sup>, and to lay reports, either at the time of publication or as soon afterwards as is reasonably practicable, before the relevant Parliament or Assembly<sup>18</sup>.

An application for judicial review<sup>19</sup> of a decision made by the Minister in relation to an inquiry or by a member of an inquiry panel must be brought within 14 days after the day on which the applicant became aware of the decision, unless that time limit is extended by the court<sup>20</sup>.

Special provisions apply to inquiries relating to Wales<sup>21</sup>, and to inquiries held by two or more Ministers acting jointly<sup>22</sup>.

Under the Road Traffic Act 1988, where an accident arises owing to the presence of a mechanically propelled vehicle<sup>23</sup> on a road<sup>24</sup>, the Secretary of State may cause an inquiry to be made into the cause of the accident<sup>25</sup>; and if in any case the Secretary of State considers that an inquiry to be made by him under this provision should be made by means of the holding of a public inquiry, he may direct a public inquiry to be held<sup>26</sup>. Where, owing to the presence of a vehicle on a road<sup>27</sup>, an accident occurs within Greater London<sup>28</sup> and it appears to the Secretary of State that the sole or a contributory cause of the accident was: (a) the nature or character of the road or road surface<sup>29</sup>; or (b) a defect in the design or construction of the vehicle or in the materials used in the construction of the road or vehicle<sup>30</sup>, he may, if he thinks fit, cause an inquiry to be held into the cause of the accident<sup>31</sup>. Where he holds an inquiry under the Road Traffic Act 1988: (i) notice of the inquiry may be given and published in accordance with such general or special directions as he may give<sup>32</sup>; (ii) the Secretary of State and, if authorised by him, the person appointed to hold the inquiry, may by order require any person, subject to the payment or tender of the reasonable expenses of his attendance, to attend as a witness and give evidence or to produce any documents in his possession or power which relate to any matter in question at the inquiry and are such as would be subject to production in a court of law<sup>33</sup>; (iii) the person holding the inquiry has power to take evidence on oath and for that purpose to administer oaths<sup>34</sup>; and (iv) the Secretary of State may make such order as to the payment of the costs incurred by him in connection with the inquiry<sup>35</sup> by such party as he thinks fit<sup>36</sup>.

25 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 181(1) (amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 48, Sch 4 para 76). A person authorised by the Secretary of State may, on production if so required of his authority, inspect any vehicle in connection with which the accident arose, and for that purpose may enter at any reasonable time any premises where the vehicle is: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 181(2) (amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 Sch 4 para 76). If a person obstructs a person so authorised in the performance of his duty, he is guilty of an offence: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 181(3). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I. As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post. A report made by or to the Secretary of State as a result of an inquiry under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 181 (as amended) cannot be used as evidence by or on behalf of a person by or against whom any legal proceedings are instituted in consequence of the accident to which the inquiry relates: s 181(5).

245. Financial provisions.

There is to be paid out of money provided by Parliament certain of the expenses incurred by the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup>, namely: (1) certain expenses under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984<sup>2</sup>; (2) certain expenses in relation to road safety information and training under the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>3</sup>; and (3) expenditure which would formerly have been defrayed out of the road fund<sup>4</sup>.

Sums received by the Secretary of State in respect of fees and costs must be paid to the appropriate government department or fund<sup>5</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

2 These are advances made towards expenses incurred by councils in discharging their obligations imposed by or under any provision of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, except s 72 (see PARA 838 post), s 74 (as amended) (see PARA 841 post) and s 75 (as amended) (see PARA 845 post), in relation to the erection, maintenance, alteration or removal of traffic signs: see s 79; and PARA 839 post. The provisions of s 79 are extended to bollards and other obstructions: see ss 92(6), 94(6) (as substituted); and PARAS 858-859 post.

The expenses also include grants towards the cost of providing and maintaining off-street parking places, whether in the open or under cover, or for certain other purposes: see s 56(a); and PARA 819 post.

3 See the Road Traffic Act 1988 ss 39(1), 40 (s 40 as substituted) and PARAS 222-223 ante.

4 Miscellaneous Financial Provisions Act 1955 s 4(2). The road fund was wound up as from 1 April 1956: s 4(1) (repealed).

5 Thus the following are paid into the Consolidated Fund:

- 9 (1) money in respect of fees payable under the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995 (see s 45(8));
- 10 (2) money in respect of fees for licences and test fees payable under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109) (as amended), Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as amended) and Pt V (123-142) (as amended) (except any in respect of test fees as to which regulations provide that they are to be paid to the person conducting the test and retained by him as remuneration) (ss 106, 140);
- 11 (3) money in respect of fees payable under s 45 (as amended) (see PARA 660 post), s 46 (as amended) (see PARA 662 post), ss 49-51 (as amended) (see PARA 679 post), ss 54-62 (as amended) (see PARA 702 et seq post), s 72(9) (as substituted) (see PARA 692 post), s 80 (see PARA 714 post) (s 84(4)); and
- 12 (4) money in respect of fees for public service vehicle licences etc (Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981 s 52(3) (as amended)).

As to the Consolidated Fund see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 711 et seq; PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARAS 1028-1031.

246. The Greater London Authority and Transport for London.

The Greater London Authority Act 1999 establishes the Greater London Authority, which consists of the Mayor of London and the London Assembly<sup>1</sup>. The Greater London Authority has various general functions, among which is a general transport duty<sup>2</sup>. Transport responsibilities are set out in Part IV of the Greater London Authority Act 1999<sup>3</sup>.

In particular, the Greater London Authority Act 1999 provides for the establishment of Transport for London<sup>4</sup>, which has various functions including the provision of public passenger transport services to, from or within Greater London<sup>5</sup>. In relation to public passenger transport services, the structure of fares and services must be determined<sup>6</sup>; Transport for London must co-operate with other interested persons in co-ordinating transport services<sup>7</sup>; extra passenger transport services and facilities may be provided<sup>8</sup>; and Transport for London must publicise any plans as to services and fares<sup>9</sup>.

Passenger transport undertakings were transferred to the London Passenger Transport Board by the London Passenger Transport Act 1933 s 5 (amended by the Statute Law Revision Act 1960; and the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 2004). As to proof of a signed map being for all purposes conclusive evidence of the extent of the London Passenger Transport Area see the London Passenger Transport Act 1933 s 104. Undertakings of the London Passenger Transport Board were subsequently transferred to London Regional Transport and then to Transport for London. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(3) PASSENGER SERVICES/(ii) Passenger Services outside London/247. Passenger transport areas, authorities and executives.

(ii) Passenger Services outside London

247. Passenger transport areas, authorities and executives.

Subject to any order relating to the alteration or abolition of passenger transport areas<sup>1</sup>, each of the metropolitan counties<sup>2</sup> is a passenger transport area<sup>3</sup>.

Each metropolitan county has a passenger transport authority<sup>4</sup>, and the passenger transport authority for a passenger transport area is the metropolitan county passenger transport authority for the county which is coterminous with or includes that passenger transport area<sup>5</sup>.

The passenger transport executive for a passenger transport area is the body which immediately before 6 January 1986 was the passenger transport executive for the designated<sup>6</sup> area corresponding to that passenger transport area<sup>7</sup>.

Each of the councils of the districts comprised in a county which is coterminous with or includes a passenger transport area and each of the following bodies namely, the passenger transport authority, the passenger transport executive and any subsidiary of the passenger transport executive, has power to enter into and carry out agreements with one another for the giving of assistance by that council to that body or, as the case may be, by that body to that council by way of making available to the assisted party any services or facilities provided by, or any property of, the assisting party<sup>8</sup>.

1 Transport Act 1968 s 9(1) (substituted by the Transport Act 1985 s 57(1); and amended by s 58(2)). Orders relating to the alteration or abolition of passenger transport areas are made under the Local Government Act 1985 s 42(1)(c) (as amended): see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 53.

2 As to the metropolitan counties see PARA 236 note 10 ante.

3 Transport Act 1968 s 9(1)(a) (as substituted: see note 1 supra).

4 See the Local Government Act 1985 s 28; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 49.

5 Transport Act 1968 s 9(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 1 supra).

6 I.e. designated for the purposes of ibid Pt II (ss 9-23A) (as amended) by an order under s 9(1) (as originally enacted).

7 Ibid s 9(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 1 supra). The passenger transport executive for a passenger transport area consists of a Director General appointed by the passenger transport authority in accordance with s 9 (as amended), Sch 5 Pt II (as amended) and not less than two nor more than eight other members so appointed by the passenger transport authority after consultation with the Director General: s 9(2) (substituted by the Transport Act 1985 s 57(1)). The Secretary of State may make provision by order inter alia as to the constitution, proceedings and procedures of the passenger transport executive: see the Transport Act 1968 s 9(3), Sch 5 (s 9(3) substituted by the Transport Act 1985 s 57(1); and the Transport Act 1968 Sch 5 amended by the Superannuation Act 1972 s 29(4), Sch 8; the Local Government Act 1974 ss 35(1), (2), 42(2), Sch 6 para 22(12), Sch 8; and the Transport Act 1985 ss 57(6), 139(3), Schs 3, 8). Before making such an order the Secretary of State must consult with the passenger transport authority for the passenger transport area and the councils of the districts comprised in the county which is coterminous with or includes the area: Transport Act 1968 s 9(4) (substituted by the Transport Act 1985 s 57(1); and amended by s 58(1)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

247A. Arrangements relating to Integrated Transport Authorities.

1. Power to establish a new ITA

The Secretary of State may by order designate any area in England outside Greater London as an integrated transport area, and establish an Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA') for the integrated transport area: Local Transport Act 2008 s 78(1). An order may be made only if the Secretary of State, having had regard to a scheme prepared and published under s 80 (see PARA 247A.2) or s 81 (see PARA 247A.3), considers that the establishment of the ITA is likely to improve the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport in the area to be designated, and the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within that area: Local 950Transport Act 2008 s 78(2). The requirement in s 78(2) to have regard to a scheme does not apply in relation to any area if a direction has been given under s 81 in relation to the area and any period specified in the direction for the preparation and publication of a scheme has expired: s 78(3). An integrated transport area may be designated by an order only if it consists of the whole of two or more counties or districts: s 78(4). A local government area may be included in an integrated transport area designated by an order only if (1) it was included in the scheme prepared and published under s 80 or 81; or (2) in the circumstances described in s 78(3), it is the area of an authority to whom the direction under s 81 was given: s 78(5). No part of an integrated transport area established under s 78 may be separated from the rest of it by a territory which is part of another local government area but which is not included in the integrated transport area: s 78(6). Before making an order the Secretary of State must consult such representatives of the appropriate authorities and such other persons as the Secretary of State considers appropriate: s 78(7). As to the meaning of 'appropriate authorities', see s 78(8). In making an order the Secretary of State must have regard to the need to (a) reflect the identities and interests of local communities; and (b) secure effective and convenient local government: s 78(9). An order under s 78 may make, in relation to the ITA (i) provision about its constitutional arrangements within the meaning given by s 84(2) (see PARA 247A.6); and (ii) any provision which may be made by an order under s 86, 87, 88 or 89A (see PARAS 247A.7, 247A.8): Local Transport Act 2008 s 79(1) (amended by Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 6 para 123).

2. Authorities' review: new ITA

Any two or more of the following authorities may undertake a review of the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within an area satisfying the requirements of the Local Transport Act 2008 s 80(2), (3): (1) a council for a county in England comprised in an area for which there is no Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA'); or (2) a council for a district in England comprised in an area for which there is no ITA: Local Transport Act 2008 s 80(1). A review area must include (a) if the review is being undertaken by a county council, the whole of one or more of the districts in the county or, if there are no districts in the county, the whole of the county; and (b) if the review is being undertaken by a district council, the whole of the district: s 80(2). A review area may also include (i) the whole of any county the council for which is not taking part in the review; and (ii) the whole of any district the council for which is not taking part in the review: s 80(3). Where two or more authorities, having undertaken a review under s 80(1), conclude that the designation of an area as an integrated transport area, and the establishment of an ITA for that area, would improve the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport in the area, and the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within the area, they must prepare and publish a scheme for the establishment of an ITA for the area: s 80(4).

3. Secretary of State's power to direct a review: new ITA

The Secretary of State may direct two or more of the following authorities to undertake a review of the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within the whole or any part of the authorities' combined area: (1) a council for a county in England comprised in an area for which there is no Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA'); or (2) a council for a district in England comprised in an area for which there is no ITA: Local Transport Act 2008 s 81(1), (2). The Secretary of State may give a direction only if he considers that the review and any scheme are likely to improve (a) the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport in an integrated transport area or proposed integrated transport area; and (b) the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within such an area: s 81(3). A direction may require the preparation and publication of a scheme for the establishment of an ITA for any area, being an area which is capable of being designated by an order under s 78 (see PARA 247A.1), which consists of the whole or any part of the authorities' combined area: s 81(4). The review must be undertaken jointly by all the authorities subject to the direction: s 81(5). The provision which may be made by a direction includes provision for (i) the timetable for the review and for the preparation and publication of a scheme; (ii) the procedures to be followed in carrying out the review; (iii) particular issues which the review and any scheme must address; and (iv) the implementation of any scheme: s 81(6). The authorities to which a direction is given must, in carrying out the review and preparing any scheme, do so in the manner that they consider most likely to improve (A) the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport in their combined area; and (B) the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within that area: s 81(7).

4. Authorities' review of arrangements

Any one or more of (1) an Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA'); (2) a district council for an area comprised in an integrated transport area; (3) a county council for an area comprised in an integrated transport area; or (4) a county council or district council for an area which could be comprised in a proposed integrated transport area, may undertake a review of one or more of the following matters: (a) those in relation to which an order may be made under the Local Transport Act 2008 ss 84-91 (see PARAS 247A.6-247A.11); and (b) in relation to an ITA or any executive body of the ITA existing at the time of the review, any matter concerning the ITA or the executive body which the ITA has power to determine: Local Transport Act 2008 s 82(1)-(3). A review under s 82 must relate to one or more integrated transport areas or proposed integrated transport areas: s 82(4). Where one or more authorities, having undertaken a review under s 82(1), conclude that the exercise of the power to make an order under any one or more of ss 84-91 would improve (i) the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport in an integrated transport area or proposed integrated transport area; or (ii) the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within such an area, they must prepare and publish a scheme relating to the power to make that order or those orders: s 82(5). A 'proposed integrated transport area' means one which may be designated by an order under s 90 (see PARA 247A.10): s 82(6).

5. Secretary of State's power to direct a review of arrangements

The Secretary of State may direct one or more of (1) an Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA'); (2) a district council for an area comprised in an integrated transport area; (3) a county council for an area comprised in an integrated transport area; or (4) a county council or district council for an area which could be comprised in any proposed integrated transport area to which the direction relates, to undertake a review of one or more matters mentioned in the Local Transport Act 2008 s 83(3): s 83(1), (2). The matters are (a) those in relation to which an order may be made under ss 84-91 (see PARAS 247A.6 to 247A.11); or (b) in relation to an ITA or any executive body of the ITA existing at the time of the direction, any matter concerning the ITA or the executive body which the ITA has power to determine: s 83(3). The Secretary of State may give a direction only if he considers that the review and any scheme are likely to improve (i) the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport in an integrated transport area or proposed integrated transport area; or (ii) the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within such an area: s 83(4).

6. Constitutional arrangements

The Secretary of State may by order make provision about the constitutional arrangements of an Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA'): Local Transport Act 2008 s 84(1). Constitutional arrangements, in relation to an ITA, means (1) the membership of the ITA, including the number and appointment of members of the ITA and the remuneration of, and pensions or allowances payable to or in respect of, any member of the ITA; (2) the voting powers of members of the ITA, including the provision for different weight to be given to the vote of different descriptions of member; (3) the executive arrangements of the ITA; and (4) the functions of any executive body of the ITA: s 84(2). As to the meaning of 'executive arrangements', see s 84(3). As to the provision which may be made by an order by virtue of head (4), see s 84(4). An order may not provide for the budget of an ITA to be agreed otherwise than by the ITA: s 84(5). An order made by virtue of head (1) which includes provision about the number and appointment of members of the ITA must provide (a) for a majority of the members of the ITA to be appointed by the ITA's constituent councils; (b) for those members to be appointed from among the elected members of the constituent councils; and (c) for each of the representative councils to appoint at least one of its elected members as a member of the ITA: Local Transport Act 2008 s 85(1). The constituent councils of an ITA are (i) any county council; and (ii) any district council for an area within the integrated transport area of the ITA: s 85(2). As to which councils are representative councils for the purposes of head (c), see s 85(3). If an order under s 84 provides for members of an ITA to be appointed otherwise than from among elected members of its constituent councils, the order must provide, by virtue of s 84(2)(b), for those members to be non-voting members: s 85(4). The voting members of an ITA may resolve that provision made in accordance with s 85(4) is not to apply in the case of the ITA: s 85(5).

7. Delegation of functions

The Secretary of State may, to any extent, by order delegate to an Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA') or an eligible local transport authority any function of his (1) which does not consist of a power to make regulations or other instruments of a legislative character or a power to fix fees or charges; and (2) which the Secretary of State considers can appropriately be exercised by the ITA or eligible local transport authority: Local Transport Act 2008 s 86(1). An 'eligible local transport authority' means an authority which has been designated as a local transport authority by an order made under s 90 or 91 (see PARAS 247A.10, 247A.11), or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 106 or 107 (see TRADE AND INDUSTRY vol 97 (2010) PARA 1003): Local Transport Act 2008 s 86(3) (amended by Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 6 para 124).

The Secretary of State may also, to any extent, by order provide for the delegation of an ITA, or to an eligible local transport authority, of any functions of a local authority (a) which is exercisable by the local authority in relation to an area which is comprised in the ITA's integrated transport area or the eligible local transport authority's area; and (b) which the Secretary of State considers can appropriately be exercised by the ITA or eligible local transport authority: Local Transport Act 2008 s 87(1). A delegation by virtue of s 87 may be made subject to conditions: s 87(2). An order made under s 87 which provides for the delegation of any function of a charging authority within the meaning of the Transport Act 2000 Pt 3 (ss 163-200) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 901 et seq) may be made (i) where the area in relation to which the order has effect comprises all or part of the area of one charging authority, only with the consent of that authority; or (ii) where that area comprises all or part of the area of two or more charging authorities, only with the consent of a majority of those authorities: Local Transport Act 2008 s 87(3).

8. Conferral of a power to direct

The Secretary of State may by order confer on (1) an Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA'); or (2) an authority which has been designated as a local transport authority by an order under the Local Transport Act 2008 ss 90 or 91 (see PARAS 257A.10, 247A.11) or under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 ss 106 or 107 (see TRADE AND INDUSTRY vol 97 (2010) PARA 1003), a power to give a direction about the exercise of an eligible power: Local Transport Act 2008 s 88(1) (amended by Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 6 para 126). An eligible power means a power of a council for a county, metropolitan district or non-metropolitan district comprised in an area for which there is no county council, which the council has (a) as highway authority by virtue of the Highways Act 1980 s 1; or (b) as traffic authority by virtue of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 121A (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 293): Local Transport Act 2008 s 88(2). An order under s 88 may provide that, if an authority exercises any power in contravention of a direction under such an order, the directing authority may take such steps as it considers appropriate to reverse or modify the effect of the exercise of the power: Local Transport Act 2008 s 89(1).

9. Transfers of functions of a combined authority

The Secretary of State may by order transfer functions of a combined authority established under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 103 (see TRADE AND INDUSTRY vol 97 (2010) PARA 1002) to an Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA'): Local Transport Act 2008 s 89A(1) (s 89A added by Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 6 para 127). Such an order may only be made in relation to functions that relate to transport and are exercisable by the combined authority in relation to an area that becomes, or becomes part of, the ITA's integrated transport area by virtue of an order under the Local Transport Act 2008 Pt 5 (ss 77-102A): s 89A(2).

10. Changing the boundaries of an integrated transport area

The Secretary of State may by order designate an integrated transport area in England by (1) including a county or district in an integrated transport area; or (2) removing a county or district from an integrated transport area: Local Transport Act 2008 s 90(1). An order which changes the boundaries of an integrated transport area may be made only if each council mentioned in s 92(9) has consented to the boundary change: Local Transport Act 2008 s 92(8). The councils are (a) any council for a county or a metropolitan district, and any unitary council whose area is comprised in the existing integrated transport area, and would not be comprised in the proposed integrated transport area; and (b) any council for a county or a metropolitan district, and any unitary council, whose area is not comprised in the existing integrated transport area, and would be comprised in the proposed integrated transport area: s 92(9). As to the meaning of 'unitary council', see s 92(10). No part of an integrated transport area established under s 90 may be separated from the rest of it by a territory which is part of another local government area but which is not included in the integrated transport area: Local Transport Act 2008 s 90(2). Where by virtue of an order a territory ceases to be comprised in an integrated transport area, the order (a) must make provision for designating an authority to be a local transport authority for the territory for the purposes of the Transport Act 2000 s 108(4) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1190); and (b) may transfer functions to that authority from the Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA') which was formerly the local transport authority: Local Transport Act 2008 s 90(3). Provision made by virtue of s 90(3) may designate different authorities for different parts of the territory: s 90(4). The reference to an authority under s 90(3) does not include a combined authority established under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 103, and the Transport Act 2008 s 90(3) does not apply if the territory becomes part of the area of a combined authority by virtue of an order under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 ss 103 or 106 (see TRADE AND INDUSTRY vol 97 (2010) PARAS 1002, 1003): Local Transport Act 2008 s 90(5), (6) (added by Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 6 para 128).

11. Dissolution of an integrated transport area

The Secretary of State may by order dissolve an integrated transport area and abolish the Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA') for the integrated transport area: Local Transport Act 2008 s 91(1). An order which makes provision for dissolution of an integrated transport area may be made only with the consent of a majority of the councils falling within s 92(7): Local Transport Act 2008 s 92(6). The councils are (1) the councils for any metropolitan districts whose areas are comprised in the integrated transport area; (2) the councils for any counties whose areas are comprised in the integrated transport area; and (3) any unitary councils for any non-metropolitan districts whose areas are comprised in the integrated transport area: s 92(7). The order (a) must make provision for designating an authority to be a local transport authority for the territory previously comprised in the integrated transport area for the purposes of the Transport Act 2000 s 108(4) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1190); and (b) may transfer functions to that authority from the ITA which was formerly the local transport authority: Local Transport Act 2008 s 91(2). Provision made by virtue of s 91(2) may designate different authorities for different parts of the territory: s 91(3). The reference to an authority under s 91(2) does not include a combined authority established under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 s 103, and the Transport Act 2008 s 91(2) does not apply if the territory or part of a territory that becomes the area or part of the area of a combined authority by virtue of an order under the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 ss 103 or 106 (see TRADE AND INDUSTRY vol 97 (2010) PARAS 1002, 1003): Local Transport Act 2008 s 91(4), (5) (added by Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 6 para 129).

12. Further provisions about orders

An order made under the Local Transport Act 2008 s 84-91 (see PARAS 247A.6-247A.11) may be made only if the Secretary of State, having had regard to a scheme prepared and published under s 82 or 83 (see PARAS 247A.4, 247A.5), considers that the making of the order is likely to improve (1) the exercise of statutory functions relating to transport in the area or areas to which the order relates; or (2) the effectiveness and efficiency of transport within that area or those areas: Local Transport Act 2008 s 92(2). The requirement in s 92(2) to have regard to a scheme does not apply in relation to any matter if a direction has been given under s 83 in relation to the matter and any period specified in the direction for the preparation and publication of a scheme has expired: s 92(3). Before making an order the Secretary of State must consult (a) such representatives of authorities mentioned in ss 82(2) and 83(2); and (b) such other persons as the Secretary of State considers appropriate: s 92(4). In making an order the Secretary of State must have regard to the need (i) to reflect the identities and interests of local communities; and (ii) to secure effective and convenient local government: s 92(5).

13. Incidental provision

The Secretary of State may by order make incidental, consequential, transitional or supplementary provision for the purpose of, or in consequence of, an order under the Local Transport Act 2008 Pt 5 Ch 2 (ss 78-98), or for giving full effect to such an order: Local Transport Act 2008 s 93(1). The provision which may be included by virtue of s 93 in an order includes provision for the transfer of property, rights and liabilities by (1) the order; (2) a scheme by the Secretary of State under the order; or (3) a scheme required to be made under the order by a person other than the Secretary of State: Local Transport Act 2008 s 93(2). The provision which may be included by virtue of s 93(2) in an order includes provision (a) for the creation or imposition by the Secretary of State of new rights or liabilities in respect of anything transferred by or under an order; (b) for the management or custody of transferred property; and (c) for bodies to make agreements with respect to any property, income rights, liabilities and expense of, and any financial relations between, the parties to the agreement: s 93(3). The provision which may be included by virtue of s 93 in an order includes provision amending, modifying, repealing or revoking any enactment, whenever passed or made: s 93(4). The provision which may be included by virtue of s 93(4) does not include provision amending or disapplying the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 ss 15-17, Sch 1 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 375-377): Local Transport Act 2008 s 93(5).

14. Guidance

The Secretary of State may give guidance about anything which could be done by a local authority under the Local Transport Act 2008 Pt 5 Ch 2 (ss 78-98) and, in exercising any functions under Pt 5 Ch 2, a local authority must have regard to such guidance: Local Transport Act 2008 s 96(1), (4). Any guidance under s 96 must be given in writing and may be varied or revoked by further guidance in writing: s 96(2).

15. Power to change name of an ITA

An Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA') may, by resolution in relation to which the requirements under s 97(2) are met, change the name by which it is known: Local Transport Act 2008 s 97(1). The requirements are (1) that the resolution is considered at a meeting of the ITA which is specially convened for the purpose; (2) that particulars of the resolution were included in the notice of the meeting; and (3) that the resolution is passed at the meeting by not less than two-thirds of the members of the ITA who vote on it: s 97(2). An ITA which changes its name under s 97 must send notice of the change to the Secretary of State, and publish the notice in such manner as the Secretary of State may direct: s 97(3). A change of name under s 97 does not affect the rights or obligations of the ITA concerned or any other person, or render defective any legal proceedings, and any legal proceedings may be commenced or continued as if there had been no change of name: s 97(4).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(3) PASSENGER SERVICES/(ii) Passenger Services outside London/247B. Power of an Integrated Transport Authority to promote well-being.

247B. Power of an Integrated Transport Authority to promote well-being.

1. Power to promote well-being

An Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA') has power to take any action if the ITA determines that doing so is likely to achieve any one or more of the following objects: (1) the promotion or improvement of the economic well-being of its area; (2) the promotion or improvement of the social well-being of its area; or (3) the promotion or improvement of the environmental well-being of its area: Local Transport Act 2008 s 99(1). The power under s 99(1) may be exercised in relation to or for the benefit of the whole or any part of the integrated transport area, or all or any persons resident or present in, or travelling in or through, the integrated transport area: s 99(2). The power under s 99(1) includes power to (a) incur expenditure; (b) give financial assistance to any person; (c) enter into arrangements or agreements with any person; (d) co-operate with, or facilitate or co-ordinate the activities of, any person; (e) exercise on behalf of any person any functions of that person; and (f) provide staff, goods, services or accommodation to any person: s 99(3). The power under s 99(1) includes power to do anything in relation to, or for the benefit of, any person or area situated outside its areas if it considers that doing so is likely to achieve any one or more of the objects in s 99(1): s 99(4).

2. Limits on the power to promote well-being

The power under the Local Transport Act 2008 s 99(1) (see PARA 247B.1) does not enable an Integrated Transport Authority ('ITA') to do anything which it is unable to do by virtue of any prohibition, restriction or limitation on its powers which is contained in any enactment: Local Transport Act 2008 s 100(1). The power under s 99(1) does not enable an ITA to raise money, whether by precepts, borrowing or otherwise: s 100(2). The Secretary of State may by order make provision preventing ITA's from doing, by virtue of s 99(1), anything which is specified, or is of a description specified, in the order: s 100(3). The power under s 100(3) may be exercised in relation to (1) all ITA's; (2) particular ITA's; or (3) ITA's of particular descriptions: s 100(4). Before making an order under s 100(3), the Secretary of State must consult (a) such representatives of ITA's; (b) such representatives of local government; and (c) such other persons as the Secretary of State considers appropriate: s 100(5). Section 100(5) does not apply to an order under s 100(3) which is made only for the purpose of amending an earlier order under s 100(3) (i) so as to extend the earlier order, or any provision of the earlier order, to a particular ITA or ITA's of a particular description; or (ii) so that the earlier order, or any provision of the earlier order, ceases to apply to a particular ITA or to ITA's of a particular description: s 100(6). Before exercising the power under s 99(1), an ITA must have regard to any guidance for the time being issued by the Secretary of State about the exercise of that power: s 100(7).

3. Power to amend or repeal enactments

If the Secretary of State thinks an enactment, whenever passed or made, prevents or obstructs Integrated Transport Authorities ('ITA's') from exercising their power under the Local Transport Act 2008 s 99(1) (see PARA 247B.1), he may by order made by statutory instrument amend, repeal, revoke or disapply that enactment: Local Transport Act 2008 s 101(1). The power under s 101(1) may be exercised in relation to (1) all ITA's; (2) particular ITA's; or (3) ITA's of a particular description: s 101(2). Before making an order under s 101 the Secretary of State must consult (a) such representatives of ITA's; (b) such representatives of local government; and (c) such other persons as appear to the Secretary of State likely to be affected by the proposals: Local Transport Act 2008 s 102(1). If, following consultation under s 102(1), the Secretary of State proposes to make an order under s 101, he must lay before each House of Parliament a document which (i) explains the proposals; (ii) sets them out in the form of a draft order; and (iii) gives details of consultation under s 102(1): s 102(2). As to the application of the Local Transport Act 2008 Pt 5 Ch 3 (ss 99-102A) to a combined authority (see TRADE AND INDUSTRY vol 97 (2010) PARA 1002 et seq), see the Local Transport Act 2008 s 102A (added by Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Act 2009 Sch 6 para 130).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(3) PASSENGER SERVICES/(ii) Passenger Services outside London/248. General functions of passenger transport authorities and executives.

248. General functions of passenger transport authorities and executives.

It is the duty of the passenger transport executive<sup>1</sup> for each passenger transport area<sup>2</sup> in England to secure the provision of such public passenger transport services<sup>3</sup> as the passenger transport authority<sup>4</sup> for the area considers it appropriate for the passenger transport executive to secure for meeting any public transport requirements within the area which in the passenger transport authority's view would not be met apart from any action taken by the passenger transport executive for that purpose<sup>5</sup>. The passenger transport authority must seek and have regard to the advice of the passenger transport executive for its area in determining which services it would be appropriate for the passenger transport executive to secure under these provisions<sup>6</sup>.

Where it appears to the passenger transport authority for any passenger transport area that it would be appropriate for the passenger transport executive for that area to take any measures for the purpose of or in connection with promoting, so far as relates to that area: (1) the availability of public passenger transport services other than subsidised services<sup>7</sup> and the operation of such services, in conjunction with each other and with any available subsidised services, so as to meet any public transport requirements the passenger transport authority considers it appropriate to meet<sup>8</sup>; or (2) the convenience of the public (including persons who are elderly or disabled) in using all available public passenger transport services (whether subsidised or not)<sup>9</sup>, the passenger transport authority may from time to time formulate general policies with respect to the description of such measures to be taken by the passenger transport executive for that area, and the passenger transport executive must take such measures as appear to it to be appropriate for carrying out those policies<sup>10</sup>.

It is the duty both of the passenger transport authority and of the passenger transport executive for any passenger transport area, in exercising or performing any of their functions under the above provisions, to have regard to the transport needs of members of the public who are elderly or disabled and to the bus strategy made jointly by the passenger transport authority and the councils for the metropolitan districts comprised in the area<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to passenger transport executives see PARA 247 ante. No person who is for the time being: (1) the operator of any public passenger transport services; (2) a director of any company or (as the case may be) an employee of any company or other person who is such an operator; (3) a director or employee of any company which is a member of a group of interconnected bodies corporate any one or more of which is such an operator, is to be appointed as a member, officer or servant of the passenger transport executive for any passenger transport area; and any person so appointed who subsequently becomes such an operator, director, partner or employee must immediately vacate his membership of the passenger transport executive, or (as the case may be) his office or employment with the passenger transport executive: Transport Act 1968 s 9A(8) (s 9A added by the Transport Act 1985 s 57(2)). For the purposes of the Transport Act 1968 s 9A(8) (as added) any two bodies corporate are to be treated as interconnected if one of them is a body corporate of which the other is a subsidiary or if both of them are subsidiaries of the same body corporate; and 'group of inter-connected bodies corporate' means a group consisting of two or more bodies corporate all of which are interconnected with each other in the sense given above: s 9A(10) (as so added). References to the operator of, or to persons operating, any public passenger transport services are to be read as if contained in the Transport Act 1985 (see PARA 1252 post): Transport Act 1968 s 9A(11) (as so added).

2 As to passenger transport areas see PARA 247 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'public passenger transport services' see PARA 1252 note 3 post; definition applied by the Transport Act 1968 s 9A(11) (as added: see note 1 supra).

4 As to passenger transport authorities see PARA 247 ante.

5 Transport Act 1968 s 9A(3) (as added (see note 1 supra); and substituted by the Transport Act 2000 s 161, Sch 11 paras 2, 3(1), (3)). The passenger transport executive has power to enter into an agreement providing for service subsidies for the purpose of securing the provision of any service under the Transport Act 1968 s 9A(3) (as added and substituted); but its power to do so: (1) is exercisable only where the service would not be provided without subsidy; and (2) is subject to the Transport Act 1985 ss 89-92 (s 89 as amended) (see PARAS 1277-1279 post) concerning tendering for local services etc: Transport Act 1968 s 9A(4) (as so added). References to agreements providing for service subsidies are to be read as if contained in the Transport Act 1985 (see PARA 1252 note 8 post): Transport Act 1968 s 9A(11) (as so added).

6 Ibid s 9A(3A) (s 9A as added (see note 1 supra); and s 9A(3A) added by the Transport Act 2000 Sch 11 para 3(3)).

7 References to subsidised services are references to services provided under an agreement providing for service subsidies entered into: (1) by the passenger transport executive for the area in question or for any other area under the Transport Act 1968 s 9A(4) (as added) (see note 5 supra); or (2) by any non-metropolitan county or district council under the Transport Act 1985 s 63 (as amended) (see PARA 1252 post): Transport Act 1968 s 9A(9) (as added: see note 1 supra).

8 Ibid s 9A(5)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra).

9 Ibid s 9A(5)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

10 Ibid s 9A(5) (as added: see note 1 supra). It is the duty of the passenger transport authority for any passenger transport area, in formulating any such policies, and of the passenger transport executive for any passenger transport area, in carrying out any such policies, to have regard to a combination of economy, efficiency and effectiveness: s 9A(6) (as so added; and amended by the Transport Act 2000 Sch 11 para 3(4)). This duty does not mean that the passenger transport executive must avoid the site of an existing bus station owned by a bus company when exercising its powers to purchase land for a transport interchange: Yorkshire Traction Co Ltd v Secretary of State for Transport (1997) 75 P & CR 437, CA.

11 Transport Act 1968 s 9A(7) (as added (see note 1 supra); and amended by the Transport Act 2000 Sch 11 para 3(5)).

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(3) PASSENGER SERVICES/(ii) Passenger Services outside London/249. General powers of the passenger transport executive.

249. General powers of the passenger transport executive.

The passenger transport executive<sup>1</sup> for a passenger transport area<sup>2</sup> has power<sup>3</sup>:

- 27 (1) to carry passengers by road within, to or from that area<sup>4</sup>;
- 28 (2) to carry passengers by any other form of land transport or by any form of water transport (including, in either case, hovercraft<sup>5</sup>) between places in that area, or between places in that area and any place outside it, but within the permitted distance, that is to say the distance of 25 miles from the nearest point on the boundary of that area<sup>6</sup>;
- 29 (3) so far as the passenger transport executive considers requisite in connection with the exercise of its powers of transport in head (1) or head (2) above, or to avoid an interruption of existing services<sup>7</sup>, to carry passengers as mentioned in head (1) or head (2) above between places outside that area<sup>8</sup>;
- 30 (4) to carry luggage or other goods<sup>9</sup> in any vehicle or vessel used for the carriage of passengers, pursuant to head (1), head (2) or head (3) above, or in a trailer drawn by any vehicle so used<sup>10</sup>;
- 31 (5) to store within its area goods which have been or are to be carried by the passenger transport executive and, so far as any premises provided for the purposes of that or any other part of its business are not required for those purposes, to use them to provide facilities for the storage of other goods<sup>11</sup>;
- 32 (6) with the approval of the passenger transport authority<sup>12</sup>, to enter into and carry out agreements with any person who is the operator of, or who has an estate or interest in, or right over, a network, station or light maintenance depot, or some part of a network, station or light maintenance depot, in connection with the building, replacement, redevelopment, refurbishment, repair, maintenance, operation or staffing of the network, station or light maintenance depot or any part<sup>13</sup>;
- 33 (7) to arrange, with the approval of the passenger transport authority, with any person providing passenger transport services by air for the provision of such services between places in that area, or between such places and places outside it, and to include in such arrangements provisions for the making of payments to that person by the passenger transport executive<sup>14</sup>;
- 34 (8) to let passenger vehicles on hire with or without trailers for the carriage of goods<sup>15</sup>;
- 35 (9) to let locomotives and other rolling stock on hire to any person who is<sup>16</sup> the franchisee or the franchise operator under a franchise agreement to which the passenger transport executive is a party<sup>17</sup>;
- 36 (10) to let locomotives and other rolling stock on hire to a person not falling within head (9) above for or in connection with the provision of railway passenger services within that area or within the permitted distance, or, with the written consent of the Secretary of State<sup>18</sup>, for or in connection with the provision of railway passenger services outside that area and beyond the permitted distance<sup>19</sup>;

- 37 (11) with the approval of the passenger transport authority, to enter into and carry out agreements with the owner of any locomotive or other rolling stock concerning the persons to whom, or the terms on which, the locomotive or other rolling stock may be let on hire<sup>20</sup>;
- 38 (12) to carry on the activities of undertakings transferred to, resumed by or acquired by the passenger transport executive<sup>21</sup>, which the passenger transport executive would not otherwise have the power to carry on<sup>22</sup>;
- 39 (13) in places where persons using the services and facilities provided by the passenger transport executive may require them, to provide for both for those and other persons facilities for the purchase and consumption of food and drink, places of refreshment and such other amenities or facilities as it may appear to the passenger transport executive requisite or expedient to provide<sup>23</sup>;
- 40 (14) to provide interchange facilities for the purpose of enabling passengers travelling by one means of transport to continue their journey by another<sup>24</sup>;
- 41 (15) subject to the provisions relating to travel concessions on services provided by passenger transport executives<sup>25</sup>, to demand, take and recover or waive such charges for the services and facilities provided by the passenger transport executive, and to make the use of those services and facilities subject to such terms and conditions, as it thinks fit<sup>26</sup>;
- 42 (16) to construct, manufacture, produce, purchase, maintain and repair anything required for the purpose of its business<sup>27</sup>;
- 43 (17) to enter into and carry out agreements with any person for the carrying on by that person, whether as agent for the passenger transport executive or otherwise, of any activities which the passenger transport executive has power to carry on<sup>28</sup>;
- 44 (18) with the approval of the passenger transport authority, to arrange to transfer to a person with whom an agreement under head (17) above has been made, in such manner and on such terms as may be provided for by the arrangements, any part of the undertaking or property of the passenger transport executive relevant to the carrying on of the agreement<sup>29</sup>;
- 45 (19) to acquire by agreement any undertaking or part of an undertaking if its assets are wholly or mainly assets which the passenger transport executive requires for its business purposes<sup>30</sup>;
- 46 (20) for the purposes of its business, to lend money, or give guarantees<sup>31</sup>;
- 47 (21) for the purposes of its business, to form, promote and assist in forming a company to carry on any of its activities, and, if the company is a subsidiary of the passenger transport executive, to transfer to it any part of the undertaking or property of the passenger transport executive<sup>32</sup>;
- 48 (22) to acquire land<sup>33</sup> by agreement, either: (a) for the purposes of its business<sup>34</sup>; or (b) with the approval of the passenger transport authority, for the purpose of adding it to and disposing of it with other contiguous land of the passenger transport executive of which it proposes to dispose<sup>35</sup>;
- 49 (23) to develop its own land for its own business purposes in such manner as it thinks fit<sup>36</sup>;
- 50 (24) with the approval of the passenger transport authority, to develop, for the use of others, any part of its land not required for its own business purposes<sup>37</sup>, or where the use of its land can be combined with its use for other purposes to develop the land by constructing or adapting buildings on it for use wholly or partly by other persons<sup>38</sup>, and to acquire adjoining land for such development<sup>39</sup>, with a view to selling or otherwise disposing of the land or any interest in it, or the buildings or any part of the buildings, after the development is carried out<sup>40</sup>;
- 51 (25) to dispose of land, absolutely or for a term of years, with the approval of the passenger transport authority, and to dispose of any interest or right in property<sup>41</sup>;

- 52 (26) to do anything to advance the skill of employees and the efficiency of their equipment and its operation, including provision for training, education and research<sup>42</sup>;
- 53 (27) to provide houses, hostels and other like accommodation for its employees<sup>43</sup>;
- 54 (28) to make loans to its employees to enable them to acquire housing, and to guarantee loans made by building societies and other bodies to its employees for that purpose<sup>44</sup>;
- 55 (29) to invest any sums not immediately required by it for its business purposes<sup>45</sup>;
- 56 (30) to turn its resources to account so far as not required for its business purposes<sup>46</sup>;
- 57 (31) with the approval of the passenger transport authority, to promote or oppose any Bill in Parliament<sup>47</sup>;
- 58 (32) to establish and administer pension schemes and pension funds for its employees and ex-employees and to pay pensions to or in respect of such persons<sup>48</sup>;
- 59 (33) to provide technical assistance, advice or research services to any person on any matters in which it has skill or experience<sup>49</sup>; and
- 60 (34) to do all other things necessary, in its opinion, to facilitate the proper carrying on of its business<sup>50</sup>.

If the passenger transport authority for a passenger transport area so requests in writing, the Secretary of State may authorise the passenger transport executive for that area to purchase compulsorily any land which the passenger transport executive or any of its wholly-owned subsidiaries requires for the purposes of its business<sup>51</sup>.

In the exercise of certain of its powers<sup>52</sup> the passenger transport executive must act as though it were a company engaged on a commercial enterprise<sup>53</sup>.

Each of the powers conferred by the above provisions is deemed to be in addition to, and not in derogation of, any other of them; but those provisions relate only to the capacity of the passenger transport executive for a designated area as a statutory corporation and nothing in those provisions is to be construed as authorising the disregard by the passenger transport executive of any enactment or rule of law, or any requirement of Part II of the Transport Act 1968<sup>54</sup> as to the approval of the passenger transport authority or the consent of the Secretary of State for a particular exercise of any of those powers<sup>55</sup>.

The statutory provisions relating to the acquisition of ferries by local authorities<sup>56</sup> apply to the passenger transport executive for a passenger transport area as if the passenger transport executive were a local authority for that area<sup>57</sup>.

It is the duty of a passenger transport executive to control any subsidiary so as to ensure that the subsidiary does not engage in activities in which the passenger transport executive has no power to engage<sup>58</sup>.

21 le an undertaking transferred to the passenger transport executive under the Transport Act 1968 s 17(1) (repealed), resumed by the passenger transport executive under s 17(2)(b) (repealed), or acquired by the passenger transport executive otherwise than under s 17 (repealed). The passenger transport executive needs the approval of the passenger transport authority before carrying on any activities which it would not otherwise have the power to carry on in respect of an undertaking not acquired under s 17 (repealed): s 10(1)(ix). The passenger transport executive only has power to carry on activities which were carried on by the undertaking immediately before the date of the transfer, the date of the disposal which gave rise to the resumption or the date of the acquisition: s 10(1)(ix).

22 Ibid s 10(1)(ix).

23 Ibid s 10(1)(x). At any place where the passenger transport executive, in exercise of its powers under s 10(1)(x), provides a car park, it has power to repair motor vehicles for any persons, and to sell to any persons petrol, oil and spare parts and accessories for motor vehicles, whether or not those persons are using the car park: s 10(1)(xi). Where the services and facilities are provided by a subsidiary of the passenger transport executive or by a person providing bus services under an agreement with the passenger transport executive, they are deemed to be provided by the passenger transport executive: s 10(2) (as amended: see note 11 supra).

24 Ibid s 10(1)(xii).

25 le subject to ibid s 15(2) (as amended) (see PARA 251 post) and the Transport Act 1985 s 104(1) (see PARA 1294 post).

26 Transport Act 1968 s 10(1)(xiii). However, without prejudice to any other limitation on the power conferred by s 10(1)(xiii) subsisting by virtue of s 10(7) (see the text and note 57 infra), s 10(1)(xiii) is not to be construed as entitling the passenger transport executive to carry passengers by any form of land or water transport on terms or conditions which: (1) purport, whether directly or indirectly, to exclude or limit its liability in respect of the death of, or bodily injury to, any passenger; or (2) purport, whether directly or indirectly, to prescribe the time within which or the manner in which any such liability may be enforced: s 10(1)(xiii).

27 Ibid s 10(1)(xiv). Things required for the purposes of the business of a subsidiary of the passenger transport executive or by a person providing bus services in the area under an agreement with the passenger transport executive are deemed to be things required for the purposes of the business of the passenger transport executive: s 10(2) (as amended: see note 11 supra).

28 Ibid s 10(1)(xv). This includes the power to enter into agreements for the provision of combined services for the through carriage of passengers or goods, for the quoting of through rates, and for the pooling of receipts or expenses, and to include in any such agreement provision for the making of payments to that person by the passenger transport executive, and to enter into any such agreement notwithstanding that it involves the delegation of functions of the passenger transport executive under any enactment relating to part of its undertaking: s 10(1)(xv).

29 Ibid s 10(1)(xvi) (amended by the Local Government Act 1974 ss 35(1), (2), 42(2), Sch 6 para 22(1), Sch 8).

31 See ibid s 10(1)(xviii). The money may be lent to, and a guarantee may be given for the benefit of, any person for the purposes of an undertaking carried on by that person or, where that person is a body corporate, by any undertaking carried on by a subsidiary of that body corporate: s 10(1)(xviii). As to the passenger transport executive's borrowing powers see PARA 250 post.

32 Ibid s 10(1)(xix), which also provides that this power may be exercised jointly with any other person, and gives power to subscribe for or acquire by agreement any securities of any body corporate.

33 'Land' includes land covered by water and any interest or right in, over or under land: ibid s 159(1).

34 Ibid s 10(1)(xx)(a).

35 Ibid s 10(1)(xx)(b).

41 Ibid s 10(1)(xxiii) (amended by the Transport Act 1985 Sch 3 para 4). The passenger transport executive's powers of disposal of property relate to that which it no longer needs, in its opinion, for the purposes of its business: Transport Act 1968 s 10(1)(xxiii).

42 See ibid s 10(1)(xxiv). Persons employed by any subsidiary of the passenger transport executive are deemed to be employed by the passenger transport executive: s 10(2) (as amended: see note 11 supra).

43 Ibid s 10(1)(xxv). See also note 42 supra.

44 Ibid s 10(1)(xxvi). See also note 42 supra.

45 Ibid s 10(1)(xxvii).

46 Ibid s 10(1)(xxviii).

47 Ibid s 10(1)(xxix). The effect of this provision is to confer on the passenger transport executive also the power, with the consent of the passenger transport authority, to apply for or object to orders under the Transport and Works Act 1992 ss 1, 3: see s 20 (as amended); and RAILWAYS, INLAND WATERWAYS AND CROSS-COUNTRY PIPELINES vol 39(1A) (Reissue) PARA 302.

48 Transport Act 1968 s 10(1)(xxx). The passenger transport executive has power to enter into agreements with other persons for securing or preserving the pension rights of its employees or ex-employees: s 10(1)(xxx). See also note 42 supra.

49 Ibid s 10(1)(xxxi).

50 Ibid s 10(1)(xxxii).

51 Ibid s 10(3) (amended by the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 s 34(1), Sch 4 para 18; and the Transport Act 1985 Sch 3 para 2). The Acquisition of Land Act 1981 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 556 et seq) applies to the compulsory purchase: see the Transport Act 1968 s 10(3) (as so amended). The power of purchasing land compulsorily includes power to acquire an easement or other right in, over or under land by the creation of a new right; but this does not apply to an easement or other right in, over or under any land which would for the purposes of the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 form part of a common, open space or fuel or field garden allotment: Transport Act 1968 s 10(4) (amended by the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 Sch 4 para 18).

250. Financial provisions.

In respect of each accounting period, a passenger transport executive<sup>1</sup> must charge to its revenue account all charges proper to be made to that account, including proper provision for depreciation or renewal of assets<sup>2</sup>, and may make charges to capital account representing interest or expenditure of a capital nature<sup>3</sup>.

A passenger transport executive must so perform its functions as to ensure so far as practicable that the combined revenues of the passenger transport executive and any of its subsidiaries for any accounting period are not less than is sufficient to meet their combined charges properly chargeable to revenue account in that period<sup>4</sup>. If in any accounting period it is not practicable for a passenger transport executive to ensure that those combined revenues meet those combined charges, then in the next accounting period those combined charges must include an amount equal to the deficit from the previous accounting period<sup>5</sup>.

The passenger transport executive for any passenger transport area<sup>6</sup> may establish and maintain a general reserve, and the passenger transport authority may give the passenger transport executive directions as to any matter relating to the establishment or management of any general reserve and the carrying of sums to its credit, or the application of it<sup>7</sup>.

The passenger transport executive for any passenger transport area may borrow temporarily, by way of overdraft or otherwise, such sums as it needs to meet its obligations and discharge its functions<sup>8</sup>, but must ensure that the aggregate of sums outstanding on any temporary loans does not exceed the limit approved by the passenger transport authority<sup>9</sup>. With the approval of the passenger transport authority, the passenger transport executive may borrow, otherwise than by way of temporary loan, from any person and in any manner for specified purposes<sup>10</sup>. The passenger transport authority for the passenger transport executive's area may lend money to the passenger transport executive<sup>11</sup>. The passenger transport authority has power to make grants to the passenger transport executive for any purpose<sup>12</sup>. Proper accounts and other records must be kept by passenger transport executives<sup>13</sup>.

1 As to passenger transport executives see PARA 247 ante.

2 Transport Act 1968 s 11(2). This duty extends to securing that any subsidiary of the passenger transport executive complies with this provision: see s 11(2).

3 Ibid s 11(3). Such charges may be made for any period which ends with or before the end of the accounting period in which the project or scheme to which the expenditure relates is completed: s 11(3).

4 Transport Act 1983 ss 1, 2(1) (s 1 amended by the Transport Act 1985 s 57(6), Sch 3 para 30). Any deficit or potential deficit is to be disregarded to the extent to which it is covered by an appropriation from reserves proposed by the passenger transport executive and approved by the passenger transport authority: see the Transport Act 1983 s 2(3) (amended by the Transport Act 2000 s 274, Sch 31 Pt II). A passenger transport authority must have regard to this duty of the passenger transport executive in performing the passenger transport authority's functions under the Transport Act 1983 Pt I (ss 1-9) (as amended) (see PARA 251 post) and the Transport Act 1968 Pt II (ss 9-23A) (as amended): Transport Act 1983 s 2(4) (amended by the London Regional Transport Act 1984 s 71(3), Sch 6 para 29, Sch 7; and the Transport Act 2000 Sch 31 Pt II). As to passenger transport authorities see PARA 247 ante. When approving or consenting to a level of charges under the Transport Act 1968 s 15(2)(a) (as amended) (see PARA 251 post), the passenger transport authority must have regard in particular to the extent to which its decision will affect the amount of revenue grants that will be needed to enable the passenger transport executive to comply with its duty under the Transport Act 1983 s 2 (as amended), and to the need to achieve a proper balance between the interests of the ratepayers in its area and the interests of transport users: s 6(7) (amended by the London Regional Transport Act 1984 Sch 7).

6 As to passenger transport areas see PARA 247 ante.

7 Transport Act 1968 s 11(3A) (added by the Local Government Act 1972 s 202(2), Sch 24 para 2). This is expressed to be without prejudice to any power of the passenger transport executive to establish specific reserves. The money held in a general reserve may not be applied otherwise than for the purposes of the passenger transport executive or one of its subsidiaries: Transport Act 1968 s 11(3A) (as so added).

8 I.e. under ibid Pt II (as amended). As to the general functions of the passenger transport executive see PARA 248 ante.

9 Ibid s 12(1), (2) (s 12(1) amended by the Transport Act 1985 Sch 3 para 2). All money borrowed by the passenger transport executive must be charged indifferently on all its revenues, and all securities created by it rank equally without priority except in the case of money borrowed by temporary loan without security or where a right of priority is conferred by a security for a liability incurred in pursuance of the Transport Act 1968: s 12(5). A passenger transport executive is deemed to be a local authority for the purposes of the enactments relating to loans by or borrowing from the Public Works Loan Commissioners (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 49 (2008) PARAS 1384-1388): s 12(7)(a).

10 Ibid s 12(3). The specified purposes are:

- 13 (1) for meeting capital expenses incurred in connection with the provision or improvement of assets in connection with its business (s 12(3)(a));
- 14 (2) for the provision of working capital (s 12(3)(b));
- 15 (3) for acquiring all or part of an undertaking (s 12(3)(c));
- 16 (4) for making any payment by way of compensation it is required to make by or under the Transport Act 1968 Pt II (as amended) (s 12(3)(d) (amended by the Transport Act 1985 s 139(3), Sch 8));
- 17 (5) for subscribing for or acquiring securities of a body corporate otherwise than by way of investment (Transport Act 1968 s 12(3)(e));
- 18 (6) for the payment of interest charged to capital account under s 11(3) (see the text and note 3 supra) (s 12(3)(f));
- 19 (7) to pay off any debt incurred by the passenger transport executive, or any liability assumed by or transferred to the passenger transport executive under Pt II (as amended) (s 12(3)(g));
- 20 (8) for making any loan or fulfilling any guarantee under s 10(1)(xviii) (see PARA 249 head (20) ante) (s 12(3)(h)); and
- 21 (9) for any purpose for which capital money is properly applicable, whether or not specified in heads (1)-(8) supra (s 12(3)(j)).

The passenger transport executive must control any subsidiary so as to ensure that it does not borrow from any person (otherwise than by way of temporary loan) without the approval of the passenger transport authority or for any purpose other than those specified in heads (1)-(5), (9) supra or for paying off its debts: s 12(3).

11 Ibid s 12(4) (amended by the Transport Act 1985 Sch 3 para 6; and the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 s 194(1), Sch 11 para 16). The rate of interest payable by the passenger transport executive to the passenger transport authority in respect of the loan must be not less than that which would be payable by the passenger transport authority if it were to borrow the same sum on equivalent terms (disregarding any terms as to interest) from another person: Transport Act 1968 s 12(4) (as so amended).

12 Ibid s 13 (substituted by the Transport Act 1985 Sch 3 para 7).

13 Transport Act 1968 s 14(1)(a) (amended by the Transport Act 1985 Sch 3 para 2). As soon as the accounts of the passenger transport executive for any accounting period have been audited in accordance with the Audit Commission Act 1998 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 29(1) (Reissue) PARA 628; LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 744 et seq) it must send a copy of any statement of accounts prepared by it for that period pursuant to regulations under the Audit Commission Act 1998 s 27 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 29(1) (Reissue) PARA 628) to the Secretary of State, to the passenger transport authority and to each of the councils of the districts comprised in the county which is coterminous with or includes the passenger transport executive's area, together with a copy of the auditor's opinion on that statement: Transport Act 1968 s 14(3) (substituted by the Audit Commission Act 1998 s 54(1), Sch 3 para 2).

LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(3) PASSENGER SERVICES/(ii) Passenger Services outside London/251. Supervisory functions of passenger transport authorities.

251. Supervisory functions of passenger transport authorities.

The passenger transport executive<sup>1</sup> for a passenger transport area<sup>2</sup> must submit to the passenger transport authority<sup>3</sup> and obtain its approval<sup>4</sup> of:

- 61 (1) such annual or other estimates of income or expenditure of the passenger transport executive or its subsidiaries as the passenger transport authority may require to be submitted, and any major change proposed to be made in such estimates after their approval by the passenger transport authority<sup>5</sup>;
- 62 (2) any proposed substantial outlay by the passenger transport executive or its subsidiaries, or by any other person in pursuance of arrangements with the passenger transport executive, on capital account<sup>6</sup>; and
- 63 (3) any agreement proposed to be entered into by the passenger transport executive<sup>7</sup>.

The passenger transport executive must obtain the passenger transport authority's approval: (a) before making, or authorising or consenting to the making of, any alteration in the general level of charges for transport services or facilities provided by the passenger transport executive or a subsidiary<sup>8</sup>; and (b) subject to the statutory provisions relating to travel concessions on services provided by passenger transport executives<sup>9</sup>, for any proposal of the passenger transport executive for reducing or waiving those charges in a particular case or cases of a particular class<sup>10</sup>.

The passenger transport executive must provide the passenger transport authority at such time or intervals and in such form and manner as the passenger transport authority may require with information as to operations, capital expenditure and revenue expenditure which are planned or under consideration by the passenger transport executive, and must give the authority such returns, accounts and other information with respect to the property and activities of the passenger transport executive or any subsidiary as the passenger transport authority may require<sup>11</sup>. The passenger transport authority may from time to time cause a review of the organisation of the passenger transport executive's undertaking, and give, as a result of the review, such directions as appear to be requisite to the passenger transport authority to secure the most efficient operation of the passenger transport executive's undertaking, and the passenger transport executive may not make or permit any substantial change in its manner of organisation except under such a direction of, or with the approval of, the passenger transport authority<sup>12</sup>.

3 As to passenger transport authorities see PARA 247 ante.

4 Transport Act 1968 s 15(1) (amended by the Transport Act 1985 Sch 3 para 2). Any approval or direction given by the passenger transport authority under the Transport Act 1968 Pt II (ss 9-23A) (as amended) must be in writing: s 15(7). Notwithstanding anything in Pt II (as amended), nothing done by the passenger transport executive for a passenger transport area is to be held to be unlawful on the ground that the approval of the passenger transport authority for that area to the doing of that thing was required by or under Pt II (as amended) and that it was done without obtaining that approval; but if it appears to the passenger transport authority that the passenger transport executive proposes to do anything, or have done anything, without the approval of the passenger transport authority which in the opinion of the passenger transport authority requires that approval, the passenger transport authority may, after consultation with the passenger transport executive, give to the passenger transport executive such directions as appear to the passenger transport authority to be appropriate to secure so far as practicable the observance of the rights of the passenger transport authority in relation to the doing of that thing, and those directions may include directions to discontinue any specified activity or dispose of any specified assets; and the passenger transport executive must comply with any such directions notwithstanding that they may result in the passenger transport executive having to dispose of any assets at a loss or incurring liability to other persons: s 15(6) (amended by the Transport Act 1985 s 57(6), Sch 3 para 2).

5 Transport Act 1968 s 15(1)(b) (substituted by the Local Government Act 1972 s 202(2), Sch 24 para 5).

8 Transport Act 1968 s 15(2)(a) (amended by the Transport Act 1985 s 139(2), (3), Sch 8). Any expenditure incurred by the passenger transport authority in performing its functions under the Transport Act 1968 Pt II (as amended) must be defrayed by the passenger transport executive: s 15(5).

11 Transport Act 1968 s 15A(2) (s 15A added by the Local Government Act 1972 s 202(2), Sch 24 para 4).

12 Transport Act 1968 s 15A(3) (as added: see note 11 supra). A passenger transport authority must, whenever the Secretary of State so requires, cause a review to be made of the organisation of the passenger transport executive for the purpose of determining whether, in the interests of managing the activities of the passenger transport executive in the most efficient manner, any particular activities of the passenger transport executive should be managed as separate units with separate accounts: Transport Act 1983 s 7(1). The passenger transport authority must inform the passenger transport executive in writing of the results of any such review and of the passenger transport authority's conclusions arising from it; and the report under the Transport Act 1968 s 16 (as amended) (see PARA 252 post) for the accounting period of the passenger transport executive in which it is so informed must contain a statement showing the steps it has taken or proposes to take in the light of the passenger transport authority's conclusions: Transport Act 1983 s 7(2) (amended by the London Regional Transport Act 1984 s 71(3)(b), Sch 7). Nothing in the Transport Act 1983 s 7 (as amended) affects the power of a passenger transport authority to cause reviews to be made of the organisation of a passenger transport executive under the Transport Act 1968 s 15A(3) (as added): Transport Act 1983 s 7(3) (amended by the London Regional Transport Act 1984 Sch 7).

(4) CONSTITUTION AND JURISDICTION OF THE TRANSPORT TRIBUNAL

253. Constitution.

The Transport Tribunal<sup>1</sup> is a court of record<sup>2</sup> and has an official seal which is to be judicially noticed<sup>3</sup>. The tribunal consists of a president and two or more chairmen appointed by the Lord Chancellor (referred to as judicial members)<sup>4</sup>, and two or more other members appointed by the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>. The president of the tribunal must be a person who has a ten year general qualification within the meaning of the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990<sup>6</sup>, or an advocate or solicitor in Scotland of at least ten years' standing<sup>7</sup>. Each chairman must be a person who has a seven year general qualification<sup>8</sup>, or an advocate or solicitor in Scotland of at least seven years' standing<sup>9</sup>.

1 The number of members of the Transport Tribunal is no longer to be subject to any limit, and the tribunal is no longer to be required to sit in two divisions: Transport Act 1985 s 117(1). ### 253 Constitution

TEXT AND NOTES 6-9--1985 Act Sch 4 para 2(2)(a), (2A)(a) substituted, Sch 4 para 2(2)(b), (2A)(b) amended: Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007 Sch 10 para 17.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/ (4) CONSTITUTION AND JURISDICTION OF THE TRANSPORT TRIBUNAL/254. Tenure of office.

254. Tenure of office.

Each judicial member<sup>1</sup> of the Transport Tribunal holds office until the day on which he attains the age<sup>2</sup> of 70 and must then retire<sup>3</sup>. The Lord Chancellor may, if he thinks fit, remove a judicial member from office on the ground of incapacity or misbehaviour<sup>4</sup>, but only with the concurrence of the appropriate senior judge<sup>5</sup>. A judicial member may at any time by notice in writing to the Lord Chancellor resign his office<sup>5</sup>.

Subject to the above<sup>6</sup> and to the provisions relating to remuneration<sup>7</sup>, a judicial member must hold and vacate office in accordance with such terms and conditions as may be determined by the Lord Chancellor at the time of his appointment and will, on ceasing to hold office, be eligible for reappointment<sup>8</sup>. A member of the tribunal appointed by the Secretary of State must hold and vacate office in accordance with such terms and conditions (both as to his term of office and otherwise) as may be determined by the Secretary of State at the time of his appointment and will, on ceasing to hold office, be eligible for reappointment<sup>9</sup>. A person must not be appointed as a member of the tribunal by the Secretary of State for a term extending beyond the end of the completed year of service in which he reaches 70<sup>10</sup>. Where the Secretary of State considers it desirable in the public interest that a person should be appointed for a term exceeding that allowed<sup>11</sup>, that person may be appointed for such term, not extending beyond the date on which he reaches 75, as the Secretary of State thinks fit<sup>12</sup>. A member appointed by the Secretary of State may at any time by notice in writing to the Secretary of State resign his office<sup>13</sup>.

255. Remuneration and expenses of staff.

The Lord Chancellor may make available to the Transport Tribunal such staff as he considers necessary for assisting the tribunal in the proper execution of its duties<sup>1</sup>. There must be paid to the members of the tribunal such remuneration as the Lord Chancellor may with the consent of the Treasury determine<sup>2</sup>. Any remuneration so payable and any other expenses of the tribunal must be met by the Lord Chancellor<sup>3</sup>.

256. Powers and proceedings.

The Transport Tribunal has for the purpose of the exercise of any of its functions<sup>1</sup> full jurisdiction to hear and determine all matters whether of law or of fact<sup>2</sup>. As respects the attendance and examination of witnesses, the production and inspection of documents, the enforcement of its orders, the entry on and inspection of property, and other matters necessary or proper for the due exercise of its jurisdiction the tribunal has all such powers, rights and privileges as are vested in the High Court<sup>3</sup>. Execution may be had of any order of the tribunal as if it were an order of the High Court<sup>4</sup>.

The president or, in his absence, such one of the other judicial members<sup>11</sup> as the president or (if the president is unable for any reason to exercise the power conferred on him<sup>12</sup>) the Lord Chief Justice may direct, must preside at any sitting of the tribunal<sup>13</sup>, and is referred to as the presiding member<sup>14</sup>. If at any sitting of the tribunal the members sitting are evenly divided as to any decision, the presiding member has a second or casting vote, but otherwise decisions of the tribunal are by a majority of the members sitting<sup>15</sup>.

Subject to the provisions regarding the presiding member<sup>16</sup>, the Lord Chancellor may from time to time make general rules governing the procedure and practice of the tribunal and generally for carrying into effect the tribunal's duties and powers<sup>17</sup>. Such rules may provide for:

- 64 (1) the awarding of costs by the tribunal<sup>18</sup>;
- 65 (2) the reference of any question to a member of the tribunal, or to any other person appointed by it, for report after holding a local inquiry<sup>19</sup>;
- 66 (3) the review by the tribunal of decisions previously given by it<sup>20</sup>;
- 67 (4) the number of members of the tribunal to constitute a quorum<sup>21</sup>;
- 68 (5) enabling the tribunal to dispose of any proceedings notwithstanding that in the course of those proceedings there has been a change in the persons sitting as members of the tribunal<sup>22</sup>; and
- 69 (6) the right of audience before the tribunal<sup>23</sup>.

Such rules may also, subject to the consent of the Treasury, prescribe the scale of fees for and in connection with proceedings before the tribunal<sup>24</sup>.

The Secretary of State<sup>25</sup> must give to the tribunal such assistance it may reasonably require<sup>26</sup>. The Secretary of State must place at the disposal of the tribunal any information in his possession which he considers will be of assistance to the tribunal in connection with any matter before it, and is entitled to appear and be heard in any proceedings before the tribunal<sup>27</sup>.

The tribunal may sit in any part of Great Britain in such place or places as may be convenient for the determination of the proceedings before it<sup>28</sup>.

2 Transport Act 1985 s 117(2), Sch 4 para 8(1), which is expressed to be subject to Sch 4 para 9(2) (see the text and note 10 infra). Although it is desirable that a series of reasoned judgments disclosing the principles on which the tribunal proceeds should be built up, the tribunal has a duty to decide each case as a matter of discretion, and should therefore not regard itself as bound by its own previous decisions nor make rules so as to prevent itself or the licensing authority from examining each case on its merits. The tribunal may substitute its own decision for that of the licensing authority, but when it sits as an appellate tribunal without witnesses, it is not free to substitute its own findings of fact without good cause, and if it does so it commits an error of law: Merchandise Transport Ltd v British Transport Commission [1962] 2 QB 173, [1961] 3 All ER 495, CA.

257. Appeals.

An appeal lies, in accordance with rules made by the Lord Chancellor, from the Transport Tribunal to the Court of Appeal<sup>1</sup>. No appeal lies from the tribunal upon a question of fact or locus standi<sup>2</sup>. An appeal must not be brought except in conformity with such rules of court as may from time to time be made in relation to such appeals by the authority having power to make rules of court for the Court of Appeal<sup>3</sup>. On the hearing of an appeal the Court of Appeal may draw all such inferences as are not inconsistent with the facts expressly found and are necessary for determining the question of law, and may make any order which the tribunal could have made, and also any such further or other order as may be just<sup>4</sup>. The costs of and incidental to an appeal are at the discretion of the court, but neither the tribunal nor any member of the tribunal is liable to any costs by reason or in respect of any appeal<sup>5</sup>. The decision of the Court of Appeal is final<sup>6</sup>. However, where there has been a difference of opinion between the Court of Appeal and the Court of Session in Scotland, either of those courts in which a matter affected by such a difference of opinion is pending may give leave to appeal to the House of Lords on such terms as to costs as that court must determine<sup>7</sup>.

(5) DISABLED PERSONS TRANSPORT ADVISORY COMMITTEE

259. The Disabled Persons Transport Advisory Committee and Secretary of State's guidance.

The Disabled<sup>1</sup> Persons Transport Advisory Committee was established under the Transport Act 1985<sup>2</sup>. The Committee consists of a chairman appointed by the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup>, and not less than 10, nor more than 20, other members appointed by the Secretary of State after consultation with such bodies as appear to him to be representative of the interests of persons likely to be significantly concerned with matters within the competence of the Committee<sup>4</sup>. The Secretary of State may appoint one or more members of the Committee to be deputy chairman or, as the case may be, deputy chairmen of the Committee<sup>5</sup>. The Secretary of State must, so far as is reasonably practicable, secure that at all times at least half of the membership of the Committee consists of persons who are disabled<sup>6</sup>.

It is the duty of the Committee to consider any matter, relating to the needs of disabled persons in connection with public passenger transport, which is referred to it by the Secretary of State or which it thinks it appropriate to consider without such a reference, and to give such advice to the Secretary of State on any matter which it has considered as it thinks appropriate<sup>7</sup>. The Committee must make an annual report to the Secretary of State, who must lay a copy of it before each House of Parliament<sup>8</sup>. The Secretary of State must from time to time issue guidance as to measures that may be taken with a view to: (1) making access to vehicles used in the provision of public passenger transport services<sup>9</sup> by road<sup>10</sup> easier for disabled persons<sup>11</sup>; and (2) making such vehicles better adapted to the needs of disabled persons<sup>12</sup>. The Secretary of State must consult the Committee before issuing any such guidance<sup>13</sup>.

The Secretary of State must make arrangements for the Committee to be provided with such administrative support and office accommodation as he considers appropriate<sup>14</sup>. He must also provide the Committee with funds with which to pay to its members such travelling and other allowances, and to defray such other expenses in connection with its functions<sup>15</sup>, as he may determine<sup>16</sup>.

Any person appointed to be a member of the Committee holds and vacates office in accordance with the terms of his appointment and, on ceasing to be a member of the Committee, is eligible for reappointment<sup>17</sup>. Any person so appointed may at any time resign his office by written notice given to the Secretary of State<sup>18</sup>.

The Committee must meet whenever convened by the chairman and at least four times a year<sup>19</sup>. Without prejudice to the discretion of the chairman to call a meeting whenever he thinks fit, he must call one when required to do so by any five members of the Committee<sup>20</sup>. Minutes must be kept of the proceedings of every meeting of the Committee<sup>21</sup>. The Committee may determine its own procedure, including the quorum at its meetings<sup>22</sup>; and it may delegate the exercise and performance of any of its functions to such of its sub-committees as it thinks fit<sup>23</sup>.

The validity of any proceedings of the Committee are not affected by any vacancy amongst the members, by any defect in the appointment of a member or by any failure to comply with the requirement of at least half of the membership of the committee consisting of disabled persons<sup>24</sup>.

259 The Disabled Persons Transport Advisory Committee and Secretary of State's guidance

TEXT AND NOTES 15, 16--Transport Act 1985 Sch 5 para 2 amended: Local Transport Act 2008 s 72(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/1. LEGISLATION AND ADMINISTRATION/(5) DISABLED PERSONS TRANSPORT ADVISORY COMMITTEE/259A. Public Transport Users' Committee for England.

259A. Public Transport Users' Committee for England.

The following provisions are not yet in force.

1. Constitution

The Secretary of State may by order establish a body corporate, to be known as the Public Transport Users' Committee for England ('the Committee'): Transport Act 1985 s 125A(1) (added by the Local Transport Act 2008 s 73(1)). The Secretary of State may by order provide for a body established under s 125A(1) to be known by a different name, and may make such provision, including provision amending, repealing or revoking any provision of the 1985 Act or any other enactment, as appears to the Secretary of State to be necessary in consequence of the order: Transport Act 1985 s 125A(2), (6). An order under s 125A(1) may include provision (1) about the status and membership of the Committee; (2) about the proceedings of the Committee; (3) about the declaration by members of any financial or other interests, and the recording of such interests; (4) about officers and staff of the Committee; (5) about the discharge of the functions of the Committee; (6) about the making of reports by the Committee to the Secretary of State or such other persons as the Secretary of State may determine; (7) about the making of payments to or in respect of officers, staff and members of the Committee; (8) about the payment of pensions and the making of other payments to or in respect of former officers and staff of the Committee; (9) about the keeping of accounts by the Committee and their audit and submission to the Secretary of State; (10) about the acquisition and disposal by the Committee of property, rights and liabilities; (11) authorising the Committee to charge for any services it provides in the discharge of any of its functions; (12) requiring the Committee to have regard to the policies and activities of such other persons or bodies as the Secretary of State may determine; and (13) for the transfer of staff, property, rights and liabilities to the Committee: s 125A(3). The Secretary of State may make payments to the Committee of such amounts, at such times, and on such conditions, if any, as the Secretary of State considers appropriate: s 125A(4). The Secretary of State may by order make provision for the transfer of staff, property, rights and liabilities from the Committee to any other person: s 125A(5).

2. Functions of the Committee

The Committee may consider and make recommendations or representations to the Secretary of State about any matter relating to (1) prescribed public passenger transport services, or public passenger transport services that are of a prescribed description, to the extent that they operate in England, or (2) prescribed public passenger transport facilities in England, or public passenger transport facilities in England that are of a prescribed description: Transport Act 1985 s 125B(1) (ss 125B, 125C added by the Local Transport Act 2008 s 73(1)). The Committee must consider and make recommendations to the Secretary of State about any such matter if asked to do so by the Secretary of State: Transport Act 1985 s 125B(2). The Secretary of State may by order (a) confer further functions on the Committee; (b) remove functions from the Committee; (c) make changes to any functions of the Committee; and (d) transfer any functions of the Committee to another person: s 125B(3). An order under s 125B(3) may confer a function on the Committee, or make changes to a function of the Committee, only if the new function, or the function as changed, relates to public passenger transport services, so far as operating in England, or public passenger transport facilities in England: s 125B(4). The functions that may be conferred on the Committee under head (a) above include a power (i) to enter into arrangements with another body for discharging functions on behalf of that body in relation to England; (ii) to give effect to any such arrangements; and (iii) to enter into arrangements with another body for that body to discharge any functions of the Committee on behalf of the Committee: s 125B(5). Where an order under s 125B(3) confers on the Committee power to make recommendations or representations to a body or person, the Secretary of State may by order confer on the body or person functions in respect of such recommendations and representations, but only if the new function relates to public passenger transport services, so far as operating in England, or public passenger transport facilities in England: Transport Act 1985 s 125C(1)-(3). The discharge of a function by the Committee on behalf of another body does not affect the responsibility of the body for the discharge of the function, and the discharge of a function by another body on behalf of the Committee does not affect the responsibility of the Committee for the discharge of the function: s 125B(6), (7).

2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES

(1) IN GENERAL

260. Power to make regulations.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make regulations generally as to the use of motor vehicles<sup>2</sup> and trailers<sup>3</sup> on roads, their construction and equipment<sup>4</sup> and the conditions under which they may be so used<sup>5</sup>. In particular, the regulations may make provision with respect to any of the following matters:

- 70 (1) the width, height and length of motor vehicles and trailers and the load carried by them, the diameter of wheels, and the width, nature and condition of tyres, of motor vehicles and trailers<sup>6</sup>;
- 71 (2) the emission or consumption of smoke, fumes or vapour and the emission of sparks, ashes and grit<sup>7</sup>;
- 72 (3) noise<sup>8</sup>;
- 73 (4) the maximum weight unladen<sup>9</sup> of heavy locomotives<sup>10</sup> and heavy motor cars<sup>11</sup>, and the maximum weight laden<sup>12</sup> of motor vehicles and trailers, and the maximum weight to be transmitted to the road<sup>13</sup> or any specified area of the road by a motor vehicle or trailer of any class<sup>14</sup> or by any part or parts of such a vehicle or trailer in contact with the road, and the conditions under which the weights may be required to be tested<sup>15</sup>;
- 74 (5) the particulars to be marked on motor vehicles and trailers, by means of the fixing of plates or otherwise, and the circumstances in which they are to be marked<sup>16</sup>;
- 75 (6) the towing of or drawing of vehicles by motor vehicles<sup>17</sup>;
- 76 (7) the number and nature of brakes, and securing that brakes, silencers and steering gear are efficient and kept in proper working order<sup>18</sup>;
- 77 (8) lighting equipment and reflectors<sup>19</sup>;
- 78 (9) the testing and inspection, by persons authorised by or under the regulations, of the brakes, silencers, steering gear, tyres, lighting equipment and reflectors of motor vehicles and trailers on any premises where they are, if the owner of the premises consents<sup>20</sup>;

- 79 (10) speed limiters<sup>21</sup>;
 80 (11) the appliances to be fitted for:
1. (a) signalling the approach of a motor vehicle<sup>22</sup>; or
  2. (b) enabling the driver<sup>23</sup> of a motor vehicle to become aware of the approach of another vehicle from the rear<sup>24</sup>; or
  3. (c) intimating any intended change of speed or direction of a motor vehicle<sup>25</sup>,
- 81 and the use of any such appliance, and for securing that any such appliance is efficient and kept in proper working order<sup>26</sup>; and
- 82 (12) for prohibiting the use of appliances fitted to motor vehicles for signalling their approach, being appliances for signalling by sound, at any times, or on or in any roads or localities, specified in the regulations<sup>27</sup>.

The Secretary of State may, as respects goods vehicles<sup>28</sup>, make regulations prescribing other descriptions of weight which are not to be exceeded in the case of such vehicles<sup>29</sup> and providing that weights of any description or other particulars which are to be marked on particular goods vehicles may be determined in accordance with regulations relating to the determination of weights<sup>30</sup>.

Regulations under these provisions with respect to lighting equipment and reflectors: (i) may require that lamps be kept lit at such times and in such circumstances as may be specified in the regulations<sup>31</sup>; and (ii) may extend, in like manner as to motor vehicles and trailers, to vehicles of any description used on roads, whether or not they are mechanically propelled<sup>32</sup>.

Regulations under these provisions with respect to speed limiters may include provision: (A) as to the checking and sealing of speed limiters by persons authorised in accordance with the regulations and the making of charges by them<sup>33</sup>; (B) imposing or providing for the imposition of conditions to be complied with by authorised persons<sup>34</sup>; and (C) as to the withdrawal of authorisations<sup>35</sup>.

Different regulations may be made under these provisions as respects different classes of vehicles or as respects the same class of vehicles in different circumstances and as respects different times of the day or night and as respects roads in different localities<sup>36</sup>.

In framing regulations under these provisions prescribing a weight of any description which is not to be exceeded in the case of goods vehicles of a class for which a certificate of conformity<sup>37</sup> or Minister's approval certificate<sup>38</sup> may be issued<sup>39</sup>, the Secretary of State must have regard to the design weight of the like description determined for vehicles of that class<sup>40</sup> and must secure that the first-mentioned weight does not exceed the design weight<sup>41</sup>.

261. Breach of requirement as to brakes, steering-gear or tyres.

A person who:

- 83 (1) contravenes or fails to comply with a construction and use requirement<sup>1</sup> as to brakes, steering-gear or tyres<sup>2</sup>; or
- 84 (2) uses on a road<sup>3</sup> a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> or trailer<sup>5</sup> which does not comply with such a requirement, or causes or permits<sup>6</sup> a motor vehicle or trailer to be so used<sup>7</sup>,

is guilty of an offence<sup>8</sup>.

1 'Construction and use requirements' means requirements, whether applicable generally or at specified times or in specified circumstances, imposed under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 41 (as amended) (see PARA 260 ante); s 41(7). As to the construction of vehicles see PARA 267 et seq post; and as to the use of vehicles see PARA 583 et seq post.

3 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

6 To 'cause' a user involves some express or positive mandate from the person causing to the other person, or some authority from the former to the latter, arising in the circumstances of the case; to 'permit' is a looser and vaguer term which may denote permission which is merely inferred or an express permission, general or particular, as distinguished from a mandate: McLeod (or Houston) v Buchanan [1940] 2 All ER 179 at 187, HL, per Lord Wright; followed in Shave v Rosner [1954] 2 QB 113, [1954] 2 All ER 280, DC (where it was held that to cause involves some degree of dominance or control over the person who uses the vehicle). To establish a charge of permitting the use of a vehicle in contravention of regulations it must be proved that the defendant or some person for whose acts he is responsible had knowledge of the facts constituting the contravention: James & Son Ltd v Smeed [1955] 1 QB 78, [1954] 3 All ER 273, DC (applied in Ross Hillman Ltd v Bond [1974] QB 435, [1974] 2 All ER 287, DC); Hutchings v Giles [1955] Crim LR 784, DC. See also Forsyth v Phillips (1963) 108 Sol Jo 36, DC (employers shut their eyes to the obvious); John Henshall (Quarries) Ltd v Harvey [1965] 2 QB 233, [1965] 1 All ER 725, DC (company was not guilty of aiding and abetting an illegal action done by a minor employee); Grays Haulage Co Ltd v Arnold [1966] 1 All ER 896, [1966] 1 WLR 534, DC (knowledge was the essence of permitting, there being no actual knowledge and no evidence that the appellants knew of circumstances which would have fixed them with suspicion); Dixon Bool Transport Ltd v Forsyth [1967] Crim LR 52, DC. Lack of such knowledge is, however, in general no defence to a charge against an employer of using or causing the use of the vehicle in contravention of an absolute prohibition: Green v Burnett [1955] 1 QB 78 at 86, [1954] 3 All ER 273 at 275, DC; Hunter v Clark 1956 JC 59. Cf Rushton v Martin [1952] WN 258, DC, where the person charged was the employer's group manager. A person cannot permit if he is not in a position to forbid: Goodbarne v Buck [1940] 1 KB 771, [1940] 1 All ER 613, CA; Lloyd v Singleton [1953] 1 QB 357, [1953] 1 All ER 291, DC. A driver has been held to be using a vehicle even though he was driving under the instructions of another person (Gifford v Whittaker [1942] 1 KB 501, [1942] 1 All ER 604, DC); but see Hamilton v Blair and Meechan 1962 SLT 69, where the owner hiring out the vehicle was held to be the user whilst the hirer had it (distinguished in Mickleborough v BRS (Contracts) Ltd [1977] RTR 389, DC). Where a garage proprietor had redelivered a vehicle to the owner after repair, he ceased to have any control over it, and consequently did not cause it to be used subsequently by the owner while it was defective: Shave v Rosner supra. In the case of a limited company, unlawful use is caused where someone exercising a directing mind over the company's affairs has knowledge of the facts rendering the user unlawful: Ross Hillman Ltd v Bond supra. A corporation may, through its agent, be guilty of aiding and abetting a breach of regulations: Provincial Motor Cab Co Ltd v Dunning [1909] 2 KB 599, DC. Where an offence is of using or causing or permitting a use, a restricted meaning is given to 'using': see Windle v Dunning & Son Ltd [1968] 2 All ER 46, [1968] 1 WLR 552, DC (following McLeod v Penman 1962 JC 31 at 46, where Lord Clyde said that normally 'using' is applicable to the actual driver); Carmichael & Sons (Worcester) Ltd v Cottle [1971] RTR 11, DC (car-hire firm was held not to be using a car which was being driven by a hirer); Garrett v Hooper [1973] RTR 1, DC (a partner was held not to be using a car owned by the partnership and being driven by his co-partner on partnership business); Crawford v Haughton [1972] 1 All ER 535, [1972] 1 WLR 572, DC (an owner was held not to be using a vehicle being driven at his specific request and with his full knowledge by a person who was not his employee). 7 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 41A(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

8 Ibid s 41A (as added: see note 2 supra). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale if committed in respect of a goods vehicle or a vehicle adapted to carry more than eight passengers or to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale in any other case; disqualification is discretionary; endorsement is obligatory; and 3 penalty points may be attributed: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 9, s 28 (as substituted) (see PARA 1049 post), s 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry added by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 26, Sch 2). An offence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 41A (as added) of breaching a requirement as to brakes, steering-gear or tyres is a fixed penalty offence: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 51, Sch 3 (entry added by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 48, Sch 4 para 112(2)). CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(1) IN GENERAL/262. Breach of requirement as to weight applicable to goods and passenger vehicles.

262. Breach of requirement as to weight applicable to goods and passenger vehicles.

A person who:

- 85 (1) contravenes or fails to comply with a construction and use requirement<sup>1</sup> as to any description of weight applicable to a goods vehicle<sup>2</sup> or a motor vehicle<sup>3</sup> or trailer<sup>4</sup> adapted to carry more than eight passengers<sup>5</sup>; or
- 86 (2) uses on a road<sup>6</sup> a vehicle which does not comply with such a requirement, or causes or permits<sup>7</sup> a vehicle to be so used<sup>8</sup>,

is guilty of an offence<sup>9</sup>.

In any proceedings for such an offence in which there is alleged a contravention of or failure to comply with a construction and use requirement as to any description of weight applicable to a goods vehicle, it is a defence to prove either<sup>10</sup>:

- 87 (a) that, at the time when the vehicle was being used on the road, it was proceeding to a weighbridge which was the nearest available one to the place where the loading of the vehicle was completed for the purpose of being weighed<sup>11</sup>, or it was proceeding from a weighbridge after being weighed to the nearest point at which it was reasonably practicable to reduce the weight to the relevant limit, without causing an obstruction on any road<sup>12</sup>; or
- 88 (b) in a case where the limit of that weight was not exceeded by more than 5 per cent, that that limit was not exceeded at the time when the loading of the vehicle was originally completed<sup>13</sup> and that since that time no person has made any addition to the load<sup>14</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(1) IN GENERAL/266. Temporary exemption from application of regulations as to construction, weight, equipment and use of vehicles.

266. Temporary exemption from application of regulations as to construction, weight, equipment and use of vehicles.

Where any regulations as to construction, weight, equipment and use of vehicles<sup>1</sup> (except regulations made with respect to any description of weight of goods vehicles<sup>2</sup>, other than their maximum unladen weight<sup>3</sup>, or regulations made in respect of descriptions of weights of goods vehicles<sup>4</sup>) contain provisions varying the requirements as regards the construction or weight of any class<sup>5</sup> of vehicles, provision must be made by the regulations for exempting from those provisions for such period, not being less than five years, as may be specified in the regulations any vehicle of that class registered under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994<sup>6</sup> before the expiration of one year from the making of the regulations<sup>7</sup>.

No such provision contained in regulations as to construction, weight, equipment and use of vehicles as imposes or varies requirements with respect to the braking systems with which motor vehicles<sup>8</sup> must be equipped is to be taken, for the above purposes or for the purposes of any other provision of the regulations, to be one relating to the construction of vehicles<sup>9</sup>.

Where regulations as to construction, weight, equipment and use of vehicles contain provisions varying the requirements as regards the construction or weight of any class of vehicle, and the Secretary of State<sup>10</sup> is satisfied:

- 95 (1) that it is requisite that those provisions are to apply at a date specified in the regulations to vehicles registered before the expiration of one year from the making of the regulations, or to such of them as are specified in the regulations<sup>11</sup>; and
- 96 (2) that no undue hardship or inconvenience will be caused by their application then to those vehicles<sup>12</sup>, then, if the regulations state that the Secretary of State is so satisfied, the temporary exemption<sup>13</sup> does not apply in relation to those provisions<sup>14</sup>.

(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES

(i) In general

267. Application of statutory provisions.

Save where the context otherwise requires, the statutory provisions relating to construction and use<sup>1</sup> apply to both wheeled<sup>2</sup> vehicles and track-laying<sup>3</sup> vehicles<sup>4</sup>.

Where a provision is applied by those statutory provisions to a motor vehicle first used<sup>5</sup> on or after a specified date, it does not apply to that vehicle if it was manufactured at least six months before that date<sup>6</sup>.

Where an exemption<sup>7</sup> from, or relaxation of, a provision is applied by those statutory provisions to a motor vehicle first used before a specified date, it also applies to a motor vehicle first used on or after that date if it was manufactured at least six months before that date<sup>8</sup>.

The statutory provisions relating to construction and use apply with modifications to vehicles in respect of which an approval certificate has been issued<sup>9</sup>.

1    Ie the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078 (as amended).

2    'Wheeled', in relation to a vehicle, means so constructed that the whole weight of the vehicle is transmitted to the road surface by means of wheels: ibid reg 3(2), Table. 'Wheel' means a wheel the tyre or rim of which when the vehicle is in motion on a road is in contact with the ground; and any two wheels of a motor vehicle or trailer are to be regarded, other than for the purposes of reg 26 (as amended) (see PARA 297 post) and reg 27 (as amended) (see PARA 298 post), as one wheel if the distance between the centres of the areas of contact between such wheels and the road surface is less than 460 mm: reg 3(2), Table, (7). For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante. For the meanings of 'motor vehicle' and 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

3    'Track-laying', in relation to a vehicle, means so designed and constructed that the weight of the vehicle is transmitted to the road surface either by means of continuous tracks or by a combination of wheels and continuous tracks in such circumstances that the weight transmitted to the road surface by the tracks is not less than half the weight of the vehicle: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

4    Ibid reg 4(1). The Secretary of State is satisfied that it is requisite that the provisions of reg 40(2) (see PARA 316 post) should apply as from 11 August 1986 to track-laying vehicles registered before the expiration of one year from 25 June 1986; and that, notwithstanding that those provisions will then apply to these vehicles, no undue hardship or inconvenience will be caused as a result: regs 1, 4(6). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

5    For these purposes, the date on which a motor vehicle is first used is: (1) in the case of a vehicle not falling within head (2) infra, and which is registered, the date on which it was registered; (2) in each of the following cases, the date of manufacture of the vehicle: (a) a vehicle which is being or has been used under a trade licence as defined in the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 11 (as amended) (see PARA 521 note 3 post) (otherwise than for the purposes of demonstration or testing or of being delivered from premises of the manufacturer by whom it was made or of a distributor of vehicles, or dealer in vehicles, to premises of a distributor of vehicles, dealer in vehicles or purchaser of vehicles or to premises of a person obtaining possession of vehicles under a hiring agreement or hire purchase agreement); (b) a vehicle belonging, or which has belonged, to the Crown and which is or was used or appropriated for use for naval, military or air force purposes; (c) a vehicle belonging, or which has belonged, to a visiting force or a headquarters or defence organisation to which in each case the Visiting Forces and International Headquarters (Application of Law) Order 1999, SI 1999/1736 (see PARA 1641 post) applies; (d) a vehicle which has been used on roads outside Great Britain before being imported into Great Britain; and (e) a vehicle which has been used otherwise than on roads after being sold or supplied by retail and before being registered: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table, (2A), (3) (reg 3(2A) added by SI 1993/2199). In head (2)(e) supra 'sold or supplied by retail' means sold or supplied otherwise than to a person acquiring it solely for the purpose of re-sale or re-supply for a valuable consideration: reg 3(3). For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 205 note 3 ante.

7 As to exemptions see PARA 268 post.

8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 4(3).

9 See ibid reg 3A, Sch 2A (both added by SI 1996/3017; and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 2A amended by SI 2000/3197). As to approval certificates see PARA 700 post.

267 Application of statutory provisions

NOTE 9--SI 1986/1078 Sch 2A further amended: SI 20092196.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(i) In general/268. Exemptions.

268. Exemptions.

Certain of the statutory provisions relating to construction and use<sup>1</sup> do not apply in respect of a vehicle of a class specified in heads (1) to (11) below<sup>2</sup>:

- 97 (1) a vehicle proceeding to a port for export<sup>3</sup>;
- 98 (2) a vehicle brought temporarily into Great Britain<sup>4</sup> by a person resident abroad, provided that the vehicle complies in every respect with the prescribed requirements<sup>5</sup> relating to motor vehicles<sup>6</sup> or trailers<sup>7</sup>;
- 99 (3) a vehicle manufactured in Great Britain which complies with the prescribed requirements<sup>8</sup> as if the vehicle had been brought temporarily into Great Britain, and either is exempt from car tax<sup>9</sup> or has been zero-rated<sup>10</sup>;
- 100 (4) a vehicle in the service of a visiting force or of a headquarters<sup>11</sup>;
- 101 (5) a vehicle which has been submitted for an examination<sup>12</sup> while it is being used on a road in connection with the carrying out of that examination and is being so used by a person who is empowered<sup>13</sup> to carry out that examination, or by a person acting under the direction of a person so empowered<sup>14</sup>;
- 102 (6) a motor car<sup>15</sup> or a motor cycle<sup>16</sup> in respect of which a certificate has been issued by the officer in charge of the National Collections of Road Transport<sup>17</sup>, stating that it was designed before 1 January 1905 and constructed before 31 December 1905<sup>18</sup>;

- 103 (7) either (a) a towing implement<sup>19</sup> which is being drawn by a motor vehicle while it is not attached to any vehicle except the one drawing it if the towing implement is not being so drawn during the hours of darkness and the vehicle by which it is being so drawn is not driven at a speed exceeding 20 miles per hour; or (b) a vehicle which is being drawn by a motor vehicle in the exercise of a statutory power of removal<sup>20</sup>;
- 104 (8) tramcars<sup>21</sup>;
- 105 (9) a public works vehicle which has a maximum design weight of 7,500 kg and is specifically designed for use and used solely for the purpose of street cleansing<sup>22</sup>;
- 106 (10) a vehicle being used by a police authority which has been authorised by a chief constable to perform accident reconstruction duties<sup>23</sup>; and
- 107 (11) a vehicle being used on a road by a vehicle examiner<sup>24</sup>, who has been authorised in writing by the Secretary of State for the purpose of: (a) submitting the vehicle for an examination<sup>25</sup> in order to ascertain whether the examination is carried out in accordance with regulations<sup>26</sup>; or (b) removing the vehicle following that examination<sup>27</sup>.

27 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 4(4), Table item 11 col 2 (item 11 added by SI 2005/3165). The statutory provisions which do not apply in the case of such vehicles are the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Pt II (as amended) (see PARA 271 et seq post), reg 67 (see PARA 365 post), regs 75-79 (as amended) (see PARAS 584-588 post) and reg 100 (see PARA 614 post): reg 4(4), Table item 11 col 3 (as so added). The exemption provided by head (11) in the text applies only to the extent that the vehicle examiner using the vehicle in question reasonably believes that any defects in that vehicle do not give rise to a danger of injury to any person while it is being used by that person for a purpose mentioned in that item: reg 4(7) (added by SI 2005/3165).

UPDATE

269 Provision as respects the Trade Descriptions Act 1968

NOTE 4--SI 1986/1078 reg 5 revoked: SI 2008/1277.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(i) In general/270. Compliance with European Directives and ECE Regulations.

270. Compliance with European Directives and ECE Regulations.

For the purposes of any regulation which requires or permits a vehicle to comply with the requirements of a Community Directive<sup>1</sup> or an ECE Regulation<sup>2</sup>, a vehicle is deemed so to have complied at the date of its first use<sup>3</sup> only if<sup>4</sup>:

- 108 (1) a certificate<sup>5</sup> has been issued in relation to it<sup>6</sup>; or
- 109 (2) an approval mark<sup>7</sup> has been applied<sup>8</sup>; or
- 110 (3) it was, before it was used on a road<sup>9</sup>, subject to a relevant type approval requirement<sup>10</sup>.

1 'Community Directive', followed by a number, means the Directive adopted by the Council or the Commission of the European Communities or the European Parliament and the Council of the European Union of which identifying particulars are given in the item in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3, Sch 2 Table 1 col 3 in which that number appears in col 2; where such a Directive amends a previous Directive mentioned in col 3(d) of the Table the reference to the amending Directive includes a reference to that previous Directive as so amended; and any reference to a Directive which has been amended by the Act of Accession is a reference to the Directive as so amended: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (entry amended by SI 1989/1865; SI 2005/3165).

2 'ECE Regulation', followed by a number, means the Regulation, annexed to the Agreement concerning the adoption of uniform conditions of approval for motor vehicles equipment and parts and reciprocal recognition thereof (Geneva, 20 March 1958; TS 7 (1965); Cmnd 2535), to which the United Kingdom is a party, of which identifying particulars are given in the item in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 2 Table II col 3(a), (b) and (c) (as amended) in which that number appears in col 2 (as amended); and where that number contains more than two digits, it refers to that Regulation with the amendments in force at the date specified in col 3(d) (as amended) in that item: reg 3(2), Table.

3 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

4 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 6(1).

5 Ie one of the following certificates:

- 22 (1) a type approval certificate issued by the Secretary of State under the Motor Vehicles (Type Approval) Regulations 1980, SI 1980/1182, reg 5 (as amended) or of the Agricultural or Forestry Tractors and Tractor Components (Type Approval) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1567, reg 5 (see PARA 715 post);

- 23 (2) a certificate of conformity issued by the manufacturer of the vehicle under the Motor Vehicles (Type Approval) Regulations 1980, SI 1980/1182, reg 6 or of the Agricultural or Forestry Tractors and Tractor Components (Type Approval) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1567, reg 6 (see PARA 715 post);
- 24 (3) a certificate issued under a provision of the law of any member state of the European Union which corresponds to the provisions mentioned in heads (1) and (2) supra; or
- 25 (4) a sound level measurement certificate issued by the Secretary of State under the Motorcycles (Sound Level Measurement Certificates) Regulations 1980, SI 1980/765, reg 4 (as amended), being in each case a certificate issued by reason of the vehicle's conforming to the requirements of the European Directive in question: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2A) (added by SI 1993/2199); Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 6(2) (amended by SI 1989/1865). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 6(1)(a).

7 le a marking designated as an approval mark by the Motor Vehicles (Designation of Approval Marks) Regulations 1979, SI 1979/1088, reg 4, being in each case a mark shown in reg 4, Sch 2 col 2 (as amended) of an item which refers, in col 5 (as amended), to the ECE Regulation in question, applied as indicated in col 4 (as amended) in that item: reg 6(3).

8 Ibid reg 6(1)(b).

9 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

10 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 6(1)(c). A relevant type approval requirement is a requirement of the Motor Vehicles (Type Approval) (Great Britain) Regulations 1984, SI 1984/981 (as amended) (see PARA 700 post) or the Motor Vehicles (Type Approval for Goods Vehicles) (Great Britain) Regulations 1982, SI 1982/1271 (as amended) (see PARA 702 post) which appears: (1) in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 6(4), Sch 2 Table I col 4 (as amended) in the item in which the European Directive in question appears in Sch 2 Table I col 3 (as amended); or (2) in Sch 2 Table II col 4 (as amended) in the item in which the ECE Regulation in question appears in Sch 2 Table II col 3 (as amended): reg 6(4).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability/271. Length.

(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability

271. Length.

The overall length<sup>1</sup> of a vehicle or combination of vehicles<sup>2</sup> of a class specified in heads (1) to (13) below must not exceed the maximum length specified in each head<sup>3</sup>:

- 111 (1) in the case of a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> drawing one trailer<sup>5</sup> which is not a semi-trailer<sup>6</sup>, 18.75 metres<sup>7</sup>;
- 112 (2) in the case of an articulated bus, 18.75 metres<sup>8</sup>;
- 113 (3) in the case of a bus drawing a trailer, 18.75 metres<sup>9</sup>;
- 114 (4) in the case of an articulated vehicle the semi-trailer of which does not meet specified requirements<sup>10</sup> and is not a low loader<sup>11</sup>, 15.5 metres<sup>12</sup>;
- 115 (5) in the case of an articulated vehicle, the semi-trailer of which meets specified requirements<sup>13</sup> and is not a low loader, 16.5 metres<sup>14</sup>;

- 116 (6) in the case of an articulated vehicle, the semi-trailer of which is a low loader, 18 metres<sup>15</sup>;
- 117 (7) in the case of a wheeled motor vehicle other than a bus, 12 metres<sup>16</sup>;
- 118 (8) in the case of a bus with two axles, 13.5 metres<sup>17</sup>;
- 119 (9) in the case of a bus with more than two axles, 15 metres<sup>18</sup>;
- 120 (10) in the case of a track-laying<sup>19</sup> motor vehicle, 9.2 metres<sup>20</sup>;
- 121 (11) in the case of an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>21</sup> manufactured on or after 1 December 1985, 15 metres<sup>22</sup>;
- 122 (12) in the case of a semi-trailer manufactured on or after 1 May 1983 which does not meet specified requirements<sup>23</sup> and is not a low loader, 12.2 metres<sup>24</sup>;
- 123 (13) in the case of a composite trailer<sup>25</sup> drawn by a goods vehicle<sup>26</sup> being a motor vehicle having a maximum gross weight<sup>27</sup> exceeding 3,500 kilograms or an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>28</sup>, 14.04 metres<sup>29</sup>;
- 124 (14) in the case of a trailer, not being a semi-trailer or composite trailer, with at least four wheels which is drawn by a goods vehicle being a motor vehicle having a maximum gross weight exceeding 3,500 kilograms or an agricultural trailer<sup>30</sup>, 12 metres<sup>31</sup>; and
- 125 (15) in the case of any other trailer not being an agricultural trailed appliance or a semi-trailer, 7 metres<sup>32</sup>.

Heads (1), (4), (5) and (6) above do not apply to<sup>33</sup>:

- 126 (a) a vehicle combination which includes a trailer which is constructed and normally used for the conveyance of indivisible loads<sup>34</sup> of exceptional length<sup>35</sup>; or
- 127 (b) a vehicle combination consisting of a broken-down vehicle<sup>36</sup> (including an articulated vehicle) being drawn by a motor vehicle in consequence of a breakdown<sup>37</sup>; or
- 128 (c) an articulated vehicle, the semi-trailer of which is a low loader manufactured before 1 April 1991<sup>38</sup>.

Heads (11) to (15) above do not apply to<sup>39</sup>:

- 129 (i) a trailer which is constructed and normally used for the conveyance of indivisible loads of exceptional length<sup>40</sup>;
- 130 (ii) a broken-down vehicle, including an articulated vehicle, which is being drawn by a motor vehicle in consequence of a breakdown<sup>41</sup>; or
- 131 (iii) a trailer being a drying or mixing plant designed for the production of asphalt or of bituminous or tar macadam and used mainly for the construction, repair or maintenance of roads, or a road planing machine so used<sup>42</sup>.

Head (12) above does not apply to a semi-trailer which is a car transporter or a semi-trailer which is normally used on international journeys any part of which takes place outside the United Kingdom<sup>43</sup>.

Where a motor vehicle is drawing two trailers, only one of those trailers may exceed an overall length of 7 metres<sup>44</sup>; and, where a motor vehicle is drawing three trailers, none of those trailers is permitted to exceed an overall length of 7 metres<sup>45</sup>. Where a motor vehicle is drawing two or more trailers, or one trailer constructed and normally used for the conveyance of indivisible loads of exceptional length, the overall length of that motor vehicle must not exceed 9.2 metres; and the overall length of the combination of vehicles<sup>46</sup> must not exceed 25.9 metres, unless specified conditions<sup>47</sup> have been complied with<sup>48</sup>.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>49</sup> to be used on a road a trailer with an overall length exceeding 18.65 metres unless specified requirements<sup>50</sup> are complied with<sup>51</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'overall length' see PARA 272 post.

2 In the case of a combination of vehicles the overall length is to be calculated in accordance with the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 81(g), (h): see PARA 591 post.

3 Ibid reg 7(1), which is expressed to be subject to reg 7(2)-(6) (as amended) (see the text and notes 7-10 infra).

4 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

6 'Semi-trailer' means a trailer which is constructed or adapted to form part of an articulated vehicle including (without prejudice to the generality of that) a vehicle which is not itself a motor vehicle but which has some or all of its wheels driven by the drawing vehicle: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition amended by SI 1987/676). For the meaning of 'wheel' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

'Articulated vehicle' means a heavy motor car or a motor car, not being an articulated bus, with a trailer so attached that part of the trailer is superimposed on the drawing vehicle and, when the trailer is uniformly loaded, not less than 20% of the weight of its load is borne by the drawing vehicle: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table. For the meaning of 'heavy motor car' see PARA 213 ante; and for the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 212 ante.

'Articulated bus' means a bus so constructed that: (1) it can be divided into two parts, both of which are vehicles and one of which is a motor vehicle, but cannot be so divided without the use of facilities normally available only at a workshop; and (2) passengers carried by it can at all times pass from either part to the other: reg 3(2), Table. 'Bus' means a motor vehicle which is constructed or adapted to carry more than eight seated passengers in addition to the driver: reg 3(2), Table. For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 ante.

7 Ibid reg 7(1), Table item 1 (substituted by SI 1998/1188). In the case of a motor vehicle drawing one trailer where: (1) the motor vehicle is a showman's vehicle as defined in the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 62(1) (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 730); and (2) the trailer is used primarily as living accommodation by one or more persons and is not also used for the carriage of goods or burden which are not needed for the purpose of such residence in the vehicle, the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(1), Table item 1 (as substituted) applies with the substitution of 22 metres for 18.75 metres: reg 7(2) (amended by SI 1991/2125).

A motor vehicle drawing a trailer which is not a semi-trailer must comply with the requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(5A) (as added and amended): reg 7(5XA) (added by SI 1998/1188). These requirements, in relation to a combination of vehicles, are that at least one of the vehicles in the combination is not a goods vehicle or, if both vehicles in the combination are goods vehicles that: (1) the maximum distance measured parallel to the longitudinal axis of the combination of vehicles from the foremost point of the loading area behind the driver's cab to the rear of the trailer, less the distance between the rear of the motor vehicle and the front of the trailer, does not exceed 15.65 metres; and (2) the maximum distance measured parallel to the longitudinal axis of the combination of vehicles from the foremost point of the loading area behind the driver's cab to the rear of the trailer does not exceed 16.4 metres; but head (1) supra does not apply if both vehicles in the combination are car transporters: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(5A) (added by SI 1991/2125; and amended by SI 1998/1188). 'Car transporter' means a trailer which is constructed and normally used for the purpose of carrying at least two other wheeled vehicles: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1990/317). For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

For the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(5A) (as added and amended): (a) where the forward end of the loading area of a motor vehicle is bounded by a wall, the thickness of the wall is to be regarded as part of the loading area; and (b) any part of a vehicle designed primarily for use as a means of attaching another vehicle to it and any fitting designed for use in connection with any such part is to be disregarded in determining the distance between the rear of a motor vehicle and the front of a trailer being drawn by it: reg 7(6A) (added by SI 1991/2125).

For the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(5A), (6), (7) (reg 7(5A) as added and amended), a reference to the front of a vehicle is a reference to the transverse plane passing through the extreme forward projecting points of the vehicle; and a reference to the rear of a vehicle is a reference to the transverse plane passing through the extreme rearward projecting points of the vehicle, inclusive (in each case) of all parts of the vehicle, of any receptacle which is of a permanent character and accordingly strong enough for repeated use, and any fitting on, or attached to the vehicle but exclusive of: (i) the items set out in PARA 272 head (1) post (definition of 'overall length'); and (ii) in the case of a semi-trailer, the items set out in PARA 272 head (2)(a) post: reg 7(7B) (added by SI 1991/2125). 'Transverse plane' means a vertical plane at right angles to the longitudinal axis of a vehicle: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

8 Ibid reg 7(1), Table item 2 (amended by SI 2003/182).

9 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(1), Table item 2A (added by SI 2003/182).

10 In the requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(6). The requirements of reg 7(6), in relation to a semi-trailer, are that: (1) the longitudinal distance from the axis of the kingpin to the rear of the semi-trailer does not exceed 12.5 metres in the case of a car transporter, or 12 metres in any other case; and (2) no point in the semi-trailer forward of the transverse plane passing through the axis of the king pin is more than 4.19 metres from the axis of the king pin, in the case of a car transporter, or 2.04 metres from the axis of the king pin, in any other case: reg 7(6). For the purposes of reg 7(6), the longitudinal distance from the axis of the king pin to the rear of a semi-trailer is the distance between a transverse plane passing through the axis of the king pin and the rear of the semi-trailer: reg 7(7). Where a semi-trailer has more than one king-pin or is constructed so that it can be used with a king-pin in different positions, references to a distance from the king-pin are to be construed, in relation to a vehicle which was manufactured after 1 January 1999, as a reference to the foremost king-pin or, as the case may be, the foremost king-pin position; and, in relation to any other vehicle, as a reference to the rearmost king-pin or, as the case may be, the rearmost king-pin position: reg 7(7A) (added by SI 1990/1163; and amended by SI 1998/1188; SI 1998/3112).

11 'Low loader' means a semi-trailer which is constructed and normally used for the carriage of engineering equipment so constructed that the major part of the load platform does not extend over or between the wheels and the upper surface of which is below the height of the topmost point of the tyres of those wheels, measured on level ground and when: (1) any adjustable suspension is at the normal travelling height; (2) all pneumatic tyres are suitably inflated for use when the vehicle is fully laden; and (3) the semi-trailer is unladen: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1990/317).

'Engineering equipment' means engineering plant and any other plant or equipment designed and constructed for the purpose of engineering operations: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1990/317). 'Engineering plant' means: (a) movable plant or equipment being a motor vehicle or trailer specially designed and constructed for the special purposes of engineering operations, and which cannot, owing to the requirements of those purposes, comply with all the requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078 (as amended) and which is not constructed primarily to carry a load other than a load being either excavated materials raised from the ground by apparatus on the motor vehicle or trailer or materials which the vehicle or trailer is specially designed to treat while carried thereon; or (b) a mobile crane which does not comply in all respects with the requirements of those regulations: reg 3(2), Table.

'Pneumatic tyre' means a tyre which: (i) is provided with, or together with the wheel upon which it is mounted forms, a continuous closed chamber inflated to a pressure substantially exceeding atmospheric pressure when the tyre is in the condition in which it is normally used, but is not subjected to any load; (ii) is capable of being inflated and deflated without removal from the wheel or vehicle; and (iii) is such that, when it is deflated and is subjected to a normal load, the sides of the tyre collapse: reg 3(2), Table.

13 See note 10 supra.

15 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(1), Table item 3B (added by SI 1990/317).

16 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(1), Table item 4 (amended by SI 2003/182).

17 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(1), Table item 4A (added by SI 2003/182).

18 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(1), Table item 4B (added by SI 2003/182).

20 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(1), Table item 5.

21 'Agricultural trailed appliance' means a trailer: (1) which is an implement constructed or adapted: (a) for use off roads for the purpose of agriculture, horticulture or forestry and which is only used for one or more of those purposes; and (b) so that, save in the case of an appliance manufactured before 1 December 1985, or a towed roller, its maximum gross weight (see note 26 infra) is not more than twice its unladen weight; but (2) which is not: (a) a vehicle which is used primarily as living accommodation by one or more persons, and which carries no goods or burden except those needed by such one or more persons for the purposes of their residence in the vehicle; or (b) an agricultural, horticultural or forestry implement rigidly but not permanently mounted on any vehicle whether or not any of the weight of the implement is supported by one or more of its own wheels; so however that such an implement is an agricultural trailed appliance if part of the weight of the implement is supported by one or more of its own wheels, and the longitudinal axis of the greater part of the implement is capable of articulating in the horizontal plane in relation to the longitudinal axis of the rear portion of the vehicle on which it is mounted: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

'Unladen weight' means the weight of a vehicle or trailer inclusive of the body and all parts (the heavier being taken where alternative bodies or parts are used) which are necessary to or ordinarily used with the vehicle or trailer when working on a road, but exclusive of the weight of water, fuel or accumulators used for the purpose of the supply of power for the propulsion of the vehicle or, as the case may be, of any vehicle by which the trailer is drawn, and of loose tools and loose equipment: reg 3(2), Table.

23 See note 10 supra.

24 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 7(1), Table item 7.

25 'Composite trailer' means a combination of a converter dolly and a semi-trailer: ibid reg 3(2), Table. For the purposes of reg 7 (as amended), a composite trailer is to be treated as one trailer, not being a semi-trailer or a converter dolly: see reg 3(11). 'Converter dolly' means: (1) a trailer which is: (a) equipped with two or more wheels; (b) designed to be used in combination with a semi-trailer without any part of the weight of the semi-trailer being borne by the drawing vehicle; and (c) not itself a part either of the semi-trailer or the drawing vehicle when being so used; or (2) a trailer which is: (a) equipped with two or more wheels; (b) designed to be used in combination with a semi-trailer with part of the weight of the semi-trailer being borne by the drawing vehicle; (c) not itself a part either of the semi-trailer or the drawing vehicle when being so used; and (d) used solely for the purposes of agriculture, horticulture or forestry, or for any two or for all of those purposes: reg 3(2), Table (item amended by SI 1991/1526).

26 'Goods vehicle' means a motor vehicle or trailer constructed or adapted for use for the carriage or haulage of goods or burden of any description: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

27 'Gross weight' means: (1) in relation to a motor vehicle, the sum of the weights transmitted to the road surface by all the wheels of the vehicle; (2) in relation to a trailer, the sum of the weights transmitted to the road surface by all the wheels of the trailer and of any weight of the trailer imposed on the drawing vehicle: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

'Maximum gross weight' means: (a) in the case of a vehicle equipped with a Ministry plate in accordance with reg 70 (as amended) (see PARA 368 post), the design gross weight shown in column 3 of that plate (where the plate is in the form required by reg 70, Sch 10 (reg 70 as amended) or reg 3(2), Sch 10B (as added) (see PARA 368 post)) or in column 4 of that plate (where the plate is in the form required by reg 70, Sch 10A (reg 70 as amended; Sch 10A as added) or reg 3(2), Sch 10C (as added) (see PARA 368 post)) or, if no such weight is shown, the gross weight shown in column 2 of that plate; (b) in the case of a vehicle not equipped with a Ministry plate, but which is equipped with a plate in accordance with reg 66 (as amended) (see PARA 364 post), the maximum gross weight shown on the plate in respect of Sch 8 Pt I item 7 in the case of a motor vehicle and Sch 8 Pt II item 6 in the case of a trailer; (c) in any other case, the weight which the vehicle is designed or adapted not to exceed when the vehicle is travelling on a road: reg 3(2), Table (definition amended by SI 1990/1981; SI 1994/329).

28 'Agricultural motor vehicle' means a motor vehicle which is constructed or adapted for use off roads for the purpose of agriculture, horticulture or forestry and which is primarily used for one or more of those purposes, not being a dual-purpose vehicle: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

'Dual-purpose vehicle' means a vehicle constructed or adapted for the carriage both of passengers and of goods or burden of any description, being a vehicle of which the unladen weight does not exceed 2,040 kilograms, and which either: (1) is so constructed or adapted that the driving power of the engine is, or by the appropriate use of the controls of the vehicle can be, transmitted to all the wheels of the vehicle; or (2) satisfies the following conditions as to construction, namely: (a) the vehicle must be permanently fitted with a rigid roof, with or without a sliding panel; (b) the area of the vehicle to the rear of the driver's seat must: (i) be permanently fitted with at least one row of transverse seats (fixed or folding) for two or more passengers and those seats must be properly sprung or cushioned and provided with upholstered back-rests, attached either to the seats or to a side or the floor of the vehicle; and (ii) be lit on each side and at the rear by a window or windows of glass or other transparent material having an area or aggregate area of not less than 1,850 square cm on each side and not less than 770 square cm at the rear; and (c) the distance between the rearmost part of the steering wheel and the back-rests of the row of transverse seats satisfying the requirements specified in head (b)(i) supra (or, if there is more than one such row of seats, the distance between the rearmost part of the steering wheel and the back-rests of the rearmost such row) must, when the seats are ready for use, be not less than one-third of the distance between the rearmost part of the steering wheel and the rearmost part of the floor of the vehicle: reg 3(2), Table.

29 Ibid reg 7(1), Table item 7A (added by SI 1990/317).

30 'Agricultural trailer' means a trailer which is constructed or adapted for the purpose of agriculture, horticulture or forestry and which is only used for one or more of those purposes, not being an agricultural trailed appliance: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

32 Ibid reg 7(1), Table item 9.

33 Ibid reg 7(3) (substituted by SI 1990/317; and amended by SI 1991/2125).

34 'Indivisible load' means a load which cannot without undue expense or risk of damage be divided into two or more loads for the purpose of conveyance on a road: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table. A vehicle used for carrying indivisible loads exceeding the permitted length on all but 46 of 177 journeys was not normally so used: Peak Trailer and Chassis Ltd v Jackson [1967] 1 All ER 172, [1967] 1 WLR 155, DC. As to the indivisibility of loads see Kingdom v Williams [1975] RTR 333, DC; Patterson v Redpath Bros Ltd [1979] 2 All ER 108, [1979] 1 WLR 553, DC (where it was held that whether a load is indivisible is tested by reference to the goods carried).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability/272. Meaning of 'overall length'.

272. Meaning of 'overall length'.

'Overall length' in relation to a vehicle, means the distance between transverse planes<sup>1</sup> passing through the extreme forward and rearward projecting points of the vehicle inclusive of all parts of the vehicle, of any receptacle which is of a permanent character and accordingly strong enough for repeated use, and any fitting on, or attached to, the vehicle except:

132 (1) for all purposes:

4. (a) any driving mirror;
5. (b) any expanding or extensible contrivance forming part of a turntable fire escape fixed to a vehicle;
6. (c) any snow-plough fixed in front of a vehicle;
7. (d) any receptacle specially designed to hold and keep secure a seal issued for the purposes of customs clearance;
8. (e) any tailboard which is let down while the vehicle is stationary in order to facilitate its loading or unloading<sup>2</sup>;
9. (f) any tailboard which is let down in order to facilitate the carriage of, but which is not essential for the support of, loads which are in themselves so long as to extend at least as far as the tailboard when upright;
10. (g) any fitting attached to a part of, or to a receptacle on, a vehicle which does not increase the carrying capacity of the part or receptacle but which enables it to be transferred from a road vehicle to a railway vehicle or from a railway vehicle to a road vehicle, secured to a railway vehicle by a locking device, and carried on a railway vehicle by the use of stanchions;
11. (h) any plate, whether rigid or movable, fitted to a trailer<sup>3</sup> constructed for the purpose of carrying other vehicles and designed to bridge the gap between that trailer and a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> constructed for that purpose and to which the trailer is attached so that, while the trailer is attached to the motor vehicle, vehicles which are to be carried by the motor vehicle may be moved from the trailer to the motor vehicle before a journey begins, and vehicles which have been carried on the motor vehicle may be moved from it to the trailer after a journey ends;
12. (i) any sheeting or other readily flexible means of covering or securing a load;
13. (j) any empty receptacle which itself forms a load;
14. (k) any receptacle which contains an indivisible load<sup>5</sup> of exceptional length;
15. (l) any receptacle manufactured before 30 October 1985, not being a maritime container<sup>6</sup>, namely a container designed primarily for carriage on sea transport without an accompanying road vehicle;
16. (m) any special appliance or apparatus<sup>7</sup> which does not itself increase the carrying capacity of the vehicle; or

17. (n) any rearward projecting buffer made of rubber or other resilient material; and 4 133 (2) for the purposes of the provisions relating to length<sup>8</sup> and turning circles<sup>9</sup>:
 5 18. (a) any part of a trailer (not being in the case of an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>10</sup> a drawbar or other thing with which it is equipped for the purpose of being towed) designed primarily for use as a means of attaching it to another vehicle and any fitting designed for use in connection with any such part;
 19. (b) the thickness of any front or rear wall on a semi-trailer<sup>11</sup> and of any part forward of such front wall or rearward of such rear wall which does not increase the vehicle's load-carrying space<sup>12</sup>.

273. Width.

The overall width<sup>1</sup> of a vehicle of a class specified in heads (1) to (8) below, other than a broken-down vehicle<sup>2</sup> which is being drawn in consequence of the breakdown<sup>3</sup>, must not exceed the maximum width specified in each head<sup>4</sup>:

- 134 (1) in the case of a locomotive<sup>5</sup>, other than an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>6</sup>, 2.75 metres<sup>7</sup>;

- 135 (2) in the case of a refrigerated vehicle<sup>8</sup>, 2.60 metres<sup>9</sup>;
- 136 (3) in the case of any other motor vehicle<sup>10</sup>, 2.55 metres<sup>11</sup>;
- 137 (4) in the case of a trailer<sup>12</sup> drawn by a motor vehicle having a maximum gross weight<sup>13</sup> exceeding 3,500 kilograms, 2.55 metres<sup>14</sup>;
- 138 (5) in the case of an agricultural trailer<sup>15</sup>, 2.55 metres<sup>16</sup>;
- 139 (6) in the case of an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>17</sup>, 2.55 metres<sup>18</sup>;
- 140 (7) in the case of any other trailer drawn by a vehicle other than a motor cycle<sup>19</sup>, 2.3 metres<sup>20</sup>; and
- 141 (8) in the case of a trailer drawn by a motor cycle, 1.5 metres<sup>21</sup>.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>22</sup> to be used on a road<sup>23</sup> a wheeled<sup>24</sup> agricultural motor vehicle drawing a wheeled trailer if, when the longitudinal axes of the vehicles are parallel but in different vertical planes, the overall width of the two vehicles, measured as if they were one vehicle, exceeds 2.55 metres<sup>25</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability/274. Meaning of 'overall width'.

274. Meaning of 'overall width'.

'Overall width' means the distance between longitudinal planes<sup>1</sup> passing through the extreme lateral projecting points of the vehicle inclusive of all parts of the vehicle, of any receptacle which is of permanent character and accordingly strong enough for repeated use, and any fitting on, or attached to, the vehicle except:

- 142 (1) any driving mirror;
  - 143 (2) any snow-plough fixed in front of the vehicle;
  - 144 (3) so much of the distortion of any tyre as is caused by the weight of the vehicle;
  - 145 (4) any receptacle specially designed to hold and keep secure a seal issued for the purposes of customs clearance;
  - 146 (5) any lamp or reflector fitted to the vehicle<sup>2</sup>;
  - 147 (6) any sideboard which is let down while the vehicle is stationary in order to facilitate its loading or unloading;
  - 148 (7) any fitting attached to part of, or to a receptacle on, a vehicle which does not increase the carrying capacity of the part or receptacle but which enables it to be:
- 7
- 20. (a) transferred from a road vehicle to a railway vehicle or from a railway vehicle to a road vehicle;
  - 21. (b) secured to a railway vehicle by a locking device; and
  - 22. (c) carried on a railway vehicle by the use of stanchions;
- 8
- 149 (8) any sheeting or other readily flexible means of covering or securing a load;
  - 150 (9) any receptacle with an external width, measured at right angles to the longitudinal axis of the vehicle, which does not exceed 2.5 metres;
  - 151 (10) any empty receptacle which itself forms a load;
  - 152 (11) any receptacle which contains an indivisible load<sup>3</sup> of exceptional width;
  - 153 (12) any receptacle manufactured before 30 October 1985, not being a maritime container<sup>4</sup>, namely a container designed primarily for carriage on sea transport without an accompanying road vehicle;
  - 154 (13) any special appliance or apparatus<sup>5</sup> which does not itself increase the carrying capacity of the vehicle; or
  - 155 (14) any apparatus fitted to a bus<sup>6</sup> which enables it to be guided wholly or mainly by means of wheels<sup>7</sup> bearing outwards against fixed apparatus, provided that no part of the apparatus projects more than 75 millimetres beyond the side of the bus<sup>8</sup> when the wheels of the bus are parallel to its longitudinal axis<sup>9</sup>.

1 'Longitudinal plane' means a vertical plane parallel to the longitudinal axis of a vehicle: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

2 le in accordance with the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796 (as amended) (see PARA 378 et seq post): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, regs 3(2), Table, (2A) (reg 3(2A) added by SI 1993/2199).

3 For the meaning of 'indivisible load' see PARA 271 note 34 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'container' see PARA 272 note 6 ante.

5 le as described in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 81(c): see PARA 591 note 1 post.

6 For the meaning of 'bus' see PARA 271 note 6 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'wheel' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

8 For these purposes, the reference to the side of a bus is a reference to the longitudinal plane passing through the extreme lateral projecting points of the vehicle inclusive of all parts of the vehicle, of any receptacle which is of permanent character and accordingly strong enough for repeated use, and any fitting on, or attached to, the vehicle except those items referred to in heads (1)-(14) in the text: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (entry amended by SI 1995/3051).

276. Meaning of 'overall height'.

'Overall height' means the vertical distance between the ground and the point on the vehicle which is furthest from the ground, calculated when:

- 156 (1) the tyres of the vehicle are suitably inflated for the use to which it is being put;
- 157 (2) the vehicle is at its unladen weight<sup>1</sup>; and
- 158 (3) the surface of the ground under the vehicle is reasonably flat;

but, in the case of a trolley bus<sup>2</sup>, exclusive of the power collection equipment mounted on the roof of the vehicle<sup>3</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability/277. Indication of overall travelling height.

277. Indication of overall travelling height.

No person may drive<sup>1</sup> or cause or permit<sup>2</sup> to be driven on a road<sup>3</sup> a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> with an overall travelling height<sup>5</sup> exceeding 3 metres unless a notice is displayed in the cab, in such a manner that it can easily be read by the driver, and the notice meets the requirements specified in heads (1) to (7) below<sup>6</sup>.

No person may use or cause or permit to be used on a road a motor vehicle with an overall travelling height exceeding 3 metres if any letters or numbers are displayed in the cab, otherwise than in a notice which meets the specified requirements, where they could be read by the driver, and which could be understood as indicating a height associated with the vehicle or any trailer drawn by it<sup>7</sup>.

The requirements in respect of a notice are that:

- 159 (1) the notice gives an indication of vehicle height expressed in feet and inches, or in both feet and inches and in metres<sup>8</sup>;
- 160 (2) the numbers giving the indication in feet and inches are at least 40 millimetres tall<sup>9</sup>;
- 161 (3) the height expressed in feet and inches and, where applicable, the height expressed in metres are: (a) if the vehicle is a vehicle to which certain high level equipment is fitted<sup>10</sup>, not less than the predetermined height<sup>11</sup> or the overall travelling height, whichever is the greater<sup>12</sup>; or (b) if the vehicle is not a vehicle to which to which certain high level equipment is fitted, not less than the overall travelling height<sup>13</sup>;
- 162 (4) if the vehicle is not a relevant vehicle<sup>14</sup>, the height expressed in feet and inches does not exceed the overall travelling height by more than 150 millimetres<sup>15</sup>;
- 163 (5) if the vehicle is a relevant vehicle, the height expressed in feet and inches does not exceed the overall travelling height by more than 1 metre<sup>16</sup>;

- 164 (6) if the height is expressed in both feet and inches and in metres, the height expressed in feet and inches and the height expressed in metres do not differ by more than 50 millimetres<sup>17</sup>; and
- 165 (7) no other letters or numbers which could be understood as being an indication of any height associated with the vehicle or any trailer drawn by it are displayed in the notice<sup>18</sup>.

- 166 (i) if, having regard to the lengths of road which the driver might drive along in the course of fulfilling the purpose of the journey taking into account any possibility of unforeseen diversions and the driver having difficulty in finding his way, it is highly unlikely that the driver would during the course of the journey encounter any bridge or other overhead structure which does not exceed by at least 1 metre, in the case of certain vehicles with high level equipment<sup>20</sup> the maximum travelling height or, in any other case, the overall travelling height<sup>21</sup>;
- 167 (ii) to a vehicle on a particular journey and at a particular time if one or more documents are being carried in the vehicle which are within the easy reach of the driver and that or those documents describe a route or a choice of routes which the driver must take in order to fulfil the purpose of the journey without risk of the vehicle, its load or equipment or any trailer drawn by the vehicle, its load or equipment, colliding with any bridge or other overhead structure, and the vehicle is on such a route which is so described or is off that route by reason of a diversion that could not reasonably have been foreseen at the beginning of the journey<sup>22</sup>;
- 168 (iii) to a vehicle on a particular journey if one or more documents are being carried in the vehicle which are within the easy reach of the driver and that or those documents contain information as to the height of bridges and other overhead structures under which the vehicle and any trailer drawn by it could pass and the height of bridges and other overhead structures under which the vehicle and any trailer drawn by it could not pass, without the vehicle, its load or equipment or any such trailer, its load or equipment, colliding with any bridge or other overhead structure, and the information is such that, having regard in particular to the prescribed matters<sup>23</sup>, it would enable any driver to fulfil the purpose of the journey without there being any risk of the vehicle, its load or equipment or any trailer, its load or equipment, colliding with any bridge or other overhead structure while on the journey<sup>24</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'overall travelling height', in relation to a motor vehicle means: (1) if it is not drawing a trailer, the overall height for the time being of the vehicle, its equipment and load; or (2) if it is drawing one or more trailers, the overall height for the time being of the combination of vehicles, their equipment and loads: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10(9)(b) (reg 10 substituted by SI 1997/530). For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10(1) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). This is expressed to be subject to reg 10(2)-(10) (as substituted). The provisions of reg 10(1), (2) (as substituted) do not apply to a motor vehicle if it has an overall travelling height of not more than 4 metres and: (1) it is a vehicle registered or put into circulation in an EEA state and is being used in international traffic; or (2) it is a motor vehicle drawing a trailer registered or put into circulation in an EEA state and that trailer is being used in international traffic: reg 10(8) (as so substituted). For these purposes, 'international traffic' and 'registered or put into circulation' have the same meanings as in EC Directive 85/3 (OJ L2, 3.1.85, p 14) art 3: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10(10) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 278 note 13 post; definition applied by reg 10(9)(a) (as so substituted).

7 Ibid reg 10(2) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). See also note 6 supra.

8 Ibid reg 10(3)(a) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

9 Ibid reg 10(3)(b) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

10 Ie a vehicle to which ibid reg 10A (as added) applies: see PARA 278 post. For the meaning of 'high level equipment' see PARA 278 note 4 post; definition applied by reg 10(9)(a) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

11 Ie the predetermined height mentioned in ibid reg 10A(2)(a) (as added): see PARA 278 post.

12 Ibid reg 10(3)(c)(i) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

13 Ibid reg 10(3)(c)(ii) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

14 For these purposes, a motor vehicle is a 'relevant vehicle' if at any particular time: (1) the vehicle or any trailer drawn by it is fitted with high level equipment with a maximum height of more than 3 m; and (2) the overall travelling height is less than the maximum travelling height: ibid reg 10(9)(c) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). For the meaning of 'maximum travelling height' see PARA 278 note 25 post; definition applied by reg 10(9)(a) (as so substituted).

15 Ibid reg 10(3)(d) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

16 Ibid reg 10(3)(e) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

18 Ibid reg 10(3)(g) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

19 Ie ibid reg 10(1) (as substituted): see the text and notes 1-5 supra.

20 Ie in the case of a vehicle to which ibid reg 10A (as added) applies: see PARA 278 post.

21 Ibid reg 10(4) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

22 Ibid reg 10(5) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

23 The matters so prescribed are: (1) the roads which the driver might drive along in the course of fulfilling the purpose of the journey taking into account any possibility of unforeseen diversions and of the driver having difficulty in finding his way; (2) the height of bridges and other overhead structures that would be encountered were the vehicle to proceed along any of those roads; and (3) the setting of any device of a description specified in ibid reg 10A(2) (as added) (see PARA 278 post): reg 10(7) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability/278. Warning devices where certain high level equipment is fitted to a vehicle.

278. Warning devices where certain high level equipment is fitted to a vehicle.

No person may drive<sup>1</sup> or cause or permit<sup>2</sup> to be driven on a road<sup>3</sup> certain vehicles fitted with high level equipment<sup>4</sup> unless the vehicle is fitted with a warning device and the specified requirements<sup>5</sup> are satisfied in respect of the device, the vehicle and any relevant trailer<sup>6</sup> drawn by the vehicle<sup>7</sup>. The vehicles are:

- 169 (1) a motor vehicle first used on or after 1 April 1993, if the vehicle or any relevant trailer drawn by it is fitted with high level equipment with a maximum height<sup>8</sup> of more than 3 metres<sup>9</sup>; and
- 170 (2) a motor vehicle first used before 1 April 1993, if any relevant trailer drawn by it is fitted with such equipment<sup>10</sup>.

The above provisions relating to warning devices<sup>11</sup> do not apply to:

- 171 (a) a motor vehicle which has an overall travelling height of not more than 4 metres and is a vehicle registered or put into circulation<sup>12</sup> in an EEA state<sup>13</sup> and is being used in international traffic<sup>14</sup> or is a motor vehicle drawing a trailer registered or put into circulation in an EEA state and that trailer is being used in international traffic<sup>15</sup>;
- 172 (b) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>16</sup>;
- 173 (c) an industrial tractor<sup>17</sup>;
- 174 (d) a works truck<sup>18</sup>;
- 175 (e) a motor vehicle owned by the Secretary of State for Defence<sup>19</sup> and used for naval, military or air force purposes or a motor vehicle so used while being driven by a person for the time being subject to orders of a member of the armed forces of the Crown<sup>20</sup>;
- 176 (f) a motor vehicle drawing a trailer owned by the Secretary of State for Defence and used for naval, military or air force purposes or a motor vehicle drawing such a trailer while being driven by a person for the time being subject to orders of a member of the armed forces of the Crown<sup>21</sup>;
- 177 (g) a motor vehicle used by employees of a fire and rescue authority for the purposes of that authority under the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004<sup>22</sup>;
- 178 (h) a motor vehicle that is constructed and normally used for the purpose of carrying at least two other vehicles<sup>23</sup>;
- 179 (i) a motor vehicle drawing a car transporter<sup>24</sup>; or
- 180 (j) a motor vehicle whose maximum travelling height<sup>25</sup> does not exceed its overall travelling height<sup>26</sup>.

The specified requirements are:

- 181 (i) that the device, the vehicle and any relevant trailer drawn by it are so constructed, maintained and adjusted, and the connections between the vehicle and those trailers are such, that the device would give a visible warning to the driver if, whilst the vehicle was being driven, the height of the highest point of any high level equipment fitted to the vehicle or any of those trailers were to exceed a predetermined height<sup>27</sup>; and
- 182 (ii) the predetermined height referred to in head (i) above does not exceed the overall travelling height by more than 1 metre<sup>28</sup>.

The provisions relating to warning devices<sup>29</sup> do not apply in relation to a particular journey if, having regard to the lengths of road which the driver might drive along in the course of fulfilling the purpose of the journey and taking into account any possibility of unforeseen diversions and the driver having difficulty in finding his way, it is highly unlikely that the driver would during the course of the journey be confronted with any bridge or other overhead structure which does not exceed the maximum travelling height by at least 1 metre<sup>30</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

4 A reference to high level equipment, in relation to a motor vehicle or to a trailer drawn by a motor vehicle, is a reference to equipment which is so fitted to the vehicle or the trailer that: (1) the equipment can be raised by means of a power operated device; and (2) the raising or lowering of the equipment is capable of altering the overall travelling height of the motor vehicle when the vehicle and every trailer drawn by it is unladen: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10C(1), (2), (3) (reg 10C added by SI 1997/530). A reference to high level equipment in relation to a tipper which is: (a) a motor vehicle first used before 1 April 1998; or (b) a trailer manufactured before that date, is to be construed as not including the relevant part of the tipper: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10C(1), (4) (as so added). Where equipment fitted to a vehicle would otherwise be high level equipment, that equipment is not to be regarded as high level equipment if: (i) the equipment is so designed and constructed that it can be fixed in a stowed position by a locking device when travelling and it is not possible for a person in the cab to interfere with the locking device; and (ii) the equipment is fixed in that position by the locking device: reg 10C(1), (5) (as so added). 'Tipper' means a vehicle that is so constructed that it can be unloaded by part of the vehicle (the 'relevant part') being tipped sideways or rearwards, and 'relevant part' is to be construed accordingly; and a reference to equipment fitted to a vehicle includes part of the vehicle: reg 10C(1), (6)(f), (g) (as so added). For the meanings of 'motor vehicle' and 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante. For the meaning of 'overall travelling height' see PARA 277 note 5 ante; definition applied by reg 10C(1), (6)(e) (as so added).

5 Ie the requirements contained in ibid reg 10A(2) (as added): see heads (i), (ii) in the text.

6 'Relevant trailer' means a trailer manufactured on or after 1 April 1993 not being: (1) an agricultural trailer; (2) an agricultural trailed appliance; (3) a works trailer; (4) a trailer used by employees of a fire and rescue authority for the purposes of that authority under the Fire and Rescue Services Act 2004; (5) a broken-down vehicle (including an articulated vehicle) being drawn by a motor vehicle in consequence of a breakdown: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10C(7) (as added (see note 4 supra); and amended in relation to England by SI 2004/3168; and in relation to Wales by SI 2005/2929). For the meaning of 'agricultural trailer' see PARA 271 note 30 ante; as to the meaning of 'agricultural trailed appliance' see PARA 271 note 21 ante; for the meaning of 'broken down-vehicle' see PARA 271 note 36 ante; and for the meaning of 'articulated vehicle' see PARA 271 note 6 ante.

'Works trailer' means a trailer designed for use in private premises and used on a road only in delivering goods from or to such premises to or from a vehicle on a road in the immediate neighbourhood, or in passing from one part of any such premises to another or to other private premises in the immediate neighbourhood or in connection with road works while at or in the immediate neighbourhood of the site of such works: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

7 Ibid reg 10A(1) (reg 10A added by SI 1997/530). No person is to be taken to have failed to comply with the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10A(1) (as added) on the ground that a motor vehicle or a relevant trailer was not fitted with a warning device and the requirements in heads (i) and (ii) in the text were not being satisfied as mentioned in reg 10A(1) (as added): (1) before 1 October 1998, if the motor vehicle was first used before 1 April 1998 or the relevant trailer was manufactured before that date; or (2) before 1 April 1998 in relation to any other motor vehicle or relevant trailer: reg 10A(3) (as so added).

8 'Maximum height', in relation to any high level equipment fitted to a vehicle, means the height of the highest point of that equipment above the ground when it is raised as far as possible by means of that device and the vehicle is unladen: ibid reg 10C(1), (6)(c) (as added: see note 4 supra).

9 Ibid reg 10B(1)(a) (reg 10B added by SI 1997/530).

10 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10B(1)(b) (as added: see note 9 supra).

11 Ie ibid reg 10A (as added).

12 'Registered or put into circulation' has the same meaning as in EC Directive 85/3 (OJ L2, 3.1.85, p 14) art 3: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10B(2) (as added: see note 9 supra).

13 'EEA state' means a state which is a contracting party to the EEA Agreement; and 'EEA Agreement' means the Agreement on the European Economic Area signed at Oporto on 2 May 1992 (Cm 2073), as adjusted by the Protocol signed at Brussels on 17 March 1993: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10C(1), (6)(a), (b) (as added: see note 4 supra).

14 'International traffic' has the same meanings as in EC Directive 85/3 (OJ L2, 3.1.85, p 14) art 3: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 10B(2) (as added: see note 9 supra).

- 15 Ibid reg 10B(2) (as added: see note 9 supra).
- 16 Ibid reg 10B(3)(a) (as added: see note 9 supra). For the meaning of 'agricultural motor vehicle' see PARA 271 note 28 ante.
- 17 Ibid reg 10B(3)(b) (as added: see note 9 supra). 'Industrial tractor' means a tractor, not being an agricultural motor vehicle, which: (1) has an unladen weight not exceeding 7,370 kg; (2) is designed and used primarily for work off roads, or for work on roads in connection only with road construction or maintenance (including any such tractor when fitted with an implement or implements designed primarily for use in connection with such work, whether or not any such implement is of itself designed to carry a load); and (3) has a maximum speed not exceeding 20 mph: reg 3(2), Table.

'Maximum speed' means the speed which a vehicle is incapable, by reason of its construction, of exceeding on the level under its own power when fully laden: reg 3(2), Table.
- 18 Ibid reg 10B(3)(c) (as added: see note 9 supra). 'Works truck' means a motor vehicle (other than a straddle carrier) designed for use in private premises and used on a road only in delivering goods from or to such premises to or from a vehicle on a road in the immediate neighbourhood, or in passing from one part of any such premises to another or to other private premises in the immediate neighbourhood or in connection with road works while at or in the immediate neighbourhood of the site of such works: reg 3(2), Table. 'Straddle carrier' means a motor vehicle constructed to straddle and lift its load for the purpose of transportation: reg 3(2), Table.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability/279. Specified permitted overhang.

279. Specified permitted overhang.

In the case of a heavy motor car<sup>8</sup> and a motor car<sup>9</sup>, except:

- 183 (1) a bus<sup>10</sup>;
- 184 (2) a refuse vehicle<sup>11</sup>;
- 185 (3) a works truck<sup>12</sup>;
- 186 (4) a track-laying vehicle;
- 187 (5) an agricultural motor vehicle;
- 188 (6) a motor car which is an ambulance;
- 189 (7) a vehicle designed to dispose of its load to the rear, if the overhang does not exceed 1.15 metres;
- 190 (8) a vehicle first used before 2 January 1933; and
- 191 (9) a vehicle first used before 1 January 1966 if the distance between the centres of the rearmost and foremost axles<sup>13</sup> does not exceed 2.29 metres and the specified distance<sup>14</sup> is not exceeded by more than 76 millimetres, the maximum overhang is 60 per cent of the distance between the transverse plane which passes through the centre or centres of the foremost wheel or wheels and the transverse plane which passes through the foremost point from which the overhang is to be measured<sup>15</sup>. Heating plant on a vehicle designed and mainly used to heat the surface of a road or similar surface in the process of construction, repair or maintenance must be disregarded<sup>16</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'overhang' see PARA 280 post.

2 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

3 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 11(1). The corresponding provisions of earlier regulations were not infringed when the permitted overhang was only exceeded if the vehicle was used with its tailboard down (Andrews v HE Kershaw Ltd [1952] 1 KB 70, [1951] 2 All ER 764, DC), but were infringed where the permitted overhang was exceeded when a tailboard which was designed to increase the vehicle's capacity was down (Guest Scottish Carriers Ltd v Trend [1967] 3 All ER 52, [1967] 1 WLR 1371, DC), or where the permitted overhang was exceeded when a container which was designed to be clipped onto the bed of the vehicle was clipped on (Hawkins v Harold A Russett Ltd [1983] 1 All ER 215, DC).

8 For the meaning of 'heavy motor car' see PARA 213 ante. A heavy motor car is to be taken to comply with the requirements of ibid reg 11(1) if it meets the requirements of EC Directive 97/27 (OJ L233, 25.8.97, p 1) Annex I para 7.6.2: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 11(3) (added by SI 1998/1188).

9 For the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 212 ante.

10 For the meaning of 'bus' see PARA 271 note 6 ante.

11 'Refuse vehicle' means a vehicle designed for use and used solely in connection with street cleansing, the collection or disposal of refuse, or the collection or disposal of the contents of gullies or cesspools: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

12 For the meaning of 'works truck' see PARA 278 note 18 ante.

13 For the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078 (as amended), other than reg 26 (as amended) (see PARA 297 post) and reg 27 (as amended) (see PARA 298 post), in counting the number of axles of, and in determining the sum of the weights transmitted to the road surface by any one axle of, a vehicle, all the wheels of which the centres of the areas of contact with the road surface can be included between any two transverse planes less than 0.5 metres apart are to be treated as constituting one axle: reg 3(2), Table, (8) (amended by SI 1992/2016). For the meaning of 'wheel' see PARA 267 note 2 ante. For the meaning of 'transverse plane' see PARA 271 note 7 ante.

14 See the text to note 15 infra.

UPDATE

279 Specified permitted overhang

NOTE 8--Directive 97/27 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability/280. Meaning of 'overhang'.

280. Meaning of 'overhang'.

'Overhang' means the distance measured horizontally and PARALLEL to the longitudinal axis of a vehicle between two transverse planes<sup>1</sup> passing through the following two points:

192 (1) the rearmost point of the vehicle exclusive of:

23. (a) any expanding or extensible contrivance forming part of a turntable fire escape fixed to a vehicle;

24. (b) in the case of a motor car<sup>2</sup> constructed solely for the carriage of passengers and their effects and adapted to carry not more than eight passengers exclusive of the driver<sup>3</sup>, any luggage carrier fitted to the vehicle; and

193 (2) in the case of a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> having not more than three axles<sup>5</sup> of which only one is not a steering axle, the centre point of that axle, in the case of a motor vehicle having three axles of which the front axle is the only steering axle and of a motor vehicle having four axles of which the two foremost are the only steering axles, a point 110 millimetres behind the centre of a straight line joining the centre points of the two rearmost axles, and, in any other case, a point situated on the longitudinal axis of the vehicle and such that a line drawn from it at right angles to that axis will pass through the centre of the minimum turning circle of the vehicle<sup>6</sup>.

- 1 For the meaning of 'transverse plane' see PARA 271 note 7 ante.
- 2 For the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 212 ante.
- 3 For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 ante.
- 4 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.
- 5 As to the meaning of 'axle' see PARA 279 note 13 ante.
- 6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ii) Dimensions and Manoeuvrability/281. Minimum ground clearance.

281. Minimum ground clearance.

A wheeled<sup>1</sup> trailer<sup>2</sup> which is a goods vehicle<sup>3</sup> and manufactured on or after 1 April 1984 must have a minimum ground clearance<sup>4</sup> of not less than 160 millimetres if the trailer has an axle interspace<sup>5</sup> of more than 6 metres but less than 11.5 metres, and a minimum ground clearance of not less than 190 millimetres if the trailer has an axle interspace of 11.5 metres or more<sup>6</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply in the case of a trailer:

- 194 (1) which is fitted with a suspension system with which, by the operation of a control, the trailer may be lowered or raised, while that system is being operated to enable the trailer to pass under a bridge or other obstruction over a road<sup>7</sup> provided that at such times the system is operated so that no part of the trailer (excluding any wheel) touches the ground or is likely to do so<sup>8</sup>; or
- 195 (2) while it is being loaded or unloaded<sup>9</sup>.

- 1 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.
- 2 For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.
- 3 For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 271 note 26 ante.

4 'Ground clearance' means the shortest distance between the ground and the lowest part of that portion of the trailer, excluding any part of a suspension, steering or braking system attached to any axle, any wheel and any air skirt, which lies within the area formed by the overall width of the trailer and the middle 70% of the axle interspace, such distance being ascertained when the trailer: (1) is fitted with suitable tyres which are inflated to a pressure recommended by the manufacturer; and (2) is reasonably horizontal and standing on ground which is reasonably flat: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 12(3). A brake drum and a brake disc are deemed to form part of the wheel and not of the braking system: reg 3(2), Table, (6). For the meaning of 'axle interspace' see note 5 infra; and for the meaning of 'overall width' see PARA 274 ante.

5 'Axle interspace' means: (1) in the case of a semi-trailer, the distance between the point of support of the semi-trailer at its forward end and, if it has only one axle, the centre of that axle or, if it has more than one axle, the point halfway between the centres of the foremost and rearmost of those axles; and (2) in the case of any other trailer, the distance between the centre of its front axle or, if it has more than one axle at the front, the point halfway between the centres of the foremost and rearmost of those axles, and the centre of its rear axle or, if it has more than one axle at the rear, the point halfway between the centre of the foremost and rearmost of those axles: ibid reg 12(3). For the meaning of 'semi-trailer' see PARA 271 note 6 ante; and as to the meaning of 'axle' see PARA 279 note 13 ante.

282. Turning circle for buses.

Every bus<sup>1</sup> first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 April 1982<sup>3</sup> is required to be able to move on either lock so that, both with and without all its wheels<sup>4</sup> in contact with the ground, no part of it projects outside the area contained between concentric circles with radii of 12.5 metres and 5.3 metres<sup>5</sup>.

When such a bus moves forward from rest, on either lock, so that its outermost point describes a circle of 12.5 metres radius, no part of the vehicle may project beyond the longitudinal plane<sup>6</sup> which, at the beginning of the manoeuvre, defines the overall width<sup>7</sup> of the vehicle on the side opposite to the direction in which it is turning by more than 0.8 metres, if it is a rigid vehicle of 12 metres or less in overall length<sup>8</sup>, or 1.2 metres, if it is a rigid bus of over 12 metres in overall length or an articulated bus<sup>9</sup>.

- 6 For the meaning of 'longitudinal plane' see PARA 274 note 1 ante.
- 7 For the meaning of 'overall width' see PARA 274 ante.
- 8 'Rigid vehicle' means a motor vehicle which is not constructed or adapted to form part of an articulated vehicle or articulated bus: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table. For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante; for the meaning of 'articulated vehicle' see PARA 271 note 6 ante; for the meaning of 'articulated bus' see PARA 271 note 6 ante; and for the meaning of 'overall length' see PARA 272 ante.
- 9 Ibid reg 13(3) (amended by SI 1998/1188; SI 2003/182). For these purposes, the two rigid portions of an articulated bus must be in line at the beginning of the manoeuvre: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 13(4).

Every articulated vehicle<sup>1</sup>, other than:

- 196 (1) an articulated vehicle the semi-trailer<sup>2</sup> of which: (a) was manufactured before 1 April 1990 and has an overall length<sup>3</sup> that does not exceed the overall length it had on that date; (b) is a car transporter<sup>4</sup>, a low loader<sup>5</sup> or a stepframe low loader<sup>6</sup> or is constructed and normally used for the conveyance of indivisible loads<sup>7</sup> of exceptional length<sup>8</sup>;
- 197 (2) an articulated vehicle having an overall length not exceeding 15.5 metres and of which the drawing vehicle was first used before 1 June 1998 or the trailer was first used before that date<sup>9</sup>; or
- 198 (3) an articulated vehicle when an axle of the trailer is raised to aid traction<sup>10</sup>, must be able to move on either lock so that both with and without all its wheels<sup>11</sup> in contact with the surface of the road (and with certain disregards<sup>12</sup>) no part of it projects outside the area contained between concentric circles with radii of 12.5 metres and 5.3 metres<sup>13</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iii) Brakes/287. Braking systems of certain vehicles first used on or after 1 April 1983.

(iii) Brakes

287. Braking systems of certain vehicles first used on or after 1 April 1983.

Subject to certain exceptions<sup>1</sup>, the braking system<sup>2</sup> of every wheeled<sup>3</sup> vehicle of a class specified in heads (1) to (6) below which, in the case of a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup>, is first used<sup>5</sup> on or after 1 April 1983 or which, in the case of a trailer<sup>6</sup>, is manufactured on or after 1 October 1982 must comply with the relevant construction, fitting and performance requirements<sup>7</sup>. The vehicles are:

- 204 (1) passenger vehicles<sup>8</sup> and dual-purpose vehicles<sup>9</sup> which have three or more wheels<sup>10</sup> except:
  - 11
  - 25. (a) dual-purpose vehicles constructed or adapted to carry not more than two passengers exclusive of the driver<sup>11</sup>;
  - 26. (b) motor cycles<sup>12</sup> with sidecar attached;
  - 27. (c) vehicles with three wheels, an unladen weight<sup>13</sup> not exceeding 410 kilograms, a maximum design speed<sup>14</sup> not exceeding 50 kilometres per hour and an engine capacity not exceeding 50 cubic centimetres; and
  - 28. (d) buses<sup>15</sup>;
- 12
- 205 (2) buses having a maximum gross weight<sup>16</sup> which does not exceed 5,000 kilograms<sup>17</sup>;
- 206 (3) buses having a maximum gross weight which exceeds 5,000 kilograms<sup>18</sup>;
- 207 (4) dual-purpose vehicles not within head (1) above and goods vehicles<sup>19</sup>, having a maximum gross weight which does not exceed 3,500 kilograms, and not being motor cycles with a sidecar attached<sup>20</sup>;
- 208 (5) goods vehicles with a maximum gross weight which: (a) exceeds 3,500 kilograms but does not exceed 12,000 kilograms<sup>21</sup>; or (b) exceeds 12,000 kilograms<sup>22</sup>;
- 209 (6) trailers with a maximum total design axle weight<sup>23</sup> which: (a) does not exceed 750 kilograms<sup>24</sup>; (b) exceeds 750 kilograms but does not exceed 3,500 kilograms<sup>25</sup>; (c) exceeds 3,500 kilograms but does not exceed 10,000 kilograms<sup>26</sup>; or (d) exceeds 10,000 kilograms<sup>27</sup>.

The above requirements as to braking systems<sup>28</sup> do not apply to<sup>29</sup>:

- 210 (i) an agricultural trailer<sup>30</sup> or agricultural trailed appliance<sup>31</sup> that is not, in either case, drawn at a speed exceeding 20 miles per hour<sup>32</sup>;
- 211 (ii) a locomotive<sup>33</sup>;
- 212 (iii) a motor tractor<sup>34</sup>;
- 213 (iv) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>35</sup> unless it is first used after 1 June 1986 and is driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>36</sup>;
- 214 (v) a vehicle which has a maximum speed not exceeding 25 kilometres per hour<sup>37</sup>;
- 215 (vi) a works trailer<sup>38</sup>;
- 216 (vii) a works truck<sup>39</sup>;
- 217 (viii) a public works vehicle<sup>40</sup>;
- 218 (ix) a trailer designed and constructed, or adapted, to be drawn exclusively by a vehicle to which head (ii), (iii), (v), (vii) or (viii) above apply<sup>41</sup>;
- 219 (x) certain other types of trailer<sup>42</sup>;
- 220 (xi) a trailer which is manufactured before 1 January 1997 and has a maximum total design axle weight that does not exceed 750 kilograms<sup>43</sup>; or 221 (xii) a vehicle manufactured by Leyland Vehicles Limited and known as the Atlantean Bus, if first used before 1 October 1984<sup>44</sup>.

7 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1) (amended by SI 1990/1981; SI 1995/551). The relevant construction, fitting and performance requirements are those specified in EEC Commission Directive 79/489 (OJ L128, 26.5.79, p 12) Annexes I, II, VII and, if relevant, Annexes III-VI, VIII; EEC Commission Directive 85/647 (OJ L380, 31.12.85, p 1) Annexes I, II and VII and, if relevant, Annexes III-VI, VIII, X-XII; EEC Commission Directive 88/194 (OJ L92, 9.4.88, p 47) Annexes I, II and VII and, if relevant, Annexes III-VI, VIII, X-XII; or EEC Commission Directive 91/422 (OJ L233, 22.8.91, p 21) Annexes I, II and VII and, if relevant, Annexes III-VI, VIII, X-XII (all of which amend EEC Council Directive 71/320 (OJ L202, 6.9.71, p 37) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the braking devices of certain categories of motor vehicles and of their trailers): see the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1A)-(1D) (reg 15(1A) added by SI 1987/676; and amended by SI 1990/1981; SI 1995/551; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1B) added by SI 1987/676; and substituted by SI 1990/1981; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1C) added by SI 1990/1981; and amended by SI 1995/551; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1D) added by SI 1995/551). As to the application of the testing requirements contained in the relevant European legislation see the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(3)-(7) (reg 15(3) amended by SI 1987/676; SI 1990/1981; SI 1992/352; SI 1995/551; SI 2001/3208; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(3A), (3B) added by SI 1987/676; and amended by SI 1995/551; SI 2001/3208; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(4) substituted by SI 1990/1981; and amended by SI 1992/352; SI 2001/3208; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(5) added by SI 1987/676; substituted by SI 1992/352; and amended by SI 2001/3208; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(5A) added by SI 1992/352; and amended by SI 1995/551; SI 2001/3208; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(6) added by SI 1987/676; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(7) added by SI 1987/676; and amended by SI 1990/1981; SI 1995/551; SI 2001/3208).

Subject to certain exceptions, the braking system of every wheeled vehicle of a class specified in heads (1)-(6) in the text which, in the case of a motor vehicle, is first used on or after 1 May 2002 or which, in the case of a trailer, is manufactured on or after 1 May 2002 must comply with the construction, fitting and performance requirements of EC Council Directive 98/12 (OJ L81, 18.3.1998, p 1) Annexes I, II and VII and, if relevant, Annexes III-VI, VIII, X-XIV: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1E) (added by SI 2001/3208; and amended by SI 2002/1474).

For the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1)-(7) (as amended), the date on which a trailer was manufactured is to be taken to be the date on which its manufacture was completed except that, in the case of a trailer whose manufacture has been completed for more than eight years and which has been the subject of a notifiable alteration under the Goods Vehicles (Plating and Testing) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1478, reg 30, it is to be taken to be the date on which the notifiable alteration was completed: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(8) (added by SI 2001/3208). A trailer, whose manufacture has been completed for more than eight years and which has been the subject of a notifiable alteration under the Goods Vehicles (Plating and Testing) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1478, reg 30, must comply with all requirements of European Community Directives relating to braking systems which applied to the trailer at the date when the notifiable alteration was completed: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(9) (added by SI 2001/3208).

8 'Passenger vehicle' means a vehicle constructed solely for the carriage of passengers and their effects: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

9 For the meaning of 'dual-purpose vehicle' see PARA 271 note 28 ante.

21 Ibid reg 15(1) (as amended: see note 7 supra), Table item 5.

22 Ibid reg 15(1) (as amended: see note 7 supra), Table item 6.

23 'Axle weight' means, in relation to each axle of a vehicle, the sum of the weights transmitted to the road surface by all the wheels of that axle, having regard to the provisions of ibid reg 3(8) (as amended) (see PARA 279 note 13 ante): reg 3(2), Table. As to the meaning of 'axle' see PARA 279 note 13 ante.

'Maximum total design axle weight' means: (1) in the case of a trailer equipped with a Ministry plate in accordance with reg 70 (as amended) (see PARA 368 post), the sum of the relevant axle weights; (2) in the case of a trailer which is not equipped with a Ministry plate, but which is equipped with a plate in accordance with reg 66 (as amended) (see PARA 364 post), the sum of the maximum axle weights shown on the plate in respect of reg 66 (as amended), Sch 8 Pt II item 4 (see PARA 364 post); or (3) in the case of any other trailer, the sum of the axle weights which the trailer is designed or adapted not to exceed when the vehicle is travelling on a road, and for the purposes of head (1) supra the relevant axle weight, in respect to an axle, is the design axle weight shown in column 3 or column 4 of the Ministry plate in relation to that axle or if no such weight is shown, the axle weight shown in column 2 of that plate in relation to that axle: reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1990/1981; and amended by SI 1994/329).

24 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1) (as amended: see note 7 supra), Table item 7.

- 39 Ibid reg 15(2)(g). For the meaning of 'works truck' see PARA 278 note 18 ante.
- 40 Ibid reg 15(2)(h). 'Public works vehicle' means a mechanically propelled vehicle which is used on a road by or on behalf of:
- 26 (1) the Central Scotland Water Development Board;
  - 27 (2) a ferry undertaking;
  - 28 (3) a highway or roads authority (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 49 et seq);
  - 29 (4) a local authority (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq);
  - 30 (5) a market undertaking (see MARKETS, FAIRS AND STREET TRADING);
  - 31 (6) the Environment Agency (see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 45 (2010) PARA 68 et seq);
  - 32 (7) an operator of an electronic communications code network (see TELECOMMUNICATIONS vol 97 (2010) PARA 174);
  - 33 (8) a police authority (see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 139 et seq);
  - 34 (9) a universal service provider (within the meaning of the Postal Services Act 2000) in connection with the provision of a universal postal service (within the meaning of that Act (see POST OFFICE vol 36(2) (Reissue) PARA 24);
  - 35 (10) a public electricity supplier within the meaning of the Electricity Act 1989 Pt I (ss 1-64) (as amended) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1241);
  - 36 (11) a gas transporter within the meaning of the Gas Act 1986 Pt I (ss 1-48) (as amended) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 805);
  - 37 (12) a statutory undertaker within the meaning of the Highways Act 1980 s 329(1) (as amended) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 80);
  - 38 (13) an undertaking for the supply of district heating;
  - 39 (14) a water authority within the meaning of the Water (Scotland) Act 1980; or
  - 40 (15) a water or sewerage undertaker within the meaning of the Water Act 1989 (see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARAS 108, 137),
- for the purpose of works which such a body has a duty or power to carry out, and which is used only for the carriage of the crew, and goods which are needed for works in respect of which the vehicle is used: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 120, Sch 22 para 233(1); by virtue of the Utilities Act 2000 s 76(7); and by SI 1990/1981; SI 1996/252; SI 2001/1149; SI 2003/2155). ## UPDATE

NOTE 7--Directive 71/320 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iii) Brakes/288. Vacuum or pressure brake warning devices.

288. Vacuum or pressure brake warning devices.

Every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> which is equipped with a braking system<sup>2</sup> which embodies a vacuum or pressure reservoir or reservoirs must be equipped with a device so placed as to be readily visible to the driver<sup>3</sup> of the vehicle and which is capable of indicating any impending failure of, or deficiency in, the vacuum or pressure system<sup>4</sup>. That requirement does not apply in respect of:

- 222 (1) certain vehicles to which specified provisions apply or which comply with specified requirements<sup>5</sup>;
- 223 (2) certain agricultural motor vehicles<sup>6</sup>;
- 224 (3) vehicles with an unladen weight<sup>7</sup> not exceeding 3,050 kilograms propelled by an internal combustion engine, if the vacuum in the reservoir or reservoirs is derived directly from the induction system of the engine, and if, in the event of a failure of, or deficiency in, the vacuum system, the brakes of that braking system are sufficient under the most adverse conditions to bring the vehicle to rest within a reasonable distance<sup>8</sup>; or
- 225 (4) a vehicle first used before 1 October 1937<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'braking system' see PARA 281 note 4 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 ante.

4 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17(1), which is expressed to be subject to reg 17(2) (as amended): see the text and notes 5-9 infra.

5 Ibid reg 17(2)(a) (substituted by SI 2001/3208). The vehicles referred to in the text are vehicles to which the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 15(1) (as amended), reg 15(1A), (1C) (as added and amended), reg 15(1D) (as added) or reg 15(1E) (as added and amended) (see PARA 287 ante) applies, or which comply with the requirements of reg 15 (as amended), EEC Council Directive 79/489 (OJ L128, 26.5.79, p 12), EEC Commission Directive 85/647 (OJ L380, 31.12.85, p 1), EEC Commission Directive 88/194 (OJ L92, 9.4.88, p 47), EC Commission Directive 91/422 (OJ L233, 22.8.91, p 21), EC Council Directive 98/12 (OJ L81, 18.3.1998, p 1), or ECE Regulation 13.03, 13.04, 13.05, 13.06, 13.07, 13.08 or 13.09. For the meaning of 'ECE Regulation' see PARA 270 note 2 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17(2)(b) (amended by SI 1998/2429). The agricultural motor vehicles referred to in the text are vehicles which comply with EEC Council Directive 76/432 (OJ L122, 8.5.76, p 1) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the braking devices of wheeled agricultural or forestry tractors (as amended) or EC Commission Directive 96/63 (OJ L253, 10.5.96, p 13) amending Council Directive 76/432.

7 For the meaning of 'unladen weight' see PARA 271 note 21 ante.

8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17(2)(c).

9 Ibid reg 17(2)(d).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iii) Brakes/289. Couplings on trailer pneumatic braking systems.

289. Couplings on trailer pneumatic braking systems.

No emergency line<sup>6</sup> comprised in a pneumatic braking system fitted to a trailer is to be equipped with a relevant coupling unless that coupling is of the prescribed type<sup>7</sup> and complies with the prescribed dimensions<sup>8</sup>.

No secondary line<sup>9</sup> comprised in a pneumatic braking system fitted to a trailer is to be equipped with a relevant coupling unless that coupling is of the prescribed type<sup>10</sup> and complies with the prescribed dimensions<sup>11</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'service line' has the same meaning as in the British Standard specification: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(1) (reg 17A added by SI 1996/3033). 'The British Standard specification' means the British Standard specification for dimensions of 'contact' type couplings for air pressure braking systems on trailers and semi-trailers and their towing vehicles, and the arrangements of these couplings on articulated and drawbar combinations, published by the British Standards Institution under reference number BS AU 138a: 1980 or BS AU 138b: 2000: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(1) (as so added; and amended by SI 2001/3208). For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante. As to the British Standards Institution see SALE OF GOODS AND SUPPLY OF SERVICES vol 41 (2005 Reissue) PARA 446.

2 For these purposes, a relevant coupling is a coupling that is physically capable of being connected to a BS coupling: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(2) (as added: see note 1 supra). 'BS coupling' means a coupling which: (1) is of the type, shown in figure 1, 4 or 5 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 1, 2 or 3 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000; and (2) complies with the dimensions shown in figure 1, 4 or 5 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 1, 2 or 3 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000; and 'coupling' has the same meaning as in the British Standard specification: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(1) (as so added; definition substituted by SI 2001/3208).

4 I.e. the dimensions shown in figure 2 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 4 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000.

5 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(3) (as added (see note 1 supra); and amended by SI 2001/3208). This is expressed to be subject to the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(6), (7) (as added). The prescribed requirements are those in the British Standard specification para 3.4.3, except so far as it requires it to be of a type shown in figure 2 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 4 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(3) (as so added and amended). For the purposes of reg 17A(3), (4), (5) (as added and amended), a reference to the dimensions shown in a figure in the British Standard specification does not include any dimension marked 'M22 x 1.5': Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(6) (as so added).

Regulation 17A(3) (as added and amended) does not prevent a line being equipped with a relevant coupling which fulfils the requirements of: (1) a standard or code of practice of a national standards body or equivalent body of any EEA state; (2) any international standard recognised for use as a standard by any EEA state; or (3) a technical specification or code of practice which, whether mandatory or not, is recognised for use as a standard by a public authority of any EEA state, where the standard, code of practice, international standard or technical specification provides, in relation to couplings, a level of safety and compatibility with BS couplings of the type shown in figure 1 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 1 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000 equivalent to that provided by those specifications as modified in accordance with the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(6) (as added): reg 17A(7) (as so added; and substituted by SI 2001/3208). The Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(7) (as added and substituted) has effect: (a) in relation to reg 17A(4) (as added), as if for 'reg 17A(3)' there were substituted the words 'reg 17A(4)' and for the words 'figure 1' (first and second places) there were substituted the words 'figure 4' and 'figure 2' respectively; and (b) in relation to reg 17A(5) (as added), as if for the words 'reg 17A(3)' there were substituted the words 'reg 17A(5)' and for the words 'figure 1' (first and second places) there were substituted the words 'figure 5' and 'figure 3' respectively: reg 17A(8) (as so added; and substituted by SI 2001/3208). 'EEA Agreement' means the Agreement on the European Economic Area signed at Oporto on 2 May 1992 (Cm 2073), as adjusted by the Protocol signed at Brussels on 17 March 1993; and 'EEA state' means a state which is a contracting party to the EEA Agreement: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(1) (as so added).

6 For these purposes, 'emergency line' has the same meaning as in the British Standard specification: ibid reg 17A(1) (as added: see note 1 supra).

7 Ie the type shown in figure 3 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 5 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000.

8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(4) (as added (see note 1 supra); and amended by SI 2001/3208). This is expressed to be subject to the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(6)-(8) (reg 17A(6) as added; reg 17(7), (8) as added and substituted) (see note 5 supra). The prescribed dimensions are those shown in figure 3 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 5 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(4) (as so added and amended).

9 For these purposes, 'secondary line' has the same meaning as in the British Standard specification: ibid reg 17A(1) (as added: see note 1 supra).

10 Ie the type shown in figure 6 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 6 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000.

11 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(5) (as added (see note 1 supra); and amended by SI 2001/3208). This is expressed to be subject to the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(6)-(8) (reg 17A(6) as added; reg 17(7), (8) as added and substituted) (see note 5 supra). The prescribed dimensions are those shown in figure 6 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138a: 1980 or figure 6 of the British Standard specification BS AU 138b: 2000: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 17A(5) (as so added and amended).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iii) Brakes/290. Maintenance and efficiency of brakes.

290. Maintenance and efficiency of brakes.

Every part of every braking system<sup>1</sup> and of its means of operation fitted to a vehicle must be maintained in good and efficient working order and be properly adjusted<sup>2</sup>.

226 (1) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>5</sup> which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>6</sup>;

- 227 (2) a works truck<sup>7</sup>;
- 228 (3) a pedestrian-controlled vehicle<sup>8</sup>; and
- 229 (4) an industrial tractor<sup>9</sup>,

which is of a specified class<sup>10</sup> must, subject to any relevant exemption<sup>11</sup>, be so maintained that: (a) its service braking system<sup>12</sup> has a total braking efficiency not less than that prescribed<sup>13</sup>; and (b) if the vehicle is a heavy motor car<sup>14</sup>, a motor car<sup>15</sup> first used<sup>16</sup> on or after 1 January 1915 or a motor cycle<sup>17</sup> first used on or after 1 January 1927, its secondary braking system<sup>18</sup> has a total braking efficiency not less than that prescribed<sup>19</sup>.

The brakes of every agricultural motor vehicle which is first used on or after 1 June 1986 and is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour, and of every agricultural trailer<sup>20</sup> manufactured on or after 1 December 1985 must be capable of achieving a braking efficiency of not less than 25 per cent when the weight of the vehicle is equal to the total maximum axle weights<sup>21</sup> which the vehicle is designed to have<sup>22</sup>.

Certain vehicles or combinations of vehicles<sup>23</sup> must be so maintained that their brakes are capable, without the assistance of stored energy<sup>24</sup>, of holding it stationary on a gradient of at least the prescribed percentage for that vehicle or combination<sup>25</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'braking system' see PARA 281 note 4 ante.

2 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 18(1). Without prejudice to reg 18(3) (see the text and notes 3-19 infra), where a vehicle is fitted with an anti-lock braking system ('the ABS') then, while the vehicle is completing a journey at the beginning of which the ABS was operating correctly or is being driven to a place where the ABS is to undergo repairs, any fault in the ABS is to be disregarded for the purposes of reg 18(1): reg 18(1A), (1B) (added by SI 1992/352). 'Anti-lock braking system' means a part of a service braking system which automatically controls the degree of slip, in the direction of rotation of the wheel or wheels, on one or more wheels of the vehicle during braking: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 2001/3208).

Where a goods vehicle of a specified category is being used to tow a trailer of a specified category and both vehicles are fitted with an ISO 7638 connector to provide a dedicated power supply to the anti-lock braking system, then these connectors are to be used regardless of any alternative method available on the vehicles to provide such power: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 18(1C) (added by SI 2001/3208). 'ISO' means International Organisation for Standardisation; and 'ISO 7638 connector' means an electrical connector that complies with standard ISO 7638: 1997-1 or ISO 7638: 1997-2 and is used to provide a dedicated power supply and a communication link between the tow vehicle and trailer: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definitions added by SI 2001/3208).

11 I.e. any exemption shown in ibid reg 18(3), Table I col 4.

12 'Service braking system' means the braking system of a vehicle which is designed and constructed to have the highest braking efficiency of any of the braking systems with which the vehicle is equipped: ibid reg

3(2), Table. 'Braking efficiency' means the maximum braking force capable of being developed by the brakes of a vehicle, expressed as a percentage of the weight of the vehicle including any persons or load carried in the vehicle: reg 3(2), Table.

13    Ie as shown in ibid reg 18(3), Table I col 3(a).

16    For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

17    For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante.

18    'Secondary braking system' means a braking system of a vehicle applied by a secondary means of operation independent of the service braking system or by one of the sections comprised in a split braking system: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

'Split braking system' means, in relation to a motor vehicle, a braking system so designed and constructed that: (1) it comprises two independent sections of mechanism capable of developing braking force such that, excluding the means of operation, a failure of any part (other than a fixed member or a brake shoe anchor pin) of one of the said sections will not cause a decrease in the braking force capable of being developed by the other section; (2) the said two sections are operated by a means of operation which is common to both sections; and (3) the braking efficiency of either of the said two sections can be readily checked: reg 3(2), Table.

19    Ibid reg 18(3). The total braking system so prescribed is that shown in reg 18(3), Table I col 3(b): reg 18(3). As to the circumstances in which a goods vehicle is not deemed to comply with the requirements of reg 18(3) see reg 18(4); and as to the circumstances in which a bus is not deemed to comply with the requirements of reg 18(3) see reg 18(4A)-(4C) (added by SI 1995/551). A vehicle which is subject to, and which complies with the requirements in, the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 18, Table I item 1 and Table II item 1 is not to be treated as failing, by reason of its braking efficiency, to comply with reg 15 (as amended) (see PARA 287 ante) or with EEC Commission Directive 79/489 (OJ L128, 26.5.79, p 12), EEC Commission Directive 85/647 (OJ L380, 31.12.85, p 1), EEC Commission Directive 88/194 (OJ L92, 9.4.88, p 47), EC Commission Directive 91/422 (OJ L233, 22.8.91, p 21), EC Council Directive 98/12 (OJ L81, 18.3.1998, p 1) or ECE Regulation 13.03, 13.04, 13.05, 13.06, 13.07, 13.08 or 13.09: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 18(8) (amended by SI 1990/1981; SI 1992/352; SI 1995/551; SI 2001/3208). CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iii) Brakes/291. Application of brakes of trailers.

291. Application of brakes of trailers.

Where a trailer<sup>1</sup> is drawn by a motor vehicle<sup>2</sup>, the driver<sup>3</sup> (or in the case of a locomotive<sup>4</sup> one of the persons employed in driving or tending the locomotive) must be in a position readily to operate any brakes required<sup>5</sup> to be fitted to the trailer as well as the brakes of the motor vehicle unless a person other than the driver (or in the case of a locomotive a person other than one of the persons employed in driving or tending the locomotive) is in a position and competent efficiently to apply the brakes of the trailer<sup>6</sup>.

The above provisions do not, however, apply to a trailer which:

- 230 (1) is fitted<sup>7</sup> with brakes which automatically come into operation on the overrun of the trailer<sup>8</sup>; or
- 231 (2) is a broken-down vehicle<sup>9</sup> being drawn, whether or not in consequence of a breakdown, in such a manner that it cannot be steered by its own steering gear<sup>10</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iv) Wheels, Springs, Tyres and Tracks/292. General requirement as to wheels and tracks.

(iv) Wheels, Springs, Tyres and Tracks

292. General requirement as to wheels and tracks.

Every motor cycle<sup>1</sup> and invalid carriage<sup>2</sup> must be a wheeled<sup>3</sup> vehicle, and every other motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> and every trailer<sup>5</sup> must be either a wheeled vehicle or a track-laying<sup>6</sup> vehicle<sup>7</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iv) Wheels, Springs, Tyres and Tracks/293. Springs and resilient material.

293. Springs and resilient material.

Every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> and every trailer<sup>2</sup>, other than a works truck<sup>3</sup> or works trailer<sup>4</sup>, must be equipped with suitable and sufficient springs between each wheel<sup>5</sup> and the frame of the vehicle<sup>6</sup>. In the case of a track-laying<sup>7</sup> vehicle:

- 232 (1) resilient material must be interposed between the rims of the weight-carrying rollers and the road surface so that the weight of the vehicle, other than that borne by any wheel, is supported by the resilient material<sup>8</sup>; and
- 233 (2) where the vehicle is a heavy motor car<sup>9</sup>, motor car<sup>10</sup> or trailer, other than a works truck or works trailer, it must have suitable springs between the frame of the vehicle and the weight-carrying rollers<sup>11</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to:

- 234 (a) a wheeled<sup>12</sup> vehicle with an unladen weight<sup>13</sup> not exceeding 4,070 kilograms which is: (i) a motor tractor<sup>14</sup> any unsprung wheel of which is fitted with a pneumatic tyre<sup>15</sup>; (ii) a motor tractor used in connection with railway shunting and which is used on a road<sup>16</sup> only when passing from one railway track to another in connection with such use<sup>17</sup>; (iii) a vehicle specially designed, and mainly used, for work on rough ground or unmade roads and every wheel of which is fitted with a pneumatic tyre and which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>18</sup>; or (iv) a vehicle constructed or adapted for, and being used for, road sweeping and every wheel of which is fitted with either a pneumatic tyre or a resilient tyre<sup>19</sup> and which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>20</sup>;
- 235 (b) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>21</sup> which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>22</sup>;
- 236 (c) an agricultural trailer<sup>23</sup>, or an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>24</sup>;
- 237 (d) a trailer used solely for the haulage of felled trees<sup>25</sup>;
- 238 (e) a motor cycle<sup>26</sup>;
- 239 (f) a mobile crane<sup>27</sup>;
- 240 (g) a pedestrian-controlled vehicle<sup>28</sup> all the wheels of which are equipped with pneumatic tyres<sup>29</sup>;
- 241 (h) a road roller<sup>30</sup>;
- 242 (i) a broken-down vehicle<sup>31</sup>; or
- 243 (j) a vehicle first used<sup>32</sup> on or before 1 January 1932<sup>33</sup>.

294. Wheel loads.

Each of the following vehicles, that is to say:

- 244 (1) a semi-trailer<sup>1</sup> with more than two wheels<sup>2</sup>;
- 245 (2) a track-laying<sup>3</sup> vehicle with more than two wheels<sup>4</sup>; and
- 246 (3) any other vehicle with more than four wheels<sup>5</sup>, other than a road roller<sup>6</sup>, must be fitted with a compensating arrangement which will ensure that under the most adverse conditions every wheel will remain in contact with the road<sup>7</sup> and will not be subject to abnormal variations of load<sup>8</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply in respect of a steerable wheel on which the load does not exceed: (a) if it is a wheeled<sup>9</sup> vehicle, 4,250 kilograms<sup>10</sup>; and (b) if it is a track-laying vehicle, 2,540 kilograms<sup>11</sup>.

295. Tyres.

Every wheel<sup>1</sup> of a vehicle of a class specified in heads (1) to (7) below must be fitted with a tyre of a specified type which complies with any conditions specified in that head; but those requirements do not apply to a road roller and are subject, in the case of any item in heads (1) to (7) below, to the exemptions specified<sup>2</sup>:

- 247 (1) Locomotives<sup>3</sup> not falling in head (6) below must be fitted with pneumatic<sup>4</sup> or resilient<sup>5</sup> tyres<sup>6</sup>.
- 248 (2) Motor tractors<sup>7</sup> not falling in head (6) below must be fitted with pneumatic or resilient tyres, but no recut pneumatic tyre<sup>8</sup> is to be fitted to any wheel of a vehicle with an unladen weight<sup>9</sup> of less than 2,540 kilograms unless the diameter of the rim<sup>10</sup> of the wheel is at least 405 millimetres<sup>11</sup>.
- 249 (3) Heavy motor cars<sup>12</sup> not falling in head (6) below must be fitted with pneumatic tyres, except in the case of the following, if every wheel not fitted with a pneumatic tyre is fitted with a resilient tyre: (a) a vehicle mainly used for work on rough ground; (b) a tower wagon; (c) a vehicle fitted with a turntable fire escape; (d) a refuse vehicle; (e) a works truck<sup>13</sup>; and (f) a vehicle first used<sup>14</sup> before 3 January 1933<sup>15</sup>.
- 250 (4) Motor cars<sup>16</sup> not falling in head (6) below must be fitted with pneumatic tyres, but no recut tyre is to be fitted to any wheel of a vehicle unless it is: (a) an electrically propelled goods vehicle<sup>17</sup>; or (b) a goods vehicle with an unladen weight of at least 2,540 kilograms and the diameter of the rim of the wheel is at least 405 millimetres. There is an exemption for the following, if every wheel not fitted with a pneumatic tyre is fitted with a resilient tyre: a vehicle mainly used for work on rough ground, a refuse vehicle, a works truck, a vehicle with an unladen weight not exceeding 1,270 kilograms if electrically propelled or 1,020 kilograms in any other case, a tower wagon, a vehicle fitted with a turn-table fire escape and a vehicle first used before 3 January 1933<sup>18</sup>.
- 251 (5) Motor cycles<sup>19</sup> must be fitted with pneumatic tyres but no recut tyre is to be fitted, except in the case of the following, if every wheel not fitted with a pneumatic tyre is fitted with a resilient tyre, that is to say a works truck and a pedestrian-controlled vehicle<sup>20</sup>.
- 252 (6) Agricultural motor vehicles<sup>21</sup> which are not driven at more than 20 miles per hour must be fitted with pneumatic or resilient tyres, but no recut pneumatic tyre is to be fitted to any wheel of a vehicle with an unladen weight of less than 2,540 kilograms unless the diameter of the rim of the wheel is at least 405 millimetres. The requirement to be fitted with pneumatic or resilient tyres does not apply to a vehicle of which every steering wheel is fitted with a smooth-soled tyre which is not less than 60 millimetres wide where it touches the road and, in the case of a wheeled<sup>22</sup> vehicle, every driving wheel is fitted with a smooth-soled tyre which satisfies certain criteria<sup>23</sup>.
- 253 (7) Trailers<sup>24</sup> must be fitted with pneumatic tyres, and except in the case of a trailer mentioned in head (d) below, no recut tyre is to be fitted to any wheel of a trailer drawn by a heavy motor car or a motor car if the trailer has an unladen weight not exceeding 2,040 kilograms if it is a living van<sup>25</sup>, or 1,020 kilograms in any other case, or is not constructed or adapted to carry any load, other than plant or other special appliance which is a permanent or essentially permanent fixture and has a gross weight<sup>26</sup> not exceeding 2,290 kilograms. There is an exemption in the case of:

- 29. (a) an agricultural trailer<sup>27</sup> manufactured before 1 December 1985;
- 30. (b) an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>28</sup>;
- 31. (c) a trailer used to carry water for a road roller being used in connection with road works;
- 32. (d) the following, if every wheel which is not fitted with a pneumatic tyre is fitted with a resilient tyre, that is to say a works trailer<sup>29</sup>, a refuse vehicle, a trailer drawn by a heavy motor car every wheel of which is not required to be fitted with a pneumatic tyre, a broken-down vehicle or a trailer drawn by a vehicle which is not a heavy motor car or a motor car<sup>30</sup>.

A wheel of a vehicle, not being a vehicle constructed or assembled by a person not ordinarily engaged in the trade or business of manufacturing vehicles of that description, may not be fitted with a temporary use spare tyre<sup>31</sup> unless either: (i) the vehicle is a passenger vehicle<sup>32</sup>, not being a bus<sup>33</sup>, first used before 1 April 1987; or (ii) the vehicle complies at the time of its first use with the relevant EC requirements<sup>34</sup>.

8 'Recut pneumatic tyre' means a pneumatic tyre in which all or part of its original tread pattern has been cut deeper or burnt deeper or a different tread pattern has been cut deeper or burnt deeper than the original tread pattern: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

9 For the meaning of 'unladen weight' see PARA 271 note 21 ante.

10 'Rim diameter' is to be interpreted in accordance with the British Standards BS AU 50: Pt 2: s 1: 1980 entitled 'British Standard Automobile Series: Specification for Tyres and Wheels Pt 2. Wheels and rims s 1. Rim profiles and dimensions (including openings for valves)' which came into effect on 28 November 1980 (see now BS AU 50: Pt 4: 1991; BS AU 50: Pt 4: 1995); and 'rim diameter size code' is to be interpreted in accordance with that British Standard: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1990/1981).

UPDATE

295 Tyres

NOTE 34--Directive 92/23 replaced with effect from 1 November 2017: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iv) Wheels, Springs, Tyres and Tracks/296. Tyre loads and speed ratings.

296. Tyre loads and speed ratings.

Any tyre fitted to the axle<sup>1</sup> of a vehicle mentioned in heads (1) to (3) below must comply with the relevant requirements<sup>2</sup>:

- 254 (1) a vehicle which is of one or more of the following descriptions and first used<sup>3</sup> before 1 April 1991, namely: (a) a goods vehicle<sup>4</sup>; (b) a trailer; (c) a bus<sup>5</sup>; and (d) any other specified class of vehicle<sup>6</sup>;

- 255 (2) a vehicle which is of one or more of the following descriptions and first used on or after 1 April 1991, namely: (a) a goods vehicle; (b) a trailer; (c) a bus; and (d) any other specified class of vehicle<sup>7</sup>, and does not fall within head (3) below<sup>8</sup>; and
- 256 (3) any vehicle falling within one of the following classes and first used on or after 1 April 1991: (a) engineering plant<sup>9</sup>; (b) track-laying<sup>10</sup> vehicles; (c) vehicles equipped with tyres of speed category Q; (d) works trucks<sup>11</sup>; and (e) motor vehicles with a maximum speed<sup>12</sup> not exceeding 30 miles per hour, not being vehicles of a class otherwise specified<sup>13</sup>, or trailers while being drawn by such vehicles<sup>14</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to any tyre fitted to the axle of a vehicle if the vehicle is broken down<sup>15</sup> or proceeding to a place where it is to be broken up and being drawn by a motor vehicle at a speed not exceeding 20 miles per hour<sup>16</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'axle' see PARA 279 note 13 ante.

2 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(1) (reg 25 substituted by SI 1990/1981; and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(1) amended by SI 1995/551). This is expressed to be subject to the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(3), (4) (reg 25(4) as amended), reg 25(7A) (as added and amended), reg 25(7B) (as added).

The relevant requirements are the requirements of reg 25(5), (6) (as substituted), in the case of reg 25(1), Table I item 1 (as substituted) (see head (1) in the text), of reg 25(5)-(7) (as substituted and amended), in the case of reg 25(1), Table I item 2 (as substituted) (see head (2) in the text), and of reg 25(5) (as substituted and amended), in the case of reg 25(1), Table I item 3 (as substituted) (see head (3) in the text). The requirements of reg 25(5) (as substituted) are that the tyre, as respects strength, must be designed and manufactured adequately to support the maximum permitted axle weight for the axle: reg 25(5) (as so substituted). The requirements of reg 25(6) (as substituted and amended) are that the tyre must be designed and manufactured adequately to support the maximum permitted axle weight for the axle when the vehicle is driven at the speed shown in reg 25(6), Table II col 3 (as substituted and amended) in the item in which the vehicle is described in Table II col 2 (as substituted and amended) (the lowest relevant speed being applicable to a vehicle which is described in more than one item): reg 25(6) (as so substituted; and amended by SI 1991/2710; SI 1992/3088). The requirement of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(7) (as substituted and amended) is that the tyre when first fitted to the vehicle was marked with a designated approval mark or complied with the requirements of ECE Regulation 30, 30.01, 30.02 or 54, but this requirement does not apply to a retreaded tyre: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(7) (as so substituted; and amended by SI 1991/2710; SI 1992/3088). Where in relation to any vehicle first used on or after 1 April 1991 a tyre supplied by a manufacturer for the purposes of tests or trials of that tyre is fitted to an axle of that vehicle, the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(7) (as substituted and amended) does not apply to that tyre while it is being used for those purposes: reg 25(4) (as so substituted; and amended by SI 1991/2710). The requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(6), (7) (as substituted and amended) do not apply to any tyre fitted to the axle of a vehicle of a class specified in an item in reg 25(7A), Table III col 2 (as added) while the vehicle is being driven or drawn at a speed not exceeding that specified in that item in Table III col 3 (as added): reg 25(7A) (added by SI 1991/2710; and amended by SI 1995/551). For the meaning of 'ECE Regulation' see PARA 270 note 2 ante.

'Retreaded tyre' means a tyre which has been reconditioned to extend its useful life by replacement of the tread rubber or by replacement of the tread rubber and renovation of the sidewall rubber: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1990/1981).

'Maximum permitted axle weight' means in relation to an axle: (1) in the case of a vehicle which is equipped with a Ministry plate in accordance with the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 70 (as amended), the axle weight shown in column 2 of that plate (where the plate is in the form required by reg 70 (as amended), Sch 10 or Sch 10B (as added)) or in column 2 of that plate (where the plate is in the form required by reg 70 (as amended), Sch 10A (as added) or Sch 10C (as added)) (see PARA 368 post) in relation to that axle; (2) in the case of a vehicle which is not equipped with a Ministry plate but which is equipped with a plate in accordance with reg 66 (as amended), the maximum axle weight shown for that axle on the plate in respect of reg 66 (as amended), Sch 8 Pt I item 9 in the case of a motor vehicle and Sch 8 Pt II item 7 in the case of a trailer; and (3) in any other case, the weight which the axle is designed or adapted not to exceed when the vehicle is travelling on a road: reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1990/1981; and amended by SI 1994/329). As to Ministry plates see PARA 368 post. As to the meaning of 'axle' see PARA 279 note 13 ante; and for the meaning of 'axle weight' see PARA 287 note 23 ante. For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

Where a tyre fitted to the axle of a vehicle: (a) bears a speed category symbol and load-capacity index, being marks that were moulded on to or into the tyre at the time that it was manufactured; (b) is designed and manufactured so as to be capable of operating safely at the speed and load indicated by those marks; and (c) is designed so as to be capable of being fitted to the axle of a vehicle of a class specified in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(7A) (as added and amended), Table III col 2 item 1, 2, 3 or 4 (as added) (see note 6 infra), reg 25(7) (as substituted and amended) does not apply to the tyre if: (i) the vehicle is being driven or drawn at a speed that does not exceed the speed indicated by the speed category symbol or 50 mph (whichever is the less); and (ii) the load on the tyre does not exceed the load indicated by the load-capacity index: reg 25(7B), (7C) (added by SI 1995/551).

3 For these purposes, any reference to the first use is, in relation to a trailer, to be construed as a reference to the date which is six months after the date of manufacture of the trailer: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(10) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). For the general meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante. For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 271 note 26 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'bus' see PARA 271 note 6 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(1) (as substituted and amended: see note 2 supra), Table I item 1 (Table I substituted by SI 1991/2710). The specified classes of vehicles are agricultural motor vehicles, agricultural trailers, agricultural trailed appliances, agricultural trailed appliance conveyors and works trailers: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(7A), Table III col 2 (added by SI 1991/2710). For the meaning of 'agricultural motor vehicle' see PARA 271 note 28 ante; for the meaning of 'agricultural trailer' see PARA 271 note 30 ante; for the meaning of 'agricultural trailed appliance' see PARA 271 note 21 ante; and for the meaning of 'works trailer' see PARA 278 note 6 ante. 'Agricultural trailed appliance conveyor' means an agricultural trailer which: (1) has an unladen weight which does not exceed 510 kg; (2) is clearly and indelibly marked with its unladen weight; (3) has a pneumatic tyre fitted to each one of its wheels; and (4) is designed and constructed for the purpose of conveying one agricultural trailed appliance or one agricultural, horticultural or forestry implement: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

7 For the specified classes of vehicles see note 6 supra.

8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 25(1) (as substituted and amended: see note 2 supra), Table I item 2 (as substituted: see note 6 supra).

9 For the meaning of 'engineering plant' see PARA 271 note 11 ante.

10 For the meaning of 'track-laying' see PARA 267 note 3 ante.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iv) Wheels, Springs, Tyres and Tracks/297. Mixing of tyres.

297. Mixing of tyres.

Pneumatic tyres<sup>1</sup> of different types of structure<sup>2</sup> must not be fitted to the same axle<sup>3</sup> of a wheeled<sup>4</sup> vehicle<sup>5</sup>.

A wheeled motor vehicle<sup>6</sup> having only two axles each of which is equipped with one or two single wheels<sup>7</sup> must not be fitted with<sup>8</sup>:

- 257 (1) a diagonal-ply tyre<sup>9</sup> or a bias-belted tyre<sup>10</sup> on its rear axle if a radial-ply tyre<sup>11</sup> is fitted on its front axle<sup>12</sup>; or
- 258 (2) a diagonal-ply tyre on its rear axle if a bias-belted tyre is fitted on the front axle<sup>13</sup>.

However, that prohibition does not apply to a vehicle to an axle of which there are fitted wide tyres<sup>14</sup> not specially constructed for use on engineering plant<sup>15</sup> or to a vehicle which has a maximum speed<sup>16</sup> not exceeding 30 miles per hour<sup>17</sup>.

Pneumatic tyres fitted to the steerable axles of a wheeled vehicle or the driven axles<sup>18</sup> of a wheeled vehicle, not being steerable axles, must all be of the same type of structure<sup>19</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'pneumatic tyre' see PARA 271 note 11 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'type of structure', in relation to a tyre, means a type of structure of a tyre of a kind defined in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 26(1)-(5) (as amended) (see the text and notes 5-24 infra): reg 26(6).

3 For these purposes, 'axle' includes: (1) two or more stub axles which are fitted on opposite sides of the longitudinal axis of the vehicle so as to form: (a) a pair in the case of two stub axles; and (b) pairs in the case of more than two stub axles; and (2) a single stub axle which is not one of a pair: ibid reg 26(6). 'Stub axle' means an axle on which only one wheel is mounted: reg 26(6). As to the meaning of 'axle' generally see PARA 279 note 13 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

5 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 26(1).

6 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'wheel' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 26(2).

9 For these purposes, 'a diagonal-ply tyre' means a pneumatic tyre, the structure of which is such that the ply cords extend to the bead so as to be laid at alternate angles of substantially less than 90° to the peripheral line of the tread, but not being a bias-belted tyre: ibid reg 26(6).

10 For these purposes, 'a bias-belted tyre' means a pneumatic tyre, the structure of which is such that the ply cords extend to the bead so as to be laid at alternate angles of substantially less than 90° to the peripheral line of the tread, and are constrained by a circumferential belt comprising two or more layers of substantially inextensible cord material laid at alternate angles smaller than those of the ply cord structure: ibid reg 26(6).

11 For these purposes, 'a radial-ply tyre' means a pneumatic tyre, the structure of which is such that the ply cords extend to the bead so as to be laid at an angle of substantially 90° to the peripheral line of the tread, the ply cord structure being stabilised by a substantially inextensible circumferential belt: ibid reg 26(6).

12 Ibid reg 26(2)(a).

13 Ibid reg 26(2)(b).

14 'Wide tyre' means a pneumatic tyre of which the area of contact with the road surface is not less than 300 mm in width when measured at right angles to the longitudinal axis of the vehicle: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

- 15 For the meaning of 'engineering plant' see PARA 271 note 11 ante.
- 16 For the meaning of 'maximum speed' see PARA 278 note 17 ante.
- 17 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 26(3).
- 18 For these purposes, 'a driven axle' means an axle through which power is transmitted from the engine of a vehicle to the wheels on that axle: ibid reg 26(6).
- 19 Ibid reg 26(4) (amended by SI 1990/1981).
- 20 Ie the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 26(1), (2), (4) (as amended).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(iv) Wheels, Springs, Tyres and Tracks/298. Condition and maintenance of tyres.

298. Condition and maintenance of tyres.

A wheeled<sup>1</sup> motor vehicle<sup>2</sup> or trailer<sup>3</sup> a wheel<sup>4</sup> of which is fitted with a pneumatic tyre<sup>5</sup> must not be used on a road<sup>6</sup> if:

- 259 (1) the tyre is unsuitable having regard to the use to which the motor vehicle or trailer is being put or to the types of tyres fitted to its other wheels<sup>7</sup>;
- 260 (2) the tyre is not so inflated as to make it fit for the use to which the motor vehicle or trailer is being put<sup>8</sup>;
- 261 (3) the tyre has a cut in excess of 25 millimetres or 10 per cent of the section width of the tyre, whichever is the greater, measured in any direction on the outside of the tyre and deep enough to reach the ply or cord<sup>9</sup>;
- 262 (4) the tyre has any lump, bulge or tear caused by separation or partial failure of its structure<sup>10</sup>;
- 263 (5) the tyre has any of the ply or cord exposed<sup>11</sup>;
- 264 (6) the base of any groove<sup>12</sup> which showed in the original tread pattern<sup>13</sup> of the tyre is not clearly visible<sup>14</sup>;
- 265 (7) either (a) the grooves of the tread pattern of the tyre do not have a depth of at least 1 millimetre throughout a continuous band measuring at least three-quarters of the breadth of the tread and round the entire outer circumference of the tyre<sup>15</sup>; or (b) if the grooves of the original tread pattern of the tyre did not extend beyond three-quarters of the breadth of the tread, any groove which showed in the original tread pattern does not have a depth of at least 1 millimetre<sup>16</sup>; or
- 266 (8) the tyre is not maintained in such condition as to be fit for the use to which the vehicle or trailer is being put or has a defect which might in any way cause damage to the surface of the road or damage to persons on or in the vehicle or to other persons using the road<sup>17</sup>.

The above provisions do not prohibit the use on a road of a motor vehicle or trailer by reason only of the fact that a wheel of the vehicle or trailer is fitted with a tyre which is deflated or not fully inflated and which has any of the defects described in head (3), (4) or (5) above, if the tyre and the wheel to which it is fitted are so constructed as to make the tyre in that condition fit for the use to which the motor vehicle or trailer is being put and the outer sides of the wall of the tyre are so marked as to enable the tyre to be identified as having been constructed to comply with the requirements as to condition and maintenance of tyres<sup>18</sup>.

Head (1) above does not prohibit the use on a road of a passenger vehicle<sup>19</sup>, not being a bus<sup>20</sup>, by reason only of the fact that a wheel of the vehicle is fitted with a temporary use spare tyre<sup>21</sup>, unless the vehicle is driven at a speed exceeding 50 miles per hour<sup>22</sup>.

Nothing in heads (1) to (7) above applies to:

- 267 (i) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>23</sup> that is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>24</sup>;
- 268 (ii) an agricultural trailer<sup>25</sup>;
- 269 (iii) an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>26</sup>; or
- 270 (iv) a broken-down vehicle<sup>27</sup> or a vehicle proceeding to a place where it is to be broken up, being drawn, in either case, by a motor vehicle at a speed not exceeding 20 miles per hour<sup>28</sup>.

Nothing in heads (6) and (7) above applies to a three-wheeled motor cycle<sup>29</sup> the unladen weight<sup>30</sup> of which does not exceed 102 kilograms and which has a maximum speed<sup>31</sup> of 12 miles per hour or a pedestrian-controlled<sup>32</sup> works truck<sup>33</sup>; nor does anything in head (7) above apply to a motor cycle with an engine capacity which does not exceed 50 cubic centimetres<sup>34</sup>.

With effect from 1 January 1992, heads (7) and (8) above do not apply to:

- 271 (A) passenger vehicles other than motor cycles constructed or adapted to carry no more than eight seated passengers in addition to the driver<sup>35</sup>;
- 272 (B) goods vehicles with a maximum gross weight<sup>36</sup> which does not exceed 3,500 kilograms<sup>37</sup>; and
- 273 (C) light trailers<sup>38</sup> not falling within head (B) above<sup>39</sup>, first used<sup>40</sup> on or after 3 January 1933<sup>41</sup>; but such vehicles must comply with certain requirements<sup>42</sup>.

A recut pneumatic tyre must not be fitted to any wheel of a motor vehicle or trailer if its ply or cord has been cut or exposed by the recutting process or it has been wholly or partially recut in a pattern other than the manufacturer's recut tread pattern<sup>43</sup>.

12 For these purposes, the references to grooves are references if a tyre has been recut, to the grooves of the manufacturer's recut tread pattern and, if a tyre has not been recut, to the grooves which showed when the tyre was new: ibid reg 27(6)(b) (amended by SI 1990/1981). 'Tread pattern' means the combination of plain surfaces and grooves extending across the breadth of the tread and round the entire outer circumference of the tyre but excludes any: (1) tie bars or tread wear indicators; (2) features which are designed to wear out substantially before the rest of the pattern under normal conditions of use; and (3) other minor features; and 'tread wear indicator' means any bar, not being a tie-bar, projecting from the base of a groove of the tread pattern of a tyre and moulded between two or more features of the tread pattern of a tyre for the purpose of indicating the extent of the wear of such tread pattern: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 27(6)(a). 'Tie-bar' means any part of a tyre moulded in the tread pattern of the tyre for the purpose of bracing two or more features of such tread pattern: reg 27(6)(a). 'Breadth of tread' means the breadth of that part of the tyre which can contact the road under normal conditions of use measured at 90° to the peripheral line of the tread: reg 27(6)(a).

13 For these purposes, 'original tread pattern' means in the case of: (1) a retreaded tyre, the tread pattern of the tyre immediately after the tyre was retreaded; (2) a wholly recut tyre, the manufacturer's recut tread pattern; (3) a partially recut tyre, on that part of the tyre which has been recut, the manufacturer's recut tread pattern, and on the other part, the tread pattern of the tyre when new; and (4) any other tyre, the tread pattern of the tyre when the tyre was new: ibid reg 27(6)(a).

299. Tracks.

Every part of every track of a track-laying<sup>1</sup> vehicle which comes into contact with the road<sup>2</sup> must be flat and have a width of not less than 12.5 millimetres<sup>3</sup>.

The area of the track which is in contact with the road must not at any time be less than 225 square centimetres in respect of every 1,000 kilograms of the total weight which is transferred to the road by the tracks<sup>4</sup>.

The tracks of a vehicle must not have any defect which might damage the road or cause danger to any person on or in the vehicle or using the road, and must be properly adjusted and maintained in good and efficient working order<sup>5</sup>.

(vi) Vision

301. View to the front.

Every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> must be so designed and constructed that the driver<sup>2</sup> of it, while controlling the vehicle, can at all times have a full view of the road<sup>3</sup> and traffic ahead of the motor vehicle<sup>4</sup>.

All glass or other transparent material fitted to a motor vehicle must be maintained in such condition that it does not obscure the vision of the driver while the vehicle is being driven on a road<sup>5</sup>.

301 View to the front

NOTE 4--Directive 77/649 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(vi) Vision/302. Glass in wheeled vehicles first used before 1 June 1978, and in caravans first used before 1 September 1978 and track-laying vehicles.

302. Glass in wheeled vehicles first used before 1 June 1978, and in caravans first used before 1 September 1978 and track-laying vehicles.

In the case of a motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> which is:

- 274 (1) a wheeled<sup>2</sup> vehicle, not being a caravan<sup>3</sup>, first used<sup>4</sup> before 1 June 1978<sup>5</sup>;
- 275 (2) a caravan first used before 1 September 1978<sup>6</sup>; or the glass fitted to any window specified in heads (a) to (d) below of a vehicle of a class specified in the relevant head must be safety glass<sup>9</sup>:
- 276 (3) a track-laying<sup>7</sup> vehicle<sup>8</sup>,

- 277 (a) in the case of wheeled vehicles first used on or after 1 January 1959, being passenger vehicles<sup>10</sup> or dual-purpose vehicles<sup>11</sup>, the windscreens and all outside windows must be safety glass<sup>12</sup>;
- 278 (b) in the case of wheeled vehicles first used on or after 1 January 1959, being goods vehicles<sup>13</sup> (other than dual-purpose vehicles), locomotives<sup>14</sup> or motor tractors<sup>15</sup>, the windscreens and all windows in front<sup>16</sup> of and on either side of the driver's seat must be safety glass<sup>17</sup>;
- 279 (c) in the case of wheeled vehicles not mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above, the windscreens and windows facing to the front on the outside, except glass fitted to the upper decks<sup>18</sup> of a double-decked vehicle<sup>19</sup> must be safety glass<sup>20</sup>;
- 280 (d) in the case of track-laying vehicles, the windscreens and windows facing to the front must be safety glass<sup>21</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to glass which is legibly and permanently marked with a designated approval mark<sup>22</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

3 For these purposes, and for the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 32 (as amended) (see PARA 303 post), 'caravan' means a trailer which is constructed (and not merely adapted) for human habitation: reg 31(4) (substituted by SI 1987/676).

4 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

5 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 31(1)(a).

- 6 Ibid reg 31(1)(b).

- 8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 31(1)(c).
- 9 Ibid reg 31(2). For these purposes, and for the purposes of reg 32 (as amended) (see PARA 303 post), 'safety glass' means glass so constructed or treated that, if fractured, it does not fly into fragments likely to cause severe cuts: reg 31(4) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).
- 10 For the meaning of 'passenger vehicle' see PARA 287 note 8 ante.
- 11 For the meaning of 'dual-purpose vehicle' see PARA 271 note 28 ante.
- 12 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 31(2), Table item 1.

- 16 For the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 31 (as amended), any windscreen or window at the front of the vehicle the inner surface of which is at an angle exceeding 30° to the longitudinal axis of the vehicle is deemed to face to the front: reg 31(3).
- 17 Ibid reg 31(2), Table item 2.
- 18 'Deck' means a floor or platform on which seats are provided for the accommodation of passengers: ibid reg 3(2), Table.
- 19 'Double-decked vehicle' means a vehicle having two decks one of which is wholly or partly above the other and each of which is provided with a gangway serving seats on that deck only: ibid reg 3(2), Table. 'Gangway' means the space provided for obtaining access from any entrance to the passengers' seats or from any such seat to an exit other than an emergency exit, but excluding a staircase and any space in front of a seat which is required only for the use of passengers occupying that seat or a seat in the same row of seats: reg 3(2), Table. 'Staircase' means a staircase by means of which passengers on a double-decked vehicle may pass to and from the upper deck of the vehicle: reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1987/1133).
- 20 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 31(2), Table item 3.
- 21 Ibid reg 31(2), Table item 4.
- 22 Ibid reg 31(5) (added by SI 1992/3088). For these purposes, and for the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 32 (as amended) (see PARA 303 post), 'designated approval mark' means the marking designated as an approval mark by the Motor Vehicles (Designation of Approval Marks) Regulations 1979, SI 1979/1088, reg 5 and shown in Sch 4 item 31 or 32 (as amended) (those items being markings relating to EEC Council Directive 92/22 (OJ L129, 14.5.92, p 11) on safety glazing and glazing materials on motor vehicles and their trailers (as amended)): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 31(4) (definition added by SI 1992/3088). As to approval marks see PARA 700 et seq post.

UPDATE

302 Glass in wheeled vehicles first used before 1 June 1978, and in caravans first used before 1 September 1978 and track-laying vehicles

NOTE 22--Directive 92/22 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(vi) Vision/303. Glass in caravans first used on or after 1 September 1978 and wheeled motor vehicles first used on or after 1 June 1978.

303. Glass in caravans first used on or after 1 September 1978 and wheeled motor vehicles first used on or after 1 June 1978.

In the case of:

- 281 (1) a caravan<sup>1</sup> first used on or after 1 September 1978<sup>2</sup>; and
- 282 (2) a wheeled<sup>3</sup> motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> and a wheeled trailer<sup>5</sup>, not being a caravan, first used<sup>6</sup> on or after 1 June 1978<sup>7</sup>, the windows specified in heads (1) to (3) below in relation to a vehicle of a class specified in the relevant head must be constructed of the material specified<sup>8</sup>:

- 283 (a) in the case of windscreens<sup>9</sup> and other windows wholly or partly on either side of the driver's<sup>10</sup> seat fitted to motor vehicles first used on or after 1 April 1985, the windows must be constructed of specified safety glass (1980)<sup>11</sup>;
- 284 (b) in the case of windscreens and other windows wholly or partly on either side of the driver's seat fitted to a motor vehicle first used before 1 April 1985, the windows must be constructed of specified safety glass<sup>12</sup>, or specified safety glass (1980)<sup>13</sup>;
- 285 (c) in the case of all other windows, the windows must be constructed of specified safety glass, specified safety glass (1980), or safety glazing<sup>14</sup>.

The windscreens and all other windows of security vehicles<sup>15</sup> or vehicles being used for police purposes are not subject to the requirements specified in heads (a) to (c) above, but must be constructed of either safety glass or safety glazing<sup>16</sup>.

The windscreen of motor cycles<sup>17</sup> not equipped with an enclosed compartment for the driver or for a passenger are not subject to the requirements specified in heads (a) to (c) above, but must be constructed of safety glazing<sup>18</sup>.

Any windscreens or other windows which are wholly or partly in front of or on either side of the driver's seat, and which are temporarily fitted to motor vehicles to replace any windscreens or other window which have broken must be constructed of safety glazing, and must be fitted only while the vehicles are being driven or towed either to premises where new windscreens or other windows are to be permanently fitted to replace the windscreens or other windows which have broken, or to complete the journey in the course of which the breakage occurred<sup>19</sup>.

Windows forming all or part of a screen or door in the interior of a bus<sup>20</sup> first used on or after 1 April 1988 must be constructed either of safety glazing or of specified safety glass (1980)<sup>21</sup>.

Windows being: (i) windows (other than windscreens) of motor vehicles being engineering plant<sup>22</sup>, industrial tractors<sup>23</sup>, agricultural motor vehicles<sup>24</sup> (other than agricultural motor vehicles first used on or after 1 June 1986 and driven at more than 20 miles per hour) which are wholly or partly in front of or on either side of the driver's seat<sup>25</sup>; (ii) windows of the upper deck<sup>26</sup> of a double-decked<sup>27</sup> bus<sup>28</sup>; or (iii) windows in the roof of a vehicle<sup>29</sup>, must be constructed of either specified safety glass, specified safety glass (1980) or safety glazing<sup>30</sup>.

In the case of motor vehicles and trailers which have not at any time been fitted with permanent windows and which are being driven or towed to a place where permanent windows are to be fitted, any temporary windscreens and any other temporary windows must be constructed of either specified safety glass, specified safety glass (1980) or safety glazing<sup>31</sup>.

No requirement in the above provisions that a windscreen or other window is to be constructed of specified safety glass or of specified safety glass (1980) applies to a windscreen or other window which is manufactured in France, marked with the specified marking<sup>32</sup>, and fitted to a vehicle first used before 1 October 1986<sup>33</sup>.

The above provisions<sup>34</sup> do not apply to a window which is legibly and permanently marked with a designated approval mark<sup>35</sup>.

304. Mirrors and other devices for indirect vision.

A motor vehicle<sup>1</sup>, not being a road roller, which is of a class specified in heads (1) to (11) below must be fitted with such mirror<sup>2</sup> or mirrors or other device for indirect vision<sup>3</sup>, if any, as specified, and any mirror or other device for indirect vision which is fitted to such a vehicle must, whether or not it is required to be fitted, comply with any specified requirements<sup>4</sup>:

- 286 (1) a motor vehicle which is:
- 15
- 33. (a) drawing a trailer, if a person is carried on the trailer so that he has an uninterrupted view to the rear and has an efficient means of communicating to the driver the effect of signals given by the drivers of other vehicles to the rear;
- 34. (b) a works truck<sup>5</sup>, a track-laying<sup>6</sup> agricultural motor vehicle<sup>7</sup> and a wheeled<sup>8</sup> agricultural motor vehicle first used<sup>9</sup> before 1 June 1978, if, in each case, the driver can easily obtain a view to the rear;
- 35. (c) a pedestrian-controlled vehicle<sup>10</sup>;

- 36. (d) a chassis being driven from the place where it has been manufactured to the place where it is to receive a vehicle body; or
- 37. (e) an agricultural motor vehicle which has an unladen weight<sup>11</sup> exceeding 7,370 kilograms and which is a track-laying vehicle or is a wheeled vehicle first used before 1 June 1978,

- 287 does not require mirrors or other devices for indirect vision to be fitted<sup>12</sup>;
- 288 (2) a motor vehicle not included in head (1) above, which is: (a) a wheeled locomotive<sup>12</sup> or a wheeled motor tractor<sup>14</sup> first used in either case on or after 1 June 1978; (b) an agricultural motor vehicle, not being a track-laying vehicle with an unladen weight not exceeding 7, 370 kilograms (which falls in head (11) below) or a wheeled agricultural motor vehicle first used after 1 June 1986 which is driven at more than 20 miles per hour (which falls in head (8) below); or (c) a works truck, is required to have at least one mirror fitted externally on the offside<sup>15</sup>;
- 289 (3) a wheeled motor vehicle not included in head (1) above or head (4) below first used on or after 1 April 1983 which is: (a) a bus<sup>16</sup>; or (b) a goods vehicle<sup>17</sup> with a maximum gross weight<sup>18</sup> exceeding 3,500 kilograms (not being an agricultural motor vehicle or one which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour) other than a vehicle described in head (5) below, is required to have mirrors complying with the relevant European legislation<sup>19</sup> or, except in the case of a goods vehicle first used on or after 1 April 1985, at least one exterior mirror<sup>20</sup> fitted on the offside of the vehicle, and at least one interior mirror<sup>21</sup>, unless a mirror so fitted would give the driver no view of the rear of the vehicle, and at least one exterior mirror fitted on the nearside of the vehicle unless an interior mirror gives the driver an adequate view to the rear<sup>22</sup>;
- 290 (4) a wheeled motor vehicle not included in head (1) above first used on or after 26 January 2007 which is: (a) a bus; (b) a goods vehicle with a maximum gross weight: (i) exceeding 3,500 kilograms but not exceeding 7,500 kilograms; or (ii) exceeding 7,500 kilograms but not exceeding 12,000 kilograms (not being an agricultural motor vehicle or one which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour), is required to have mirrors and/or other devices for indirect vision complying with the relevant European legislation<sup>23</sup>;
- 291 (5) a goods vehicle not being an agricultural motor vehicle with a maximum gross weight exceeding 12,000 kilograms which is first used on or after 1 October 1988 and before 26 January 2007 is required to have mirrors complying with the relevant European legislation<sup>24</sup>;
- 292 (6) a goods vehicle not being an agricultural motor vehicle with a maximum gross weight exceeding 12,000 kilograms which is first used on or after 26 January 2007 is required to have mirrors or other devices for indirect vision complying with the relevant European legislation<sup>25</sup>;
- 293 (7) a two-wheeled motor cycle<sup>26</sup> with or without a sidecar attached does not require mirrors or other devices for indirect vision to be fitted<sup>27</sup>;
- 294 (8) a wheeled motor vehicle, not in heads (1) to (7) above, which is first used on or after 1 June 1978 (or, in the case of a Ford Transit motor car, 10 July 1978) and before 26 January 2010 is required to have at least one exterior mirror fitted on the offside of the vehicle, and at least one interior mirror, unless a mirror so fitted would give the driver no view to the rear of the vehicle, and at least one exterior mirror fitted on the nearside of the vehicle unless an interior mirror gives the driver an adequate view to the rear<sup>28</sup>;
- 295 (9) a wheeled motor vehicle, not in heads (1) to (7) above, which is first used on or after 26 January 2010, is required to have mirrors complying with the relevant European legislation<sup>29</sup>;
- 296 (10) a wheeled motor vehicle, not in heads (1) to (7) above, first used before 1 June 1978 (or, in the case of a Ford Transit motor car, 10 July 1978) and a track-laying motor vehicle which is not an agricultural motor vehicle first used on or after

- 1 January 1958, which in either case is: (a) a bus; (b) a dual-purpose vehicle<sup>30</sup>; or (c) a goods vehicle, is required to have at least one exterior mirror fitted on the offside of the vehicle and either one interior mirror or one exterior mirror fitted on the near-side of the vehicle<sup>31</sup>;
- 297 (11) a motor vehicle, whether wheeled or track-laying, not in heads (1) to (10) above is required to have at least one interior or exterior mirror<sup>32</sup>.

Each exterior mirror with which a vehicle is required to be fitted<sup>33</sup> will, if the vehicle has a technically permissible maximum weight<sup>34</sup> exceeding 3,500 kilograms, be a Class II mirror<sup>35</sup> and will in any other case be a Class II or a Class III mirror<sup>36</sup>.

In the case of a wheeled motor vehicle described in head (1), (2), (10) or (11) above which is first used on or after 1 April 1969, the edges of any mirror fitted internally must be surrounded by some material such as will render it unlikely that severe cuts would be caused if the mirror or that material were struck by any occupant of the vehicle<sup>37</sup>.

In the case of a motor vehicle falling within head (1) above which is first used on or after 1 June 1978, or within head (7) above which is first used on or after 1 October 1978, or within head (8) above:

- 298 (A) each mirror must be fixed to the vehicle in such a way that it remains steady under normal driving conditions<sup>38</sup>;
- 299 (B) each exterior mirror on a vehicle fitted with windows and a windscreen must be visible to the driver, when in his driving position, through a side window or through the portion of the windscreen which is swept by the windscreen wiper<sup>39</sup>;
- 300 (C) where the bottom edge of an exterior mirror is less than 2 metres above the road surface when the vehicle is laden, that mirror must not project more than 20 centimetres beyond the overall width<sup>40</sup> of the vehicle or, in a case where the vehicle is drawing a trailer which has an overall width greater than that of the drawing vehicle, more than 20 centimetres beyond the overall width of the trailer<sup>41</sup>;
- 301 (D) where the bottom edge of an exterior mirror, which complies with the relevant European legislation<sup>42</sup>, is less than 2 metres above the road surface when the vehicle is laden, that mirror must not project more than 25 centimetres beyond the overall width of the vehicle or, in the case where the vehicle is drawing a trailer which has an overall width greater than that of the drawing vehicle, more than 25 centimetres beyond the overall width of the trailer<sup>43</sup>;
- 302 (E) each interior mirror must be capable of being adjusted by the driver when in his driving position<sup>44</sup>; and
- 303 (F) except in the case of a mirror which, if knocked out of its alignment, can be returned to its former position without needing to be adjusted, each exterior mirror on the driver's side of the vehicle must be capable of being adjusted by the driver when in his driving position, but this requirement does not prevent such a mirror from being locked into position from the outside of the vehicle<sup>45</sup>.

Instead of complying with the above requirements<sup>46</sup> a vehicle may comply with the appropriate European legislation<sup>47</sup> and a mirror may comply with the requirements as to construction and testing set out in the appropriate European legislation<sup>48</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'mirror' means any device with a reflecting surface, excluding devices such as periscopes, intended to give a clear view to the rear, side or front of the vehicle: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(7)(b) (reg 33 substituted by SI 2005/3165). In the case of an agricultural motor vehicle or a vehicle described in head (2) or head (8) in the text when drawing a trailer, the references to a vehicle in the definitions in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI

1986/1078, reg 33(7) (as substituted) are to be construed as including references to that trailer: reg 33(8) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 ante. For the meaning of 'agricultural motor vehicle' see PARA 271 note 28 ante. For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

3 'Devices for indirect vision' means devices to observe the traffic area adjacent to the vehicle which cannot be observed by direct vision and may include conventional mirrors, camera-monitors or other devices able to present information about the indirect field of vision to the driver: ibid reg 33(7)(a) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

4 Ibid reg 33(1) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

5 For the meaning of 'works truck' see PARA 278 note 18 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'track-laying' see PARA 267 note 3 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'agricultural motor vehicle' see PARA 271 note 28 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

10 For the meaning of 'pedestrian-controlled vehicle' see PARA 290 note 8 ante.

11 For the meaning of 'unladen weight' see PARA 271 note 21 ante.

12 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(1), Table item 1 (as substituted: see note 2 supra). If any mirrors are fitted to a vehicle specified in heads (1)(a)-(e) in the text, which is a wheeled vehicle first used on or after 1 June 1978, they must comply with EEC Council Directive 71/127 (OJ L68, 22.3.71, p 1) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the rear-view mirrors of motor vehicles, Annex I item 2, EEC Council Directive 79/795 (OJ L239, 22.9.79, p 1) Annex I item 2, EEC Commission Directive 86/562 (OJ L327, 27.11.86, p 49) Annex II, EEC Commission Directive 88/321 (OJ L147, 14.6.88, p 77) Annex II or ECE Regulation 46.01 paras 4-8 and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(4) (as substituted) (see heads (A)-(F) in the text); and in all other cases there are no requirements except as specified in reg 33(3) (as substituted) (see the text to note 37 infra): reg 33(1), Table item 1 (as so substituted). There are no requirements as to other devices for indirect vision where fitted. For the meaning of 'ECE Regulation' see PARA 270 note 2 ante.

13 For the meaning of 'locomotive' see PARA 217 note 3 ante.

14 For the meaning of 'motor tractor' see PARA 216 ante.

15 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(1), Table item 2 (as substituted: see note 2 supra). There are no requirements to be complied with by any mirrors fitted except as specified in reg 33(2), (3) (see the text to notes 33-37 infra), and no requirements as to other devices for indirect vision where fitted: reg 33(1), Table item 2 (as so substituted).

16 For the meaning of 'bus' see PARA 271 note 6 ante.

17 For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 271 note 26 ante.

18 For the meaning of 'maximum gross weight' see PARA 271 note 27 ante.

19 Ie EEC Commission Directive 79/795 (OJ L239, 22.9.79, p 1) Annex I item 3, EEC Commission Directive 86/562 (OJ L327, 27.11.86, p 49) Annex III para 2.1, EEC Commission Directive 88/321 (OJ L147, 14.6.88, p 77) Annex III para 2.1 or ECE Regulation 46.01 para 16.2.1.

20 For these purposes, 'exterior mirror' means a device defined in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(7)(a) (as substituted) (see note 2 supra), which can be fitted on the external surface of a vehicle: reg 33(7)(d) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

21 For these purposes, 'interior mirror' means a device defined in ibid reg 33(7)(a) (as substituted) (see note 2 supra), which can be fitted in the passenger compartment of a vehicle: reg 33(7)(c) (as substituted: see note 2 supra).

22 Ibid reg 33(1), Table item 3 (as substituted: see note 2 supra). Any mirrors fitted must comply with EEC Council Directive 71/127 (OJ L68, 22.3.71, p 1) Annex I item 2, EEC Commission Directive 79/795 (OJ L239, 22.9.79, p 1) Annex I item 2, EEC Commission Directive 86/562 (OJ L327, 27.11.86, p 49) Annex II, EEC Commission Directive 88/321 (OJ L147, 14.6.88, p 77) Annex II or ECE Regulation 46.01 paras 4-8: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(1), Table item 3 (as so substituted). See also reg 33(6) (as so substituted). There are no requirements as to other devices for indirect vision where fitted.

23 le, in the case of vehicles within head (4)(a) and (b)(ii) in the text, mirrors and other devices for indirect vision complying with EC Parliament and Council Directive 2003/97 (OJ L25, 29.1.2004, p 1) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the type-approval of devices for indirect vision and of vehicles equipped with these devices, Annex III or EC Council Directive 2005/27 (OJ L81, 30.3.2005, p 44) Annex III or ECE Regulation 46.02 para 15; and in the case of vehicles within head (4)(b)(i) in the text, mirrors or other devices for indirect vision complying with EC Council Directive 2005/27 (OJ L81, 30.3.2005, p 44): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(1), Table item 4 (as substituted: see note 2 supra). Any mirrors fitted must comply with EC Parliament and Council Directive 2003/97 (OJ L25, 29.1.2004, p 1) Annex I para 6 or EC Council Directive 2005/27 (OJ L81, 30.3.2005, p 44) Annex I para 6 or ECE Regulation 46.02 paras 4, 5 and 6.1: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(1), Table item 4 (as so substituted). Any other devices for indirect vision fitted must comply with EC Parliament and Council Directive 2003/97 (OJ L25, 29.1.2004, p 1) Annex II Pt B or ECE Regulation 46.02 paras 4, 5 and 6.2: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 33(1), Table item 4 (as so substituted).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(vi) Vision/305. Windscreen wipers and washers.

305. Windscreen wipers and washers.

Every vehicle fitted with a windscreen must, unless the driver<sup>1</sup> can obtain an adequate view to the front of the vehicle without looking through the windscreen, be fitted with one or more efficient automatic windscreen wipers capable of clearing the windscreen so that the driver has an adequate view of the road<sup>2</sup> in front of both sides of the vehicle and to the front of the vehicle<sup>3</sup>.

Every wheeled<sup>4</sup> vehicle so required to be fitted with a wiper or wipers must also be fitted with a windscreen washer capable of cleaning, in conjunction with the windscreen wiper, the area of the windscreen swept by the wiper of mud or similar deposit<sup>5</sup>. This requirement does not apply in respect of:

- 304 (1) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>6</sup>, other than a vehicle first used<sup>7</sup> on or after 1 June 1986 which is driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>8</sup>;
- 305 (2) a track-laying vehicle<sup>9</sup>;
- 306 (3) a vehicle having a maximum speed<sup>10</sup> not exceeding 20 miles per hour<sup>11</sup>; or
- 307 (4) a vehicle being used to provide a local service<sup>12</sup>.

Every wiper and washer fitted in accordance with the above provisions must at all times while a vehicle is being used on a road be maintained in efficient working order and be properly adjusted<sup>13</sup>.

UPDATE

305 Windscreen wipers and washers

NOTE 3--Directive 74/347 replaced with effect from 1 May 2008: European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2008/2 (OJ L24, 29.1.2008, p 30) on the field of vision and windscreen wipers for wheeled agricultural or forestry tractors (codified version). References to the repealed directive are to be construed as references to the new directive (see art 6 and Annex III). Directive 78/318 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(vii) Instruments and Equipment/306. Speedometers.

(vii) Instruments and Equipment

306. Speedometers.

Every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> must be fitted with a speedometer which, if the vehicle is first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 April 1984, must be capable of indicating speed in both miles per hour and kilometres per hour, either simultaneously or, by the operation of a switch, separately<sup>3</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to:

- 308 (1) a vehicle having a maximum speed<sup>4</sup> not exceeding 25 miles per hour<sup>5</sup>;
- 309 (2) a vehicle which it is at all times unlawful to drive at more than 25 miles per hour<sup>6</sup>;
- 310 (3) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>7</sup> which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>8</sup>;
- 311 (4) a motor cycle<sup>9</sup> first used before 1 April 1984, the engine of which has a cylinder capacity not exceeding 100 cubic centimetres<sup>10</sup>;
- 312 (5) an invalid carriage<sup>11</sup> first used before 1 April 1984<sup>12</sup>;
- 313 (6) a works truck<sup>13</sup> first used before 1 April 1984<sup>14</sup>;
- 314 (7) a vehicle first used before 1 October 1937<sup>15</sup>; or
- 315 (8) a vehicle equipped with recording equipment marked with a marking designated as an approval mark<sup>16</sup>, whether or not the vehicle is required to be equipped with that equipment, and which, as regards the visual indications given by that equipment of the speed of the vehicle, complies with the specified requirements<sup>17</sup> relating to such indications and installations<sup>18</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

3 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 35(1). Instead of complying with reg 35(1), a vehicle may comply with EC Commission Directive 97/39 (OJ L177, 5.7.97, p 15) or with ECE Regulation 39: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 35(3) (amended by SI 1998/1188). CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(vii) Instruments and Equipment/307. Maintenance of speedometer.

307. Maintenance of speedometer.

Every instrument for indicating speed fitted<sup>1</sup> to a motor vehicle<sup>2</sup> must be kept free from any obstruction which might prevent its being easily read and must at all material times<sup>3</sup> be maintained in good working order<sup>4</sup>.

1 Ie in compliance with the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 35(1) or (3) (as amended) (see PARA 306 ante) or to which reg 35(2)(h) (see PARA 306 head (8) ante) relates and which is not, under EEC Council Regulation 3821/85 (OJ L370, 31.12.85, p 8) on recording equipment in road transport (as amended) (see PARA 1384 et seq post), required to be equipped with the recording equipment mentioned in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 35(2)(h).

2 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'at all material times' means all times when the motor vehicle is in use on a road, except when: (1) the vehicle is being used on a journey during which, as a result of a defect, the instrument ceased to be in good working order; or (2) as a result of a defect, the instrument has ceased to be in good working order and steps have been taken to have the vehicle equipped with all reasonable expedition, by means of repairs or replacement, with an instrument which is good working order: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36(2). For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(vii) Instruments and Equipment/308. Speed limiters for coaches and buses.

308. Speed limiters for coaches and buses.

Each of the following vehicles, that is to say:

- 316 (1) every coach<sup>1</sup> which: (a) was first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 April 1974 and before 1 January 1988; and (b) has, or if a speed limiter<sup>3</sup> were not fitted to it would have, a maximum speed exceeding 112.65 kilometres per hour<sup>4</sup>;
- 317 (2) every bus<sup>5</sup> which: (a) is first used on or after 1 January 1988; (b) has a maximum gross weight exceeding 7.5 tonnes; and (c) has, or if a speed limiter were not fitted to it would have, a maximum speed exceeding 100 kilometres per hour<sup>6</sup>;
- 318 (3) every bus not being a bus to which head (2) above applies, which: (a) is first used on or after 1 January 2005; (b) has a maximum gross weight exceeding 5 tonnes but not exceeding 10 tonnes; and (c) has, or if a speed limiter were not fitted to it would have, a maximum speed exceeding 100 kilometres per hour<sup>7</sup>;
- 319 (4) every bus which: (a) is first used on or after 1 January 2005; (b) has a maximum gross weight not exceeding 5 tonnes; and (c) has, or if a speed limiter were not fitted to it would have, a maximum speed exceeding 100 kilometres per hour<sup>8</sup>;
- 320 (5) every bus, not being a bus to which head (2) above applies, which: (a) was first used on or after 1 October 2001 and before 1 January 2005; (b) complies with the specified limit values in respect of Euro III emission standards<sup>9</sup>; (c) has a maximum gross weight not exceeding 10 tonnes; and (d) has, or if a speed limiter were not fitted to it would have, a maximum speed exceeding 100 kilometres per hour<sup>10</sup>, must be fitted with a speed limiter in respect of which such of the prescribed requirements<sup>11</sup> are met as apply to that speed limiter<sup>12</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to a vehicle:

- 321 (i) being taken to a place where a speed limiter is to be installed, calibrated, repaired or replaced<sup>13</sup>;
- 322 (ii) completing a journey in the course of which the speed limiter has accidentally ceased to function<sup>14</sup>;
- 323 (iii) which is owned by the Secretary of State for Defence and used for naval, military or air force purposes<sup>15</sup>;

- 324 (iv) which is used for naval, military or air force purposes while being driven by a person for the time being subject to the orders of a member of the armed forces of the Crown<sup>16</sup>; or
- 325 (v) while it is being used for fire and rescue authority purposes<sup>17</sup>.

A speed limiter required to be fitted must be: (A) sealed by an authorised sealer<sup>18</sup> in such a manner as to protect the limiter against any improper interference or adjustment and against any interruption of its power supply<sup>19</sup>; and (B) maintained in good and efficient working order<sup>20</sup>.

1 'Coach' means a large bus with a maximum gross weight of more than 7.5 tonnes and with a maximum speed exceeding 60 mph: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1987/1133). 'Large bus' means a vehicle constructed or adapted to carry more than 16 seated passengers in addition to the driver: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1987/1133). For the meaning of 'maximum gross weight' see PARA 271 note 27 ante; and for the meaning of 'maximum speed' see PARA 278 note 17 ante. For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'speed limiter' means a device designed to limit the maximum speed of a motor vehicle by controlling the power output from the engine of the vehicle: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(14) (reg 36A added by SI 1988/271).

4 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(1) (as added (see note 3 supra); and amended by SI 1997/1340).

5 For the meaning of 'bus' see PARA 271 note 6 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(2) (as added (see note 3 supra); and amended by SI 1997/1340).

7 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(2A) (reg 36A as added (see note 3 supra); and reg 36A(2A)-(2E) added by SI 2004/2102).

8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(2B) (as added: see notes 3, 7 supra). Regulation 36A (as added and amended) applies on or after 1 January 2008 in the case of such a vehicle used solely for national transport operations: reg 36A(2E) (as so added). 'National transport operations' means transport operations within the United Kingdom; and 'transport operations' means the transportation of passengers in vehicles designed for such a purpose and to which reg 36A (as added and amended) applies: reg 36A(14) (as added (see note 3 supra); definitions added by SI 2004/2102). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 224 note 5 ante.

9 As set out in EEC Council Directive 88/77 (OJ L36, 9.2.1988, p 33), as amended by amendments up to and including those effected by EC Commission Directive 2001/27 (OJ L107, 18.4.2001, p 10). 'Euro III emission standards' means the emission limits given in EC Parliament and Council Directive 1999/96 (OJ L44, 16.2.2000, p 1) (amending EC Council Directive 88/77 (OJ L36, 9.2.1988, p 33)) Annex 1 section 6.2.1 tables rows A: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(14) (reg 36A as added (see note 3 supra); definition added by SI 2005/3170).

10 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(2C) (as added (see notes 3, 7 supra); and amended by SI 2005/3170). The Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A (as added and amended) applies: (1) on or after 1 January 2006 in the case of such a vehicle used for both national and international transport operations; (2) on or after 1 January 2007 in the case of such a vehicle used solely for national transport operations: reg 36A(2D) (as added: see notes 3, 7 supra). 'International transport operations' means transport operations outside the United Kingdom: reg 36A(14) (as added (see note 3 supra); definition added by SI 2004/2102).

11 For the requirements as to speed limiters see the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(5)-(12) (as added (see note 3 supra); reg 36A(6) amended by SI 1997/1340; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(7) substituted by SI 2004/2102; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(7A) added by SI 2005/3170; Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(8), (9) amended by SI 2004/2102).

12 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(4) (as added: see note 3 supra).

13 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(13)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra).

14 Ibid reg 36A(13)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra).

15 Ibid reg 36A(13)(c) (reg 36A as added (see note 3 supra); and reg 36A(13)(c) added by SI 2005/3170). As to the Secretary of State for Defence see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 438 et seq. As to use of vehicles for naval, military or air force purposes see ARMED FORCES.

16 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(13)(d) (reg 36A as added (see note 3 supra); and reg 36A(13)(d) added by SI 2005/3170).

17 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(13)(e) (reg 36A as added (see note 3 supra); and reg 36A(13)(e) added by SI 2005/3170). As to fire and rescue authorities see FIRE SERVICES.

18 For the meaning of 'authorised sealer' see PARA 310 post. The requirement for the speed limiter to be sealed applies with the omission of the reference to an authorised sealer if: (1) a speed limiter was fitted before 1 August 1992 to a vehicle first used before that date; or (2) a speed limiter was sealed outside the United Kingdom: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A(10) (as added: see note 3 supra).

19 Ibid reg 36A(5)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra).

20 Ibid reg 36A(5)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra).

309. Speed limiters for goods vehicles.

Each of the following vehicles, that is to say:

- 326 (1) every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> which: (a) is a goods vehicle<sup>2</sup>; (b) has a maximum gross weight<sup>3</sup> exceeding 7,500 kilograms but not exceeding 12,000 kilograms; (c) is first used<sup>4</sup> on or after 1 August 1992 and before 1 January 2005; and (d) has, or if a

- speed limiter<sup>5</sup> were not fitted to it would have, a relevant speed<sup>6</sup> exceeding 60 miles per hour<sup>7</sup>;
- 327 (2) every motor vehicle which: (a) is a goods vehicle; (b) has a maximum gross weight exceeding 3,500 kilograms but not exceeding 12,000 kilograms; (c) is first used on or after 1 January 2005; and (d) has, or if a speed limiter were not fitted to it would have, a relevant speed exceeding 90 kilometres per hour<sup>8</sup>;
- 328 (3) every motor vehicle, not being a motor vehicle to which head (1) above applies, which: (a) is a goods vehicle; (b) has a maximum gross weight exceeding 3,500 kilograms but not exceeding 12,000 kilograms; (c) was first used on or after 1 October 2001 and before 1 January 2005; (d) complies with the limit values in respect of Euro III emission standards<sup>9</sup>; and (e) has, or if a speed limiter were not fitted to it would have, a relevant speed exceeding 90 kilometres per hour<sup>10</sup>;
- 329 (4) every vehicle which: (a) is a goods vehicle; (b) has a maximum gross weight exceeding 12,000 kilograms; (c) is first used on or after 1 January 1988; and (d) has, or if a speed limiter were not fitted to it would have, a relevant speed exceeding 90 kilometres per hour<sup>11</sup>, must be fitted with a speed limiter in respect of which such of the specified requirements<sup>12</sup> are met as apply to that speed limiter<sup>13</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to a vehicle:

- 330 (i) which is being taken to a place where a speed limiter is to be installed, calibrated, repaired or replaced<sup>14</sup>;
- 331 (ii) which is completing a journey in the course of which the speed limiter has accidentally ceased to function<sup>15</sup>;
- 332 (iii) is owned by the Secretary of State for Defence<sup>16</sup> and used for naval, military or air force purposes<sup>17</sup>;
- 333 (iv) is used for naval, military or air force purposes while being driven by a person for the time being subject to the orders of a member of the armed forces of the Crown<sup>18</sup>;
- 334 (v) while it is being used for fire and rescue authority<sup>19</sup>, ambulance<sup>20</sup> or police<sup>21</sup> purposes<sup>22</sup>; or
- 335 (vi) at a time when it is being used on a public road<sup>23</sup> during any calendar week if it is being used only in passing from land in the occupation of the person keeping the vehicle to other land in his occupation and it has not been used on public roads for distances exceeding an aggregate of six miles in that calendar week<sup>24</sup>.

A speed limiter required to be fitted must be: (A) sealed by an authorised sealer<sup>25</sup> in such a manner as to protect the limiter against any improper interference or adjustment or against any interruption of its power supply<sup>26</sup>; and (B) maintained in good and efficient working order<sup>27</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 271 note 26 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'maximum gross weight' see PARA 271 note 27 ante.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(vii) Instruments and Equipment/310. Authorised sealers of speed limiters.

310. Authorised sealers of speed limiters.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may authorise an individual proposing to seal speed limiters<sup>2</sup> other than on behalf of another person, a firm, or a corporation to seal speed limiters<sup>3</sup>, and a person or body so authorised is referred to as an 'authorised sealer'<sup>4</sup>. An authorised sealer must comply with the prescribed conditions<sup>5</sup> and with such other conditions as may from time to time be imposed by the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup>. An authorised sealer may charge for sealing a speed limiter<sup>7</sup>.

The Secretary of State may at any time withdraw an authorisation so granted<sup>8</sup>. An authorisation: (1) in respect of an individual terminates if he dies, is adjudged bankrupt or becomes incapable by reason of mental disorder of managing or administering his property and affairs<sup>9</sup>; (2) in respect of a firm terminates if the firm is dissolved or if all the partners are adjudged bankrupt<sup>10</sup>; (3) in respect of a company terminates if: (a) the company goes into liquidation or enters administration; (b) a receiver or manager of the trade or business of the company is appointed; or (c) possession is taken by or on behalf of the holders of any debenture secured by a floating charge, or any property of the company comprised in or subject to the charge<sup>11</sup>.

An authorised sealer must not seal a speed limiter fitted to a vehicle<sup>12</sup> unless he is satisfied that the speed limiter fulfils the statutory requirements<sup>13</sup>. When sealing a speed limiter fitted to a vehicle<sup>14</sup>, an authorised sealer must do so in such a manner that the speed limiter fulfils the statutory requirements<sup>15</sup>. When an authorised sealer has sealed a speed limiter fitted to a vehicle<sup>16</sup>, he must supply the owner with a plate which fulfils the statutory requirements<sup>17</sup>.

311. Impersonation of, or of person employed by, authorised examiner.

A person is guilty of an offence if, with intent to deceive, he falsely represents himself to be, or to be employed by, a person authorised in accordance with regulations<sup>1</sup> with respect to the checking and sealing of speed limiters<sup>2</sup>.

1 The regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 41 (as amended): see PARA 260 ante.

2 Ibid s 177 (substituted by the Road Traffic (Vehicle Testing) Act 1999 s 7(1), Schedule para 3). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I. As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post.

UPDATE

311 Impersonation of, or of person employed by, authorised examiner

NOTES--Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in this paragraph are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(vii) Instruments and Equipment/312. Audible warning instruments.

312. Audible warning instruments.

Every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> (other than an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>2</sup>, unless it is being driven at more than 20 miles per hour) which has a maximum speed<sup>3</sup> of more than 20 miles per hour must be fitted with a horn<sup>4</sup>, not being a reversing alarm<sup>5</sup> or a two-tone horn<sup>6</sup>.

The sound emitted by any horn, other than a reversing alarm, a boarding aid alarm<sup>7</sup> or a two-tone horn, fitted to a wheeled<sup>8</sup> vehicle first used<sup>9</sup> on or after 1 August 1973 must be continuous and uniform and not strident<sup>10</sup>. A reversing alarm or a boarding aid alarm fitted to a wheeled vehicle must not be strident<sup>11</sup>.

No motor vehicle is to be fitted with a bell, gong, siren or two-tone horn<sup>12</sup>. However, this prohibition does not apply to motor vehicles:

- 336 (1) used for fire and rescue authority<sup>13</sup>, ambulance<sup>14</sup> or police<sup>15</sup> purposes<sup>16</sup>;
- 337 (2) used for Serious Organised Crime Agency purposes<sup>17</sup>;
- 338 (3) owned by a body formed primarily for the purposes of fire salvage and used for those or similar purposes<sup>18</sup>;
- 339 (4) owned by the Forestry Commission<sup>19</sup> or by local authorities and used from time to time for the purposes of fighting fires<sup>20</sup>;

- 340 (5) owned by the Secretary of State for Defence<sup>21</sup> and used for the purposes of the disposal of bombs or explosives<sup>22</sup>;
- 341 (6) used for the purposes of the Blood Transfusion Service<sup>23</sup>;
- 342 (7) used by Her Majesty's Coastguard or the Coastguard Auxiliary Service<sup>24</sup> to aid persons in danger or vessels in distress on or near the coast<sup>25</sup>;
- 343 (8) used for the purposes of rescue operations at mines<sup>26</sup>;
- 344 (9) owned by the Secretary of State for Defence and used by the Royal Air Force Mountain Rescue Service for the purposes of rescue operations in connection with crashed aircraft or any other emergencies<sup>27</sup>;
- 345 (10) owned by the Royal National Lifeboat Institution<sup>28</sup> and used for the purposes of launching lifeboats<sup>29</sup>;
- 346 (11) under the lawful control of the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs and used from time to time for the purposes of investigation of serious crime<sup>30</sup>; or
- 347 (12) owned or operated by the Secretary of State for Defence and used for the purpose of any activity: (a) which prevents or decreases the exposure of persons to radiation arising from a radiation accident or radiation emergency<sup>31</sup>; or (b) in connection with an event which could lead to a radiation accident or radiation emergency<sup>32</sup>.

The requirement for the horn to be continuous, uniform and not strident<sup>33</sup> and the prohibition of bells, gongs, sirens and two-tone horns<sup>34</sup> do not apply so as to make it unlawful for:

- 348 (i) a motor vehicle to be fitted with an instrument or apparatus, not being a two-tone horn, designed to emit a sound for the purpose of informing members of the public that goods are on the vehicle for sale<sup>35</sup>;
- 349 (ii) a vehicle to be fitted with a bell, gong or siren, if the purpose of it is to prevent theft or attempted theft of the vehicle or its contents<sup>36</sup> or, in the case of a bus<sup>37</sup>, if the purpose of it is to summon help for the driver, the conductor or an inspector<sup>38</sup>.

Instead of complying with the above provisions<sup>39</sup>, a vehicle may comply with the applicable European legislation<sup>40</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'agricultural motor vehicle' see PARA 271 note 28 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'maximum speed' see PARA 278 note 17 ante.

4 For these purposes, and for the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 99 (as amended) (see PARA 612 post), 'horn' means an instrument, not being a bell, gong or siren, capable of giving audible and sufficient warning of the approach or position of the vehicle to which it is fitted: reg 37(10)(a). References to a bell, gong or siren include references to any instrument or apparatus capable of emitting a sound similar to that emitted by a bell, gong or siren: reg 37(10)(b).

5 For these purposes, and for the purposes of ibid reg 99 (as amended) (see PARA 612 post), 'reversing alarm' means a device fitted to a motor vehicle and designed to warn persons that the vehicle is reversing or is about to reverse: reg 37(10)(c).

6 Ibid reg 37(1). For these purposes, and for the purposes of reg 99 (as amended) (see PARA 612 post), 'two-tone horn' means an instrument which, when operated, automatically produces a sound which alternates at regular intervals between two fixed notes: reg 37(10)(d). As to the use of audible warning instruments see PARA 612 post.

7 For these purposes, and for the purposes of ibid reg 99 (as amended) (see PARA 612 post), 'boarding aid alarm' means an alarm for a power operated lift or ramp fitted to a bus to enable wheelchair users to board and alight and designed to warn persons that the lift or ramp is in operation: reg 37(10)(e) (added by SI 2000/1971).

8 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

10 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 37(2) (amended by SI 2000/1971). The provisions of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 37(2) (as amended) do not apply so as to make it unlawful for a motor vehicle to be fitted with an instrument or apparatus, not being a two-tone horn, designed to emit a sound for the purpose of informing members of the public that goods are on the vehicle for sale: reg 37(6).

11 Ibid reg 37(3) (amended by SI 2000/1971).

313. Motor cycle sidestands.

No motor cycle<sup>1</sup> first used on or after 1 April 1986 is to be fitted with any sidestand<sup>2</sup> which is capable of disturbing the stability or direction of the motor cycle when it is in motion under its own power or closing automatically if the angle of the inclination of the motor cycle is inadvertently altered when it is stationary<sup>3</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'sidestand' means a device fitted to a motor cycle which, when fully extended or pivoted to its open position, supports the vehicle from one side only and so that both the wheels of the motor cycle are on the ground: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 38(2). For the meaning of 'wheel' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

(viii) Fuel Tanks

314. Petrol tanks.

Every fuel tank which is fitted to a wheeled<sup>1</sup> vehicle for the purpose of supplying fuel to the propulsion unit or to an ancillary engine or to any other equipment forming part of the vehicle<sup>2</sup> must:

- 350 (1) be constructed and maintained so that the leakage of any liquid from the tank is adequately prevented<sup>3</sup>;
- 351 (2) be constructed and maintained so that the leakage of vapour from the tank is adequately prevented<sup>4</sup>; and
- 352 (3) if it contains petroleum spirit<sup>5</sup> and is fitted to a vehicle first used on or after 1 July 1973: (a) be made only of metal; and (b) be fixed in such a position and so maintained as to be reasonably secure from damage<sup>6</sup>.

Instead of complying with these requirements as to construction, a vehicle may comply with the relevant European legislation<sup>7</sup>.

NOTE 7--Directive 70/221 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1). Directive 74/151 replaced: European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2009/63 (OJ L214, 19.8.2009, p 23).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(viii) Fuel Tanks/315. Unleaded petrol.

315. Unleaded petrol.

Every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup>, other than an excluded vehicle<sup>2</sup>, which is: (1) propelled by a spark ignition engine which is capable of running on petrol<sup>3</sup>; and (2) is first used on or after 1 April 1991<sup>4</sup>, must be designed and constructed for running on unleaded petrol<sup>5</sup>.

No person may use or cause or permit<sup>6</sup> to be used such a vehicle on a road<sup>7</sup> if it: (a) has been deliberately altered or adjusted for running on leaded petrol<sup>8</sup>; and (b) as a direct result of such alteration or adjustment it is incapable of running on unleaded petrol<sup>9</sup>.

Every fuel tank<sup>10</sup> fitted to such a vehicle must be so constructed and fitted that it cannot readily be filled from a petrol pump delivery nozzle which has an external diameter of 23.6 millimetres or greater without the aid of a device, such as a funnel, not fitted to the vehicle<sup>11</sup>. This does not apply to a vehicle in respect of which both of the following conditions are satisfied, that is to say:

353 (i) that at the time of its first use<sup>12</sup> the vehicle is so designed and constructed that prolonged continuous running on leaded petrol would not cause any device designed to control the emission of carbon monoxide, hydrocarbons or nitrogen oxides to malfunction<sup>13</sup>; and 354 (ii) that it is conspicuously and legibly marked in a position immediately visible to a person filling the fuel tank with the word 'UNLEADED' or the prescribed symbol<sup>14</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 The Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 39A, Sch 3A Pt I (as added and amended) has effect for the purpose of excluding certain vehicles first used before specified dates from the application of reg 39A (as added): reg 39A(4), Sch 3A Pt I (reg 39A, Sch 3A added by SI 1988/1524; and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 3A Pt I amended by SI 1990/1131).

3 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 39A(3)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). For these purposes, 'petrol' has the same meaning as in EEC Council Directive 85/210 (OJ L96, 3.4.85, p 25) on the approximation of the laws of the member states concerning the lead content of petrol (repealed): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 39A(5) (as so added).

4 Ibid reg 39A(3)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

5 Ibid reg 39A(1) (as added: see note 2 supra). For these purposes, 'unleaded petrol' has the same meaning as in EC Council Directive 85/210 (OJ L96, 3.4.85, p 25) (repealed): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 39A(5) (as so added).

6 As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 39A(2)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). For these purposes, 'leaded petrol' has the same meaning as in EC Council Directive 85/210 (OJ L96, 3.4.85, p 25) (repealed): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 39A(5) (as so added).

9 Ibid reg 39A(2)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). For these purposes, a vehicle is to be regarded as incapable of running on unleaded petrol at any particular time if, and only if, in its state of adjustment at that time prolonged continuous running on such petrol would damage the engine: reg 39A(6) (as so added).

10 For these purposes, 'fuel tank', in relation to a vehicle, means a fuel tank used in connection with the propulsion of the vehicle: ibid reg 39B(3) (reg 39B added by SI 1988/1524).

11 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 39B(1) (as added: see note 10 supra).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(viii) Fuel Tanks/316. Gas propulsion systems and gas-fired appliances.

316. Gas propulsion systems and gas-fired appliances.

A vehicle which is: (1) a motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> which first used<sup>2</sup> gas<sup>3</sup> as a fuel for its propulsion before 19 November 1982<sup>4</sup>; or (2) a trailer<sup>5</sup> manufactured before 19 November 1982 to which there is fitted a gas container<sup>6</sup>, must be so constructed that it complies with the relevant statutory provisions<sup>7</sup>.

A vehicle which is: (a) a motor vehicle which first used gas as a fuel for its propulsion on or after 19 November 1982<sup>8</sup>; or (b) a motor vehicle first used on or after 1 May 1984 or a trailer manufactured on or after 19 November 1982 which is in either case equipped with a gas container or a gas-fired appliance<sup>9</sup>, must comply with the relevant statutory provisions<sup>10</sup>.

A vehicle which first used gas as a fuel for its propulsion on or after 13 November 1999 must comply with the relevant statutory provisions<sup>11</sup>.

The requirements of the above provisions are in addition to, and not in derogation from, the requirements of any regulations made under powers conferred by the Petroleum (Consolidation) Act 1928, the Health and Safety at Work etc Act 1974, the Control of Pollution Act 1974 or any other Act or any codes of practice issued under the Health and Safety at Work etc Act 1974<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

3 'Gas' means any fuel which is wholly gaseous at 17.5°C under a pressure of 1.013 bar absolute: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table.

4 Ibid reg 40(1)(a).

5 For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 40(1)(b). For these purposes, 'gas container' has the meaning given in reg 40, Sch 4 where compliance with the provisions of Sch 4 (gas containers) is concerned and otherwise has the meaning given in reg 40, Sch 5 (amended by SI 2003/1690) (gas systems): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 40(4).

7 Ibid reg 40(1). The relevant statutory provisions are those contained in Sch 4 (gas containers) or, as the case may be, Sch 5 (as amended: see note 6 supra) (gas systems): reg 40(1).

8 Ibid reg 40(2)(a).

9 'Gas-fired appliance' means a device carried on a motor vehicle or trailer when in use on a road, which consumes gas and which is neither: (1) a device owned or operated by or with the authority of gas suppliers for the purpose of detecting gas; nor (2) an engine for the propulsion of a motor vehicle; nor (3) a lamp which consumes acetylene gas: ibid reg 3(2), Table. The definition refers to devices owned or operated by or with the authority of the British Gas Corporation, which has been abolished: see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 777.

10 Ibid reg 40(2). The relevant statutory provisions are those contained in Sch 5 (as amended: see note 6 supra) (gas systems) or ECE Regulation 67 or 67.01: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 40(2) (amended by SI 2003/1690). For the meaning of 'ECE Regulation' see PARA 270 note 2 ante. As to compliance with European legislation see PARA 270 ante.

11 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 40(2A) (added by SI 2003/1690). The relevant statutory provisions are those contained in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 5 (as amended: see note 6 supra) (gas systems) or ECE Regulation 67.01: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 40(2A) (as so added).

317. Minibuses to which the statutory requirements apply.

The statutory requirements relating to the construction and use of minibuses<sup>1</sup> apply to every minibus<sup>2</sup> first used<sup>3</sup> on or after 1 April 1988 except a vehicle: (1) manufactured by Land Rover UK Limited and known as the Land Rover; or (2) constructed or adapted for the secure transport of prisoners<sup>4</sup>.

1 I.e. the requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 41, Sch 6: see PARA 318 et seq post. However, a minibus which is required by reg 41 to meet the requirements specified in Sch 6 need not meet them if it meets the requirements of such of the Annexes to EC Parliament and Council Directive 2001/85 (OJ L42, 13.2.2002, p 1) (relating to special provisions for vehicles used for the carriage of passengers comprising more than eight seats in addition to the driver's seat) as apply to that minibus: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 41A (added by SI 2005/2987).

2 'Minibus' means a motor vehicle which is constructed or adapted to carry more than eight but not more than 16 seated passengers in addition to the driver: ibid reg 3(2), Table. For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante. For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 ante.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ix) Minibuses/319. Number and position of doors.

319. Number and position of doors.

Every minibus<sup>1</sup> must be fitted with at least: (1) one service door<sup>2</sup> on the near side of the vehicle<sup>3</sup>; and (2) one emergency door<sup>4</sup> either at the rear or on the off side of the vehicle but so that any emergency door fitted on the off side of the vehicle is in addition to the driver's door<sup>5</sup> and there is no requirement for an emergency door on a minibus if it has a service door at the rear in addition to the service door on the near side<sup>6</sup>.

No minibus is to be fitted with any door on its off side other than a driver's door and an emergency door<sup>7</sup>.

- 1 For the meaning of 'minibus' see PARA 317 note 2 ante.

- 2 For these purposes, 'service door' means a door fitted to a minibus for use by passengers in normal circumstances: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 41, Sch 6 para 14.

- 3 Ibid Sch 6 para 2(1)(a).

- 4 For these purposes, 'emergency door' means a door fitted to a minibus for use by passengers in an emergency: ibid Sch 6 para 14.

5 For these purposes, 'driver's door' means a door fitted to a minibus for use by the driver: ibid Sch 6 para 14. For the meaning of 'driver' see PARA 207 ante.

320. Emergency doors.

Every emergency door<sup>1</sup> fitted to a minibus<sup>2</sup> must:

355 (1) be clearly marked, in letters not less than 25 millimetres high, on both the inside and the outside, 'EMERGENCY DOOR' or 'FOR EMERGENCY USE ONLY', and the means of its operation must be clearly indicated on or near the door<sup>3</sup>;

356 (2) if hinged, open outwards<sup>4</sup>;

357 (3) be capable of being operated manually<sup>5</sup>; and 358 (4) when fully opened, give an aperture in the body of the vehicle not less than 1,210 millimetres high nor less than 530 millimetres wide<sup>6</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ix) Minibuses/321. Power-operated doors.

321. Power-operated doors.

Every power-operated door fitted to a minibus<sup>1</sup> must:

359 (1) incorporate transparent panels so as to enable a person immediately inside the door to see any person immediately outside the door<sup>2</sup>;

360 (2) be capable of being operated by a mechanism controlled by the driver<sup>3</sup> of the vehicle when in the driving seat<sup>4</sup>;

361 (3) be capable, in the event of an emergency or a failure of the supply of power for the operation of the door, of being opened from both inside and outside the vehicle by controls which: (a) override all other controls; (b) are placed on, or adjacent to, the door; and (c) are accompanied by markings which clearly indicate

- their position and method of operation and state that they may not be used by passengers except in an emergency<sup>5</sup>;
- 362 (4) have a soft edge so that a trapped finger is unlikely to be injured<sup>6</sup>; and
- 363 (5) be controlled by a mechanism by virtue of which if the door, when closing, meets a resistance exceeding 150 newtons, either the door will cease to close and begin to open or the closing force will cease and the door will become capable of being opened manually<sup>7</sup>.

No minibus is to be equipped with a system for the storage or transmission of energy in respect of the opening or closing of any door which, either in normal operation or if the system fails, is capable of adversely affecting the operation of the vehicle's braking system<sup>8</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(ix) Minibuses/322. Locks, handles and hinges of doors.

322. Locks, handles and hinges of doors.

No minibus<sup>1</sup> is to be fitted with:

- 364 (1) a door which can be locked from the outside unless, when so locked, it is capable of being opened from inside the vehicle when stationary<sup>2</sup>;
- 365 (2) a handle or other device for opening any door, other than the driver's door<sup>3</sup>, from inside the vehicle unless the handle or other device is designed so as to prevent, so far as is reasonably practicable, the accidental opening of the door, and is fitted with a guard or transparent cover or so designed that it must be raised to open the door<sup>4</sup>;
- 366 (3) a door which is not capable of being opened, when not locked, from inside and outside the vehicle by a single movement of the handle or other device for opening the door<sup>5</sup>;
- 367 (4) a door in respect of which there is not a device capable of holding the door closed so as to prevent any passenger falling through the doorway<sup>6</sup>;
- 368 (5) a side door which opens outwards and is hinged at the edge nearest the rear of the vehicle except in the case of a door having more than one rigid panel<sup>7</sup>;
- 369 (6) a door, other than a power-operated door, in respect of which there is not either: (a) a slam lock of the two-stage type; or (b) a device by means of which the driver, when occupying the driver's seat, is informed if the door is not securely closed, such device being operated by movement of the handle or other device for opening the door or, in the case of a handle or other device with a spring-return mechanism, by movement of the door as well as of the handle or other device<sup>8</sup>.

The provisions of heads (1), (3), (4) and (6) above do not apply in respect of a near side rear door forming part of a pair of doors fitted at the rear of a vehicle if that door is capable of being held securely closed by the other door of that pair<sup>9</sup>.

323. View of doors.

Every minibuses<sup>1</sup> must be fitted with mirrors or other means so that the driver<sup>2</sup>, when occupying the driver's seat, can see clearly the area immediately inside and outside every service door<sup>3</sup> of the vehicle<sup>4</sup>. This requirement is deemed to be satisfied in respect of a rear service door if a person 1.3 metres tall standing 1 metre behind the vehicle is visible to the driver when occupying the driver's seat<sup>5</sup>.

324. Access to doors.

There must be unobstructed access from every passenger seat in a minibus<sup>1</sup> to at least two doors one of which must be on the nearside of the vehicle and one of which must be either at the rear or on the offside of the vehicle<sup>2</sup>. However, access to one only of those doors may be obstructed by either or both of:

- 370 (1) a seat which when tilted or folded does not obstruct access to that door<sup>3</sup>; and
- 371 (2) a lifting platform or ramp which: (a) does not obstruct the handle or other device on the inside for opening the door with which the platform or ramp is associated; and (b) when the door is open, can be pushed or pulled out of the way from the inside so as to leave the doorway clear for use in an emergency<sup>4</sup>.

326. Seats.

No seat is to be fitted to any door of a minibus<sup>1</sup>. Every seat and every wheelchair anchorage fitted to a minibus must be fixed to the vehicle<sup>2</sup>. No seat, other than a wheelchair, fitted to a minibus is to be less than 400 millimetres wide, and, in ascertaining the width of a seat, no account is to be taken of any arm-rests, whether or not they are folded back or otherwise put out of use<sup>3</sup>.

No minibus is to be fitted with an anchorage for a wheelchair in such a manner that a wheelchair secured to the anchorage would face either side of the vehicle<sup>4</sup>.

No minibus is to be fitted with a seat:

- 372 (1) facing either side of the vehicle and immediately forward of a rear door unless the seat is fitted with an arm-rest or similar device to guard against a passenger on that seat falling through the doorway<sup>5</sup>; or
- 373 (2) so placed that a passenger on it would, without protection, be liable to be thrown through any doorway which is provided with a power-operated door or down any steps, unless the vehicle is fitted with a screen or guard which affords adequate protection against that occurrence<sup>6</sup>.

327. Electrical equipment and wiring.

No minibus<sup>1</sup> is to be fitted with any:

- 374 (1) electrical circuit which is liable to carry a current exceeding that for which it was designed<sup>2</sup>;
- 375 (2) cable for the conduct of electricity unless it is suitably insulated and protected from damage<sup>3</sup>;
- 376 (3) electrical circuit, other than a charging circuit, which includes any equipment other than: (a) a starter motor; (b) a glow plug; (c) an ignition circuit; and (d) a device to stop the vehicle's engine, unless it includes a fuse or circuit breaker so, however, that one fuse or circuit breaker may serve more than one circuit<sup>4</sup>; or
- 377 (4) electrical circuit with a voltage exceeding 100 volts unless there is connected in each pole of the main supply of electricity which is not connected to earth a manually-operated switch which is: (a) capable of disconnecting the circuit, or, if there is more than one, every circuit, from the main supply; (b) not capable of disconnecting any circuit supplying any lamp with which the vehicle is required to be fitted; and (c) located inside the vehicle in a position readily accessible to the driver<sup>5</sup>.

These provisions do not apply in respect of a high tension ignition circuit or a circuit within a unit of equipment<sup>6</sup>.

331. Fire extinguishing apparatus.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on a road<sup>2</sup> a minibus<sup>3</sup> first used<sup>4</sup> on or after 1 April 1988 unless it carries suitable and efficient apparatus for extinguishing fire which is of a specified type<sup>5</sup>. Such apparatus must be:

- 378 (1) readily available for use<sup>6</sup>;
- 379 (2) clearly marked with the appropriate British Standards Institution<sup>7</sup> specification number<sup>8</sup>; and
- 380 (3) maintained in good and efficient working order<sup>9</sup>.

332. First aid equipment.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on a road<sup>2</sup> a minibus<sup>3</sup> first used<sup>4</sup> on or after 1 April 1988 unless it carries a receptacle which contains the prescribed first aid equipment<sup>5</sup>.

The receptacle must be:

- 381 (1) maintained in a good condition<sup>6</sup>;
- 382 (2) suitable for the purpose of keeping the first aid equipment in good condition<sup>7</sup>;
- 383 (3) readily available for use<sup>8</sup>; and
- 384 (4) prominently marked as a first aid receptacle<sup>9</sup>.

The first aid equipment must be maintained in good condition and must be of a good and reliable quality and of a suitable design<sup>10</sup>.

334. Seat belt anchorage points.

Every vehicle, being:

- 387 (1) a bus<sup>1</sup> first used on or after 1 April 1982<sup>2</sup>;
- 388 (2) a wheeled<sup>3</sup> motor car<sup>4</sup> first used<sup>5</sup> on or after 1 January 1965<sup>6</sup>;
- 389 (2) a three-wheeled motor cycle<sup>7</sup> which has an unladen weight<sup>8</sup> exceeding 255 kilograms and which was first used on or after 1 September 1970<sup>9</sup>; and
- 390 (3) every heavy motor car<sup>10</sup> first used on or after 1 October 1988<sup>11</sup>, must be equipped with anchorage points for vehicle seat belts<sup>12</sup>.

This provision does not apply to:

- 391 (a) a goods vehicle<sup>13</sup> (other than a dual-purpose vehicle<sup>14</sup>): (i) which was first used before 1 April 1967<sup>15</sup>; or (ii) which was first used on or after 1 April 1980 and before 1 October 1988 and has a maximum gross weight<sup>16</sup> exceeding 3,500 kilograms<sup>17</sup>; or (iii) which was first used before 1 April 1980 or, if the vehicle is of a model manufactured before 1 October 1979, was first used before 1 April 1982 and, in either case, has an unladen weight exceeding 1,525 kilograms<sup>18</sup>;
- 392 (b) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>19</sup>;

- 393 (c) a motor tractor<sup>20</sup>;
- 394 (d) a works truck<sup>21</sup>;
- 395 (e) an electrically-propelled goods vehicle first used before 1 October 1988<sup>22</sup>;
- 396 (f) a pedestrian-controlled vehicle<sup>23</sup>;
- 397 (g) a vehicle which has been used on roads outside Great Britain<sup>24</sup> and has been imported into Great Britain, whilst it is being driven from the place where it has arrived in Great Britain to a place of residence of the owner or driver<sup>25</sup> of the vehicle, or from any such place to a place where, by previous arrangement, it will be provided with the required anchorage points<sup>26</sup> and the required seat belts<sup>27</sup>;
- 398 (h) a vehicle having a maximum speed<sup>28</sup> not exceeding 16 miles per hour<sup>29</sup>;
- 399 (i) a motor cycle equipped with a driver's seat of a type requiring the driver to sit astride it, and which is constructed or assembled by a person not ordinarily engaged in the trade or business of manufacturing vehicles of that description<sup>30</sup>; or
- 400 (j) a locomotive<sup>31</sup>.

335. Seat belts.

Every vehicle which is required to be equipped with a seat belt anchorage point<sup>1</sup> must be provided with a body-restraining device<sup>2</sup> or a seat belt<sup>3</sup> for the use of persons in the driver's seat or in specified passenger seats<sup>4</sup>. The requirement does not apply to vehicles being used in certain circumstances<sup>5</sup> or in relation to seats where other restraints are fitted<sup>6</sup>. Every seat belt which is required to be provided must be appropriately secured to the anchorage points, or in the case of a child restraint<sup>7</sup> to anchorages specially provided for it, or in the case of a disabled person's seat belt<sup>8</sup> first fitted before 1 October 2001 to the vehicle or to the seat which is occupied by the person wearing the belt<sup>9</sup>. Every seat belt, other than a disabled person's belt or a particular type of seat belt<sup>10</sup>, provided for any person in a vehicle to which the requirement applies must be legibly and permanently marked with a British Standard mark or a designated approval mark or with an EC Component Type-Approval Mark<sup>11</sup>.

1 Ie every vehicle to which the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 46 (as substituted) applies: see PARA 334 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'body-restraining belt' means a seat belt designed to provide restraint for both the upper and lower parts of the trunk of the wearer in the event of an accident to the vehicle: ibid reg 47(8) (amended by SI 1987/1133).

3 For these purposes, 'seat belt' means a belt intended to be worn by a person in a vehicle and designed to prevent or lessen injury to its wearer in the event of an accident to the vehicle and includes, in the case of a child restraint, any special chair to which the belt is attached: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(8) (amended by SI 1987/1133).

4 See the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(2) (amended by SI 1987/1133; SI 1989/1478; SI 2001/1043). For these purposes, 'specified passenger's seat' means: (1) in the case of a vehicle which has one forward-facing front seat alongside the driver's seat, that seat, and in the case of a vehicle which has more than one such seat, the one furthest from the driver's seat; or (2) if the vehicle normally has no seat which is the specified passenger's seat under head (1) supra, the forward-facing front seat for a passenger which is foremost in the vehicle and furthest from the driver's seat, unless there is a fixed partition separating that seat from the space in front of it alongside the driver's seat: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(8) (amended by SI 1987/1133).

5 See the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(4) (amended by SI 1987/1133; SI 1989/1478; SI 1994/3270; SI 2001/1043); and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(4A) (added by SI 2001/1043).

6 See the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(7A)-(7C) (added by SI 1994/3270; and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(7A) amended by SI 1996/163).

7 For these purposes, 'child restraint' means a seat belt for the use of a young person which is designed either to be fitted directly to a suitable anchorage or to be used in conjunction with a seat belt for an adult and held in place by the restraining action of that belt: see the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(8) (amended by SI 1987/1133).

8 For these purposes, 'disabled person's belt' means a seat belt which has been specially designed or adapted for use by an adult or young person suffering from some physical defect or disability and which is intended for use solely by such a person: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(8) (amended by SI 1987/1133).

9 See the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(5) (amended by SI 1987/1133; SI 2001/1043).

10 Is a seat belt mentioned in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(4)(c) (amended by SI 1987/1133; SI 1989/1478; SI 1994/3270).

11 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(7) (amended by SI 1987/1133; SI 1994/3270; SI 1996/163; SI 2001/1043). As to British Standard marks and designated approval marks see the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(8) (amended by SI 1987/1133; SI 1989/1478; SI 1991/2003; SI 1994/3270; SI 1998/2429). The EC Component Type-Approval Mark must comply with EC Community Directive 2000/3 (OJ L4, 9.1.2003, p 12) Annex III: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 47(7) (amended by SI 2001/1043).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(x) Protective Systems/336. Maintenance of seat belts and anchorage points.

336. Maintenance of seat belts and anchorage points.

The following provisions apply to every seat belt with which a motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> is required to be provided<sup>2</sup>, the anchorages, fastenings, adjusting device and retracting mechanism, if any, of every such seat belt, and every anchorage with which a goods vehicle<sup>3</sup> is required<sup>4</sup> to be provided<sup>5</sup>.

The anchorage points provided for seat belts must be used only as anchorages for the seat belts for which they are intended to be used or capable of being used<sup>6</sup>.

All load-bearing members of the vehicle structure or panelling within 30 centimetres of each anchorage point must be maintained in a sound condition and free from serious corrosion, distortion or fracture<sup>7</sup>.

The adjusting device and, if fitted, the retracting mechanism of the seat belt must be so maintained that the belt may be readily adjusted to the body of the wearer, either automatically or manually, according to the design of the device and, if fitted, the retracting mechanism<sup>8</sup>.

The seat belt and its anchorages, fastenings and adjusting device must be maintained free from any obvious defect which would be likely to affect adversely the performance by the seat belt of the function of restraining the body of the wearer in the event of an accident to the vehicle<sup>9</sup>.

The buckle or other fastening of the seat belt must:

- 401 (1) be so maintained that the belt can be readily fastened or unfastened<sup>10</sup>;
- 402 (2) be kept free from any temporary or permanent obstruction<sup>11</sup>; and
- 403 (3) except in the case of a disabled person's seat belt, be readily accessible to a person sitting in the seat for which the seat belt is provided<sup>12</sup>.

The webbing or other material which forms the seat belt must be maintained free from cuts or other visible faults (as, for example, extensive fraying) which would be likely to affect adversely the performance of the belt when under stress<sup>13</sup>.

The ends of every seat belt, other than a disabled person's seat belt, must be securely fastened to the anchorage points provided for them<sup>14</sup>. The ends of every disabled person's seat belt must, when the seat belt is being used for the purpose for which it was designed and constructed, be securely fastened either to some part of the structure of the vehicle or to the seat which is being occupied by the person wearing the belt so that the body of the person wearing the belt would be restrained in the event of an accident to the vehicle<sup>15</sup>.

None of the above requirements<sup>16</sup> applies if the vehicle is being used: (a) on a journey after the start of which the requirement ceased to be complied with<sup>17</sup>; or (b) after the requirement ceased to be complied with and steps have been taken for such compliance to be restored with all reasonable expedition<sup>18</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(x) Protective Systems/337. Minibuses and coaches to be fitted with additional seat belts when used in certain circumstances.

337. Minibuses and coaches to be fitted with additional seat belts when used in certain circumstances.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on a road<sup>2</sup> a coach<sup>3</sup> or minibus<sup>4</sup> wholly or mainly for the purpose of carrying a group of three or more children<sup>5</sup> where the group of children is on an organised trip<sup>6</sup> and the journey is being made for the purposes of the trip<sup>7</sup>, unless the appropriate number<sup>8</sup> of forward-facing passenger seats<sup>9</sup> fitted to the vehicle meet the relevant statutory requirements<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'coach' see PARA 308 note 1 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'minibus' see PARA 317 note 2 ante.

5 For these purposes, a child is a person who is aged three years or more but is under the age of 16 years: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 48A(10) (reg 48A added by SI 1996/163).

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 48A(2)(a) (as added: see note 5 supra). Without prejudice to the generality of reg 48A(2)(a) (as added), a group of children is, for these purposes, to be regarded as being on an organised trip if they are being carried to or from their school or from one part of their school premises to another: reg 48A(4) (as so added).

7 Ibid reg 48A(2)(b) (as added: see note 5 supra).

8 For these purposes, the reference to the appropriate number is a reference to the number of children being carried in the vehicle, excluding disabled children in wheelchairs: ibid reg 48A(3) (as added: see note 5 supra).

9 For these purposes, a rearward-facing seat is to be treated as a forward-facing seat which meets the requirements of ibid reg 48A (as added and amended) if the coach or minibus concerned was first used on or after 1 October 2001, and the rearward-facing seat complies with the requirements of reg 46 (as substituted) (see PARA 334 ante) and reg 47 (as amended) (see PARA 335 ante): reg 48A(3A) (added by SI 2001/1043).

10 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 48A(1) (as added: see note 5 supra). The relevant statutory requirements are those in reg 48A(6)-(9) (as so added). Without prejudice to the meaning of reg 48A(2)(b) (as added) (see the text to note 7 supra), reg 48A(1) (as added) does not apply to a vehicle if it is being used in the provision of a bus service of a description specified in the Fuel Duty Grant (Eligible Bus Services) Regulations 1985, SI 1985/1886, reg 2, Schedule para 2 or if it is otherwise being used wholly or mainly for the purpose of providing a transport service for the general public: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 48A(5) (as so added).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(x) Protective Systems/338. Rear under-run protective device.

338. Rear under-run protective device.

Every wheeled<sup>1</sup> goods vehicle<sup>2</sup> being either:

- 404 (1) a motor vehicle<sup>3</sup> with a maximum gross weight<sup>4</sup> which exceeds 3,500 kilograms and which was first used<sup>5</sup> on or after 1 April 1984<sup>6</sup>; or
- 405 (2) a trailer<sup>7</sup> manufactured on or after 1 May 1983 with an unladen weight<sup>8</sup> which exceeds 1,020 kilograms<sup>9</sup>, must be equipped<sup>10</sup> with a rear under-run protective device<sup>11</sup>.

This provision does not apply to:

- 406 (a) a motor vehicle which has a maximum speed<sup>12</sup> not exceeding 15 miles per hour<sup>13</sup>;
- 407 (b) a motor car<sup>14</sup> or a heavy motor car<sup>15</sup> constructed or adapted to form part of an articulated vehicle<sup>16</sup>;
- 408 (c) an agricultural trailer<sup>17</sup>;
- 409 (d) engineering plant<sup>18</sup>;
- 410 (e) a fire engine<sup>19</sup>;
- 411 (f) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>20</sup>;
- 412 (g) a vehicle fitted at the rear with apparatus specially designed for spreading material on a road<sup>21</sup>;
- 413 (h) a vehicle so constructed that it can be unloaded by part of the vehicle being tipped rearwards<sup>22</sup>;
- 414 (i) a vehicle owned by the Secretary of State for Defence<sup>23</sup> and used for naval, military or air force purposes<sup>24</sup>;
- 415 (j) a vehicle to which no bodywork has been fitted and which is being driven or towed: (i) for the purpose of a quality or safety check by its manufacturer or a dealer in, or distributor of, such vehicles<sup>25</sup>; or (ii) to a place where, by previous arrangement, bodywork is to be fitted or work preparatory to the fitting of bodywork is to be carried out<sup>26</sup>; or (iii) by previous arrangement, to premises of a dealer in, or distributor of, such vehicles<sup>27</sup>;
- 416 (k) a vehicle which is being driven or towed to a place where, by previous arrangement, a device is to be fitted so that it complies with these provisions<sup>28</sup>;
- 417 (l) a vehicle specially designed and constructed, and not merely adapted, to carry other vehicles loaded onto it from the rear<sup>29</sup>;
- 418 (m) a trailer specially designed and constructed, and not merely adapted, to carry round timber, beams or girders, being items of exceptional length<sup>30</sup>;
- 419 (n) a vehicle fitted with a tail lift so constructed that the lift platform forms part of the floor of the vehicle and this part has a length of at least 1 metre measured parallel to the longitudinal axis of the vehicle<sup>31</sup>;

- 420 (o) a trailer having a base or centre in a country outside Great Britain<sup>32</sup> from which it normally starts its journeys, provided that a period of not more than 12 months has elapsed since the vehicle was last brought into Great Britain<sup>33</sup>;
- 421 (p) a vehicle specially designed, and not merely adapted, for the carriage and mixing of liquid concrete<sup>34</sup>;
- 422 (q) a vehicle designed and used solely for the delivery of coal by means of a special conveyor which is carried on the vehicle and when in use is fitted to the rear of the vehicle so as to render its being equipped with a rear under-run protective device impracticable<sup>35</sup>; or
- 423 (r) an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>36</sup>.

340. Sideguards.

Every wheeled<sup>1</sup> goods vehicle<sup>2</sup> being:

- 424 (1) a motor vehicle<sup>3</sup> first used<sup>4</sup> on or after 1 April 1984 with a maximum gross weight<sup>5</sup> which exceeds 3,500 kilograms<sup>6</sup>;
- 425 (2) a trailer<sup>7</sup> manufactured on or after 1 May 1983 with an unladen weight<sup>8</sup> which exceeds 1,020 kilograms<sup>9</sup>;
- 426 (3) a semi-trailer<sup>10</sup> manufactured before 1 May 1983 which has a relevant plate<sup>11</sup> showing a gross weight exceeding 26,000 kilograms and which forms part of an articulated vehicle<sup>12</sup> with a relevant train weight<sup>13</sup> exceeding 32,520 kilograms<sup>14</sup>; or
- 427 (4) a wheeled goods vehicle<sup>15</sup>, whether of a description falling within heads (a) to (p) below or not, which is a semi-trailer some or all of the wheels<sup>16</sup> of which are driven by the drawing vehicle<sup>17</sup>, must be securely fitted with a sideguard to give protection on certain sides of the vehicle<sup>18</sup>. A sideguard with which a vehicle is so required to be fitted must comply with all the prescribed specifications<sup>19</sup>.

These provisions do not apply to:

- 428 (a) a motor vehicle which has a maximum speed<sup>20</sup> not exceeding 15 miles per hour<sup>21</sup>;
- 429 (b) an agricultural trailer<sup>22</sup>;
- 430 (c) engineering plant<sup>23</sup>;
- 431 (d) a fire engine<sup>24</sup>;
- 432 (e) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>25</sup>;
- 433 (f) a vehicle so constructed that it can be unloaded by part of the vehicle being tipped sideways or rearwards<sup>26</sup>;
- 434 (g) a vehicle owned by the Secretary of State for Defence<sup>27</sup> and used for naval, military or air force purposes<sup>28</sup>;
- 435 (h) a vehicle to which no bodywork has been fitted and which is being driven or towed: (i) for the purpose of a quality or safety check by its manufacturer or a dealer in, or distributor of, such vehicles<sup>29</sup>; (ii) to a place where, by previous arrangement, bodywork is to be fitted or work preparatory to the fitting of bodywork is to be carried out<sup>30</sup>; or (iii) by previous arrangement to premises of a dealer in, or distributor of, such vehicles<sup>31</sup>;
- 436 (i) a vehicle which is being driven or towed to a place where by previous arrangement a sideguard is to be fitted so that it complies with this provision<sup>32</sup>;
- 437 (j) a refuse vehicle<sup>33</sup>;
- 438 (k) a trailer specially designed and constructed, and not merely adapted, to carry round timber, beams or girders, being items of exceptional length<sup>34</sup>;
- 439 (l) a motor car<sup>35</sup> or a heavy motor car<sup>36</sup> constructed or adapted to form part of an articulated vehicle<sup>37</sup>;
- 440 (m) a vehicle specially designed and constructed, and not merely adapted, to carry other vehicles loaded onto it from the front or the rear<sup>38</sup>;
- 441 (n) a trailer with a load platform: (i) no part of any edge of which is more than 60 millimetres inboard from the tangential plane; and (ii) the upper surface of which is not more than 750 millimetres from the ground throughout that part of its length under which a sideguard would have to be fitted<sup>39</sup> if this exemption did not apply to it<sup>40</sup>;
- 442 (o) a trailer having a base or centre in a country outside Great Britain<sup>41</sup> from which it normally starts its journeys, provided that a period of not more than 12 months has elapsed since the vehicle was last brought into Great Britain<sup>42</sup>; or
- 443 (p) an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>43</sup>.

Instead of complying with the above provisions, a vehicle may comply with the appropriate European legislation<sup>44</sup>.

344. Additional exits from double-decked coaches.

Every coach<sup>1</sup> which is: (1) a double-decked vehicle<sup>2</sup>; and (2) first used<sup>3</sup> on or after 1 April 1990<sup>4</sup>, must be equipped with two staircases<sup>5</sup>, one of which must be located in one half of the vehicle and the other in the other half of the vehicle<sup>6</sup>. However, instead of being so equipped with two staircases, every such coach may be equipped in accordance with the following provisions with a hammer or other similar device with which in case of emergency any side window of the vehicle may be broken<sup>7</sup>.

Where a vehicle is equipped with: (a) a staircase located in one half of the vehicle<sup>8</sup>; and (b) an emergency exit<sup>9</sup> located in the same half of the upper deck<sup>10</sup> of the vehicle, the hammer or the similar device must be located in the other half of that deck<sup>11</sup>.

Any hammer or other similar device with which a vehicle is so equipped must be located in a conspicuous readily accessible position in the upper deck of the vehicle<sup>12</sup>.

There must be displayed, in a conspicuous position in close proximity to the hammer or other similar device, a notice which must contain in clear and indelible lettering<sup>13</sup>: (i) in letters not less than 25 millimetres high, the heading 'IN EMERGENCY'<sup>14</sup>; and (ii) in letters not less than 10 millimetres high, instructions that in case of emergency the hammer or device is to be used first to break any side window by striking the glass near the edge of the window and then to clear any remaining glass from the window aperture<sup>15</sup>.

TEXT AND NOTE 16--SI 1986/1078 reg 53C amended: SI 2009/142. Directives 97/27, 2001/85 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/345. Exhaust systems and silencers.

(xi) Control of Emissions

345. Exhaust systems and silencers.

Every vehicle propelled by an internal combustion engine must be fitted with an exhaust system<sup>1</sup> including a silencer<sup>2</sup> and the exhaust gases from the engine must not escape into the atmosphere without first passing through the silencer<sup>3</sup>.

1 'Exhaust system' means a complete set of components through which the exhaust gases escape from the engine unit of a motor vehicle including those which are necessary to limit the noise caused by the escape of those gases: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table. For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 'Silencer' means a contrivance suitable and sufficient for reducing as far as may be reasonable the noise caused by the escape of exhaust gases from the engine of a motor vehicle: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

3 Ibid reg 54(1). Instead of complying with reg 54(1) a vehicle may comply with EEC Council Directive 77/212 (OJ L66, 12.3.77, p 33), EEC Commission Directive 81/334 (OJ L131, 18.5.81, p 6), EEC Council Directive 84/372 (OJ L196, 26.7.84, p 47), EEC Council Directive 84/424 (OJ L238, 6.9.84, p 31) or EEC Council Directive 92/97 (OJ L371, 19.12.92, p 1) (all of which amend EEC Council Directive 70/157 (OJ L42, 23.2.70, p 16) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the permissible sound level and the exhaust system of motor vehicles (as amended)) or ECE Regulation 51.02 or, in the case of a motor cycle other than a moped, EEC Council Directive 78/1015 (OJ L349, 13.12.78, p 21) (repealed), EEC Council Directive 87/56 (OJ L24, 27.1.87, p 42) or EEC Council Directive 89/235 (OJ L98, 11.4.89, p 1): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 54(3) (amended by SI 1996/2329). For these purposes, 'moped' has the meaning given to it in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 69, Sch 9 para 5 (see PARA 367 post): reg 54(4). For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante. For the meaning of 'ECE Regulation' see PARA 270 note 2 ante.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/346. Maintenance of exhaust systems and silencers.

346. Maintenance of exhaust systems and silencers.

Every exhaust system<sup>1</sup> and silencer<sup>2</sup> must be maintained in good and efficient working order and must not after the date of manufacture be altered so as to increase the noise made by the escape of exhaust gases<sup>3</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'exhaust system' see PARA 345 note 1 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'silencer' see PARA 345 note 2 ante.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/347. Noise limits for certain vehicles with three or more wheels.

347. Noise limits for certain vehicles with three or more wheels.

Every wheeled<sup>1</sup> motor vehicle<sup>2</sup> having at least three wheels<sup>3</sup> and first used<sup>4</sup> on or after 1 October 1983 which is<sup>5</sup>:

447 (1) a vehicle, not falling within head (2) or head (3) below, with or without bodywork<sup>6</sup>;

448 (2) a vehicle not falling within head (3) below which is:

17

38. (a) engineering plant<sup>7</sup>;

39. (b) a locomotive<sup>8</sup> other than an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>9</sup>;

40. (c) a motor tractor<sup>10</sup> other than an industrial tractor<sup>11</sup> or an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>12</sup>;

41. (d) a public works vehicle<sup>13</sup>;

42. (e) a works truck<sup>14</sup>;

43. (f) a refuse vehicle<sup>15</sup>; or 18

449 (3) a vehicle which:

19

44. (a) has a compression ignition engine<sup>16</sup>;

45. (b) is so constructed or adapted that the driving power of the engine is, or by appropriate use of the controls can be, transmitted to all wheels of the vehicle<sup>17</sup>; and must be so constructed that it complies with the relevant requirements<sup>19</sup> as to noise limits<sup>20</sup>.

46. (c) falls within certain other categories<sup>18</sup>,

This provision does not apply to:

450 (i) certain vehicles first used on or after 1 October 1996<sup>21</sup>;

452 (iii) an agricultural motor vehicle which is first used before 1 June 1986 or which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>24</sup>;

453 (iv) an industrial tractor<sup>25</sup>;

454 (v) a road roller<sup>26</sup>;

- 455 (vi) a vehicle specially constructed, and not merely adapted, for the purposes of fighting fires or salvage from fires at or in the vicinity of airports, and having an engine power exceeding 220 kilowatts<sup>27</sup>;
- 456 (vii) a vehicle which runs on rails<sup>28</sup>; or
- 457 (viii) a vehicle manufactured by Leyland Vehicles Limited and known as the Atlantean Bus, if first used before 1 October 1984<sup>29</sup>.

Instead of complying with the above provisions, a vehicle may comply at the time of its first use with the relevant European legislation<sup>30</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to a motor vehicle which is: (A) proceeding to a place where, by previous arrangement, noise emitted by it is about to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the vehicle complies with the provisions as to noise limits, or the vehicle is about to be mechanically adjusted, modified or equipped for the purpose of securing that it so complies; or (B) returning from such a place immediately after the noise has been so measured<sup>31</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/348. Noise limits for certain vehicles first used on or after 1 October 1996.

348. Noise limits for certain vehicles first used on or after 1 October 1996.

A motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 October 1996, being:

- 458 (1) a motor vehicle with less than four wheels<sup>3</sup>;
- 459 (2) a special vehicle<sup>4</sup>;
- 460 (3) a motor vehicle with a maximum speed<sup>5</sup> not exceeding 25 kilometres per hour<sup>6</sup>; and
- 461 (4) a motor vehicle not being a vehicle to which heads (1) to (3) above apply<sup>7</sup>, must be so constructed that it meets the prescribed requirements<sup>8</sup> relating to noise limits<sup>9</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to:

- 462 (a) a vehicle with fewer than three wheels<sup>10</sup>;
- 463 (b) a motor cycle<sup>11</sup> with a sidecar attached;
- 464 (c) an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>12</sup> which is first used before 1 June 1986 or which is not driven at more than 20 miles per hour;
- 465 (d) an industrial tractor<sup>13</sup>;
- 466 (e) a road roller;

- 467 (f) a vehicle specially constructed, and not merely adapted, for the purposes of fighting fires or salvage from fires at or in the vicinity of airports, and having an engine power exceeding 220 kilowatts;
- 468 (g) a vehicle which runs on rails; or
- 469 (h) a vehicle manufactured by Leyland Vehicles Limited and known as the Atlantean Bus, if first used before 1 October 1984<sup>14</sup>.

Instead of complying with the above provisions, a vehicle may comply at the time of its first use with the relevant European legislation<sup>15</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to a motor vehicle which is: (i) proceeding to a place where, by previous arrangement, noise emitted by it is about to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the vehicle complies with the provisions as to noise limits, or the vehicle is about to be mechanically adjusted, modified or equipped for the purpose of securing that it so complies; or (ii) returning from such a place immediately after the noise has been so measured<sup>16</sup>.

Every wheeled<sup>1</sup> vehicle first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 April 1983 being an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>3</sup> or an industrial tractor<sup>4</sup>, other than<sup>5</sup>: (1) an agricultural motor vehicle which is first used on or after 1 June 1986 and which is driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>6</sup>; or (2) a road roller<sup>7</sup>, must be constructed:

- 470 (a) so that its sound level does not exceed, when measured under the specified conditions<sup>8</sup>, the prescribed sound levels<sup>9</sup>; and
- 471 (b) so that the device designed to reduce the exhaust noise meets the prescribed requirements<sup>10</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to a motor vehicle which is: (i) proceeding to a place where, by previous arrangement, noise emitted by it is about to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the vehicle complies with the provisions as to noise limits, or the vehicle is about to be mechanically adjusted, modified or equipped for the purpose of securing that it so complies; or (ii) returning from such a place immediately after the noise has been so measured<sup>11</sup>.

349 Noise limits for agricultural motor vehicles and industrial tractors

NOTES 8, 10--Directive 74/151 replaced: European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2009/63 (OJ L214, 19.8.2009, p 23).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/350. Construction requirements relating to noise limits for motor cycles.

350. Construction requirements relating to noise limits for motor cycles.

Every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 April 1983 which is a moped<sup>3</sup> or a two-wheeled<sup>4</sup> motor cycle<sup>5</sup>, whether or not with sidecar attached, which is not a moped<sup>6</sup>, must be so constructed that it meets the relevant construction requirements<sup>7</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to a motor vehicle which is: (1) proceeding to a place where, by previous arrangement, noise emitted by it is about to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the vehicle complies with the provisions as to noise limits, or the vehicle is about to be mechanically adjusted, modified or equipped for the purpose of securing that it so complies; or (2) returning from such a place immediately after the noise has been so measured<sup>8</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'moped' has the meaning given to it in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 69, Sch 9 para 5 (see PARA 367 post): reg 57(5) (reg 57 substituted by SI 1994/14).

4 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 57(1) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

7 Ibid reg 57(1) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). The relevant construction requirements are: (1) if the vehicle is first used before 1 April 1991, the requirements of Sch 7A Pt I Table item 1 or 2 (Sch 7A added by SI 1994/14); and (2) if the vehicle is first used on or after that date, the requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 7A Pt I Table item 2 (as so added): reg 57(2) (as so substituted).

Instead of complying with reg 57(2) (as substituted), a vehicle first used before 1 April 1991 may comply at the time of its first use with EEC Council Directive 78/1015 (OJ L349, 13.12.78, p 21) on the approximation of the laws of the member states on the permissible sound level and exhaust system of motor cycles, or EEC Council Directive 87/56 (OJ L24, 27.1.87, p 42) or EEC Council Directive 89/235 (OJ L98, 11.4.89, p 1): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 57(3) (as so substituted). Instead of complying with reg 57(2) (as substituted), a vehicle first used on or after 1 April 1991 may comply at the time of its first use with EEC Council Directive 87/56 (OJ L24, 27.1.87, p 42) or EEC Council Directive 89/235 (OJ L98, 11.4.89, p 1): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 57(4) (as so substituted).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/351. Exhaust systems for motor cycles.

351. Exhaust systems for motor cycles.

Any original silencer<sup>1</sup> forming part of the exhaust system<sup>2</sup> of a vehicle to which the construction requirements relating to noise limits for motor cycles<sup>3</sup> apply must be so constructed that the vehicle meets the relevant statutory requirements<sup>4</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to a motor vehicle which is: (1) proceeding to a place where, by previous arrangement, noise emitted by it is about to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the vehicle complies with the provisions as to noise limits, or the vehicle is about to be mechanically adjusted, modified or equipped for the purpose of securing that it so complies; or (2) returning from such a place immediately after the noise has been so measured<sup>5</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'original silencer', in relation to a vehicle, means a silencer which was fitted to the vehicle when it was manufactured: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 57A(14) (reg 57A added by SI 1994/14). For the meaning of 'silencer' see PARA 345 note 2 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'exhaust system' see PARA 345 note 1 ante.

3 I.e. the requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 57 (as substituted): see PARA 350 ante. For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante.

4 See ibid reg 57A(1)-(14) (reg 57A as added (see note 1 supra); and reg 57A(8A) added by SI 1996/16).

5 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 59 (amended by SI 1995/1201).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/352. Maintenance requirements relating to noise limits for motor cycles.

352. Maintenance requirements relating to noise limits for motor cycles.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on a road<sup>2</sup> a motor cycle<sup>3</sup> to which the construction requirements relating to noise limits for motor cycles<sup>4</sup> apply if the following three conditions are all fulfilled<sup>5</sup>:

- 472 (1) the vehicle does not meet the noise limit requirements<sup>6</sup>;
- 473 (2) any part of the vehicle is not in good and efficient working order or the vehicle has been altered<sup>7</sup>; and
- 474 (3) the noise made by the vehicle would have been materially less, so far as applicable, were all parts of the vehicle in good and efficient working order or had the vehicle not been altered<sup>8</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply to a motor vehicle which is: (a) proceeding to a place where, by previous arrangement, noise emitted by it is about to be measured for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the vehicle complies with the provisions as to noise limits, or the vehicle is about to be mechanically adjusted, modified or equipped for the purpose of securing that it so complies; or (b) returning from such a place immediately after the noise has been so measured<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante.

4 I.e. the requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 57 (as substituted): see PARA 350 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 57B(2) (as added: see note 5 supra). For these purposes, a vehicle meets the noise limit requirements if: (1) in the case of a vehicle first used before 1 April 1991 and not fitted with a replacement silencer, it meets the requirements of Sch 7A Pt I Table item 1 or 2 (Sch 7A added by SI 1994/14); (2) in the case of a vehicle first used before 1 April 1991 and fitted with a replacement silencer, it meets the requirements of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 7A Pt I Table item 1 or 3 (as so added); (3) in the case of a vehicle first used on or after 1 April 1991 and not fitted with a replacement silencer, it meets the requirements of Sch 7A Pt I Table item 2 (as so added); (4) in the case of a vehicle first used on or after 1 April 1991 and fitted with a replacement silencer, it meets the requirements of Sch 7A Pt I Table item 3 (as so added): reg 57B(5) (as so added). 'Replacement silencer', in relation to a vehicle, means a silencer fitted to the vehicle not being an original silencer: reg 57B(6) (as so added). For the meaning of 'silencer' see PARA 345 note 2 ante. As to noise control see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 46 (2010) PARA 817 et seq.

353. Radio interference suppression.

Every wheeled<sup>1</sup> vehicle, other than a vehicle constructed or assembled by a person not ordinarily engaged in the trade or business of manufacturing vehicles of that description<sup>2</sup>, which is propelled by a spark ignition engine and: (1) is first used<sup>3</sup> on or after 1 April 1974 and before 1 January 1996<sup>4</sup>; or (2) is first used on or after 1 January 1996 and is a vehicle for the purposes of the relevant European provisions<sup>5</sup>, must be so constructed that it complies with the relevant European legislation<sup>6</sup>. Every agricultural and forestry tractor<sup>7</sup> which is propelled by a spark ignition engine and is first used on or after 1 April 1974 must be so constructed that it meets the relevant European requirements<sup>8</sup>.

The requirements of the relevant European legislation<sup>9</sup> must be met by electrical/electronic sub-assemblies<sup>10</sup> as components or separate technical units first used on or after 1 October 2002<sup>11</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

2 See the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(2). Regulation 60(2) does not affect the application to such vehicles of the Wireless Telegraphy (Control of Interference from Ignition Apparatus) Regulations 1973, SI 1973/1217 (see TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 553): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(2).

The relevant European provisions are EC Council Directive 70/156 (OJ L42, 23.2.70, p 1) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the type-approval of motor vehicles and their trailers (as amended).

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(1)(a) (substituted by SI 1996/2329). The relevant European legislation is EEC Council Directive 72/245 (OJ L152, 6.7.72, p 15) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the suppression of radio interference produced by spark-ignition engines fitted to motor vehicles, Annex 1 para 6 or EC Commission Directive 95/54 (OJ L266, 8.11.95, p 1) adapting to technical progress EEC Council Directive 72/245 (OJ L152, 6.7.72, p 15) Annex 1 para 6, as read with Annex 1 para 8, whether or not those Directives apply to the vehicle: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(1)(a) (as so substituted). As to descriptions of radiation level see reg 60(1B) (added by SI 1996/2329).

Instead of complying with the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(1)(a) (as substituted) a vehicle may comply at the time of first use with EEC Council Directive 72/245 (OJ L152, 6.7.72, p 15) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the suppression of radio interference produced by spark-ignition engines fitted to motor vehicles or EC Commission Directive 95/54 (OJ L266, 8.11.95, p 1) adapting to technical progress EEC Council Directive 72/245 (OJ L152, 6.7.72, p 15), or ECE Regulation 10, 10.01 or 10.02: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(1D) (added by SI 1996/2329; and amended by SI 2002/2126). For the meaning of 'ECE Regulation' see PARA 270 note 2 ante. As to compliance with European legislation see PARA 270 ante.

7 'Agricultural or forestry tractor' means an agricultural or forestry tractor within the meaning of EEC Council Directive 82/890 (OJ L378, 31.12.82, p 45) amending the Directives on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to wheeled agricultural or forestry tractors: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1996/2329).

8 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(1)(b) (substituted by SI 1996/2329). The relevant European requirements are those of EEC Council Directive 72/245 (OJ L152, 6.7.72, p 15) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the suppression of radio interference produced by spark-ignition engines fitted to motor vehicles, Annex 1 para 6, EEC Council Directive 75/322 (OJ L147, 9.6.75, p 28) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the suppression of radio interference produced by spark-ignition engines fitted to wheeled agricultural or forestry tractors, Annex 1 para 6 or EC Commission Directive 95/54 (OJ L266, 8.11.95, p 1) adapting to technical progress EEC Council Directive 72/245 (OJ L152, 6.7.72, p 15) Annex 1 para 6: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(1)(b) (as so substituted).

Instead of complying with reg 60(1)(b) (as substituted) a vehicle may comply at the time of first use with EEC Council Directive 75/322 (OJ L147, 9.6.75, p 28) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the suppression of radio interference produced by spark-ignition engines fitted to wheeled agricultural or forestry tractors: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(1E) (added by SI 1996/2329).

9 le EEC Council Directive 72/245 (OJ L152, 6.7.72, p 15) as amended by EC Council Directive 95/54 (OJ L266, 8.11.95, p 1).

10 For these purposes, 'electrical/electronic sub-assembly' has the same meaning as in EC Council Directive 95/54 (OJ L266, 8.11.95, p 1): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 60(3) (added by SI 1996/2329).

NOTE 11--Directive 72/306 replaced with effect from 2 January 2013: EC Council Regulation 715/2007 (OJ L171, 29.6.2007, p 1) (as amended).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/354. Emissions of smoke, vapour, gas, oily substances etc.

354. Emissions of smoke, vapour, gas, oily substances etc.

Every vehicle must be constructed and maintained so as not to emit any avoidable smoke or avoidable visible vapour<sup>1</sup>.

Every motor vehicle<sup>2</sup> using solid fuel must be fitted with a tray or shield to prevent ashes and cinders from falling onto the road<sup>3</sup>, and an efficient appliance to prevent any emission of sparks or grit<sup>4</sup>.

Every wheeled<sup>5</sup> vehicle being:

- 475 (1) a vehicle propelled by a compression ignition engine and equipped with a device designed to facilitate starting the engine by causing it to be supplied with excess fuel<sup>6</sup>;
- 476 (2) a vehicle first used on or after 1 April 1973 and propelled by a compression ignition engine<sup>7</sup>; and must be constructed so as to comply with the prescribed requirements<sup>9</sup>.

477 (3) a vehicle first used on or after 1 January 1972 and propelled by a spark ignition engine other than a two-stroke engine<sup>8</sup>,

Certain types of motor vehicle must be so constructed as to comply with the prescribed requirements relating to conformity of production models<sup>10</sup>.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>11</sup> to be used on a road any motor vehicle:

- 478 (a) from which any smoke, visible vapour, grit, sparks, ashes, cinders or oily substance is emitted if that emission causes, or is likely to cause, damage to any property or injury or danger to any person who is, or who may reasonably be expected to be, on the road<sup>12</sup>;
- 479 (b) which is subject to the requirement as to engine type<sup>13</sup>, if the fuel injection equipment, the engine speed governor or any other parts of the engine by which it is propelled have been altered or adjusted so as to increase the emission of smoke<sup>14</sup>; or
- 480 (c) which is subject to the requirement that a device used to facilitate starting the engine should not be readily operated by a person inside the vehicle if the device is used while the vehicle is in motion<sup>15</sup>.

Certain of the above provisions do not apply to motor vehicles first used on or after 1 January 2001<sup>16</sup>.

No person is to use or cause or permit to be used on a road a vehicle first used on or after 1 August 1975 and propelled by a four-stroke spark ignition engine, if the vehicle is in such a condition and running on such fuel that<sup>17</sup>: (i) when the engine is idling the carbon monoxide content of the exhaust emissions from the engine exceeds the specified amount<sup>18</sup>; and (ii) when the engine is running without load at a rotational speed of 2,000 revolutions per minute, the hydrocarbon content of those emissions exceeds the specified amount<sup>19</sup>.

No person is to use or cause or permit to be used on a road certain vehicles<sup>20</sup> which are propelled by a spark ignition engine, if the vehicle is in such a condition and running on such fuel that the provisions relating to emissions from such vehicles apply to the vehicle<sup>21</sup>.

No person is to use or cause or permit to be used on a road a vehicle propelled by a compression ignition engine, if the vehicle is in such a condition and running on such fuel that the provisions relating to emissions from compression ignition engines apply to the vehicle<sup>22</sup>.

Further requirements apply to motor vehicles first used on or after 1 January 2001<sup>23</sup>. A motor vehicle in any category<sup>24</sup> must comply with such design, construction and equipment requirements and such limit values as may be specified for a motor vehicle of that category and weight by any specified Community Directive<sup>25</sup> and from such date as is specified<sup>26</sup> by that Community Directive<sup>27</sup>. No person is to use or cause or permit to be used on a road such a motor vehicle if the motor vehicle does not comply with such limit values as may apply to it by virtue of any specified Community Directive<sup>28</sup>, and from such date as is specified by that Community Directive, unless (subject to exemptions) the following conditions are satisfied with respect to it<sup>29</sup>:

- 481 (A) the failure to meet the limit values does not result from an alteration to the propulsion unit or exhaust system of the motor vehicle;
- 482 (B) those limit values would not be met nor would the emissions of gaseous and particulate pollutants and smoke and evaporative emissions be materially reduced if maintenance work of a kind which would fall within the scope of a normal periodic service of the vehicle were carried out on the motor vehicle; and 483 (c) the failure to meet those limit values does not result from any device designed to control the emission of gaseous and particulate pollutants and smoke and evaporative emissions which is fitted to the motor vehicle being other than in good and efficient working order<sup>30</sup>.

1 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(1) (amended by SI 1991/1526; SI 1995/2210). Instead of complying with the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(1) (as amended), a vehicle may comply with a relevant instrument: reg 61(3B) (added by SI 1991/1526). A reference to a vehicle complying with a relevant instrument is a reference to a vehicle complying: (1) if it is propelled by a compression ignition engine, with EEC Council Directive 72/306 (OJ L190, 20.8.72, p 1) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the measures to be taken against the emission of pollutants from diesel engines for use in vehicles (as amended), or in the case of an agricultural vehicle first used before 1 January 2001, EEC Council Directive 77/537 (OJ L220, 29.8.77, p 38) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the measures to be taken against the emission of pollutants from diesel engines for use in wheeled agricultural or forestry tractors (as amended), or ECE Regulation 24.01, 24.02 or 24.03; or (2) if it is propelled by a spark ignition engine, with any instrument mentioned in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(4), Table II col 4(a) (Table II added by SI 1990/1131; and substituted by SI 1997/1544; and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Table II col 4(a) amended by SI 2000/3197); Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(4) (amended by SI 1991/1526; SI 1993/2199; SI 2000/3197). For the meaning of 'ECE Regulation' see PARA 270 note 2 ante. As to atmospheric cleanliness see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 45 (2010) PARA 189 et seq.

2 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

4 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(2).

5 For the meaning of 'wheeled' see PARA 267 note 2 ante.

6 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3) (as amended), Table I item 1 (Table I renumbered by SI 1990/1131).

7 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3) (as amended), Table I item 2 (as renumbered: see note 6 supra).

8 Ibid reg 61(3) (as amended), Table I item 3 (as renumbered (see note 6 supra); and amended by SI 1993/2199). No person is to use or cause or permit to be used on a road a motor vehicle to which the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3) (as amended), Table I item 3 (as renumbered) applies unless it is so maintained that the means to prevent vapours or gases in the engine escaping into the atmosphere otherwise than through the combustion chamber of the engine specified in reg 61(3) (as amended), Table I item 3 col 3 (as renumbered) are in good working order: reg 61(6) (amended by SI 1990/1131). As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

9 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3) (amended by SI 1990/1131). The prescribed requirements are contained in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3) (as amended), Table I col 3 (as renumbered: see note 6 supra). Instead of complying with such provisions of reg 61(3) (as amended), Table I (as renumbered) as apply to it, a vehicle may at the time of its first use comply with a relevant instrument (see note 1 supra): reg 61(3C) (added by SI 1991/1526).

10 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3A) (added by SI 1990/1131). For the motor vehicles and production models see the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3A) (as so added), Table II (added by SI 1990/1131; substituted by SI 1997/1544; and amended by SI 2000/3197).

No person is to use or cause or permit to be used on a road a motor vehicle to which an item in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3A) (as added), Table II (as added, substituted and amended) applies if, in relation to the emission of the substances specified in column 6 of the item, the vehicle does not comply with the requirements relating to conformity of production models specified in column 4 unless the following conditions are satisfied in respect to it: (1) the failure to meet those requirements in relation to the emission of those substances does not result from an alteration to the propulsion unit or exhaust system of the vehicle; (2) those requirements would not be met in relation to the emission of those substances nor would such emissions be materially reduced if maintenance work of a kind which would fall within the scope of a normal periodic service of the vehicle were to be carried out on the vehicle; and (3) the failure to meet those requirements in relation to such emissions does not result from any device designed to control the emission of carbon monoxide, hydrocarbons, oxides of nitrogen or particulates fitted to the vehicle being other than in good and efficient working order: reg 61(7) (added by SI 1990/1131; and amended by SI 1992/2137; SI 1996/2329). The Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(7) (as amended) is subject to reg 61(8), (9), (10) (reg 61(8)-(10) added by SI 1990/1131; and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10) substituted by SI 1992/2137; and amended by SI 1996/3017; SI 1998/1000).

11 As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

12 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(5)(a). An emission occurs from a vehicle onto a road where a substance spills from one part of a vehicle onto another part of the vehicle and later spills from that other part of the vehicle onto the road: Tidwell v Llewellyn [1965] Crim LR 732, DC.

13 Is the requirement contained in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3) (as amended), Table I item 2 (as renumbered) (whether or not it is deemed to comply with that requirement by virtue of reg 61(4) (as amended) (see note 1 supra)).

14 Ibid reg 61(5)(b) (amended by SI 1990/1131).

15 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(5)(c) (amended by SI 1990/1131).

16 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(2A) (added by SI 2000/3197), disapplying the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(3) (as amended), reg 61(3A) (as added), reg 61(3C) (as added), reg 61(4)(a) (as amended), reg 61(5)(b) (as amended), reg 61(5)(c) (as amended), reg 61(6)-(10) (as amended), reg 61(11) (as added and amended).

17 Ibid reg 61(10A) (added by SI 1991/1526; and substituted by SI 1995/2210). For the application of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10A) (as added) see reg 61(10AD), (10B) (reg 61(10AD) added by SI 1995/2210; and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10B) added by SI 1991/1526; and amended by SI 1992/2137; SI 1992/3285; SI 1995/2210; SI 1996/2085; SI 1996/3017; SI 1998/1000).

18 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10A)(a) (as added and substituted: see note 17 supra). The specified amount is: (1) in the case of a vehicle first used before 1 August 1986, 4.5%; or (2) in the case of a vehicle first used on or after 1 August 1986, 3.5%, of the total exhaust emissions from the engine by volume: see reg 61(10A)(a) (as so added and substituted).

19 Ibid reg 61(10A)(b) (as added and substituted: see note 17 supra). The hydrocarbon content of the emissions exceeds the specified amount if it exceeds 0.12% of the total exhaust emissions from the engine by volume: see reg 61(10A)(b) (as so added and substituted).

20 The vehicles are: (1) a passenger car which is first used on or after 1 August 1992 and before 1 August 1995, and is of a description mentioned in the Annex to the emissions publication; (2) a vehicle which is not a passenger car, is first used on or after 1 August 1994 and is of a description mentioned in the Annex to the emissions publication; (3) a passenger car which is first used on or after 1 August 1995; or (4) a vehicle which is not a passenger car, is first used on or after 1 July 2002, and has a maximum gross weight not exceeding 3,500 kg: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10AB) (added by SI 1995/2210; and amended by SI 1996/2085; SI 1998/1563; SI 2003/3145). For these purposes, 'passenger car' means a motor vehicle which: (a) is constructed or adapted for use for the carriage of passengers and is not a goods vehicle; (b) has no more than five seats in addition to the driver's seat; and (c) has a maximum gross weight not exceeding 2,500 kg: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(11A) (added by SI 1995/2210). For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 271 note 26 ante. For the meaning of 'maximum gross weight' see PARA 271 note 27 ante.

21 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10AA) (added by SI 1995/2210). The provisions referred to in the text are those contained in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10AA) (as added), Sch 7B Pt I (added by SI 1995/2210; and amended by SI 1999/1521; SI 2000/1434; SI 2001/1825; SI 2002/227; SI 2003/3145; SI 2004/1706; SI 2005/1641; SI 2007/1817). The Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10AA) (as added) does not apply to a vehicle if, at the date that the engine was manufactured, that engine was incapable of meeting the requirements specified in that provision: reg 61(10AE) (added by SI 1991/1526). As to the application of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10AA) (as added) see also reg 61(10B) (as added and amended); and note 16 supra.

22 Ibid reg 61(10BA) (added by SI 1995/2210). The provisions mentioned in the text are those contained in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 7B Pt II (added by SI 1995/2210; and amended by SI 2000/1434; SI 2003/3145). As to the application of the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61(10BA) (as added) see reg 61(10BB) (added by SI 1995/2210).

23 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61A(1) (reg 61A added by SI 2000/3197). The Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 4(2) (see PARA 267 text to note 6 ante) does not apply to any requirement imposed on a vehicle by or under reg 61A (as added and amended): reg 61A(9) (as so added).

24 'Category' means a category for the purpose of Annex II to the Framework Directive: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61A(8)(a) (as added: see note 23 supra). 'Framework Directive' means EEC Council Directive 70/156 (OJ L42, 23.2.1970, p 1) as amended by EEC Council Directive 87/403 (OJ L220, 8.8.1987, p 44), EEC Council Directive 92/53 (OJ L225, 10.8.1992, p 1), EEC Commission Directive 93/81 (OJ L 264, 23.10.1993, p 49) and EC Commission Directive 98/14 (OJ L91, 25.3.1998, p 1): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1996/2329; and amended by SI 2001/3208).

25 In any Community Directive specified in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61A, Table item 1 or 2 (as added and amended). The Directives specified are EEC Council Directive 70/220 (OJ L76, 6.4.1970, p 1), EC Parliament and Council Directive 96/69 (OJ L282, 1.11.1996, p 64), ECE Regulation 83.04, EC Parliament and Council Directive 98/69 (OJ L350, 28.12.1998, p 1), EC Commission Directive 1999/102 (OJ L334, 28.12.1999, p 43), EC Parliament and Council Directive 2001/1 (OJ L35, 6.2.2001, p 34) (Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61A, Table item 1 (as added (see note 23 supra); and amended by SI 2001/1825); and EC Council Directive 2005/55 (OJ L275, 20.10.2005, p 1), ECE Regulation 49.02, EC Council Directive 2005/78 (OJ L313, 21.11.2005, p 1) and EC Council Directive 2006/51 (OJ L152, 7.6.2006, p 11) (Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61A, Table item 2 (as so added; and substituted by SI 2006/2565).

26 'Date as is specified' means, in relation to any vehicle and: (1) in relation to limit values set by a Community Directive specified in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61A, Table item 1 or 2 (as added and amended), the date specified by that Community Directive as that from which member states are required to prohibit the registration or the entry into service of that vehicle if it does not comply with those limit values; or (2) in relation to emission control and monitoring systems and devices, the date specified by a Community Directive specified in reg 61A, Table item 1 or 2 (as added and amended) as that from which member states are required to ensure that such equipment is fitted to that vehicle, provided that, where a Community Directive specified in reg 61A, Table item 2 (as added and substituted) re-enacts a requirement imposed by a Community Directive that had been specified in that item immediately before 9 November 2006, the date as is specified is the date that had been specified by that previous Directive: reg 61A(8)(b) (as added (see note 23 supra); and substituted by SI 2006/2565). 'Limit values' means the permitted amounts of gaseous and particulate pollutants and smoke and evaporative emissions: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61A(8)(c) (as so added).

27 Ibid reg 61A(2) (as added: see note 23 supra). This is subject to reg 61A(5)-(7) (as so added; and reg 61A(7) substituted by SI 2006/2565) and to the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 7XA (added by SI 1996/2329; and amended by SI 2000/3197; SI 2007/361; SI 2007/2544).

28 See note 25 supra.

29 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 61A(3) (as added: see note 23 supra).

30 Ibid reg 61A(3)(a)-(c) (as added: see note 23 supra). This is subject to reg 61A(4)-(7) (as so added; and reg 61A(4) amended by SI 2001/306; SI 2001/3208) and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 7XA (as added and amended: see note 27 supra).

UPDATE

354 Emissions of smoke, vapour, gas, oily substances etc

TEXT AND NOTES--See the Motor Vehicles (Refilling of Air Conditioning Systems by Service Providers) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/2194, which provides that a service provider must not fill an air conditioning system with fluorinated greenhouse gases where there has been an abnormal leak of refrigerant and that leak has not yet been repaired.

NOTE 1--Directive 72/306 repealed and replaced with effect from 2 January 2013: EC Council Regulation 715/2007 (OJ L171, 29.6.2007, p 1) (as amended). All heavy duty vehicles to be covered (from 3 January 2009) by European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2005/55 (OJ L275, 20.10.2005, p1) (as amended by Regulation 715/2007 art 16.1). Directive 2005/55 replaced with effect from 31 December 2013: see NOTE 25. SI 1986/1078 reg 61(4) further amended: SI 2007/3132. See also the Motor Vehicles (Replacement of Catalytic Converters and Pollution Control Devices) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/1899.

NOTE 21--SI 1986/1078 Sch 7B Pt I further amended: SI 2008/1702, SI 2009/1806.

NOTE 24--Directive 70/156 further amended from 3 January 2009: EC Council Regulation 715/2007 (OJ L171, 29.6.2007, p 1). The amendments adapt Directive 70/156 to accommodate EC Council Regulation 715/2007 (OJ L171, 29.6.2007, p 1). See note below.

NOTE 25--Directives 70/220, 96/69, 98/69, 1999/102, 2001/1 replaced with effect from 2 January 2013: EC Council Regulation 715/2007 (OJ L171, 29.6.2007, p 1) (amended by EC Commission Regulation 2008/692 (OJ L199, 28.7.2008, p 1), and European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 595/2009 (OJ L188, 18.7.2009, p 1)) on type approval of motor vehicles with respect to emissions from light passenger and commercial vehicles (Euro 5 and Euro 6) and on access to vehicle repair and maintenance information. The regulation establishes common technical requirements for type approval of motor vehicles, and replacement parts with regard to their emissions. It also lays down rules for in-service conformity, durability of pollution control devices, on-board diagnostic systems, measurement of fuel consumption and accessibility of vehicle repair and maintenance information. Whilst the regulation lays down fundamental provisions on vehicle emissions, the technical specifications will be laid down by individual implementing measures.

Directive 2005/55 amended (from 3 January 2009) by Regulation 715/2007 art 16.1 so as to cover all heavy duty vehicles. Directives 2005/55, 2005/78 replaced with effect from 31 December 2013: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 595/2009 (OJ L188, 18.7.2009, p 1).

355. Lavatories etc.

No wheeled<sup>1</sup> vehicle first used<sup>2</sup> after 15 January 1931 is to be equipped with any closet or urinal which can discharge directly on to a road<sup>3</sup>.

Every tank into which a closet or urinal with which a vehicle is equipped empties, and every closet or urinal which does not empty into a tank, must contain chemicals which are non-inflammable and non-irritant and provide an efficient germicide<sup>4</sup>.

356. Wings.

Each of the following vehicles, that is to say:

- 484 (1) invalid carriages<sup>1</sup>;
- 485 (2) heavy motor cars<sup>2</sup>, motor cars<sup>3</sup> and motor cycles<sup>4</sup>, not being agricultural motor vehicles<sup>5</sup> or pedestrian-controlled vehicles<sup>6</sup>;
- 486 (3) agricultural motor vehicles driven at more than 20 miles per hour<sup>7</sup>; and
- 487 (4) trailers<sup>8</sup>,

must be equipped with wings or other similar fittings to catch, so far as practicable, mud or water thrown up by the rotation of its wheels<sup>9</sup> or tracks<sup>10</sup>.

The above requirements do not apply in respect of:

- 488 (a) a works truck<sup>11</sup>;
- 489 (b) a living van<sup>12</sup>;
- 490 (c) a water cart<sup>13</sup>;
- 491 (d) an agricultural trailer<sup>14</sup> drawn by a motor vehicle<sup>15</sup> which is not driven at a speed in excess of 20 miles per hour<sup>16</sup>;
- 492 (e) an agricultural trailed appliance<sup>17</sup>;
- 493 (f) an agricultural trailed appliance conveyor<sup>18</sup>;
- 494 (g) a broken-down vehicle<sup>19</sup>;
- 495 (h) a heavy motor car, motor car or trailer in an unfinished condition which is proceeding to a workshop for completion<sup>20</sup>;
- 496 (i) a trailer used for or in connection with the carriage of round timber and the rear wheels of any heavy motor car or motor car drawing a semi-trailer<sup>21</sup> so used<sup>22</sup>; or
- 497 (j) a trailer drawn by a motor vehicle the maximum speed<sup>23</sup> of which is restricted<sup>24</sup> to 20 miles per hour or less<sup>25</sup>.

NOTE 10--Directive 78/549 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/357. Spray suppression devices.

357. Spray suppression devices.

Every wheeled<sup>1</sup> goods vehicle<sup>2</sup> which is:

- 498 (1) a motor vehicle<sup>3</sup> first used<sup>4</sup> on or after 1 April 1986 having a maximum gross weight<sup>5</sup> exceeding 12,000 kilograms<sup>6</sup>;
- 499 (2) a trailer<sup>7</sup> manufactured on or after 1 May 1985 having a maximum gross weight exceeding 3,500 kilograms<sup>8</sup>; or
- 500 (3) a trailer, whenever manufactured, having a maximum gross weight exceeding 16,000 kilograms and two or more axles<sup>9</sup>, which is of a class specified in heads (a) to (d) below must not be used on a road<sup>10</sup> on or after the date specified in the relevant head, unless it is fitted, in relation to the wheels<sup>11</sup> on each of its axles, with such containment devices<sup>12</sup> as satisfy the technical requirements and other provisions about containment devices specified in the British Standard Specification<sup>13</sup>, provided that, in the case of a containment device fitted before 1 January 1985, those requirements are deemed to be complied with if that containment device substantially conforms to those requirements<sup>14</sup>. The specified classes and dates are:

- 501 (a) in the case of a trailer manufactured before 1 January 1975, 1 October 1987<sup>15</sup>;
- 502 (b) in the case of a trailer manufactured on or after 1 January 1975 but before 1 May 1985, 1 October 1986<sup>16</sup>;
- 503 (c) in the case of a trailer manufactured on or after 1 May 1985, 1 May 1985<sup>17</sup>;
- and
- 504 (d) in the case of a motor vehicle, 1 April 1986<sup>18</sup>.

These provisions do not apply to:

- 505 (i) a motor vehicle so constructed that the driving power of its engine is, or can by use of its controls be, transmitted to all the wheels on at least one front axle and on at least one rear axle<sup>19</sup>;
- 506 (ii) a motor vehicle of which no part which lies within the specified area<sup>20</sup> is less than 400 millimetres vertically above the ground when the vehicle is standing on reasonably flat ground<sup>21</sup>;
- 507 (iii) a works truck<sup>22</sup>;
- 508 (iv) a works trailer<sup>23</sup>;
- 509 (v) a broken-down vehicle<sup>24</sup>;
- 510 (vi) a motor vehicle which has a maximum speed<sup>25</sup> not exceeding 30 miles per hour<sup>26</sup>;
- 511 (vii) certain vehicles of a kind to which the provisions relating to sideguards apply<sup>27</sup>;
- 512 (viii) a vehicle specially designed, and not merely adapted, for the carriage and mixing of liquid concrete<sup>28</sup>;
- 513 (ix) a vehicle which is being driven or towed to a place where by previous arrangement a device is to be fitted so that it complies with the specified requirements<sup>29</sup>; or
- 514 (x) a vehicle fitted with a spray-suppression system<sup>30</sup> if the spray suppression devices with which the vehicle is equipped are legibly and permanently marked with a designated approval mark<sup>31</sup>.

357 Spray suppression devices

NOTE 30--Directive 91/226 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xi) Control of Emissions/358. Maintenance of spray suppression devices.

358. Maintenance of spray suppression devices.

Every part of every containment device<sup>1</sup> with which a vehicle is required to be fitted<sup>2</sup> must at all times when the vehicle is on a road<sup>3</sup> be maintained free from any obvious defect which would be likely to affect adversely the effectiveness of the device<sup>4</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'containment device' see PARA 357 note 12 ante.

2 Ie by the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 64 (as amended): see PARA 357 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

4 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 65.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xii) Recycling/A. RE-USE AND RECOVERY OF MATERIALS AND COMPONENTS OF VEHICLES/359. Design requirements.

(xii) Recycling

A. RE-USE AND RECOVERY OF MATERIALS AND COMPONENTS OF VEHICLES

359. Design requirements.

A producer<sup>1</sup> must ensure that materials and components of vehicles<sup>2</sup> put on the market do not contain lead, mercury, cadmium or hexavalent chromium except in specified<sup>3</sup> cases<sup>4</sup>. A producer must at the request of the enforcement authority submit technical documents or other information showing that the materials and components of vehicles put on the market comply with these requirements<sup>5</sup> and must ensure that he keeps the information necessary for him to submit to the enforcement authority<sup>6</sup> such documents for a period of four years from the date that he puts the materials and components on the market<sup>7</sup>. Where the enforcement authority has reasonable grounds for suspecting that any or all of the above requirements<sup>8</sup> have not been complied with, it may serve a compliance notice on the producer<sup>9</sup>.

Anyone who contravenes any of the above requirements<sup>10</sup> is guilty of an offence<sup>11</sup>. However, in proceedings against any person for such an offence it is a defence for that person to show that he took all reasonable steps and exercised all due diligence to avoid committing the offence<sup>12</sup>. Where in any proceedings against any person for such an offence the defence of due diligence involves an allegation that the commission of the offence was due to the act or default of another; or to reliance on information given by another, that person is not, without the leave of the court, entitled to rely on the defence unless, not less than seven clear days before the hearing of the proceedings, he has served a notice on the person bringing the proceedings<sup>13</sup>. A person is not entitled to rely on the defence of due diligence by reason of his reliance on information supplied by another, unless he shows that it was reasonable in all the circumstances for him to have relied on the information, having regard in particular: (1) to the steps which he took, and those which might reasonably have been taken, for the purpose of verifying the information; and (2) to whether he had any reason to disbelieve the information<sup>14</sup>.

Where the commission by any person of an offence under these provisions is due to the act or default committed by some other person in the course of any business of his, the other person is guilty of the offence and may be proceeded against and punished whether or not proceedings are taken against the first-mentioned person<sup>15</sup>. Where a body corporate is guilty of such an offence<sup>16</sup> in respect of any act or default which is shown to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to be attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate or any person who was purporting to act in any such capacity he, as well as the body corporate, is guilty of that offence and is liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly<sup>17</sup>.

The enforcement authority must not commence proceedings for an offence under these provisions unless a compliance notice has been served on the producer and the time limit specified for compliance in the compliance notice has expired<sup>18</sup>.

1 'Producer' means the vehicle manufacturer or the professional importer of a vehicle into a member state: End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 2.

2 'Vehicle' means any vehicle designated as category M1 or N1 defined in EEC Council Directive 70/156 (OJ L42, 23.2.1970, p 1) relating to the type-approval of motor vehicles and their trailers, Annex IIA, and three wheel motor vehicles as defined in EEC Council Directive 92/61 (OJ L225, 10.8.92, p 72) relating to the type-approval of two or three wheel motor vehicles, but excluding motor tricycles: End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 2. These regulations apply to vehicles and end-of-life vehicles including their components and materials: reg 3(1). 'End-of-life vehicle' means a vehicle which is waste within the meaning of EC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) on waste ('the Waste Directive') art 1(a): End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 2. Part VII (regs 44-50) applies also to waste motor vehicles as defined in reg 50: reg 3(2). Only the provisions of Pt VII apply to three-wheel motor vehicles: reg 3(4). As to Pt VII, relating to site licences for the keeping and treatment of waste motor vehicles, see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 46 (2010) PARA 651.

The regulations apply irrespective of how the vehicle has been serviced or repaired during use and irrespective of whether it is equipped with components supplied by the producer or with other components whose fitting as spare or replacement parts accords with the appropriate Community or domestic provisions: reg 3(3).

3 Ibid in the cases listed in ibid Sch 1.

4 Ibid reg 6. The End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635 (as amended) partially implement EC Parliament and Council Directive 2000/53 (OJ L 269, 21.10.2000, p 34) on end-of-life vehicles.

5 End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 7.

6 It is the duty of the Secretary of State to enforce ibid Pt III (regs 6-13) and Pt IV (regs 14-26) (see PARA 360 post) and in carrying out his duties he may appoint the Vehicle Certification Agency, an executive agency of the Department for Transport: reg 25. As to the Vehicle Certification Agency see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 511.

7 Ibid reg 8.

8 Ie the requirements of ibid regs 6-8: see the text and notes 1-7 supra.

9 Ibid reg 9(1). A compliance notice must: (1) state that the enforcement authority suspects a requirement of Pt III has been contravened; (2) specify the reason it is suspected that a requirement of Pt III has been contravened and give particulars thereof; (3) require the producer to whom notice is given: (a) to comply with the requirements of the regulations where it is suspected that he is in breach; or (b) to provide evidence to the satisfaction of the enforcement authority that the requirements of the regulations have been met; (4) specify the period of time within which the producer must comply with the notice issued by the enforcement authority; and (5) warn the producer that unless the requirement is complied with, or satisfactory evidence has been provided within the period specified in the notice, he may be prosecuted under reg 10 (see the text and notes 10-11 infra): reg 9(2).

10 Ie the requirements of ibid reg 6, 7 or 8: see reg 10(a)-(c).

11 Ibid reg 10. A person guilty of an offence or contravening a requirement of reg 6 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum, or on conviction on indictment to a fine: regs 10(a), 11(1). A person guilty of an offence of contravening reg 7 or reg 8 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: regs 10(b), (c), 11(2). With reference to a fine or penalty on summary conviction for an offence, the 'statutory maximum' means the prescribed sum within the meaning of the Magistrates' Courts Act 1980 s 32 (as amended): see the Interpretation Act 1978 s 5, Sch 1 (amended by the Criminal Justice Act 1988 s 170(1), Sch 15 para 58(b)); and SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 140. The 'prescribed sum', in relation to the penalty provided for an offence, means £5,000 or such other sum as is for the time being substituted therefor by an order in force under the Magistrates' Courts Act 1980 s 143(1) (as substituted): s 32(9) (amended by the Criminal Justice Act 1991 s 17(2)(c)); and SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 141. If it appears to the Secretary of State that there has been a change in the value of money since the relevant date, he may by order substitute for the sum for the time being specified in the Magistrates' Courts Act 1980 s 32(9) (as amended) such other sum as appears to him justified by the change: s 143(1), (2)(b) (substituted by the Criminal Justice Act 1982 s 48(1)). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante.

12 End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 12(1).

13 Ibid reg 12(2). Such a notice must give such information identifying or assisting in the identification of the person who committed the act or default or gave the information as is in the possession of the person serving the notice at the time he serves it: reg 12(3).

14 Ibid reg 12(4).

15 Ibid reg 13(1).

16 Ie including where it is so guilty by virtue of ibid reg 13(1): see the text and note 15 supra.

17 Ibid reg 13(2). Where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, reg 13(2) applies in relation to the acts and defaults of a member in connection with his functions of management as if he were a director of the body corporate: reg 13(3).

18 Ibid reg 26(1).

UPDATE

359 Design requirements

NOTE 2--SI 2003/2635 reg 3(2) revoked, reg 3(4) substituted: SI 2007/3538.

1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xii) Recycling/A. RE-USE AND RECOVERY OF MATERIALS AND COMPONENTS OF VEHICLES/360. Information requirements.

360. Information requirements.

A producer<sup>1</sup> must use specified material and component coding standards<sup>2</sup> to facilitate the identification of those materials and components suitable for reuse<sup>3</sup> and recovery<sup>4</sup>. A producer must at the request of the enforcement authority<sup>5</sup> submit information showing that material and component coding standards have been used<sup>6</sup>, and must ensure that he keeps the information necessary for him to comply with a request from the enforcement authority to submit such information for a period of four years from the date that he puts the materials and/or components on the market<sup>7</sup>.

A producer must provide dismantling information<sup>8</sup> for each type of new vehicle<sup>9</sup> put on the market within six months after the date that vehicles of that type are first put on the market and at the request of the enforcement authority submit to it such dismantling information<sup>10</sup>. The dismantling information must identify, in so far as it is needed by treatment facilities, the different materials and components of the vehicle, and the location of all hazardous substances<sup>11</sup> in the vehicle in order to achieve the objectives of the relevant European legislation<sup>12</sup>, namely, the reuse of components which are suitable for reuse, the recovery of components which cannot be reused and giving preference to recycling when environmentally viable, without prejudice to requirements regarding the safety of vehicles and environmental requirements such as air emissions and noise control<sup>13</sup>.

A producer of components used in vehicles must make available to authorised treatment facilities<sup>14</sup>, upon request from those facilities, information concerning dismantling, storage and testing of components which can be reused<sup>15</sup>.

A producer must publish information on:

- 515 (1) the design of vehicles and their components with a view to their recoverability and recyclability;
- 516 (2) the environmentally sound treatment of end-of-life vehicles, in particular the removal of all fluids and dismantling;
- 517 (3) the development and optimisation of ways to reuse, recycle and recover end-of-life vehicles and their components;
- 518 (4) the progress achieved with regard to recovery and recycling to reduce the waste to be disposed of and to increase the recovery and recycling rates<sup>16</sup>.

A producer must make such information accessible to prospective buyers of vehicles, and include the information in promotional literature used in the marketing of new vehicles<sup>17</sup>.

Where an enforcement authority has reasonable grounds for suspecting that any or all of the requirements of specified regulations<sup>18</sup> have not been complied with, it may serve a compliance notice on the producer<sup>19</sup>. A producer who fails to comply with any or all of the legal requirements to submit information showing that material and component coding standards have been used<sup>20</sup>, to provide dismantling information<sup>21</sup>, and to publish and make available information<sup>22</sup>, is guilty of an offence<sup>23</sup>. The enforcement authority must not commence proceedings for such an offence unless a compliance notice has been served on the producer and the time limit specified for compliance in the compliance notice has expired<sup>24</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'producer' see PARA 359 note 1 ante.

2     Ie those referred to in the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 15. For the purposes of reg 14, 'material and component coding standards' means the standards established by the Commission pursuant to EC Parliament and Council Directive 2000/53 (OJ L269, 21.10.2000, p 34) on end-of-life vehicles, art 8(2) in accordance with the procedure laid down in art 11: End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, regs 2, 15. As to the nomenclature of the material and component coding standards for end-of-life vehicles in accordance with EC Commission Decision 138/2003 (OJ L53, 28.2.2003, p 58) see the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, Sch 2.

3     'Reuse' means any operation by which components of end-of-life vehicles are used for the same purpose for which they were conceived: ibid reg 2. For the meaning of 'end-of-life vehicle' see PARA 359 note 2 ante.

4     Ibid reg 14. 'Recovery' means any of the applicable operations provided for in EC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) on waste ('the Waste Directive') Annex IIB: End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 2.

5     As to the enforcement authority see PARA 359 note 6 ante.

6     End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 16.

7     Ibid reg 17.

8     'Dismantling information' means all information required for the correct and environmentally sound treatment of end-of-life vehicles: ibid reg 2. 'Treatment' means any activity after the end-of-life vehicle has been handed over to a facility for depollution, dismantling, shearing, shredding, recovery or preparation for disposal of the shredder wastes, and any other operation carried out for the recovery and/or disposal of the end-of-life vehicle and its components; and 'treated' is to be construed accordingly: reg 2.

9     For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 359 note 2 ante.

10    End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 18(1).

11    'Hazardous substance' means any substance which is considered to be dangerous under EEC Directive 67/548 (OJ 196, 16.8.1967, p 1): End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 2. See ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 46 (2010) PARA 651.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xii) Recycling/A. RE-USE AND RECOVERY OF MATERIALS AND COMPONENTS OF VEHICLES/361. Certificate of destruction.

361. Certificate of destruction.

When an authorised treatment facility<sup>1</sup> accepts delivery of an end-of-life vehicle<sup>2</sup> transferred to it for treatment<sup>3</sup>, it must issue a certificate of destruction<sup>4</sup> to the last holder or owner of the vehicle<sup>5</sup> and it must not impose any charge on the last holder or owner of an end-of-life vehicle for the issue of a certificate of destruction<sup>6</sup>. A certificate of destruction is validly issued for these purposes only where it is issued by an authorised treatment facility and it meets the statutory requirements<sup>7</sup>.

Any person who contravenes a requirement of any of the above provisions<sup>8</sup> is guilty of an offence<sup>9</sup>.

A certificate of destruction validly issued: (1) by an authorised treatment facility in another EEA state<sup>10</sup> or in Gibraltar; or (2) where permitted by a licensing authority in another EEA state or in Gibraltar, by a producer, dealer or collector on behalf of an authorised treatment facility, in accordance with the relevant European legislation<sup>11</sup> has legal effect and all rights, powers, liabilities, obligations and restrictions arising out of or incidental to such certificates or their issue are to be recognised and available in law, and are to be enforced, allowed and followed accordingly<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'authorised treatment facility' see PARA 360 note 14 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'end-of-life vehicle' and 'vehicle' see PARA 359 note 2 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'treatment' see PARA 360 note 8 ante.

4 The certificate of destruction issued by the authorised treatment facility on the form which is to be approved by the Secretary of State, must contain at least the information listed in the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, Sch 3, which sets out EC Council Decision 2002/151 (OJ L50, 21.2.2002, p 94) Annex concerning certificates of destruction: End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 29 (amended by SI 2005/263).

8 Ie a requirement of ibid reg 27, reg 28, or reg 29A (as added).

9 Ibid reg 31. A person guilty of an offence under reg 31 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: reg 32. As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. In Great Britain, it is the duty of the Secretary of State to enforce Pt V (regs 27-36): see reg 30.

10 'An EEA state' means a state which is a contracting party to the EEA Agreement; and the EEA Agreement means the Agreement on the European Economic Area signed at Oporto on 2 May 1992 (Cm 2073) as adjusted by the Protocol signed at Brussels on 17 March 1993: End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 2.

Re-use and recovery of materials and components of vehicles: disclosure of information.

362. Re-use and recovery of materials and components of vehicles: disclosure of information.

A person is guilty of an offence if he discloses any information which was obtained by him from the register<sup>1</sup>. This does not, however, apply to a disclosure made:

519 (1) to any of the following authorities: (a) the Secretary of State; (b) the Environment Agency; (c) the Scottish Environment Protection Agency; (d) the Director General of Fair Trading; (e) a local weights and measures authority; (f) in Northern Ireland the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment or the Department of the Environment; (g) the Scottish Ministers; or

520 (2) to a motor vehicle insurance company; or

521 (3) in connection with the investigation of any criminal offence or for the purposes of any civil or criminal proceedings<sup>2</sup>.

1 End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 35(1). A person guilty of an offence under reg 35 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum, and on conviction on indictment to a fine: reg 35(3). As to the statutory maximum see PARA 359 note 11 ante. 'Register' means the record kept by or on behalf of the Secretary of State for Transport of the vehicles registered by him in Great Britain or in Northern Ireland under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21 (see PARA 519 post): End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 36(1), (2). As to the register see PARA 519 et seq post. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. 1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(2) CONSTRUCTION, EQUIPMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF VEHICLES/(xii) Recycling/B. REGISTRATION OF VEHICLE PRODUCERS/363. Registration of producers.

B. REGISTRATION OF VEHICLE PRODUCERS

363. Registration of producers.

Each producer<sup>1</sup> was required by 30 April 2005 to apply to the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> for registration and declare responsibility for those vehicles which he had placed on the market before the date of his application for registration<sup>3</sup>. From 1 May 2005 each producer must apply to the Secretary of State for registration and declare responsibility for those vehicles which he places on the market, which were not the subject of a previous application for registration before 30 April 2005, within six months of placing those vehicles on the market<sup>4</sup>. Where a producer's application for registration meets the specified requirements, the Secretary of State must, within 28 days of receipt of the application for registration<sup>5</sup>, notify the producer that his application for registration has been granted<sup>6</sup>. Where a producer's application for registration is refused, the Secretary of State must notify the producer in writing within 28 days of that decision together with the reasons for the decision<sup>7</sup>.

Where a producer who has made a declaration under these provisions subsequently ceases to place vehicles on the market he must inform the Secretary of State within 28 days of the change in his circumstances<sup>8</sup>. A registered producer must inform the Secretary of State of any change in circumstances which relate to his registration (except those relating to the Secretary of State's decision to ascribe responsibility to a producer in respect of vehicles placed on the market<sup>9</sup>) within 28 days of the occurrence of any change<sup>10</sup>. The details provided by a producer in compliance with these obligations are to be included in the register of producers to be maintained by the Secretary of State<sup>11</sup>. A producer who has made a declaration is to be treated as remaining responsible for the vehicles in respect of which a declaration has been made<sup>12</sup>, but special provisions apply where the business of a producer is transferred in whole or in part to another person<sup>13</sup>.

The Secretary of State has the power to ascribe responsibility to a producer in respect of vehicles which have been placed on the market where no producer has made a declaration of responsibility<sup>14</sup>.

Each producer must establish a system for the collection of the vehicles for which he has declared responsibility for placing on the market, or for which the Secretary of State has ascribed responsibility to him, which the producer anticipates will become end-of-life vehicles<sup>15</sup>. A producer's system for collection must be reasonably accessible to any person who wants to deliver an end-of-life vehicle to it for which that producer is responsible<sup>16</sup>, and it must contain sufficient capacity to treat those end-of-life vehicles for which he is responsible<sup>17</sup>.

Each producer<sup>18</sup> is required to attain specified reuse, recovery and recycling targets in respect of those end-of-life vehicles treated at authorised treatment facilities which comprise all or part of the system he has established for collection of vehicles<sup>19</sup>, and where those targets have been attained, the producer or authorised treatment facility must send a certificate of compliance to the Secretary of State<sup>20</sup>.

The Secretary of State must maintain and make available a register relating to those producers who register in accordance with the above requirements and containing prescribed<sup>21</sup> information<sup>22</sup>.

Enforcement of these provisions is the responsibility of the Secretary of State, who may appoint the Environment Agency to act on his behalf<sup>23</sup>, and powers of entry and inspection are given to the Secretary of State and any person appointed by him to act on his behalf<sup>24</sup>. There is a compliance notice procedure<sup>25</sup>, and failure to comply with the statutory requirements is an offence<sup>26</sup>.

The Secretary of State has power to enter into agreements to implement the detailed rules of the European legislation<sup>27</sup>, where he is satisfied that it will achieve one or more of the objectives<sup>28</sup> of that legislation<sup>29</sup>, and to enforce such agreements<sup>30</sup>.

1 'Producer' means the vehicle manufacturer or the professional importer of a vehicle into the United Kingdom: End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, reg 2. 'Vehicle' means any vehicle designated as category M1 or N1 defined in EEC Council Directive 70/156 (OJ L42, 23.2.1970, p 1) relating to the type-approval of motor vehicles and their trailers, Annex IIA, and three-wheel motor vehicles as defined in EC Parliament and Council Directive 2002/24 (OJ L124, 9.5.2002, p 1) relating to the type-approval of two- or three-wheel motor vehicles, but excluding motor tricycles: End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, reg 2.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

3 End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, reg 7(1). The regulations implement European Parliament and Council Directive 2000/53 (OJ L269, 21.10.2000, p 34) on end-of-life vehicles, arts 5(1), (2), (4), 7. The End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, apply to vehicles and end-of-life vehicles including their components and materials (reg 3(1)) and apply irrespective of how the vehicle has been serviced or repaired during use and irrespective of whether it is equipped with components supplied by the producer or with other components whose fitting as spare or replacement parts accords with the appropriate Community or domestic provisions (reg 3(2)). 'End-of-life vehicle' means a vehicle which is waste within the meaning of EC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) on waste ('the Waste Directive') art 1(a): End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, reg 2. Nothing in the regulations affects the application of existing Community legislation and relevant national legislation, in particular as regards safety standards, air emissions, noise controls and the protection of soil and water: reg 4.

4 Ibid reg 7(2). An application by a producer to register must be made in writing and contain at least the information set out in Sch 1: reg 7(4).

5 The time limit was 21 days after receipt in the case of an application for registration made under ibid reg 7(1) (see the text and notes 1-3 supra).

6 Ibid reg 7(7).

7 Ibid reg 7(8).

8 Ibid reg 7(3).

11 Ibid reg 7(5).

12 Ibid reg 7(6).

13 See ibid reg 9.

14 See ibid reg 8, Sch 2.

15 Ibid reg 10(1). As to the particulars of the system see reg 10(2)-(7), Sch 3. Regulation 10(6) does not apply to three-wheel motor vehicles: reg 6. As to approval by the Secretary of State see reg 13. Where a producer has submitted an application for approval of his system and it is anticipated that the number of end-of-life vehicles will change in a subsequent year, he must submit a revised application for approval of the system: see reg 14.

16 Ibid reg 11.

18 Where an authorised treatment facility treats end-of-life vehicles which it is not obliged to treat under an agreement between the owner or operator of that facility and a producer, the owner or operator of that authorised treatment facility must attain the targets for reuse, recovery and recycling: reg 18(3). 'Authorised treatment facility' means any establishment or undertaking carrying out treatment operations which holds a site licence that meets the requirements of the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, Pt VII (regs 44-50) and Sch 5 (see PARA 360 note 14 ante): End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, reg 2.

19 See ibid reg 18. Regulations 18-20 do not apply to special-purpose vehicles as defined in EEC Council Directive 70/156 (OJ L42, 23.2.70, p 1) art 4(1)(a), 2nd indent, or to three-wheel motor vehicles: End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, regs 5, 6.

20 Ibid reg 19(1). As to details of the certificate see reg 19(2), (3), Sch 4; and as to approval of persons to issue certificates of compliance see reg 20.

21 Ie as prescribed in ibid Sch 5.

22 Ibid reg 21(1). See further reg 21(2)-(6).

23 Ibid reg 24(1), (4), (5). As to the Environment Agency see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 45 (2010) PARA 68 et seq.

24 See ibid reg 22, Sch 6.

25 Ibid reg 16. As to the content of the compliance notice see reg 17.

26 See ibid reg 23. A person guilty of an offence under reg 23 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum, or on conviction on indictment to a fine: reg 25. As to the statutory maximum see PARA 359 note 11 ante.

27 Ie European Parliament and Council Directive 2000/53 (OJ L 269, 21.10.2000, p 34) art 5(4).

28 Ie as set out in ibid art 1.

29 End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, reg 26.

30 Ibid reg 27. Failure to comply with the terms of an agreement is treated as if it were a breach of the End-of-Life Vehicles (Producer Responsibility) Regulations, SI 2005/263, and a person failing to comply is guilty of an offence: reg 27(1). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum, or on conviction on indictment to a fine: reg 27(2).

365. Vehicle identification numbers.

A wheeled<sup>1</sup> vehicle which is first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 April 1980 and to which the provisions relating to type approval<sup>3</sup> apply must be equipped with a plate which is in a conspicuous and readily accessible position, is affixed to a vehicle part which is not normally subject to replacement and shows clearly and indelibly<sup>4</sup>:

- 527 (1) the vehicle identification number<sup>5</sup>;
- 528 (2) the name of the manufacturer<sup>6</sup>; and
- 529 (3) the approval reference number of either: (a) the type approval certificate which relates to the vehicle model or the model variant of the vehicle model, as the case may be<sup>7</sup>; or (b) the Minister's approval certificate which relates to the vehicle<sup>8</sup>.

The information required under head (3) above may be shown clearly and indelibly on an additional plate which is fitted in a conspicuous and readily accessible position and which is affixed to a vehicle part which is not normally subject to replacement<sup>9</sup>.

The vehicle identification number of every such vehicle must be marked on the chassis, frame or other similar structure, on the off side of the vehicle, in a clearly visible and accessible position, and by a method such as hammering or stamping, in such a way that it cannot be obliterated or deteriorate<sup>10</sup>.

NOTE 5--Directive 76/114 replaced with effect from 1 November 2014: European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 661/2009 (OJ L200, 31.7.2009, p 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(3) PLATES, MARKINGS, TESTING AND INSPECTION/(i) Plates/366. Plates on agricultural trailed appliances.

366. Plates on agricultural trailed appliances.

Every wheeled<sup>1</sup> agricultural trailed appliance<sup>2</sup> manufactured on or after 1 December 1985 must be equipped with a plate which is affixed to the vehicle in a conspicuous and readily accessible position and which is clearly and indelibly marked with the following particulars<sup>3</sup>:

- 530 (1) the name of the manufacturer of the appliance<sup>4</sup>;
- 531 (2) the year in which the appliance was manufactured<sup>5</sup>;
- 532 (3) the maximum gross weight<sup>6</sup>;
- 533 (4) the unladen weight<sup>7</sup>; and
- 534 (5) the maximum load which would be imposed by the appliance on the drawing vehicle<sup>8</sup>.

In the case of a towed roller consisting of several separate rollers used in combination, a single plate satisfies the above requirement<sup>9</sup>.

367. Plates for motor cycles.

Every motor cycle<sup>1</sup> first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 August 1977 which is not:

- 535 (1) propelled by an internal combustion engine with a cylinder capacity exceeding 150 cubic centimetres if the vehicle was first used before 1 January 1982 or 125 cubic centimetres if it was first used on or after 1 January 1982<sup>3</sup>;
- 536 (2) a mowing machine<sup>4</sup>; or
- 537 (3) a pedestrian-controlled vehicle<sup>5</sup>, must be equipped with a plate which is securely affixed to the vehicle in a conspicuous and readily accessible position and which complies with the following requirements<sup>6</sup>.

The plate so required must be firmly attached to a part of the motor cycle which is not normally subject to replacement during the life of the motor cycle<sup>7</sup>. The plate must be in the form of the prescribed diagram<sup>8</sup>, have dimensions not less than 30 millimetres in width by 50 millimetres<sup>9</sup> in height and must show the manufacturer's name, the category<sup>10</sup>, details relating to engine capacity, weight and speed<sup>11</sup>, and the vehicle identification number (VIN)<sup>12</sup>.

The information on the plate must be shown in characters not less than 4 millimetres in height and in the positions on the plate indicated in the prescribed diagram<sup>13</sup>.

No information, other than that provided for in the prescribed diagram, is to be marked within the rectangle which is shown in that diagram<sup>14</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante.

3 Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 69(1)(a).

4 Ibid reg 69(1)(b).

5 Ibid reg 69(1)(c). For the meaning of 'pedestrian-controlled vehicle' see PARA 290 note 8 ante.

6 Ibid reg 69(2).

7 Ibid reg 69(2), Sch 9 para 1.

8 For the prescribed form of diagram see ibid Sch 9 para 2.

9 In the case of a plate fitted to a vehicle first used before 1 January 1982 or to a moped, this dimension must be 40 mm: ibid Sch 9 para 2 note 4.

10 The categories are 'standard motor cycle' and 'moped': ibid Sch 9 para 2 note 1. For these purposes, 'standard motor cycle' means a motor cycle which is not a moped; and 'moped' means a motor cycle which: (1) has a kerbside weight not exceeding 250 kg; and (2) if propelled by an internal combustion engine, has an engine with a cylinder capacity which does not exceed 50 cubic cm; and (3) is designed to have a maximum speed not exceeding 30 mph when driven under the conditions set out in Sch 9 para 6: Sch 9 para 5. For the meaning of 'maximum speed' see PARA 278 note 17 ante.

A motor cycle is to be regarded as complying with head (3) supra if it cannot exceed 35 mph when tested under the following conditions: (a) the surface on which it is tested must be dry asphalt or concrete; (b) the rider must be a person not exceeding 75 kilograms in weight; (c) no passenger or load is to be carried; (d) the test route must be so located that acceleration to, and deceleration from, maximum speed can take place elsewhere than on the test route itself; (e) the test route must not have a gradient exceeding 5%; (f) the motor cycle must be ridden in opposite directions along the test route and the speed recorded for the purpose of the test must, in order to minimise the effect of wind resistance and gradient, be the average of speeds shown for each direction; (g) when being driven along the test route, the motor cycle must be driven in such manner and in such gear as to achieve the maximum speed of which it is capable; and (h) if the motor cycle is fitted with a device which can, without the use of specialist tools or equipment, be readily modified or removed so as to increase its maximum speed, the test must be carried out with the device in the modified condition or, as the case may be, without the device: Sch 9 para 6.

11 The details are: (1) for standard motor cycles: (a) the engine capacity; (b) the maximum engine power; and (c) the power to weight ratio, provided that the details under heads (1)(a) and (1)(b) supra need not be shown for a vehicle first used before 1 January 1982; and (2) for mopeds: (a) the engine capacity; (b) the kerbside weight; and (c) the maximum speed: ibid Sch 9 para 2 note 2. For these purposes, 'maximum engine power' means the maximum net power the motor cycle engine will develop, in kilowatts, when measured in accordance with the test conditions specified in the International Standard number ISO 4106 developed by the technical committee of the International Organisation for Standardisation, and approved by member bodies, including the United Kingdom, and published under the reference ISO 1978 4106-09-01 (see now ISO 4106: 1993): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 9 para 5. For these purposes, 'power to weight ratio' means the ratio of the maximum engine power to the kerbside weight of the vehicle measured, as regards the maximum engine power, in kilowatts and, as regards the kerbside weight, in 1,000 kg: Sch 9 para 5. 'Kerbside weight' means the weight of a vehicle when it carries: (i) in the case of a motor vehicle, no person and a full supply of fuel in its tank, an adequate supply of other liquids incidental to its propulsion and no load other than the loose tools and equipment with which it is normally equipped; and (2) in the case of a trailer, no person and is otherwise unladen: reg 3(2), Table.

12 The vehicle identification number must be marked in the form used by the manufacturer to identify any one individual vehicle: ibid Sch 9 para 2 note 3.

13 Ibid Sch 9 para 3.

14 Ibid Sch 9 para 4.

368. Ministry plates.

Every goods vehicle<sup>1</sup> in respect of which a plating certificate has been issued must, from the specified date<sup>2</sup> be equipped with a Ministry plate<sup>3</sup> securely affixed, so as to be legible at all times, in a conspicuous and readily accessible position, and in the cab of the vehicle if it has one<sup>4</sup>.

1 The vehicle to which the Goods Vehicles (Plating and Testing) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1478 (as amended) apply (see PARA 676 post): see the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, regs 3(2A), 70(1) (reg 3(2A) added by SI 1993/2199). For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 271 note 26 ante.

2 The date so specified is: (1) in the case of a vehicle to which the Motor Vehicles (Type Approval for Goods Vehicles) (Great Britain) Regulations 1982, 1982/1271 (as amended) (see PARA 702 post) apply, the date of the fourteenth day after the plate was issued; or (2) in the case of any other vehicle, the date by which it is required by those regulations to be submitted for examination for plating: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 70(2).

3 For these purposes, 'Ministry plate' means a plate which: (1) is issued by the Secretary of State following the issue or amendment of a plating certificate; and (2) subject to ibid reg 70(4), contains the particulars required by Sch 10, Sch 10A (added by SI 1987/676), the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 10B (added by SI 1994/329) or the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, Sch 10C (added by SI 1994/329): Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2), Table (definition amended by SI 1998/3112); Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 70(3) (added by SI 1998/3112). Instead of particulars of the gross weight, train weight and axle weights of the vehicle to which it relates, a Ministry plate may contain particulars of the maximum authorised weight for the vehicle, maximum authorised weight for a combination of which the vehicle forms part, and maximum authorised axle weights for the vehicle, determined in accordance with the Road Vehicles (Authorised Weight) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/3111 (see PARA 584 post); and the form of the plate must be amended accordingly: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 70(4) (added by SI 1998/3112). For the meaning of 'gross weight' see PARA 271 note 27 ante; for the meaning of 'train weight' see PARA 340 note 13 ante; and for the meaning of 'axle weight' see PARA 287 note 23 ante.

369. Plates for speed limiters.

Every vehicle to which the provisions relating to speed limiters apply<sup>1</sup> and which is fitted with a speed limiter must be equipped with a plate which is in conspicuous position in the driving compartment of the vehicle and is clearly and indelibly marked with the speed at which the speed limiter has been set<sup>2</sup>.

1     Ie every vehicle to which the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 36A (as added and amended) (see PARA 308 ante) or reg 36B (as added and amended) (see PARA 309 ante) applies.

2     Ibid reg 70A(1)-(3) (reg 70A added by SI 1988/271; and substituted by SI 1993/3048; and the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 70A(3) amended by SI 1996/2064; SI 2004/2102).

(ii) Marking

370. Marking of dimensions on certain vehicles.

Every vehicle which is not a goods vehicle<sup>1</sup> fitted with a Ministry plate<sup>2</sup> containing the required particulars<sup>3</sup> and which is either<sup>4</sup>:

- 538 (1)     a bus<sup>5</sup> or a heavy motor car<sup>6</sup> which was manufactured after 31 May 1998<sup>7</sup>; or
- 539 (2)     a trailer<sup>8</sup> used in combination with a vehicle falling within head (1) above and manufactured after 31 May 1998<sup>9</sup>, is not to be used unless:

- 540 (a)     the vehicle is equipped with a plate securely attached to the vehicle in a conspicuous and readily accessible position and containing the specified particulars as to the dimensions of the vehicle<sup>10</sup>; or
- 541 (b)     those particulars are included in the particulars shown on the plate with which the vehicle is equipped<sup>11</sup>.

371. Marking of weights on certain vehicles.

The following vehicles (other than an agricultural motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> which is either a track-laying<sup>2</sup> vehicle not exceeding 3,050 kilograms in unladen weight<sup>3</sup> or a wheeled<sup>4</sup> vehicle), that is to say<sup>5</sup>:

- 542 (1) a locomotive<sup>6</sup>;
- 543 (2) a motor tractor<sup>7</sup>;
- 544 (3) a bus<sup>8</sup> which is registered<sup>9</sup>; or
- 545 (4) an unbraked wheeled trailer<sup>10</sup>, must be plainly marked in a conspicuous place on the outside of the vehicle, on its near side with: (a) if it is a vehicle falling in head (1), (2) or (3) above, its unladen weight<sup>11</sup>; and (b) if it is a vehicle falling in head (4) above, its maximum gross weight<sup>12</sup>.

(iii) Testing and Inspection

374. Test date discs.

Every Ministry test date disc<sup>1</sup> which is issued, following the issue of a goods vehicle test certificate, in respect of a trailer and for which a plating certificate has been issued must be carried on the trailer in a legible condition and in a conspicuous and readily accessible position in which it is clearly visible by daylight from the near side of the road, from the date of its issue until but not beyond the date of expiry of that test certificate or the date of issue of a further test certificate for that trailer, whichever date is the earlier<sup>2</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'Ministry test date disc' means a plate issued by the Secretary of State for a goods vehicle, being a trailer, following the issue of a goods vehicle test certificate for that trailer under the Goods Vehicles (Plating and Testing) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1478 (as amended) (see PARA 676 post) and containing the following particulars: (1) the identification mark allotted to that trailer and shown in that certificate; (2) the date until which that certificate is valid; and (3) the number of the vehicle testing station shown in that certificate: Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, regs 3(2A), 73(2) (reg 3(2A) added by SI 1993/2199). For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 271 note 26 ante; and for the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

375. Testing and inspection.

Subject to the conditions specified below, the following persons are empowered to test and inspect the brakes<sup>1</sup>, silencers<sup>2</sup>, steering gear<sup>3</sup> and tyres<sup>4</sup> of any vehicle, on any premises where that vehicle is located<sup>5</sup>:

- 549 (1) a police constable in uniform<sup>6</sup>;
- 550 (2) a person appointed by the Metropolitan Police Commissioner<sup>7</sup> to inspect public carriages<sup>8</sup>;
- 551 (3) a person appointed by the police authority for a police area<sup>9</sup> to test the conditions of vehicles on roads<sup>10</sup>;
- 552 (4) a goods vehicle examiner<sup>11</sup>;
- 553 (5) a certifying officer<sup>12</sup>; and
- 554 (6) a duly appointed<sup>13</sup> public service vehicle examiner<sup>14</sup>.

The conditions are as follows:

- 555 (a) any person empowered as mentioned in heads (1) to (6) above must produce his authorisation, if required to do so<sup>15</sup>;
  - 556 (b) no such person may enter any premises unless the consent of the owner of those premises has first been obtained<sup>16</sup>;
  - 557 (c) no such person may test or inspect any vehicle on any premises unless<sup>17</sup>:
- 21
- 47. (i) the owner of the vehicle<sup>18</sup> consents<sup>19</sup>;
  - 48. (ii) notice has been given to that owner personally or left at his address not less than 48 hours before the time of the proposed test or inspection, or has been sent to him at least 72 hours before that time by the recorded delivery service to his address last known to the person giving the notice<sup>20</sup>; or
  - 49. (iii) the test or inspection is made within 48 hours of an accident<sup>21</sup> in which the vehicle was involved<sup>22</sup>.

(4) VEHICLES OF SPECIAL TYPES

376. Authorisation of use on roads of special vehicles not complying with regulations as to construction, weight, equipment and use of vehicles.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by order authorise, subject to such restrictions and conditions as may be specified by or under the order, the use on roads<sup>2</sup>:

- 558 (1) of special motor vehicles<sup>3</sup> or trailers<sup>4</sup>, or special types of motor vehicles or trailers, which are constructed either for special purposes or for tests or trials<sup>5</sup>;
- 559 (2) of vehicles or trailers, or types of vehicles or trailers, constructed for use outside the United Kingdom<sup>6</sup>;
- 560 (3) of new or improved types of motor vehicles or trailers, whether wheeled or wheelless, or of motor vehicles or trailers equipped with new or improved equipment or types of equipment<sup>7</sup>; and
- 561 (4) of vehicles or trailers carrying loads of exceptional dimensions<sup>8</sup>.

The provisions relating to using a vehicle in a dangerous condition<sup>9</sup> and the general regulation of construction and use<sup>10</sup> do not apply in relation to the use of such vehicles, trailers, or types in accordance with the order<sup>11</sup>.

The Secretary of State may by order make provision for securing that, subject to such restrictions and conditions as may be specified by or under the order, regulations as to construction, weight, equipment and use of vehicles<sup>12</sup> are to have effect in their application to such vehicles, trailers and types of vehicles and trailers as are mentioned in heads (1) to (4) above subject to such modifications or exceptions as may be specified in the order<sup>13</sup>.

The powers conferred by the above provisions on the Secretary of State to make orders are exercisable by statutory instrument, except in the case of orders applying only to specified vehicles or to vehicles of specified persons; and in all cases the order may be varied or revoked by subsequent order of the Secretary of State<sup>14</sup>.

376-377 Vehicles of Special Types

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(4) VEHICLES OF SPECIAL TYPES/377. Authorised special types of vehicles.

377. Authorised special types of vehicles.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> has authorised, subject to certain conditions and restrictions, the use on roads of certain motor vehicles<sup>2</sup> and trailers<sup>3</sup> which do not comply in all respects with the standard construction and use requirements<sup>4</sup> and which fall within a recognised category of special vehicles<sup>5</sup>. A vehicle that falls within a recognised category of special vehicles is authorised to be used on roads by virtue of these provisions if (but only if) it complies with the authorisation requirements<sup>6</sup> applicable to vehicles in that category<sup>7</sup>. The following are recognised categories of special vehicles:

- 562 (1) the following special vehicles and vehicle combinations<sup>8</sup> for haulage, lifting, engineering and vehicle recovery<sup>9</sup>: (a) abnormal indivisible load vehicles<sup>10</sup>; (b) mobile cranes<sup>11</sup>; (c) engineering plant<sup>12</sup>; (d) road recovery vehicles<sup>13</sup>;
- 563 (2) special vehicles for agriculture, as follows<sup>14</sup>: (a) agricultural motor vehicles<sup>15</sup>; (b) agricultural trailers<sup>16</sup>; (c) agricultural trailed appliances<sup>17</sup>;
- 564 (3) motor vehicles or trailers that are used for, or in connection with, the carriage of a load of exceptional width<sup>18</sup>;
- 565 (4) local excavation vehicles<sup>19</sup>;
- 566 (5) vehicles for tests, trials or for use outside the United Kingdom<sup>20</sup>, namely: (a) any motor vehicle or trailer which is constructed for use outside the United Kingdom<sup>21</sup>; (b) any type of motor vehicle or trailer which is constructed for use outside the United Kingdom<sup>22</sup>; (c) any new or improved type of motor vehicle or trailer which is constructed for tests or trials<sup>23</sup>; (d) any motor vehicle or trailer which is equipped with new or improved equipment<sup>24</sup>; (e) any motor vehicle or trailer which is equipped with new or improved types of equipment<sup>25</sup>;
- 567 (6) track-laying motor vehicles or trailers<sup>26</sup>;
- 568 (7) straddle carriers<sup>27</sup>;
- 569 (8) vehicles fitted with a moveable platform<sup>28</sup>;
- 570 (9) pedestrian-controlled road maintenance vehicles that are not constructed or used to carry a driver or passenger<sup>29</sup>;
- 571 (10) motor cutters<sup>30</sup>;
- 572 (11) cutter trailers<sup>31</sup>;
- 573 (12) operational military vehicles<sup>32</sup> in any case where compliance with any otherwise applicable regulations<sup>33</sup> by any such vehicle would directly compromise the vehicle's operational capability<sup>34</sup>;
- 574 (13) track-laying vehicles belonging to the Royal National Lifeboat Institution<sup>35</sup>;
- 575 (14) highway testing vehicles<sup>36</sup>;
- 576 (15) vehicles propelled by compressed natural gas<sup>37</sup>.

Requirements are imposed in respect of:

- 577 (i) authorisation<sup>38</sup>;
- 578 (ii) police notification<sup>39</sup>;
- 579 (iii) the employment of persons as attendants<sup>40</sup>;
- 580 (iv) the visibility and marking of forward, rearward and lateral projections of loads<sup>41</sup>;
- 581 (v) giving notice to, and indemnifying, highway and bridge authorities<sup>42</sup>;
- 582 (vi) the passage over bridges of Part 2 vehicles and track-laying agricultural motor vehicles<sup>43</sup>;
- 583 (vii) the construction and use of special type agricultural vehicles<sup>44</sup>;
- 584 (viii) the drawing of trailers by special type agricultural vehicles<sup>45</sup>;
- 585 (ix) notifying and obtaining the consent of the Secretary of State in cases of excessive width or length<sup>46</sup>;
- 586 (x) the restriction on width and speed of motor vehicles or trailers carrying loads of exceptional width<sup>47</sup>;
- 587 (xi) obtaining the consent of the road authorities in respect of track-laying vehicles<sup>48</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

4 'Standard construction and use requirements', in relation to a motor vehicle or trailer, means the requirements of such of the regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 41 (as amended) (see PARA 260 ante) as would, apart from the Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, apply to that motor vehicle or trailer: art 8(3). As to such regulations see the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078 (as amended) (see PARA 267 et seq ante); the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796 (as amended) (see PARA 378 et seq post); and the Road Vehicles (Authorised Weight) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/3111 (see PARA 584 post).

5 Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, art 8(1). 'Recognised category of special vehicles' means a description of vehicles that is stated by a provision of the Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, to be a recognised category of special vehicles: arts 3(1), 8(2).

6 'Authorisation requirements', in relation to a recognised category of special vehicles: (1) means all the requirements specified in the Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, as being applicable to vehicles in that category; and (2) includes such of the requirements of regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 41 (as amended) as are specified in the Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, as being applicable to vehicles in that category (subject to any modifications or exceptions so specified): Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, arts 3(1), 9(2). Where any provision of the Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, specifies any of the regulations mentioned in art 9(2)(b) as being applicable to any recognised category of special vehicles, that provision is not to be construed as applying any requirement of those regulations to a vehicle in that category if that requirement may reasonably be regarded, in all the circumstances, as not relevant to the vehicle in question (eg if the requirement relates to trailers and the vehicle in question is not a trailer): art 9(3).

7 Ibid art 9(1).

8 'Vehicle combination' means a motor vehicle towing one or more trailers, any trailer or trailers towed by it, and any other motor vehicle used for the purpose of assisting the propulsion of the trailer or trailers on the road: ibid art 3(1).

9 Ibid art 10(1). A vehicle that falls within any recognised category of special vehicles mentioned in art 10(1) is referred to in the Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, as a Part 2 vehicle: art 10(2). As to a Part 2 vehicle combination see art 10(3). The categories of vehicles specified in art 10(1)(a), (b), (c) or (d) are defined in Schs 1-4 respectively: art 10(4).

10 Ibid art 10(1)(a). 'Abnormal indivisible load' has the meaning given in Sch 1 para 2; and 'abnormal indivisible load vehicle' has the meaning given in Sch 1 para 3: art 3(1).

11 Ibid art 10(1)(b). 'Mobile crane' has the meaning given in Sch 2 para 2: art 3(1).

12 Ibid art 10(1)(c). 'Engineering plant' has the meaning given in Sch 3 para 2: art 3(1).

13 Ibid art 10(1)(d). 'Road recovery vehicle' has the meaning given in Sch 4 para 1: art 3(1).

14 Ibid art 19(1). A vehicle that falls within any recognised category of special vehicles mentioned in art 19(1) is referred to in the Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, as a special type agricultural vehicle: arts 3(1), 19(2).

15 'Agricultural motor vehicle' means a motor vehicle (not being a dual-purpose vehicle) which: (1) is constructed or adapted for use off-road for the purpose of agriculture, horticulture or forestry; and (2) is primarily used for one or more of those purposes: ibid arts 3(1), 19(3). For the meaning of 'dual-purpose vehicle' see PARA 271 note 28 ante; definition applied by art 19(4).

16 For the meaning of 'agricultural trailer' see PARA 271 note 30 ante; definition applied by ibid art 19(3).

17 For the meaning of 'agricultural trailed appliance' see PARA 271 note 21 ante; definition applied by ibid art 19(3).

18 Ibid art 28(1). A vehicle carries a load of exceptional width where the overall width of the vehicle carrying a load, together with the width of any lateral projection or projections of the load, exceeds 4.3 metres: art 28(2). For the meaning of 'overall width' see PARA 274 ante; definition applied by art 4(1).

19 Ibid art 32(1). Local excavation vehicles are defined in Sch 10 para 1: arts 3(1), 32(2).

20 Ibid art 36(1). This does not include: (1) any motor vehicle or trailer which is not a wheeled vehicle; or (2) any motor vehicle or trailer which is, or forms part of, a recognised category of special vehicles specified in art 10(1)(a), (b), (c) or (d) (see head (1) in the text): art 36(2). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 224 note 5 ante.

21 Ibid art 36(1)(a).

23 Ibid art 36(1)(c).

24 Ibid art 36(1)(d).

25 Ibid art 36(1)(e).

26 Ibid art 41(1). This does not include any track-laying vehicle that falls within any other recognised category of special vehicles: art 41(2). For the meaning of 'track-laying' see PARA 267 note 3 ante; definition applied by art 3(1). As to restrictions on the use of a track-laying vehicle see art 43.

27 Ibid art 45. As to restrictions on use, speed and width see art 47.

28 Ibid art 49(1). For these purposes, 'moveable platform' means a platform that is attached to, and may be moved by means of, an extensible boom: art 49(6).

29 Ibid art 50(1). 'Road maintenance vehicle' means a motor vehicle that is specially constructed or adapted for the purposes of carrying out one or more of the following operations: (1) gritting roads; (2) laying road markings; (3) clearing frost, snow or ice from roads; or (4) any other work of maintaining roads: art 50(5).

30 Ibid art 51(1). 'Motor cutters' means motor vehicles that are specially constructed: (1) to be used as grass cutters and hedge trimmers; and (2) to be controlled by a person other than a pedestrian: art 51(6). As to width and guarding requirements see art 51(3)-(5).

31 Ibid art 52(1). 'Cutter trailer' means a trailer that is specially constructed or adapted for use as a grass cutter and hedge trimmer: art 52(8). As to width, weight and guarding requirements and speed restriction see art 52(3)-(7).

32 'Operational military vehicles' means any motor vehicle or trailer that is intended for: (1) operational use for military action or the carrying out of a strategic, tactical, service or administrative military mission, the process of carrying on combat, including movement, supply, attack, defence and manoeuvres needed to gain the objectives of any battle or campaign or use for military support to the civil community; (2) training in connection with such operational use; (3) the carrying or recovery of vehicles or equipment in connection with such operational use or training: ibid art 53(6). For further requirements see art 53(3)-(5).

33 Ie regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 41 (as amended).

34 Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, art 53(1).

35 Ibid art 54(1). 'RNLI track-laying vehicle' means any track-laying motor vehicle or track-laying trailer that is the property of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution: art 54(4). As to the Royal National Lifeboat Institution see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 940. Such vehicles may only be used on roads either: (1) for the purpose of towing lifeboats; or (2) in connection with the launching of lifeboats: art 54(3).

36 Ibid art 55(1). 'Highway testing vehicle' means any motor vehicle or trailer that is used in, or in connection with, the conduct of experiments or trials of roads or bridges as permitted under the Highways Act 1980 s 283 (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 55): Road Vehicles (Authorisation of Special Types) (General) Order 2003, SI 2003/1998, art 55(3).

37 Ibid art 56(1).

38 See ibid arts 11-18, 20-27, 29-31, 33-35, 37-40, 42-44, 46-47, 49(2)-(5), 50(2)-(4), 51(2)-(5), 52(2)-(7), 53(2)-(5), 54(2), 55(2), 56(2), Schs 1-4, 10, 11.

- 589 (2) a side marker lamp<sup>5</sup> or a side retro reflector<sup>6</sup>;
- 590 (3) retro reflective material or a retro reflector designed primarily to reflect light to one or both sides of the vehicle and attached to or incorporated in any wheel<sup>7</sup> or tyre of a pedal cycle<sup>8</sup>, a trailer drawn by, or a sidecar attached to, a pedal cycle, a solo motor bicycle<sup>9</sup> or motor bicycle combination<sup>10</sup> or an invalid carriage<sup>11</sup>; or
- 591 (4) a traffic sign<sup>12</sup>.

No vehicle is to be fitted with a lamp or retro reflective material which is capable of showing any light to the rear, other than a red light, except<sup>13</sup>:

- 592 (a) amber light from a direction indicator<sup>14</sup> or side marker lamp<sup>15</sup>;
- 593 (b) white light from a reversing lamp<sup>16</sup>;
- 594 (c) white light from a work lamp<sup>17</sup>;
- 595 (d) light to illuminate the interior of a vehicle<sup>18</sup>;
- 596 (e) light from an illuminated rear registration plate<sup>19</sup>;
- 597 (f) light for the purposes of illuminating a taxi meter<sup>20</sup>;
- 598 (g) in the case of a bus<sup>21</sup>, light for the purposes of illuminating a route indicator<sup>22</sup>;
- 599 (h) blue light and white light from a chequered domed lamp fitted to a police control vehicle and intended for use at the scene of an emergency<sup>23</sup>;
- 600 (i) white light from a red and white chequered domed lamp, or a red and white segmented mast-mounted warning beacon, fitted to a fire service control vehicle and intended for use at the scene of an emergency<sup>24</sup>;
- 601 (j) green light and white light from a chequered domed lamp fitted to an ambulance control vehicle and intended for use at the scene of an emergency<sup>25</sup>;
- 602 (k) blue light from a warning beacon or rear special warning lamp<sup>26</sup> fitted to an emergency vehicle<sup>27</sup>, or from any device fitted to a vehicle used for police purposes<sup>28</sup>;
- 603 (l) amber light from a warning beacon fitted to:
  - 23
  - 50. (i) a road clearance vehicle<sup>29</sup>;
  - 51. (ii) a vehicle constructed or adapted for the purpose of collecting refuse<sup>30</sup>;
  - 52. (iii) a breakdown vehicle<sup>31</sup>;
  - 53. (iv) a vehicle having a maximum speed<sup>32</sup> not exceeding 25 miles per hour or any trailer<sup>33</sup> drawn by such a vehicle<sup>34</sup>;
  - 54. (v) a vehicle having an overall width<sup>35</sup>, including any load, exceeding 2.9 metres<sup>36</sup>;
  - 55. (vi) a vehicle used for the purposes of testing, maintaining, improving, cleansing or watering roads or for any purpose incidental to any such use<sup>37</sup>;
  - 56. (vii) a vehicle used for the purpose of inspecting, cleansing, maintaining, adjusting, renewing or installing any apparatus which is in, on, under or over a road, or for any purpose incidental to any such use<sup>38</sup>;
  - 57. (viii) a vehicle used for or in connection with any purpose for which it is authorised to be used on roads<sup>39</sup>;
  - 58. (ix) a vehicle used for escort purposes<sup>40</sup>;

- 59. (x) a vehicle used by the Commissioners for Revenue and Customs<sup>41</sup> for the purpose of testing fuels<sup>42</sup>;
  - 60. (xi) a vehicle used for the purpose of surveying<sup>43</sup>; or
  - 61. (xii) a vehicle used for the removal or immobilisation of vehicles in exercise of a statutory power or duty<sup>44</sup>;
- 24
- 604 (m) green light from a warning beacon fitted to a vehicle used by a medical practitioner registered by the General Medical Council<sup>45</sup>, whether with full, provisional or limited registration<sup>46</sup>;
  - 605 (n) yellow light from a warning beacon fitted to a vehicle for use at airports<sup>47</sup>;
  - 606 (o) light of any colour from a traffic sign which is attached to a vehicle<sup>48</sup>;
  - 607 (p) amber light from a lamp attached to or incorporated in a pedal of a pedal cycle<sup>49</sup>;
  - 608 (q) white light or amber light from a lamp which is designed to emit light primarily to one or both sides of the vehicle, and is attached to or incorporated in any wheel or tyre of a pedal cycle or a trailer drawn by, or a sidecar attached to, a pedal cycle<sup>50</sup>;
  - 609 (r) reflected light from amber pedal retro reflectors<sup>51</sup>;
  - 610 (s) reflected light of any colour from retro reflective material or a retro reflector designed primarily to reflect light to one or both sides of the vehicle and attached to or incorporated in any wheel or tyre of: (i) a pedal cycle; (ii) a trailer drawn by, or a sidecar attached to, a pedal cycle; (iii) a solo motor bicycle or motor bicycle combination; or (iv) an invalid carriage<sup>52</sup>;
  - 611 (t) reflected light from amber retro reflective material on a road clearance vehicle<sup>53</sup>;
  - 612 (u) reflected light from yellow retro reflective registration plates<sup>54</sup>;
  - 613 (v) reflected blue, yellow and white light from a retro reflective plate displaying a prescribed<sup>55</sup> distinguishing sign<sup>56</sup>;
  - 614 (w) reflected light from yellow retro reflective material incorporated in a prescribed rear marking<sup>57</sup> fitted in the appropriate manner to certain vehicles<sup>58</sup>;
  - 615 (x) reflected light from orange retro reflective material incorporated in a sign fitted to the rear of a vehicle carrying a dangerous substance<sup>59</sup>;
  - 616 (y) reflected light from yellow retro reflective material incorporated in a prescribed sign<sup>60</sup> and fitted to the rear of a bus<sup>61</sup>; or
  - 617 (z) reflected light from yellow retro reflective material incorporated in a sign fitted to the rear of a bus<sup>62</sup>.

1 Material designed primarily to reflect light is, when reflecting light, to be treated as showing a light; and material capable of reflecting an image is not, when reflecting the image of a light, to be so treated: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(3).

2 Ibid reg 11(1) (amended by SI 1994/2280).

3 'Warning beacon' means a lamp that is capable of emitting a flashing or rotating beam of light throughout 360° in the horizontal plane: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table.

4 Ibid reg 11(1)(a). As to fire service control vehicles see FIRE SERVICES vol 18(2) (Reissue) PARA 68 et seq.

5 'Side marker lamp' means a lamp fitted to the side of a vehicle or its load and used to render the vehicle more visible to other road users: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

6 Ibid reg 11(1)(b). 'Side retro reflector' means a reflector fitted to the side of a vehicle or its load and used to render the vehicle more visible from the side: reg 3(2), Table.

7 For the meaning of 'wheel' see PARA 267 note 2 ante; definition applied by ibid reg 3(2), Table.

8 'Pedal cycle' means a vehicle which is not constructed or adapted to be propelled by mechanical power and which is equipped with pedals, including an electrically-assisted pedal cycle prescribed for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 189 (see PARA 210 ante) and the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 140 (as amended) (see PARA 210 ante): Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table.

9 'Solo motor bicycle' means a motor bicycle without a sidecar: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

10 'Motor bicycle combination' means a combination of a solo motor bicycle and a sidecar: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

11 Ibid reg 11(1)(c) (amended by SI 2005/2559). 'Invalid carriage' means a mechanically propelled vehicle constructed or adapted for the carriage of one person, being a person suffering from some physical defect or disability: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table. As to the meaning of 'mechanically propelled vehicle' see PARA 211 ante.

12 Ibid reg 11(1)(d). For these purposes, 'traffic sign' has the same meaning as given by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 64(1) (see PARA 830 post): Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table (definition amended by SI 1994/2280).

13 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2) (amended by SI 1994/2280).

14 'Direction indicator' means a lamp on a vehicle used to indicate to other road users that the driver intends to change direction to the right or to the left: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table.

15 Ibid reg 11(2)(a).

16 Ibid reg 11(2)(b). 'Reversing lamp' means a lamp used to illuminate the road to the rear of a vehicle for the purpose of reversing and to warn other road users that the vehicle is reversing or about to reverse: reg 3(2), Table.

17 Ibid reg 11(2)(c). 'Work lamp' means a lamp used to illuminate a working area or the scene of an accident, breakdown or roadworks in the vicinity of the vehicle to which it is fitted: reg 3(2), Table.

18 Ibid reg 11(2)(d).

19 Ibid reg 11(2)(e).

20 Ibid reg 11(2)(f). As to taxis generally see PARA 1431 et seq post.

21 For the meaning of 'bus' see PARA 271 note 6 ante; definition applied by ibid reg 3(2), Table.

22 Ibid reg 11(2)(g).

23 Ibid reg 11(2)(h). As to police vehicles see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 525.

24 Ibid reg 11(2)(i).

25 Ibid reg 11(2)(j). As to ambulances see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 12.

26 'Special warning lamp' means a lamp, fitted to the front or rear of a vehicle, capable of emitting a blue flashing light and not any other kind of light: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

27 'Emergency vehicle' means a vehicle of any of the following descriptions: (1) a vehicle used for fire and rescue authority, ambulance or police purposes; (2) a vehicle used for Serious Organised Crime Agency purposes; (3) an ambulance, being a vehicle, other than an invalid carriage, which is constructed for the purposes of conveying sick, injured or disabled persons and which is used for such purposes; (4) a vehicle owned by a body formed primarily for the purposes of fire salvage and used for those or similar purposes; (5) a vehicle owned by the Forestry Commission (see FORESTRY vol 52 (2009) PARA 34 et seq) or by a local authority and used from time to time for the purposes of fighting fires; (6) a vehicle owned by the Secretary of State for Defence (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 438 et seq) and used: (a) for the purposes of the disposal of bombs or explosives; (b) for the purposes of any activity which prevents or decreases the exposure of persons to radiation arising from a radiation accident or radiation emergency, or in connection with an event which could lead to a radiation accident or radiation emergency; or (c) by the Royal Air Force Mountain Rescue Service for the purposes of rescue operations or any other emergencies; (7) a vehicle primarily used for the purposes of the Blood Transfusion Service provided under the National Health Service Act 1977 (see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 147); (8) a vehicle used by Her Majesty's Coastguard or Coastguard Auxiliary Service for the purposes of giving aid to persons in danger or vessels in distress on or near the coast; (9) a vehicle used for the purposes of rescue operations at mines (see HEALTH AND SAFETY AT WORK vol 53 (2009) PARA 832 et seq; MINES, MINERALS AND QUARRIES vol 31 (2003 Reissue) PARA 517); (10) a vehicle owned by the Royal National Lifeboat Institution and used for the purposes of launching lifeboats (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 940); (11) a vehicle primarily used for the purposes of conveying any human tissue for transplanting or similar purposes; and (12) a vehicle under the lawful control of the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 900 et seq) and used from time to time for the purposes of the investigation of serious crime (which has the meaning given in the Police Act 1997 s 93(4), save for the omission of the words 'and, where the authorising officer is within subsection (5)(h), it relates to an assigned matter within the meaning of section 1(1) of the Customs and Excise Management Act 1979' (see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 483)): Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table (definition amended by SI 1994/2567; SI 2005/2559; SI 2006/594; and in relation to England by SI 2004/3168; and in relation to Wales by SI 2005/2929). 'Radiation accident' and 'radiation emergency' have the same meaning as in the Radiation (Emergency Preparedness and Public Information) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2975 (as amended) (see HEALTH AND SAFETY AT WORK vol 53 (2009) PARA 668): Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table (definitions added by SI 2005/2559).

28 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(k).

29 Ibid reg 11(2)(l)(i). 'Road clearance vehicle' means a mechanically propelled vehicle used for dealing with frost, ice or snow on roads: reg 3(2), Table.

30 Ibid reg 11(2)(l)(ii).

31 Ibid reg 11(2)(l)(iii). 'Breakdown vehicle' means a vehicle used to attend an accident or breakdown or to draw a broken-down vehicle: reg 3(2), Table.

32 For the meaning of 'maximum speed' see PARA 278 note 17 ante; definition applied by ibid reg 3(2), Table.

33 'Trailer' means a vehicle constructed or adapted to be drawn by another vehicle: ibid reg 3(2), Table.

34 Ibid reg 11(2)(l)(iv).

35 For the meaning of 'overall width' see PARA 274 ante; definition applied by ibid reg 3(2), Table.

36 Ibid reg 11(2)(l)(v).

37 Ibid reg 11(2)(l)(vi).

38 Ibid reg 11(2)(l)(vii).

39 Ibid reg 11(2)(l)(viii). A vehicle may be authorised by an order under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 44 (as amended): see PARA 376 ante.

41 As to the Commissioners for Revenue and Customs see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 900 et seq.

42 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(l)(x) (amended by virtue of the Commissioners for Revenue and Customs Act 2005 s 50(1), (7)).

45 As to the General Medical Council see MEDICAL PROFESSIONS vol 30(1) (Reissue) PARA 13 et seq.

46 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(m). As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, this provision is amended by the Medical Act 1983 (Amendment) and Miscellaneous Amendments Order 2006, SI 2006/1914, so as to substitute for the words 'full, provisional or limited' the words 'full or provisional'. At the date at which this volume states the law no such notification had been given.

47 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(n).

48 Ibid reg 11(2)(o).

49 Ibid reg 11(2)(oa) (added by SI 2005/2559).

50 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(ob) (added by SI 2005/2559).

51 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(p). 'Pedal retro reflector' means a retro reflector attached to or incorporated in the pedals of a pedal cycle or motor bicycle: reg 3(2), Table.

52 Ibid reg 11(2)(q) (amended by SI 2005/2559).

53 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(r).

54 Ibid reg 11(2)(s).

56 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(sa) (added by SI 2001/560).

57 For these purposes, a rear marking fitted to a vehicle is a prescribed rear marking fitted in the appropriate manner if the rear marking: (1) is a rear marking of a description specified in the entry applicable to that vehicle in the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 18, Sch 19 Pt I para 1 (as substituted) (see PARA 386 post); and (2) complies with Sch 19 Pt I paras 2-7 (as substituted): reg 11(3) (added by SI 1994/2280).

58 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(t) (amended by SI 1994/2280). The vehicles are: (1) a motor vehicle having a maximum gross weight exceeding 7,500 kg; (2) a motor vehicle first used before 1 August 1982 having an unladen weight exceeding 3000 kg; (3) a trailer having a maximum gross weight exceeding 3,500 kg; (4) a trailer manufactured before 1 August 1982 having an unladen weight exceeding 1,000 kg; (5) a trailer which forms part of a combination of vehicles one of which is of a type mentioned in a previous item in heads (1)-(4) supra; and (6) a load carried by any vehicle: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(t)(i)-(vi) (as so amended). For the meaning of 'maximum gross weight' see PARA 271 note 27 ante; for the meaning of 'first used' see PARA 267 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'unladen weight' see PARA 271 note 21 ante; definitions applied by reg 3(2), Table.

59 Ibid reg 11(2)(u). This provision applies to vehicles carrying a dangerous substance within the meaning of the Dangerous Substances (Conveyance by Road in Road Tankers and Tank Containers) Regulations 1981, SI 1981/1059 (as amended) or the Road Traffic (Carriage of Dangerous Substances in Packages etc) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1951 (revoked: see now the Carriage of Dangerous Goods (Classification, Packaging and Labelling) and Use of Transportable Pressure Receptacles Regulations 1996, SI 1996/2092 (as amended)): see the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(u).

60 'Prescribed sign' means a sign which is of a type shown in ibid reg 3(2), Sch 21A (added by SI 1994/2280) and complies with the requirements of the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, Sch 21A (as so added): reg 3(2), Table (definition added by SI 1994/2280).

61 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(v) (added by SI 1994/2280).

62 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(2)(w) (added by SI 1994/2280). For these purposes, a sign ('the secondary sign') is so fitted to the rear of a bus if: (1) a prescribed sign is also fitted to the rear of a bus; (2) the total area of the retro reflective material incorporated in the secondary sign is no greater than the area of the prescribed sign; and (3) the secondary sign satisfies the requirements specified: (a) in the case of a bus which is owned or hired by a local education authority or any person managing an education establishment attended by children under the age of 16 years, in the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(5) (as added) or reg 11(6) (as added); or (b) in any other case, in reg 11(6) (as added): reg 11(4) (added by SI 1994/2280). The requirements specified in the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(5) (as added) are that the secondary sign contains no words or other markings apart from words or markings identifying the local education authority or the educational establishment, as the case may be: reg 11(5) (added by SI 1994/2280). The requirements specified in the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 11(6) (as added) are that the secondary sign contains no words or other markings apart from words or other markings which: (i) indicate that children are on board the bus when it is in motion or likely to be on board the bus or in its vicinity when it is stationary; and (ii) are calculated to reduce the risk of road accidents involving such children: reg 11(6) (added by SI 1994/2280).

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(5) LIGHTING OF VEHICLES/(i) Fitting of Lamps, Reflectors, Rear Markings and Devices/379. Movement of lamps and reflectors.

379. Movement of lamps and reflectors.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on a road<sup>2</sup> any vehicle to which, or to any load or equipment of which, there is fitted a lamp, reflector or marking which is capable of being moved by swivelling, deflecting or otherwise while the vehicle is in motion<sup>3</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply in respect of:

- 618 (1) a headlamp<sup>4</sup> which can be dipped only by the movement of the headlamp or its reflector<sup>5</sup>;
- 619 (2) a headlamp which is capable of adjustment so as to compensate for the effect of the load carried by the vehicle<sup>6</sup>;
- 620 (3) a lamp or reflector which can be deflected to the side by the movement of, although not necessarily through the same angle as, the front wheel<sup>7</sup> or wheels of the vehicle when turned for the purpose of steering the vehicle<sup>8</sup>;
- 621 (4) a headlamp or front fog lamp which can be wholly or partially retracted or concealed<sup>9</sup>;
- 622 (5) a direction indicator<sup>10</sup> fitted to a motor vehicle first used<sup>11</sup> before 1 April 1986<sup>12</sup>;
- 623 (6) a work lamp<sup>13</sup>;
- 624 (7) a warning beacon<sup>14</sup>;
- 625 (8) an amber pedal retro reflector<sup>15</sup>;
- 626 (9) retro reflective material or a retro reflector of any colour which is fitted so as to reflect light primarily to one or both sides of the vehicle and is attached to or incorporated in any wheel or tyre of a pedal cycle<sup>16</sup>, a trailer drawn by, or a sidecar attached to, a pedal cycle, a solo motor bicycle<sup>17</sup> or motor bicycle combination<sup>18</sup> or an invalid carriage<sup>19</sup>;
- 627 (10) a lamp which is designed to emit light primarily to one or both sides of the vehicle, and is attached to or incorporated in any wheel or tyre of a pedal cycle or a trailer drawn by, or a sidecar attached to, a pedal cycle<sup>20</sup>; and
- 628 (11) a lamp attached to or incorporated in a pedal of a pedal cycle<sup>21</sup>.

UPDATE

378-408 Lighting of Vehicles

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(5) LIGHTING OF VEHICLES/(i) Fitting of Lamps, Reflectors, Rear Markings and Devices/380. Lamps to show a steady light.

380. Lamps to show a steady light.

No vehicle is to be fitted with a lamp which automatically emits a flashing light<sup>1</sup>, other than:

- 629 (1) a direction indicator<sup>2</sup>;
- 630 (2) a headlamp<sup>3</sup> fitted to an emergency vehicle<sup>4</sup>;

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(5) LIGHTING OF VEHICLES/(i) Fitting of Lamps, Reflectors, Rear Markings and Devices/382. General requirements for electrical connections.

382. General requirements for electrical connections.

Every motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> first used<sup>2</sup> on or after 1 April 1991 must be so constructed that every position lamp<sup>3</sup>, side marker lamp<sup>4</sup>, end-outline marker lamp<sup>5</sup> and rear registration plate lamp<sup>6</sup> with which the vehicle is fitted is capable of being switched on and off by the operation of one switch and not otherwise<sup>7</sup>. This requirement does not prevent one<sup>8</sup> or more position lamps from being capable of being switched on and off independently of any other such lamp<sup>9</sup>.

- 4 For the meaning of 'side marker lamp' see PARA 378 note 5 ante.
- 5 'End-outline marker lamp' means a lamp fitted near the outer edge of a vehicle in addition to the front and rear position lamps to indicate the presence of a wide vehicle: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table.
- 6 'Rear registration plate lamp' means a lamp used to illuminate the rear registration plate: ibid reg 3(2), Table.
- 7 Ibid reg 15(1).
- 8 A reference to one lamp, except in the case of a dipped-beam headlamp, a main-beam headlamp and a front fog lamp, includes any combination of two or more lamps, whether identical or not, having the same function and emitting light of the same colour, if it comprises devices the aggregate illuminated area of which occupies 60% or more of the area of the smallest rectangle circumscribing those illuminated areas: ibid reg 3(4). For the meaning of 'headlamp' see PARA 379 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'front fog lamp' see PARA 379 note 4 ante. 'Dipped beam' means a beam of light emitted by a lamp which illuminates the road ahead of the vehicle without causing undue dazzle or discomfort to oncoming drivers or other road users: reg 3(2), Table. 'Main beam' means a beam of light emitted by a headlamp which illuminates the road over a long distance ahead of the vehicle: reg 3(2), Table. 'Illuminated area' means: (1) in relation to a headlamp, front fog lamp and reversing lamp, in each case fitted with a reflector, the orthogonal projection of the full aperture of the reflector on a plane (touching the surface of the lamp) at right angles to the longitudinal axis of the vehicle to which the lamp is fitted; if the light-emitting surface extends over only part of the full aperture of the reflector, then the projection of only that part is to be taken into account; in the case of a dipped-beam headlamp, the illuminated area is limited by the apparent trace of the cut-off on the lens; and (2) in relation to any other lamp, means the part of the orthogonal projection of the light-emitting surface on a plane (touching the surface of the lamp) at right angles to the longitudinal axis of the vehicle to which it is fitted, the boundary of which is such that if the straight edge of an opaque screen touches it at any point 98% of the total intensity of the light is shown in the direction parallel to the longitudinal axis of the vehicle; accordingly, for the purposes of determining the lower, upper and lateral edges of the lamp, only a screen placed with its straight edge horizontally or vertically needs to be considered: reg 3(2), Table. For the meaning of 'reversing lamp' see PARA 378 note 16 ante.
- 'Light-emitting surface' means: (a) in relation to a lamp, that part of the exterior surface of the lens through which light is emitted when the lamp is lit; and (b) in relation to a retro reflector that part of the exterior surface of the retro reflector from which light can be reflected: reg 3(2), Table.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on an unrestricted dual-carriageway road<sup>2</sup> any motor vehicle with four or more wheels<sup>3</sup> having a maximum speed<sup>4</sup> not exceeding 25 miles per hour unless it or any trailer<sup>5</sup> drawn by it is fitted with at least one warning beacon<sup>6</sup> which complies with the provisions relating to obligatory and optional warning beacons<sup>7</sup> and is showing<sup>8</sup> an amber light<sup>9</sup>.

The above provisions do not apply in relation to:

637 (1) any motor vehicle first used<sup>10</sup> before 1 January 1947<sup>11</sup>; and

638 (2) any motor vehicle, or any trailer being drawn by it, to which the above provisions would otherwise apply, when that vehicle or trailer is on any carriageway of an unrestricted dual-carriageway road for the purpose only of crossing that carriageway in the quickest manner practicable in the circumstances<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'unrestricted dual-carriageway road' means a dual carriageway within the meaning given by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 86(1), Sch 6 para 2 (see PARA 851 note 12 post) on which a motor vehicle may lawfully be driven at a speed exceeding 50 mph: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(5) LIGHTING OF VEHICLES/(i) Fitting of Lamps, Reflectors, Rear Markings and Devices/388A. ECE conspicuity requirements.

388A. ECE conspicuity requirements.

A goods vehicle which is a motor vehicle first used on or after 10 July 2011, or a trailer manufactured on or after 10 July 2011, must be fitted with conspicuity markings which comply with the mandatory ECE conspicuity requirements<sup>1</sup>. This does not apply in respect of a goods vehicle which is

- 663 (1) a motor vehicle<sup>2</sup> with a maximum gross weight not exceeding 7500 kg<sup>3</sup>;
- 664 (2) trailer with a maximum gross weight not exceeding 3500 kg<sup>4</sup>;
- 665 (3) an incomplete vehicle proceeding to a works for completion or to a place where it is to be stored or displayed for sale<sup>5</sup>; or
- 666 (4) a motor car or heavy motor car<sup>6</sup> intended to form part of an articulated vehicle<sup>7</sup>.

A vehicle which is not a relevant goods vehicle<sup>8</sup> may be fitted with conspicuity markings which comply with the optional ECE conspicuity requirements<sup>9</sup>.

1 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 20A(1) (reg 20A added by SI 2009/3220). 'Mandatory ECE conspicuity requirements' means the requirements specified in ECE Regulation 48 para 5.15 in respect of a conspicuity marking; and ECE Regulation 48 para 6.21 as relating to vehicles for which the fitting of conspicuity markings is mandatory: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3(2), Table (amended by SI 2009/3220). As to the meaning of 'ECE Requirement' see PARA 270 note 2.

If the overall length of a relevant goods vehicle (ie a goods vehicle to which the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 20A(1) applies) does not exceed 6 m, conspicuity markings that comply with the mandatory ECE conspicuity requirements need not be fitted to the side of that vehicle: reg 20A(4) (as added). If the overall width of a relevant goods vehicle does not exceed 2.1 m, conspicuity markings that comply with the mandatory ECE conspicuity requirements need not be fitted to the rear of that vehicle: reg 20A(5) (as added). To the extent that, pursuant to reg 20A(4) or (5), a relevant goods vehicle is not required to be fitted with conspicuity markings to the side or rear that comply with the mandatory ECE conspicuity requirements, conspicuity markings which comply with the optional ECE conspicuity requirements may be fitted to the side or rear (as the case may be): reg 20A(6) (as added).

2 As to the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 212.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(5) LIGHTING OF VEHICLES/(i) Fitting of Lamps, Reflectors, Rear Markings and Devices/389. Projecting trailers and vehicles carrying overhanging or projecting loads or equipment.

389. Projecting trailers and vehicles carrying overhanging or projecting loads or equipment.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on a road<sup>2</sup> in certain circumstances<sup>3</sup>: (1) any trailer<sup>4</sup> which forms part of a combination of vehicles which projects laterally beyond any preceding vehicle in the combination<sup>5</sup>; or (2) any vehicle or combination of vehicles which carries a load or equipment<sup>6</sup>, in either case, under the conditions specified in heads (a) to (f) below, unless the vehicle or combination of vehicles complies with the specified requirements<sup>7</sup>. The conditions are:

668 (b)    in the case of a trailer which is not fitted with front position lamps and which carries a load or equipment which projects laterally on any side of the trailer so that the distance from the outermost projection of the load or equipment to the outermost part of the illuminated area of the obligatory front position lamp on that side fitted to any preceding vehicle in the combination exceeds 400 millimetres, a lamp showing white light to the front must be fitted to the trailer or the load or equipment so that the outermost part of the illuminated area is not more than 400 millimetres from the outermost projection of the load or equipment; and the installation and performance requirements relating to front position lamps do not apply to any such lamp<sup>14</sup>;

- 669 (c) in the case of a vehicle which carries a load or equipment which projects laterally on any side of the vehicle so that the distance from the outermost part of the load or equipment to the outermost part of the illuminated area of the obligatory front or rear position lamp<sup>15</sup> on that side exceeds 400 millimetres, either the obligatory front or rear position lamp must be transferred from the vehicle to the load or equipment to which must also be attached a white front or a red rear reflecting device or an additional front or rear position lamp and a white front or a red rear reflecting device must be fitted to the vehicle, load or equipment; and all the installation, performance and maintenance requirements relating to front or rear position lamps must, in either case, be complied with, except that, for the purpose of determining the lateral position of such lamps and reflecting devices, any reference to the vehicle is to be taken to include the load or equipment except special equipment<sup>16</sup> on a vehicle fitted with a movable platform<sup>17</sup> or the jib of any crane<sup>18</sup>;
- 670 (d) in the case of a vehicle which carries a load or equipment which projects beyond the rear of the vehicle or, in the case of a combination of vehicles, beyond the rear of the rearmost vehicle in the combination: (i) more than 2 metres in the case of an agricultural vehicle<sup>19</sup> or a vehicle carrying a fire escape; or (ii) more than 1 metre in the case of any other vehicle, an additional rear lamp capable of showing red light to the rear and a red reflecting device, both of which are visible from a reasonable distance, must be fitted to the vehicle or the load in such a position that the distance between the lamp and the reflecting device, and the rearmost projection of the load or equipment does not exceed 2 metres in the case mentioned in head (i) above or 1 metre in any other case; and the installation and performance requirements relating to rear position lamps and rear retro reflectors<sup>20</sup> do not apply to any such additional lamp and reflecting device<sup>21</sup>;
- 671 (e) in the case of a vehicle which carries a load or equipment which projects beyond the front of the vehicle: (i) more than 2 metres in the case of an agricultural vehicle or a vehicle carrying a fire escape; or (ii) more than 1 metre in the case of any other vehicle, an additional front lamp capable of showing white light to the front and a white reflecting device, both visible from a reasonable distance, must be fitted to the vehicle or the load in such a position that the distance between the lamp and the reflecting device, and the foremost projection of the load or equipment, does not exceed 2 metres in the case mentioned in head (i) above or 1 metre in any other case; and the installation and performance requirements relating to front position lamps and front retro reflectors do not apply to any such additional lamp and reflecting device<sup>22</sup>; and
- 672 (f) in the case of a vehicle which carries a load or equipment which obscures any obligatory lamp, reflector or rear marking, either the obligatory lamp, reflector or rear marking must be transferred to a position on the vehicle, load or equipment where it is not obscured or an additional lamp, reflector or rear marking must be fitted to the vehicle, load or equipment; and all the installation, performance and maintenance requirements relating to obligatory lamps, reflectors or rear markings must, in either case, be complied with<sup>23</sup>.

The circumstances in which the prohibition operates are, as regards head (f) above, in so far as it relates to obligatory stop lamps<sup>24</sup> and direction indicators<sup>25</sup>, all circumstances<sup>26</sup>, and, as regards heads (a) to (e) above and head (f) above, except in so far as it relates to obligatory stop lamps and direction indicators, the time between sunset and sunrise or, except in so far as it relates to obligatory reflectors, when visibility is seriously reduced between sunrise and sunset<sup>27</sup>.

390. Additional side marker lamps.

No person is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on a road<sup>2</sup> between sunset and sunrise, or in seriously reduced visibility between sunrise and sunset, any vehicle or combination of vehicles of a type specified in heads (1) and (2) below, unless each side of the vehicle or combination of vehicles is fitted with the specified side marker lamps<sup>3</sup> and those lamps are kept lit<sup>4</sup>, that is to say:

- 673 (1) in the case of a vehicle or a combination of vehicles the overall length<sup>5</sup> of which, including any load, exceeds 18.3 metres, there must be fitted one lamp<sup>6</sup> no part of the light-emitting surface<sup>7</sup> of which is more than 9.15 metres from the foremost part of the vehicle or vehicles (in either case, inclusive of any load), one lamp no part of the light-emitting surface of which is more than 3.05 metres from the rearmost part of the vehicle or vehicles (in either case, inclusive of any load), and such other lamps as are required to ensure that not more than 3.05 metres separates any part of the light-emitting surface of one lamp and any part of the light-emitting surface of the next lamp<sup>8</sup>;
- 674 (2) in the case of a combination of vehicles the overall length of which, including any load, exceeds 12.2 metres but does not exceed 18.3 metres and carrying a load supported by any two of the vehicles but not including a load carried by an articulated vehicle<sup>9</sup>, there must be fitted one lamp no part of the light-emitting surface of which is forward of, or more than 1,530 millimetres rearward of, the rearmost part of the drawing vehicle and, if the supported load extends more than 9.15 metres rearward of the rearmost part of the drawing vehicle, one lamp no part of the light-emitting surface of which is forward of, or more than 1,530 millimetres rearward of, the centre of the length of the load<sup>10</sup>.

The requirements specified above do not apply to:

- 675 (a) a combination of vehicles where any vehicle being drawn in that combination has broken down<sup>11</sup>; or
- 676 (b) a vehicle, not being a combination of vehicles, having an appliance or apparatus or carrying a load of a specified kind<sup>12</sup>, if the conditions which provide for the special marking of projections from vehicles<sup>13</sup> are complied with in relation to the special appliance or apparatus or load as if the said conditions had been expressed<sup>14</sup> to apply in the case of every special appliance or apparatus or load of a specified<sup>15</sup> kind<sup>16</sup>.

Every side marker lamp fitted in accordance with the above provisions must comply with the requirements relating to side marker lamps<sup>17</sup>.

CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(5) LIGHTING OF VEHICLES/(ii) Maintenance and Use of Lamps, Reflectors, Rear Markings and Devices/392. Use of front and rear position lamps, rear registration plate lamps, side marker lamps and end-outline marker lamps.

392. Use of front and rear position lamps, rear registration plate lamps, side marker lamps and end-outline marker lamps.

No person:

683 (1) is to use or cause or permit<sup>1</sup> to be used on a road<sup>2</sup> any vehicle which is in motion between sunset and sunrise or in seriously reduced visibility between sunrise and sunset, or allow to remain at rest, or cause or permit to be allowed to remain at rest, on a road any vehicle between sunset and sunrise, unless every front position lamp<sup>3</sup>, rear position lamp<sup>4</sup>, rear registration plate lamp<sup>5</sup>, side marker lamp<sup>6</sup> and end-outline marker lamp<sup>7</sup> with which the vehicle is required to be fitted<sup>8</sup> is kept lit and unobscured<sup>9</sup>;

684 (2) where a solo motor bicycle<sup>10</sup> is not fitted with a front position lamp, is to use the solo motor bicycle or cause or permit it to be used on a road, other than when it is parked, between sunset and sunrise or in seriously reduced visibility between sunrise and sunset, unless a headlamp<sup>11</sup> is kept lit and unobscured<sup>12</sup>;

685 (3) is to allow to remain parked, or cause or permit to be allowed to remain parked, between sunset and sunrise: (a) a motor bicycle combination<sup>13</sup> which is

- required to be fitted only with a front position lamp on the sidecar<sup>14</sup>; or (b) a trailer<sup>15</sup> to the front of which no other vehicle is attached and which is not required to be fitted with front position lamps<sup>16</sup>, unless a pair<sup>17</sup> of front position lamps is fitted and kept lit and unobscured<sup>18</sup>; or
- 686 (4) is to allow to remain parked, or cause or permit to be allowed to remain parked, between sunset and sunrise a solo motor bicycle which is not required to be fitted with a front position lamp, unless a front position lamp is fitted and kept lit and unobscured<sup>19</sup>.

The provisions of heads (1) to (4) above do not apply in respect of a vehicle of a specified class<sup>20</sup> which is parked on a road on which a speed limit of 30 miles per hour or less is in force if the vehicle is parked<sup>21</sup>:

- 687 (i) in a parking place for which provision is made under the relevant statutory provisions<sup>22</sup> or which is set apart as a parking place under some other enactment or instrument and the vehicle is parked in a manner which does not contravene the provision of any enactment or instrument relating to the parking place<sup>23</sup>;
- 688 (ii) in a lay-by, the limits of which are indicated by a traffic sign<sup>24</sup>, or the surface of which is of a colour or texture which is different from that of the part of the carriageway of the road used primarily by through traffic<sup>25</sup>, or the limits of which are indicated by a continuous strip of surface of a different colour or texture from that of the surface of the remainder of the carriageway of the road<sup>26</sup>; or
- 689 (iii) elsewhere than in such a parking place or lay-by if the vehicle is parked in one of the specified circumstances<sup>27</sup> and no part of the vehicle is less than 10 metres from the junction of any part of the carriageway of any road with the carriageway of the road on which it is parked whether that junction is on the same side of the road as that on which the vehicle is parked or not<sup>28</sup>.

Nor do the provisions of heads (1) to(4) apply in respect of:

- 690 (A) a solo motor bicycle or a pedal cycle being pushed along the left-hand edge of a carriageway<sup>29</sup>;
- 691 (B) a pedal cycle waiting to proceed provided it is kept to the left-hand or near side edge of a carriageway<sup>30</sup>; or
- 692 (C) a vehicle which is parked in an area on part of a highway on which roadworks are being carried out and which is bounded by amber lamps and other traffic signs so as to prevent the presence of the vehicle, its load or equipment being a danger to persons using the road<sup>31</sup>.

395 Restrictions on the use of certain lamps

NOTE 30--Notified day is 19 October 2007: London Gazette, 20 July 2007.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/2. CONSTRUCTION OF VEHICLES/(5) LIGHTING OF VEHICLES/(iii) Exemptions and Modifications/396. Equivalent standards.

(iii) Exemptions and Modifications

396. Equivalent standards.

Nothing in the provisions relating to the lighting of motor vehicles<sup>1</sup> renders unlawful any act or omission which would have been lawful were<sup>2</sup>:

- 709 (1) there to be substituted for any reference to a British Standard in those provisions a reference to a corresponding standard<sup>3</sup>; and 710 (2) the requirement as to the marking of a part fitted to a vehicle<sup>4</sup> to apply in relation to that corresponding standard and the markings relating to that corresponding standard as it applies to a British Standard<sup>5</sup>.

3 Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 3A(1)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). For these purposes, 'corresponding standard', in relation to a relevant British Standard Specification, means: (1) a standard or code of practice of a national standards body or equivalent body of any state within the European Economic Area; (2) any international standard recognised for use as a standard by any state within the European Economic Area; (3) a technical specification or code of practice which, whether mandatory or not, is recognised for use as a standard by a public authority of any state within the European Economic Area, where the standard, code of practice, international standard or technical specification provides, in relation to lamps, retro reflectors and rear markings, a level of safety equivalent to that provided by that British Standard Specification and contains a requirement as respects the marking of such parts equivalent to that provided by that instrument: reg 3A(2) (as so added).

4 le the requirement contained in ibid reg 3(6). Where a part fitted to a vehicle is required by the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796 (as amended) to be marked with a British Standard mark, the requirement is not to be regarded as met unless, in addition to being marked as required, the part complied with the relevant British Standard at the time when the part was first fitted to the vehicle: reg 3(6).

400. Vehicles towing or being towed.

No motor vehicle<sup>1</sup> first used<sup>2</sup> before 1 April 1986, and no pedal cycle<sup>3</sup> or trailer<sup>4</sup> manufactured before 1 October 1985, is required<sup>5</sup> to be fitted with any rear position lamp<sup>6</sup>, stop lamp<sup>7</sup>, rear direction indicator<sup>8</sup>, rear fog lamp<sup>9</sup> or rear reflector whilst a trailer fitted with any such lamp or reflector is attached to its rear<sup>10</sup>.

No trailer manufactured before 1 October 1985 is required<sup>11</sup> to be fitted with any front position lamp<sup>12</sup> whilst being drawn by a passenger vehicle<sup>13</sup>.

No trailer is required<sup>14</sup> to be fitted<sup>15</sup> with any stop lamp, rear fog lamps or direction indicators whilst being drawn by a vehicle which is not required<sup>16</sup> to be fitted with any such lamp<sup>17</sup>.

No trailer manufactured before 1 October 1990 is required<sup>18</sup> to be fitted with any stop lamp or direction indicator whilst being drawn by a motor vehicle fitted with one<sup>19</sup> or two<sup>20</sup> stop lamps and two or more direction indicators if the dimensions of the trailer are such that, when the longitudinal axis of the drawing vehicle and the trailer lie in the same vertical plane, such stop lamps and at least one direction indicator on each side of the vehicle are visible to an observer in that vertical plane from a point 6 metres behind the rear of the trailer whether it is loaded or not<sup>21</sup>.

No rear marking is required to be fitted to any vehicle<sup>22</sup> if another vehicle in a combination of which it forms part would obscure any such marking<sup>23</sup>.

Where a broken-down vehicle is being drawn by another vehicle: (1) the provisions relating to obligatory lamps, reflectors, rear markings and devices<sup>24</sup> and the maintenance of lamps, reflectors, rear markings and devices<sup>25</sup> do not apply to the broken-down vehicle between sunrise and sunset<sup>26</sup>; and (2) between sunset and sunrise those provisions apply to the broken-down vehicle only in respect of rear position lamps and reflectors<sup>27</sup>.

401. Military vehicles.

The provisions relating to obligatory lamps, reflectors, rear markings and devices<sup>1</sup> do not apply to a home forces' vehicle<sup>2</sup> or to a vehicle in the service of a visiting force or of a headquarters<sup>3</sup> whilst being used<sup>4</sup>:

722 (1) in connection with training which is certified in writing for these purposes by a person duly authorised in that behalf to be training on a special occasion and of which not less than 48 hours' notice has been given by that person to the chief officer of police of every police area<sup>5</sup> in which the place selected for the training is wholly or partly situated<sup>6</sup>; or 723 (2) on manoeuvres within such limits and during such period as may from time to time be specified by Order in Council<sup>7</sup>.

Where not less than six nor more than 12 vehicles, being home forces' vehicles or vehicles of a visiting force or of a headquarters, are proceeding together in a convoy on tactical or driving exercises which are authorised in writing by a person duly authorised in that behalf, and of which not less than 48 hours' notice in writing has been given by that person to the chief officer of police of every police area through which it is intended that the convoy is to pass and the interval between any two vehicles in such convoy does not exceed 20 metres<sup>8</sup>:

- 724 (a) front position lamps<sup>9</sup> are required only on the vehicle leading the convoy<sup>10</sup>; and
- 725 (b) rear position lamps<sup>11</sup> are required only on the rearmost vehicle, provided that every other vehicle in the convoy carries a bright light under the vehicle illuminating either a part of the vehicle or anything attached to the vehicle or the road surface beneath the vehicle, in such a manner that the presence of the vehicle can be detected from the rear<sup>12</sup>.

No lamp is required to be fitted to any home forces' vehicle or any vehicle in the service of a visiting force or of a headquarters if the vehicle is constructed or adapted for combat and is such that compliance with these provisions is impracticable and it is fitted with two<sup>13</sup> red rear position lamps and two red rear retro reflectors<sup>14</sup> when on a road between sunset and sunrise<sup>15</sup>. Such lamps and reflectors need not meet any of the requirements<sup>16</sup> relating to obligatory rear position lamps and optional rear position lamps and obligatory rear retro reflectors and optional rear retro reflectors<sup>17</sup>.

The provisions regulating the fitting of lamps, reflectors, rear markings and devices<sup>18</sup> do not apply to a vehicle in the service of a visiting force or of a headquarters if the vehicle complies in every respect with the requirements as to lighting equipment and reflectors relating to it contained in a relevant Convention<sup>19</sup>.

405. Modifications in relation to vehicles approved under the Motor Vehicles (Approval) Regulations 1996.

The requirements of the provisions relating to the lighting of vehicles<sup>1</sup>, so far as they require headlamps<sup>2</sup>, including a filament lamp fitted to a headlamp, fitted to a vehicle to bear a particular standard mark<sup>3</sup> or one of two or more standard marks, do not apply to the headlamps fitted to a relevant vehicle<sup>4</sup> if they emit sufficient light to illuminate the road in front of the vehicle on both main beam<sup>5</sup> and dipped beam<sup>6</sup>.

The supplemental requirements of the provisions relating to the lighting of vehicles<sup>7</sup>, so far as they require any lamp, reflector or device to bear a particular standard mark or one of two or more standard marks, do not apply to a lamp, reflector or device if it is fitted to a relevant vehicle and: (1) in the case of a lamp or device, it meets the requirements as to intensity<sup>8</sup>; and (2) in the case of a reflector, it meets the requirements as to coefficient of luminous intensity<sup>9</sup>, of the instrument to which the standard mark, or as the case may be one of those standard marks, relates<sup>10</sup>.

1    Ie the provisions of the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796: see PARA 378 et seq ante.

2    For the meaning of 'headlamp' see PARA 379 note 4 ante.

3    For these purposes, 'standard mark' means a mark which when applied to a lamp, reflector or device indicates compliance with the requirements of a particular instrument; and a reference to the instrument to which a standard mark relates is to be construed accordingly: Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 9B(1) (reg 9B added by SI 1996/3016).

4    For these purposes, 'relevant vehicle' means a vehicle: (1) in respect of which a passenger vehicle approval certificate containing the letter 'P' has been issued pursuant to the Motor Vehicles (Approval) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3013, reg 12(2)(b) (see PARA 700 post); or (2) which is a transitional provision vehicle as defined by Sch 6 in respect of which a passenger vehicle approval certificate containing the letter 'A' has been issued pursuant to reg 12(2)(c) (see PARA 700 post): Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 9B(1) (as added: see note 3 supra). 'Passenger vehicle approval certificate' means a Minister's approval certificate in the form prescribed by the Motor Vehicles (Approval) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3013 (as amended), which appears to have been issued on the basis that the vehicle is a vehicle to which Pt II (regs 3-4) (as amended) applies (see PARA 700 post): Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 9B(1) (as so added).

8    Ibid reg 9B(2)(a) (as added: see note 3 supra).

9 Ibid reg 9B(2)(b) (as added: see note 3 supra). For these purposes, 'coefficient of luminous intensity' has the same meaning as in ECE Regulation 3.01; and 'ECE Regulation 3.01' means Regulation 3 (with the amendments in force on 20 March 1982), annexed to the Agreement concerning the adoption of uniform conditions of approval for motor vehicles equipment and parts and reciprocal recognition thereof (Geneva, 20 March 1958; TS 7 (1965); Cmnd 2535): Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations 1989, SI 1989/1796, reg 9B(1) (as so added).

10 Ibid reg 9B(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). The provisions of Sch 1 Table I (as amended) apply to a vehicle in respect of which a passenger vehicle approval certificate has been issued as if the entry that relates to dim-dip devices and running lamps were omitted: reg 9B(4) (as so added). The provisions of Sch 7 Pt I para 5 (markings) apply to a vehicle in respect of which a passenger approval certificate has been issued as if the vehicle were of a description falling within Sch 7 Pt I para 5(b): reg 9B(5) (as so added). ## (6) PEDAL CYCLES

409. Regulation of brakes, bells and other equipment on pedal cycles.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make regulations as to the use on roads<sup>2</sup> of cycles<sup>3</sup>, their construction and equipment and the conditions under which they may be so used<sup>4</sup>. In particular, but without prejudice to the generality of the above provision, the regulations may make provision as to:

726 (1) the number, nature and efficiency of brakes and their maintenance in proper working order<sup>5</sup>;

727 (2) the appliances to be fitted for signalling approach and their maintenance in proper working order<sup>6</sup>; and

728 (3) the testing and inspection, by persons authorised under the regulations, of any equipment prescribed under these provisions and of lighting equipment and reflectors<sup>7</sup>.

Such regulations may provide for repealing byelaws dealing with the same subject matter as the regulations, and for suspending while the regulations remain in force any power of making such byelaws<sup>8</sup>.

Regulations may be made so as to apply either generally or in such circumstances only as may be specified in the regulations<sup>9</sup>.

Regulations as to the use on roads of cycles may prohibit the sale or supply, or the offer of a sale or supply, of a cycle for delivery in such a condition that the use of it on a road in that condition would be a contravention of the regulations, but no such provision affects the validity of any contract or any rights arising under a contract<sup>10</sup>.

If a person sells or supplies or offers to sell or supply a cycle in contravention of any prohibition imposed by regulations so made, he is guilty of an offence<sup>11</sup>, unless he proves:

- 729 (a) that it was sold, supplied or offered for export from Great Britain<sup>12</sup>; or
- 730 (b) that he had reasonable cause to believe that it would not be used on a road in Great Britain, or would not be so used until it had been put into a condition in which it might lawfully be so used<sup>13</sup>.

412. Secretary of State's power to make regulations.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make regulations<sup>2</sup> for any purpose for which provision is, by Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>3</sup>, authorised to be made by regulations<sup>4</sup>.

In particular, regulations may:

- 731 (1) alter or add to the conditions as to which the Registrar<sup>5</sup> is required by Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988 to be satisfied for the entry of a name in the register<sup>6</sup>, the retention of a name in the register, the removal of a name from the register, the grant of a licence and the revocation of a licence, or omit any of those conditions<sup>7</sup>;

- 732 (2) alter the period at the expiration of which a person's name which is entered or retained in the register after the coming into force of the regulation must, unless retained or further retained, be removed from the register<sup>8</sup>.

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

412 Secretary of State's power to make regulations

NOTE 2--SI 2005/1902 further amended: SI 2008/419, SI 2009/844.

1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/ (2) REGISTRATION OF DRIVING INSTRUCTORS/413.
Requirement for instructors and instruction businesses to be registered.

(2) REGISTRATION OF DRIVING INSTRUCTORS

413. Requirement for instructors and instruction businesses to be registered.

No paid instruction<sup>2</sup> in the driving<sup>3</sup> of a motor car may be given unless<sup>4</sup>: (1) the name of the person giving the instruction is in the register of approved instructors ('the register')<sup>5</sup>; or (2) the person giving the instruction is the holder of a current licence<sup>6</sup> granted under Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>7</sup> authorising him to give such instruction<sup>8</sup>. Where instruction is given in contravention of this provision<sup>9</sup> the person by whom it is given is guilty of an offence; and if that person is employed by another to give that instruction, that other is also guilty of an offence<sup>10</sup>.

No paid instruction in the driving of a motor car may be given unless there is fixed to and exhibited on the car in the manner prescribed by regulations<sup>11</sup> either<sup>12</sup>: (a) a certificate<sup>13</sup> in such form as may be so prescribed indicating that the name of the person giving the instruction is in the register<sup>14</sup>; or (b) a current licence granted under Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988 authorising him to give such instruction<sup>15</sup>.

The above provisions<sup>16</sup> do not apply, however, to the giving of instruction by a police instructor<sup>17</sup> in pursuance of arrangements made by a chief officer of police or, under the authority of a chief officer of police, in pursuance of arrangements made by a local authority<sup>18</sup>, nor do they apply to the giving of instruction by a SOCA instructor<sup>19</sup> in pursuance of arrangements made by the Director General of the Serious Organised Crime Agency<sup>20</sup>.

A person (i) must not give paid driving instruction<sup>22</sup> of any prescribed description<sup>23</sup> unless he is registered<sup>24</sup> in respect of the giving of that description of driving instruction<sup>25</sup>; and (ii) must not carry on business in the provision of paid driving instruction<sup>26</sup> of any prescribed description unless he is registered in respect of the carrying on of business in the provision of that description of driving instruction<sup>27</sup>.

A person (A) must not give paid driving instruction of any prescribed description unless prescribed requirements as to the displaying of evidence that he is registered in respect of the giving of that description of driving instruction are complied with<sup>28</sup>; and (B) must not carry on business in the provision of paid driving instruction of any prescribed description unless prescribed requirements as to the displaying of evidence that he is registered in respect of the carrying on of business in the provision of that description of driving instruction are complied with<sup>29</sup>.

Regulations may prescribe circumstances in which the above provisions<sup>30</sup> are not to apply in relation to driving instruction, or driving instruction of a prescribed description<sup>31</sup>.

1 The Road Traffic Act 1988 ss 123, 124 are substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1-3, as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

2 For the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 123(1), (2), instruction is paid instruction if payment of money or money's worth is, or is to be, made by or in respect of the person to whom the instruction is given for the giving of the instruction; and for the purposes of s 123(3) instruction which is given: (1) free of charge to a person who is not the holder of a current licence to drive a motor vehicle granted under Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) (see PARA 442 et seq post) (other than a provisional licence); (2) by, or in pursuance of arrangements made by, a person carrying on business in the supply of motor cars; and (3) in connection with the supply of a motor car in the course of that business, is deemed to be given for payment of money by the person to whom the instruction is given: s 123(3). For the purposes of Pt V (ss 123-142) (as amended), 'paid instruction', in relation to instruction in the driving of a motor car, is to be construed in accordance with s 123(3): s 123(8) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 6).

Any reference in the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt V (as amended) to a current licence or certificate is a reference to a licence or certificate which has not expired and has not been cancelled, revoked or suspended: s 123(7) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 6, Schedule para 2(2)). As from a day to be appointed, this provision is repealed by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 59, Sch 7. As from a day to be appointed, in the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt V (as amended), 'current', in relation to a licence or certificate, means one which has not expired and has not been cancelled, revoked or suspended: s 141A(4) (s 141A(4) prospectively added by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 25). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been appointed.

For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

Notwithstanding the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 185(1) (see PARA 212 ante), in Pt V (as amended) 'motor car' means a motor vehicle (other than an invalid carriage or motor cycle): (a) which is not constructed or adapted to carry more than nine persons inclusive of the driver; and (b) which has a maximum gross weight not exceeding 3.5 tonnes: s 141A(1) (s 141A added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 29). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 141A (as added) is substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 25 and no longer defines 'motor car'. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. For the meaning of 'motor car' generally see PARA 212 ante; for the meaning of 'invalid carriage' see PARA 215 ante; and for the meaning of 'motor cycle' see PARA 214 ante. 'Maximum gross weight', in relation to a motor vehicle or trailer, means the weight of the vehicle laden with the heaviest load which it is constructed or adapted to carry: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1); definition applied by s 141A(2) (as so added). For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante.

For the meaning of 'provisional licence' see PARA 445 note 27 post; definition applied by s 123(8) (as so substituted). As from a day to be appointed, the definition of 'provisional licence' in Pt III (as amended) (see PARA 445 note 27 post) is applied by s 141A(5) (prospectively added by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 25).

3 'Instruction in driving' is not defined for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988. The test of competence to drive prescribed under s 89(3) (as amended) (see PARA 449 post) comprises, in the case of motor cars, a practical test and a theory test: see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864; and PARA 451 et seq post. It appears, however, that instruction for the purposes of enabling a person to pass the theory test is not instruction for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt V (as amended) unless it is actually undertaken in a motor car: see PARA 451 post. It would be impossible for a person teaching driving theory in a classroom to comply with certain requirements of the Road Traffic Act 1988 (see eg s 123(2); and the text to notes 11-15 infra), and other statutory provisions indicate that classroom instruction is not intended to be caught (see eg s 125(3) (as amended); and PARA 415 post). However, paid instruction given to a person who has passed a test does seem to be caught. As to when a person is driving see PARA 207 ante.

4 Ibid s 123(1).

5 Ibid s 123(1)(a). The register referred to in the text is the register established in pursuance of the Road Traffic Act 1962 s 23 (now repealed): see the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 123(1)(a). As to the register of approved instructors see PARA 415 post.

6 See note 2 supra. For the form of licence currently prescribed see the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 16, Sch 4.

As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post. As to offences by bodies corporate see PARA 439 post.

In proceedings against a person for an offence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 123(4) it is a defence for him to prove that he did not know, and had no reasonable cause to believe, that his name or, as the case may be, that of the person employed by him, was not in the register at the material time: s 123(5).

11 For the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 412 note 2 ante. As to the power to make regulations and as to the regulations made see PARA 412 ante.

The prescribed manner of fixing to and exhibiting on a motor car a certificate or a licence for the purposes of ibid s 123(2) is for the certificate or licence to be fixed to and immediately behind the front windscreen of the motor car on its nearside edge, and exhibited so that the particulars on the back of the certificate or licence are clearly visible in daylight from outside the motor car and the particulars on the front of the certificate or licence are clearly visible from the front nearside seat of the vehicle, where fitted: Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 20(1), (2). The prescribed form of certificate for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 123(2) is: (1) in the case of persons whose names are in the register by virtue of s 125(3) (as amended) (see PARA 415 post), a certificate in the form set out in the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 18(2), Sch 5 Pt 1; and (2) in the case of persons whose names are in the register by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(5) (as added) (see PARA 417 post), a certificate in the form set out in the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 18(3), Sch 5 Pt 2: reg 20(3).

14 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 123(2)(a).

15 Ibid s 123(2)(b). If instruction is given in contravention of s 123(2), the person by whom it is given is guilty of an offence (s 123(6)), and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale (Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 Sch 2 Pt 1).

16 Ie the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 123(1), (2): see the text and notes 1-15 supra.

17 'Police instructor' means a person who is: (1) a member of a police force whose duties consist of or include, or have consisted of or included, the giving of instruction in the driving of motor cars to persons being members of a police force; or (2) a civilian employed by a police authority for the purpose of giving such instruction to such persons: ibid s 124(2).

18 Ibid s 124(1). 'Local authority' means the council of a county, metropolitan district or London borough, or the Common Council of the City of London: s 124(2). However, any reference in any relevant legislative provision to an area which is the area of a county council is to be construed, in relation to Wales, as a reference to a new principal area: see the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 17(4)(a). See further LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 579; LONDON GOVERNMENT.

19 'SOCA instructor' means a member of the staff of the Serious Organised Crime Agency whose duties consist of or include the giving instruction in the driving of motor cars to other members of the Agency's staff: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 124(1A) (added by the Serious Organised Crime and Police Act 2005 s 59, Sch 4, PARAS 52, 53(1)).

21 See note 1 supra.

22 In the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt V (as amended), 'driving instruction' means instruction in relation to the driving of a motor vehicle: s 123(3) (as prospectively substituted: see note 21 supra). For the purposes of Pt V (as amended), instruction is paid instruction if payment of money or money's worth is, or is to be, made for the instruction by or in respect of the person to whom the instruction is given or provided: s 123(5) (as so prospectively substituted). Regulations may prescribe circumstances in which instruction provided free of charge is to be deemed to be given for payment of money by or in respect of the person to whom the instruction is given or provided: s 123(6) (as so prospectively substituted).

23 Regulations under ibid Pt V (as amended) which prescribe a description of driving instruction may do so by reference to: (1) the class of motor vehicle to which the instruction relates; (2) the description of persons to whom the instruction is given or provided; or (3) the nature of the instruction or where or how it is given or provided: s 123(4) (as prospectively substituted: see note 21 supra).

24 For the purposes of ibid Pt V (as amended), a person is 'registered' if his name is in the register together with: (1) an indication as to whether he is registered in respect of the giving of driving instruction or the carrying on of business in the provision of driving instruction (or both); (2) an indication as to the description of driving instruction in respect of which he is registered; and (3) such other particulars as may be prescribed; and 'registration' is to be construed accordingly: s 123(7) (as prospectively substituted: see note 21 supra). 'The register' means the register established for the purposes of Pt V (as amended) under s 125 (as prospectively substituted) (see PARA 415 post): s 123(8) (as so prospectively substituted).

25 Ibid s 123(1)(a) (as prospectively substituted: see note 21 supra). As to contravention of this provision see PARA 414 post.

26 For the purposes of ibid Pt V (as amended), persons may carry on business in the provision of driving instruction in any way, including in particular: (1) by giving instruction themselves; (2) by arranging for the giving of driving instruction by their employees; or (3) by arranging for the giving of driving instruction by persons who are franchisees under driving instruction franchises under which they are the franchisor: s 141A(1) (as added; prospectively substituted: see note 2 supra). 'Driving instruction franchise' means an agreement under which one party (the 'franchisor') grants to another party (a 'franchisee') rights consisting of or including the right to use a particular trading name, style or design in the carrying on of business in the giving of driving instruction: s 141A(2) (as added; prospectively substituted: see note 2 supra). In Pt V (as amended), references to 'the franchisor' and 'a franchisee', in relation to a driving instruction franchise, are to be construed accordingly: s 141A(3) (as prospectively substituted: see note 2 supra).

27 Ibid s 123(1)(b) (as prospectively substituted: see note 21 supra). As to contravention of this provision see PARA 414 post.

28 Ibid s 123(2)(a) (as prospectively substituted: see note 21 supra). As to contravention of this provision see PARA 414 post.

29 Ibid s 123(2)(b) (as prospectively substituted: see note 21 supra). As to contravention of this provision see PARA 414 post.

30 Ie ibid s 123 (as prospectively substituted).

31 Ibid s 124(1) (as prospectively substituted: see note 21 supra). The regulations may, in particular, make provision for s 123(1)(a) (as prospectively substituted) (see head (i) in the text) and s 123(2)(a) (see head (A) in the text) (as prospectively substituted) not to apply in prescribed circumstances for the purpose of enabling persons to acquire experience in giving driving instruction: s 124(2) (as so prospectively substituted).

414. Offences in connection with paid driving instruction.

If paid driving instruction<sup>2</sup> of any prescribed description<sup>3</sup> is given by a person who is not registered<sup>4</sup> in respect of the giving of that description of driving instruction<sup>5</sup>: (1) the person by whom it is given<sup>6</sup>; (2) if that person is employed by another to give that instruction, that other (as well as that person)<sup>7</sup>; and (3) if that person is a franchisee<sup>8</sup> under a driving instruction franchise, the franchisor<sup>9</sup> under the driving instruction franchise (as well as that person)<sup>10</sup>, is guilty of an offence<sup>11</sup>. If a person carries on business in the provision of paid driving instruction<sup>12</sup> of any prescribed description without being registered in respect of the carrying on of business in the provision of that description of driving instruction<sup>13</sup>, he is guilty of an offence<sup>14</sup>.

In proceedings against a person for either of the above offences, it is a defence for him to prove that he did not know, and had no reasonable cause to believe, that he<sup>15</sup>, or as appropriate, the person employed by him<sup>16</sup> or the person who was the franchisee under the driving instruction franchise<sup>17</sup>, was not at the material time registered in respect of the description of driving instruction in question<sup>18</sup>.

A person who gives paid driving instruction of any prescribed description without displaying the required evidence that he is registered<sup>19</sup>, commits an offence<sup>20</sup>.

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/ (2) REGISTRATION OF DRIVING INSTRUCTORS/415. The register.

415. The register.

The register of approved instructors was established by the Road Traffic Act 1962<sup>1</sup>.

The following provisions have effect until a day to be appointed<sup>2</sup>. The compilation and maintenance of the register is now continued by the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>3</sup>. An application for the entry of a person's name in the register must be made, in the manner determined by the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>, accompanied by particulars so determined, to the Registrar (an officer of the Secretary of State) by whom the register is, on behalf of the Secretary of State, compiled and maintained<sup>5</sup>.

Where a person duly applies for the entry of his name in the register, the Registrar must, on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>6</sup>, enter his name in the register if he satisfies the Registrar that the following conditions<sup>7</sup> are fulfilled in his case<sup>8</sup>:

- 733 (1) he has passed such examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>9</sup> (consisting of a written examination, a practical test of ability and fitness to drive and a practical test of ability and fitness to instruct) as is prescribed<sup>10</sup>;
- 734 (2) he is the holder of<sup>11</sup>: (a) a current licence<sup>12</sup> to drive a motor car (not being a provisional licence<sup>13</sup>) granted under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>14</sup>; (b) a current licence to drive a motor car (not being a licence corresponding to a provisional licence) granted under the law in force in Northern Ireland<sup>15</sup>; and (c) a Community licence<sup>16</sup> by which he is authorised<sup>17</sup> to drive a motor car in Great Britain<sup>18</sup> and a counterpart<sup>19</sup> of that licence<sup>20</sup>;
- 735 (3) during the period of six years ending with the day on which the application is made, the periods (if any) for which he did not hold one or more of the following licences, that is<sup>21</sup>: (a) a current licence of one of the kinds mentioned in head (2) above<sup>22</sup>; and (b) a current foreign licence, that is to say, a document issued under the law of a country or territory other than an EEA state<sup>23</sup> authorising the holder to drive a motor car in that country or territory<sup>24</sup>, did not amount in aggregate to more than two years<sup>25</sup>;
- 736 (4) he has not, during any part of the period of four years ending with the day on which the application is made, been disqualified under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988<sup>26</sup> for holding or obtaining a licence to drive a motor vehicle granted under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>27</sup>; and
- 737 (5) apart from fulfilment of the conditions in heads (1) to (4) above, he is a fit and proper person to have his name entered in the register<sup>28</sup>.

At any time when a person who held a current licence of one of the following kinds, that is either<sup>29</sup>: (i) a provisional licence to drive a motor car granted under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>30</sup>; or (ii) a licence to drive a motor car corresponding to a provisional licence granted under the law in force of Northern Ireland<sup>31</sup>, had passed the test of competence to drive a motor car<sup>32</sup> or the corresponding law in force in Northern Ireland, he must be regarded for the purposes of head (3) above as having held a current licence of one of the kinds mentioned in head (2) above<sup>33</sup>.

If the Secretary of State is satisfied that satisfactory provision is made by the law of Northern Ireland for the establishment of a register containing the names of persons qualified under that law to give instruction in the driving of motor cars, a person who satisfies the Registrar that his name is in the register established under that law, and that he is resident in Great Britain, is exempt from the condition in head (1) above<sup>34</sup>.

The entry of a person's name in the register is subject to the condition that, so long as his name is in the register, he will, if at any time required to do so by the Registrar, submit himself for such test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>35</sup> (which may consist of practical and other means of assessment) as may be prescribed by regulations<sup>36</sup>.

The Registrar must, on making a decision on an application for the entry of a person's name in the register, give notice<sup>37</sup> in writing of the decision to the applicant which, in the case of a decision to refuse the application, must state the grounds for the refusal<sup>38</sup>.

The following provisions apply as from a day to be appointed<sup>39</sup>.

Regulations are to make provision for the establishment and maintenance of a register for the purposes of Part V<sup>40</sup> of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>41</sup>. An application to be registered in respect of any description of driving instruction must be made to the officer of the Secretary of State ('the Registrar') by whom the register is, on behalf of the Secretary of State, compiled and maintained<sup>42</sup>. Such an application must be made in such manner, and be accompanied by such particulars, as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>43</sup>. The Registrar must, on making a decision on such an application, give notice in writing of the decision to the applicant which, in the case of a decision to refuse the application, must state the grounds for the refusal<sup>44</sup>. Regulations may make provision authorising the Secretary of State to make available information about persons registered under these provisions<sup>45</sup>.

1     le under the Road Traffic Act 1962 s 23 (repealed): see PARA 413 note 5 ante. For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 413 text and note 5 ante.

2     The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125 (as amended) is prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 4, as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

3     See the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(1).

4     As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

5     Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(2). Section 125(2)-(8) (as amended) does not apply in relation to an application by a person to have his name entered in the register as that of a disabled instructor and to his entry in the register as such: s 125(9) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 6). As to disabled instructors see PARAS 417, 432 post.

6     For the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 412 note 2 ante. The prescribed fee is currently £200: see the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 17(1).

7     To the conditions as to which the Registrar must be satisfied before entering the name of a person in the register under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125 (as amended) or under s 125A (as added and amended) (see PARA 417 post), as the case may be, there is added the condition that both the application for entry of the person's name in the register and the prescribed fee have been received by the Registrar not later than the expiration of the period of one year beginning on the date when the person passed that examination: Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 9. As to the examination of ability to give instruction see PARA 424 post.

8 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3).

9 For the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

10 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3)(a). As to the prescribed fee see PARA 424 post. Regulations may provide that persons of such class as may be specified are to be exempt from the condition mentioned in head (1) in the text as regards such part of the examination mentioned in that head as may be so specified: s 125(6). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. As to licences to enable a person to acquire practical experience for the purposes of the test of ability to give instruction see PARA 430 post; as to the written examination see PARA 425 post; as to the driving ability and fitness test see PARA 426 post; and as to the instructional ability and fitness test see PARA 427 post.

11 Ibid s 125(3)(b) (substituted by the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) (Admission of Community Licence Holders) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/357, reg 2).

12 For the meaning of 'current licence' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

13 For the meaning of 'provisional licence' see PARA 445 note 27 post.

14 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 11 supra). The text refers to a current licence granted under Pt III (ss 87-109) (as amended): see PARA 442 et seq post.

15 Ibid s 125(3)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 11 supra).

16 'Community licence' means a document issued in respect of an EEA state other than the United Kingdom by an authority of that or another EEA state (including the United Kingdom) authorising the holder to drive a motor vehicle, not being: (1) a document containing a statement to the effect that that or a previous document was issued in exchange for a document issued in respect of a state other than an EEA state; or (2) a document in any of the forms for an international driving permit annexed to the International Convention relative to Motor Traffic (Paris, 24 April 1926; TS 11 (1930); Cmd 3510), the Convention on Road Traffic (Geneva, 23 August 1949; Cmd 7997), or the Convention on Road Traffic (Vienna, 8 November 1968; Misc 14 (1969); Cmd 4032); or (3) a document issued for a purpose corresponding to that mentioned in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(2) (see PARA 464 post): s 108(1) (definition amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 19(2)); definition applied by the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(10) (added by the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) (Admission of Community Licence Holders) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/357, reg 2(1), (2)(c)). 'EEA state' means a state which is a contracting party to the EEA Agreement: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 19(2)). 'EEA Agreement' means the Agreement on the European Economic Area signed at Oporto on 2 May 1992 (Oporto, 2 May 1992; EC 7 (1992); Cm 2073) as adjusted by the Protocol signed at Brussels on 17 March 1993 (Brussels, 17 March 1993; EC 2 (1993); Cmd 2183): Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 19(2)). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 224 note 5 ante. For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

As to the definition of 'Community licence' see also note 19 infra.

17 As to when a person is authorised by a Community licence to drive in Great Britain see PARA 473 et seq post. A person is not so authorised if the Community licence is not currently valid, eg because it has expired or been revoked in the member state of issue: see PARA 475 post. Thus the possession of a 'current' Community licence is not made an express requirement of the Road Traffic Act 1988.

18 For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 205 note 3 ante.

19 'Counterpart' in relation to a Community licence, has the meaning given by the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99B (as added) (see PARA 474 post): s 108(1) (definition added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 19(2)); definition applied by the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(10) (as added: see note 16 supra). As from a day to be appointed, this definition is repealed by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10, 59, Sch 3 paras 2, 14, Sch 7. As from a day to be appointed, in the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt V (ss 123-142) (as amended), 'Community licence' and 'counterpart', in relation to a Community licence have the same meanings as in Pt III (as amended): s 141A(5) (prospectively added by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 25). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. The reference to the definition of 'counterpart' in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 141A(5) (as prospectively added) is repealed, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 24, Sch 7. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

23 Ie within the meaning of ibid Pt III (as amended): see note 14 supra. See also note 16 supra.

24 Ibid s 125(3)(c)(i)(ii) (substituted by the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) (Admission of Community Licence Holders) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/357, reg 2(1), (2)(b)).

A recent disqualification under the 'totting-up' provisions of s 35 (as amended) (see PARA 1070 post) does not automatically prohibit a person from being registered as an approved driving instructor but the Registrar might on those grounds regard him as not being a fit and proper person to have his name entered in the register: see the text to note 28 infra. ## 416. Conditions of registration.

Where a person duly applies to be registered in respect of a description of driving instruction<sup>2</sup>, the Registrar<sup>3</sup> must register him in respect of that description of driving instruction if he satisfies the Registrar that prescribed conditions are fulfilled<sup>4</sup>. In the case of applications by persons to be registered in relation to the giving of a description of driving instruction, the conditions may (in particular) include<sup>5</sup>: (1) conditions requiring the persons to have passed such examinations of ability and fitness to give driving instruction of that description as may be prescribed<sup>6</sup>; (2) conditions requiring the persons to hold, or to have held for a prescribed period, such licences to drive motor vehicles of a prescribed description as may be prescribed<sup>7</sup>; and (3) conditions requiring the persons not to have been disqualified during a prescribed period under prescribed provisions for holding or obtaining a licence to drive motor vehicles<sup>8</sup>.

A person may be registered in respect of a description of driving instruction subject to fulfilling the prescribed conditions for so long as he continues to be so registered<sup>9</sup>. In the case of the registration of persons in relation to the giving of a description of driving instruction, the conditions may (in particular) include<sup>10</sup>: (a) conditions requiring the persons, if at any time required to do so by the Registrar, to submit themselves for such examinations of continued ability and fitness to give driving instruction of that description as may be prescribed<sup>11</sup>; (b) conditions requiring the persons to have passed those examinations<sup>12</sup>; (c) conditions within heads (2) and (3) above<sup>13</sup>; and (d) conditions requiring the persons to follow guidance issued by the Registrar as to the giving of driving instruction of that description<sup>14</sup>.

In the case of the registration of persons in relation to the carrying on of business in the provision of a description of driving instruction, the conditions may (in particular) include<sup>15</sup>: (i) conditions requiring the persons to secure that motor vehicles<sup>16</sup> and premises used by them in the carrying on of the business meet prescribed standards throughout the period of registration<sup>17</sup>; (ii) conditions requiring the persons, if at any time required to do so by the Registrar, to allow those motor vehicles and premises to be inspected<sup>18</sup>; and (iii) conditions requiring the persons to follow guidance issued by the Registrar as to the carrying on of business in the provision of driving instruction of that description<sup>19</sup>.

The prescribed conditions may (in particular) include a condition that persons are fit and proper persons to be, or to continue to be, registered<sup>20</sup>.

Regulations<sup>21</sup> may include provision for persons of a prescribed description to be exempt from any condition, to such extent as is prescribed, in prescribed circumstances<sup>22</sup>.

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/ (2) REGISTRATION OF DRIVING INSTRUCTORS/417.
Application requirements for the registration of disabled persons as instructors.

417. Application requirements for the registration of disabled persons as instructors.

A person who (1) suffers from a relevant disability<sup>1</sup> or a prospective disability<sup>2</sup>; (2) holds a current disabled person's limited driving licence<sup>3</sup>; and (3) holds a current emergency control certificate<sup>4</sup>, may apply to the Registrar<sup>5</sup> for his name to be entered in the register as that of a disabled instructor<sup>7</sup>. Such an application must be made in such manner, and must be accompanied by such particulars, as the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup> may determine<sup>9</sup>.

If, at the time when he makes such an application, a person is aware<sup>10</sup>: (a) that he is suffering from a relevant or prospective disability which he has not previously disclosed to the Secretary of State in making an application for his current emergency control certificate<sup>11</sup>; or (b) that a relevant or prospective disability from which he has at any time suffered (and which has been previously so disclosed) has become more acute since the granting of his current emergency control certificate<sup>12</sup>, his application must be accompanied by written notification of the nature and extent of his disability<sup>13</sup>. Any person who fails without reasonable excuse to comply with the requirement so imposed is guilty of an offence<sup>14</sup>.

Where a person duly applies for the entry of his name in the register as that of a disabled instructor and satisfies the Registrar that the following conditions are fulfilled in his case, the Registrar must<sup>15</sup>, on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>16</sup>, enter the applicant's name in the register with an indication that he is a disabled person<sup>17</sup>. The conditions are that: (i) the applicant has passed such examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars (consisting of a written examination, a practical test of ability and fitness to drive and a practical test of ability and fitness to instruct) as prescribed by regulations<sup>18</sup>; (ii) the specified conditions<sup>19</sup> concerning his holding of a driving licence are fulfilled<sup>20</sup>; and (iii) apart from the fulfilment of heads (i) and (ii) above, he is a fit and proper person to have his name entered in the register as that of a disabled instructor<sup>21</sup>.

The Registrar must, on making a decision on such an application, give notice<sup>22</sup> in writing of his decision to the applicant which, in the case of a decision to refuse the application, must state the grounds for the refusal<sup>23</sup>.

1 'Relevant disability', in relation to a person, means any disability which is prescribed in regulations or any other disability likely to cause the driving of a motor car by him to be a source of danger to the public: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(8) (s 125A added by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 1). At the date at which this volume states the law no disability had been prescribed. 'Disability' means a want of physical ability affecting the driving of motor cars: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(8) (as so added). For the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 412 note 2 ante; and for the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

As from a day to be appointed, the definition of 'relevant disability' is amended so as to substitute 'a motor vehicle of the description in question' for 'a motor car'; and the definition of 'disability' is amended so as to provide that 'disability', in respect of motor vehicles of any description, means a want of physical ability affecting the driving of motor vehicles of that description: s 125A(8) (as so added; definitions prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 6(4)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

2 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(1)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). 'Prospective disability', in relation to a person, means any other disability which, at the material time, is not of such a kind that it is a relevant disability but, by virtue of the intermittent or progressive nature of the disability or otherwise, may become a relevant disability in course of time: s 125A(8) (as so added).

3 Ibid s 125A(1)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). 'Disabled person's limited driving licence' means a licence of one of the following kinds: (1) a licence, other than a provisional licence, to drive a motor car granted under

Pt III (ss 87-109) (as amended) (see PARA 442 et seq post) which is limited, by virtue of a notice served under s 92(5)(b) (as amended) (see PARA 459 post), to an appropriate motor car; (2) a licence to drive a motor car granted under the law in force in Northern Ireland (not being a licence corresponding to a provisional licence) which is similarly limited by virtue of any corresponding provision of that law; and (3) a Community licence authorising the driving of a motor car, which is similarly limited by virtue of any corresponding provision of the law under which it was issued, and a counterpart of that licence: s 125A(8) (as so added; and amended by the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) (Admission of Community Licence Holders) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/357, reg 2(1), (3)). As from a day to be appointed, the definition of 'disabled person's limited driving licence' is amended: (a) by the omission of the reference to a counterpart of the licence (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(8) (as so added; prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10, 59, Sch 3 paras 2, 23, Sch 7)); and (b) by the substitution of 'vehicle' for 'car' in each place (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(8) (as so added; prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 6(4))). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed in respect of either amendment.

For the meaning of 'current licence' see PARA 413 note 2 ante; for the meaning of 'provisional licence' see PARA 445 note 27 post; for the meaning of 'Community licence' see PARA 415 note 16 ante; and for the meaning of 'counterpart' in relation to a Community licence see PARA 415 note 19 ante.

'Appropriate motor car' means, subject to the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125B(2) (as added), a motor car equipped with automatic transmission: s 125A(8) (as so added). Section 125B(2) (as added) provides that regulations may specify modifications of a motor car as modifications which are to be required for a motor car to be an appropriate motor car for the purposes of Pt V (ss 123-142) (as amended) or as modifications which are not to be required for a motor car to be an appropriate motor car for those purposes: s 125B(2) (s 125B added by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 1). For this purpose 'modifications', in relation to a motor car, includes equipment: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(8) (as so added). As from a day to be appointed, these definitions are substituted so as to provide that 'appropriate motor vehicle' means, subject to s 125B(2) (as added and amended), a motor vehicle equipped with automatic transmission (s 125A(8) (as so added; definition prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 6(4))); and 'modifications', in relation to a motor vehicle, includes equipment (Road Traffic Act 1988 s s 125A(8) (as so added; definition prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 6(4))). The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125B(2) (as added) is amended so as to refer to a vehicle instead of a car: see s 125B(2) (as so added; prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 7). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

4 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(1)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). 'Emergency control certificate' means a certificate under s 133A (as added and amended) (see PARA 433 post): s 125A(8) (as so added). As to emergency control assessments see PARA 432 post.

5 For the meaning of 'the Registrar' see PARA 415 text to note 5 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 413 text and note 5 ante.

7 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(1) (as added: see note 1 supra). 'Registered disabled instructor' means a person whose name is in the register with an indication that he is disabled: s 125A(8) (as so added). As to the requirements for disabled instructors generally see PARAS 432-436 post.

As from a day to be appointed, s 125A(1) (as added) is substituted so as to provide that a person may apply to the Registrar to be registered as a disabled instructor in respect of the giving of instruction in the driving of a motor vehicle of a prescribed description in such a motor vehicle if he: (1) suffers from a disability or prospective disability affecting the driving of motor vehicles of that description; (2) holds a current disabled person's limited driving licence relating to motor vehicles of that description; and (3) holds a current emergency control certificate specifying motor vehicles of that description: s 125A(1) (as so added; prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 6). The definition of 'registered disabled instructor' is amended so as to provide that 'registered disabled instructor' means a person registered as a disabled instructor in respect of instruction in the driving of a motor vehicles of a prescribed description given in a motor vehicle of that description: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(8) (as so added; definition prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 6(4)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

8 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(2) (as added: see note 1 supra).

10 Ibid s 125A(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

11 Ibid s 125A(3)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra).

12 Ibid s 125A(3)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

13 Ibid s 125A(3) (as added: see note 1 supra).

14 Ibid s 125A(4) (as added: see note 1 supra). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry added by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 6, Schedule para 11). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post.

15 le subject to the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125B(4) (as added and prospectively amended): see PARA 432 post.

16 The prescribed fee is £200: see the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 17(1).

17 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(5) (as added: see note 1 supra).

18 Ibid s 125A(6)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). Regulations may provide that persons of such class as may be specified in the regulations are exempt from the condition mentioned in s 125A(6)(a) (as added) as regards such part of the examination mentioned in s 125A(6)(a) (as added) as may be so specified: s 125A(7) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. As to the examination of ability to give instruction see PARA 424 post; as to licences to enable a person to acquire practical experience for the purposes of the test of ability to give instruction see PARA 430 post; as to the written examination see PARA 425 post; as to the driving ability and fitness test see PARA 426 post; and as to the instructional ability and fitness test see PARA 427 post.

19 le set out in ibid s 125(3)(c), (d) (as amended): see PARA 415 ante.

20 Ibid s 125A(6)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). For the purposes of s 125A(6)(b) (as added), references in s 125(3)(c), (d) to the making of an application under s 125(2) (see PARA 415 ante) must be read as references to the making of an application under s 125A(1) (as added) (see the text and notes 1-7 supra): s 125A(6) (as so added).

21 Ibid s 125A(6)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). If the Secretary of State is satisfied that the law of Northern Ireland makes the provision required for the operation of s 125(7) (see PARA 415 ante), and that that law includes satisfactory provision for purposes corresponding to the purposes of s 125A (as added), a person who satisfies the Registrar of the matters mentioned in s 125(7) (see PARA 415 ante) and that his name is in the register maintained under the law of Northern Ireland as that of a disabled instructor is also exempt from the conditions mentioned in s 125A(1)(c), (6)(a) (as added) (see the text to notes 4, 18 supra): s 125B(3) (as added: see note 3 supra). As from a day to be appointed, s 125B(3) (as added) is substituted so as to provide that regulations may make provision for prescribed persons to be exempt from s 125A(1)(c) (as added) in prescribed circumstances: s 125B(3) (as so added; prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 7).

The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(5)-(7) (as added) is prospectively substituted and s 125A(7A)-(7E) added by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 6(3), as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As from such day, where a person duly applies to be registered as a disabled instructor in respect of the giving of instruction in the driving of a motor vehicle of a prescribed description in such a motor vehicle, the Registrar must (subject to the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125B(4) (as added and prospectively amended)) so register him if he satisfies the Registrar that the conditions prescribed under this provision are fulfilled: s 125A(5) (as so added and prospectively substituted). Those conditions may (in particular) include: (1) conditions requiring the person to have passed such examinations of ability and fitness to give driving instruction of that description as may be prescribed under s 132 (as prospectively substituted) (see PARA 422 post); (2) conditions requiring the person to hold, or to have held for a prescribed period, such licences to drive motor vehicles of a prescribed description as may be prescribed; and (3) conditions requiring the person not to have been disqualified during a prescribed period under prescribed provisions for holding or obtaining a licence to drive motor vehicles: s 125A(6) (as so added and prospectively substituted). A person may be so registered subject to fulfilling the conditions prescribed under s 125A(7) (as added and prospectively substituted) for so long as he continues to be so registered: s 125A(7) (as so prospectively substituted). Those conditions may (in particular) include: (a) conditions requiring the person, if at any time required to do so by the Registrar, to submit himself for such examinations of continued ability and fitness to give driving instruction of that description as may be prescribed under s 132 (as prospectively substituted); (b) conditions requiring the person to have passed those examinations; (c) conditions requiring the person, if at any time required to do so by the Registrar, to submit himself for a further emergency control assessment on the day (within such period as may be prescribed) and at the place specified by the Registrar; (d) conditions within s 125A(6)(b), (c) (as added and prospectively substituted) (see heads (2), (3) supra); and (e) conditions requiring the person to follow guidance issued by the Registrar as to the giving of instruction in the driving of a motor vehicle of a prescribed description in such a motor vehicle: s 125A(7A) (as so prospectively added). The conditions prescribed under s 125A(5) or (7) (as added and prospectively substituted) may (in particular) include a condition that persons are fit and proper persons to be, or to continue to be, registered: s 125A(7B) (as so prospectively added). In considering whether to exercise, in respect of any person, his power under s 125A(7A)(c) (as prospectively added) (see head (c) supra), the Registrar must have regard to any recommendation included in the person's current emergency control certificate as to the period after which he should undergo a further emergency control assessment: s 125A(7C) (as so prospectively added). Regulations may include provision for prescribed persons to be exempt from any prescribed condition, to such extent as is prescribed, in prescribed circumstances: s 125A(7D) (as so prospectively added). Regulations may make provision authorising the Secretary of State to make available information about persons registered under s 125A (as added and prospectively amended): s 125A(7E) (as so prospectively added).

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

417 Application requirements for the registration of disabled persons as instructors

NOTE 16--Prescribed fee now £300: SI 2005/1902 reg 17(1) (amended by SI 2008/419).

418. Certificate of registration, badges and official title of instructor.

Regulations<sup>2</sup> have been made which prescribe: (1) the form of certificate for issue to persons whose names are in the register as evidence of their names being there<sup>3</sup>; (2) the form of badge for use by such persons<sup>4</sup>; and (3) the official title for such use<sup>5</sup>.

If a person whose name is not in the register: (a) takes or uses such a prescribed title<sup>6</sup>; or (b) wears or displays such a prescribed badge or certificate<sup>7</sup>; or (c) takes or uses any name, title, addition or description implying that his name is in the register<sup>8</sup>, he is guilty of an offence unless he proves that he did not know, and had no reasonable cause to believe, that his name was not in the register at the material time<sup>9</sup>.

If a person carrying on business in the provision of instruction in the driving of motor vehicles<sup>10</sup>: (i) uses such a prescribed title or description in relation to any person employed by him whose name is not in the register<sup>11</sup>; or (ii) issues any advertisement or invitation calculated to mislead with respect to the extent to which persons whose names are in the register are employed by him<sup>12</sup>, he is guilty of an offence unless he proves that he did not know, and had no reasonable cause to believe, that the name or names in question were not in the register at the material time<sup>13</sup>.

Where the name of a person, to whom a prescribed certificate<sup>14</sup> has been issued, is removed from the register in pursuance of Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>15</sup> that person must, if so required by the Registrar<sup>16</sup> by notice<sup>17</sup> in writing, surrender the certificate<sup>18</sup> to the Registrar within the period of 14 days beginning with that on which the notice is given and, if he fails to do so, he is guilty of an offence<sup>19</sup>.

The following provisions apply as from a day to be appointed<sup>20</sup>.

Regulations may prescribe certificates or other items that may be issued to registered persons to be displayed as evidence of their registration, and a title or other description which may be used as such evidence<sup>21</sup>. If at any time a person who is not registered: (A) displays a certificate or other prescribed item; (B) uses a prescribed title or other description; or (C) uses a title or other description implying that he is registered, he is guilty of an offence unless he proves that he did not know, and did not have reasonable cause to believe, that he was not registered at that time<sup>22</sup>. If a person carrying on business in the provision of driving instruction<sup>23</sup> at any time uses a prescribed title or other description in relation to any relevant person<sup>24</sup> who is not appropriately registered, or issues any advertisement or invitation calculated to mislead with respect to the extent to which relevant persons are appropriately registered, he is guilty of an offence unless he proves that he did not know, and did not have reasonable cause to believe, that the relevant person was, or relevant persons were, not appropriately registered at that time<sup>25</sup>.

Where the registration of a person to whom a certificate or other prescribed item<sup>26</sup> has been issued is terminated, that person must, if so required by the Registrar by notice in writing, surrender the certificate or other item to the Registrar within the period of 14 days beginning with that on which the notice is given and, if he fails to do so, he is guilty of an offence<sup>27</sup>.

419. Duration of registration.

The name of a person must, unless previously removed<sup>2</sup>, be removed from the register<sup>3</sup> at the end of the period of four years beginning with either: (1) the first day of the month next after that in which the entry of his name was made<sup>4</sup>; or (2) where his name has been retained in the register<sup>5</sup>, with the day when the latest period for which his name was so retained began<sup>6</sup>. If an application for the retention of his name in the register is made<sup>7</sup> before the end of that period, the name must not be removed except in pursuance of a decision of the Registrar<sup>8</sup>.

Where a person whose name has been removed from the register under head (1) or head (2) above applies for his name to be entered again in the register<sup>9</sup>, he must again pass the examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>10</sup> unless the application is made before the end of the period of one year beginning with the end of the period of four years mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above<sup>11</sup>.

Similarly, where a registered disabled instructor<sup>12</sup> whose name has been removed from the register under head (1) or head (2) above applies for his name to be entered again in the register<sup>13</sup> as that of a disabled instructor, he must again pass the examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>14</sup> unless the application is made before the end of the period of one year beginning with the end of the period of four years mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above<sup>15</sup>.

The following provisions apply as from a day to be appointed<sup>16</sup>.

Unless previously terminated<sup>17</sup>, a person's registration in respect of any description of driving instruction is terminated at the end of the period of four years beginning with the day specified below<sup>18</sup>. That day is: (a) the first day of the month next after that in which the person became registered in respect of that description of driving instruction; or (b) where his registration in respect of that description of driving instruction has been extended<sup>19</sup>, the day on which the last further period for which the registration was last extended began<sup>20</sup>. If an application for the extension of a person's registration in respect of any description of driving instruction is made, the registration is not terminated under these provisions<sup>21</sup>.

Where a person whose registration in respect of any description of driving instruction has been terminated applies<sup>22</sup> to be registered again in respect of that description of driving instruction, he is required again to fulfil such of the conditions<sup>23</sup> as may be prescribed<sup>24</sup>.

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/ (2) REGISTRATION OF DRIVING INSTRUCTORS/420.
Retention of name in the register.

420. Retention of name in the register.

A person may, before the time when his name is required to be removed from the register<sup>1</sup>, apply to the Registrar<sup>2</sup>, in manner determined by the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup>, accompanied by particulars so determined, for the retention of his name in the register for a further period of four years<sup>4</sup>. On such an application, he is entitled, on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>5</sup>, if any, to have his name retained in the register for that further period, if he satisfies the Registrar that the relevant conditions<sup>6</sup> are fulfilled in his case<sup>7</sup>.

Before refusing such an application the Registrar must give to the applicant written notice<sup>8</sup> stating that he is considering the refusal of the application and giving particulars of the grounds on which he is considering it<sup>9</sup>. Where the Registrar gives such a notice the applicant may, within the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice is given, make representations with respect to the proposed refusal<sup>10</sup>. The Registrar may not decide to refuse the application until after the expiration of that period<sup>11</sup>. Before deciding whether or not to refuse the application, the Registrar must take into consideration any such representations made by the applicant within that period<sup>12</sup>.

On deciding to grant or refuse an application the Registrar must give notice in writing of the decision to the person concerned<sup>13</sup>. A decision to refuse an application takes effect at the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which notice of the decision is given (or, if any appeal brought against the decision<sup>14</sup> is previously withdrawn or dismissed, when the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed)<sup>15</sup>. However, the Registrar may, when giving notice of his decision to refuse the application, direct that the decision is instead to take effect<sup>16</sup>: (1) where no appeal is brought<sup>17</sup> against the decision within the time limited for the appeal, on the expiration of that time<sup>18</sup>; (2) where such an appeal is brought and is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, on the withdrawal or striking out of the appeal<sup>19</sup>; (3) where such an appeal is brought and not withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, if and when the appeal is dismissed, and not otherwise<sup>20</sup>.

1     le under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 126(1): see PARA 419 ante. For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 413 text and note 5 ante.

2     For the meaning of 'the Registrar' see PARA 415 text to note 5 ante.

3     As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

4     Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(1). If the application is successful, the retention of a person's name under s 127 (as amended) remains subject: (1) in the case of its retention by virtue of s 127(3) (see note 6 infra), to the condition that he will, when required, undergo the test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars (see s 125(5); and PARA 415 ante); and (2) in the case of its retention by virtue of s 127(3A) (as added) (see note 6 infra), to the condition that he will, when required, undergo a further emergency control assessment, or undergo the test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of appropriate motor cars (see s 125B(6) (as added); and PARA 432 post): s 127(4) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 6, Schedule para 5(5)). For the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 413 note 2 ante; for the meaning of 'emergency control assessment' see PARA 432 note 5 post; and for the meaning of 'appropriate motor car' see PARA 417 note 3 ante. As to the test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction see PARA 429 post.

5     The prescribed fee is £200: see the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 17(1).

6     Except in the case of a registered disabled instructor (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(3) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 Schedule para 5(3))), the relevant conditions are:

44     (1)   that he has not refused to undergo the test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars as is mentioned in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(5) (see PARAS 415 ante, 424 post) which he has been required to undergo during the period of four years ending with the time when his name is required under s 126(1) (see PARA 419 ante) to be removed from the register (s 127(3)(a));

45     (2)   that his ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars continue, having regard to any such test or tests which he has undergone during that period, to be of a satisfactory standard (s 127(3)(b));

- 46 (3) that he is the holder of a current licence of one of the kinds mentioned in s 125(3)(b) (as substituted) (see PARA 415 ante) (s 127(3)(c));
- 47 (4) that he has not during any part of that period been disqualified under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 34 (as amended) (disqualification for a fixed period) or s 36 (as substituted and amended) (disqualification until test is passed) (see PARAS 415 note 26 ante, 1061, 1071 post) for holding or obtaining a licence to drive a motor vehicle granted under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109) (as amended) (see PARA 442 et seq post) (s 127(3)(d)); and
- 48 (5) that, apart from fulfilment of the conditions in heads (1)-(4) supra, he continues to be a fit and proper person to have his name entered in the register (s 127(3)(e)).

For the meaning of 'registered disabled instructor' see PARA 417 note 7 ante. As to the registration of disabled instructors see PARA 417 ante. For the meaning of 'current licence' see PARA 413 note 2 ante; and for the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

In the case of a registered disabled instructor (see s 127(3A) (added by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 Schedule para 5(4))), the relevant conditions are:

- 49 (a) that he holds a current emergency control certificate (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(3A)(a) (as so added));
- 50 (b) that he has not refused to undergo a further emergency control assessment as is mentioned in s 125B(6)(a) (as added) (see PARA 432 post), or a test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of appropriate motor cars as is mentioned in s 125B(6)(b) (as added) (see PARA 432 post), which he has been required to undergo during the period of four years ending with the time when his name is required under s 126(1) (see PARA 419 ante) to be removed from the register (s 127(3A)(b) (as so added));
- 51 (c) that his ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars continue, having regard to any such test or tests of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of appropriate motor cars as is mentioned in s 125B(6)(b) (as added), which he has undergone during that period, to be of a satisfactory standard (s 127(3A)(c) (as so added));
- 52 (d) that he is the holder of a current disabled person's limited driving licence (s 127(3A)(d) (as so added));
- 53 (e) that he has not during any part of that period been disqualified under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 34 (as amended) or s 36 (as substituted and amended) for holding or obtaining a licence to drive a motor vehicle granted under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) (s 127(3A)(e) (as so added)); and
- 54 (f) that, apart from fulfilment of the conditions in heads (a)-(e) supra, he continues to be a fit and proper person to have his name entered in the register as that of a disabled instructor (s 127(3A)(f) (as so added)).

For the meaning of 'emergency control certificate' see PARA 417 note 4 ante; and for the meaning of 'disabled person's limited driving licence' see PARA 417 note 3 ante.

In addition, in the case of all driving instructors, there are the further conditions that the applicant: (i) has passed the test specified in the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 6(2)(a) as part of the driving ability and fitness test; (ii) has passed the test of continued ability and fitness specified in reg 12(2)(b); or (iii) has satisfied the Registrar, whether by virtue of his performance in a test equivalent to those tests or other form of assessment, where such test or assessment was conducted by any person for the Secretary of State, that he has the necessary ability to perceive hazards on the road: reg 11 (amended by SI 2005/2716).

The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(1)-(4) (as amended) is prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 9(1), (2), as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. From the appointed day, a person may, no later than such time before his registration in respect of any description of driving instruction is terminated under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 126(1) (as prospectively substituted) (see PARA 419 text to notes 17-18 ante) as is prescribed, apply to the Registrar for the extension of that registration for a further period of four years: s 127(1) (as so prospectively substituted). Such an application must be made in such manner, and be accompanied by such particulars, as the Secretary of State may determine: s 127(2) (as so prospectively substituted). On such an application, the applicant is entitled to have the registration extended for the further period of four years if he satisfies the Registrar that the prescribed requirements are fulfilled: s 127(3) (as so prospectively substituted). The continued registration of a person by virtue of an extension under these provisions may be made subject to: (1) in the case of a registered disabled instructor, the conditions prescribed under s 125A(7) (as added and prospectively substituted) (see PARA 417 ante); and (2) in any other case, the conditions prescribed under s 125ZA(3) (as prospectively added) (see PARA 416 ante): s 127(4) (as so prospectively substituted).

15 Ibid s 127(7A) (added by the Transport Act 2000 s 259(1)). As from a day to be appointed, this provision is amended so that, instead of referring to a decision to refuse an application, it refers to the termination of a person's registration on a decision to refuse an application: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(7A) (as so added; prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 9(5)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

16 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(8) (amended by the Transport Act 2000 s 259(1)). As from a day to be appointed, this provision is further amended so as to refer to the termination of registration instead of referring to the decision: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 127(8) (as so added; prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 9(4)). ### 411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

420 Retention of name in the register

NOTE 5--Prescribed fee now £300: SI 2005/1902 reg 17(1) (amended by SI 2008/419).

421. Removal of name from the register.

The Registrar<sup>2</sup> may remove the name of a person from the register<sup>3</sup> if he is satisfied that: (1) in a case where his name has not been retained in the register<sup>4</sup>, at any time since the entry of his name was made<sup>5</sup>; and (2) in a case where his name has been so retained, at any time since it was last retained<sup>6</sup>, any of the relevant conditions<sup>7</sup> were fulfilled in his case<sup>8</sup>.

The Registrar may remove the name of a person from the register if the entry of his name or its retention was made by mistake or procured by fraud<sup>9</sup>. Before removing the name of a person from the register, the Registrar must give the person written notice<sup>10</sup> stating that he is considering the removal and giving particulars of the grounds on which he is considering it<sup>11</sup>.

Where the Registrar gives such notice the person to whom it is given may, within the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice is given, make representations with respect to the proposed removal<sup>12</sup>. The Registrar may not decide to remove his name from the register until after the expiration of that period<sup>13</sup>. Before deciding whether or not to remove his name from the register, the Registrar must take into consideration any such representations made by him within that period<sup>14</sup>. The Registrar must, on making a decision to remove a name from the register, give notice in writing of the decision to the person concerned<sup>15</sup>.

A decision to remove a name from the register takes effect at the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which notice of the decision is given (or, if any appeal brought against the decision<sup>16</sup> is previously withdrawn or dismissed, when the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed)<sup>17</sup>. But the Registrar may, when giving notice of his decision to remove the name from the register, direct that the decision is instead to take effect<sup>18</sup>: (a) where no appeal is brought<sup>19</sup> against the decision within the time limited for the appeal, on the expiration of that time<sup>20</sup>; (b) where such an appeal is brought and is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, on the withdrawal or striking out of the appeal<sup>21</sup>; (c) where such an appeal is brought and not withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, if and when the appeal is dismissed, and not otherwise<sup>22</sup>.

Where a person whose name has been removed from the register<sup>23</sup> applies<sup>24</sup> for his name to be entered again in the register and either<sup>25</sup> the application is made after the end of the period of one year beginning with the date on which his name was removed<sup>26</sup> or his name was removed on the grounds that he has failed to pass a test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>27</sup>, the Registrar must not regard the requirement that he pass the examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>28</sup> as fulfilled unless he is satisfied that that person has, since the date on which his name was removed from the register, passed that examination again<sup>29</sup>.

Where a person whose name was entered in the register as that of a disabled instructor and whose name has been removed from the register<sup>30</sup> applies<sup>31</sup> for his name to be entered again in the register as that of a disabled instructor and either<sup>32</sup> the application is made after the end of the period of one year beginning with the date on which his name was removed<sup>33</sup> or his name was removed on the ground that he has failed to pass a test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of appropriate motor cars<sup>34</sup>, the Registrar must not regard the condition that he has passed the examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>35</sup> as fulfilled unless he is satisfied that that person has passed that examination again since the date on which his name was removed from the register<sup>36</sup>.

The following provisions apply as from a day to be appointed<sup>37</sup>.

The Registrar may terminate a person's registration in respect of any description of driving instruction if he is satisfied that any relevant prescribed condition<sup>38</sup> has not been complied with in the case of the person: (i) in a case where his registration has not been extended<sup>39</sup>, at any time since he became registered; or (ii) in a case where his registration has been so extended, at any time since it was last extended<sup>40</sup>. The Registrar may also terminate a person's registration in respect of a description of driving instruction if the person's registration, or (if the person's registration has been extended) the last extension of his registration, was made by mistake or procured by fraud<sup>41</sup>.

Before terminating a person's registration in respect of any description of driving instruction, the Registrar must give him written notice stating that he is considering terminating the registration and giving particulars of the grounds on which he is considering it<sup>42</sup>. Where the Registrar gives such notice to a person: (A) that person may, within the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice is given, make representations with respect to the proposed termination; (B) the Registrar must not decide to terminate the registration until after the end of that period; and (C) before deciding whether or not to terminate the registration, the Registrar must take into consideration any such representations made by him within that period<sup>43</sup>. The Registrar must, on making a decision to terminate a person's registration in respect of any description of driving instruction, give notice in writing of the decision to the person<sup>44</sup>. A decision to terminate a person's registration in respect of any description of driving instruction takes effect at the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which notice of the decision is given (or, if any appeal brought against the decision<sup>45</sup> is previously withdrawn or dismissed, when the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed)<sup>46</sup>. However, the Registrar may, when giving notice of his decision to terminate a person's registration in respect of any description of driving instruction, direct that the decision is to instead take effect: (aa) where no appeal is brought against the decision within the time limited for the appeal, at the end of that time; (bb) where such an appeal is brought and is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, on the withdrawal or striking out of the appeal; or (cc) where such an appeal is brought and not withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, if and when the appeal is dismissed, and not otherwise<sup>47</sup>.

The following provisions apply when the Registrar decides to refuse to register a person, to refuse an application for the extension of a person's registration, or to terminate a person's registration, in respect of any description of driving instruction<sup>48</sup>. The Registrar may direct that any application by that person to be registered in respect of that description of driving instruction is not to be entertained before the end of such period, not exceeding four years beginning with the day on which the decision takes effect, as may be specified in the direction<sup>49</sup>. Notice of any such direction must be included in the notice of the decision in connection with which it is given<sup>50</sup>.

1 The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 128 is prospectively substituted, and s 128A is prospectively added, by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 10, 11, as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

2 For the meaning of 'the Registrar' see PARA 415 text to note 5 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 413 text and note 5 ante.

4 Ie pursuant to an application under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(1): see PARA 420 ante.

5 Ibid s 128(1)(a).

6 Ibid s 128(1)(b). The text refers to any time other than at the time of the first application for registration under s 125(2) (see PARA 415 ante) or s 125A(1) (as added) (see PARA 417 ante), or at the time of an application for retention pursuant to s 127 (as amended) (see PARA 420 ante).

7 Except in the case of a registered disabled instructor (see ibid s 128(2) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 6, Schedule para 6(3))), the relevant conditions are:

55 (1) that he held none of the kinds of current licence mentioned in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3)(b) (as substituted) (see PARA 415 ante) (s 128(2)(a) (amended by the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) (Admission of Community Licence Holders) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/357, reg 2(4)); 56 (2) that he was disqualified under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 34 (as amended) (disqualification for a fixed period) or s 36 (as substituted and amended) (disqualification until test is passed) (see PARAS 415 note 26 ante, 1061, 1071 post) for holding or obtaining a licence to drive a motor vehicle under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109) (as amended) (s 128(2)(b));

- 57 (3) that he refused to undergo a test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars as is mentioned in s 125(5) (see PARA 415 ante) (s 128(2)(c));
- 58 (4) that he failed to pass such a test (s 128(2)(d));
- 59 (5) that he ceased, apart from fulfilment of any of heads (1)-(4) supra, to be a fit and proper person to have his name included in the register (s 128(2)(e)).

For the meaning of 'registered disabled instructor' see PARA 417 note 7 ante. As to the registration of disabled instructors see PARA 417 ante. For the meaning of 'current licence' see PARA 413 note 2 ante. For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante; and for the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

A recent disqualification under the 'totting-up' provisions of the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 35 (as amended) (see PARA 1070 post) does not automatically require a person's name to be removed from the register but the Registrar might on those grounds regard him as not being a fit and proper person to be registered: see head (5) in the text.

In the case of a registered disabled instructor (see the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 128(2A) (added by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 Schedule para 6(4))) the relevant conditions are:

- 60 (a) that he did not hold a current emergency control certificate (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 128(2A)(a) (as so added));
- 61 (b) that he did not hold a current disabled person's limited driving licence (s 128(2A)(b) (as so added));
- 62 (c) that he was disqualified under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 34 (as amended) or s 36 (as substituted and amended) for holding or obtaining a licence to drive a motor vehicle under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) (s 128(2A)(c) (as so added));
- 63 (d) that he refused to undergo a further emergency control assessment as is mentioned s 125B(6)(a) (as added) (see PARA 432 post) (s 128(2A)(d) (as so added));
- 64 (e) that he refused to undergo, or failed to pass, a test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of appropriate motor cars as is mentioned in s 125B(6)(b) (as added) (see PARA 432 post) (s 128(2A)(e) (as so added));
- 65 (f) that he ceased, apart from fulfilment of heads (a)-(e) supra, to be a fit and proper person to have his name included in the register as that of a disabled instructor (s 128(2A)(f) (as so added)).

For the meaning of 'emergency control certificate' see PARA 417 note 4 ante; for the meaning of 'disabled person's limited driving licence' see PARA 417 note 3 ante; for the meaning of 'appropriate motor car' see PARA 417 note 3 ante; and for the meaning of 'emergency control assessment' see PARA 432 note 5 post. As to the test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction see PARA 429 post.

In addition, in the case of all driving instructors, there is the further condition that the applicant has failed: (i) to pass the test specified in the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 6(2)(a) as part of the driving ability and fitness test; (ii) to pass the test of continued ability and fitness specified in reg 12(2)(b); or (iii) to satisfy the Registrar, whether by virtue of his performance in a test equivalent to those tests or other form of assessment, where such test or assessment was conducted by any person for the Secretary of State, that he has the necessary ability to perceive hazards on the road: reg 10 (amended by SI 2005/2716).

DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(3) EXAMINATIONS AND TESTS OF ABILITY TO GIVE DRIVING INSTRUCTION/422. Power to make provision for examinations and tests of ability to give driving instruction.

(3) EXAMINATIONS AND TESTS OF ABILITY TO GIVE DRIVING INSTRUCTION

422. Power to make provision for examinations and tests of ability to give driving instruction.

The following provisions apply until a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>.

Regulations<sup>2</sup> may make provision with respect to: (1) the nature of examinations of the ability of persons to give instruction in the driving of motor cars and tests of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars (or appropriate motor cars)<sup>3</sup>; and (2) evidence of the results of such tests and examinations<sup>4</sup>; and generally with respect to such tests and examinations<sup>5</sup>. In particular, the regulations may make provision<sup>6</sup>: (a) for requiring a person submitting himself for any part of such an examination which consists of a practical test, or to any part of such a test of continued ability and fitness which consists of practical assessment, to provide a vehicle for the purposes of the practical test or assessment, being a vehicle in respect of which such conditions as may be specified in regulations are complied with<sup>7</sup>; (b) for requiring a person applying to submit himself for any part of such an examination, or required to submit himself for such a test, to pay to the Registrar<sup>8</sup> such fee as may be specified in the regulations in relation to that part or such tests<sup>9</sup>; and (c) for requiring a person who desires to submit himself for any part of such an examination, or is required to submit himself for such a test, to supply the Registrar with such particulars as the Secretary of State<sup>10</sup> may determine<sup>11</sup>.

The following provisions apply as from a day to be appointed<sup>12</sup>.

Regulations may make provision with respect to: (i) the nature of examinations of the ability and fitness (or continued ability and fitness) to give driving instruction (which may consist of practical tests and other tests and means of assessment) and the administrative arrangements for submitting for such examinations<sup>13</sup>; (ii) the qualification, selection and appointment of persons by whom they may be conducted, conditions which must be satisfied during the currency of an appointment, the charging of reasonable fees in respect of applications for appointment or appointments or in connection with any examination or assessment which may be required before appointment or during the currency of any appointment and the revocation of any appointment<sup>14</sup>; (iii) evidence of the results of such examinations<sup>15</sup>; and (iv) the making available of information about the results of such examinations<sup>16</sup>; and generally with respect to such examinations<sup>17</sup>. In particular, the regulations may make provision<sup>18</sup>: (A) for requiring a person submitting himself for any part of an examination which consists of practical tests, to provide a safe and suitable vehicle for the purposes of the practical tests and for requiring that, if the vehicle is a vehicle of a prescribed description, the vehicle has been certified in the prescribed manner after a prescribed inspection as satisfying such requirements as may be prescribed<sup>19</sup>; (B) for the charging (whether on the making by a person of arrangements to submit himself for any part of an examination or otherwise) of reasonable fees for or in connection with the examination, or any part of it, and any inspection and certification of a vehicle required by regulations under head (A) above in relation to any part of the examination<sup>20</sup>; (C) for requiring a person who desires to submit himself, or is required to submit himself, for an examination, or any part of it, to supply the Registrar with such particulars as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>21</sup>; and (D) for ensuring that a person submitting himself for an examination, or any part of it, and failing to pass it is not eligible to submit himself for another examination, or any part of it, by the same or any other person before the end of a prescribed period, except under an order made<sup>22</sup> by a court under the provisions as to review of examinations<sup>23</sup>.

DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(3) EXAMINATIONS AND TESTS OF ABILITY TO GIVE DRIVING INSTRUCTION/423. Training for driving instructors.

423. Training for driving instructors.

The following provisions apply as from a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>.

Regulations<sup>2</sup> may provide that a person:

- 738 (1) is not to be permitted to take any part of a relevant instructor examination<sup>3</sup>;
- 739 (2) is not to be registered<sup>4</sup>; or
- 740 (3) is not to have his registration extended<sup>5</sup>, unless he has successfully completed training in accordance with the regulations<sup>6</sup>.

Regulations may include provision exempting persons from any requirement imposed by virtue of the provisions above<sup>7</sup>; and regulations including such provision may (in particular): (a) limit an exemption to persons in prescribed circumstances<sup>8</sup>; (b) attach conditions to an exemption<sup>9</sup>; (c) regulate applications for an exemption<sup>10</sup>; and (d) include provision for the evidencing by a person of his being within an exemption<sup>11</sup>.

Regulations may make provision in relation to training<sup>12</sup>: (i) by means of courses provided in accordance with the regulations<sup>13</sup>; (ii) by means of study conducted in accordance with the regulations<sup>14</sup>; and (iii) by any other prescribed means<sup>15</sup>.

Regulations may provide that training is not to be taken into account for the purposes of the regulations if it was completed before such time as is prescribed<sup>16</sup>.

Regulations may, in particular, include<sup>17</sup>:

- 741 (A) provision about the nature of training<sup>18</sup>;
- 742 (B) provision for the approval by the Secretary of State<sup>19</sup> of persons providing training or giving instruction as part of training and the withdrawal of approval (including provision for appeals to the Transport Tribunal<sup>20</sup> against refusal and withdrawal of approval) and provision for exemptions from any requirement of approval<sup>21</sup>;
- 743 (C) provision for the training or assessment, or the supervision of training or assessment, of persons providing training or giving instruction as part of training<sup>22</sup>;
- 744 (D) provision setting the maximum amount of any charges payable by persons undergoing training<sup>23</sup>;
- 745 (E) provision for the evidencing of the successful completion of training<sup>24</sup>; and
- 746 (F) provision authorising the Secretary of State to make available information about persons providing training or giving instruction as part of training<sup>25</sup>.

Regulations under these provisions may include provision for the charging of reasonable fees in respect of the exercise of any function conferred or imposed on the Secretary of State by the regulations<sup>26</sup>.

423 Training for driving instructors

TEXT AND NOTE 20--Refers now to First-tier Tribunal: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133ZA(5)(b) (amended by SI 2009/1885).

424. Examination of ability to give instruction.

A person who desires to submit himself for any part of the examination of ability to give instruction<sup>1</sup> must supply the Registrar<sup>2</sup> with such particulars as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>3</sup>. A person is deemed to have made an application on the date that his application and the prescribed fee<sup>4</sup> are received by the Registrar<sup>5</sup>.

The examination consists of: (1) a written examination<sup>6</sup>; (2) a driving ability and fitness test<sup>7</sup>; and (3) an instructional ability and fitness test<sup>8</sup>. Before submitting himself to any part of the examination, a candidate must produce to the examiner evidence of identity and entitlement to drive<sup>9</sup>.

Where a person has passed the written examination<sup>10</sup>, he is not eligible to take it again during the following two years<sup>11</sup>.

A person may be regarded as having passed the examination only if the following conditions are fulfilled in his case<sup>12</sup>: (a) he has on the same day passed both the written examination and the element of the driving ability and fitness test that tests hazard perception<sup>13</sup>; (b) he has passed the remaining elements of the driving ability and fitness test on his first, second or third attempt after he had passed the written examination and the element of the driving ability and fitness test that tests hazard perception<sup>14</sup>; (c) within two years after passing the written examination and having passed all of the elements of the driving ability and fitness test he made an application to take the instructional ability and fitness test<sup>15</sup>; and (d) he has passed the instructional ability and fitness test on his first, second or third attempt after he had passed the written examination and on a date appointed by the Registrar in respect of an application made in accordance with head (c) above<sup>16</sup>.

Where a person has: (i) passed the written examination before 14 November 2002; (ii) passed the elements of the driving ability and fitness test, other than the test of hazard perception, on his first, second or third attempt after he had passed the written examination; and (iii) fulfilled the conditions specified in heads (c), (d) above, he is to be regarded as having passed the examination<sup>17</sup>.

1 For the purposes of the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902 (as amended), 'examination' means the examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars referred to in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3)(a) (see PARA 415 ante) and s 125A(6)(a) (as added) (see PARA 417 ante); Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 413 note 2 ante. A reference to a part of the examination is a reference to one of the three parts of the examination set out in reg 3(2) (see the text to note 8 infra): reg 2(2).

2 For the purposes of the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902 (as amended), 'the Registrar' means the officer of the Secretary of State by whom the register is, on behalf of the Secretary of State, compiled and maintained: reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'the register' see PARA 413 text and note 5 ante; definition applied by reg 2(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

4 The prescribed fee is, for submission to the written examination, £75; for submission to the driving ability and fitness test, £85; and for submission to the instructional ability and fitness test, £85: see ibid reg 17(1) (amended by SI 2007/697).

5 Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 3(7).

6 For the purposes of the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902 (as amended), 'written examination' means the written examination referred to in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3)(a) (see PARA 415 ante) and s 125A(6)(a) (as added) (see PARA 417 ante) and the nature of which is prescribed in the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 6 (see PARA 426 post): reg 2(1). As to the written examination see PARA 425 post.

7 For the purposes of the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902 (as amended), 'driving ability and fitness test' means the practical test of ability and fitness to drive referred to in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3)(a) (see PARA 415 ante) and s 125A(6)(a) (as added) (see PARA 417 ante) and the nature of which is prescribed in the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 6 (see PARA 426 post): reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 1996/1983). As to the driving ability and fitness test see PARA 426 post.

8 Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 3(2). For the purposes of the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902 (as amended), 'instructional ability and fitness test' means the practical test of ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars referred to in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3)(a) (see PARA 415 ante) and s 125A(6)(a) (as added) (see PARA 417 ante) and the nature of which is prescribed in the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 7 (see PARA 427 post): reg 2(1). As to the instructional ability and fitness test see PARA 427 post.

9 See ibid reg 4 (amended by SI 2006/525).

10 This applies whether he passed the examination before or after 6 July 2005 (ie the date the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, were made): see reg 3(3).

11 Ibid reg 3(3).

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(3) EXAMINATIONS AND TESTS OF ABILITY TO GIVE DRIVING INSTRUCTION/426. Driving ability and fitness test.

426. Driving ability and fitness test.

The driving ability and fitness test<sup>1</sup> consists of tests of hazard perception, eyesight and driving technique<sup>2</sup>. The candidate must: (1) take the test of hazard perception immediately after he has completed the written examination<sup>3</sup>; (2) reach the qualifying standard in respect of the test of hazard perception before he may take the remaining elements of the driving ability and fitness test; and (3) reach the qualifying standard in the test of eyesight and driving technique on the same occasion<sup>4</sup>.

The test of hazard perception must: (a) be conducted by means of the exhibition of film clips<sup>5</sup> that take the perspective of the driver of a motor vehicle<sup>6</sup> and show, at some point during each clip, one or more hazards to traffic occurring on or near the road<sup>7</sup>; and (b) require the candidate (using electronic equipment provided for the purpose and capable of recording the exact moment of each response) to indicate during each film clip the moment he observes a hazard relating to traffic on the road<sup>8</sup>. A candidate taking the test of hazard perception must satisfy the examiner that his performance in the test of hazard perception demonstrates an ability to perceive hazards on the road<sup>9</sup>.

The test of eyesight is the test of the candidate's ability to read in good daylight (with aid of glasses or contact lenses if worn) a motor vehicle registration mark containing letters and figures: (i) 79 millimetres in height and 50 millimetres wide at a distance of 27 metres; or (ii) 79 millimetres in height and 57 millimetres wide at a distance of 27.5 metres<sup>10</sup>.

Where a candidate has passed the written examination before 14 November 2002, and has passed the elements of the driving ability and fitness test, other than the test of hazard perception, on his first, second or third attempt after he had passed the written examination, and has fulfilled specified conditions<sup>19</sup>, the driving ability and fitness test consists only of tests of eyesight and driving technique<sup>20</sup>.

DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(3) EXAMINATIONS AND TESTS OF ABILITY TO GIVE DRIVING INSTRUCTION/427. Instructional ability and fitness test.

427. Instructional ability and fitness test.

The instructional ability and fitness test<sup>1</sup> is a test in which the candidate is required to demonstrate his knowledge and ability by giving practical driving instruction to an examiner<sup>2</sup> as if the examiner were: (1) a novice or partly trained pupil; (2) a pupil who is at about driving test standard; or (3) a qualified driver undertaking driver development training; and the examiner may at his discretion choose two of these roles that he will play when conducting the test<sup>3</sup>.

The candidate must, in respect of one or both of those roles as the examiner specifies, instruct him in such of the following subjects as the examiner specifies as the basis of the instruction<sup>4</sup>: (a) explaining the controls of the vehicle<sup>5</sup>; (b) moving off<sup>6</sup>; (c) making normal stops<sup>7</sup>; (d) reversing, and while doing so entering limited openings to the right or to the left<sup>8</sup>; (e) turning to face the opposite direction, using forward and reverse gears<sup>9</sup>; (f) parking close to the kerb, using forward and reverse gears<sup>10</sup>; (g) using mirrors and explaining how to make an emergency stop<sup>11</sup>; (h) approaching and turning corners<sup>12</sup>; (i) judging speed, and making normal progress<sup>13</sup>; (j) road positioning<sup>14</sup>; (k) dealing with road junctions<sup>15</sup>; (l) dealing with cross roads<sup>16</sup>; (m) dealing with pedestrian crossings<sup>17</sup>; (n) meeting, crossing the path of, overtaking and allowing adequate clearance for, other vehicles and other road users<sup>18</sup>; and (o) giving correct signals<sup>19</sup>.

The candidate's knowledge and ability is assessed on: (i) the method, clarity, adequacy and correctness of his instruction<sup>20</sup>; (ii) the observation and correction of the examiner's driving errors<sup>21</sup>; and (iii) his manner generally<sup>22</sup>.

DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(3) EXAMINATIONS AND TESTS OF ABILITY TO GIVE DRIVING INSTRUCTION/428. Motor car to be provided for practical part of examination.

428. Motor car to be provided for practical part of examination.

A candidate for the driving ability and fitness test<sup>1</sup> or the instructional ability and fitness test<sup>2</sup> must provide, at his own expense, a motor car<sup>3</sup> for the purposes of that test, in respect of which the following conditions are satisfied<sup>4</sup>:

- 756 (1) the vehicle must<sup>5</sup>: (a) have four wheels and be constructed solely for the carriage of passengers and their effects and be fitted with a rigid roof, with or without a sliding panel<sup>6</sup>; (b) have a readily adjustable driving seat and a seat for a forward-facing front passenger<sup>7</sup>; (c) have a steering wheel on its off-side<sup>8</sup>; (d) be provided with a means whereby the driver<sup>9</sup> may, independently of the use of the accelerator or the brakes, gradually vary the proportion of the power being produced by the engine which is transmitted to the road wheels<sup>10</sup>; and (e) be otherwise suitable for the purposes of the test<sup>11</sup>;
- 757 (2) in the case of a vehicle provided for the purposes of a driving ability and fitness test, the vehicle must<sup>12</sup>: (a) have fitted to the front passenger seat a head restraint and seat belt<sup>13</sup>; (b) have a rear view mirror for use by the occupant of the front passenger seat, in addition to the rear view mirror provided for use by the driver of the vehicle<sup>14</sup>; and (c) not, during the conduct of the test, carry the prescribed distinguishing mark<sup>15</sup>;
- 758 (3) in the case of a vehicle provided for the purpose of an instructional ability and fitness test, the vehicle must<sup>16</sup>: (a) be capable of being driven by the examiner<sup>17</sup>; (b) have fitted to the driver's seat a seat belt and head restraint<sup>18</sup>; (c) have a rear view mirror for use by the driver of the vehicle<sup>19</sup>; and (d) have in force in relation to it an insurance policy that meets the specified conditions<sup>20</sup>; and, when the examiner is playing the role of a novice or partly trained pupil, or a pupil who is at about driving test standard<sup>21</sup>, there must be displayed in a conspicuous manner on the front and on the back of the vehicle distinguishing marks in the prescribed form<sup>22</sup>.

A candidate for the driving ability and fitness test or the instructional ability and fitness test must, during the test, allow to travel in the motor car provided for the test any person authorised by the Secretary of State for the purpose of supervising the test or otherwise<sup>23</sup>.

429. Continued ability and fitness test.

The continued ability and fitness test<sup>1</sup> consists, at the discretion of the examiner<sup>2</sup>, of either<sup>3</sup>:

- 759 (1) a practical test which, at the discretion of the examiner, will consist of either:
25
62. (a) a test in which the person undergoing the test ('the candidate') is required to demonstrate his knowledge and ability by giving practical driving instruction to an examiner as if the examiner were: (i) a novice or partly trained pupil; (ii) a pupil who is at about driving test standard; or (iii) a full driving licence holder with at least a year's experience since passing the driving test<sup>4</sup>; or
63. (b) a test carried out on a road<sup>5</sup> in a motor car<sup>6</sup> in which the examiner is present and the candidate is giving instruction to a pupil, for the purpose of enabling the examiner to make an assessment of the candidate's instructional ability with particular regard to specified qualities<sup>7</sup>; or
- 26
- 760 (2) where a person has not satisfied any of the additional requirements for the retention of names on the register<sup>8</sup>, a test of hazard perception<sup>9</sup> which must: (i) be conducted by means of the exhibition of film clips<sup>10</sup> that take the perspective of the driver of a motor vehicle and show, at some point during each film clip, one or more hazards to traffic occurring on or near the road; and (ii) require the candidate (using electronic equipment provided for the purpose and capable of recording the exact moment of each response) to indicate during each film clip the moment he observes a hazard relating to traffic on the road<sup>11</sup>.

Where the examiner elects to conduct the test by the method described in head (1)(a) above the candidate must provide at his own expense a motor car in respect of which the specified conditions<sup>12</sup> are satisfied save that where the test is conducted in accordance with head (1)(a) (iii) above the requirement<sup>13</sup> to display prescribed distinguishing marks is to be disregarded<sup>14</sup>. Where the examiner elects to conduct the test by the method described in head (1)(b) above, the candidate must, at his own expense, provide or procure the provision of a motor vehicle that has a seat belt fitted to the rear seat of the vehicle and is otherwise suitable for the conduct of such a test<sup>15</sup>.

Before undergoing the continued ability and fitness test a person must produce to the person conducting the test the certificate of registration<sup>16</sup> issued to him<sup>17</sup>. A candidate for the practical test in head (1) above must, during the test, allow to travel in the motor car provided for the test any person authorised by the Secretary of State for the purpose of supervising the test or otherwise<sup>18</sup>.

The specified qualities are: (1) the candidate's method, clarity, adequacy and correctness of instruction; (2) his observation and proper correction of the pupil's errors; (3) his manner, patience and tact in dealing with the pupil; and (4) his ability to inspire confidence: reg 12(5), (6).

8 le the requirements specified in ibid reg 11(2)(a)-(c) (as amended): see PARA 420 note 6 ante.

9 Ibid reg 12(2)(b). A candidate taking the hazard perception test must satisfy the examiner that his performance in the test demonstrates the necessary ability to perceive hazards on the road: reg 12(10). The fee payable by a person required to undergo the continued ability and fitness test specified in reg 12(2)(b) is nil for the first time that the person takes the test and £20.50 in all other cases: reg 17(2). The fee is payable at the time that the person makes an appointment to undergo the test: reg 17(3).

10 For these purposes, 'film clip' means a sequence of visual images displayed electronically: ibid reg 12(9).

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(4) LICENCES TO GIVE DRIVING INSTRUCTION/430. Licences for giving driving instruction so as to obtain practical experience.

(4) LICENCES TO GIVE DRIVING INSTRUCTION

430. Licences for giving driving instruction so as to obtain practical experience.

A licence for giving instruction<sup>1</sup> may be granted to a person for the purpose of enabling that person to acquire practical experience in giving instruction in driving motor cars<sup>2</sup> with a view to undergoing either<sup>3</sup>: (1) the part of the examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>4</sup>; or (2) the part of the examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars for disabled instructors<sup>5</sup>, as consists of a practical test of ability and fitness to instruct<sup>6</sup>.

Where a person applies to the Registrar<sup>7</sup> in the manner determined by the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup>, accompanied by particulars so determined, and the Registrar is satisfied either<sup>9</sup>: (a) that the applicant has passed the other parts of the examination referred to in head (1) above and that the specified conditions<sup>10</sup> are fulfilled in his case<sup>11</sup>; or (b) that the applicant has passed the other parts of the examination referred to in head (2) above and that he holds a current disabled person's limited driving licence<sup>12</sup> and a current emergency control certificate<sup>13</sup>, and that the specified conditions<sup>14</sup> are fulfilled in his case<sup>15</sup>, the Registrar must, on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>16</sup>, grant to the applicant a licence to give paid instruction<sup>17</sup> in the driving of a motor car<sup>18</sup>. The Registrar must, on making a decision on such an application, give notice<sup>19</sup> in writing of the decision to the applicant which, in the case of a decision to refuse the application, must state the grounds of the refusal<sup>20</sup>. The Registrar may refuse to grant a licence to an applicant to whom such a licence has previously been issued<sup>21</sup>.

Notwithstanding any provision of regulations<sup>26</sup> prescribing the period for which a licence is to be in force, where a person applies for a new licence in substitution for a licence held by him and current at the date of the application, the previous licence does not expire<sup>27</sup>: (i) until the commencement of the new licence<sup>28</sup>; or (ii) if the Registrar decides to refuse the application, until the time limited for an appeal<sup>29</sup> against the decision has expired and, if such an appeal is duly brought, it is finally disposed of<sup>30</sup>.

Before deciding to refuse an application for a new licence in substitution for a licence current at the date of the application, the Registrar must give to the applicant written notice<sup>31</sup> stating that he is considering the refusal and giving particulars of the grounds on which he is considering it<sup>32</sup>. Where the Registrar gives such notice the applicant may, within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice is given, make representations with respect to the proposed refusal<sup>33</sup>. The Registrar may not decide to refuse the application until after the expiration of that period<sup>34</sup>. Before deciding whether or not to refuse the application, the Registrar must take into consideration any such representations made within that period<sup>35</sup>.

Where a licence granted under Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>36</sup> to a person expires or is revoked, that person must, if so required by the Registrar by notice in writing, surrender the licence<sup>37</sup> to the Registrar within the period of 14 days beginning with that on which the notice is given and, if he fails to do so, he is guilty of an offence<sup>38</sup>.

1     le under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129 (as amended): see the text and notes 2-35 infra. It is not a requirement of the Road Traffic Act 1988 that a prospective applicant for registration must obtain a licence between passing the second and third parts of the examination of ability: see PARA 424 ante. A prospective applicant has the option of taking the whole examination at once or obtaining a licence to gain practical experience first.

2     For the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

4     Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(1)(a) (as amended: see note 3 supra). The text refers to the examination of ability referred to in s 125(3)(a): see PARA 415 ante. As to the examination of ability to give instruction see PARA 424 ante.

5 Ibid s 129(1)(b) (as amended: see note 3 supra). The text refers to the examination of ability prescribed for the purposes of s 125A(6)(a) (as added): see PARA 417 ante.

6 Ibid s 129(1). As to the instructional ability and fitness test see PARA 427 ante. Section 129 is prospectively repealed by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 42, 59, Sch 6 paras 1, 12, Sch 7, as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

7 For the meaning of 'the Registrar' see PARA 415 text to note 5 ante.

8 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(2) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driving by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 2(2)).

10 le the conditions set out in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125(3)(b)-(e) (as amended): see PARA 415 ante. To the conditions as to which the Registrar is required to be satisfied for the grant of a licence under s 129 (as amended), there are added the following conditions which have effect subject to the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 13(3) (requirements as to training) and reg 3(6) (see PARA 424 ante) (reg 13(1)):

- 66 (1) that the person has passed the driving ability and fitness test after passing the written examination (reg 13(2)(a));
- 67 (2) that he passed the driving ability and fitness test on his first, second or third attempt after he had passed the written examination (reg 13(2)(b));
- 68 (3) that he has made the application within two years after passing the written examination (reg 13(2)(c));
- 69 (4) that he has not failed the instructional ability and fitness test more than twice since he passed the written examination (reg 13(2)(d));
- 70 (5) except in the case of an application for a substitute licence, that he has received within the period of six months ending on the date of his application for a licence not less than 40 hours' training given by an approved driving instructor, which includes training in all the matters specified in Sch 2 Pt 1, and is training of which at least 10 hours is conducted in a motor car where the approved driving instructor and the person being trained are accompanied, if at all, by no more than one other person who is receiving training of the same nature (reg 13(2)(e), (3));
- 71 (6) in the case of an application to which head (5) supra applies, that he delivers with his application evidence, in the form specified in Sch 2 Pt 2 (as substituted), that he has received the training specified in head (5) supra (reg 13(2)(f));
- 72 (7) that he submits with his application for a licence: (a) the name, address and registration number of the approved driving instructor who has consented to take responsibility either for his supervision in accordance with reg 15(2) (see note 24 infra) or, as the case may be, the provision of supplementary training in accordance with reg 15(3)-(5) (see note 24 infra) (and the counter-signature of the application by that approved driving instructor must be taken as sufficient evidence of such consent); and (b) the address from which he will be providing paid driving instruction if different from the address of the approved driving instructor referred to in head (a) supra (reg 13(2)(g));
- 73 (8) that the Registrar is satisfied that the approved driving instructor referred to in head (7)(a) supra is fit and able to undertake responsibility for the supervision or, as the case may be, the training of that person in accordance with reg 15 (see note 24 infra) (and in determining whether or not he is able to undertake that responsibility the Registrar must have regard to the number of licence holders in respect of whom he has already consented to undertake similar responsibility) (reg 13(2)(h)).

For the meaning of 'approved driving instructor' see PARA 418 note 5 ante. As to the register of approved instructors see PARA 415 ante.

A person is deemed to have made an application on the date that his application and the fee prescribed by the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902 (as amended) are received by the Registrar: reg 13(4). 'Substitute licence' means a licence granted pursuant to an application made in accordance with the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(6) (see the text and notes 27-30 infra) (so as to come into effect immediately upon the expiry of a previous licence): Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 13(5).

11 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 9 supra).

12 For the meaning of 'disabled person's limited driving licence' see PARA 417 note 3 ante; and for the meaning of 'current licence' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

13 For the meaning of 'emergency control certificate' see PARA 417 note 4 ante. As to disabled instructors emergency control assessments see PARA 433 post.

14 In the conditions referred to in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(6)(b) (as added) and the condition set out in s 125A(6)(c) (as added): see PARA 417 ante. A licence granted by virtue of head (b) in the text is granted subject to the further condition that the person to whom it is granted must not give paid instruction in the driving of a motor car unless he holds a current emergency control certificate and the car is an authorised motor car: s 129(5A) (s 129(5A), (5B) added by the Road Traffic (Driving by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 2(4)). 'Authorised motor car', in relation to any person, means a motor car which falls within the class of motor car specified in his current emergency control certificate and, where modifications are specified in that certificate, is modified in accordance with the specification: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(5B) (as so added). Any reference, in relation to a person, to the class of motor car covered by his disabled person's limited driving licence is a reference to the class of motor car specified in the notice served on him under s 92(5)(b) (as amended) (see PARA 459 post) but disregarding any modifications specified in the notice: s 125A(8) (definition added by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 1). As to the further conditions which need to be fulfilled see note 10 supra. As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 125A(8) (as added and amended) is further amended so as to refer to motor vehicles instead of motor cars: s 125A(8) (as so added; prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 6(1), (4)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

15 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 9 supra).

16 The prescribed fee is £125: see the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 17(1).

17 For the meaning of 'paid instruction' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

18 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(2) (as substituted: see note 9 supra).

19 As to service of notices see PARA 440 post.

20 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(4).

21 Ibid s 129(3). The issue of second and subsequent licences is thus discretionary.

22 Ibid s 129(5). For the form of licence currently prescribed see the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 16, Sch 4.

23 A licence remains in force until: (1) the expiration of a period of six months commencing on the date of the grant; or (2) the day immediately following the day on which the holder of the licence failed the instructional ability and fitness test at the third attempt, whichever first occurs: ibid reg 14.

24 In subject to the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(5A) (as added): see note 14 supra. A licence is granted subject to such of the conditions specified in the Motor Cars (Driving Instruction) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1902, reg 15(2)-(5) as apply to it: reg 15(1)). Unless it is a licence to which the conditions specified in reg 11(3) (see PARA 420 ante) apply, a licence which is not a substitute licence is subject to the following conditions, namely that the licence holder must: (1) for one-fifth of the total time he spends giving paid instruction in the driving of a motor car, receive direct supervision from an approved driving instructor present with him in the car; (2) maintain, for each working day while the licence is in force, a record in the form specified in Sch 2 of the time he spends giving such instruction; (3) sign the record at the end of every working day and, if he has received supervision from an approved driving instructor on any day, procure that the instructor also signs it; (4) produce on request, for examination by a person authorised by the Registrar in that behalf, all the records maintained under head (2) supra during the period ending on the day before the date of the request and further, if required to do so, deliver those records to such a person for retention by him; (5) not later than seven days after the expiry of the licence, deliver to a person authorised by the Registrar in that behalf all the records maintained under head (2) supra during the period when the licence was in force, other than such records as have been delivered under head (4) supra and not returned to him: reg 15(2). 'Working day' means any day during which the licence holder gives paid instruction in the driving of a motor car: reg 15(6). As to the record of instruction given by the licence holder see reg 15(2), Sch 2.

If a person elects in writing at the date of his application for a licence to undertake supplementary training, the conditions specified in heads (1)-(5) supra do not apply to the licence which must instead be subject to the following conditions, namely that the licence holder must: (a) undertake during the period expiring on the first relevant date not less than 20 hours' supplementary training; (b) not later than the day immediately following the first relevant date deliver to a person authorised by the Registrar in that behalf evidence, in the form specified in Sch 2 Pt 2, that he has received that supplementary training; and (c) if he has not passed the instructional ability and fitness test on the first occasion on which he took that test, or (if earlier) by the expiration of a period of three months beginning on the date when the licence was granted, undertake during the period expiring on the second relevant date not less than five hours' further supplementary training, and not later than the day immediately following the second relevant date deliver to a person authorised by the Registrar in that behalf evidence, in the form specified in Sch 2 Pt 2, that he has received that further supplementary training: reg 15(3). 'Supplementary training' means training in the giving of practical driving instruction, including training in all the matters specified in Sch 2 Pt 1, given by an approved driving instructor of which at least one quarter is training in a motor car where the licence holder and instructor, if accompanied at all, are accompanied by no more than one other licence holder who is receiving training at the same time: reg 15(6). 'First relevant date' means the last day of the period of three months beginning on the date when the licence is granted, or the day on which the licence holder first applies to take the instructional ability and fitness test, whichever first occurs: reg 15(6). 'Second relevant date' means: (i) the last day of the period of three months beginning on the first relevant date if that date is the expiration of the period of three months referred to above, or in any other case, on the day on which the licence holder first failed the instructional ability and fitness test; or (ii) the first day after the first relevant date on which he applies to take the instructional ability and fitness test, whichever first occurs: reg 15(6).

A substitute licence coming into force immediately upon the expiry of a previous licence which, by virtue of an election made by the holder upon his application for it, was subject to the conditions specified in heads (a)-(c) supra is subject to the following conditions, namely that the licence holder must: (A) undertake during the period expiring on the third relevant date not less than five hours' further supplementary training; and (B) not later than the day immediately following the third relevant date deliver to a person authorised by the Registrar in that behalf evidence, in the form specified in Sch 2 Pt 2, that he has received that further supplementary training: reg 15(4). 'Third relevant date' means the last day of the period of three months beginning on the date when the licence is granted, or the first day after the date on which the licence is granted on which he applies to take the instructional ability and fitness test, whichever first occurs: reg 15(6).

Every licence is subject to the condition that, in the event of the licence holder arranging to have the supervision or supplementary training referred to above, or any part thereof, undertaken by a different approved driving instructor from the person named in his application, he must submit to the Registrar full details of any consequential changes to the particulars submitted under reg 13(2)(g) (see note 10 supra) resulting from the new arrangement together with the consent (in any form permitted under reg 13(2)(g)) of the new approved driving instructor to that arrangement: reg 15(5).

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

430 Licences for giving driving instruction so as to obtain practical experience

NOTE 16--Prescribed fee now £140: SI 2005/1902 reg 17(1) (amended by SI 2009/844).

NOTE 22--SI 2005/1902 Sch 4 amended: SI 2008/419.

431. Revocation of licences.

The Registrar<sup>1</sup> may revoke a licence<sup>2</sup>: (1) if the person to whom the licence was granted fails to comply with any of the conditions subject to which it was granted<sup>3</sup>; or (2) if the Registrar is satisfied that, at any time since the licence was granted, any of the relevant conditions<sup>4</sup> were fulfilled in his case<sup>5</sup>; or (3) if the licence was granted by mistake or procured by fraud<sup>6</sup>. Before revoking a licence granted to a person the Registrar must give him written notice<sup>7</sup> stating that he is considering the revocation and giving particulars of the grounds on which he is considering it<sup>8</sup>.

Where the Registrar gives such notice to a person that person may, within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice is given, make representation with respect to the proposed revocation<sup>9</sup>. The Registrar may not decide to revoke the licence until after the expiration of that period<sup>10</sup>. Before deciding whether or not to revoke the licence, the Registrar must take into consideration all such representations made within that period<sup>11</sup>. The Registrar must, on making a decision to revoke a licence, give notice in writing of the decision to the person concerned<sup>12</sup>.

A decision to revoke a licence takes effect at the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which notice of the decision is given (or, if any appeal brought against the decision<sup>13</sup> is previously withdrawn or dismissed, when the appeal is withdrawn or dismissed)<sup>14</sup>; but the Registrar may, when giving notice of his decision to revoke a licence, direct that (if an appeal is brought against the decision) it takes effect instead: (a) if the appeal is withdrawn or struck out for want of prosecution, on the withdrawal or striking out of the appeal; or (b) if and when the appeal is dismissed, and not otherwise<sup>15</sup>.

Emergency control requirements for the registration of disabled persons.

(5) REQUIREMENTS FOR DISABLED INSTRUCTORS

432. Emergency control requirements for the registration of disabled persons.

A person who fulfils the conditions of suffering from a relevant disability<sup>1</sup> or a prospective disability<sup>2</sup> and of holding a current disabled person's limited driving licence<sup>3</sup> may, for the purpose of obtaining an emergency control certificate<sup>4</sup>, apply to undergo an emergency control assessment<sup>5</sup>. The Registrar<sup>6</sup> may refuse to enter the name of a person in the register<sup>7</sup> as that of a disabled instructor if he is satisfied that that person has at any time refused to comply with the requirement<sup>8</sup> to submit himself for a further emergency control assessment<sup>9</sup>.

The entry of a person's name in the register as that of a disabled instructor is subject to the condition that, so long as he is a registered disabled instructor<sup>10</sup>, he will, if at any time required to do so by the Registrar<sup>11</sup>: (1) submit himself for a further emergency control assessment on the day (within such period as may be prescribed by regulations<sup>12</sup>) and at the place specified by the Registrar<sup>13</sup>; or (2) submit himself for such test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of appropriate motor cars<sup>14</sup> (which may consist of practical and other means of assessment) as may be prescribed by regulations<sup>15</sup>.

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(5) REQUIREMENTS FOR DISABLED INSTRUCTORS/433. Nature and conduct of emergency control assessments for disabled driving instructors.

433. Nature and conduct of emergency control assessments for disabled driving instructors.

Where any person, by virtue of Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>1</sup>, is authorised to apply to undergo an emergency control assessment<sup>2</sup>, or is required by the Registrar<sup>3</sup> to submit himself for an emergency control assessment, the following provisions apply<sup>4</sup>.

An emergency control assessment is an assessment of whether the person being assessed would be able either<sup>5</sup>: (1) to take control of a motor car<sup>6</sup> of a class covered by his disabled person's limited driving licence<sup>7</sup> without any modifications<sup>8</sup>; or (2) to take control of a motor car of a class covered by his disabled person's limited driving licence only with appropriate modifications of such a motor car<sup>9</sup>, if an emergency arose while he was giving, in such a motor car, instruction in the driving of an appropriate motor car<sup>10</sup>.

An application for an emergency control assessment must be made to the Secretary of State<sup>11</sup> and must include<sup>12</sup> a declaration by the person making the application, in such form as the Secretary of State may require, stating every relevant disability<sup>13</sup> or prospective disability<sup>14</sup> from which the person is suffering or has at any time (or, if a period is prescribed by regulations<sup>15</sup>, has during that period) suffered<sup>16</sup>, and such other particulars as the Secretary of State may require<sup>17</sup>. Where a person is required to submit himself for an emergency control assessment he must furnish to the Secretary of State such particulars as the Secretary of State may require<sup>18</sup>.

An emergency control assessment must be conducted by a person appointed by the Secretary of State ('the assessor'), and must consist of such practical tests and other means of assessment as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>19</sup>.

On completing an emergency control assessment of a person, the assessor must grant him an emergency control certificate<sup>20</sup> if he is satisfied either<sup>21</sup>: (a) that, in the circumstances mentioned in head (1) or head (2) above, that person would be able to take control of a motor car of a class covered by his disabled person's limited driving licence without any modifications<sup>22</sup>; or (b) that, in those circumstances, that person would be able to take control of a motor car of a class covered by his disabled person's limited driving licence only with appropriate modifications of such a motor car<sup>23</sup>. If the assessor is not so satisfied, he must refuse to grant a certificate to that person<sup>24</sup>.

An emergency control certificate granted to any person<sup>25</sup>: (i) must specify the class of motor car covered by his disabled person's limited driving licence in relation to which the assessor is satisfied as mentioned in head (a) or head (b) above, and must, in a case falling within head (b) above, specify the modifications that are appropriate<sup>26</sup>; and (ii) may include a recommendation that that person should undergo a further emergency control assessment after the end of such period as it specifies, and must otherwise be in such form as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>27</sup>.

If the assessor grants an emergency control certificate, he must give or send the certificate to that person, and send a copy of the certificate to the Registrar<sup>28</sup>. If he refuses to grant such a certificate, he must give notice<sup>29</sup> in writing to that person of his decision and of the reasons for it, and send a copy of the notice to the Registrar<sup>30</sup>.

411-441 Driving Instruction

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131; VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(5) REQUIREMENTS FOR DISABLED INSTRUCTORS/434. Further assessments for disabled driving instructors.

434. Further assessments for disabled driving instructors.

A person who has undergone an emergency control assessment<sup>1</sup> may not apply to undergo a further assessment until after the end of the period of six months beginning with the date of his most recent previous assessment, or such other period as may be prescribed by regulations<sup>2</sup>, unless he is required<sup>3</sup> by the Registrar<sup>4</sup> to submit himself for a further assessment<sup>5</sup>. A person whose name is not on the register<sup>6</sup> but who holds a current emergency control certificate<sup>7</sup> must, if at any time required to do so by the Registrar, submit himself for a further emergency control assessment (within the prescribed period<sup>8</sup>) and at the place specified by the Registrar<sup>9</sup>. In considering whether to exercise, in respect of any person, his power<sup>10</sup>, the Registrar must have regard to any recommendation included in that person's current emergency control certificate as to the period after the end of which he should undergo a further emergency control assessment<sup>11</sup>.

A person who already holds a current emergency control certificate, but wishes to undergo a further emergency control assessment with a view to establishing his ability to control any class of motor car<sup>12</sup> not specified in his current certificate, may, with the consent of the Registrar<sup>13</sup> apply to undergo a further assessment; but a person applying to undergo such a further assessment is not required to make a declaration stating every relevant or prospective disability<sup>14</sup> from which he is suffering or has at any time suffered<sup>15</sup>. Such an application for the consent of the Registrar must be made in such manner and be accompanied by such particulars as the Registrar may require<sup>16</sup>.

If, as a result of undergoing a further emergency control assessment, a person is granted a fresh emergency control certificate the grant of that certificate has the effect of revoking the previous certificate with effect from the date on which it is notified as taking effect<sup>17</sup>. However, if, in the case of an emergency control assessment conducted in respect of a person who holds a current emergency control certificate, the assessor<sup>18</sup> is not satisfied that if an emergency arose while he was giving instruction he would be able to take control of a motor car of a class covered by his disabled person's limited driving licence either without any modifications or only with appropriate modifications<sup>19</sup>, he must revoke the certificate<sup>20</sup>. Where a person's emergency control certificate is so revoked the assessor must serve notice<sup>21</sup> in writing on him specifying the grounds for the revocation, and the date, not being earlier than the date of service of the notice, on which the revocation is to take effect, and send a copy of the notice to the Registrar<sup>22</sup>.

436. Offences relating to driving instruction for disabled driving instructors.

No registered disabled instructor<sup>1</sup>, or person who holds a licence for giving instruction so as to obtain practical experience<sup>2</sup> may give paid instruction<sup>3</sup> in the driving of a motor car<sup>4</sup> unless he is the holder of a current emergency control certificate<sup>5</sup>. No such person may give, in any unauthorised motor car<sup>6</sup>, paid instruction in the driving of a motor car<sup>7</sup>. Where instruction is given in contravention of this provision the person by whom it is given is guilty of an offence and, if that person is employed by another to give that instruction, that other is also guilty of an offence<sup>8</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registered disabled instructor' see PARA 417 note 7 ante. As to the registration of disabled instructors see PARA 417 ante.

2 I.e. a licence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129 (as amended) granted by virtue of s 129(2)(b) (as substituted): see PARA 430 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'paid instruction' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 413 note 2 ante.

5 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133D(1), (2) (s 133D added by the Road Traffic (Driving Instruction by Disabled Persons) Act 1993 s 5). For the meaning of 'emergency control certificate' see PARA 417 note 4 ante; and for the meaning of 'current certificate' see PARA 413 note 2 ante. The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133D(1) (as added) is prospectively repealed, and s 133D(2) amended, by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 42, 59, Sch 6 paras 1, 18(1)-(4), Sch 7, as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1), with the effect that the words 'or person who holds a licence for giving instruction so as to obtain practical experience' are removed and 'vehicle' is substituted for 'car'. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

6 'Unauthorised motor car', in relation to any person, means a motor car other than one which falls within the class of motor car specified in his current emergency control certificate and, where modifications are specified in that certificate, is modified in accordance with the specification: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133D(5) (as added: see note 5 supra). As to classes of vehicle see PARA 208 ante. For the meaning of 'modifications' see PARA 417 note 3 ante.

7 Ibid s 133D(3) (as added: see note 5 supra). Section 133D(3) (as added) is prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 18(3), (4), as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1), so as to provide that no registered disabled instructor may give, in any unauthorised motor vehicle, paid instruction in the driving of a motor vehicle. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

8 Ibid s 133D(4) (as added: see note 5 supra). Section 133D(4) (as added) is prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 18(5), as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1), so as to provide that where a registered disabled instructor gives instruction in contravention of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133D (as added and prospectively amended): (1) the instructor; (2) if the instructor is employed by another person to give that instruction, that other person (as well as the instructor); and (3) if the instructor is a franchisee under a driving instruction franchise, the franchisor (as well as the instructor), is guilty of an offence. For the meaning of 'driving instruction franchise' and as to the meanings of 'franchisee' and 'franchisor' see PARA 413 note 26 ante.

A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 42, 59, Sch 6 paras 31, 33(1), (5), Sch 7). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post.

(6) GENERAL PROVISIONS

437. Appeals and reviews of examinations.

A person who is aggrieved<sup>1</sup> by a decision of the Registrar<sup>2</sup>: (1) to refuse an application for the entry of his name in the register<sup>3</sup>; (2) to refuse an application for the retention of his name in the register<sup>4</sup>; or (3) to remove his name from the register<sup>5</sup>, may by notice<sup>6</sup> in writing appeal<sup>7</sup> to the Transport Tribunal<sup>8</sup> within the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which notice of the decision was given in accordance with Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>9</sup>.

A person who is aggrieved by a decision of the Registrar to refuse an application for the grant of a licence under Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988, or to revoke such a licence, may by notice in writing appeal to the Transport Tribunal within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which notice of the decision was given in accordance with Part V of the Act<sup>10</sup>.

On the appeal the Transport Tribunal may make such order for the grant or refusal of the application, or for the removal or the retention of the name in the register, or the revocation or continuation of the licence (as the case may be), as it thinks fit<sup>11</sup>. An order for such refusal, removal or revocation may direct that an application by the appellant for the grant of a licence under Part V of the Act, or for his name to be entered in the register, must not be entertained before the expiration of such period, not exceeding four years beginning with the day on which the order is made, as may be specified in the order<sup>12</sup>. If the Transport Tribunal considers that any evidence adduced on an appeal had not been adduced to the Registrar before he gave the decision to which the appeal relates, it may instead of making such an order remit the matter to the Registrar for him to reconsider the decision<sup>13</sup>.

A person who is aggrieved by a decision of the Registrar not to give a specified direction<sup>14</sup> may by notice in writing appeal to the Transport Tribunal within the period of ten days beginning with the day on which notice of the decision is given<sup>15</sup>. The Transport Tribunal must determine the appeal by either: (a) giving the direction concerned; or (b) dismissing the appeal, within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which notice of the decision is given<sup>16</sup>.

Where the Registrar has decided to refuse an application for the retention of a name in the register, to remove a name from the register or to revoke a licence<sup>17</sup> but either: (i) he gave a direction<sup>18</sup>; or (ii) the Transport Tribunal has given such a direction on appeal, he may by notice in writing apply to the Transport Tribunal for an order that the decision is to take effect immediately<sup>19</sup>. The Transport Tribunal must determine the Registrar's application by either granting or refusing the application, within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which it is made<sup>20</sup>. The Transport Tribunal may only grant the application if it considers that a failure to do so might prejudicially affect the well-being of any person to whom the person concerned may give instruction in the driving of a motor car, or the safety of road users<sup>21</sup>. On an appeal, the Registrar is the respondent<sup>22</sup>.

No appeal lies<sup>23</sup> in respect of any matter for which an application may be made to a magistrates' court regarding the conduct of an examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars<sup>24</sup>.

On the application of a person who undergone a relevant examination<sup>25</sup>, or a part of such an examination, a magistrates' court may determine whether the examination or part was properly conducted<sup>25</sup>. If it appears to the court that that the examination or part was not properly conducted, it may order that any fee payable by the applicant in respect of the examination or part need not be paid or, if it has been paid, must be repaid<sup>27</sup>.

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131(1) (amended by the Transport Act 2000 s 258(1), (2)). The text refers to the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt V (ss 123-142) (as amended). The Registrar gives such notice under s 125(8), s 127(5) or s 128(4): see PARAS 415, 420-421 ante.

Section 131(1)(a)-(c) is prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 13(1), (2), as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1), with the effect that for heads (1)-(3) in the text there are substituted the following heads: (1) to refuse an application for his registration or for the extension of his registration; (2) to terminate his registration; (3) to give a direction as to further applications: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131(1)(a)-(c) (as so prospectively substituted). A direction as to further applications is given under s 128A (as prospectively added): see PARA 421 ante. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

10 Ibid s 131(2) (amended by the Transport Act 2000 s 258(2)). The decision of the Registrar must be notified in writing under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 129(4) (see PARA 430 ante) or, if the Registrar is considering revocation, this must be notified in writing under s 130(3) (see PARA 431 ante). Section 131(2) (as amended) is prospectively repealed, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 42, 59, Sch 6 para 13(3), Sch 7. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

11 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131(3) (amended by the Transport Act 2000 s 258(3)). The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131(3) (as amended) is further amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 13(4), as from a day to be appointed, with the effect that the Transport Tribunal may make such order for the grant or refusal of the application, for the continuation or termination of the registration, or for the revocation or confirmation of the direction or the alteration of the period specified in the direction (as the case may be), as it thinks fit. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

12 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131(4). Section 131(4) is prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 13(5), as from a day to be appointed, with the effect that an order for refusal or termination under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131(3)(a) or (b) (as prospectively amended) may direct that an application by the appellant to be registered must not be entertained before the expiration of the period specified in the order. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

14 I.e. under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(8) (as amended) (extension of duration of registration: see PARA 420 ante), s 128(7) (as amended) (removal of names from the register: see PARA 421 ante) or s 130(6) (as substituted) (revocation of licences: see PARA 431 ante).

15 Ibid s 131(4B) (s 131(4B)-(4F) added by the Transport Act 2000 s 259(4)). The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131(4B) (as added) is prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 13(6), as from a day to be appointed, so as to substitute for the references to the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 128(7) or s 130(6) (see note 14 supra) a reference to s 128(8) (as prospectively substituted) (see PARA 421 ante). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

16 Ibid s 131(4C) (as added: see note 15 supra).

17 I.e. a licence granted under ibid s 129 (as amended): see PARA 430 ante.

18 See note 14 supra.

19 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131(4D) (as added: see note 15 supra). Section 131(4D) (as added) is prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 13(7), as from a day to be appointed, so as to apply instead where the Registrar has decided to refuse an application for the extension of a person's registration or to terminate a person's registration; and the direction referred to is one given under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 127(8) (as prospectively amended) or s 128(8) (as prospectively substituted). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

20 Ibid s 131(4E) (as added: see note 15 supra).

21 Ibid s 131(4F) (as added: see note 15 supra). Section 131(4F) (as added) is prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 6 para 13(8), as from a day to be appointed, by substituting 'driving instruction' for 'instruction in the driving of a motor car'. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

22 Ibid s 131(4G) (added by the Transport Act 2000 s 260, Sch 29 paras 1, 12).

23 Ie under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131: see the text and notes 1-12 supra.

24 Ibid s 133(3). The application referred to in the text is made under s 133(1): see the text to note 26 infra. For the meaning of 'motor car' see PARA 413 note 2 ante. As to the examination of ability to give instruction see PARA 424 ante.

25 'Relevant examination' means: (1) an examination of ability to give instruction in the driving of motor cars; (2) a test of continued ability and fitness to give instruction in the driving of motor cars (or appropriate motor cars); or (3) an emergency control assessment: ibid s 133(4) (added by the Transport Act 2000 Sch 29, PARA 11(1), (4)). For the meaning of 'emergency control assessment' see PARA 432 note 5 ante.

26 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133(1) (amended by the Transport Act 2000 Sch 29 para 11(2); and the Courts Act 2003 s 109(1), Sch 8 para 309). For the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 412 note 2 ante. As to the regulations governing examinations of ability to give instruction see PARA 424 ante.

27 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133(2) (amended by the Transport Act 2000 Sch 29 para 11(3)).

The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133 (as amended) is prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 42, Sch 6 paras 1, 14, as from a day to be appointed under s 61(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As from such a day, the following provisions apply. On the application of a person who has undergone a relevant instructor examination, or a part of a relevant instructor examination, a magistrates' court may determine whether the examination, or the part of the examination, was properly conducted: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 133(1) (as so prospectively substituted). If it appears to the court that the examination was not properly conducted, the court may: (1) (except in the case of an emergency control assessment) order that the applicant is eligible to submit himself for another examination before the end of the period prescribed in s 132(2)(d) (as prospectively substituted) (see PARA 422 head (d) ante); and (2) (in any case) order that any fee payable by the applicant in respect of the examination is not to be paid or, if it has been paid, is to be repaid: s 133(3) (as so prospectively substituted). No appeal lies in respect of any matter in respect of which an application may be made to a magistrates' court under s 131(1) (as prospectively substituted) (see note 9 supra): s 133(4) (as so prospectively substituted).

In Pt V (as amended), 'relevant instructor examination' means: (a) an examination of ability and fitness referred to in s 125ZA(2)(a) (as prospectively added) (see PARA 416 head (1) ante) or s 125A(6)(a) (as prospectively substituted) (see PARA 417 note 21 head (1) ante); (b) an examination of continued ability and fitness referred to in s 125ZA(4)(a) (as prospectively added) (see PARA 416 head (a) ante) or s 125A(7A)(a) (as prospectively added) (see PARA 417 note 21 head (a) ante); or (c) an emergency control assessment under s 133A (as added and amended) (see PARA 433 post): s 132(2) (as so prospectively substituted).

TEXT AND NOTES--References to the Transport Tribunal are now to the First-tier Tribunal: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 131 (amended by SI 2009/1885).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/3. DRIVING INSTRUCTION/(6) GENERAL PROVISIONS/438. Production of certificates and licences to constables and authorised persons.

438. Production of certificates and licences to constables and authorised persons.

A person to whom a certificate of registration<sup>1</sup> is issued, or to whom a licence under Part V of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>2</sup> is granted, must, on being so required by a constable<sup>3</sup> or a person authorised in writing by the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> in that behalf, produce the certificate or licence for examination<sup>5</sup>.

Where the name of a person is removed from the register<sup>6</sup>, or a licence expires or is revoked, then, if that person fails to satisfy an obligation to surrender it<sup>7</sup>, a constable or a person authorised in writing by the Secretary of State in that behalf may require him to produce the certificate or the licence, and upon its being produced may seize it and deliver it to the Registrar<sup>8</sup>.

A person who is so required<sup>9</sup> to produce a document and fails to do so is guilty of an offence<sup>10</sup>. However, in proceedings against any person for such an offence<sup>11</sup>, it is a defence for him to show that<sup>12</sup>:

- 761 (1) within seven days beginning with the day following that on which the production of the document was so required, it was produced<sup>13</sup>:
- 27
- 64. (a) where the requirement was made by a constable, at a police station specified at the time the production was required by the person required to produce the document<sup>14</sup>;
- 65. (b) where the requirement was made by a person other than a constable, at a place specified at that time by that person<sup>15</sup>; or
- 28
- 762 (2) the document was produced at that police station or, as the case may be, place as soon as was reasonably practicable<sup>16</sup>; or
- 763 (3) it was not reasonably practicable for it to be produced at that police station or, as the case may be, place before the day on which the proceedings were commenced<sup>17</sup>.

442 The legislation

NOTE 13--SI 2001/3343 amended: SI 2008/1965.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(i) Legislation/443. Power of the Secretary of State to make regulations.

443. Power of the Secretary of State to make regulations.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make regulations<sup>2</sup> for any purpose for which regulations may be made under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988 and under certain provisions of the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988<sup>3</sup> and for prescribing<sup>4</sup> anything which may be prescribed under any of those provisions, and otherwise for the purpose of carrying any of those provisions into effect<sup>5</sup>. In particular, the regulations may make provision with respect to:

- 764 (1) licences<sup>6</sup>, Northern Ireland licences<sup>7</sup>, Community licences<sup>8</sup> and counterparts<sup>9</sup> of such licences<sup>10</sup>;
- 765 (2) making any particulars with respect to any persons who are disqualified<sup>11</sup>, whose licences are suspended, or whose counterparts of licences<sup>12</sup> or of Northern Ireland or of Community licences (as the case may be) are endorsed, available for use by the police<sup>13</sup>;
- 766 (3) preventing a person holding more than one licence<sup>14</sup>;
- 767 (4) facilitating identification of holders of licences<sup>15</sup>;
- 768 (5) providing for the issue of licences and counterparts of licences in the place of licences or counterparts of licences lost or defaced on payment of such fee, and compliance with such requirements, as may be prescribed<sup>16</sup>;
- 769 (6) providing for the issue of new counterparts of Northern Ireland licences or of Community licences in the place of counterparts of Northern Ireland licences or (as the case may be) of Community licences that are lost or defaced<sup>17</sup>;
- 770 (7) the correspondence of one class<sup>18</sup> of motor vehicle<sup>19</sup> with another class of motor vehicle or of one test of competence to drive<sup>20</sup> with another (whatever the law under which the classification is made or the test conducted)<sup>21</sup>;
- 771 (8) the effect of a change in the classification of motor vehicles on licences then in force or issued, or on the right to or the subsequent granting of licences, or on Northern Ireland licences or Community licences then in force<sup>22</sup>; and
- 772 (9) enabling a person whose entitlement to the grant of a licence to drive a class of motor vehicle is preserved by regulations made by virtue of head (8) above, and who satisfies such conditions as may be prescribed, to drive (and be employed in driving) that class of motor vehicle while he applies for the licence to be granted to him<sup>23</sup>, and different regulations may be made as respects different classes of vehicles or as respects the same class of vehicles in different circumstances<sup>24</sup>.

The regulations may make different provision for different circumstances, provide for exemptions from any provision of the regulations, and contain such incidental and supplemental provisions as the Secretary of State considers expedient for the purposes of the regulations<sup>25</sup>. Any fee prescribed<sup>26</sup> must be of an amount approved by the Treasury<sup>27</sup>, and different fees may be prescribed for different circumstances and in relation to licences in different forms<sup>28</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

2 For regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105 (as amended) see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864 (as amended). For regulations having effect as if made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105 by virtue of the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 s 2(2) see the Goods Vehicles (Ascertainment of Maximum Gross Weights) Regulations 1976, SI 1976/555.

3 Ie under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 2 (as amended) (see PARA 1028 post), s 7 (as amended) (see PARA 1032 post), s 8 (as amended) (see PARA 1033 post), ss 23-26 (s 25 as amended; and ss 24, 26 as substituted and amended) (see PARAS 1044-1046 post), s 27 (as amended) (see PARA 1047 post), s 31 (as amended) (see PARA 1054 post), ss 34-48 (s 41A as added; ss 42, 44, 45, 46, 47 as amended; and s 48 as substituted) (see PARA 1058 et seq post), ss 91ZA-91B (as added) (see PARAS 1024-1025, 1084 post): Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105(5) (amended by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 91(1), Sch 5 paras 17, 23(b); the Road Safety Act 2006 s 58(2); and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 17(3)). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105(5) (as amended) is further amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 10, Sch 3 paras 2, 13(1), (3) so as to substitute for the reference to s 91ZA-91B (as added) a reference to s 91ZA (as added) and s 91A (as added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

4 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1). 'Regulations' means regulations made under s 105: s 108(1).

5 Ibid s 105(1). The power is very broad. The powers in respect of specific matters in s 105(2) (as amended) are expressed to be without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of s 105(1): see s 105(2) (as amended); and the text and notes 9-23 infra.

6 Ie licences under ibid Pt III (as amended). 'Licence' (except where the context otherwise requires) means a licence to drive a motor vehicle granted under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) (see PARAS 444-484 post): s 108(1) (definition amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 15). The expression 'licence' as used in the Road Traffic Act 1988 normally, though not always, refers to the document itself rather than the authority to drive which it confers.

7 'Northern Ireland driving licence' or 'Northern Ireland licence' means a licence to drive a motor vehicle granted under the law of Northern Ireland: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 15).

8 For the meaning of 'Community licence' see PARA 415 note 16 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'counterpart' see PARA 415 note 19 ante.

10 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105(2)(a) (substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 17(a)). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105(2)(a) (as substituted) is amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 10(12), Sch 3 paras 2, 13(1), (2)(a), so that head (1) in the text will refer only to licences, Northern Ireland licences and Community licences. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

11 'Disqualified' means disqualified for holding or obtaining a licence (or, in cases where the disqualification is limited, a licence to drive motor vehicles of the class to which the disqualification relates); and 'disqualification' is to be interpreted accordingly: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 15).

12 Ie under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended).

13 Ibid s 105(2)(b) (substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 17(a); and amended by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 23(a) (i), (ii)). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105(2)(b) (as substituted and amended) is further amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10(12), 59, Sch 3 para 13(2)(b), Sch 7 so as to remove the reference to counterparts. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105(2)(b) (as substituted and amended) is repealed by the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 ss 71(5), 75, Sch 8. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

(ii) Requirement to hold a Driving Licence

444. Drivers of motor vehicles to hold driving licences.

It is an offence for a person to drive<sup>1</sup> on a road<sup>2</sup> a motor vehicle<sup>3</sup> of any class<sup>4</sup> otherwise than in accordance with a licence<sup>5</sup> authorising him to drive a motor vehicle of that class<sup>6</sup>. It is also an offence for a person to cause or permit another person to drive on a road a motor vehicle of any class otherwise than in accordance with a licence authorising that other person to drive a motor vehicle of that class<sup>7</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

4 As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

6 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 87(1) (s 87 amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 17). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale; disqualification is discretionary in a case where the offender's driving would not have been in accordance with any licence that could have been granted to him; endorsement is obligatory in a case where the offender's driving would not have been in accordance with any licence that could have been granted to him; and 3-6 penalty points may be attributed: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 28 (as substituted) (see PARA 1049 post), s 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 26, Sch 2). An offence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 87(1) (as amended) of driving a vehicle otherwise in accordance with the requisite licence is a fixed penalty offence: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 51, Sch 3 (entry amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 48, Sch 4 para 112(4)). As to fixed penalty offences see PARA 1093 post; and as to fixed penalties generally see PARA 1089 et seq post. As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; as to disqualification see PARA 1057 et seq post; as to endorsement see PARA 1080 et seq post; as to penalty points see PARA 1048 et seq post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post.

A person may be convicted of driving otherwise than in accordance with a licence if, for example, he drives while holding no licence, while not holding a licence for that class of vehicle, while under age, or while in breach of provisional licence conditions: see PARA 462 et seq post.

The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 87 (as amended) applies to tramcars with certain modifications: see the Tramcars and Trolley Vehicles (Modification of Enactments) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1217, reg 8. For the meanings of 'tramcar' and 'trolley vehicle' see PARA 219 ante. As to tramcars and trolley vehicles see PARA 1532 et seq post.

The Secretary of State may make payments to police authorities in relation to the prevention, detection and enforcement of offences under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 87(1): see the Serious Organised Crime and Police Act 2005 s 155.

7 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 87(2) (as amended: see note 6 supra). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 Sch 2). As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

69. (a) a full licence<sup>15</sup> authorising the driving of vehicles of that class<sup>16</sup>; or
70. (b) a full Northern Ireland licence<sup>17</sup> authorising the driving of vehicles of that or a corresponding class<sup>18</sup>;
- 32
- 775 or, if it is available to him, he satisfies the relevant alternative requirement<sup>19</sup>; or
- 776 (3) at some time during the period of two years ending with the date the application is made he has passed a test of competence to drive vehicles of that or a corresponding class or for the purpose of obtaining a British Forces licence<sup>20</sup>; or
- 777 (4) at some time not earlier than the appointed day he has held a full British external licence<sup>21</sup>, or a full British Forces licence to drive vehicles of that or a corresponding class<sup>22</sup>; or
- 778 (5) at some time during the period of two years ending with the date the application is made he has passed a test of competence to drive vehicles of that or a corresponding class conducted under the law of Gibraltar<sup>23</sup>; or
- 779 (6) either at the time of the application for the licence he holds a Community licence<sup>24</sup> authorising the driving of vehicles of that or a corresponding class or at some time he has held such a Community licence<sup>25</sup>; or
- 780 (7) that, at the time of the application for the licence, he holds an exchangeable licence<sup>26</sup> authorising the driving of vehicles of that or a corresponding class<sup>27</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

4 As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

5 An applicant meets the relevant residence requirement referred to in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1) (as amended) if on the date the application for the licence is made:

74 (1) in a case where he satisfies the Secretary of State in respect of s 89(1)(ea) (as added), he is normally resident in the United Kingdom or has been attending a course of study in the United Kingdom during the period of six months ending on that date (s 89(1A)(a) (s 89(1A) added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 2(3));

75 (2) in a case where he satisfies the Secretary of State in respect of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(f) (as substituted) (see head (7) in the text), he is normally resident in Great Britain but has not been so resident for more than the prescribed period (s 89(1A)(b) (as so added)); and 76 (3) in any other case, he is normally resident in Great Britain (s 89(1A)(c) (as so added)).

As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 224 note 5 ante. For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 205 note 3 ante. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 443 note 4 ante.

The expression 'normally resident' is not defined or explained in the Road Traffic Act 1988. It is submitted that it must be construed in accordance with EC Council Directive 91/439 (OJ L237, 24.8.91, p 1) on driving licences, art 9 as the amendment inserting the requirement that an applicant be normally resident in Great Britain was by virtue of regulations expressed to be made for the purpose of implementing that Directive.

6 le the requirements set out in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1) (as amended): see heads (1)-(7) in the text.

7 See ibid s 89(1) (amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1, PARA 2(2)). For the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1) (as amended):

77 (1) a licence which has been revoked under s 99(3) (as amended) (see PARA 472 post) or under any corresponding provision of the law of Northern Ireland, the relevant external law, or the law of an EEA state other than the United Kingdom, as a licence granted in error must be disregarded for the purposes of s 89(1)(b) (as substituted), s 89(1)(d) (as substituted), or s 89(1)(ea) (as added) (as the case may be) (s 89(2)(a) (s 89(2) substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 4(3); and the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(2)(a) further substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 2(4));

78 (2) a British external licence to drive any class of goods vehicle or any class of passenger-carrying vehicle is to be disregarded for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(d) (as substituted) unless the Secretary of State, by order made by statutory instrument, designates the relevant external law under which it is granted as one which makes satisfactory provision for the granting of such licences (s 89(2)(c) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 4(3))).

'Relevant external law' means the law for the time being in force in the Isle of Man or any of the Channel Islands which corresponds to the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended): s 88(8) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 3). For the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 415 note 16 ante.

The Driving Licences (Designation of Relevant External Law) Order 1996, SI 1996/3206, and the Driving Licences (Designation of Relevant External Law) Order 2002, SI 2002/2590, have been made under the Road Traffic Act 1988: see s 88(8) (as so added), s 89(2)(c) (as so substituted).

8 For the purposes of ibid s 89 (as amended), s 89A (as added and amended), 'the appointed day' means the day appointed for the coming into force of the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 1, that is 1 April 1991: see the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(11) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 8(e); and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 2(10)).

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(a) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 4(2); and amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 59, Sch 7). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(a) (as substituted and amended) is further amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 38(1)(a), so that the requirement will be that he has, at such time or within such period as is prescribed, passed a test of competence to drive as described in the text.

10 le prescribed by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(3) (as amended): see PARA 449 notes 2-6 post.

11 Ibid s 89(1)(a)(i) (as substituted: see note 9 supra). For the meaning of 'test of competence to drive' see PARA 443 note 20 ante.

12 Ibid s 89(1)(a)(ii) (as substituted: see note 9 supra). A test of competence falling within head (1)(b), head (3) or head (5) in the text is to be treated as sufficient for the granting of a licence authorising the driving of:

79 (1) vehicles of all classes designated by regulations as a group for the purposes of head (1) in the text, if (unless the regulations otherwise provide) at the time the test was passed it authorised the granting of a licence to drive vehicles of any class included in the group, or of any class corresponding to a class included in the group (s 89(9)(a) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 8(e); and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 2(8)); and

- 80 (2) vehicles of all classes included in another such group, if a person passing a test of competence authorising the granting of a licence to drive vehicles of a class included in the group mentioned in head (1) supra is treated by virtue of regulations as competent also to drive vehicles of a class included in that other group (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(9)(b) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 8(e))).

As to groupings of vehicles for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89 (as amended) see PARA 454 post.

13 Ibid s 89(1)(a)(iii) (as substituted: see note 9 supra). The text refers to a test of competence which under s 89(6) (as amended) is a sufficient test: see s 89(1)(a)(iii) (as so substituted). Section 89(6) (amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 59, Sch 7) provides that for these purposes a test of competence is to be sufficient for the granting of a licence authorising the driving of:

- 81 (1) vehicles of any class, if at the time the test was passed it authorised the granting of a licence to drive vehicles of that class (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(6)(a) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 3 para 8(b)));
- 82 (2) vehicles of all classes which are designated by regulations as a group for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(a) (as substituted), if at the time the test was passed it authorised the granting of a licence to drive vehicles of any class included in the group (s 89(6) (b) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 3 para 8(b))); and
- 83 (3) vehicles of all classes included in another such group, if a person passing the test is treated by virtue of regulations made for these purposes as competent also to drive vehicles of a class included in that other group (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(6)(c)) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 3 para 8(b))).

The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(6) is amended by the Transport Act 2000 s 260, Sch 29 paras 1, 2 as from a day to be appointed, making it subject to regulations under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99ZA (as added) (see PARA 485 post). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

It is difficult to see how a test could ever be 'sufficient' for the purposes of s 89(1) (as amended) by applying the test laid down in s 89(6) (as amended) and yet not also fall within s 89(1)(a)(i) (as substituted) as a test prescribed by virtue of s 89(3) (as amended) (see PARA 449 post) which provides, inter alia, that regulations may make provision generally with respect to tests of competence including presumably provision as to the nature of the entitlement gained upon passing the test. It appears that this is a vestige of earlier legislation which was not removed in the course of the 1988 consolidation and which was designed to preserve the rights of persons who had passed a test conducted under legislation in force prior to that. Whatever the position, the regulations do treat certain tests of competence as sufficient for authorising the grant of a licence to drive a different class of vehicle from the one in which the test was passed: see PARAS 451, 454 post.

14 Ibid s 89(1)(b) (s 89(1)(b) substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 4(2)).

15 'Full licence' means a licence other than a provisional licence: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 15).

16 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 14 supra). If vehicles of any classes are designated by regulations as a group for the purposes of s 89(1)(b) (as substituted), a licence authorising the driving of vehicles of a class included in the group is to be deemed for the purposes of s 89(1)(b)(i) (as substituted) or s 89A(4)(a) (as added) (the alternative requirement) to authorise: (1) the driving of vehicles of all classes included in the group unless the regulations otherwise provide; and (2) vehicles of all classes included in another such group if the licence holder is treated by virtue of regulations as competent also to drive vehicles of a class included in that other group: s 89(7) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 3 para 8(c), (d); and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 2(6)). The reference in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(7) (as amended) to a licence does not include a licence which has been revoked in pursuance of s 99(3) (as amended) (see PARA 472 note 1 post): s 89(7) (as so amended).

As to groupings of vehicles for the purposes of s 89 (as amended) see PARA 454 post.

17 For the meaning of 'Northern Ireland licence' see PARA 443 note 7 ante.

18 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 14 supra). A full Northern Ireland licence, a full British external licence, a full British Forces licence, a Community licence or an exchangeable licence are treated for the purposes of s 89(1)(b)(ii) (as substituted), s 89(1)(d) (as substituted and amended), s 89(1)(ea) (as added) or s 89(1)(f) (as substituted), as the case may be, as authorising the driving of: (1) vehicles of all classes designated by regulations as a group for the purposes of s 89(1)(b) (as substituted), unless the regulations otherwise provide, if the licence authorises the driving of vehicles of any class included in the group, or any class corresponding to a class included in the group; and (2) vehicles of all classes included in another such group, if by virtue of regulations a person holding a licence authorising him to drive vehicles of any class included in the group so mentioned is treated as competent also to drive vehicles of a class included in that other group: see s 89(10) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 3 para 8(e); and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 2(9)).

19 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 14 supra). The relevant alternative requirement is that specified in s 89A (as added): see s 89(1)(b) (as so substituted). The requirement which is alternative to that specified in head (2) in the text on an application by a person for a licence authorising the driving of motor vehicles of any class other than a prescribed class of goods or passenger-carrying vehicle prescribed for the purposes of s 89A(5) (as added) is that at some time before the appointed day (see note 8 supra) but not earlier than 1 January 1976 he has held a full licence authorising the driving of vehicles of a class corresponding to the class of motor vehicle to which his application relates (s 89A(4)(a) (s 89A added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 4(4))), or a full Northern Ireland licence authorising the driving of vehicles of a class corresponding to the class of motor vehicle to which his application relates (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89A(4)(b) (as so added)).

For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 220 ante. For the meaning of 'passenger-carrying vehicle' see PARA 489 note 6 post; definition applied by s 108(1) (definition added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 15).

For the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89A (as added and amended), 'heavy goods vehicle' and 'public service vehicle' have the same meanings as they had for the purposes of Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as substituted and amended) or the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981 s 22 before their repeal by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 1: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89A(7) (as so added). For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 443 note 4 ante. For the prescribed classes of goods and passenger-carrying vehicle see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 49.

There is no longer an alternative requirement available to a person on an application for a licence authorising the driving of a prescribed class of goods or passenger-carrying vehicle, the relevant provision having expired on 31 March 1996.

20 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(c) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 4(2); and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 2(2)). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(c) (as substituted and amended) is further amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 38(1)(b), so that the requirement will be that he has, at such time or within such period as is prescribed, passed a test of competence to drive as described in the text. 'British Forces licence' means a licence granted in the Federal Republic of Germany by the British authorities to members of the British Forces or of the civilian components of those forces or their dependants: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(8) (as added: see note 7 supra).

21 'British external licence' means a licence granted in the Isle of Man or any of the Channel Islands under the relevant external law: ibid s 88(8) (as added: see note 7 supra).

22 Ibid s 89(1)(d) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 4(2); and amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 59, Sch 7).

24 For the meaning of 'Community licence' see PARA 415 note 16 ante.

25 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(ea) (added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 2(2)).

26 'Exchangeable licence' means a document authorising a person to drive a motor vehicle (not being a document mentioned in head (2) of the definition of 'Community licence') which is: (1) issued in respect of Gibraltar by an authority of Gibraltar; (2) issued in respect of a country or territory which is designed without restriction by an order under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(2)(a) (as substituted) by an authority of that country or territory; or (3) issued in respect of a country or territory which is designated by a restricted order under s 108(2)(b) (as substituted) by an authority of that country or territory, being a document which is a licence of a description specified in that order, and a licence of a description so specified as to which provision is made as mentioned in s 108(2B) (as added) is only an exchangeable licence to the extent that it authorises its holder to drive vehicles of a class specified in the order: s 108(1) (definition substituted by the Deregulation (Exchangeable Driving Licences) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1917, reg 2(2)). For the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89 (as amended) and s 88(1) (as amended) (see PARA 446 post), an exchangeable licence issued in respect of a country or territory is not to be treated as authorising a person to drive a vehicle of any class if the licence is not for the time being valid for that purpose, or it was issued in respect of that class for a purpose corresponding to that mentioned in s 97(2) (provisional licences): s 89(8) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 3 para 8(c), (d); and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 2(7)).

27 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(f) (substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 2(2)).

The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1) (as amended) is subject to the provisions of Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) as to provisional licences and to the provisions of any regulations made by virtue of s 105(2)(f) (as amended) (see PARA 443 note 22 ante): s 89(1). 'Provisional licence' means a licence granted by virtue of s 97(2) (see PARA 464 note 4 post): s 108(1). For the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 443 note 4 ante.

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131; VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(iii) Exceptions to the Requirement to hold a Driving Licence/446. Qualifying applicants and persons temporarily without a valid licence.

(iii) Exceptions to the Requirement to hold a Driving Licence

446. Qualifying applicants and persons temporarily without a valid licence.

Notwithstanding that he does not hold a licence<sup>1</sup> authorising him to do so, a person may drive<sup>2</sup>, or cause or permit<sup>3</sup> another person to drive, a vehicle of any class at any time<sup>4</sup>:

781 (1) if the person driving it has held<sup>5</sup>:

33

- 71. (a) a licence<sup>6</sup> to drive vehicles of that or a corresponding class<sup>7</sup>;
- 72. (b) a Community licence<sup>8</sup> to drive vehicles of that or a corresponding class<sup>9</sup>;
- 73. (c) a Northern Ireland licence<sup>10</sup> to drive vehicles of that or a corresponding class<sup>11</sup>;
- 74. (d) a British external licence<sup>12</sup> or British Forces licence<sup>13</sup> to drive vehicles of that or a corresponding class<sup>14</sup>;
- 75. (e) an exchangeable licence<sup>15</sup> to drive vehicles of that or a corresponding class<sup>16</sup>; and

34

782 (2) either of the following applies<sup>17</sup>:

35

76. (a) a qualifying application<sup>18</sup> made by him for the grant of a licence to drive vehicles of that class for a period which includes that time has been received by the Secretary of State<sup>19</sup>; or

77. (b) a licence to drive vehicles of that class granted to him has been revoked or surrendered<sup>20</sup> otherwise than by reason of a current disqualification or of its having been granted in error and he has complied with the relevant requirements<sup>21</sup>; and

783 (3) any conditions which apply<sup>22</sup> to the driving under the authority of the licence of vehicles of that class are complied with<sup>23</sup>.

The benefit of the exemption described at heads (1), (2) and (3) above does not extend:

784 (i) beyond the date when a licence is granted in pursuance of the qualifying application<sup>24</sup> or (as the case may be) in consequence of the revocation or surrender<sup>25</sup> mentioned in head (2) above<sup>26</sup>; or

785 (ii) in a case where a licence is not in fact so granted, beyond the expiration of the period of one year or such shorter time as may be prescribed, beginning on the date of the qualifying application or (as the case may be) the revocation or surrender mentioned in head (2) above<sup>27</sup>; or 786 (iii) in a case where a licence is refused<sup>28</sup>, beyond the day on which the applicant receives notice of the refusal<sup>29</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed, the benefit of the exemption described at heads (1), (2) and (3) above does not apply by virtue of an application mentioned in head (2) above having been received by the Secretary of State if:

787 (A) the application was made as a result of, or in anticipation of, the expiry of a disqualification relevant to the licence applied for;

788 (B) either the nature of the disqualification or its imposition within a particular period after an earlier disqualification amounted to circumstances prescribed in relation to disqualification for high risk offenders<sup>30</sup>; and 789 (C) the Secretary of State has notified the applicant that, because of that, he will be subject to a requirement<sup>31</sup> to authorise the release of medical information or to submit to a medical examination<sup>32</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'causes or permits' see PARA 261 note 6 ante.

4 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1) (amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 58(1)). This is notwithstanding the requirement to hold a licence: see the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1) (as so amended). Such a licence is granted under Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended): see PARA 462 et seq post. As to the entitlement to drive of a person holding a Community licence by virtue of s 99A (as added and amended) see PARA 473 post. As to the entitlement to drive of a person holding a Northern Ireland licence by virtue of s 109 (as amended) see PARA 484 post. As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

5 Ibid s 88(1)(a) (s 88(1)(a) substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 3).

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1)(a)(ia) (s 88(1)(a) as substituted (see note 5 supra); and s 88(1)(a)(ia) added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 1).

10 For the meaning of 'Northern Ireland licence' see PARA 443 note 7 ante.

11 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1)(a)(ii) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

12 For the meaning of 'British external licence' see PARA 445 note 21 ante.

13 For the meaning of 'British Forces licence' see PARA 445 note 20 ante.

14 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1)(a)(iii) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

15 For the meaning of 'exchangeable licence' see PARA 445 note 26 ante.

The Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument designate a country or territory which neither is nor forms part of an EEA state for the purposes of the definition of 'exchangeable licence':

84 (1) as respects all licences authorising the driving of motor vehicles granted under the law of that country or territory, where the Secretary of State is satisfied that satisfactory provision is made by that law for the granting of licences to drive motor vehicles (ibid s 108(2)(a) (s 108(2) substituted by the Deregulation (Exchangeable Driving Licences) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1917, reg 2(3)); or 85 (2) as respects only licences authorising the driving of motor vehicles granted under the law of that country or territory of a description specified in the order, where the Secretary of State is satisfied that satisfactory provision is made by that law for the granting of licences of that description (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(2)(b) (as so substituted)).

For the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 415 note 16 ante.

An order under head (2) supra may specify a description of licence by reference to any feature of the licences concerned (including in particular the circumstances in which they are granted, any conditions to which they are subject or the classes of vehicle which they authorise the holders to drive): s 108(2A) (added by the Deregulation (Exchangeable Driving Licences) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1917, reg 2(3)). Such an order may also provide that a licence of a specified description is only to be treated as an exchangeable licence in so far as it authorises its holder to drive vehicles of a class specified in the order: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(2B) (added by the Deregulation (Exchangeable Driving Licences) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1917, reg 2(3)). Before making any order under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(2) (as substituted), the Secretary of State must consult with such representative organisations as he thinks fit: s 108(3). The Driving Licences (Exchangeable Licences) Order 1999, SI 1999/1641, the Driving Licences (Exchangeable Licences) Order 2002, SI 2002/2379, the Driving Licences (Exchangeable Licences) Order 2004, SI 2004/301, the Driving Licences (Exchangeable Licences) Order 2007, SI 2007/95, and the Driving Licences (Exchangeable Licences) (Amendment) Order 2007, SI 2007/96, have been made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(2) (as substituted), and (by virtue of the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 s 2(2) and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b)) the Driving Licences (Exchangeable Licences) Order 1984, SI 1984/672 (amended by SI 2002/1593) has effect as if made under it.

As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

16 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1)(a)(iv) (as substituted: see note 5 supra).

17 Ibid s 88(1)(b).

18 An application for the grant of a licence to drive vehicles of any class is a qualifying application for the purposes of ibid s 88(1)(b)(i) if:

86 (1) the requirements of s 97(1)(a), s 97(1)(b) so far it relates to initial evidence, and s 97(1)(c) (see PARA 462 post) have been satisfied (s 88(1A)(a) (s 88(1A) added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 3));

87 (2) the applicant:

1. (a) is not subject to a current disqualification which is relevant to the licence he applies for (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1A)(b)(i) (as so added)); and

2. (b) is not prevented from obtaining it by s 89 (see PARAS 445 ante, 449, 451 post), or by the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 4, Sch 1 paras 6 or 9 (see PARA 517 post) (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1A)(b)(ii) (as so added; and amended by the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 10(4), Sch 2 paras 1, 2(1), (2) (a); and by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 91(1), Sch 5 paras 17, 18(a)); and<sup>2</sup>

88 (3) the declaration made in pursuance of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(1) (see PARA 455 post) indicates that he is not suffering from a relevant disability (s 88(1A)(c) (as so added)).

A disqualification is relevant to the licence for which a person makes an application if:

- 89 (i) in the case of any application made by virtue of s 88(1)(a) (as substituted) (see head (1)(a) in the text), the disqualification subsists under or by virtue of any provision of the Road Traffic Acts and relates to vehicles of the class to which his application relates (s 88(1B)(a) (s 88(1B) added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 3));
- 90 (ii) in the case of an application made by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1)(a)(ia) (as added) (see head (1)(b) in the text), the disqualification subsists under or by virtue of any provision of the law of an EEA state (other than the United Kingdom) and relates to vehicles of the class, or of a class corresponding to the class, to which his application relates (s 88(1B)(aa) (added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 1));
- 91 (iii) in the case of an application made by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1)(a)(ii) (as substituted) (see head (1)(c) in the text), the disqualification subsists under or by virtue of any provision of the law of Northern Ireland and relates to vehicles of the class, or of a class corresponding to the class, to which his application relates (s 88(1B)(b) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 3));
- 92 (iv) in the case of an application made by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1)(a)(iii) (as substituted) (see head (1)(d) in the text), the disqualification subsists under or by virtue of any provision of the relevant external law or, as the case may be, is a disqualification for holding or obtaining a British Forces licence and relates to vehicles of the class, or of a class corresponding to the class, to which his application relates (s 88(1B)(c) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 3)); and
- 93 (v) in the case of an application made by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1)(a)(iv) (as substituted) (see head (1)(e) in the text), the disqualification subsists under or by virtue of any provision of the law of the country or territory under which the licence which he held was granted and relates to vehicles of the class, or of a class corresponding to the class, to which his application relates (s 88(1B)(d) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 3; and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 1)).

As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1B)(a) (as added) (see head (i) supra) is amended by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 18(b), so as to add a reference to disqualification under or by virtue of the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Pt 3 Ch 1 (ss 54-75) (as amended). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

A disqualification which does not prevent the person disqualified from obtaining a provisional licence or, as the case may be, a licence corresponding to a provisional licence is relevant to a full licence but not to a provisional licence: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 88(1B) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 3).

For the meaning of 'disqualified' see PARA 443 note 11 ante. 'Disability' includes disease and the persistent misuse of drugs or alcohol, whether or not such misuse amounts to dependency: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(2) (definition amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 3(2)). 'Relevant disability' in relation to any person means: (A) any prescribed disability; and (B) any other disability likely to cause the driving of a vehicle by him in pursuance of a licence to be a source of danger to the public: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(2). For the disabilities which are prescribed for this purpose see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, regs 70, 71(1), 72(1), 73(1)-(7), (11) (regs 72, 73 amended by SI 2003/166). The Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency ('DVLA') issues guidance to the medical profession from time to time on how it interprets the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1988. As to the DVLA see PARA 236 ante. For the meaning of 'the Road Traffic Acts' see PARA 202 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'provisional licence' see PARA 445 note 27 ante. For the meaning of 'full licence' see PARA 445 note 15 ante. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 443 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 443 note 4 ante. As to regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 105 (as amended) see PARA 443 ante.

21    Ibid s 88(1)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 19 supra). The relevant requirements are those imposed under s 99(7B) (as added): see PARA 472 note 16 post.

22    Ie which apply by virtue of ibid s 97(3) (as amended) or s 98(2) (as amended): see PARAS 464, 466 post.

23    Ibid s 88(1)(c). The Secretary of State may by regulations provide that s 88(1) (as amended) is also to apply (where its requirements are otherwise met) in the case of a person who has not previously held a licence to drive vehicles of the relevant class but any such regulations must, if not previously revoked, expire at the end of the period of one year beginning with the day on which they came into operation: see s 88(3), (4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made.

24    Ie an application under ibid s 88(1)(b) (as substituted): see the text and notes 17-21 supra.

25    The licence would be granted in pursuance of ibid s 99(7) (as substituted and amended) or s 99(7A) (as added): see PARA 472 post.

26    Ibid s 88(2)(a) (amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 3).

The amendment made by s 13(1) does not apply where the conviction in respect of which the disqualification was ordered was imposed before the coming into force of s 13(1): s 13(2).

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(iii) Exceptions to the Requirement to hold a Driving Licence/447. Persons who become resident in Great Britain.

447. Persons who become resident in Great Britain.

Regulations may provide that a person who becomes resident in Great Britain<sup>1</sup> may, during the prescribed period after he becomes so resident, be treated<sup>2</sup> as the holder of a licence<sup>3</sup> authorising him to drive<sup>4</sup> motor vehicles<sup>5</sup> of the prescribed classes if he satisfies the prescribed conditions, and if he is the holder of a permit of the prescribed description authorising him to drive vehicles under the law of a country outside the United Kingdom<sup>6</sup>.

There are two classes of person who become resident in Great Britain and who are treated<sup>7</sup> as licence holders<sup>8</sup>. A person who is the holder of a relevant permit<sup>9</sup>, and who is not disqualified for holding or obtaining a licence in Great Britain, is, during the period of one year after he becomes so resident, treated as the holder of a licence authorising him to drive all classes of small vehicle<sup>10</sup>, motor bicycle<sup>11</sup> or moped<sup>12</sup> which he is authorised to drive by that permit<sup>13</sup>. A person who is: (1) the holder of a British external licence<sup>14</sup> granted in the Isle of Man or Jersey authorising the driving of large goods vehicles<sup>15</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicles<sup>16</sup> of any class<sup>17</sup>; and (2) not disqualified for holding or obtaining a licence in Great Britain<sup>18</sup> is, during the period of one year after he becomes so resident, treated<sup>19</sup> as the holder of a licence authorising him to drive such vehicles of all classes which he is authorised to drive by that licence<sup>20</sup>.

Such regulations<sup>21</sup> may provide for the application of any enactment relating to licences, counterparts<sup>22</sup> of licences or licence holders, with or without modifications, in relation to any such permit and its holder respectively<sup>23</sup>.

1 It is a question of fact and degree as to whether a person is resident and not merely 'temporarily in Great Britain' and therefore subject to the provisions of the Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Order 1975, SI 1975/1208 (as amended): Flores v Scott [1984] 1 WLR 690, [1984] RTR 363, DC. For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 205 note 3 ante.

8 See ibid reg 80.

9 'Relevant permit' means: (1) a domestic driving permit; (2) a Convention driving permit; or (3) a British Forces (BFG) driving licence, within the meaning of the Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Order 1975, SI 1975/1208, art 2(7) (substituted by SI 1989/993; and amended by SI 1996/1929; SI 1996/1974; SI 2004/1992; and prospectively amended by SI 1989/993), which is: (a) for the time being valid for the purposes for which it was issued; and (b) is not a domestic driving permit or a British Forces (BFG) driving licence in respect of which any order made, or having effect as if made, by the Secretary of State is for the time being in force under the Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Order 1975, SI 1975/1208, art 2(6) (as substituted): Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 80(6). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

10 'Small vehicle' means a motor vehicle (other than an invalid carriage, moped or motor bicycle) which is not constructed or adapted to carry more than nine persons inclusive of the driver and which has a maximum gross weight not exceeding 3.5 tonnes; and includes a combination of such a motor vehicle and a trailer: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 19(2)). For the meaning of 'maximum gross weight' see PARA 413 note 1 ante.

11 'Motor bicycle' means a motor vehicle which has two wheels, and has a maximum design speed exceeding 45 kmph per hour and, if powered by an internal combustion engine, has a cylinder capacity exceeding 50 cubic centimetres, and includes a combination of such a motor vehicle and a side-car: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 19(2); and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 11).

- 12 'Moped' means a motor vehicle which has fewer than four wheels and:
  - 94 (1) in the case of a vehicle the first use (as defined in regulations made for the purpose of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(d) (as substituted): see PARA 464 post) of which occurred before 1 August 1977, has a cylinder capacity not exceeding 50 cubic centimetres and is equipped with pedals by means of which the vehicle is capable of being propelled (s 108(1) (definition added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 19(2))); and
  - 95 (2) in any other case, has a maximum design speed not exceeding 50 kilometres per hour and, if propelled by an internal combustion engine, has a cylinder capacity not exceeding 50 cubic centimetres (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition as so added)).
- 13 Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 80(1).
- 14 For the meaning of 'British external licence' see PARA 445 note 21 ante.
- 15 As to large goods vehicles see PARA 487 et seq post.
- 16 'Passenger-carrying vehicle recovery vehicle' means a vehicle (other than an articulated goods vehicle combination as defined in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1): see PARA 478 note 16 post) which: (1) has an unladen weight not exceeding 10.2 tonnes; (2) is being operated by the holder of a PSV operator's licence; and (3) is being used for the purpose of proceeding to, or returning from, a place where assistance is to be, or has been, given to a damaged or disabled passenger-carrying vehicle, or giving assistance to or moving a disabled passenger-carrying vehicle or moving a damaged vehicle: Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 3.
- 17 See ibid reg 80(2)(a), (3)(a) (amended by SI 2003/166).
- 18 See the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 80(2)(b), (3)(b) (amended by SI 2003/166).

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(iv) Driving Tests/449. Regulations making provision with respect to tests of competence to drive.

(iv) Driving Tests*449. Regulations making provision with respect to tests of competence to drive.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision with respect to:

- 790 (1)    the nature of tests of competence to drive, and the administrative arrangements for submitting for such tests<sup>2</sup>;
- 791 (2)    the qualifications, selection and appointment of persons by whom the tests may be conducted, conditions which must be satisfied during the currency of an appointment, the charging of reasonable fees in respect of applications for appointment or appointments or in connection with any examination or assessment

- which may be required before appointment or during the currency of any appointment and the revocation of any appointment<sup>3</sup>;
- 792 (3) the duty of a person submitting himself for a test to produce, and in prescribed circumstances surrender, any licence previously granted to him<sup>4</sup>;
- 793 (4) evidence of the results of such tests<sup>5</sup>, and generally with respect to such tests<sup>6</sup>.

Regulations under head (1) above<sup>7</sup> may in particular provide:

- 794 (a) for requiring a person submitting himself for a test to provide a safe and suitable vehicle for the purposes of the test and for requiring that, if the vehicle is a vehicle of a prescribed description, it has been certified in the prescribed manner after a prescribed inspection as satisfying such requirements as may be prescribed<sup>8</sup>;
- 795 (b) for requiring a person submitting himself for a test to have been normally resident in Great Britain<sup>9</sup> or the United Kingdom<sup>10</sup> for such period ending on the date of his appointment for the test as may be prescribed<sup>11</sup>;
- 796 (c) for the charging (whether on the making of an appointment for a test or otherwise) of reasonable fees for or in connection with the test and any inspection of a vehicle required by regulations under head (a) above in relation to the test<sup>12</sup>;
- 797 (d) for ensuring that a person submitting himself for a test and failing to pass that test is eligible to submit himself for another test by the same or any other person before the expiration of a period specified in the regulations, except under an order made by a court<sup>13</sup>, and different regulations may be made with respect to tests of competence to drive different classes of vehicles<sup>14</sup>.

If regulations<sup>15</sup> make provision for a test of competence to drive to consist of separate parts, they may make for each part any provision that could be made for a test not consisting of separate parts<sup>16</sup>.

Regulations under head (2) above may in particular provide<sup>17</sup>:

- 798 (i) for the supply by the Secretary of State<sup>18</sup> to persons by whom tests of competence to drive, or parts of such tests, may be conducted of forms for certificates evidencing the results of such tests or parts of such tests<sup>19</sup>; and
- 799 (ii) for the charging of reasonable fees in respect of the exercise of any function conferred or imposed on the Secretary of State by the regulations<sup>20</sup>.

450. Approved test assistants.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make regulations<sup>2</sup> permitting any person wishing to be accompanied at a relevant test<sup>3</sup> by another person (a 'test assistant') to be so accompanied if: (1) he submits himself for the relevant test in any circumstances in which the Secretary of State considers it appropriate that he should be entitled to be so accompanied; and (2) the test assistant is approved in accordance with regulations to accompany people at relevant tests in such circumstances in order to assist them in undergoing the relevant tests<sup>4</sup>.

The circumstances in which the Secretary of State considers it appropriate that a person should be entitled to be accompanied by a test assistant at a relevant test may include, for example, circumstances in which he is likely to have difficulty in hearing, understanding or responding to instructions or questions in the course of the relevant test without assistance<sup>5</sup>.

The regulations may make provision in relation to the approval of test assistants and may, in particular, include provision:

- 800 (a) in relation to the making of applications for approval;
- 801 (b) for the payment in respect of applications for approval or of approvals (or both) of fees of such amounts as are prescribed;
- 802 (c) in relation to the period for which an approval is to have effect and withdrawing approval;
- 803 (d) authorising the imposition of conditions on an approval;
- 804 (e) for an appeal to lie to the Transport Tribunal against a refusal of an application for approval, the imposition of conditions on an approval or the withdrawal of approval;
- 805 (f) prescribing circumstances in which an approved test assistant may not act as such;
- 806 (g) as to the evidencing by persons of their status as approved test assistants; and
- 807 (h) authorising the Secretary of State to make available (with or without charge) information about approved test assistants<sup>6</sup>.

The regulations may make different provision in relation to different cases<sup>7</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

450 Approved test assistants

TEXT AND NOTE 6--Head (e), reference to Transport Tribunal is now to First-tier Tribunal: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 162A(3) (amended by SI 2009/1885).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(iv) Driving Tests/451. Tests of competence to drive.

451. Tests of competence to drive.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> make provision about the nature and conduct of driving tests. Subject to specified provisions of the regulations<sup>2</sup>, the test for a licence<sup>3</sup> authorising the driving of a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> of a class<sup>5</sup> included in the principal categories A, B, C, D, or P<sup>6</sup> is to be conducted in two parts, namely a test of driving theory and hazard perception, and a practical test of driving skills and behaviour, and a person taking such a test must pass both parts<sup>7</sup>. Where a test is required to be conducted in two parts, a person taking the test must pass the theory test before he takes the practical test<sup>8</sup>. Such a person is also not entitled to apply for an appointment (or, as the case may be, to be nominated<sup>9</sup>) for a practical test in respect of a motor vehicle of a class included in any category until he has been furnished with: (1) a valid theory test pass certificate<sup>10</sup> stating that he has passed the theory test prescribed in respect of that category; or (2) a certificate corresponding to such a certificate furnished under the law of Northern Ireland stating that he has during the relevant period passed the theory test in respect of the same category<sup>11</sup>.

A person is treated as having passed the theory test if he satisfies the person conducting it, in respect of the test of driving theory, of his knowledge and understanding of the specific matters and, in respect of the hazard perception test, that his performance demonstrates an ability to perceive hazards on the road<sup>12</sup>; and he is treated as having passed the practical test if he satisfies the person conducting it of his ability to drive safely and to comply with the specified requirements<sup>13</sup>.

No person<sup>14</sup> submitting himself for a test of competence to drive a motor bicycle<sup>15</sup> is permitted to take the test unless he furnishes the prescribed certificate of completion<sup>16</sup> by him of an approved training course for motor cyclists<sup>17</sup> either with his application for an appointment for a test or to the person who is to conduct the test<sup>18</sup>.

1    le regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(3) (as amended), s 89(4) (as amended), and s 89(5): see PARA 449 ante. Such regulations are made for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended). For the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 443 note 4 ante.

2    le the provisions of the Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40 (as amended) (nature of tests) and reg 42 (as amended) (exemption from theory test). As to the test for a licence authorising the driving of vehicles in categories B and E, C and E, and D and E see reg 40(3). The test for a licence authorising the driving of a motor vehicle of a class included in category F, G, H or K is a one part test called a unitary test and a person taking such a test is treated as having passed it if he satisfies the person conducting it that he is: (1) generally competent to drive a vehicle of that class without danger to, and with due consideration for, other road users; (2) fully conversant with the Highway Code; and (3) able to comply with the specified requirements: reg 40(6). 'Unitary test' means a test which, by virtue of the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864 (as amended), consists of a single test of both practical driving skills and behaviour and knowledge of the Highway Code and other matters and includes such a test conducted as an extended driving test: reg 3(1). As to the nature of extended driving tests see reg 41. As to the Highway Code see PARA 221 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

5 As to classes of motor vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

6 As to these and other categories see PARA 454 post.

7 Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40(2) (amended by SI 2002/2641).

8 Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40(4)(a).

9 le to be nominated by an instructor pursuant to ibid reg 32(4) or reg 33(4).

10 See ibid reg 3(1).

11 Ibid reg 40(4)(b).

12 Ibid reg 40(5)(a) (substituted by SI 2002/2641). The theory test must be conducted in two parts, one part being the test of driving theory described in the Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40(8A) (as added) and the other being the hazard perception test described in reg 40(8B) (as added): reg 40(8) (substituted by SI 2002/2641). The test of driving theory must:

- 96 (1) be conducted as an approved form of examination consisting of 35 questions, the questions being in either a multiple choice or multiple response form and testing a candidate on the specified matters in accordance with the Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, Sch 7 (substituted by virtue of SI 2003/636) (Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40(8A)(a) (reg 40(8A) added by SI 2002/2641)); and
- 97 (2) have a duration of 40 minutes or, where the candidate requires the assistance of a suitably qualified person at the test by virtue of having reading difficulties, 80 minutes (Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40(8A)(b) (as so added), reg 40(9)).

The hazard perception test must:

- 98 (a) be conducted by means of the exhibition of film clips that take the perspective of the driver of a motor vehicle and show, at some point during each film clip, one or more hazards to traffic occurring on or near the road (reg 40(8B)(a) (reg 40(8B) added by SI 2002/2641)); and
- 99 (b) require the candidate (using electronic equipment provided for the purpose and capable of recording the exact moment of each response) to indicate during each film clip the moment he observes a hazard relating to traffic on the road (Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40(8B)(b) (as so added)).

'An approved form of examination' means a form of examination which is conducted in writing or by means of data recorded on equipment operating in response to instructions given by the candidate: reg 40(8C) (added by SI 2002/2641). 'Film clip' means a sequence of visual images displayed electronically: Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40(8C) (as so added).

13 Ibid reg 40(5)(b). For the specified requirements see Sch 8 (substituted by SI 2003/2003; and amended by SI 2003/3313). The practical test and the unitary test must each be conducted so that:

- 100 (1) the person taking the test drives, wherever possible, both on roads outside built-up areas and on urban roads (Motor Vehicle (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 40(7)(a)); and
- 101 (2) the time during which that person is required to drive on roads is: (a) in the case of a test for a licence authorising the driving of a class of vehicle included in category B and E, C, C and E, D, or D and E, not less than 50 minutes; and (b) in the case of any other test, not less than 30 minutes (reg 40(7)(b)).

Where a person is disqualified by order of a court under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 36 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 1071 post) until he passes an extended driving test, the time during which he is required to drive on roads is not less than 60 minutes: see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 41(1).

14 Ie except as provided under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(5A) (as added). Regulations may prescribe cases in which persons are exempt from the requirement imposed by s 89(2A) (as added), and the regulations may limit the exemption to persons in prescribed circumstances, limit the exemption to a prescribed period, attach conditions to the exemption, and regulate applications for, and the issue and form of, certificates evidencing a person's exemption from that requirement: s 89(5A) (added by Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 6(1)). As to exemptions from the requirement imposed by the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(2A) (as added) see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 69(3). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(5A) is repealed by the Transport Act 2000 s 274, Sch 31 Pt V. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

15 For the meaning of 'motor bicycle' see PARA 447 note 11 ante.

16 'Prescribed certificate of completion' means the certificate of completion prescribed in regulations under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3A) (as added and amended) (see PARA 465 post): s 108(1) (definition added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 15). For the forms prescribed see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 68, Sch 13. As from a day to be appointed, the definition of 'prescribed certificate of completion' is repealed by the Transport Act 2000 s 274, Sch 31 Pt V. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

17 'Approved training course for motor cyclists' means any course of training approved under regulations under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3A) (as added and amended) (see PARA 465 post): s 108(1) (definition added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 15). For the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(e) (as added and amended; prospectively repealed) (see PARA 464 post), an approved training course is a course for riders of motor bicycles or mopeds both complying with and conducted in accordance with the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, Pt V (regs 58-69) and approved by the Secretary of State: reg 58(1). As to the provision of approved training courses for riders of motor bicycles and mopeds see reg 58. As from a day to be appointed, the definition of 'approved training course for motor cyclists' is repealed by the Transport Act 2000 s 274, Sch 31 Pt V. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

18 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(2A) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 6(1)). Regulations may prescribe cases in which persons are exempt from the requirement imposed by the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(2A) (as added): s 89(5A) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 6(1)). The regulations may:

- 102 (1) limit the exemption to persons in prescribed circumstances (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(5A) (a) (as so added));
- 103 (2) limit the exemption to a prescribed period (s 89(5A)(b) (as so added));
- 104 (3) attach conditions to the exemption (s 89(5A)(c) (as so added));
- 105 (4) regulate applications for, and the issue and form of, certificates evidencing a person's exemption from that requirement (s 89(5A)(d) (as so added)).

As from a day to be appointed, the provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(2A), (5A) are repealed by the Transport Act 2000 Sch 31 Pt V. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

452. Test fees.

Fees for tests of competence to drive<sup>1</sup> are prescribed by regulations<sup>2</sup>. The whole or any part of a fee paid in pursuance of such regulations on application for an appointment for a test may be repaid only in the following cases and not otherwise<sup>3</sup>:

- 808 (1) if no appointment is made, or an appointment made is subsequently cancelled by or on behalf of the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>;
- 809 (2) if the person for whom the appointment is made gives the prescribed notice<sup>5</sup> cancelling the appointment<sup>6</sup>;
- 810 (3) if the person for whom the appointment is made keeps the appointment, but the test does not take place, or is not completed, for reasons attributable neither to him nor to any vehicle provided by him for the purposes of the test<sup>7</sup>; or
- 811 (4) if an order for the repayment of the fee is made by the court pursuant to a finding that the test was not properly conducted in accordance with the regulations<sup>8</sup>.

Fees must be paid to such person as may be prescribed by the regulations, and any such fees received by a person so prescribed (other than any as to which the regulations provide that they are to be paid to the person conducting the test and retained by him as remuneration) must be paid into the Consolidated Fund<sup>9</sup>.

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(v) Licensing Categories/454. Driver licensing categories.

(v) Licensing Categories

454. Driver licensing categories.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> must grant licences<sup>2</sup> authorising the driving<sup>3</sup> of motor vehicles<sup>4</sup> in accordance with the categories and sub-categories<sup>5</sup> specified in the relevant regulations<sup>6</sup>. Those categories and sub-categories are designated as groups that include specified classes of vehicles for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>7</sup>. The licensing categories and sub-categories are divided into two principal parts<sup>8</sup>.

Those in Part 1 are set out in heads (1) to (18) below<sup>9</sup>:

- 812 (1) A: motor bicycles<sup>10</sup>;
- 813 (2) A1: a sub-category of category A comprising learner motor bicycles;
- 814 (3) B: motor vehicles, other than vehicles included in category A, F, K or P, having a maximum authorised mass<sup>11</sup> not exceeding 3.5 tonnes and not more than eight seats in addition to the driver's seat, including a combination of any such vehicle and a trailer where the trailer has a maximum authorised mass not exceeding 750 kilograms, and a combination of any such vehicle and a trailer where the maximum authorised mass of the combination does not exceed 3.5 tonnes and the maximum authorised mass of the trailer does not exceed the unladen weight<sup>12</sup> of the tractor vehicle;
- 815 (4) B1: a sub-category of category B comprising motor vehicles having three or four wheels and an unladen weight not exceeding 550 kilograms;
- 816 (5) B and E: combinations of a motor vehicle and trailer where the tractor vehicle is in category B but the combination does not fall within that category;
- 817 (6) C: motor vehicles having a maximum authorised mass exceeding 3.5 tonnes, other than vehicles falling within category D, F, G or H, including any such vehicle drawing a trailer having a maximum authorised mass not exceeding 750 kilograms;
- 818 (7) C1: a sub-category of category C comprising motor vehicles having a maximum authorised mass exceeding 3.5 tonnes but not exceeding 7.5 tonnes, including any such vehicle drawing a trailer having a maximum authorised mass not exceeding 750 kilograms;
- 819 (8) D: motor vehicles constructed or adapted for the carriage of passengers having more than eight seats in addition to the driver's seat, including any such

- vehicle drawing a trailer having a maximum authorised mass not exceeding 750 kilograms;
- 820 (9) D1: a sub-category of category D comprising motor vehicles having more than eight but not more than 16 seats in addition to the driver's seat and including any such vehicle drawing a trailer with a maximum authorised mass not exceeding 750 kilograms;
- 821 (10) C and E: combinations of a motor vehicle and trailer where the tractor vehicle is in category C but the combination does not fall within that category;
- 822 (11) C1 and E: a sub-category of category C and E comprising combinations of a motor vehicle and trailer where the tractor vehicle is in sub-category C1, the maximum authorised mass of the trailer exceeds 750 kilograms but not the unladen weight of the tractor vehicle, and the maximum authorised mass of the combination does not exceed 12 tonnes;
- 823 (12) D and E: combinations of a motor vehicle and trailer where the tractor vehicle is in category D but the combination does not fall within that category;
- 824 (13) D1 and E: a sub-category of category D and E comprising combinations of a motor vehicle and trailer where the tractor vehicle is in sub-category D1, the maximum authorised mass of the trailer exceeds 750 kilograms but not the unladen weight of the tractor vehicle, the maximum authorised mass of the combination does not exceed 12 tonnes, and the trailer is not used for the carriage of passengers;
- 825 (14) F: agricultural or forestry tractors, including any such vehicle drawing a trailer but excluding any motor vehicle included in category H;
- 826 (15) G: road rollers;
- 827 (16) H: track-laying vehicles steered by their tracks;
- 828 (17) K: mowing machines which do not fall within category A and vehicles controlled by a pedestrian;
- 829 (18) P: mopeds<sup>13</sup>.

The categories and sub-categories in Part 2 are set out in heads (i) to (iv) below<sup>23</sup>:

- 830 (i) C1 and E (8.25 tonnes): a sub-category of category C and E comprising combinations of a motor vehicle and trailer in sub-category C1 and E where the maximum authorised mass of the trailer exceeds 750 kilograms and may exceed the unladen weight of the tractor vehicle and where the maximum authorised mass of the combination does not exceed 8.25 tonnes;
- 831 (ii) D1 (not for hire or reward): a sub-category of category D comprising motor vehicles in sub-category D1 driven otherwise than for hire or reward;
- 832 (iii) D1 and E (not for hire or reward): a sub-category of category D and E comprising motor vehicles in sub-category D1 and E where the motor vehicles are driven otherwise than for hire or reward and where the maximum authorised mass of the trailer exceeds 750 kilograms and may exceed the unladen weight of the tractor vehicle;
- 833 (iv) L: motor vehicles propelled by electrical power.

A licence authorising the driving of motor vehicles of a class included in any category or sub-category shown in heads (i) to (iv) above may not be granted to a person applying for a full licence unless, at a time before 1 January 1997<sup>24</sup>: (A) he held a full licence authorising the driving of motor vehicles of that class or a class which corresponds to a class included in that category or sub-category<sup>25</sup>; or (B) he passed a test which at the time it was passed authorised the driving of motor vehicles of such a class or a Northern Ireland test corresponding to such a test<sup>26</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

5 In the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864 (as amended), expressions relating to vehicle categories have the following meanings:

106 (1) any reference to a category or sub-category identified by letter, number or word or by any combination of letters, numbers and words is a reference to the category or sub-category defined in Sch 2 column (2) opposite that letter or combination in Sch 2 column (1) (reg 4(2)(a));

107 (2) 'sub-category' means, in relation to category A, B, C, C and E, D, or D and E, a class of vehicles comprising part of the category and identified as a sub-category in Schedule 2 column (2) (reg 4(2)(b)); and 108 (3) unless the context otherwise requires, a reference to a category includes a reference to sub-categories of that category (reg 4(2)(c)).

6 See ibid regs 4, 5, 6, 43 (as amended), Sch 2 (as amended). This is subject to reg 5 and reg 78.

7 Ie for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(1)(b) (as substituted): see PARA 445 ante.

8 See the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, Sch 2 Pt 1 and Sch 2 Pt 2 (as amended). Licences could also be granted in sub-category B1 (invalid carriages) to persons who needed them before 12 December 1999 but this sub-category is obsolescent as the vehicles are being withdrawn from use.

9 See ibid Sch 2 Pt 1.

10 For the meaning of 'motor bicycle' see PARA 447 note 11 ante.

11 'Maximum authorised mass': (1) in relation to a goods vehicle, has the same meaning as 'permissible maximum weight' in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (see PARA 478 note 16 ante); (2) in relation to an incomplete large vehicle, means its working weight; and (3) in relation to any other motor vehicle or trailer, has the same meaning as 'maximum gross weight' in the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078, reg 3(2) (definition as added and amended) (see PARA 271 note 27 ante): Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 3(1).

12 For the meaning of 'unladen weight' see PARA 271 note 21 ante; definition applied by ibid reg 3(1). However, in the case of a road roller, 'unladen weight' includes the weight of any object for the time being attached to the vehicle, being an object specially designed to be attached for the purpose of temporarily increasing the vehicle's weight: reg 3(1).

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(vi) Medical Fitness of Drivers/455. Requirements as to medical fitness of drivers.

(vi) Medical Fitness of Drivers

455. Requirements as to medical fitness of drivers.

An application for the grant of a licence<sup>1</sup> must include a declaration by the applicant, in such form as the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> may require, stating whether he is suffering or has at any time suffered<sup>3</sup> from any relevant disability<sup>4</sup> or any prospective disability<sup>5</sup>. If it appears from the applicant's declaration, or if on inquiry the Secretary of State is satisfied from other information, that the applicant is suffering from a relevant disability, the Secretary of State must, subject to certain exceptions<sup>6</sup>, refuse to grant the licence<sup>7</sup>.

However, the Secretary of State must not<sup>8</sup> refuse to grant a licence:

- 834 (1) on account of any relevant disability<sup>9</sup>, if the applicant has at any time passed a relevant test<sup>10</sup> and it does not appear to the Secretary of State that the disability has arisen or become more acute since that time or was, for whatever reason, not disclosed to the Secretary of State at that time<sup>11</sup>;
- 835 (2) on account of any relevant disability<sup>12</sup>, if the applicant satisfies such conditions as may be prescribed with a view to authorising the grant of a licence to a person in whose case the disability is appropriately controlled<sup>13</sup>;
- 836 (3) on account of any relevant disability which is prescribed<sup>14</sup>, if the application is for a provisional licence<sup>15</sup>.

A person who holds a licence authorising him to drive a motor vehicle of any class and who drives a motor vehicle of that class on a road<sup>16</sup> is guilty of an offence if the declaration<sup>17</sup> included in the application on which the licence was granted was one which he knew to be false<sup>18</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

3 If a period is prescribed for that purpose the applicant need only disclose disabilities from which he suffered during that period, but at the date at which this volume states the law no period had been prescribed. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 443 note 4 ante.

4 For the meanings of 'disability' and 'relevant disability' see PARA 446 note 18 ante.

Driving licences are to be issued only to applicants who meet the medical standards specified in EC Council Directive 91/439 (OJ L237, 24.8.91, p 1) Annex III: art 7(1). The standards are not always specified with great particularity but it seems to follow that any person who is not able to meet the relevant standards is suffering from a relevant disability on the grounds that the driving of a vehicle by such a person would constitute a source of danger to the public: see Annex III.

5 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(1). 'Prospective disability' in relation to any person means any other disability which at the time of the application for the grant of a licence or, as the case may be, the material time for the purposes of the provision in which the expression is used, is not of such a kind that it is a relevant disability, but by virtue of the intermittent or progressive nature of the disability or otherwise, may become a relevant disability in course of time: s 92(2).

6 See the text to notes 9-15 infra.

7 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(3).

8 Ie by virtue of ibid s 92(3).

9 Ie prescribed for the purposes of ibid s 92(4)(a).

10 'Relevant test', in relation to an application for a licence, means any such test of competence as is mentioned in ibid s 89 (as amended) (see PARAS 445, 449, 451 ante) or a test as to fitness or ability in pursuance of the Road Traffic Act 1960 s 100 as originally enacted (now repealed), being a test authorising the grant of a licence in respect of vehicles of the classes to which the application relates: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(8). As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

Without prejudice to s 92(8), for the purposes of s 92(4)(a):

109 (1) an applicant is treated as having passed a relevant test if, and on the day on which, he passed a test of competence to drive which:

3. (a) under a provision of the law of Northern Ireland or a relevant external law corresponding to s 89(3) (as amended), s 89(4) (as amended) or s 89(6) (as amended) (see PARAS 445, 449 ante), either is prescribed in relation to vehicles of classes corresponding to the classes to which the application relates or is sufficient under that law for the granting of a licence authorising the driving of vehicles of those classes (s 92(9)(a)(i) (s 92(9) amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 ss 5(5), 16, Sch 6)); or

4. (b) is sufficient for the granting of a British Forces licence authorising the driving of vehicles of those classes (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(9)(a)(ii) (as so amended)); and

110 (2) in the case of an applicant who is treated as having passed a relevant test by virtue of s 92(9)(a) (as amended) disclosure to his licensing authority is to be treated as disclosure to the Secretary of State (s 92(9)(b) (as so amended)).

13 Ibid s 92(4)(b). For the disabilities prescribed for this purpose see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, regs 71(2), 73(8)-(10) (reg 73(9) substituted, and reg 73(10) amended, by SI 2001/937).

456. Revocation of licence because of disability or prospective disability.

If the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> is at any time satisfied on inquiry that a licence<sup>2</sup> holder is suffering from a relevant disability<sup>3</sup>, and he would be required<sup>4</sup> to refuse an application for the licence made by him at that time, then he may serve notice in writing on the licence holder revoking the licence with effect from such date as may be specified in the notice, not being earlier than the date of service of the notice<sup>5</sup>.

If the Secretary of State is at any time satisfied on inquiry that a licence holder is suffering from a prospective disability<sup>6</sup>, he may serve notice in writing on the licence holder revoking the licence with effect from such date as may be specified in the notice, not being earlier than the date of service of the notice<sup>7</sup>. A person whose licence is so revoked must deliver up the licence and its counterpart to the Secretary of State immediately after the revocation and a person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to do so is guilty of an offence<sup>9</sup>. On receipt of the revoked licence and its counterpart<sup>8</sup> and of an application made for these purposes, the Secretary of State may grant to the licence holder, free of charge, a new licence<sup>10</sup>.

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or endorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(vi) Medical Fitness of Drivers/458. Investigation of disabilities.

458. Investigation of disabilities.

If the prescribed circumstances<sup>1</sup> obtain in relation to a person who is an applicant for, or the holder of, a licence<sup>2</sup>, or if the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> has reasonable grounds for believing that a person who is an applicant for, or the holder of, a licence may be suffering from a relevant<sup>4</sup> or prospective disability<sup>5</sup>, there are specific provisions<sup>6</sup> that apply for the purpose of enabling the Secretary of State to satisfy himself whether or not that person may be suffering from that or any other relevant or prospective disability<sup>7</sup>.

The Secretary of State may by notice in writing served on the applicant or holder:

- 837 (1) require him to provide the Secretary of State, within such reasonable time as may be specified in the notice, with an authorisation addressed to a medical practitioner in the specified form<sup>8</sup>;
- 838 (2) require him, as soon as practicable, to arrange to submit himself for examination<sup>9</sup>:
- 37
- 78. (a) by a registered medical practitioner or practitioners nominated by the Secretary of State<sup>10</sup>; or
- 79. (b) with respect to a disability of a prescribed description<sup>11</sup>, by such officer of the Secretary of State as may be so nominated<sup>12</sup>,
- 38
- 839 for the purpose of determining whether or not he suffers or has at any time suffered from a relevant or prospective disability<sup>13</sup>; or
- 840 (3) except where the application is for, or the licence held is, a provisional licence<sup>14</sup>, the Secretary of State may require him to submit himself for such a test of competence to drive<sup>15</sup> as he directs in the notice<sup>16</sup>.

If he considers it appropriate to do so in the case of any applicant or licence holder, the Secretary of State may include in a single notice<sup>17</sup> more than one of the requirements prescribed in heads (1), (2) and (3) above, and may at any time after the service of such a notice serve a further notice or notices<sup>18</sup>.

Except in the prescribed circumstances<sup>19</sup>, it is for the Secretary of State, and not for any other person, to defray any fees or other reasonable expenses of a registered medical practitioner in connection with the provision of information in pursuance of an authorisation required to be provided under head (1) above<sup>20</sup>, or any examination which a person is required to undergo as mentioned in head (2) above<sup>21</sup>.

These provisions<sup>22</sup> also apply in a modified form to Community licence<sup>23</sup> holders who are normally resident in Great Britain<sup>24</sup>.

1 For the prescribed circumstances see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 74 ('high risk offenders' who have been disqualified by reason of being convicted of specified offences).

7 Ibid s 94(4) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 5(7)).

8 See the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 94(5)(a). The authorisation referred to in the text:

111 (1) must be in such form and contain such particulars as may be specified in the notice by which it is required to be provided (s 94(6)(a)); and

112 (2) must authorise any registered medical practitioner who may at any time have given medical advice or attention to the applicant or licence holder concerned to release to the Secretary of State any information which he may have, or which may be available to him, with respect to the question whether, and if so to what extent, the applicant or licence holder concerned may be suffering, or may at any time have suffered, from a relevant or prospective disability (s 94(6)(b)).

13 Ibid s 94(5)(b).

14 For the meaning of 'provisional licence' see PARA 445 note 27 ante.

15 The meaning of 'test of competence to drive' for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) is normally that stated in PARA 443 note 20 ante. However, in the case of s 94 (as amended) it appears that the Secretary of State may specify that the person should undertake the whole of the prescribed test or such part of it as he deems necessary for the purposes of this provision: see s 94(5)(c).

16 Ibid s 94(5)(c) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 5(8)). If any person on whom a notice is served under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 94(5) (as amended) fails without reasonable excuse to comply with a requirement contained in the notice, or fails any test of competence which he is required to take as mentioned in s 94(5)(c) (as amended), the Secretary of State may exercise his powers under s 92 (as amended) (see PARA 455 ante) and s 93 (as amended) (see PARA 456 ante) as if he were satisfied that the applicant or licence holder concerned is suffering from a relevant disability which is not prescribed for any of the purposes of s 92(4) (see PARA 455 ante) or, if the Secretary of State so determines, as if he were satisfied that the applicant or licence holder concerned is suffering from a prospective disability: s 94(8).

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(vi) Medical Fitness of Drivers/459. Grant of licence to persons suffering from a disability.

459. Grant of licence to persons suffering from a disability.

Where as a result of a test of competence to drive<sup>1</sup> or of information obtained under the relevant powers<sup>2</sup> the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> is satisfied that the person who took the test, or in relation to whom the information was obtained, is suffering from a disability<sup>4</sup> such that there is likely to be a danger to the public if<sup>5</sup>: (1) he drives any vehicle<sup>6</sup>; (2) he drives a vehicle other than a vehicle of a particular class<sup>7</sup>; or (3) he drives a vehicle except in accordance with particular conditions<sup>8</sup>, the Secretary of State must serve notice in writing to that effect on that person and must include in the notice a description of the disability<sup>9</sup>.

Where a notice is served in pursuance of head (1) above, then if the disability is not already prescribed as a relevant disability<sup>10</sup> it is deemed to be so prescribed in relation to the person who took the test<sup>11</sup>, and if the disability is prescribed for the purposes of permitting an application for a provisional licence<sup>12</sup> it is deemed not to be so prescribed in relation to him<sup>13</sup>.

Where a notice is served in pursuance of head (2) above, the Secretary of State may, if the person on whom the notice is served is an applicant for a licence, grant him a licence limited to vehicles of the particular class specified in the notice or, if he held a licence which is revoked by the Secretary of State and he complies with the relevant requirements<sup>14</sup>, grant him a licence limited to vehicles of that class<sup>15</sup>.

Where a notice is served in pursuance of head (3) above, the Secretary of State may: (a) if the person on whom the notice is served is an applicant for a licence, grant him a licence authorising him to drive vehicles subject to the particular conditions specified in the notice<sup>16</sup>; or (b) if he held a licence which is revoked by the Secretary of State and he complies with the relevant requirements<sup>17</sup>, grant him a licence authorising him to drive vehicles subject to those conditions<sup>18</sup>, and, if the Secretary of State so directs in the notice, any entitlement which the person has to drive other vehicles<sup>19</sup> is subject to conditions as specified in the notice<sup>20</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'test of competence to drive' see PARA 443 note 20 ante.

2 In this context, the references to a test of competence to drive and to information obtained under the relevant powers are references respectively to a test of competence prescribed for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89 (as amended) (see PARAS 445, 449, 451 ante) or to so much of such a test as is required to be taken in pursuance of s 94(5)(c) (as amended) (see PARA 458 ante) and to information obtained in pursuance of s 94(5)(a) or s 94(5)(b) (see PARA 458 ante): s 92(7B) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 5(4)). In the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(7B) (as added) the references to s 94 (as amended) include references to s 94 (as amended) as applied by s 99D (as added) (see PARA 458 ante) or s 109C (as added) (see PARA 484 post): s 92(7D) (added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 3; and amended by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 91(1), Sch 5 paras 17, 19).

8 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(5)(c) (added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 4).

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(5) (as amended: see note 5 supra). If he considers it appropriate to do so, the Secretary of State may, after serving a notice in pursuance of s 92(5)(a) (as amended), serve a notice in pursuance of s 92(5)(b) (as amended) or, after serving a notice in pursuance of s 92(5)(b) (as amended), serve a notice in pursuance of s 92(5)(a) or a further notice in pursuance of s 92(5)(b); and on his serving a further notice under any of those provisions the notice previously served ceases to have effect and any limited licence previously granted is revoked by the later notice: s 92(7A) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 5(4)). A person whose licence is revoked by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(7A) (as added) must deliver the licence and its counterpart to the Secretary of State immediately after the revocation and a person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to do so is guilty of an offence: s 92(7C) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 5(4); and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/144, reg 2(3), Sch 3 para 1(a)). As from a day to be appointed, this provision is further amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10(12), 59, Sch 3 paras 2, 4, Sch 7 so as to remove the reference to the counterpart. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 28; and prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 paras 30, 63(1), (2)(a), Sch 7). 14 le the requirements of ibid s 92(7ZB) (added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 4(3)). A person complies with the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(7ZB) (as added) if he surrenders the existing licence and its counterpart, and, where the Secretary of State so requires, he provides evidence of his name, address, sex, and date and place of birth and a photograph which is a current likeness of him : s 92(7ZB)(a), (b) (as so added). As from a day to be appointed, this provision is amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 paras 2, 4, Sch 7 so as to remove the reference to the counterpart. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

15 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 92(7) (substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 4(3)). If the Secretary of State so directs in the notice, his entitlement to drive other classes of vehicle by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(2) (as amended) will also be limited as specified in the notice: s 92(7) (as so substituted).

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(vi) Medical Fitness of Drivers/460. Notification of refusal of insurance on grounds of health.

460. Notification of refusal of insurance on grounds of health.

If an authorised insurer<sup>1</sup> refuses to issue to any person a policy of insurance<sup>2</sup> on the ground that the state of health of that person is not satisfactory, or on grounds which include that ground, the insurer must as soon as practicable notify the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> of that refusal and of the full name, address, sex and date of birth of that person as disclosed by him to the insurer<sup>4</sup>.

1 'Authorised insurer' means an insurer who is a member of the Motor Insurers Bureau (a company limited by guarantee and incorporated under the Companies Act 1929 on 14 June 1946): Road Traffic Act 1988 s 95(2) (s 95(2)-(5) (substituted by the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Consequential Amendments and Repeals) Order 2001, SI 2001/3649, art 312). 'Insurer' means a person who has permission under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 Pt 4 (ss 40-55) to effect or carry out relevant contracts of insurance, or an EEA firm of the kind mentioned in Sch 3 para 5(d) (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 48 (2008) PARA 492), which has permission under Sch 3 para 15 (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 48 (2008) PARA 315) (as a result of qualifying for authorisation under Sch 3 para 12: see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 48 (2008) PARA 315) to effect or carry out relevant contracts of insurance: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 95(3) (as so substituted). A contract is a relevant contract of insurance if the risk insured against relates to: (1) the insured sustaining accidental injury or death as a result of travelling as a passenger; (2) land vehicles; (3) goods in transit; or (4) motor vehicle liability: s 95(4) (as so substituted). Section 95 (as amended) is to be read with: (a) the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 s 22 (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 48 (2008) PARA 84); (b) any order for the time being in force under s 22; and (c) Sch 2 (see FINANCIAL SERVICES AND INSTITUTIONS vol 48 (2008) PARA 84): Road Traffic Act 1988 s 95(5) (as so substituted).

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131; VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(vii) Granting of Licences/462. Grant of driving licences.

(vii) Granting of Licences

462. Grant of driving licences.

Subject to the relevant statutory provisions<sup>1</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> must grant a licence to a person who<sup>3</sup>:

- 841 (1) makes an application for it in such manner and containing such particulars as the Secretary of State may specify and pays the fee (if any) which is prescribed<sup>4</sup>;
- 842 (2) provides the Secretary of State with such evidence or further evidence in support of the application as the Secretary of State may require<sup>5</sup>;
- 843 (3) surrenders to the Secretary of State any previous licence granted to him after 1 January 1976 and its counterpart<sup>6</sup>, any Northern Ireland licence<sup>7</sup> held by him together with its Northern Ireland counterpart and its counterpart (if any) issued to him under the Road Traffic Act 1988, any Community licence<sup>8</sup> and its counterpart (if any) issued to him, and any British external licence<sup>9</sup> or British Forces licence<sup>10</sup> or exchangeable licence<sup>11</sup> held by him, or provides the Secretary of State with an explanation for not surrendering them which the Secretary of State considers adequate<sup>12</sup>; and
- 844 (4) is not subject to a current disqualification which is relevant to the licence he applies for<sup>13</sup> and is not prevented from obtaining it by the specified provisions<sup>14</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed, regulations may provide that in prescribed circumstances a licence granted by the Secretary of State may be granted subject to prescribed conditions having effect: (a) for a prescribed period; or (b) until the happening of a prescribed event<sup>15</sup>.

1 The relevant statutory provisions are the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(2)-(6) (as amended) (see PARA 464 post), s 92 (as amended) (see PARA 455 ante), and, in the case of licences to drive large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles, Pt IV (ss 110-121) (as substituted and amended): see s 97(1) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 ss 6(2)(a), 7, Sch 3 para 9). For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante. For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante. 'Large goods vehicle' is not defined for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) but in this instance it must presumably bear its meaning in Pt IV (as substituted and amended): see PARA 489 note 5 post. For the meaning of 'passenger-carrying vehicle' see PARA 489 note 6 post; definition applied by s 108(1) (definition added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 15). As to restrictions on the grant of licences to drive large goods and passenger-carrying vehicles see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 12 (amended by SI 2003/636). As to the abolition of special licences for driving heavy goods vehicles and public service vehicles, and for special provisions relating to the licensing of drivers of large goods vehicles and passenger-carrying vehicles see the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 1 (amended by the Statute Law Reform Act 2004).

As from a day to be appointed, the relevant statutory provisions are the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(2), s 92 (as amended), regulations under s 99ZA (as added) (see PARA 485 post) and Pt IV: s 97(1) (prospectively amended by the Transport Act 2000 s 260, Sch 29 paras 1, 3). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

4 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(1)(a) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 3 para 9). A licence may normally be granted to a person if he qualifies for the grant of that licence (see PARA 445 ante), is medically fit to hold that licence (see PARA 455 ante), has attained the minimum age for the grant of that licence (see PARA 478 post), and is not otherwise disqualified for holding or obtaining that licence (see note 12 infra).

For the prescribed fees see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 14, Sch 3 (Sch 3 substituted by SI 2004/265; and amended by SI 2007/698). All fees received by the Secretary of State for licences under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) must be paid into the Consolidated Fund: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 106(1). As to the Consolidated Fund see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 711 et seq; PARLIAMENT vol 78 (2010) PARA 1028 et seq. As to the costs recoverable by the Secretary of State when fixing the fee under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(1)(a) (as amended) see the Department for Transport (Driver Licensing and Vehicle Registration Fees) Order 2003, SI 2003/2994.

5 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(1)(b). Where any licence to be granted to an applicant would be in the form of a photocard, the Secretary of State may under s 97(1)(a), (b) (s 97(1)(a) as amended) require him to provide a photograph which is a current likeness of him: see s 97(1A) (added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, regs 2, 6(2)). For the evidence required on applications for licences see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 10.

6 For the meaning of 'counterpart' see PARA 415 note 19 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'Northern Ireland licence' see PARA 443 note 7 ante. Where a licence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) is granted to a person who surrenders under s 97(1)(c) (as amended) his Northern Ireland licence together with its counterparts to the Secretary of State, then: (1) that person ceases to be authorised by virtue of s 109(1) (as amended) (see PARA 484 post) to drive in Great Britain a motor vehicle of any class; and (2) the Secretary of State must send the Northern Ireland licence and its Northern Ireland counterpart to the licensing authority in Northern Ireland together with particulars of the class of motor vehicles to which the licence granted under Pt III (as amended) relates: s 97(1AA) (added by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 78(1), (2)(b)). As from a day to be appointed, this provision is amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10(12), 59, Sch 3 paras 2, 6(1), (3)(a), Sch 7 so as to remove the references to counterparts. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(vii) Granting of Licences/464. Provisional licences.

464. Provisional licences.

If the application<sup>1</sup> for the licence states that it is made for the purpose of enabling the applicant to drive a motor vehicle<sup>2</sup> with a view to passing a test of competence to drive<sup>3</sup>, any licence granted in pursuance of the application is a provisional licence for that purpose<sup>4</sup>.

A provisional licence:

- 847 (1) must be granted subject to prescribed conditions<sup>5</sup>;
- 848 (2) must, in the prescribed cases, be restricted so as to authorise only the driving of vehicles of the prescribed classes<sup>6</sup>;
- 849 (3) may, in the case of a person appearing to the Secretary of State to be suffering from a relevant disability<sup>7</sup> or a prospective disability<sup>8</sup>, be restricted so as to authorise only the driving of vehicles of a particular construction or design specified in the licence<sup>9</sup>;
- 850 (4) does not authorise a person under the age of 21 years, before he has passed a test of competence to drive a motor bicycle<sup>10</sup>, to drive<sup>11</sup> a motor bicycle without a side-car unless it is either a learner motor bicycle<sup>12</sup> or its first use<sup>13</sup> occurred before 1 January 1982 and the cylinder capacity of its engine does not exceed the stated amount<sup>14</sup>, and does not authorise such a person to drive a motor bicycle with a side-car unless its power to weight ratio<sup>15</sup> is less than or equal to the stated amount<sup>16</sup>; and
- 851 (5) does not authorise a person<sup>17</sup>, before he has passed a test of competence to drive, to drive on a road<sup>18</sup> a motor bicycle or moped<sup>19</sup> except where he has successfully completed an approved training course for motor cyclists<sup>20</sup> or is undergoing training on such a course and is driving the motor bicycle or moped on the road as part of the training<sup>21</sup>.

Regulations may authorise or require the Secretary of State to refuse a provisional licence authorising the driving of a motor bicycle or moped of a prescribed class if the applicant has held such a provisional licence and the licence applied for would come into force within the prescribed period beginning at the end of the period for which the previous licence authorised (or would, if not surrendered or revoked, have authorised) the driving of such a motor bicycle or moped<sup>22</sup>, or beginning at such other time as may be prescribed<sup>23</sup>.

1 As to eligibility to apply for provisional licences see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 11.

2 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'test of competence to drive' see PARA 443 note 20 ante.

4 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(2). Nothing in s 89 (as amended) (see PARAS 445, 449, 451 ante) applies to such a licence: s 97(2). For regulations relating to provisional licences see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 15 (amended by SI 2001/53); the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 16 (amended by SI 2000/3157; SI 2001/53; SI 2003/222); the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 17 (amended by SI 2005/2717; SI 2006/524); and the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, regs 18, 19.

5 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(a). For the prescribed conditions applicable to a particular licence see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, regs 16, 17 (both as amended: see note 4 supra). As to the distinguishing marks to be displayed on a motor vehicle being driven under a provisional licence see reg 16(2), (4), Sch 4.

6 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(b). As to classes of vehicle see PARA 208 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'relevant disability' see PARA 446 note 18 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'prospective disability' see PARA 455 note 5 ante.

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(c) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 16, Sch 6).

10 For the meaning of 'motor bicycle' see PARA 447 note 11 ante. The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3) (as amended), in so far as it prevents such a licence as is there mentioned from authorising a person to drive certain motor cycles, does not apply in the case of motor cycles in the service of a visiting force: Visiting Forces and International Headquarters (Application of Law) Order 1999, SI 1999/1736, art 8(4).

11 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

12 A learner motor bicycle is a motor bicycle which either is propelled by electric power or has the following characteristics:

113 (1) the cylinder capacity of its engine does not exceed 125 cubic centimetres (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(5)(a) (amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 6(6)));

114 (2) the maximum net power output of its engine does not exceed 11 kw (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(5)(b) (substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 6(6))).

'Maximum net power output', in relation to an engine, means the maximum net power output measured under full engine load: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(6) (substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 6(7)).

13 le 'first use' as defined in the regulations. As to the first use of a motor bicycle see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 3(5).

14 le 125 cubic centimetres: see note 16 infra.

15 'Power to weight ratio', in relation to a motor bicycle with a side-car, means the ratio of the maximum net power output of the engine of the motor bicycle to the weight of the combination with a full supply of fuel in the tank, an adequate supply of other liquids needed for its propulsion, and no load other than its normal equipment, including loose tools: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(6) (substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 6(7)).

16 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(d) (substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 6(3)). The power to weight ratio of such a motor bicycle with a side-car must be less than or equal to 0.16 kilowatts per kilogram: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(d) (as so substituted).

17 le except where he has been exempted by virtue of ibid s 97(3B) (as added): see PARA 465 post.

18 For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

19 For the meaning of 'moped' see PARA 447 note 12 ante.

20 For the meaning of 'approved training course for motor cyclists' see PARA 451 note 17 ante. As to such courses see PARA 465 post.

21 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(e) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 6(2); and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 6(3); and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 6(3)). As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(3)(e) (as added and amended) is repealed by the Transport Act 2000 s 274, Sch 31 Pt V. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

22 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(4)(a) (amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 6(5); and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 6(5)).

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(vii) Granting of Licences/465. Mandatory training courses for riders of motor bicycles and mopeds.

465. Mandatory training courses for riders of motor bicycles and mopeds.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision as respects the training in the driving of motor bicycles<sup>2</sup> and mopeds<sup>3</sup> of persons wishing to obtain licences authorising the driving of such vehicles by means of courses of training<sup>4</sup>. In particular the regulations may make provision with respect to:

- 852 (1) the nature of the courses of training<sup>5</sup>;
- 853 (2) the approval by the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup> of the persons providing the courses and the withdrawal of his approval<sup>7</sup>;
- 854 (3) the maximum amount of the charges payable by persons undergoing the training<sup>8</sup>;
- 855 (4) certificates evidencing the successful completion by persons of a course of training and the supply by the Secretary of State of the forms which are to be used for such certificates<sup>9</sup>; and
- 856 (5) the making, in connection with the supply of forms of certificates, of reasonable charges for the discharge of the functions of the Secretary of State under the regulations<sup>10</sup>, and different provision may be made for training in different classes of motor bicycles and mopeds<sup>11</sup>.

Regulations may also prescribe cases in which persons holding a provisional licence are exempt from the restriction imposed<sup>12</sup>. The regulations may:

- 857 (a) limit the exemption to persons in prescribed circumstances<sup>13</sup>;
- 858 (b) limit the exemption to a prescribed period or in respect of driving in a prescribed area<sup>14</sup>;
- 859 (c) attach conditions to the exemption<sup>15</sup>; and
- 860 (d) regulate applications for, and the issue and form of, certificates evidencing the holder's exemption from the restriction<sup>16</sup>.

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(vii) Granting of Licences/466. Form, content and effect of licences.

466. Form, content and effect of licences.

A licence<sup>1</sup> must be either in the form of a photocard of a description specified by the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> or in such other form as he may specify<sup>3</sup> and:

- 861 (1) the licence must state whether it authorises its holder to drive<sup>4</sup> motor vehicles<sup>5</sup> of all classes<sup>6</sup> or of certain classes only and, in the latter case, must specify those classes<sup>7</sup>;
- 862 (2) the licence must specify, in such manner as the Secretary of State may determine: (a) the restrictions on the driving of vehicles of any class in pursuance of the licence to which its holder is subject<sup>8</sup>; and (b) any conditions on the driving of vehicles of any class in pursuance of the licence to which its holder is subject<sup>9</sup>; and
- 863 (3) in the case of a provisional licence<sup>10</sup>, the licence or its counterpart<sup>11</sup> must specify, in such manner as the Secretary of State may determine, the conditions subject to which it is granted<sup>12</sup>.

Subject to heads (i), (ii) and (iii) below, a person who holds a licence which authorises its holder to drive motor vehicles of certain classes only and which is not a provisional licence or any other prescribed description of licence<sup>13</sup> may drive motor vehicles of all other classes subject to the same conditions as if he were authorised by a provisional licence to drive motor vehicles of those other classes<sup>14</sup>. However, this does not authorise a person to drive<sup>15</sup>:

- 864 (i) a vehicle of a class for the driving of which he could not lawfully hold a licence<sup>16</sup>;
- 865 (ii) unless he has either passed a test of competence to drive<sup>17</sup> a motor bicycle<sup>18</sup> or attained the age of 21 years, a motor bicycle which a provisional licence would not authorise him to drive<sup>19</sup> before he had passed that test or attained that age (as the case may be)<sup>20</sup>; or
- 866 (iii) unless he has passed a test of competence to drive, a motor bicycle or moped<sup>21</sup> on a road<sup>22</sup> in circumstances in which a provisional licence would not authorise him to drive it<sup>23</sup> before he had passed that test<sup>24</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante. The Secretary of State may specify different descriptions of photocards, and different forms of licences not in the form of a photocard, for different cases and may determine the form of licence to be granted in any case: Road Traffic Act s 98(1A) (added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, reg 7(2)).

3 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(1) (s 98(1) substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1420, regs 2, 7). The Secretary of State's discretion to specify the form and description of licences is restricted by EC Council Directive 91/439 (OJ L237, 24.8.91, p 1) on driving licences (as amended), which provides that member states must introduce from 31 July 1996 a national driving licence based on the model described in Annex I (a form of paper licence) or Annex Ia (a licence in the form of a photocard): see art 1(1), Annexes I, Ia (amended by EC Council Directive 96/47 (OJ L235, 17.9.96, p 1) art 1).

11 For the meaning of 'counterpart' see PARA 415 note 19 ante.

12 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As from a day to be appointed, this provision is amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10(12), 59, Sch 3 paras 2, 7, Sch 7 so as to remove the reference to the counterpart; and by ss 38(3), 59, Sch 7 so as to repeal the words 'in the case of a provisional licence' and to substitute the words 'any conditions' for the words 'the conditions'. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As to the conditions to which provisional licences may be subject see PARA 464 ante.

13 For regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(2)(b) (as amended) see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864 (as amended). For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 443 note 4 ante.

14 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(2) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 ss 5(10)(a), 7, Sch 3 para 11(b); and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/144, reg 2(1), Sch 1 para 4(b)). In such cases or as respects such classes of vehicles as the Secretary of State may prescribe, the provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(2) (as amended) either do not apply or apply subject to such limitations as he may prescribe: s 98(4). The application of s 98(2) (as amended) is significantly limited by regulations under s 98(4) (as amended): see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 19.

15 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(3) (amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/144, Sch 1 para 4(c)). In such cases or as respects such classes of vehicles as the Secretary of State may prescribe, the provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(3) (as amended) either do not apply or apply subject to such limitations as he may prescribe: s 98(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such limitations had been prescribed. As from a day to be appointed, s 98(3) is further amended by the Transport Act 2000 s 260, Sch 29 paras 1, 4 so as to make it subject to regulations under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99ZA (as added) (see PARA 485 post). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

Section 98(3) (as amended), in so far as it prevents such a licence as is there mentioned from authorising a person to drive certain motor cycles, does not apply in the case of motor cycles in the service of a visiting force: Visiting Forces and International Headquarters (Application of Law) Order 1999, SI 1999/1736, art 8(4).

Moreover, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(2) (as amended) (see the text and note 14 supra) does not authorise a person on whom a notice under s 92(5)(b) (as amended) (see PARA 459 ante) has been served to drive motor vehicles otherwise than in accordance with the limits specified in the notice: s 98(4A) (added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 5(10)(b); and amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/144, reg 2(3), Sch 3 para 1(b)).

16 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98(3)(a). Such a licence might not lawfully be held by reason of the provisions of s 101 (as amended) (see PARAS 478-479 post): see s 98(3)(a). See also note 15 supra.

466 Form, content and effect of licences

NOTE 20--SI 1999/2864 reg 44 amended: SI 2009/788.

467. Compulsory surrender of old-form licences.

As from a day to be appointed, the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by order require the holders of licences<sup>2</sup> of a specified description, or any specified description of the holders of such licences, to surrender the licences and their counterparts<sup>3</sup> to the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup>. Before making such an order the Secretary of State must consult with such representative organisations as he thinks fit<sup>5</sup>. Such an order may specify as the description of licences to be surrendered: (1) licences which are not in the form of a photocard; or (2) licences in the form of a photocard of a description no longer specified by the Secretary of State as a form in which licences are granted<sup>6</sup>. An order must specify the date by which the licences to which it relates (and their counterparts) are to be surrendered; and may specify different dates in relation to different descriptions of licence holders<sup>7</sup>.

An order must include provision for the grant of a new licence to every holder of a licence surrendered (with its counterpart) in pursuance of the order who: (a) pays such fee (if any) as is specified by the order; and (b) provides the Secretary of State with such evidence or further evidence as the Secretary of State may require (which may include a photograph which is a current likeness of him)<sup>8</sup>. A replacement licence granted pursuant to such provision expires on the date on which the surrendered licence would have expired had it not been surrendered<sup>9</sup>; but where the period for which the surrendered licence was granted was based on an error with respect to the licence holder's date of birth such that (if the error had not been made) that licence would have been expressed to expire on a different date, the replacement licence expires on that different date<sup>10</sup>.

A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with any requirement to surrender a licence and its counterpart imposed by an order made by the Secretary of State is guilty of an offence<sup>11</sup>.

4 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98A(1). Section 98A is added, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 39(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98A(1) (as added) is amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10(12), 59, Sch 3 paras 2, 8(1), (2), Sch 7 so as to remove the reference to the counterparts. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

An order under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 98A (as added) may: (1) make different provision for different cases; and (2) contain such incidental and supplementary provisions as the Secretary of State considers appropriate: s 98A(8) (as so added). The power to make an order under s 98A (as added) is exercisable by statutory instrument (s 98A(9) (as so added)), and a statutory instrument containing such an order is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 98A(11) (as so added)).

468. Vehicles other than prescribed classes of goods and passenger-carrying vehicles.

In so far as a licence<sup>1</sup> authorises its holder to drive<sup>2</sup> motor vehicles<sup>3</sup> of classes<sup>4</sup> other than any prescribed<sup>5</sup> class of goods vehicle<sup>6</sup> or any prescribed class of passenger-carrying vehicle<sup>7</sup>, unless previously revoked or surrendered<sup>8</sup> and subject to the provisions set out below, it remains in force<sup>9</sup>:

- 867 (1) except in a case falling within head (2) or head (3) below, for the period ending on the seventieth anniversary of the applicant's date of birth or for a period of three years, whichever is the longer<sup>10</sup>;
- 868 (2) except in a case falling within head (3) below, if the Secretary of State<sup>11</sup> so determines in the case of a licence to be granted to a person appearing to him to be suffering from a relevant or prospective disability, for such period of not more than three years and not less than one year as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>12</sup>; and
- 869 (3) in the case of a licence granted in exchange for a subsisting licence and in pursuance of an application requesting a licence for the period authorised by this provision, for a period equal to the remainder of that for which the subsisting licence was granted<sup>13</sup>, and any such period begins with the date on which the licence in question is expressed to come into force<sup>14</sup>.

8 Driving licences may be revoked for the following reasons:

115 (1) on the grounds that the holder is suffering from a relevant or prospective disability (see the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 93(1), (2) (as amended); and PARA 456 ante);

116 (2) by reason of error (see s 99(3) (as amended); and PARA 472 post);

117 (3) upon the holder being disqualified by order of a court when it is treated as being revoked (see the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 37(1); and PARA 1072 post); or 118 (4) by virtue of the holder falling within the provisions of the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(1), Sch 1 para 8(1) (see PARA 517 post).

For the meaning of 'relevant disability' see PARA 446 note 18 ante. For the meaning of 'prospective disability' see PARA 455 note 5 ante.

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(viii) Duration of Licences/471. Special provisions applying to photocard licences.

471. Special provisions applying to photocard licences.

Where a licence<sup>1</sup> in the form of a photocard remains in force for a period of more than ten years<sup>2</sup>, the holder of the licence must surrender it and its counterpart<sup>3</sup> to the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> not later than the end of the period of ten years beginning with the date shown on the licence as the date of its issue<sup>5</sup> or, if the licence was granted by way of renewal or replacement of a licence bearing the same photograph, the date shown on the earliest licence bearing that photograph as the date of issue of that licence<sup>6</sup>. A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with this requirement is guilty of an offence<sup>7</sup>. Where a person who has a duty to surrender his licence and its counterpart is not in possession of them in consequence of the fact that he has surrendered them to a constable or authorised person<sup>8</sup> on receiving a fixed penalty notice<sup>9</sup>, he does not fail to comply with the duty if he surrenders the licence and its counterpart to the Secretary of State immediately on their return<sup>10</sup>. On the surrender of a licence and its counterpart by such a person<sup>11</sup> the Secretary of State must grant a new licence to that person<sup>12</sup>. The Secretary of State is not required to grant a new licence on the surrender of a licence and its counterpart by a person in pursuance of the above provisions unless the person has paid the fee (if any) which is prescribed<sup>13</sup>.

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(viii) Duration of Licences/472. Compulsory surrender and revocation of licences.

472. Compulsory surrender and revocation of licences.

Where it appears to the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup>:

- 876 (1) that a licence granted by him to any person was granted in error or with an error or omission in the particulars specified in the licence<sup>2</sup>; or
- 877 (2) that the counterpart<sup>3</sup> of a licence granted by him to any person is required to be endorsed in pursuance of any enactment or was issued with an error or omission in the particulars specified in the counterpart or required to be so endorsed on it<sup>4</sup>; or
- 878 (3) that the particulars specified in a licence granted by him to any person or in its counterpart do not comply with a requirement imposed since the licence was granted by any provision made by or having effect under any enactment<sup>5</sup>, the Secretary of State may serve notice in writing on that person revoking the licence and requiring him to surrender the licence and its counterpart immediately to the Secretary of State and it is the duty of that person to comply with the requirement<sup>6</sup>.

Where the name or address of the licence holder as specified in a licence ceases to be correct, its holder must immediately surrender the licence and its counterpart to the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup>.

A person who without reasonable excuse fails to comply with these duties<sup>8</sup> is guilty of an offence<sup>9</sup>. Where a person who has a duty to surrender his licence and its counterpart is not in possession of them in consequence of the fact that he has surrendered them to a constable or authorised person<sup>10</sup> on receiving a fixed penalty notice<sup>11</sup>, he does not fail to comply with the duty if he surrenders the licence and its counterpart to the Secretary of State immediately on their return<sup>12</sup>.

On the surrender of a licence and its counterpart by such a person<sup>13</sup> the Secretary of State must grant a new licence to that person<sup>14</sup>. However, where the surrendered licence was revoked because it was granted in error or in consequence of an error or omission appearing to the Secretary of State to be attributable to the fault of the licence holder or in consequence of a current disqualification<sup>15</sup>, the Secretary of State may, if the person is not currently disqualified, grant a new licence to that person on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>16</sup>. A replacement licence so granted<sup>17</sup> expires on the date on which the surrendered licence would have expired had it not been surrendered except that, where the period for which the surrendered licence was granted was based on an error with respect to the licence holder's date of birth such that (if that error had not been made) that licence would have been expressed to expire on a different date, the replacement licence will expire on that different date<sup>18</sup>.

NOTE 16--SI 1999/2864 Sch 3 amended: SI 2007/698, SI 2008/508, SI 2009/788.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/ (ix) Community Licence Holders/473. Authorisation to drive in Great Britain.

473. Authorisation to drive in Great Britain.

A Community licence<sup>1</sup> holder may drive<sup>2</sup>, and a person may cause or permit a Community licence holder to drive, in Great Britain<sup>3</sup> a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> of any class<sup>5</sup> which he is authorised by his Community licence to drive, and he is not disqualified<sup>6</sup> for holding or obtaining a licence to drive<sup>7</sup> notwithstanding that he is not the holder of an appropriate licence<sup>8</sup>.

In relation to a Community licence holder who is normally resident<sup>9</sup> in Great Britain<sup>10</sup> the following provisions apply. In a case where the Community licence holder is authorised by his Community licence to drive motor vehicles of classes other than any prescribed<sup>11</sup> class of goods or passenger-carrying vehicle<sup>12</sup>, he ceases to be authorised<sup>13</sup> to drive in Great Britain any such classes of motor vehicle from the date on which he attains the age of 70 years, or the expiry of the period of three years beginning with the relevant date<sup>14</sup>, whichever is the later<sup>15</sup>. In a case where the Community licence holder is authorised by his Community licence to drive any prescribed class of goods or passenger-carrying vehicle, he ceases to be authorised to drive in Great Britain any such class of vehicle<sup>16</sup>:

- 879 (1) except in a case falling within head (2) or head (3) below, from the date on which he attains the age of 45 years, or the expiry of the period of five years beginning with the relevant date, whichever is the later<sup>17</sup>;
- 880 (2) where his age at the relevant date exceeds 45 but not 65 years, from the date on which he attains the age of 66 years, or the expiry of the period of five years beginning with the relevant date, whichever is the earlier<sup>18</sup>; and
- 881 (3) where his age at the relevant date exceeds 65 years, from the expiry of the period of one year beginning with that date<sup>19</sup>.

A Community licence holder to whom a counterpart<sup>20</sup> of his Community licence is issued<sup>21</sup>, and who is authorised<sup>22</sup> to drive in Great Britain motor vehicles of certain classes only, may drive in Great Britain motor vehicles of all other classes subject to the same conditions as if he were authorised by a provisional licence<sup>23</sup> to drive motor vehicles of those other classes<sup>24</sup>.

A Community licence is not to be treated as authorising a person to drive a vehicle of any class if it is not for the time being valid<sup>25</sup> for that purpose in the EEA state<sup>26</sup> in respect of which it was issued<sup>27</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'Community licence' see PARA 415 note 16 ante.

7 I.e. a licence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended).

8 Ibid s 99A(1) (s 99A added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 9). An appropriate licence is one under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended): see s 99A (as so added).

9 As to the meaning of 'normally resident' see PARA 445 note 5 ante.

10 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99A(2) (as added: see note 8 supra). The provisions which apply are those of s 99A(3), (4) (as added): see s 99A(2) (as so added).

11 For the prescribed classes of vehicles see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 49(4). As to categories of motor vehicle see PARA 454 ante.

12 For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 220 ante. For the meaning of 'passenger-carrying vehicle' see PARA 489 note 6 post.

13 I.e. authorised by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99A(1) (as added): see the text and notes 1-8 supra.

14 For the purposes of ibid s 99A (as added), 'relevant date', in relation to a Community licence holder who is normally resident in Great Britain, means the date on which he first became so resident: s 99A(8)(b) (as added: see note 8 supra). Section 99A(8) (as added) also contains transitional provisions which are now spent: see s 99A(8)(a) (as so added). As to the relevant residence requirements see PARA 445 note 5 ante.

15 Ibid s 99A(3) (as added: see note 8 supra).

16 Ibid s 99A(4) (as added: see note 8 supra).

- 23 For the meaning of 'provisional licence' see PARA 445 note 27 ante.
- 24 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99A(5) (as added: see note 8 supra). The provisions of s 98(3), (4) (as amended) (see PARA 466 ante) apply in relation to s 99A(5) (as added) as they apply in relation to s 98(2) (as amended) (see PARA 466 ante): s 99A(6) (as so added). The operation of s 99A(5) (as added) is thereby limited. As to the limitations placed upon the right of Community licence holders to drive other classes of vehicle under provisional licence conditions see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 19(7)-(11). The provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99A(5), (6) (as added) are repealed, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10(12), 59, Sch 3 paras 2, 10, Sch 7. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.
- 25 'Valid' is not defined in the legislation. A licence would presumably not be valid if, for example, it had expired in the state of issue.
- 26 For the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 415 note 16 ante.
- 27 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99A(7) (as added: see note 8 supra). Section 99A(7) (as added) applies for the purposes of Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) and Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as substituted and amended).

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/ (ix) Community Licence Holders/474. Provision of information and issue of counterpart licences.

474. Provision of information and issue of counterpart licences.

A Community licence<sup>1</sup> holder who is normally resident<sup>2</sup> in Great Britain<sup>3</sup>, and is authorised by his Community licence to drive medium-sized or large goods vehicles<sup>4</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicles<sup>5</sup> of any class<sup>6</sup>, must, on or before the expiry of the period of 12 months beginning with the relevant date<sup>7</sup>, deliver his Community licence to the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup> and provide him with the information specified in heads (1) to (6) below<sup>9</sup>. That requirement does not, however, apply to a Community licence holder from whom the Secretary of State has received a qualifying application<sup>10</sup> for the grant of a licence<sup>11</sup>.

The Secretary of State may issue to any Community licence holder who is normally resident in Great Britain, and has delivered his Community licence to the Secretary of State, and provided him with the information specified in heads (1) to (6) below<sup>12</sup>, a document<sup>13</sup> in such form and containing such information as the Secretary of State may determine but designed for the endorsement of particulars relating to the Community licence<sup>14</sup>.

The information specified<sup>15</sup> is:

- 882 (1) the name and address in Great Britain of the Community licence holder<sup>16</sup>;
- 883 (2) his date of birth<sup>17</sup>;
- 884 (3) the classes of vehicle which he is authorised by his Community licence to drive<sup>18</sup>;
- 885 (4) the period of validity of the Community licence in the EEA state<sup>19</sup> in respect of which it was issued<sup>20</sup>;
- 886 (5) whether the licence was granted in exchange for a licence issued by a state other than an EEA state<sup>21</sup>; and
- 887 (6) such other information as the Secretary of State may require for the purposes of the proper exercise of any of his relevant functions<sup>22</sup>.

The Secretary of State may endorse a Community licence delivered to him<sup>23</sup> in such manner as he may determine with any part of the specified or required information<sup>24</sup>, or with information providing a means of ascertaining that information or any part of it<sup>25</sup>, and must return the Community licence to the holder<sup>26</sup>. Where it appears to the Secretary of State that a counterpart of a Community licence:

- 888 (a) is required to be endorsed in pursuance of any enactment or was issued with an error or omission in the information contained in it or in the particulars required to be endorsed on it<sup>27</sup>; or
- 889 (b) does not comply with any requirement imposed since it was issued by any provision made by, or having effect under, any enactment<sup>28</sup>, the Secretary of State may serve notice in writing on the Community licence holder requiring him to surrender the counterpart immediately to the Secretary of State, and it is the duty of the Community licence holder to comply with any such requirement<sup>29</sup>. Where the name or address of a Community licence holder as specified in the counterpart of his Community licence<sup>30</sup> ceases to be correct, the Community licence holder must surrender the counterpart and, in the case of a change of name, deliver his Community licence, immediately to the Secretary of State and provide him with particulars of the alterations falling to be made in the name or address<sup>31</sup>. On the surrender of a counterpart of a Community licence by any person<sup>32</sup> the Secretary of State must issue to that person a new counterpart of the Community licence<sup>33</sup>. On the delivery of a Community licence by any person<sup>34</sup> the Secretary of State may endorse the Community licence with the correct name and must return the Community licence to that person<sup>35</sup>. Where a Community licence holder who is required<sup>36</sup> to surrender the counterpart of his Community licence or to deliver his Community licence is not in possession of it in consequence of the fact that he has surrendered it to a constable or authorised person<sup>37</sup> on receiving a fixed penalty notice<sup>38</sup>, he does not fail to comply with that requirement if he surrenders the counterpart or delivers the Community licence immediately on its return<sup>39</sup>.

2 As to the relevant residence requirements see PARA 445 note 5 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 205 note 3 ante.

4 'Medium-sized goods vehicle' means a motor vehicle which is constructed or adapted to carry or to haul goods, which is not adapted to carry more than nine persons inclusive of the driver, and the permissible maximum weight of which exceeds 3.5 but not 7.5 tonnes, and includes a combination of such a motor vehicle and a trailer where the relevant maximum weight of the trailer does not exceed 750 kg: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (definition substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 19(2)). For the meaning of 'goods vehicle' see PARA 220 ante. As to large goods vehicles see PARA 487 et seq post.

5 For the meaning of 'passenger-carrying vehicle' see PARA 489 note 6 post.

6 As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'relevant date' see PARA 473 note 14 ante; definition applied by the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99B(14) (s 99B added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licences) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 10).

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99B(1) (as added: see note 7 supra). Where a Community licence holder has not complied with the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99B(1) (as added), the Secretary of State may serve notice in writing on the holder requiring him to deliver his Community licence to the Secretary of State and to provide him with the information specified in, or required under s 99B(4) (as added) within such period (not being less than 28 days from the date of service of the notice) as is specified in the notice: s 99B(10) (as so added). A person who drives a motor vehicle on a road is guilty of an offence if he fails without reasonable excuse to comply with a requirement contained in a notice served on him in pursuance of s 99B(10) (as added): s 99B(11)(a) (as so added). For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante; and for the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante. A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licences) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 3, Sch 2 para 8(d)). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post. In England and Wales, proceedings for an offence by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 99B(11)(a) (as added) must not be instituted except by the Secretary of State or by a constable acting with the approval of the Secretary of State: s 99B(13) (as so added). As to constables see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 101 et seq.

10 I.e. within the meaning of ibid s 88(1A) (as added): see PARA 446 ante.

11 Ibid s 99B(2) (as added: see note 7 supra). The licence referred to in the text is one granted under Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended): s 99B(2) (as so added).

12 I.e. the information specified or required under ibid s 99B(4) (as added): see notes 16-22 infra. This applies whether or not the information is provided in pursuance of s 99B (as added): see s 99B(3) (as added; prospectively repealed: see note 14 infra). A counterpart may therefore be issued to a person holding a Community licence not authorising the driving of a medium-sized or large goods vehicle or a passenger-carrying vehicle if he voluntarily provides the specified information. The advantage of doing so is to enable the Community licence holder to produce the counterpart to a constable or the fixed penalty clerk and take advantage of the lower penalties under the fixed penalty regime set out in the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 Pt III (ss 51-90) (as amended).

13 I.e. a document which is referred to in the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) in relation to a Community licence as a 'counterpart'. For the meaning of 'counterpart' see PARA 415 note 19 ante.

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/ (ix) Community Licence Holders/475. Revocation of authorisation to drive because of disability or prospective disability.

475. Revocation of authorisation to drive because of disability or prospective disability.

If the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> is at any time satisfied on inquiry:

- 890 (1) that a Community licence<sup>2</sup> holder who is normally resident<sup>3</sup> in Great Britain<sup>4</sup> at that time is suffering from a relevant disability<sup>5</sup>; and
- 891 (2) that the Secretary of State would be required<sup>6</sup> to refuse an application made by him at that time for a licence<sup>7</sup> authorising him to drive<sup>8</sup> a vehicle of the class<sup>9</sup> in respect of which his Community licence was issued or a class corresponding to that class<sup>10</sup>, the Secretary of State may serve notice in writing requiring the Community licence holder to deliver the Community licence and its counterpart<sup>11</sup> (if any) immediately to the Secretary of State<sup>12</sup>.

If the Secretary of State is at any time satisfied on inquiry that a Community licence holder who is normally resident in Great Britain at that time is suffering from a prospective disability<sup>13</sup>, he may serve notice in writing requiring the Community licence holder to deliver the Community licence and its counterpart (if any) immediately to the Secretary of State<sup>14</sup>, and on receipt of the Community licence and its counterpart (if any) grant to the Community licence holder, free of charge, a licence for a period determined by the Secretary of State<sup>15</sup>.

Where, in relation to a Community licence holder who is normally resident in Great Britain, the Secretary of State is at any time under a duty to serve notice on him<sup>16</sup>, the Secretary of State may include in that notice a requirement that the Community licence holder deliver the Community licence and its counterpart (if any) immediately to the Secretary of State<sup>17</sup>.

A person who is required<sup>18</sup> to deliver his Community licence and its counterpart (if any) to the Secretary of State, but without reasonable excuse fails to do so, is guilty of an offence<sup>19</sup>. Where a Community licence holder to whom a counterpart of his Community licence is issued<sup>20</sup> is required<sup>21</sup> to deliver his Community licence and its counterpart to the Secretary of State, and is not in possession of them in consequence of the fact that he has surrendered them to a constable or authorised person<sup>22</sup> on receiving a fixed penalty notice<sup>23</sup>, he does not fail to comply with any such requirement if he delivers the Community licence and its counterpart to the Secretary of State immediately on their return<sup>24</sup>.

Where a Community licence holder is served with the relevant notice<sup>25</sup> he ceases to be authorised<sup>26</sup> to drive in Great Britain a motor vehicle<sup>27</sup> of any class from such date as may be specified in the notice, not being earlier than the date of service of the notice<sup>28</sup>.

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(xi) Disqualification/478. Disqualification of persons under age.

(xi) Disqualification

478. Disqualification of persons under age.

A person is disqualified for holding or obtaining a licence<sup>1</sup> to drive<sup>2</sup> a motor vehicle<sup>3</sup> of a specified class<sup>4</sup> if he is under the age specified in relation to that class<sup>5</sup>. A person may not hold or obtain a licence to drive:

- 892 (1) an invalid carriage<sup>6</sup>, if he is under 16 years of age<sup>7</sup>;
- 893 (2) a moped<sup>8</sup>, if he is under 16 years of age<sup>9</sup>;
- 894 (3) a motor bicycle<sup>10</sup>, if he is under 17 years of age<sup>11</sup>;
- 895 (4) an agricultural or forestry tractor<sup>12</sup>, if he is under 17 years of age<sup>13</sup>;
- 896 (5) a small vehicle<sup>14</sup>, if he is under 17 years of age<sup>15</sup>;
- 897 (6) a medium-sized goods vehicle<sup>16</sup>, if he is under 18 years of age<sup>17</sup>; or
- 898 (7) any other motor vehicle<sup>18</sup>, if he is under 21 years of age<sup>19</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

4 As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante. The relevant classes of motor vehicles are specified in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(1), Table column 1 (Table substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 15).

5 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(1). Subject to any regulations made under s 101(2) (see PARA 479 post), s 101 (as amended) (in so far as it prohibits persons under 21 from holding or obtaining a licence to drive motor vehicles or persons under 18 from holding or obtaining a licence to drive medium-sized goods vehicles) does not apply in the case of vehicles in the service of a visiting force: Visiting Forces and International Headquarters (Application of Law) Order 1999, SI 1999/1736, art 8(5).

6 For the meaning of 'invalid carriage' see PARA 215 ante.

7 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(1), Table item 1 (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

8 For the meaning of 'moped' see PARA 447 note 12 ante.

9 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(1), Table item 2 (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

10 For the meaning of 'motor bicycle' see PARA 447 note 11 ante.

11 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(1), Table item 3 (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

12 'Agricultural or forestry tractor' means a motor vehicle which has two or more axles, is constructed for use as a tractor for work off the road in connection with agriculture or forestry, and is primarily used as such: ibid s 108(1) (definition substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 19(2)). For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

13 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(1), Table item 4 (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

14 For the meaning of 'small vehicle' see PARA 447 note 10 ante.

15 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(1), Table item 5 (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

16 For the meaning of 'medium-sized goods vehicle' see PARA 474 note 4 ante.

'Permissible maximum weight', in relation to a goods vehicle (of whatever description), means:

119 (1) in the case of a motor vehicle which neither is an articulated goods vehicle nor is drawing a trailer, the relevant maximum weight of the vehicle (ibid s 108(1));

120 (2) in the case of an articulated goods vehicle:

5. (a) when drawing only a semi-trailer, the relevant maximum train weight of the articulated goods vehicle combination (s 108(1));

5

6. (b) when drawing a trailer as well as a semi-trailer, the aggregate of the relevant maximum train weight of the articulated goods vehicle combination and the relevant maximum weight of the trailer (s 108(1));

6

7. (c) when drawing a trailer but not a semi-trailer, the aggregate of the relevant maximum weight of the articulated goods vehicle and the relevant maximum weight of the trailer (s 108(1));

8. (d) when drawing neither a semi-trailer nor a trailer, the relevant maximum weight of the vehicle (s 108(1));

121 (3) in the case of a motor vehicle (not being an articulated goods vehicle) which is drawing a trailer, the aggregate of the relevant maximum weight of the motor vehicle and the relevant maximum weight of the trailer (s 108(1)).

In relation to the definition of 'permissible maximum weight', in head (1) supra, 'trailer' means something 'trailed' behind another vehicle: Pritchard v DPP [2003] EWHC 1851 (Admin), [2004] RTR 355 (vehicle towing movable engineering plant).

'Relevant maximum weight', in relation to a motor vehicle or trailer, means:

- 122 (i) in the case of a vehicle to which regulations under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 49 (as amended) (see PARA 679 post) apply which is required by regulations under s 41 (as amended) (see PARA 260 ante) to have a maximum gross weight for the vehicle marked on a plate issued by the Secretary of State under regulations under s 41 (as amended), the maximum gross weight so marked on the vehicle (s 108(1));
- 123 (ii) in the case of a vehicle which is required by regulations under s 41 (as amended) to have a maximum gross weight for the vehicle marked on the vehicle and does not also have a maximum gross weight marked on such a plate, the maximum gross weight marked on the vehicle (s 108(1));
- 124 (iii) in the case of a vehicle on which a maximum gross weight is marked by the same means as would be required by regulations under s 41 (as amended) if those regulations applied to the vehicle, the maximum gross weight so marked on the vehicle (s 108(1));
- 125 (iv) in the case of a vehicle on which a maximum gross weight is not marked as mentioned in head (i), head (ii) or head (iii) supra, the notional maximum gross weight of the vehicle, that is to say, such weight as is produced by multiplying the unladen weight of the vehicle by the number prescribed by the Secretary of State for the class of vehicle into which that vehicle falls (s 108(1)).

For the prescribed multiplier see the Goods Vehicles (Ascertainment of Maximum Gross Weights) Regulations 1976, SI 1976/555, which have effect as if made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) by virtue of the Road Traffic (Consequential Provisions) Act 1988 s 2(2).

'Articulated goods vehicle' means a motor vehicle which is so constructed that a trailer designed to carry goods may by partial superimposition be attached to it in such manner as to cause a substantial part of the weight of the trailer to be borne by the motor vehicle (ie it is the tractor vehicle of an articulated goods vehicle combination); 'semi-trailer', in relation to an articulated goods vehicle, means a trailer attached to it in the manner described; and 'articulated goods vehicle combination' means an articulated goods vehicle with a semi-trailer attached: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1).

'Relevant maximum train weight', in relation to an articulated goods vehicle combination, means:

- 126 (A) in the case of an articulated goods vehicle to which regulations under s 49 (as amended) apply which is required by regulations under s 41 (as amended) to have a maximum train weight for the combination marked on a plate issued by the Secretary of State under regulations under s 41 (as amended), the maximum train weight so marked on the motor vehicle (s 108(1));
- 127 (B) in the case of an articulated goods vehicle which is required by regulations under s 41 to have a maximum train weight for the combination marked on the vehicle and does not also have a maximum train weight marked on it as mentioned in head (A) supra, the maximum train weight marked on the motor vehicle (s 108(1));
- 128 (C) in the case of an articulated goods vehicle on which a maximum train weight is marked by the same means as would be required by regulations under s 41 if those regulations applied to the vehicle, the maximum train weight so marked on the motor vehicle (s 108(1));
- 129 (D) in the case of an articulated goods vehicle on which a maximum train weight is not marked as mentioned in head (A), head (B) or head (C) supra, the notional maximum gross weight of the combination, that is to say, such weight as is produced by multiplying the sum of the unladen weights of the motor vehicle and the semi-trailer by the number prescribed by the Secretary of State for the class of articulated goods vehicle combination into which that combination falls (s 108(1)).

'Maximum train weight' in relation to an articulated goods vehicle combination, means the weight of the combination laden with the heaviest load which it is constructed or adapted to carry: s 108(1).

As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

17 Ibid s 101(1), Table item 6 (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

18 The 'other motor vehicles' referred to in the text are primarily large goods and passenger-carrying vehicles but also vehicles such as road rollers. As to large goods vehicles see PARA 487 post; and for the meaning of 'passenger-carrying vehicle' see PARA 489 note 6 post.

479. Exceptions to the rule of disqualification of under age persons.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations<sup>2</sup> provide that the provisions<sup>3</sup> disqualifying under age persons from holding or obtaining a licence<sup>4</sup> to drive<sup>5</sup> a motor vehicle<sup>6</sup> of a specified class<sup>7</sup> are to have effect as if for the classes of vehicles and the ages specified<sup>8</sup> there were substituted different classes of vehicles and ages, or different classes of vehicles, or different ages<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

2 The regulations may in particular:

130 (1) apply to persons of a class specified in or under the regulations (Road Traffic Act 1988 s 101(3)(a));

131 (2) apply in circumstances so specified (s 101(3)(b));

132 (3) impose conditions or create exemptions or provide for the imposition of conditions or the creation of exemptions (s 101(3)(c));

133 (4) contain such transitional and supplemental provisions (including provisions amending s 108 (interpretation)) as the Secretary of State considers necessary or expedient (s 101(3)(d)).

There are a number of exceptions to the general rule, although except for large motor bicycles, trainee drivers of large goods vehicles, and passenger-carrying vehicles these exceptions are of limited application: see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 9(2)-(13) (amended by SI 2003/166; SI 2004/696; SI 2007/605).

For the purpose of defining the class of persons to whom, the class of vehicles to which, the circumstances in which, or the conditions subject to which regulations made by virtue of s 102(2) are to apply where an approved training scheme for drivers is in force, it is sufficient for the regulations to refer to a document which embodies the terms (or any of the terms) of the scheme or to a document which is in force in pursuance of the scheme: s 101(4). 'Approved' means approved for the time being by the Secretary of State for the purpose of the regulations: s 101(5). 'Training scheme for drivers' means a scheme for training persons to drive vehicles of a class in relation to which the age which is in force under s 101 (as amended) (but apart from any such scheme) is 21 years: s 101(5). However, no approved training scheme for drivers may be amended without the approval of the Secretary of State: s 101(5).

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(xi) Disqualification/481. Obtaining licence, or driving, while disqualified.

481. Obtaining licence, or driving, while disqualified.

A person is guilty of an offence if, while disqualified<sup>1</sup> for holding or obtaining a licence<sup>2</sup>, he obtains a licence<sup>3</sup>, or drives<sup>4</sup> a motor vehicle<sup>5</sup> on a road<sup>6</sup>. A licence obtained by a person who is disqualified is of no effect (or, where the disqualification relates only to vehicles of a particular class<sup>7</sup>, is of no effect in relation to vehicles of that class)<sup>8</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'disqualified' see PARA 443 note 11 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

3 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103(1)(a) (s 103 substituted by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 19). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I. As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post.

This offence and the offence in the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103(1)(b) (as substituted) (see the text and note 6 infra) are absolute and therefore a driver's state of mind as to the existence or otherwise of a disqualification affecting him is irrelevant: Taylor v Kenyon [1952] 2 All ER 726, DC (defendant did not attend court and claimed no knowledge of the order of disqualification). Taylor v Kenyon supra was applied in R v Lynn [1971] RTR 369, CA (on similar facts and notwithstanding that the disqualification in question was later removed on appeal). See also R v Bowsher [1973] RTR 202, CA (two disqualifications ordered at different times, to run consecutively; defendant and licensing authority under common misapprehension about this; driving licence returned in error by licensing authority prior to expiry of second disqualification).

4 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

6 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to six months imprisonment or to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale; disqualification is discretionary; endorsement is obligatory; and 6 penalty points may be attributed: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 28 (as substituted) (see PARA 1049 post), s 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry amended by the Road Traffic Act 1991 s 26, Sch 2 paras 1, 2). As to penalty points see PARA 1048 et seq post. For the meaning of 'road' see PARA 206 ante.

Despite the offence generally being an absolute one (see note 3 supra; and R v Miller [1975] 2 All ER 974, [1975] RTR 479, CA, where the defendant believed he was not driving on a road), in extreme cases the defence of necessity arising from duress of circumstances may be available: see R v Martin [1989] 1 All ER 652, [1989] RTR 63, CA (defendant drove because of fear that wife would commit suicide if he did not; court held that threat of death, however arising, could establish such a defence).

The offence of driving while disqualified requires the prosecution to prove that the defendant was both driving and disqualified: see the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103(1)(b) (as so substituted). The question of what evidence is necessary to prove disqualification was considered in R v Derwentside Justices, ex p Heaviside [1996] RTR 384, DC, where the court held that proof was required in one of three ways, namely: (1) by formal admission under the Criminal Justice Act 1967 s 10 (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(3) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1538); (2) by fingerprint evidence under the Criminal Justice Act 1948 s 39 (as amended) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(3) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1460); or (3) by evidence given in court by a person who was present at the time of the conviction (defendant convicted on the basis of evidence that a police officer, not present in court, who knew him to be disqualified had seen him driving plus production of an entry in the court register showing person of same name and date of birth disqualified for three years; held insufficient to prove disqualification). It has since been held by the Court of Appeal, however, that these methods of proof are not exhaustive: DPP v Mooney [1997] RTR 434, CA (certificate of conviction of person of same name as defendant produced in accordance with the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 s 73(1) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(3) (2006 Reissue) PARAS 1347, 1500); defendant had admitted disqualification to arresting officer though not a formal admission under the Criminal Justice Act 1967; held that the evidence that the defendant was the person disqualified was sufficiently cogent to convict him). See also DPP v Mansfield [1997] RTR 96, DC; R v Derwentside Justices, ex p Swift [1997] RTR 89, DC (production of certificate of conviction of a named person plus sufficient proof of identity of the defendant from other evidence before justices). The legal position of a defendant charged under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103 (as amended) may also have been materially affected by the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 s 35 (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(3) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1555) as a result of which inferences may be drawn from a defendant's refusal, without good cause, to give evidence or answer questions at trial: see Olakunori v DPP (8 July 1998) Lexis, DC.

The provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103(1) (as substituted) do not apply in relation to disqualification by virtue of age under s 101 (as amended) (see PARAS 478-479 ante); s 103(4) (as so substituted; and amended by the Police Reform Act 2002 ss 107(1), 108(10)(b), Sch 7 paras 11(1), (3)). The effect of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103(4) (as substituted and amended) is that driving a motor vehicle while under age is treated as a less serious offence under the Road Traffic Act 1988. Under-age driving is not specifically made an offence but falls within the offence of driving otherwise than in accordance with a licence under s 87(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 444 ante).

The provisions of s 103(1)(b) (as substituted) do not apply in relation to disqualification by virtue of s 102 (as amended) (see PARA 480 ante); s 103(5) (as so substituted; and amended by the Police Reform Act 2002 ss 107(1), 108(10)(b), Sch 7 para 11(4)).

In the application of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103(1) (as substituted) to a person whose disqualification is limited to the driving of motor vehicles of a particular class by virtue of s 102 (as amended) (see PARA 480 ante), s 117 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 498 post), s 117A (as added and amended) (see PARA 499 post), or the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 36(9) (as substituted) (see PARA 1071 post), the references to disqualification for holding or obtaining a licence and driving motor vehicles are references to disqualification for holding or obtaining a licence to drive and driving motor vehicles of that class: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 103(6) (as so substituted; and amended by the Police Reform Act 2002 ss 107(1), 108(10)(b), Sch 7 para 11(5); and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 16).

7 As to classes of vehicle see PARA 208 ante. As to disqualifications relating to vehicles of a particular class see the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 117 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 498 post); s 117A (as added and amended) (see PARA 499 post); and the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 36(9) (as substituted) (see PARA 1071 post).

DRIVER LICENSING/(1) LICENSING OF DRIVERS OF VEHICLES GENERALLY/(xiv) Northern Ireland Drivers' Licences/484. Provisions as to Northern Ireland drivers' licences.

(xiv) Northern Ireland Drivers' Licences

484. Provisions as to Northern Ireland drivers' licences.

The holder of a Northern Ireland driving licence<sup>1</sup> may drive<sup>2</sup>, and a person may cause or permit the holder of such a licence to drive, in Great Britain<sup>3</sup>, in accordance with that licence, a motor vehicle<sup>4</sup> of any class<sup>5</sup> which he is authorised by that licence to drive, and which he is not disqualified<sup>6</sup> from driving, notwithstanding that he is not the holder of a licence under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>7</sup>.

Any driver holding a Northern Ireland driving licence is under the same obligation to produce his licence and its counterpart<sup>8</sup> as if they had respectively been a licence granted under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>9</sup> and the counterpart to such a licence<sup>10</sup>.

The Secretary of State<sup>11</sup> may issue a document (a 'counterpart') to any Northern Ireland licence holder who: (1) has delivered his Northern Ireland licence to the Secretary of State; and (2) has provided him with specified or required information<sup>12</sup> (whether or not in pursuance of these provisions)<sup>13</sup>. The counterpart must be in such form and contain such information designed for the endorsement of particulars relating to the Northern Ireland licence as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>14</sup>. The Secretary of State may endorse a Northern Ireland licence delivered to him (whether or not in pursuance of these provisions) in such manner as he may determine: (a) with any part of the specified or required information; or (b) with information providing a means of ascertaining that information or any part of it; and he must return the Northern Ireland licence to the holder<sup>15</sup>.

If the Secretary of State is at any time satisfied on inquiry that a Northern Ireland licence holder is suffering from a relevant disability<sup>16</sup>, and that he would be required<sup>17</sup> to refuse an application made by the holder at that time for a licence authorising him to drive a vehicle of the class in respect of which his Northern Ireland licence was issued or a class corresponding to that class, then he may serve notice in writing requiring the licence holder to deliver immediately to the Secretary of State his Northern Ireland licence together with its Northern Ireland counterpart and its counterpart (if any) issued to him under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>18</sup>. If the Secretary of State is satisfied on inquiry that a Northern Ireland licence holder is suffering from a prospective disability<sup>19</sup>, he may serve notice in writing on the Northern Ireland licence holder requiring him to deliver immediately to the Secretary of State his Northern Ireland licence together with the relevant counterparts and, on receipt of the Northern Ireland licence and those counterparts and of an application made for these purposes<sup>20</sup>, grant to the Northern Ireland licence holder, free of charge, a licence for a period determined<sup>21</sup> by the Secretary of State<sup>22</sup>. The Secretary of State may require a person to provide evidence of his name, address, sex and date and place of birth, and a photograph which is a current likeness of him before granting a licence to him on an application for these purposes<sup>23</sup>.

A person who is required<sup>24</sup> to deliver to the Secretary of State his Northern Ireland licence and the relevant counterparts is guilty of an offence if he fails without reasonable excuse to do so<sup>25</sup>. Where a Northern Ireland licence holder to whom a counterpart is issued<sup>26</sup> is required<sup>27</sup> to deliver his Northern Ireland licence and that counterpart to the Secretary of State, and is not in possession of them in consequence of the fact that he has surrendered them to a constable or an authorised person<sup>28</sup> on receiving a fixed penalty notice<sup>29</sup>, he does not fail to comply with any such requirement if he delivers them to the Secretary of State immediately on their return<sup>30</sup>. Where a Northern Ireland licence holder is served with a notice<sup>31</sup>, he ceases to be authorised<sup>32</sup> to drive in Great Britain a motor vehicle of any class from such date as may be specified in the notice, not being earlier than the date of service of the notice<sup>33</sup>. Where a Northern Ireland licence is delivered to the Secretary of State in pursuance of these provisions, he must send the licence and its Northern Ireland counterpart to the licensing authority in Northern Ireland, and explain to it his reasons for so doing<sup>34</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'Northern Ireland driving licence' see PARA 443 note 7 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 205 note 3 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

5 As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

6 Ie disqualified under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) or Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as substituted and amended). For the meaning of 'disqualified' see PARA 443 note 11 ante.

7 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 109(1) (amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 16(a); and the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 91(1), Sch 5 paras 17, 26(a)). The legislation does not make it clear what entitlement to drive, if any, is conferred on a holder of a provisional Northern Ireland licence. The assumption must be that none is conferred since conditions imposed under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(3) (as amended) (see PARA 449 ante) do not apply to them, and Northern Ireland law does not apply in England and Wales. It would be extraordinary if the holder of a provisional Northern Ireland licence were entitled to drive in England and Wales subject neither to the conditions imposed under s 89(3) (as amended) nor to those imposed under Northern Irish legislation. In the present context, therefore, it is submitted that the expression 'Northern Ireland driving licence' may be taken to include a full licence only but it has to be admitted that s 109(1) is not clear in that respect.

8 For the purposes of ibid Pt III (as amended), 'Northern Ireland counterpart' means the document issued with the Northern Ireland licence as a counterpart under the law of Northern Ireland: s 108(1) (definition added by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 91(1), Sch 5 paras 17, 25(b)). The provisions of the Road Traffic Act 1988 as to the production of licences and counterparts of licences granted under Pt III (as amended) apply accordingly: s 109(2) (amended by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 91, Sch 5 para 26(b), Sch 6).

As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 109(2) (as amended) is substituted so as to provide that any driver holding a Northern Ireland licence is under the same obligation to produce such a licence as if it had been a licence granted under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended), and the provisions of that Act as to the production of licences granted under Pt III (as amended) apply accordingly: s 109(2) (prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 10(12), Sch 3 paras 2, 15). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

12 Ie specified in, or required under, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 109A(3) (as added). The information referred to is: (1) the name and address (whether in Great Britain or Northern Ireland) of the Northern Ireland licence holder; (2) his date of birth; (3) the classes of vehicle which he is authorised by his Northern Ireland licence to drive; (4) the period of validity of the licence; (5) whether it was granted in exchange for a licence issued by a state other than an EEA state; and (6) such other information as the Secretary of State may require for the purposes of the proper exercise of any of his functions under Pt III (as amended) or Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as amended): s 109A(3) (s 109A added by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 77(1)).

13 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 109A(1) (as added: see note 12 supra). The provisions of s 99B(6)-(9), (11)(b), (12) (see PARA 474 ante) apply for the purposes of s 109A (as added) as if the references to a community licence were references to a Northern Ireland licence: s 109A(5) (as so added). As to the prospective substitution of s 109A(5) (as added) see note 15 infra.

As from a day to be appointed, s 109A(1) (as added) is substituted so as to provide that the Secretary of State may endorse the driving record of a Northern Ireland licence holder who delivers to him a Northern Ireland licence together with the information specified in, or required under, the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 109A(3) (as added) (see note 12 supra) with any part of that information: s 109A(1) (s 109A(1), (2) prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 paras 2, 16(1), (2)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. For the meaning of 'driving record' see PARA 1024 note 11 post.

14 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 109A(2) (as added (see note 12 supra); and prospectively substituted: see note 13 supra).

15 Ibid s 109A(4) (as added: see note 12 supra). As from a day to be appointed, s 109A(4) (as added) is prospectively substituted so as to provide that where the name of a Northern Ireland licence holder as specified in his Northern Ireland licence ceases to be correct, he may deliver his Northern Ireland licence immediately to the Secretary of State and provide him with particulars of the alterations falling to be made in the name on it: s 109A(4) (s 109A(4), (5) prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 16(3)). On the delivery of a Northern Ireland licence by any person in pursuance of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 109A(4) (as added; prospectively substituted), the Secretary of State may endorse the Northern Ireland licence and that person's driving record with the correct name and must return the Northern Ireland licence to that person: s 109A(5) (as so added and prospectively substituted). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 109B(1) (as added) is prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 10(12), 59, Sch 3 paras 2, 17(1), (2), Sch 7 so as to remove the reference to the Northern Ireland counterpart and the counterpart (if any) issued under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended). ## (xv) Driver Training

485. Compulsory driver training courses.

Provision is made for the training of drivers who have not passed a driving test<sup>1</sup> on a particular class<sup>2</sup> of vehicle. Regulations may make provision about training in the driving of motor vehicles<sup>3</sup> by means of courses provided in accordance with the regulations ('driver training courses')<sup>4</sup>.

Such regulations may provide that persons who have not successfully completed a driver training course: (1) may not take a test of competence to drive motor vehicles of a prescribed class (or a prescribed part of such a test); (2) are not authorised to drive motor vehicles of a prescribed class (before having passed a test of competence to drive them) by a provisional licence<sup>5</sup>; (3) are not to be granted a licence authorising the driving of motor vehicles of a prescribed class<sup>6</sup>; or (4) are not authorised to drive motor vehicles of a prescribed class in prescribed circumstances (despite having passed a test of competence to drive them)<sup>7</sup>. A person is, however, exempt from provision made by virtue of head (2), (3) or (4) above if he is undergoing training on a driver training course and is driving a motor vehicle as part of the training<sup>8</sup>. Regulations<sup>9</sup> may also include provision exempting persons from any provision<sup>10</sup> in other circumstances; and regulations including such provision may (in particular): (a) limit an exemption to persons in prescribed circumstances; (b) limit an exemption to a prescribed period or in respect of driving in a prescribed area; (c) attach conditions to an exemption; and (d) regulate applications for an exemption<sup>11</sup>. Regulations may provide that a driver training course is not to be taken into account for the purposes of the regulations if it was completed before such time as is prescribed<sup>12</sup>.

488. Power of the Secretary of State to make regulations.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may make regulations for any purpose for which regulations may be made under Part IV of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>2</sup>, for prescribing anything which may be prescribed under Part IV, and generally for the purpose of carrying the provisions of Part IV into effect<sup>3</sup>. The Secretary of State may by regulations provide that Part IV is not to apply to large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles of such classes as may be prescribed either generally or in such circumstances as may be prescribed<sup>4</sup>. Regulations may: (1) make different provision as respects different classes of vehicles or as respects the same class of vehicles in different circumstances<sup>5</sup>; and (2) provide that a person who contravenes or fails to comply with any specified provision of the regulations is guilty of an offence<sup>6</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

2 Ie the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as substituted and amended): see PARA 489 et seq post.

3 Ibid s 120(1) (s 120 substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 2, Sch 2). 'Prescribed' means, unless the context requires otherwise, prescribed by regulations under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 120 (as substituted): s 121(1) (s 121 substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 2). For regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 120 (as substituted) see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864 (as amended).

4 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 120(6) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

5 Ibid s 120(4) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

6 Ibid s 120(5) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). A person guilty of such an offence under s 120(5) (as substituted) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry amended by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 28; and the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 3, Sch 2 para (g)). DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(ii) Grant of Licences/489. Licensing of drivers of large goods vehicles and passenger-carrying vehicles.

(ii) Grant of Licences

489. Licensing of drivers of large goods vehicles and passenger-carrying vehicles.

Licences<sup>1</sup> to drive<sup>2</sup> motor vehicles<sup>3</sup> of classes<sup>4</sup> which include large goods vehicles<sup>5</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicles<sup>6</sup> (or large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles of any class) must be granted by the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup>.

1 Ie licences under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended). For the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 443 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 210 ante.

4 As to classes of vehicle see PARA 208 ante.

5 'Large goods vehicle' means a motor vehicle (not being a medium-sized goods vehicle within the meaning of the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended)) which is constructed or adapted to carry or to haul goods and the permissible maximum weight of which exceeds 7.5 tonnes: s 121(1) (s 121 substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 2, Sch 2; definition further substituted by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 2, Sch 1 para 28(2)). For the meaning of 'medium-sized goods vehicle' see PARA 474 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'permissible maximum weight' see PARA 478 note 16 ante; definition applied by the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 121(1) (as so substituted; definition added by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 28(2)).

6 'Passenger-carrying vehicle' means either: (1) a large passenger-carrying vehicle, ie a vehicle used for carrying passengers which is constructed or adapted to carry more than 16 passengers; or (2) a small passenger-carrying vehicle, ie a vehicle used for carrying passengers for hire or reward which is constructed or adapted to carry more than eight but not more than 16 passengers and includes a combination of such a motor vehicle and trailer: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 121(1) (s 121 as substituted (see note 5 supra); and definition amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, Sch 1 para 28(2)). For the meaning of 'trailer' see PARA 210 ante. 'Hire or reward' is not defined for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as substituted and amended). However, for certain purposes of the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981 s 1(1) (as amended) (see PARA 1136 post), a vehicle is treated as carrying passengers for hire or reward if payment is made for, or for matters which include, the carrying of passengers: see s 1(5)(a) (as amended); and PARA 1136 post. It is submitted that for the purposes of the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt IV (as substituted and amended) the definition of 'hire and reward' should be treated as bearing the same meaning.

7 Ibid s 110(1) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). The Secretary of State grants such licences in accordance with Pt IV (as substituted and amended): s 110(1) (as so substituted). In so far as they authorise the driving of large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles, such licences are otherwise subject to Pt IV (as substituted and amended) in addition to Pt III (as amended): s 110(1) (as so substituted). For the regulations relating to goods and passenger-carrying vehicles see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, regs 49-57 (as amended). The Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt IV (as substituted and amended) does not apply to any vehicles in categories F, G or H or in sub-category C1 and E (8.25 tonnes), or to the other classes of goods and military vehicles specifically thereby exempted: see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, regs 50, 51 (reg 51 amended by SI 2003/166). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante. As to categories of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(ii) Grant of Licences/490. Persons below the normal minimum age for driving large goods and passenger-carrying vehicles.

490. Persons below the normal minimum age for driving large goods and passenger-carrying vehicles.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> require applicants for tests of competence<sup>2</sup> to drive<sup>3</sup> large goods vehicles<sup>4</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicles<sup>5</sup> or for large goods vehicle driver's licences<sup>6</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licences<sup>7</sup> (whether full<sup>8</sup> or provisional) to have the prescribed qualifications, experience and knowledge where they are to be authorised to drive large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles of any class at an age below the normal minimum age for driving<sup>9</sup> such vehicles<sup>10</sup>. In particular, where they are to be authorised to drive large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles of any class at an age below the normal minimum age for driving vehicles of that class, they must fulfil such requirements with respect to participation in an approved training scheme for drivers<sup>11</sup> as may be prescribed<sup>12</sup>.

- 1 The regulations made under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as substituted and amended).
- 2 The under ibid Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended).
- 3 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante.
- 4 For the meaning of 'large goods vehicle' see PARA 489 note 5 ante.
- 5 For the meaning of 'passenger-carrying vehicle' see PARA 489 note 6 ante.
- 6 'Large goods vehicle driver's licence' means a licence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) in so far as it authorises a person to drive large goods vehicles of any class: s 110(2) (s 110 substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 2, Sch 2).
- 7 'Passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence' means a licence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) in so far as it authorises a person to drive passenger-carrying vehicles of any class: s 110(2) (as substituted: see note 6 supra). As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.
- 8 'Full licence' means a large goods vehicle or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence other than a provisional licence: ibid s 121(1) (substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 2). 'Provisional licence' means a licence granted by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 97(2): s 121(1) (as so substituted).
- 9 'Normal minimum age for driving', in relation to the driving of vehicles of any class, means the age which would apply by virtue of ibid s 101 (as amended) (see PARAS 478-479 post) (but apart from any approved training scheme for drivers) in relation to that class of vehicle: s 120(3) (s 120 substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 Sch 2).
- 10 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 120(2) (as substituted: see note 9 supra).
- 11 'Approved training scheme for drivers' means a training scheme for drivers (as defined in ibid s 101(5): see PARA 479 ante) approved for the time being by the Secretary of State for the purposes of regulations under s 101 (as amended) (see PARAS 478-479 post): s 120(3) (as substituted: see note 9 supra). The approved scheme is the Young LGV Driver Training Scheme which was established by Skills for Logistics and approved by the Secretary of State on 24 February 2004 for training young drivers of large goods vehicles: see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 54 (substituted by SI 2003/636; and amended by SI 2004/1519). By virtue of EC Council Regulation 3820/85 (OJ L370, 31.12.85, p 1) a person may not drive a vehicle having a permissible maximum weight exceeding 7.5 tonnes unless he holds a certificate of professional competence, confirming that he has completed a training course for drivers of vehicles intended for the carriage of goods by road, in conformity with Community rules: see art 5. A certificate is issued in conjunction with the approved scheme. An applicant for a large goods vehicle driver's licence who is under the age of 21 must satisfy the Secretary of State that he holds such a certificate: see the Motor Vehicles (Driving Licences) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2864, reg 12(3) (amended by SI 2003/636).

494. Referral of matters of conduct to traffic commissioners.

Any question arising<sup>1</sup> relating to the conduct<sup>2</sup> of an applicant for a licence may be referred by the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> to the traffic commissioner<sup>4</sup> for the area in which the applicant resides<sup>5</sup>. On any such reference, the traffic commissioner must determine whether the applicant for the licence is or is not, having regard to his conduct, a fit person to hold a licence to drive<sup>6</sup> large goods vehicles<sup>7</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicles<sup>8</sup>, as the case may be<sup>9</sup>.

A traffic commissioner to whom such a reference has been made may require the applicant for the licence to furnish him with such information as he may require and may, by notice<sup>10</sup>, require him to attend at a specified time and place to furnish that information and to answer such questions relating to his application as the commissioner may put to him<sup>11</sup>. If the applicant fails without reasonable excuse to furnish information to or attend before or answer questions properly put by a commissioner when required to do so, the commissioner may decline to proceed further with the application<sup>12</sup>. If he does so, the commissioner must notify the Secretary of State of that fact and the Secretary of State must then refuse to grant the licence<sup>13</sup>. Except in a case where he has declined to proceed further with the application, the traffic commissioner to whom a reference has been made must notify the Secretary of State and the applicant of his determination in the matter and the decision of the commissioner is binding on the Secretary of State<sup>14</sup>.

(iii) Revocation and Suspension of Licences

495. Revocation or suspension of licences.

A large goods vehicle driver's licence<sup>1</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence<sup>2</sup>:

902 (1) must be revoked if there come into existence, in relation to its holder, such circumstances relating to his conduct as may be prescribed<sup>3</sup>;

903 (2) must be revoked or suspended if the holder's conduct is such as to make him unfit to hold such a licence<sup>4</sup>, and where the licence is suspended under head (2) above it is during the time of suspension of no effect<sup>5</sup>.

Where it appears that the conduct of a licence holder falls within both heads (1) and (2) above, proceedings must be taken or, if already commenced, continued under head (1) above and not under head (2) above so that the power to suspend the licence, rather than revoke it, is not available<sup>6</sup>.

DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(iii) Revocation and Suspension of Licences/496. Referral of matters of conduct to traffic commissioners.

496. Referral of matters of conduct to traffic commissioners.

Any question arising<sup>1</sup>:

904 (1) as to whether a person is or is not, by reason of his conduct<sup>2</sup>, fit to hold a large goods vehicle driver's licence<sup>3</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence<sup>4</sup>, as the case may be<sup>5</sup>; or may be referred by the Secretary of State<sup>11</sup> to the traffic commissioner for the area in which the holder of the licence resides<sup>12</sup>.

905 (2) as to whether the holder of an LGV Community licence<sup>6</sup> or PCV Community licence<sup>7</sup> is or is not, by reason of his conduct, fit to be authorised<sup>8</sup> to drive in Great Britain<sup>9</sup> a large goods vehicle or passenger-carrying vehicle, as the case may be<sup>10</sup>,

Where, on any reference under head (1) above, the traffic commissioner determines that the holder of the licence is not fit to hold a large goods vehicle driver's licence or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence (as the case may be), he is also obliged to determine whether the conduct of the licence holder is such as to require the revocation of his licence or only its suspension, and, if the former, whether he should be disqualified<sup>13</sup>.

Where, on any reference under head (2) above, the traffic commissioner determines that a Community licence<sup>14</sup> holder is not fit to be authorised<sup>15</sup> to drive in Great Britain a large goods vehicle or passenger-carrying vehicle (as the case may be), he must also determine whether the Community licence holder should be disqualified<sup>16</sup>, or should be granted, free of charge, a large goods vehicle driver's licence or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence, and, if so, from what date it is to take effect<sup>17</sup>.

A traffic commissioner to whom such a reference has been made may require the holder of the licence to furnish him with such information as he may require and may, by notice<sup>18</sup> to the holder, require him to attend before the commissioner at the time and place specified by the commissioner to furnish the information and to answer such questions (if any) relating to the subject matter of the reference as the commissioner may put to him<sup>19</sup>. If the holder of the licence fails without reasonable excuse to furnish information or to attend before or answer questions properly put by a commissioner when required so to do, the commissioner may notify the failure to the Secretary of State and, if the commissioner does so, in a case where the licence in question is an LGV Community licence or a PCV Community licence, the holder ceases to be authorised<sup>20</sup> to drive in Great Britain a large goods or passenger-carrying vehicle (as the case may be) from such date as is specified in a notice served on the holder by the Secretary of State<sup>21</sup>; and in any other case, the Secretary of State must revoke the licence or suspend it for such period as he thinks fit<sup>22</sup>.

Except where he has given such a notification as is mentioned above<sup>23</sup>, the traffic commissioner to whom such a reference has been made must notify his determination in the matter to the Secretary of State and the holder of the licence and the decision of the traffic commissioner is binding on the Secretary of State<sup>24</sup>. Where the Secretary of State, without making such a reference, determines to revoke or suspend a person's licence<sup>25</sup> he must notify his determination in the matter to the holder of the licence and, where he suspends it, to the traffic commissioner for the area in which the holder of the licence resides<sup>26</sup>.

497. Cessation of authorisation with respect to Community licence holders.

Where, in relation to a holder of an LGV Community licence<sup>1</sup> or PCV Community licence<sup>2</sup> who is normally resident<sup>3</sup> in Great Britain<sup>4</sup>:

- 906 (1) there exist immediately before the relevant date<sup>5</sup>, or there come into existence on or after that date, the prescribed circumstances<sup>6</sup> relating to his conduct<sup>7</sup>; or
- 907 (2) his conduct is such as to make him unfit to be authorised<sup>8</sup> to drive<sup>9</sup> in Great Britain a large goods vehicle<sup>10</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicle<sup>11</sup> (as the case may be)<sup>12</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>13</sup> must serve notice<sup>14</sup> on the holder requiring him to deliver the Community licence and its counterpart<sup>15</sup> (if any) immediately to the Secretary of State and it is the duty of the holder to comply with that requirement<sup>16</sup>.

Where a notice is served in pursuance of head (1) or head (2) above on the holder of an LGV Community licence or a PCV Community licence, he ceases to be authorised<sup>17</sup> to drive in Great Britain a large goods vehicle or passenger-carrying vehicle (as the case may be) from such date as is specified in the notice, not being earlier than the date of service of the notice<sup>18</sup>.

Where it appears to the Secretary of State that the conduct of a Community licence holder falls within both heads (1) and (2) above, the Secretary of State must serve notice on the holder in pursuance of head (1) only<sup>19</sup>.

A Community licence holder who fails without reasonable excuse to comply with this duty<sup>20</sup> is guilty of an offence<sup>21</sup>.

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(iii) Revocation and Suspension of Licences/498. Disqualification on revocation of licence granted under the Road Traffic Act 1988.

498. Disqualification on revocation of licence granted under the Road Traffic Act 1988.

Where the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> revokes a person's large goods vehicle driver's licence<sup>2</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence<sup>3</sup> because there has come into existence, in relation to the holder, such circumstances relating to his conduct as may be prescribed<sup>4</sup>, the Secretary of State must<sup>5</sup> order that person to be disqualified<sup>6</sup> either indefinitely or for the period determined in accordance with the regulations<sup>7</sup>.

In other cases, where the holder's licence is revoked or suspended due to the fact that his conduct is such as to make him unfit to hold a large goods vehicle driver's licence or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence<sup>8</sup>, the Secretary of State may:

- 908 (1) order the holder to be disqualified indefinitely or for such period as the Secretary of State thinks fit<sup>9</sup>; or
- 909 (2) except where the licence is a provisional licence<sup>10</sup>, if it appears to the Secretary of State that, owing to the conduct of the holder of the licence, it is expedient to require him to comply with the prescribed conditions applicable to provisional licences<sup>11</sup> until he passes the prescribed test of competence to drive large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles of any class<sup>12</sup>, order him to be disqualified for holding or obtaining a full licence<sup>13</sup> until he passes such a test<sup>14</sup>.

Where a person's large goods vehicle driver's licence or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence is treated as revoked by virtue of his having been disqualified by a court<sup>15</sup>, the application of the provisions mentioned above<sup>16</sup> is modified by regulations according to the circumstances of the case<sup>17</sup>.

If, while the holder of a large goods vehicle driver's licence or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence is so disqualified, the prescribed circumstances<sup>18</sup> cease to exist in his case, the Secretary of State must, on an application made to him for that purpose, remove the disqualification<sup>19</sup>. So long as the disqualification of the holder of a large goods vehicle driver's licence or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence continues in force<sup>20</sup>, a large goods vehicle driver's licence or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence cannot be granted to him and any such licence obtained by him is of no effect<sup>21</sup>.

Where the holder of a full licence is disqualified under head (2) above, the Secretary of State may not afterwards grant him a full licence to drive a large goods vehicle or passenger-carrying vehicle of any class unless satisfied that he has since the disqualification passed the prescribed test of competence to drive vehicles of that class, and until he passes that test any full licence obtained by him is of no effect<sup>22</sup>.

6 For the purposes of ibid s 117 (as substituted and amended), 'disqualified':

136 (1) in a case of revocation on the ground of the conduct of the holder of the licence as a driver, means disqualified for holding or obtaining a licence under Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended) to drive large goods vehicles of the prescribed classes and passenger-carrying vehicles of the prescribed classes (s 117(7)(a) (s 117 substituted by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 2, Sch 2)); and 137 (2) in a case of revocation of a passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence on the ground of the conduct of the holder otherwise than as a driver, means disqualified for holding or obtaining a licence under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) to drive passenger-carrying vehicles of the prescribed classes (s 117(7)(b) (as so substituted)).

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

498 Disqualification on revocation of licence granted under the Road Traffic Act 1988

NOTE 12--SI 1999/2864 reg 40 substituted by SI 2008/1435 and amended by SI 2009/788. SI 1999/2864 Sch 7 amended by SI 2008/1435. SI 1999/2864 Sch 8 further amended by SI 2008/508, SI 2009/788.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(iii) Revocation and Suspension of Licences/499. Disqualification of Community licence holders.

499. Disqualification of Community licence holders.

Where a notice<sup>1</sup> is served on a Community licence<sup>2</sup> holder in the prescribed circumstances<sup>3</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> must order<sup>5</sup> that person to be disqualified<sup>6</sup> indefinitely or for the period determined in accordance with the regulations<sup>7</sup>.

Where a notice is served on a Community licence holder in other cases<sup>8</sup>, the Secretary of State may:

- 910 (1) order that person to be disqualified indefinitely or for such period as the Secretary of State thinks fit<sup>9</sup>;
- 911 (2) if it appears to the Secretary of State that, owing to the conduct of the Community licence holder, it is expedient to require him to comply with the prescribed conditions applicable to provisional licences<sup>10</sup> until he passes the prescribed test of competence to drive large goods vehicles or passenger-carrying vehicles of any class<sup>11</sup>, order him to be disqualified for holding or obtaining a full licence<sup>12</sup> until he passes such a test<sup>13</sup>; or
- 912 (3) on receipt of the Community licence and its counterpart<sup>14</sup> (if any), grant to the Community licence holder, on payment of such fee (if any) as may be prescribed, a large goods vehicle driver's licence<sup>15</sup> or passenger-carrying vehicle driver's licence<sup>16</sup> which takes effect from such date as the Secretary of State may determine<sup>17</sup>.

Where the Secretary of State orders<sup>18</sup> a Community licence holder to be disqualified, the Secretary of State must, on receipt of the Community licence and its counterpart (if any), grant to the Community licence holder, on payment of such fee (if any) as may be prescribed, a licence authorising the driving of the classes of vehicle which are unaffected by the disqualification<sup>19</sup>.

If, while the holder of an LGV Community licence<sup>20</sup> or a PCV Community licence<sup>21</sup> is disqualified<sup>22</sup>, the prescribed circumstances<sup>23</sup> cease to exist in his case, the Secretary of State must, on an application made to him for the purpose, remove the disqualification<sup>24</sup>. Where the holder of an LGV Community licence or a PCV Community licence is disqualified under head (1) above, the Secretary of State may, in the prescribed circumstances, remove the disqualification<sup>25</sup>.

499 Disqualification of Community licence holders

NOTE 11--SI 1999/2864 reg 40 substituted by SI 2008/1435 and amended by SI 2009/788. SI 1999/2864 Sch 7 amended by SI 2008/1435. SI 1999/2864 Sch 8 further amended by SI 2008/508, SI 2009/788.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131; VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(iii) Revocation and Suspension of Licences/500. Surrender, return and endorsement of licences.

500. Surrender, return and endorsement of licences.

Where the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> revokes a licence<sup>2</sup>, he must serve notice<sup>3</sup> on the holder of the licence requiring him to deliver the licence and its counterpart<sup>4</sup> immediately to the Secretary of State, and it is the duty of the holder of the licence to comply<sup>5</sup>.

Where the Secretary of State suspends a licence<sup>6</sup>, then:

- 913 (1) where he does so without making any reference<sup>7</sup> to a traffic commissioner<sup>8</sup>, he must serve notice on the holder of the licence requiring him to deliver the licence and its counterpart immediately to the traffic commissioner for the area in which the holder of the licence resides<sup>9</sup>;
- 914 (2) where he does so in pursuance of a determination of a traffic commissioner on such a reference, the traffic commissioner must, if the licence and its counterpart have not previously been delivered to him, serve notice on the holder of the licence requiring him to deliver them immediately to the traffic commissioner<sup>10</sup>, and it is the duty of the holder of the licence to comply with the requirement<sup>11</sup>.

A licence holder who fails without reasonable excuse to comply with such a duty is guilty of an offence<sup>12</sup>.

On the delivery of a licence and its counterpart by a person to the Secretary of State<sup>13</sup>, the Secretary of State must issue to him, on payment of the prescribed fee<sup>14</sup>, a licence authorising the driving of the classes<sup>15</sup> of vehicles which are unaffected by the revocation<sup>16</sup>. On the delivery of a suspended licence and its counterpart to a traffic commissioner, the traffic commissioner must endorse the counterpart of the licence with particulars of the suspension and return the licence and its counterpart to the holder<sup>17</sup>.

10 Road Traffic Act 1988 s 118(2)(b) (as substituted (see note 5 supra) and amended (see note 9 supra)).

11 Ibid s 118(2) (as substituted (see note 5 supra); and amended (see note 9 supra)). As from a day to be appointed, s 118(2) (as substituted and amended) is further substituted so as to provide that where, in pursuance of s 115 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 495 ante), the Secretary of State suspends a licence, he must (unless the holder of the licence has already delivered his licence to a traffic commissioner on a reference under s 116 (as substituted) (see PARA 496 ante)) serve notice on the holder of the licence requiring him to deliver the licence forthwith to the Secretary of State at the address specified in the notice, and it is the duty of the holder of the licence to comply with the requirement: s 118(2) (prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 20(3)). On the delivery of the licence or, where the licence has already been delivered to a traffic commissioner, on suspending the licence, the Secretary of State must endorse the particulars of the suspension on the licence holder's driving record: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 118(2A) (s 118(2A), (2B) prospectively added by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 20(3)). The Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the traffic commissioner, must then return the licence to the holder: Road Traffic Act 1988 s 118(2B) (as so prospectively added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. For the meaning of 'driving record' see PARA 1024 note 11 post.

12 Ibid s 118(3) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 ss 9, 33(1), Sch 2 Pt I (entry added by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 7, Sch 3 para 28; and prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 paras 30, 63(1), (2)(e), Sch 7). Applicability of requirements as to certificates of professional competence.

(vi) Certificates of Professional Competence

503. Applicability of requirements as to certificates of professional competence.

To implement the relevant Community provisions<sup>1</sup>, regulations have been made<sup>2</sup> which require drivers of certain vehicles for the carriage of goods or passengers to take an initial practical and theoretical driving test and periodic training thereafter. The regulations apply to any person who drives a relevant vehicle<sup>3</sup>, other than a vehicle to which the exceptions below apply, on a road<sup>4</sup> and who is either a national of a member state<sup>5</sup> or a national of a third country<sup>6</sup> employed or used by an undertaking established in a member state<sup>7</sup>.

The following vehicles are excepted<sup>8</sup>:

918 (1) a vehicle which it is an offence<sup>9</sup> for that person to drive on any road at a speed greater than 45 kilometres per hour<sup>10</sup>;

919 (2) a vehicle which is being used by, or is under the control of any of the following<sup>11</sup>:

43

84. (a) the armed forces<sup>12</sup>;

85. (b) a police force<sup>13</sup>;

86. (c) a local authority in the discharge of any function conferred on or exercisable<sup>14</sup> by that authority<sup>15</sup>; or

87. (d) a fire and rescue authority<sup>16</sup>;

44

920 (3) a vehicle which is undergoing road tests for technical development, repair or maintenance purposes, or that is a new or rebuilt vehicle which has not yet been put into service<sup>17</sup>;

921 (4) a vehicle which is being used in a state of emergency or is assigned to a rescue mission<sup>18</sup>;

922 (5) a vehicle which is being used in the course of a driving lesson or driving test<sup>19</sup> for the purpose of enabling that person to obtain a driving licence<sup>20</sup> or a CPC<sup>21</sup>;

923 (6) a vehicle which is being used for the non-commercial carriage of passengers or goods for personal use<sup>22</sup>;

924 (7) a vehicle which is carrying material or equipment to be used by that person in the course of his work, provided that driving that vehicle is not his principal activity<sup>23</sup>.

2     See the Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605; the text and notes 3-23 infra; and PARAS 504-512 post.

3     'Relevant vehicle' means a vehicle for which is required a driving licence of category C, C and E, D, or D and E, as defined in the Driving Licences Directive art 3(1), or a driving licence recognised as equivalent: Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605, reg 2(1). 'The Driving Licences Directive' means EEC Council Directive 91/439 (OJ L237, 24.8.91, p 1) on driving licences: Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605, reg 2(1). A reference in those regulations to a category of relevant vehicle includes references to its sub-categories as defined in the Driving Licences Directive art 3(2): Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605, reg 2(b).

4     'Road' means any road open to the public: ibid reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'road' generally see PARA 206 ante.

5     In the Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605, a reference to a member state includes a reference to an EEA state: reg 2(2)(a). For the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 415 note 16 ante.

6     'Third country' means a country which is not a member state: ibid reg 2(1).

7     Ibid reg 3(1).

8     Ibid reg 3(2).

9     Ie under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 89 (see PARA 856 post).

17    Ibid reg 3(2)(c).

18    Ibid reg 3(2)(d).

19    'Driving test' means a test of competence prescribed under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 89(3) (as amended) (see PARA 449 ante): Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605, reg 2(1).

20    'Driving licence' means, except in ibid reg 4(8)(b), (c) (see PARA 504 post), a full licence within the meaning of the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 108(1) (as amended) (see PARA 445 note 15 ante): Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605, reg 2(1).

21 Ibid reg 3(2)(e). 'CPC' has the meaning given by EC Parliament and Council Directive 2003/59 (OJ L226, 10.9.2003, p 4) seventh recital: Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605, reg 2(1).

DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(vi) Certificates of Professional Competence/504. Persons who must take initial CPC test.

504. Persons who must take initial CPC test.

Except as provided below<sup>1</sup>, a person to whom the regulations as to certificates of professional competence apply<sup>2</sup> is not permitted to drive a relevant vehicle<sup>3</sup> on a road<sup>4</sup> on or after the date specified below unless he has successfully completed the appropriate initial CPC test<sup>5</sup>. The specified date is 10 September 2008 in respect of vehicles in licence category D or D and E, and 10 September 2009 in respect of vehicles in licence category C or C and E<sup>6</sup>. A person may take the initial CPC test whether or not he has been granted a driving licence<sup>7</sup> for a relevant vehicle<sup>8</sup>.

A person is excepted from this requirement where<sup>9</sup>:

- 925 (1) a person is undergoing a vocational training course leading to a professional qualification relevant to the carriage by road of passengers or goods (or both) and which is approved by the competent authority<sup>10</sup> as a course to which this head applies<sup>11</sup>;
- 926 (2) that course lasts at least six months<sup>12</sup>;
- 927 (3) that person has produced to the competent authority's satisfaction such evidence as that authority may reasonably require that he is undergoing such a course<sup>13</sup>;
- 928 (4) the competent authority has issued that person with a document authorising him to drive that relevant vehicle for a specified period of up to 12 months while undertaking such a course<sup>14</sup>; and
- 929 (5) that person is driving within the United Kingdom<sup>15</sup>.

A person is not required to take an initial CPC test relating to vehicles of the category into which that particular relevant vehicle falls if he holds a document described below: (a) on 10 September 2008, if that vehicle falls into category D or D and E; (b) on 10 September 2009, if that vehicle falls into category C or C and E<sup>16</sup>. That document may be: (i) a current driving licence; (ii) a current driving licence issued by a member state<sup>17</sup> other than the United Kingdom; (iii) a current driving licence recognised as equivalent to a document described in head (i) or head (ii) above; or (iv) a current test pass certificate<sup>18</sup> entitling its holder to a driving licence authorising the driving of any relevant vehicle<sup>19</sup>.

There is also an exemption for a person who holds a CPC certifying an initial qualification<sup>20</sup>.

A person who has passed the initial CPC test in respect of a vehicle which falls within: (A) category C or C and E; or (B) category D or D and E, need not take another initial CPC test to drive any relevant vehicle that falls within the other category referred to in the same head<sup>21</sup>.

A person who does not comply with the requirement not to drive a relevant vehicle on a road on or after the specified date without successfully completing an initial CPC test is guilty of an offence<sup>22</sup>, and a person who causes or permits another person to drive a relevant vehicle on a road in breach of that requirement is also guilty of an offence<sup>23</sup>.

505. Initial CPC test.

The initial CPC test<sup>1</sup> may be organised by the competent authority<sup>2</sup> or by a person approved by it<sup>3</sup>. The competent authority may grant approval subject to such conditions as it thinks fit and provided it is satisfied that the person will: (1) make proper arrangements for the conduct of tests; (2) keep proper records of such tests and their results; and (3) notify the competent authority of those results as required by that authority<sup>4</sup>. The competent authority may withdraw approval given by it to a person by notice in writing to that person from a date specified in the notice<sup>5</sup>.

A person to whom these provisions<sup>6</sup> apply may take the initial CPC test if that person<sup>7</sup>:

930 (a) is a national of a member state<sup>8</sup> and normally resident in the United Kingdom<sup>9</sup>; or 931 (b) is a national of a third country<sup>10</sup>, and: (i) employed or used by an undertaking established in the United Kingdom; or (ii) has been issued with a work permit<sup>11</sup> in the United Kingdom<sup>12</sup>.

The competent authority or person who organises the initial CPC test may make arrangements that all or part of that test is taken at the same time as all or part of a driving test<sup>13</sup>.

An applicant for the initial CPC test must pay to the competent authority the specified fee<sup>14</sup> for each part of the test which he takes<sup>15</sup>. That sum is payable in addition to any fee that is payable in respect of a driving test all or part of which is taken at the same time as the initial CPC test<sup>16</sup>.

DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(vi) Certificates of Professional Competence/506. Periodic training courses.

506. Periodic training courses.

A person who wishes to provide periodic training courses<sup>1</sup> must make a written application to the competent authority<sup>2</sup> and pay to it a fee<sup>3</sup>. Such application must be accompanied by specified documents<sup>4</sup> and such other documents as the competent authority may reasonably require<sup>5</sup>. The competent authority may approve in writing<sup>6</sup>:

- 932 (1) that person to provide periodic training courses subject to specified<sup>7</sup> conditions<sup>8</sup>; and
- 933 (2) each periodic training course which that person wishes to provide<sup>9</sup>.

The competent authority's approval is valid for five years under head (1) above, and one year under head (2) above<sup>10</sup>.

If it appears to the competent authority that any of the conditions of the approval of a person are not being complied with, the competent authority may send notice to that person that it is minded to withdraw or suspend its approval under head (1) above<sup>11</sup>. Upon receiving such a notice, that person may make representations to the competent authority within 28 days<sup>12</sup>. The competent authority must take those representations into account and send notice to the person informing him whether or not its approval is withdrawn or suspended<sup>13</sup>.

A person approved under head (1) above who wishes to provide a training course which has not been approved by the competent authority may at any time request that authority's approval for that course and must pay to that authority a fee<sup>14</sup>. If the competent authority gives approval in response to such a request, that approval is valid for one year<sup>15</sup>.

A person to whom the regulations as to certificates of professional competence apply<sup>16</sup> may take a periodic training course approved under these provisions if that person is<sup>17</sup>:

- 934 (a) a national of a member state<sup>18</sup> and normally resident in the United Kingdom<sup>19</sup>; or
- 935 (b) a national of a third country<sup>20</sup> and authorised to work in the United Kingdom<sup>21</sup>.

A person approved by the competent authority<sup>22</sup> must notify that authority each time a person to whom he has provided training has completed a periodic training course and pay to the authority a fee upon each notification<sup>23</sup>. The competent authority may waive in whole or in part such fee<sup>24</sup>. The competent authority must maintain a record of the periodic training notified to it<sup>25</sup>.

1 'Periodic training course' means a course of at least seven hours of periodic training within the meaning of EC Parliament and Council Directive 2003/59 (OJ L226, 10.9.2003, p 4) Annex I Section 4; and 'periodic training' means the training referred to in art 3(1)(b): Vehicle Drivers (Certificates of Professional Competence) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/605, reg 2(1).

DRIVER LICENSING/(2) LICENSING AND TRAINING OF DRIVERS OF LARGE GOODS VEHICLES AND PASSENGER-CARRYING VEHICLES/(vi) Certificates of Professional Competence/508. Time limits for obtaining a CPC.

508. Time limits for obtaining a CPC.

Subject to the exceptions stated below, a person to whom the regulations as to certificates of professional competence apply<sup>1</sup> is not permitted to drive a relevant vehicle<sup>2</sup> on a road<sup>3</sup> unless no more than five years have elapsed since he obtained a CPC<sup>4</sup> relating to motor vehicles of the category<sup>5</sup> into which that particular relevant vehicle falls<sup>6</sup>.

A person who holds a specified document<sup>7</sup> is not required to hold an initial CPC<sup>8</sup> relating to motor vehicles of the category into which that particular relevant vehicle falls, or a periodic CPC<sup>9</sup> before either 10 September 2013<sup>10</sup> or 10 September 2014<sup>11</sup>, as appropriate<sup>12</sup>.

A person undergoing specified vocational training<sup>13</sup> is not required to hold a CPC<sup>14</sup>.

The requirement to obtain a periodic CPC does not apply to a person who holds an initial CPC granted to him<sup>15</sup> by a member state<sup>16</sup> other than the United Kingdom<sup>17</sup> if the validity of that CPC has not expired<sup>18</sup>.

A person who holds a periodic CPC<sup>19</sup> is not required to complete any further periodic training before the expiry<sup>20</sup> of that CPC in respect of any category of relevant vehicle to which that CPC does not relate<sup>21</sup>.

A person who does not comply with the requirement to hold a periodic CPC is guilty of an offence<sup>22</sup>, and a person who causes or permits another person to drive a relevant vehicle on a road in breach of that requirement is also guilty of an offence<sup>23</sup>.

510. Errors relating to documents.

Where it appears to the competent authority<sup>1</sup> that: (1) the authorisation document issued by it<sup>2</sup>; or (2) the driver qualification card<sup>3</sup> issued by it<sup>4</sup>, was granted in error, or with an error or omission in the particulars specified in that card or document, it may serve notice in writing on that person revoking that card or document, as the case may be, and requiring him to surrender it forthwith to that authority<sup>5</sup>. It is the duty of that person to comply with that requirement<sup>6</sup>. On surrender of a driver qualification card under this provision, the competent authority may issue a new driver qualification card to that person free of charge<sup>7</sup>.

Where the name of the holder of the driver qualification card as specified on that card ceases to be correct, its holder must as soon as reasonably practicable surrender the driver qualification card to the competent authority<sup>8</sup>. On surrender of a driver qualification card under this provision and payment to it of a fee, the competent authority must issue a new driver qualification card to that person<sup>9</sup>.

The competent authority may require a person to provide evidence of his name, sex, and place and date of birth before issuing him with a new driver qualification card under these provisions<sup>10</sup>.

A person who fails to comply with the duty to surrender a card or document<sup>11</sup> without reasonable excuse is guilty of an offence<sup>12</sup>.

511. Forgery and false statements.

A person is guilty of an offence if, with intent to deceive, he: (1) forges<sup>1</sup>, alters or uses any document authorising him to drive a vehicle while undertaking a vocational training course<sup>2</sup> or any document providing evidence of a CPC<sup>3</sup>; (2) lends to, or allows to be used by, any other person such a document; or (3) makes or has in his possession any document so closely resembling such a document as to be calculated to deceive<sup>4</sup>.

A person who knowingly makes a false statement for the purpose of obtaining the issue of a driver qualification card<sup>5</sup> is guilty of an offence<sup>6</sup>. Summary proceedings for an offence under these provisions may be brought within a period of six months from the date on which evidence sufficient in the opinion of the prosecutor to warrant the proceedings came to his knowledge<sup>7</sup>. No such proceedings may be brought more than three years after the commission of the offence<sup>8</sup>.

(3) NEWLY-QUALIFIED DRIVERS

513. Probationary period for newly qualified drivers.

For the purposes of the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995<sup>1</sup>, a person's 'probationary period' is, subject to early termination<sup>2</sup>, the period of two years beginning with the day on which he becomes a qualified driver<sup>3</sup>.

A person becomes a qualified driver on the first occasion on which he passes any of certain tests of competence to drive<sup>4</sup> under the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>5</sup>, or any test of competence to drive conducted under the law of another EEA state<sup>6</sup>, the Isle of Man, any of the Channel Islands, or Gibraltar<sup>7</sup>.

1 The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 applies to persons in the public service of the Crown (s 8), but does not extend to Northern Ireland (s 10(5)). The provisions of the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 were to come into force on such day as the Secretary of State might by order made by statutory instrument appoint and different days could be so appointed for different provisions: s 10(2). All provisions were in force by 1 June 1997: see the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 (Commencement) Order 1997, SI 1997/267. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante. Nothing in any provision of the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 applies to a person who became a qualified driver before the day on which the provision came into force: s 10(3).

DRIVER LICENSING/(3) NEWLY-QUALIFIED DRIVERS/514. Surrender and revocation of licences for drivers in probationary period.

514. Surrender and revocation of licences for drivers in probationary period.

Where (1) a person is the holder of a licence<sup>1</sup>; (2) he is convicted of an offence involving obligatory endorsement<sup>2</sup>; (3) the penalty points<sup>3</sup> to be taken into account<sup>4</sup> on that occasion number six or more<sup>5</sup>; (4) the court makes an order as to the particulars of the offence, and the penalty points to be endorsed on the counterpart<sup>6</sup> of any licence held<sup>7</sup>, in respect of the offence<sup>8</sup>; (5) the person's licence shows the date on which he became a qualified driver<sup>9</sup>, or that date has been shown by other evidence in the proceedings<sup>10</sup>; and (6) it appears to the court, in the light of the order and the date so shown, that the offence was committed during the person's probationary period<sup>11</sup>, the court must send to the Secretary of State<sup>12</sup>: (a) a notice containing the particulars required to be endorsed on the counterpart of the person's licence in accordance with the order referred to in head (4) above<sup>13</sup>; and (b) on their production to the court, the person's licence and its counterpart<sup>14</sup>.

Where (i) a person's licence and its counterpart have been sent to the fixed penalty clerk<sup>15</sup> or delivered to the fixed penalty clerk in response to a conditional offer<sup>16</sup>; (ii) the offence to which the fixed penalty notice<sup>17</sup> or the conditional offer relates is one involving obligatory endorsement<sup>18</sup>; (iii) the fixed penalty clerk endorses the number of penalty points to be attributed to the offence on the counterpart of the licence<sup>19</sup>; (iv) the penalty points to be taken into account by the fixed penalty clerk in respect of the offence number six or more<sup>20</sup>; (v) the licence shows the date on which the person became a qualified driver<sup>21</sup>; and (vi) it appears to the fixed penalty clerk, in the light of the particulars of the offence endorsed on the counterpart of the licence and the date so shown, that the offence was committed during the person's probationary period<sup>22</sup>, the fixed penalty clerk may not return the licence and its counterpart<sup>23</sup>, but must send them to the Secretary of State<sup>24</sup>. For the purposes of head (iv) above, the penalty points to be taken into account by the fixed penalty clerk in respect of the offence are the penalty points which would have been taken into account on conviction under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988<sup>25</sup> if the person in question had been convicted of the offence, and the number of penalty points to be attributed to the offence on that occasion had been determined in accordance with the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988<sup>26</sup>.

Where the Secretary of State receives a notice, sent to him under head (a) above, of particulars required to be endorsed on the counterpart of a person's licence<sup>27</sup>, or a person's licence and its counterpart sent to him<sup>28</sup>, the Secretary of State must by notice served on that person revoke the licence<sup>29</sup>. Such a revocation has effect from a date specified in the notice of revocation which may not be earlier than the date of service of that notice<sup>30</sup>.

1 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(1)(a). The provisions of the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 are adapted so as to apply to a driver who has passed a test of competence to drive but has not yet exchanged his pass certificate and provisional licence for a full licence: see s 6, Sch 1 (Sch 1 amended by the Access to Justice Act 1999 s 90(1), Sch 13 para 173; the Courts Act 2003 s 109(1), Sch 8 para 365; and the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 91(1), Sch 5 paras 45, 52-60). The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 Sch 1 (as amended) is further amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 5, Sch 1 paras 24, 27 and by ss 10(12), 59, Sch 3 paras 66, 70. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been appointed.

For these purposes, 'licence' includes a Northern Ireland licence: Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(6) (added by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 46). For the meaning of 'licence' generally see PARA 443 note 6 ante; definition applied by the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 9(1).

2 Ibid s 2(1)(b). For the meaning of an 'offence involving obligatory endorsement' see PARA 1080 post; definition applied by s 9(2).

3 As to the award of penalty points see PARA 1089 et seq post.

4 le under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 29 (as substituted): see PARA 1050 post.

5 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(1)(c).

6 For the meaning of 'counterpart', in relation to a licence, see PARA 415 note 19 ante; definition applied by ibid s 9(1).

7 le under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 44(1)(b): see PARA 1081 post.

8 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(1)(d).

9 For the meaning of 'qualified driver' see PARA 513 ante.

10 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(1)(e). For the meaning of 'proceedings' see PARA 1094 note 4 post; definition applied by s 9(2).

11 Ibid s 2(1)(f). For the meaning of 'probationary period' see PARA 513 ante.

12 Ibid s 2(2). As from a day to be appointed, s 2(2) is substituted so as to provide that where s 2(2) (as substituted) applies, the court must, together with the notice of the order referred to in s 2(1)(d) (see head (4) in the text) required to be sent to the Secretary of State under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 44A (as prospectively added) (see PARA 1082 post), send the person's licence on its production to the court: see the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(2) (prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 10(12), Sch 3 paras 66, 67). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

Any requirement under any provision of the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995, that a licence and its counterpart, a test certificate or a notice must be sent to the Secretary of State is a requirement that the licence and its counterpart, the test certificate or the notice must be sent to the Secretary of State at such address as the Secretary of State may determine: s 9(5). This provision is amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 69, Sch 7 so as to remove the references to the counterpart. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

'Notice' means notice in writing: Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 9(3).

As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

15 le under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 54(7) (as amended): see PARA 1097 post. For the meaning of 'fixed penalty clerk' see PARA 1112 note 4 post; definition applied by the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 9(2).

16 Ibid s 2(3)(a). The text refers to a conditional offer issued under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 75 (as substituted; prospectively amended): see PARA 1117 post. As from a day to be appointed, the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(3)(a) is amended so that head (i) in the text will read 'a person's licence and its counterpart have been sent to the fixed penalty clerk, retained by a vehicle examiner or delivered to the appropriate person in response to a conditional offer': see s 2(3)(a) (prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 5, Sch 1 paras 24, 25(1), (2)(a)). The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(3)(a) is prospectively further amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 67(3)(a) so as to remove the reference to the counterpart. 'The appropriate person', in relation to a fixed penalty notice, means: (1) if it was given by a constable or an authorised person, the fixed penalty clerk; and (2) if it was given by a vehicle examiner or the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State; and 'the appropriate person', in relation to a conditional offer, means: (a) where the conditional offer was issued under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 75(1), (2) or (3) (as substituted) (see PARA 1117 post) the fixed penalty clerk; and (b) where it was issued under s 75(1A) or (3B) (as added), the Secretary of State: Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(7) (prospectively added by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 25(5)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been appointed.

17 For the meaning of 'fixed penalty notice' see PARA 1094 post; definition applied by the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 9(2).

18 Ibid s 2(3)(b).

19 Ibid s 2(3)(c). Section 2(3)(c) is prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 25(2)(b) so as to refer to the appropriate person instead of the fixed penalty clerk. The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(3)(c) is prospectively further amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 67(3)(b) so as to refer to endorsement on the person's driving record instead of the counterpart. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. For the meaning of 'driving record' see PARA 1024 note 11 post.

20 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(3)(d). This provision is prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 25(2)(b) so as to refer to the appropriate person instead of the fixed penalty clerk. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

21 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(3)(e).

22 Ibid s 2(3)(f). This provision is prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 25(2)(b) so as to refer to the appropriate person instead of the fixed penalty clerk. The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(3)(f) is prospectively further amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 67(3)(c) so as to refer to endorsement on the person's driving record instead of the counterpart. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been appointed.

23 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(4)(a). The text refers to the return of the licence under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 57(3) or (4) (as amended) (see PARA 1100 post) or s 77(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 1119 post). The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(4)(a) is prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 25(3)(b) so as to refer to the appropriate person instead of the fixed penalty clerk. The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(4)(a) is prospectively further amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 67(4)(a) so as to remove the reference to the counterpart and so as to substitute for the reference to the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 57(3) or (4) (as amended) or s 77(1) (as substituted) a reference to s 57A(3) or (4) (as added) (see PARA 1101 post) or s 77A(2) (as added) (see PARA 1119 post). As from a day to be appointed, where the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(4)(a) applies but the appropriate person is the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State must by notice served on the person to whom the fixed penalty notice or conditional offer was given or issued, revoke that person's licence: s 3(1ZA) (prospectively added by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 26(3)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been appointed.

24 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(4)(b). Section 2(4)(b) is prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 25(3)(c) so as to provide that they must be sent to the Secretary of State unless the appropriate person is the Secretary of State. The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(4)(b) is prospectively further amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 67(4)(b) so as to refer to sending them together with the notice he is required to send under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 57A (as prospectively added) (see PARA 1101 post) or s 77A (as prospectively added) (see PARA 1119 post) of the particulars to be endorsed on the person's driving record. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been appointed.

25 Ie under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 29 (as substituted): see PARA 1050 post.

26 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(5). The text refers to penalty points determined in accordance with the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 28(3) (as substituted): see PARA 1049 post. The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(5) is prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 25(4), Sch 7 so as to remove the reference to the fixed penalty clerk. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

27 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(1)(a).

28 Ibid s 3(1)(b). The text refers to a person's licence and its counterpart sent to him in accordance with head (b) in the text, or in accordance with s 2(4) (see the text and notes 23-24 supra). Section 3(1)(b) is prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 26(1), (2) so as to replace the reference to the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(4) with a reference to s 2(4)(b) (see the text and note 24 supra). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

29 Ibid s 3(1). As from a day to be appointed, this provision s 3(1) is substituted so as to provide that where the Secretary of State receives: (1) a notice sent to him under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988 s 44A, s 57A or s 77A (all as prospectively added) (see PARAS 1082, 1101, 1119 post) of particulars required to be endorsed on a person's driving record; and (2) a person's licence sent to him in accordance with the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 2(2) or s 2(4)(b) (see notes 13, 14 and 24 supra), the Secretary of State must by notice served on that person revoke the licence: s 3(1) (prospectively substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 3 para 68). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

The Road Traffic Act 1988 s 107 (as amended) (service of notices) (see PARA 483 ante) applies to a notice served under the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3 or Sch 1 para 5 (as amended) or Sch 1 para 8 (as amended) as it applies to a notice served under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (ss 87-109C) (as amended), or Pt IV (ss 110-122) (as substituted and amended): Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 9(4) (amended by the Driving Licences (Community Driving Licence) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1974, reg 5, Sch 4 para 5(1), (3)).

Where the Secretary of State serves on the holder of a Northern Ireland licence a notice under the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(1), the Secretary of State must send to the licensing authority in Northern Ireland particulars of the notice and the Northern Ireland licence: s 3(1A) (ss 3(1A), (1B) added by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 47(a)). Where the Secretary of State is sent by that licensing authority particulars of a notice served on the holder of a licence under a provision of Northern Ireland law corresponding to the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(1), he must by notice served on the holder revoke the licence: s 3(1B) (as so added). The provisions of s 3(1A), (1B) (as added) are prospectively amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 26(4) so as to include a notice served under the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(1ZA) (as prospectively added) (see note 23 supra). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

In s 3 (as amended), references to the revocation of a person's Northern Ireland licence are references to its revocation as respects Great Britain; the person therefore ceases to be authorised by virtue of the Road Traffic Act 1998 s 109(1) (as amended) (see PARA 484 ante) to drive in Great Britain a motor vehicle of any class: Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(3) (added by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 47(c)).

30 Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(2). This also applies in the case of a revocation under s 3(1B) (as added) (see note 29 supra): s 3(2) (amended by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 47(b)). The Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(2) (as amended) is prospectively further amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 26(5) so as to substitute for the reference to revocation under the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(1) or s 3(1B) (as added) a reference to revocation under s 3 (as amended). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

NOTE 26--Amendment made by Road Safety Act 2006 Sch 1 para 25(4), Sch 7 in force 31 March 2009: SI 2008/3164.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131; VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(3) NEWLY-QUALIFIED DRIVERS/515. Re-testing.

515. Re-testing.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may not under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>2</sup>, grant a person whose licence<sup>3</sup> has been revoked<sup>4</sup> a full licence<sup>5</sup> or a full Northern Ireland licence<sup>6</sup> to drive<sup>7</sup> any class<sup>8</sup> of vehicles in relation to which the revoked licence was issued as a full licence unless he satisfies the Secretary of State that within the relevant period<sup>9</sup> he has passed a relevant driving test<sup>10</sup>. If the Secretary of State grants a full licence to a person who is required to pass a relevant driving test in order to be granted that licence, the licence granted must<sup>11</sup> be one authorising that person to drive all the classes of vehicles in relation to which the revoked licence was issued as a full licence or a full Northern Ireland licence<sup>12</sup>.

The above provision<sup>13</sup> does not apply to a person whose licence has been revoked<sup>14</sup> if, before he passes a relevant driving test, an order is made in relation to him, concerning disqualification until a test is passed, under the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988<sup>15</sup>.

4 Ie under ibid s 3 (as amended): see PARA 514 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'full licence' see PARA 445 note 15 ante; definition applied by ibid s 9(1).

6 'Full Northern Ireland licence' means a Northern Ireland licence other than a Northern Ireland provisional licence; and 'Northern Ireland provisional licence' means a Northern Ireland licence which corresponds to a provisional licence: ibid s 9(2A) (added by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 s 91(1), Sch 5 para 51).

7 For the meaning of 'drive' see PARA 207 ante; definition applied by the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 4(4).

8 As to classes of vehicles see PARA 208 ante.

9 'Relevant period' means the period beginning after the date of the revocation of the licence, and not more than two years before the date on which the application for the full licence is made: Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 4(4).

10 Ibid s 4(1) (amended by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 48(a)). This is expressed to be subject to the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 4(5) (see the text to note 13 infra) and s 5 (see PARA 516 post). 'Relevant driving test' means, in relation to a person whose licence has been revoked, any test which falls within s 1(2)(a) or s 1(2)(b) (as amended) (see PARA 513 ante) and is a test of competence to drive any vehicle included in any class of vehicles in relation to which the revoked licence was issued as a full licence or a full Northern Ireland licence: s 4(2) (amended by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 48(c)). For the meaning of 'test of competence to drive' see PARA 443 note 20 ante; definition applied by the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 9(1). Subject to s 4(5) (as amended) (see the text and note 15 infra), the Secretary of State may not under the Road Traffic Act 1988 Pt III (as amended) grant a person whose Northern Ireland licence has been revoked under a provision of Northern Ireland law corresponding to the Road Traffic (New Drivers) Act 1995 s 3(1) a full licence to drive any class of vehicles in relation to which the revoked licence was issued as a full Northern Ireland licence unless he satisfies the Secretary of State as mentioned in s 3(1) (see PARA 514 ante): s 4(1A) (added by the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003 Sch 5 para 48(b)).

UPDATE

442-517 Driver Licensing

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/4. DRIVER LICENSING/(3) NEWLY-QUALIFIED DRIVERS/516. Restoration of licence without re-testing in certain cases.

516. Restoration of licence without re-testing in certain cases.

If the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> receives notice<sup>2</sup> that a person whose licence<sup>3</sup> has been revoked<sup>4</sup> is appealing against a conviction or endorsement which was the basis or formed part of the basis for the revocation, he must grant that person free of charge a full licence<sup>5</sup> for a period prescribed<sup>6</sup> by regulations<sup>7</sup>. Such regulations may, in particular, prescribe: (1) a period expiring when the appeal is finally determined or abandoned; or (2) a period expiring on the date on which the revoked licence would have expired if it had not been revoked<sup>8</sup>. If the regulations prescribe a period other than that mentioned in head (1) above, a licence granted under the above provisions is treated as revoked if, following the appeal, the penalty points<sup>9</sup> taken into account for the purposes of the surrender of licences<sup>10</sup> are not reduced to a number smaller than six, or the appeal is abandoned<sup>11</sup>.

If, in the case of a person whose licence has been revoked<sup>12</sup>, the Secretary of State receives notice that a court: (a) has quashed a conviction which was the basis or formed part of the basis for the revocation of the licence<sup>13</sup>; (b) has quashed an endorsement which was the basis or formed part of the basis for the revocation of the licence and has not on doing so ordered him to be disqualified<sup>14</sup>; or (c) has made an order which has the effect of reducing the penalty points taken into account, for the purposes of the surrender of licences<sup>15</sup>, to a number smaller than six<sup>16</sup>, then the Secretary of State must grant that person free of charge a full licence for a period expiring on the date on which the revoked licence would have expired if it had not been revoked<sup>17</sup>. This does not require the Secretary of State to grant a licence to a person who has been granted a previous licence which has not been surrendered unless that person provides the Secretary of State with an explanation for not surrendering the previous licence that the Secretary of State considers adequate<sup>18</sup>.

If, in accordance with the above provisions, the Secretary of State grants a full licence to a person whose licence has been revoked<sup>19</sup>, the licence granted must be one authorising that person to drive all the classes of vehicles<sup>20</sup> in relation to which the revoked licence was issued as a full licence<sup>21</sup>. Any such licence granted has effect for the purposes of the Road Traffic Acts<sup>22</sup> as if it were a licence granted under Part III of the Road Traffic Act 1988<sup>23</sup>.

Regulations may make provision for requiring such courts as may be prescribed to give notice to the Secretary of State that a person whose licence has been or is due to be revoked<sup>24</sup> is appealing against a conviction or endorsement which is the basis or forms part of the basis for the revocation, that such an appeal has been abandoned<sup>25</sup>. Such regulations may include such incidental or supplementary provision as appears to the Secretary of State to be expedient and may make different provision for different cases<sup>26</sup>.

NOTE 14--SI 2002/2742 Sch 2 further amended: SI 2008/1444, SI 2009/880, SI 2009/3103.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/5. VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(1) LEGISLATION/519. Registration of vehicles.

519. Registration of vehicles.

On the issue by the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> for a vehicle<sup>2</sup> which is not registered under the provision relating to the registration of vehicles<sup>3</sup> of either a vehicle licence<sup>4</sup>, or a nil licence<sup>5</sup>, the Secretary of State must register the vehicle in such manner as he thinks fit without any further application by the person to whom the licence is issued<sup>6</sup>. Where particulars in respect of a vehicle are furnished to the Secretary of State in accordance with regulations<sup>7</sup> before he first issues a vehicle licence for the vehicle, he must so register the vehicle on receiving the particulars<sup>8</sup>. The Secretary of State may by regulations provide that in such circumstances as may be prescribed by the regulations a vehicle must not be registered<sup>9</sup> until a fee of such amount as may be so prescribed is paid<sup>10</sup>. The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision about repayment of any sum paid by way of such a fee<sup>11</sup>, and the regulations may in particular include provision<sup>12</sup>:

- 940 (1) that repayment must be made only if a specified<sup>13</sup> person is satisfied that specified conditions are met or in other specified circumstances<sup>14</sup>;
- 941 (2) that repayment must be made in part only<sup>15</sup>;
- 942 (3) that, in the case of partial repayment, the amount repaid must be a specified sum or determined in a specified manner<sup>16</sup>; and
- 943 (4) for repayment of different amounts in different circumstances<sup>17</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

2 'Vehicle' means a mechanically propelled vehicle or any thing (whether or not it is a vehicle) that has been, but has ceased to be, a mechanically propelled vehicle: Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 ss 1(1B), 62(1) (s 1(1B) added, and s 62(1) amended, by the Finance Act 2002 s 19(1), Sch 5 paras 1, 2, 17).

3 Ie the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21 (as amended): see the text and notes 6-17 infra.

4 A licence taken out for a vehicle is in the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 referred to as a 'vehicle licence': s 1(2).

5 'Nil licence' means a document which is in the form of a vehicle licence and is issued by the Secretary of State in pursuance of regulations under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 in respect of a vehicle which is an exempt vehicle: s 62(1) (definition added by the Finance Act 1995 s 18, Sch 3 para 7(3)). 'Exempt vehicle' means a vehicle in respect of which vehicle excise duty is not chargeable: Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 62(1). A duty of excise ('vehicle excise duty') is to be charged in respect of every mechanically propelled vehicle (except exempt vehicles: see ss 5, 62(1), Sch 2 (as amended); and CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 741 et seq), and every thing (whether or not it is a vehicle) that has been, but has ceased to be, a mechanically propelled vehicle, which is registered under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 (see s 21 (as amended); and the text and notes 6-17 infra) or is not so registered but is used, or kept, on a public road in the United Kingdom: ss 1(1), (1A), 62(1) (s 1(1) substituted, and s 1(1A) added, by the Finance Act 2002 Sch 5 para 2). The excise duty must be paid on a licence to be taken out: (1) in respect of a vehicle or former vehicle which is registered, by the person in whose name it is registered or, if that person is not the person keeping it, by either of those persons; or (2) in respect of a vehicle or former vehicle used or kept on a public road, by the person keeping it: Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 1(1C), (1D) (added by the Finance Act 2002 Sch 5 para 2). As to vehicle excise duty see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARAS 717-801. 'Public road' means a road which is repairable at the public expense: Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 62(1). For the purposes of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 and any other enactment relating to the keeping of vehicles on public roads, a person keeps a vehicle on a public road if he causes it to be on such a road for any period, however short, when it is not in use there: s 62(2).

6 Ibid s 21(1) (substituted by the Finance Act 1997 Sch 3 para 2). The Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21(1) (as substituted) is subject to s 21(3) (as added) (see the text to note 10 infra): s 21(1) (as so substituted). As to registration documents see PARA 531 post; and as to the power of constables and authorised persons to require production of registration documents see PARA 520 post.

9 The registered under ibid s 21 (as amended): see notes 6-8 supra, 10-12 infra.

10 Ibid s 21(3) (added by the Finance Act 1995 Sch 4 para 33). In exercise of the power so conferred the Secretary of State has made the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742 (as amended), whereby a vehicle may not be registered under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21 (as amended) unless a fee of £50 has been paid to the Secretary of State: Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 10(1) (amended by SI 2007/1018). The Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 10(1) (as amended) does not apply to a vehicle which is an exempt vehicle by virtue of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 Sch 2 para 18 or Sch 2 para 19 (as amended) (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 750 et seq): Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 10(2).

11 The such a prescribed fee as is mentioned in the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21(3) (as added) (see the text and note 10 supra): s 21(4) (added by the Finance Act 1995 Sch 4 para 33).

12 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21(4) (as added: see note 11 supra).

13 'Specified' here means specified in the regulations: ibid s 21(4) (as added: see note 11 supra).

14 Ibid s 21(4)(a) (as added: see note 11 supra).

15 Ibid s 21(4)(b) (as added: see note 11 supra).

519 Registration of vehicles

NOTE 10--SI 2002/2742 reg 10(1) further amended: SI 2008/642.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131; VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/5. VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(1) LEGISLATION/520. Power of constables to require production of registration documents.

520. Power of constables to require production of registration documents.

A person using a vehicle<sup>1</sup> in respect of which a registration document<sup>2</sup> has been issued must produce the document for inspection on being so required by a constable or a person authorised by the Secretary of State for these purposes (an 'authorised person')<sup>3</sup>. A person is guilty of an offence if he fails to comply with the above requirement<sup>4</sup>, unless one of the following conditions is satisfied<sup>5</sup>. The first condition is that the person produces the registration document, in person, at a police station specified by him at the time of the request, and he does so within seven days after the date on which the request was made or as soon as is reasonably practicable<sup>6</sup>. The second condition is that: (1) the vehicle is subject to a lease or hire agreement; (2) the vehicle is not registered in the name of the lessee or hirer under that agreement and is not required to be so registered; (3) the person produces appropriate evidence<sup>7</sup> of the agreement to the constable or authorised person at the time of the request or he produces such evidence in person, at a police station specified by him at the time of the request: (a) within seven days after the date of the request; or (b) as soon as is reasonably practicable; and (4) the person has reasonable grounds for believing, or it is reasonable for him to expect, that the person from whom the vehicle has been leased or hired is able to produce, or require the production of, the registration document<sup>8</sup>. The third condition is that any exception prescribed in regulations under this provision is met<sup>9</sup>.

A person accused of the above offence is not entitled to the benefit of an exception conferred by or under this provision unless evidence is adduced that is sufficient to raise an issue with respect to that exception, but where evidence is so adduced it is for the prosecution to prove beyond reasonable doubt that the exception does not apply<sup>10</sup>.

A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>11</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 519 note 2 ante.

2 'Registration document' means a registration document issued in accordance with regulations under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1)(e) (see PARA 521 post): s 28A(13) (s 28A added by the Serious Organised Crime and Police Act 2005 s 151).

3 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 28A(1) (as added: see note 2 supra). An authorised person exercising the power conferred by s 28A(1) (as added) must, if so requested, produce evidence of his authority to exercise the power: s 28A(2) (as so added).

4 Ibid s 28A(3) (as added: see note 2 supra).

5 Ibid s 28A(4) (as added: see note 2 supra).

6 Ibid s 28A(5) (as added: see note 2 supra). Where a requirement is imposed under s 28A(1) (as added) by an authorised person, a testing station provided under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 52(2) may be specified under s 28A(5) (as added) or s 28A(6) (as added) (see the text and note 8 infra) instead of a police station: s 28A(9) (as so added).

7 'Appropriate evidence' means a copy of the agreement, or such other documentary evidence of the agreement as is prescribed in regulations under this provision: ibid s 28A(7) (as added: see note 2 supra). The Secretary of State may make regulations prescribing descriptions of evidence for the purposes of s 28A(7) (as added): s 28A(12)(a) (as so added).

8 Ibid s 28A(6) (as added: see note 2 supra).

9 Ibid s 28A(8) (as added: see note 2 supra). The Secretary of State may make regulations prescribing, varying or revoking exceptions for the purposes of s 28A(8) (as added): s 28A(12)(b) (as so added).

10 Ibid s 28A(10) (as added: see note 2 supra).

11 Ibid s 28A(11) (as added: see note 2 supra). The fine must not exceed level 2 on the standard scale: see s 28A(aa) (as so added). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post.

520-521 Power of constables to require production of registration documents, Secretary of State's power to make registration regulations

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/5. VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(1) LEGISLATION/521. Secretary of State's power to make registration regulations.

521. Secretary of State's power to make registration regulations.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations:

- 944 (1) make provision with respect to the registration of vehicles<sup>2</sup> (including, in particular, the form of and the particulars to be included in the register of trade licences)<sup>3</sup>;
- 945 (2) require the Secretary of State to make with respect to registered vehicles the returns prescribed by the regulations<sup>4</sup>;
- 946 (3) provide for making any particulars contained in the register available for use by the persons prescribed by the regulations on payment, in cases so prescribed, of a fee of such amount as appears to the Secretary of State reasonable in the circumstances of the case<sup>5</sup>;
- 947 (4) require a person by, through or to whom any vehicle is sold or disposed of to furnish the particulars prescribed by the regulations in the manner so prescribed<sup>6</sup>;
- 948 (5) require a person by or through whom any vehicle is sold or disposed of to furnish the person to whom it is sold or disposed of with such document relating to the vehicle's registration as may be prescribed by the regulations, and to do so at such time as may be so prescribed<sup>7</sup>;
- 949 (6) provide for the issue of registration documents in respect of the registration of a vehicle<sup>8</sup>;
- 950 (7) provide for the transfer, surrender and production of registration documents<sup>9</sup>;
- 951 (8) provide for the inspection of registration documents by the persons prescribed by the regulations<sup>10</sup>;
- 952 (9) provide for the issue of new registration documents in place of registration documents which are or may be lost, stolen, surrendered, destroyed or damaged or which contain any particulars which have become illegible or inaccurate<sup>11</sup>; and
- 953 (10) provide for a fee of such amount as appears to the Secretary of State to be reasonable to be paid on the issue of new registration documents in any of the circumstances mentioned in head (9) above<sup>12</sup>.

The Secretary of State may also by regulations require a person: (a) who surrenders a vehicle licence<sup>13</sup>; (b) who does not renew a vehicle licence for a vehicle registered in his name<sup>14</sup>; (c) who does not renew a vehicle licence for a vehicle kept by him<sup>15</sup>; or (d) who keeps an unlicensed vehicle at any place in the United Kingdom<sup>16</sup>, to furnish such particulars and make such declarations as may be prescribed by the regulations, and to do so at such times and in such manner as may be so prescribed<sup>17</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with any regulations made under the above provisions is guilty of an offence<sup>18</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante. As to the power of the Secretary of State to make regulations under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 see s 57 (as amended); and CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 801.

2 For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 519 note 2 ante.

3 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1)(a). 'Trade licence' is to be construed in accordance with s 11 (as amended) (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 766): s 62(1). Regulations make no provision as to the register of trade licences, nor is such a register referred to elsewhere in the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994.

5 Ibid s 22(1)(c).

6 Ibid s 22(1)(d) (amended by the Finance Act 1996 ss 23, 205, Sch 2 para 4(2), Sch 41 Pt II para (6)). Without prejudice to the generality of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1)(d) (as amended) regulations under that provision may require:

140 (1) any person there mentioned to furnish particulars to another person there mentioned or to the Secretary of State or to another such person and to the Secretary of State (s 22(1B)(a) (s 22(1B) added by the Finance Act 1995 s 19, Sch 4 para 34(3); and amended by the Finance Act 1996 Sch 2 para 5, Sch 41 Pt II para (6));

141 (2) any person there mentioned who is furnished with particulars in pursuance of the regulations to furnish them to the Secretary of State (Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1B)(b) (as so added and amended)).

7 Ibid s 22(1)(dd) (added by the Finance Act 1995 Sch 4 para 34(2); and amended by the Finance Act 1996 Sch 2 para 4(3)). Notification of a disposal must be made as soon as reasonably possible: A & C McLennan (Blairgowrie) Ltd v Macmillan 1964 SLT 2. Failing to notify is not a continuing offence; and an offence is not purged by subsequent notification: A & C McLennan (Blairgowrie) Ltd v Macmillan supra.

8 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1)(e). Regulations under s 22(1)(e) may, in particular, provide that registration documents need not be issued in respect of the registration of a vehicle until the vehicle has been inspected by a person specified by the Secretary of State: s 22(1C) (added by the Finance Act 1996 s 23, Sch 2 paras 6, 7).

9 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1)(f).

Regulations under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1)(h) (as amended) which confer a power on the Secretary of State to refuse to issue a new registration document in respect of a registered vehicle if he is not satisfied that the vehicle for which the document is being sought is the registered vehicle may, in particular, provide for: (1) the examination (whether by the Secretary of State or by persons authorised by him) of all vehicles for which new registration documents are being sought, or such vehicles of a particular description, for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are the registered vehicles concerned; (2) the provision of other evidence in relation to all vehicles for which new registration documents are being sought, or such vehicles of a particular description, for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are the registered vehicles concerned: s 22A(1), (2) (s 22A added by the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 33(2)). Such regulations may, in particular, provide for: (a) notification of examinations (including their purpose), the issue of certificates as to the outcome of examinations and the keeping of records in relation to examinations and certificates; (b) the issue of duplicates or copies of certificates and the fees to be paid on applications for such duplicates or copies; (c) the correction of errors in certificates; (d) the payment of fees for examinations, and for re-examinations resulting from appeals and the repayment of the whole or part of the fee paid for such a re-examination where it appears to the Secretary of State that there were substantial grounds for contesting the whole or part of the decision appealed against; (e) the making of appeals against the outcome of examinations; (f) the carrying out of examinations in the absence of the keepers or owners of the vehicles concerned; (g) courses of instruction in connection with the carrying out of examinations and the charging of fees in respect of attendance on such courses; (h) the authorisation of examiners, the imposition of conditions to be complied with by authorised examiners (including the payment of fees to the Secretary of State) and the withdrawal of authorisations; (i) the manner in which, conditions under which and apparatus with which examinations are carried out by authorised examiners, and the inspection of premises at which and apparatus with which such examinations are being, or are to be, carried out; (j) the charges to be paid by authorised examiners to the Secretary of State in connection with the issue of certificates, the issue of duplicates or copies of certificates, and the correction of errors in certificates: Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22A(3) (as so added).

The Secretary of State may use information contained in relevant records to check the accuracy of information which has been obtained under regulations made by virtue of heads (1) and (2) supra, and where appropriate, to amend or supplement any such information (s 22A(4) (as so added)); and may use information which has been so obtained to check the accuracy of relevant records, and where appropriate, to amend or supplement information contained in those records (s 22A(5) (as so added)). 'Relevant records' means: (i) records maintained by the Secretary of State in connection with any functions exercisable by him under or by virtue of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994; (ii) records maintained by the Secretary of State (or caused by him to be maintained) under the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 45(6B) (as added) (see PARA 660 post): Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22A(6) (as so added). The provisions of s 22A(4)-(6) (as added) do not limit any powers of the Secretary of State apart from those provisions: s 22A(7) (as so added).

Section 22A (as added) is without prejudice to the generality of the powers conferred by s 22 (as amended): s 22A(8) (as so added).

A person is guilty of an offence if, with intent to deceive, he falsely represents himself to be a person entitled under regulations made by virtue of s 22A(2) (as added) to carry out examinations of vehicles in accordance with regulations so made: s 43B(1) (s 43B added by the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 43, Schedule para 5). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 43B(2) (as so added). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante.

12 Ibid s 22(1)(i) (amended by the Finance Act 1996 Sch 2 para 4(2), Sch 41 Pt II para (6)).

13 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1D)(a) (s 22(1D) added by the Finance Act 1996 s 23, Sch 2 paras 6, 7). Such a vehicle licence must be surrendered under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 10(2): see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 765. For the meaning of 'vehicle licence' see PARA 519 note 4 ante.

14 Ibid s 22(1D)(aa) (s 22(1D) as added (see note 13 supra); and s 22(1D)(aa) added by the Finance Act 2002 s 19(1), Sch 5 paras 1, 6(1)). For the purposes of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1D) (aa) (as added) a person is to be regarded as not renewing a vehicle licence for a vehicle registered in his name if: (1) a vehicle for which a vehicle licence is in force is registered in his name; and (2) he does not, at such time as may be prescribed by the regulations or within such period as may be so prescribed, take out a vehicle licence to have effect from the expiry of the vehicle licence mentioned in head (1) supra: s 22(1DA) (added by the Finance Act 2002 Sch 5 para 6(2)).

15 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1D)(b) (as added: see note 13 supra). For the purposes of s 22(1D)(b) (as added) a person is to be regarded as not renewing a vehicle licence for a vehicle kept by him if: (1) he keeps a vehicle for which a vehicle licence is in force; and (2) he does not, at such time as may be prescribed by the regulations or within such period as may be so prescribed, take out a vehicle licence to have effect from the expiry of the vehicle licence mentioned in head (1) supra: s 22(1E) (added by the Finance Act 1996 Sch 2 paras 6, 7). As to regulations made under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1D), (1E) (as added) see notes 17, 18 infra.

16 Ibid s 22(1D)(c) (as added: see note 13 supra). For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 224 note 5 ante. For the purposes of s 22(1D)(c) (as added), a vehicle is unlicensed if no vehicle licence is in force for the vehicle: s 22(1F) (added by the Finance Act 1996 Sch 2 paras 6, 7).

17 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1D) (as added: see note 13 supra). Regulations under s 22(1D) (as added) may make such transitional provision as appears to the Secretary of State to be appropriate: s 22(1G) (added by the Finance Act 1996 Sch 2 paras 6, 7). In exercise of the powers conferred by the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(1D), (1E), (1G) (as added) and s 22(2), the Secretary of State has made the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 26, Sch 4 (as amended): see PARAS 524-528 post.

18 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 59(1), which does not apply to regulations under ss 24, 26-28 (see PARAS 564, 566-569 post). A person guilty of an offence under this provision is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding, in the case of regulations prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State as regulations to which the relevant provision applies, level 3 on the standard scale and, in any other case, level 2 on the standard scale: s 59(2)(a), (b). The prescribing of regulations as regulations to which s 59(2)(a) applies does not affect the punishment for a contravention of, or failure to comply with, the regulations before they were so prescribed. The Secretary of State may, if he sees fit, compound any proceedings for an offence under the relevant provisions: s 59(6)(a) (added by the Finance Act 1996 Sch 2 para 15). As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post.

520-521 Power of constables to require production of registration documents, Secretary of State's power to make registration regulations

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

521 Secretary of State's power to make registration regulations

NOTE 11--See the Department for Transport (Fees) Order 2009, SI 2009/711 (amended by SI 2009/1885), which specifies for the purposes of the Finance (No 2) Act 1987 s 102(3) the functions to be taken into account in the determination of the fees to be fixed by the Secretary of State.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/5. VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(1) LEGISLATION/522. Regulation of registration plate suppliers.

522. Regulation of registration plate suppliers.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> must establish and maintain a register of registration plate<sup>2</sup> suppliers<sup>3</sup> containing prescribed particulars<sup>4</sup>. The Secretary of State may disclose information from the register and may charge a fee for such disclosure<sup>5</sup>. Applications for registration must be made to the Secretary of State in accordance with the prescribed requirements and accompanied by the prescribed fee<sup>6</sup>. Any person, who is not an exempt person, who carries on a business as a registration plate supplier in England or Wales without being registered by the Secretary of State is guilty of an offence<sup>7</sup>.

A person's registration may be removed or suspended by a court in certain circumstances<sup>8</sup>; and registration may be cancelled where the Secretary of State is satisfied that a registered person has not been carrying on business as a registration plate supplier for at least 28 days<sup>9</sup>.

Regulations provide for the keeping of records by registration plate suppliers<sup>10</sup>. A failure to keep such records is an offence, subject to a due diligence defence<sup>11</sup>. Registration plate suppliers must obtain prescribed information from prospective purchasers and a failure to obtain such information before completing a sale is an offence, subject to a due diligence defence<sup>12</sup>.

A police officer or a person authorised by a local authority has the right to enter and inspect the premises of a registered business; and a police officer or a person appointed by a local authority may enter other premises where he suspects that there is an unregistered business, provided that a justice of the peace has issued a warrant<sup>13</sup>. A registered person must notify within 28 days any changes to details held on the register or the cessation of business as a registration plate supplier and a failure to do so is an offence, subject to a due diligence defence<sup>14</sup>. It is an offence knowingly or recklessly to sell as a registration plate a device which is not a registration plate or knowingly to supply components to a person who is in the business of selling counterfeit registration plates for the purposes of that business<sup>15</sup>. In certain circumstances, it is an offence to supply a plate to an unregistered person, other than an exempt person, who is carrying on business as a registration plate supplier<sup>16</sup>.

Proceedings for an offence may not be instituted except by the Secretary of State, a local authority or a constable, or, in any other case, with the consent of the Attorney General<sup>17</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

2 'Registration plate' means a plate or other device which: (1) displays (whether alone or in conjunction with other information) a registration mark; (2) complies with requirements imposed by regulations made under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 27A(1)(a) (as added) (see PARA 568 post); and (3) is designed to be fixed to a vehicle or trailer in accordance with regulations made under s 22(2) (see PARA 523 post) or s 23(3) (see PARA 563 post): Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 31(1). The definition of 'registration plate' in s 31(1) is amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 45(1), (2) so that head (1) supra refers to displaying (whether alone or in conjunction with other information) in accordance with regulations under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 23(4)(b) (see PARA 563 post) a registration mark which complies with regulations under s 23(4)(a) (see PARA 563 post). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

'Registration mark' has the meaning given by the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 23(1) (see PARA 563 post); and includes a mark indicating the registered number of a vehicle or trailer and assigned to that vehicle or trailer by virtue of regulations under s 22(2): Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 31(1).

3 For these purposes, a person carries on business as a registration plate supplier if he: (1) carries on a business which consists wholly or partly in selling registration plates; and (2) is not an exempt person: ibid s 17(2). 'Exempt person' means any person who is an exempt person by virtue of regulations made under s 17(3) (b): s 31(1). The Secretary of State may by regulations provide for: (a) activities of a prescribed description to be treated for the purposes of Pt 2 (ss 17-31) (as amended) as not being activities which consist in selling registration plates; (b) persons of a prescribed description to be exempt persons for the purposes of Pt 2 (as amended): s 17(3).

4 Ibid s 18(1). Each person's entry in the register must contain the prescribed particulars: s 18(2); Vehicles Crime (Registration of Registration Plate Suppliers) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2977, reg 4.

5 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 18(3)-(5). The Secretary of State may by regulations specify: (1) descriptions of persons who are not entitled to be supplied with information under s 18(3); and (2) descriptions of information which are not to be supplied under s 18(3): s 18(6). The Secretary of State may make all of the information contained in the register or information so contained of a particular description available to the National Policing Improvement Agency for use by constables for the purpose of investigating offences under Pt II (as amended): s 18(7) (amended by the Police and Justice Act 2006 s 1(3), Sch 1 Pt 7 paras 76, 77). The Secretary of State may by regulations determine the circumstances in which any of the information to which constables have been given access under the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 18(7) (as amended) may be further disclosed by them: s 18(8). As to the meaning of 'constable' see s 18(9) (added by the Serious Organised Crime and Police Act 2005 s 123(2)). As to the National Policing Improvement Agency see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 222 et seq.

6 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 19(1), (2); Vehicles Crime (Registration of Registration Plate Suppliers) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2977, reg 5. On receipt of the application, the Secretary of State must register the applicant: Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 19(7). The making of a false statement in applying for registration is an offence subject to a maximum penalty of level 3 on the standard scale; and the making of such an application by a person whose registration is suspended or who has been prohibited from making such an application are offences subject to a maximum penalty of level 5 on the standard scale: s 19(3)-(6). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante.

7 Ibid s 17(1). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 17(1). 'Registered' means registered in accordance with the provisions of Pt 2 (as amended) in a register established and maintained by the Secretary of State under s 18 (as amended); and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: s 17(4). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. See also the Vehicles Crime (Registration of Registration Plate Suppliers) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2977 reg 3 (substituted by SI 2005/2981) (exempted activity). As from a day to be appointed, the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 17(1) is amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 ss 46(1), (3), 59, Sch 7 so as to remove the reference to England and Wales.

8 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 20.

9 Ibid s 21. An intention to cancel must be notified and the supplier must be given a reasonable opportunity to make representations about the proposal: s 22. There is a right of appeal, exercisable within 21 days, against cancellation: s 23. As from a day to be appointed, s 23 is substituted by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 46(6), but at the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

10 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 24(1)-(3); Vehicles Crime (Registration of Registration Plate Suppliers) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2977, reg 7 (amended by SI 2003/228; SI 2005/2981).

11 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 24(4), (5).

12 Ibid s 25; Vehicles Crime (Registration of Registration Plate Suppliers) (England and Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2977 reg 6, Schedule (reg 6, Schedule amended by SI 2005/2981).

13 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 26(1)-(4), (6), (8) (s 26(8) amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 44(1), (2)). Reasonable force may be used in pursuance of the warrant (Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 26(5)), and the obstruction of an authorised person in the exercise of his powers is an offence punishable on summary conviction by a fine not exceeding level 2 on the standard scale (s 26(7)).

14 Ibid s 27(1)-(3). A person guilty of any such offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: s 27(4).

15 Ibid s 28(1), (2). As from a day to be appointed, a person who sells a plate or other device which is not a registration plate only because the registration mark displayed by it does not comply with regulations under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 23(4)(a) or is displayed otherwise than in accordance with regulations under s 23(4)(b) (or both), is guilty of an offence: Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 28(1A) (s 28(1A), (1B) prospectively added by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 45(3), (4)). The Secretary of State may by regulations provide that the offence under the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 28(1A) (as prospectively added) is not committed in circumstances prescribed by the regulations: s 28(1B) (as so prospectively added). Section 28(2) is prospectively amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 45(5) so as to refer also to the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 28(1A) (as prospectively added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

A person guilty of any such offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale: s 28(3). This provision is amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 45(6) so as to refer to offences under the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 28 (as prospectively amended). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

16 Ibid s 29(1). A person guilty of any such offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 29(2).

17 Ibid s 30 (amended by the Road Safety Act 2006 s 44(1), (3)).

522 Regulation of registration plate suppliers

TEXT AND NOTES--SI 2002/2977 (as amended) replaced by Vehicles Crime (Registration of Registration Plate Suppliers) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1715.

NOTES 2, 15--Day appointed in relation to Road Safety Act 2006 s 45 is 30 July 2008: SI 2008/1862.

523. Extension of the registration provisions.

Regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may extend any of the provisions as to registration<sup>2</sup> (and provisions incidental to any of those provisions) to, and provide for the identification of, any exempt vehicles<sup>3</sup>, any vehicles belonging to the Crown or any trailers<sup>4</sup>. Regulations under the above provision<sup>5</sup> may, in particular:

- 954 (1) require a person applying for a nil licence<sup>6</sup> to make any such declaration, and to furnish any such particulars and any such documentary or other evidence (whether or not with respect to the vehicle for which the licence is to be taken out) as may be prescribed by the regulations<sup>7</sup>;
- 955 (2) provide for any requirement to make such a declaration not to apply in such circumstances as may be so prescribed<sup>8</sup>;
- 956 (3) make provision (including provision requiring the payment of a fee) for cases where a nil licence is or may be lost, stolen, destroyed or damaged or contains particulars which have become illegible or inaccurate<sup>9</sup>;
- 957 (4) require a person issued with a nil licence which ceases to be in force in circumstances prescribed by the regulations to furnish to the Secretary of State any such particulars and any such documentary or other evidence and make any such declarations as may be so prescribed, and to do so at such times and in such manner as may be so prescribed<sup>10</sup>.

Regulations made by the Secretary of State may make provision for the return of any nil licence to the Secretary of State in such circumstances as may be prescribed by the regulations<sup>11</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with any regulations made under the above provisions is guilty of an offence<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante. The Secretary of State may also make regulations providing for the payment of compensation to or in respect of persons who are or were, or but for any national service of theirs would be or would have been, the holders of any such place, situation or employment as may be prescribed and who suffer or have suffered loss of employment or loss or diminution of emoluments which is attributable to the provisions of the Vehicle and Driving Licences Act 1969 s 1 (repealed); and any such regulations may include provisions for the determination of questions arising under the regulations: see s 2(3); and the Vehicle and Driving Licences (Compensation to Officers) Regulations 1977, SI 1977/1316 (as amended). For these purposes, 'national service' means any such service in any of Her Majesty's forces or other employment (whether or not in the service of Her Majesty) as may be prescribed: Vehicle and Driving Licences Act 1969 s 2(3).

2 As to the registration regulations see PARA 521 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'exempt vehicle' see PARA 519 note 5 ante. For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 519 note 2 ante.

4 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(2). Any such trailers must come within the meaning of s 2, Sch 1 Pt VIII: see s 22(2). In Sch 1 Pt VIII, 'trailer' does not include an appliance constructed and used solely for the purpose of distributing on the road loose gritting material, or a snow plough: see Sch 1 para 17(1) (as amended); and CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 732. As to regulations made under s 22(2) see note 5 infra.

5 Ie under ibid s 22(2). Certain regulations have effect as if they had partly been made under the provisions relating to registration regulations. See the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742 (as amended); and PARAS 529-541 post. By virtue of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 64, Sch 4 para 2 (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 717), the Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Regulations 1985, SI 1985/610 (as amended) have effect as if they had partly been made under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22.

6 For the meaning of 'nil licence' see PARA 519 note 5 ante.

7 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(2A)(a) (s 22(2A)(a), (b) added by the Finance (No 2) Act 1997 s 22(3); and the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(2A)(a) amended by the Finance Act 1998 s 165, Sch 27 Pt I para (4); and the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 32(2)).

8 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(2A)(b) (as added: see note 7 supra). The circumstances which may be prescribed by the regulations by virtue of s 22(2A)(b) (as added) include where a person applying for a nil licence agrees to comply with such conditions as may be specified in relation to him by the Secretary of State: s 22(2B) (added by the Finance (No 2) Act 1997 s 22(3)). The conditions which may be specified by virtue of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(2B) (as added) include: (1) a condition that particulars for the time being prescribed by the regulations by virtue of s 22(2A)(a) (as added) are furnished by being transmitted to the Secretary of State by such electronic means as he may specify (s 22(2C)(a) (s 22(2C) added by the Finance (No 2) Act 1997 s 22(3))); and (2) a condition such as is mentioned in the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 7(3B)(b) (as added and amended) (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 761) (treating the references to s 7(3B)(a) (as added and amended) as references to s 22(2C)(a) (as added)) (s 22(2C)(b) (as so added)).

11 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 22(4) (added by the Finance Act 1997 s 18, Sch 3 para 3).

12 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 59(1). A person guilty of an offence under this provision is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding, in the case of regulations prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State as regulations to which the relevant provision applies, level 3 on the standard scale and, in any other case, level 2 on the standard scale: s 59(2)(a), (b). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante. The prescribing of regulations as regulations to which s 59(2)(a) applies does not affect the punishment for a contravention of, or failure to comply with, the regulations before they were so prescribed: s 59(3). The Secretary of State may, if he sees fit, compound any proceedings for an offence under the relevant provisions: s 59(6)(a) (added by the Finance Act 1996 s 23, Sch 2 para 15). As to the prosecution of offences see PARA 1027 post; and as to legal proceedings generally see PARA 1023 et seq post.

(2) OFF-ROAD NOTIFICATION

524. Application of the off-road notification provisions.

Certain provisions of the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002<sup>1</sup> relating to the statutory off-road notification have effect for the purpose of prescribing the particulars to be furnished and the declarations to be made, and the times at which and the manner in which they are to be furnished or made, by a person: (1) who surrenders a vehicle licence<sup>2</sup>; (2) who does not renew a vehicle licence on its expiration; or (3) who keeps an unlicensed<sup>3</sup> vehicle<sup>4</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with these provisions is guilty of an offence<sup>5</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'vehicle licence' see PARA 519 note 4 ante.

3 'Unlicensed vehicle' means a relevant vehicle for which no vehicle licence is for the time being in force and 'unlicensed' is to be construed accordingly; and 'relevant vehicle' means a vehicle which is either a relevant GB vehicle or a relevant NI vehicle: Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg

26, Sch 4 para 1(1). A 'relevant GB vehicle' means a vehicle which is registered in the GB records and kept in Great Britain, but does not include a vehicle in relation to which each of the following conditions is satisfied: (1) neither a vehicle licence nor a nil licence was in force for the vehicle on 31 January 1998; (2) such a licence has not been taken out for the vehicle for a period starting after that date; and (3) the vehicle has not been used or kept on a public road on or after that date: Sch 4 para 1(2)(a). A 'relevant NI vehicle' means a vehicle which is registered in the NI records and kept in Northern Ireland, but does not include a vehicle in relation to which each of the following conditions is satisfied: (a) neither a vehicle licence nor a nil licence was in force for the vehicle on 30 November 2002; (b) such a licence has not been taken out for the vehicle for a period starting after that date; and (c) the vehicle has not been used or kept on a public road on or after that date: Sch 4 para 1(2)(b). A vehicle which is an exempt vehicle falling within a description specified in the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 5(2), Sch 2 para 2, 2A, 3, 23 or 24 (Sch 2 para 2A as added; and Sch 2 para 23 as amended) (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 740 et seq) is neither a relevant GB nor a relevant NI vehicle: Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, Sch 4 para 1(3). For the meaning of 'nil licence' see PARA 519 note 5 ante; for the meaning of 'public road' see PARA 519 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'exempt vehicle' see PARA 519 note 5 ante. 'GB records' means the part of the register which is maintained on behalf of the Secretary of State by the Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency; 'NI records' means the part of the register which is maintained by Driver and Vehicle Licensing Northern Ireland; and 'register' means the record kept by or on behalf of the Secretary of State of the vehicles registered by him under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21 (as amended): see the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 3(1). ## 525. Required declaration and particulars.

For the purposes of the off-road notification provisions<sup>1</sup>, the required declaration<sup>2</sup> may be made and the required particulars<sup>3</sup> furnished in such way as the Secretary of State may accept<sup>4</sup> including: (1) in writing on a form specified by the Secretary of State; (2) orally by telephone to a person authorised by the Secretary of State; or (3) by electronic means in a form specified by the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>.

A person furnishing the required particulars need not provide particulars of the address at which the vehicle is kept unless required to do so: (a) in a case falling within head (1) or head (3) above, by the form on which those particulars are furnished; or (b) in a case falling within head (2) above, by the person to whom they are furnished<sup>6</sup>.

1 Ie the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 26, Sch 4.

2 'The required declaration' means a declaration made to the Secretary of State by a person surrendering a vehicle licence or the keeper of a relevant vehicle to the effect that (except for use under a trade licence) he does not for the time being intend to use or keep the vehicle on a public road and will not use or keep the vehicle on a public road without first taking out a vehicle licence (or if appropriate a nil licence) for the vehicle: Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, Sch 4 para 1(1). For the meaning of 'relevant vehicle' see PARA 524 note 3 ante; for the meaning of 'trade licence' see PARA 521 note 3 ante; for the meaning of 'public road' see PARA 519 note 5 ante; and for the meaning of 'nil licence' see PARA 519 note 5 ante. 'Keeper' in relation to a vehicle means the person by whom that vehicle is kept: reg 3 (1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

3 'The required particulars' in relation to a relevant vehicle are particulars of: (1) the registration mark of the vehicle; (2) the make and model of the vehicle; and (3) the address of the premises at which the vehicle is kept: ibid Sch 4 para 1(1).

526. Surrender of vehicle licence.

When the holder of a vehicle licence<sup>1</sup> for a relevant GB vehicle<sup>2</sup> surrenders it<sup>3</sup>, he must deliver to the Secretary of State the required declaration<sup>4</sup> and the required particulars<sup>5</sup> in relation to that vehicle<sup>6</sup>. However, this requirement does not apply where a relevant GB vehicle is no longer kept by the holder of the licence or the holder is a relevant vehicle trader<sup>7</sup> in relation to that vehicle<sup>8</sup>.

When after 30 November 2002 the holder of a vehicle licence for a relevant NI vehicle<sup>9</sup> surrenders it<sup>10</sup>, he must deliver to the Secretary of State the required declaration and the required particulars in relation to that vehicle<sup>11</sup>. However, this requirement does not apply where a relevant NI vehicle is no longer kept by the holder of the licence or the holder is a relevant trader in relation to that vehicle<sup>12</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with the above provisions is guilty of an offence<sup>13</sup>.

7 For the purposes of ibid Sch 4, a person is a 'relevant vehicle trader' in relation to a vehicle if he falls within a description mentioned in Sch 4 para 1(4) Table col (2) and the vehicle falls within a description in Sch 4 para 1(4) Table col (3): reg 3(2), Sch 4 para 1(4). The descriptions of persons and vehicles are as follows:

142 (1) the holder of a trade licence, in relation to a vehicle temporarily in his possession in the course of the business by virtue of which he is a person eligible to hold such a licence (Sch 4 para 1(4), Table item 1);

143 (2) an auctioneer of vehicles, in relation to a vehicle temporarily in his possession in the course of his business as such an auctioneer (Sch 4 para 1(4), Table item 2);

- 144 (3) a motor dealer, in relation to a vehicle temporarily in his possession in the course of his business as a motor dealer (Sch 4 para 1(4), Table item 3);
- 145 (4) a person who carries on business as a dismantler of vehicles, in relation to a vehicle temporarily in his possession in the course of that business (Sch 4 para 1(4), Table item 4);
- 146 (5) an authorised insurer, in relation to a vehicle temporarily in his possession in consequence of settling a claim under a policy of insurance relating to the vehicle (Sch 4 para 1(4), Table item 5);
- 147 (6) the holder of a licence under the Consumer Credit Act 1974 Pt III (ss 21-41), in relation to a vehicle temporarily in his possession under an order for the repossession of the vehicle made in pursuance of a personal credit agreement relating to the vehicle (Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, Sch 4 para 1(4), Table item 6).

For the meaning of 'authorised insurer' see PARAS 460 note 1 ante, 945 note 4 post; definition applied by reg 3(1). For these purposes, 'personal credit agreement' has the meaning given in the Consumer Credit Act 1974 s 8(1) (see CONSUMER CREDIT vol 9(1) (Reissue) PARA 80): Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, Sch 4 para 1(1).

528. Person keeping an unlicensed vehicle.

Where a person is the keeper<sup>1</sup> of a relevant GB vehicle<sup>2</sup> which is unlicensed<sup>3</sup> and as respects which there has elapsed a period of 12 months ('the unlicensed period'):

- 958 (1) throughout which the vehicle has been kept in Great Britain<sup>4</sup> unlicensed<sup>5</sup>; and
- 959 (2) within which neither the required declaration<sup>6</sup> nor the required particulars<sup>7</sup> have been delivered to the Secretary of State in relation to the vehicle, that person must, unless a vehicle licence<sup>8</sup> or a nil licence<sup>9</sup> has been taken out so as to run from the end of the unlicensed period, deliver the required declaration and the required particulars to the Secretary of State in relation to the relevant GB vehicle not later than the day following the end of that period<sup>10</sup>.

On a change in the keeper of a relevant GB vehicle which is unlicensed, unless a vehicle licence or nil licence is taken out for the vehicle, the new keeper must deliver to the Secretary of State the required declaration and the required particulars in relation to the vehicle:

- 960 (a) if he is a relevant vehicle trader<sup>11</sup>, not later than the end of the period of three months beginning with the day following the day on which the change of keeper occurs; or
- 961 (b) in any other case, not later than the day following the day on which the change of keeper occurs<sup>12</sup>.

Where, at any time after 30 November 2003, a person is the keeper of a relevant NI vehicle<sup>13</sup> which is unlicensed and as respects which there has elapsed a period of 12 months ('the unlicensed period'):

- 962 (i) throughout which the vehicle has been kept in Northern Ireland unlicensed<sup>14</sup>; and

530. Application for duplicate licence.

Where a vehicle licence<sup>1</sup>, trade licence<sup>2</sup> or nil licence<sup>3</sup> has been, or may have been, lost, stolen, destroyed or damaged, or contains any particulars which have become illegible, the holder of the licence must apply to the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> for the issue of a duplicate<sup>5</sup>. The application must be accompanied by: (1) the registration document issued in respect of the vehicle or, if the applicant is unable to comply with this requirement, by an application to the Secretary of State for the issue of a replacement registration document<sup>6</sup>; (2) a fee<sup>7</sup>, if the licence to be replaced is a vehicle or trade licence; and (3) the licence to be replaced, if the reason for replacement is that it has been damaged or contains any particulars which have become illegible<sup>8</sup>.

On receiving such an application made in accordance with these provisions, the Secretary of State must issue a replacement licence if he is satisfied that the licence has been, or may have been, lost, stolen, destroyed or damaged<sup>9</sup>. If a replacement licence has been issued on the ground that the original has been, or may have been, lost, stolen or destroyed, and the original licence is subsequently found or recovered, the keeper of the vehicle must: (a) if the original is in his possession, forthwith return it to the Secretary of State; or (b) if it is not in his possession but he becomes aware that it is found or recovered, take all reasonable steps to obtain possession of it and return it to the Secretary of State<sup>10</sup>.

531. Registration documents.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may register a vehicle in either the GB records<sup>2</sup> or the NI records<sup>3</sup> as he considers appropriate and may, if he thinks fit, remove the particulars of a vehicle included in one of those parts of the register<sup>4</sup> and include them in the other<sup>5</sup>. On registering a vehicle the Secretary of State must issue a registration document<sup>6</sup> to the keeper of the vehicle<sup>7</sup>.

The Secretary of State must issue the registration document forthwith, except where the vehicle is registered in consequence of an application for a vehicle licence<sup>8</sup> by a person who agrees to comply with such conditions as may be specified in relation to him by the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup>, in which case the registration document must be issued when that person asks for it to be issued<sup>10</sup>. However, before issuing a registration document to the keeper of a vehicle, the Secretary of State may require him to produce the vehicle for inspection or to produce other evidence that the vehicle accords with the particulars furnished when a vehicle or nil licence<sup>11</sup> was applied for in respect of it<sup>12</sup>, and the Secretary of State may refuse to issue a registration document or replacement registration document for a vehicle if he is not satisfied that the vehicle accords with those particulars<sup>13</sup>.

The keeper of a vehicle in respect of which a registration document has been issued must produce it for inspection if he is at any reasonable time required to do so by a constable or by a person acting on behalf of the Secretary of State<sup>14</sup>.

5 Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 10(3). As to the power to register see PARA 519 ante.

6 In respect of vehicles falling within the definition of 'vehicle' in EEC Council Directive 70/156 (OJ L42, 23.2.1970, p 1) on the approximation of the laws of the member states relating to the type approval of motor vehicles and their trailers, art 2 and in EEC Council Directive 92/61 (OJ L225, 10.8.1992, p 72) relating to the type-approval of two or three-wheeled motor vehicles, art 2, the Secretary of State must not issue a new registration document on or after 31 January 2004 unless it complies with EC Council Directive 1999/37 (OJ L138, 1.6.1999, p 57) on the registration documents for vehicles, Annex I as regards: (1) dimensions; (2) composition; and (3) information contained within it, except that, in relation to a new registration document, the information contained may be limited to that available to the Secretary of State: Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 10A(1), (2) (reg 10A added by SI 2003/3073; and the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 10A(1), (2) amended by SI 2004/3298). However, notwithstanding any other provision of the Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742 (as amended), the Secretary of State may, without charge and on surrender by the registered keeper of a registration document issued before 31 January 2004, issue to the registered keeper a registration document which is in a form provided for by EC Council Directive 1999/37 (OJ L138, 1.6.1999, p 57) (as amended) in respect of the same vehicle if it appears proper and reasonable to him to do so: Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 10A(1A), (3A) (reg 10A as so added; and reg 10A(1A), (3A) added by SI 2004/3298). 'Registered keeper' in relation to a vehicle means the person for the time being shown in the register as the keeper of that vehicle: Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 3(1). For the meaning of 'keeper' see PARA 525 note 2 ante. Any registration document which does not comply with EC Council Directive 1999/37 (OJ L138, 1.6.1999, p 57) (as amended) ceases to have effect on the earlier of the date on which the Secretary of State issues a new registration document under the Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742 (as amended), or 1 July 2005: reg 10A(3) (as so added; and amended by SI 2004/3298). As to registration of vehicles which have been registered in another member state or Gibraltar see the Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 10A(4), (5) (as so added; and reg 10A(4) amended by SI 2004/3298).

VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(3) LICENSING AND REGISTRATION/532. Replacement, correction of and issue of new registration documents.

532. Replacement, correction of and issue of new registration documents.

Where a registration document<sup>1</sup> has been, or may have been, lost, stolen, destroyed or damaged, or it contains any particulars that have become illegible, the registered keeper<sup>2</sup> must apply to the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> for the issue of a replacement document<sup>4</sup>. In a case where the registration document has been damaged or contains any particulars which have become illegible, an application must be accompanied by the document and, in any other case, the Secretary of State may, if he thinks fit, accept an application made orally by telephone<sup>5</sup>. A fee is payable on the application, unless the registration document fee exemption<sup>6</sup> applies<sup>7</sup>. If the Secretary of State receives an application made in accordance with these provisions and he is satisfied that a registration document has been, or may have been, lost, stolen, destroyed or damaged, or that it contains any particulars that have become illegible, he must<sup>8</sup> issue a replacement registration document to the registered keeper<sup>9</sup>. If a replacement registration document has been issued on the ground that the original has been, or may have been, lost, stolen or destroyed, and the original is subsequently found or recovered, the keeper of the vehicle must, if the original is in his possession, forthwith return it to the Secretary of State or, if it is not in his possession but he becomes aware that it is found or recovered, must take all reasonable steps to obtain possession of it and return it to the Secretary of State<sup>10</sup>.

Where the keeper<sup>11</sup> of a vehicle<sup>12</sup> believes that the particulars in the registration document issued in respect of that vehicle are, or have become, inaccurate, he must forthwith notify the Secretary of State of the inaccuracy<sup>13</sup>. Such notification must be accompanied by the registration document, unless it has been, or may have been, lost stolen or destroyed<sup>14</sup>. Where the Secretary of State believes that the particulars in the registration document issued in respect of a vehicle are inaccurate: (1) if the document has not been sent to him, he may require the registered keeper of the vehicle to send it to him; (2) whether or not he has received the document, he may correct the particulars in the register<sup>15</sup>; and (3) after correcting the particulars in the register, he must, provided that the statutory requirements<sup>16</sup> have been complied with, issue a new registration document containing the correct particulars to the registered keeper<sup>17</sup>.

Before issuing a new registration document in respect of a vehicle<sup>18</sup>, the Secretary of State may require the keeper of the vehicle to satisfy him by the production of the vehicle or other sufficient evidence that the vehicle accords with the particulars furnished when a vehicle licence<sup>19</sup> or nil licence<sup>20</sup> was last applied for in respect of it, or is the registered vehicle<sup>21</sup>. Before issuing a new registration document the Secretary of State may take actions to satisfy himself that the identity and address of the person seeking to be the registered keeper accords with the information given to him<sup>22</sup>. The Secretary of State may refuse to issue a new registration document in respect of a vehicle if he is not satisfied as to the requirements mentioned above<sup>23</sup>. Special provisions<sup>24</sup> have effect in relation to the issue of a new registration document in respect of a vehicle ('the relevant vehicle') where: (a) the relevant vehicle falls within a specified category<sup>25</sup>; and (b) either an insurer has informed the Secretary of State that it has decided to pay the value of the relevant vehicle to the owner in preference to paying for the cost of repairing it or the registration document has been surrendered<sup>26</sup> to the Secretary of State on a change of keeper<sup>27</sup>.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(3) LICENSING AND REGISTRATION/533. Production of vehicle for inspection before assignment of registration mark.

533. Production of vehicle for inspection before assignment of registration mark.

Where at the request of the keeper<sup>1</sup> of a vehicle<sup>2</sup> a particular registration mark is to be assigned to it<sup>3</sup>, having previously been assigned to another vehicle, that other vehicle must be made available for inspection by the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> at a place designated by him, and the keeper of the first mentioned vehicle must, before the registration mark is so assigned, pay to the Secretary of State a charge for the assignment<sup>5</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'keeper' see PARA 525 note 2 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 519 note 2 ante.

3 The registration mark is assigned to a vehicle in accordance with the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21 (as amended), s 23(1)-(3) (see PARAS 519 ante, 563 post).

534. Notification of alteration to vehicles.

Where any alteration is made to a vehicle<sup>1</sup> so as to make any of the particulars set out in the registration document<sup>2</sup> incorrect, the registered keeper<sup>3</sup> must deliver to the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> notification of the alteration and, except where the registration document has been, or may have been, lost, stolen or destroyed, the registration document<sup>5</sup>. If the alteration makes any of the particulars shown on the vehicle licence<sup>6</sup> or nil licence<sup>7</sup> incorrect, the registered keeper must also deliver to the Secretary of State the appropriate licence, unless it is lost, stolen or destroyed<sup>8</sup>. The Secretary of State may require the registered keeper to furnish such evidence as he may reasonably require to show that the alteration has taken place<sup>9</sup>.

On receiving notification of an alteration the Secretary of State must<sup>10</sup>, if he is satisfied that the vehicle has been altered in the way notified to him: (1) record the alteration in the register<sup>11</sup>; (2) send to the registered keeper a new registration document showing the correct particulars; and (3) in a case falling where the alteration makes any of the particulars shown on the vehicle licence or nil licence incorrect, issue to the registered keeper a new vehicle licence or nil licence showing the correct particulars<sup>12</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with the requirement to notify alterations is guilty of an offence<sup>13</sup>.

536. Change of keeper where new keeper is not a vehicle trader.

Where (1) there is a change in the keeper<sup>1</sup> of a vehicle<sup>2</sup>; (2) a vehicle registration document has been issued in respect of the vehicle<sup>3</sup>; and (3) the new keeper is not a vehicle trader<sup>4</sup>, the registered keeper<sup>5</sup> of the vehicle must<sup>6</sup>:

966 (a) if the registration document issued in respect of the vehicle is in his possession, deliver to the new keeper that part of the document marked as the part which is to be given to the new keeper; and

967 (b) forthwith deliver to the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup> on the remainder of the registration document, or otherwise in writing, the following information:

45

88. (i) the name and address of the new keeper;

89. (ii) the date on which the vehicle was sold or transferred to the new keeper;

90. (iii) a declaration signed by the registered keeper that the details given in accordance with head (i) above are correct to the best of his knowledge and that the details given in accordance with head (ii) above are correct; and

91. (iv) a declaration signed by the new keeper that the details given in accordance with heads (i) and (ii) above are correct<sup>8</sup>.
- 46

Where all parts of the registration document have been, or may have been, lost, stolen or destroyed, the new keeper must submit an application to the Secretary of State for the issue of a new registration document and, except where the registration document fee exemption<sup>9</sup> applies, that application must be accompanied by a fee<sup>10</sup>. Where the new keeper can produce to the Secretary of State that part of the document marked as the part which is to be given to the new keeper, the new keeper may submit an application to the Secretary of State for the issue of a new registration document accompanied by that part<sup>11</sup>.

On receiving notification of a change in keeper in accordance with the above provisions, the Secretary of State must<sup>12</sup> record the change in the register<sup>13</sup> and issue to the new registered keeper a new registration document<sup>14</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with the requirement to notify a change of keeper is guilty of an offence<sup>15</sup>.

537. Change of keeper where new keeper is a vehicle trader.

Where (1) there is a change in the keeper<sup>1</sup> of a vehicle<sup>2</sup>; (2) the person disposing of the vehicle is the registered keeper<sup>3</sup>; (3) a vehicle registration document<sup>4</sup> has been issued in respect of the vehicle; and (4) the new keeper is a vehicle trader<sup>5</sup>, the registered keeper must forthwith notify the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup>, on that part of the registration document which relates to the transfer to a vehicle trader, or otherwise in writing, of the following<sup>7</sup>:

- 968 (a) the name and address of the vehicle trader;
- 969 (b) the date on which the vehicle was transferred to the vehicle trader;
- 970 (c) a declaration signed by the registered keeper that he transferred the vehicle to the vehicle trader on the date specified in accordance with head (b) above; and
- 971 (d) a declaration signed by the vehicle trader that the vehicle was transferred to him on the date specified in accordance with head (b) above<sup>8</sup>.

If the registration document issued in respect of the vehicle is in his possession, the registered keeper must deliver to the vehicle trader those parts of it not required to be sent to the Secretary of State under the above provisions<sup>9</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with the above notification requirements is guilty of an offence<sup>10</sup>.

538. Obligations of vehicle traders on change of keeper.

Where a vehicle trader<sup>1</sup> becomes the keeper<sup>2</sup> of a vehicle<sup>3</sup> in respect of which a vehicle registration document has been issued<sup>4</sup>, the vehicle trader must, on or before the appropriate date<sup>5</sup> and on that part of the registration document which relates to a change of keeper, notify the Secretary of State<sup>6</sup> as to the transfer of the vehicle to him and the date on which he became the keeper of the vehicle<sup>7</sup>. Where the registration document has been, or may have been, lost, stolen or destroyed, notification must be effected by an application to the Secretary of State for the issue of a new registration document and, except where the registration document fee exemption<sup>8</sup> applies, that application must be accompanied by a fee<sup>9</sup>.

Where vehicle trader becomes the keeper of a vehicle in respect of which a vehicle registration document has been issued and the vehicle trader transfers the vehicle to another vehicle trader before the expiration of the three months period of grace<sup>10</sup>, he must give to the new keeper any part of the registration document in his possession<sup>11</sup>. In any other case, where the vehicle trader transfers the vehicle to another person, he must:

972 (1) forthwith deliver to the Secretary of State, on that part of the registration document which relates to the change of keeper or otherwise in writing, the following:

47

- 92. (a) the name and address of the new keeper;
- 93. (b) the date on which the vehicle was transferred to the new keeper;
- 94. (c) a declaration signed by the vehicle trader that the details given in accordance with head (a) above are correct to the best of his knowledge and that the details given in accordance with head (b) above are correct; and
- 95. (d) a declaration signed by the new keeper that the details given in accordance with heads (a) and (b) above are correct; and

973 (2) if the registration document issued in respect of the vehicle is in his possession, deliver to the new keeper those parts of it not required to be sent to the Secretary of State under head (1) above<sup>12</sup>.

Where all parts of the registration document have been, or may have been, lost, stolen or destroyed, the new keeper must submit an application to the Secretary of State for the issue of a new registration document and, except where the registration document fee exemption applies, that application must be accompanied by a fee<sup>13</sup>. Where the new keeper can produce to the Secretary of State that part of the document marked as the part which is to be given to the new keeper, the new keeper may submit an application to the Secretary of State for the issue of a new registration document accompanied by that part<sup>14</sup>.

On receiving notification of a change in keeper in accordance with the above provisions<sup>15</sup>, the Secretary of State must<sup>16</sup> record the change in the register<sup>17</sup> and issue to the new registered keeper a new registration document<sup>18</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with the above notification requirement is guilty of an offence<sup>19</sup>.

539. Notification of change of address of keeper.

If the registered keeper<sup>1</sup> of a vehicle<sup>2</sup> changes his name or his address, he must forthwith notify the new name or address to the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> and, except where the registration document<sup>4</sup> has been, or may have been, lost, stolen or destroyed, must deliver the registration document to him<sup>5</sup>. On receiving notification in accordance with these provisions the Secretary of State must<sup>6</sup> record the alteration in the register<sup>7</sup> and send to the registered keeper a new registration document showing the new name or address<sup>8</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with the above notification requirement is guilty of an offence<sup>9</sup>.

542. Vehicles to which the End-of-Life Vehicles Directive applies.

Where a vehicle<sup>1</sup> to which these provisions apply<sup>2</sup> is transferred to an authorised treatment facility<sup>3</sup>:

- 979 (1) if that facility is in the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup>, the owner or operator thereof must notify the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup> of the issue of a certificate of destruction<sup>6</sup> and at the same time must surrender the registration document<sup>7</sup> to him, except where the registration document has been lost, stolen or destroyed; and
- 980 (2) if that facility is in an EEA state<sup>8</sup> other than the United Kingdom, the registered keeper<sup>9</sup> of the vehicle must notify the Secretary of State of the issue in that other EEA state of a certificate of destruction and at the same time the registered keeper must surrender the registration document to him except where the registration document has been lost, stolen or destroyed<sup>10</sup>.

Where the Secretary of State has been notified of the issue of a certificate of destruction he must not as respects the vehicle to which it relates: (a) record in the GB records or, in the case of a vehicle registered in Northern Ireland, in the NI records any further change of keeper; or (b) accept the required declaration<sup>11</sup> as to keeping a vehicle off-road<sup>12</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with the above requirements to notify the Secretary of State of the issue of a certificate of destruction is guilty of an offence<sup>13</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 519 note 2 ante.

2 The Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 17A (as added) applies to a vehicle to which European Parliament and Council Directive 2000/53 (OJ L 269, 21.10.2000, p 34) on end-of-life vehicles applies and which is: (1) registered in the GB or NI records; or (2) designed or adapted for use on a road and would be registered but for the fact that it falls within the exemption in the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 29(2) (Crown vehicles: see PARA 546 post): reg 17A(1) (reg 17A added by SI 2003/2635). ### 543. Offence of using an incorrectly registered vehicle.

A person is guilty of an offence if, on a public road<sup>1</sup> or in a public place, he uses a vehicle<sup>2</sup> to which the following provisions apply and in respect of which<sup>3</sup>: (1) the name and address of the keeper<sup>4</sup> are not recorded in the register<sup>5</sup>; or (2) any of the particulars recorded in the register are incorrect<sup>6</sup>. These provisions apply to a vehicle<sup>7</sup> if: (a) vehicle excise duty is chargeable in respect of it<sup>8</sup>; or (b) it is an exempt vehicle<sup>9</sup> in respect of which regulations<sup>10</sup> require a nil licence<sup>11</sup> to be in force<sup>12</sup>.

It is a defence for a person charged with such an offence to show (as the case may be)<sup>13</sup>: (i) that there was no reasonable opportunity, before the material time, to furnish the name and address of the keeper of the vehicle<sup>14</sup>; or (ii) that there was no reasonable opportunity, before the material time, to furnish particulars correcting the incorrect particulars<sup>15</sup>. It is also a defence for a person charged with such an offence to show<sup>16</sup>: (A) that he had reasonable grounds for believing, or that it was reasonable for him to expect, that the name and address of the keeper or the other particulars of registration (as the case may be) were correctly recorded in the register<sup>17</sup>; or (B) that any exception prescribed in regulations is met<sup>18</sup>.

(4) EXHIBITION OF LICENCES

545. Exhibition of vehicle and nil licences.

It is a statutory requirement that a vehicle licence<sup>1</sup> or nil licence<sup>2</sup> which is for the time being in force should be fixed to and exhibited on a vehicle<sup>3</sup> used or kept on a public road<sup>4</sup> in the manner prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>. However, when a vehicle licence or nil licence has been delivered to the Secretary of State with an application for a replacement licence<sup>6</sup>, no licence need be fixed to and exhibited on the vehicle to which the licence relates until the replacement licence is obtained<sup>7</sup>. In all other cases, a vehicle licence or nil licence in force for a vehicle is to be fixed to and exhibited on the vehicle in accordance with the following provisions<sup>8</sup>.

Each such licence must be fixed to the vehicle in a holder sufficient to protect the licence from any effects of the weather to which it would otherwise be exposed<sup>9</sup>. The licence must be exhibited on the vehicle:

- 981 (1) in the case of an invalid vehicle<sup>10</sup>, tricycle<sup>11</sup> or bicycle<sup>12</sup>, other than a case specified in head (2) or head (3) below, on the near side of the vehicle so that all the particulars on it are clearly visible in daylight from the near side of the road<sup>13</sup>;
- 982 (2) in the case of a bicycle drawing a side-car or to which a side-car is attached, on the near side of the handlebars of the bicycle or on the near side of the side-car so that all the particulars on it are clearly visible in daylight from the near side of the road<sup>14</sup>;

- 983 (3) in the case of any vehicle fitted with a glass windscreen in front of the driver extending across the vehicle to its near side, on or adjacent to the near side of the windscreen, so that all particulars on it are clearly visible in daylight from the near side of the road<sup>15</sup>;
- 984 (4) in the case of any other vehicle, if the vehicle is fitted with a driver's cab containing a near side window, on that window, or on the near side of the vehicle in front of the driver's seat and at the specified distance above the surface of the road<sup>16</sup>, so that in each case all the particulars are clearly visible in daylight from the near side of the road<sup>17</sup>.

No person may exhibit on a vehicle which is kept or used on a public road anything which is intended to be, or which could reasonably be, mistaken for a vehicle licence, a nil licence or a trade licence<sup>18</sup> which is for the time being in force for, or in respect of, the vehicle<sup>19</sup>.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(5) VEHICLES EXEMPT FROM LICENCE DUTY/(i) Vehicles belonging to the Crown/547. Registration of Crown vehicles.

547. Registration of Crown vehicles.

A government department which uses or keeps or, intends to use or keep, a vehicle<sup>1</sup> on a public road<sup>2</sup> must make to the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> such declaration and furnish him with such particulars as would be required<sup>4</sup> if the department desired to take out a vehicle licence<sup>5</sup> for the vehicle, and make to the Secretary of State a declaration that the vehicle is only to be used for the purposes of the Crown<sup>6</sup>. Upon receipt of the declaration and particulars the Secretary of State must: (1) register the vehicle in the name of the government department; (2) if there is no registration mark for the time being assigned to the vehicle, assign a registration mark to it; and (3) issue a registration document<sup>7</sup> for the vehicle<sup>8</sup>. No vehicle licence or nil licence<sup>9</sup> is to be issued by the Secretary of State in respect of the vehicle so registered<sup>10</sup>.

(iii) Nil Licences

550. Nil licences.

A nil licence<sup>1</sup> is required to be in force in respect of a nil licensable vehicle<sup>2</sup> which is used or kept on a public road<sup>3</sup>. A nil licence must be granted for a period of 12 months beginning with the first day of the month in which the application for the licence is received by the Secretary of State<sup>4</sup> and must be in the same form as a vehicle licence<sup>5</sup> with the word 'NIL' marked in the space provided for indicating the amount of vehicle excise duty payable<sup>6</sup>.

The keeper<sup>7</sup> of a nil licensable vehicle may apply to the Secretary of State for a nil licence by making to him such a declaration and furnishing him with such particulars and such documentary or other evidence as might be specified<sup>8</sup> if the keeper desired to take out a vehicle licence for the vehicle<sup>9</sup>. The Secretary of State may accept a declaration given, and particulars furnished, orally by telephone<sup>10</sup>.

In the case of a vehicle which is an exempt vehicle by virtue of being used, or kept for use, by or for the purposes of a disabled person meeting specified conditions<sup>11</sup>, the Secretary of State must require the keeper to furnish him with a certificate<sup>12</sup> that the relevant statutory provision<sup>13</sup> applies, unless the Secretary of State satisfies himself by other means that one of those provisions applies<sup>14</sup>.

The requirements as to declarations and certificates<sup>15</sup> do not apply where the person applying for a nil licence agrees to comply with such conditions as may be specified in relation to him by the Secretary of State<sup>16</sup>.

If, following an application made in accordance with the above provisions, the Secretary of State is satisfied that a vehicle is a nil licensable vehicle, he must issue a nil licence to the keeper of the vehicle<sup>17</sup>. If at any time vehicle excise duty becomes chargeable<sup>18</sup> in respect of a vehicle which immediately before that time was a nil licensable vehicle, the keeper of the vehicle must forthwith return to the Secretary of State any nil licence issued in respect of the vehicle and any certificate obtained by him<sup>19</sup> in relation to the vehicle<sup>20</sup>.

552. Conditions subject to which trade licences are to be issued.

The conditions subject to which trade licences<sup>1</sup> are to be issued, and with which every holder of a trade licence must comply, are prescribed<sup>2</sup>.

If the holder of a trade licence changes his name, the name of his business or his business address he must forthwith notify the change and the new name or address to the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> and send the licence to the Secretary of State for any necessary amendment<sup>4</sup>.

The holder of the licence must not, and must not permit any person to, alter, deface, mutilate or add anything to a trade plate<sup>5</sup>. The holder of the licence must not, and must not permit any person to, exhibit on any vehicle<sup>6</sup> any trade licence or trade plate which has been altered, defaced mutilated or added to, upon which the figures or particulars have become illegible or the colour of which has altered whether by fading or otherwise<sup>7</sup>.

The holder of the licence must not, and must not permit any person to, exhibit on any vehicle anything which could be mistaken for a trade plate<sup>8</sup>.

The holder of the licence must not permit any person to display the trade licence or any trade plates on a vehicle except a vehicle which that person is using for the purposes of the holder under the licence<sup>9</sup>.

The holder of the licence must not, and must not permit any person to, display the trade licence or any trade plates on any vehicle unless that vehicle is within the specified classes of vehicle<sup>10</sup> and the vehicle is being used for one or more of the prescribed purposes<sup>11</sup> for which the holder may use the vehicle<sup>12</sup>.

The holder of the licence must not display any trade plate on a vehicle used under the licence unless that trade plate shows the general registration mark assigned to the holder in respect of that licence<sup>13</sup>.

In the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994, 'motor trader' means: (1) a manufacturer or repairer of, or dealer in, vehicles; or (2) any other description of person who carries on a business of such description as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State, and a person is treated as a dealer in vehicles if he carries on a business consisting wholly or mainly of collecting and delivering vehicles, and not including any other activities except activities as a manufacturer or repairer of, or dealer in, vehicles: s 62(1). The following descriptions of business are prescribed for the purposes of head (2) supra: (a) the business of modifying vehicles, whether by the fitting of accessories or otherwise; (b) the business of valeting vehicles: Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 35. 'Valeting' means the thorough cleaning of a vehicle before its registration by the Secretary of State under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 21 (as amended) (see PARA 519 ante) or in order to prepare it for sale and includes removing wax and grease from the exterior, engine and interior; and 'valeted' is to be construed accordingly: Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 3(1).

553. Notification of change of name or address.

If the holder of a trade licence<sup>1</sup> changes the name of his business or his business address, he must notify the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> of this fact and of the new name or address forthwith and must at the same time deliver up the licence to the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup>. On receiving such notification the Secretary of State must record the alteration in the register of trade licences and send to the holder a new trade licence showing the correct particulars<sup>4</sup>.

554. Assignment of general registration marks and issue of trade plates.

On issuing a trade licence<sup>1</sup> the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> must assign to the holder of the licence a general registration mark in respect of that licence<sup>3</sup>.

The Secretary of State must issue to every holder of a trade licence, as respects each licence held by him, a set of trade plates appropriate to the class of vehicles<sup>4</sup> for which the licence is to be used<sup>5</sup>. Each trade plate must show the general registration mark<sup>6</sup> assigned to the holder of the licence in respect of the licence, and one of the trade plates must include a means whereby the licence may be fixed to it<sup>7</sup>.

Where the holder of a trade licence satisfies the Secretary of State that the vehicles which he will use by virtue of the licence include motor cycles which would otherwise be liable to vehicle excise duty and other vehicles, the Secretary of State must issue to the holder an additional trade plate in respect of the vehicles otherwise liable to vehicle excise duty<sup>9</sup>. Where the licence is to be used only in respect of motor cycles, the Secretary of State must issue only one trade plate to the holder of the licence and that plate must include a means whereby the licence may be fixed to it<sup>10</sup>.

Each trade plate remains the property of the Secretary of State and must be returned forthwith to the Secretary of State by the person to whom it was issued if that person ceases to be the holder of the trade licence in respect of which the trade plate was issued or ceases to be a motor trader<sup>11</sup> or a vehicle tester<sup>12</sup>.

555. Replacements of trade plates.

If any trade plate<sup>1</sup> issued by the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> to the holder of a trade licence<sup>3</sup> is lost, stolen, destroyed or materially damaged, the holder of the licence must apply to the Secretary of State for the issue to him of a replacement set of trade plates<sup>4</sup>, and on receipt of such an application the Secretary of State must so issue a replacement set if:

- 988 (1) he has received all those trade plates in the set which are still in the possession of the holder of the licence;
- 989 (2) the prescribed fee<sup>5</sup> has been paid; and
- 990 (3) he is satisfied that any plate has been lost, stolen, destroyed or materially damaged<sup>6</sup>.

If only that part of a trade plate which consists of a means whereby the trade licence may be fixed to it is lost, stolen, destroyed or materially damaged, the holder of the licence must apply to the Secretary of State for the issue to him of a replacement means of fixing the licence and, upon payment of the prescribed fee<sup>7</sup>, the Secretary of State must issue such a replacement<sup>8</sup>.

If a replacement set of trade plates has been issued on the ground that any of the original trade plates has been lost, stolen or destroyed, and the original plate is subsequently found or recovered, the holder of the licence must, if the original plate is in his possession, forthwith return it to the Secretary of State or, if it is not in his possession but he becomes aware that it is found or recovered, take all reasonable steps to obtain possession of it and return it to the Secretary of State<sup>9</sup>.

No fee is payable under reg 41(4)(a) or (b) on account of the replacement of a trade plate if the Secretary of State is satisfied that the plate has become illegible or the colour of the plate has been altered (whether by fading or by other means) otherwise than by reason of any act or omission of the licence holder: reg 41(5).

556. Exhibition of trade plates and licences.

Where a vehicle<sup>1</sup> is in use under a trade licence<sup>2</sup> the general registration mark<sup>3</sup> assigned to the holder of a trade licence must be displayed on the vehicle in the manner specified below<sup>4</sup>.

The trade plates issued by the Secretary of State must be fixed to and displayed on the vehicle in such a manner that, if the general registration mark assigned to the holder were a registration mark<sup>5</sup> assigned to the vehicle, the relevant provisions<sup>6</sup> would be complied with, notwithstanding the vehicle may not have been first registered on or after the relevant date<sup>7</sup>, or it is a works truck<sup>8</sup> or an agricultural machine<sup>9</sup> or a road roller<sup>10</sup>.

The prescribed manner of exhibiting a trade licence on a vehicle<sup>11</sup> is as follows<sup>12</sup>. The trade licence must be exhibited on the front of the vehicle so as to be clearly visible at all times in daylight, and fixed by means of the trade plate<sup>13</sup> issued to the licence holder which contains a means for fixing the licence to it<sup>14</sup>.

557. Purposes for which a vehicle may be used.

The purposes for which a vehicle<sup>1</sup> may be used by virtue of a trade licence<sup>2</sup> are prescribed by the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002<sup>3</sup>.

The purposes for which the holder of a trade licence who is a motor trader<sup>4</sup> may use a vehicle (other than a vehicle kept for research and development<sup>5</sup>) on a public road<sup>6</sup> by virtue of that licence are purposes which meet each of the following requirements<sup>7</sup>:

991 (1) they are business purposes<sup>8</sup>;

992 (2) they are purposes of the following kinds ('paragraph 12 purposes')<sup>9</sup>, namely where a vehicle is used:

49

96. (a) for its test or trial or the test or trial of its accessories or equipment, in either case in the ordinary course of construction, modification or repair or after completion<sup>10</sup>;

97. (b) for proceeding to or from a public weighbridge for ascertaining its weight or to or from any place for its registration or inspection by a person acting on behalf of the Secretary of State<sup>11</sup>;

98. (c) for its test or trial for the benefit of a prospective purchaser, for proceeding at the instance of a prospective purchaser to any place for the purpose of such test or trial, or for returning after such test or trial<sup>12</sup>;

99. (d) for its test or trial for the benefit of a person interested in promoting publicity in regard to it, for proceeding at the instance of such a person to any place for the purpose of such test or trial, or for returning after such test or trial<sup>13</sup>;

100. (e) for delivering it to the place where the purchaser intends to keep it<sup>14</sup>;

101. (f) for demonstrating its operation or the operation of its accessories or equipment when it is being handed over to the purchaser<sup>15</sup>;

102. (g) for delivering it from one part of the licence holder's premises to another part of his premises, or for delivering it from his premises to premises of, or between parts of premises of, another manufacturer or repairer of or dealer in vehicles or removing it from the premises of another manufacturer or repairer of or dealer in vehicles direct to his own premises<sup>16</sup>;

103. (h) for proceeding to or returning from a workshop in which a body or a special type of equipment or accessory is to be or has been fitted to it or in which it is to be or has been painted, valeted or repaired<sup>17</sup>;

104. (i) for proceeding from the premises of a manufacturer or repairer of or dealer in vehicles to a place from which it is to be transported by train, ship or aircraft or for proceeding to the premises of such a manufacturer, repairer or dealer from a place to which it has been so transported<sup>18</sup>;

- 105. (j) for proceeding to or returning from any garage, auction room or other place at which vehicles are usually stored or usually or periodically offered for sale and at which it is to be or has been stored or is to be or has been offered for sale as the case may be<sup>19</sup>;
- 106. (k) for proceeding to or returning from a place where it is to be or has been inspected or tested<sup>20</sup>; or
- 107. (l) for proceeding to a place where it is to be broken up or otherwise dismantled<sup>21</sup>; and

- 993 (3) they are purposes that do not include the conveyance of goods or burden of any description except specified loads<sup>22</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 519 note 2 ante. Where a vehicle is so constructed that a semi-trailer may by partial superimposition be attached to it in such a manner as to cause a substantial part of the weight of the semi-trailer to be borne by the vehicle, the vehicle and the semi-trailer are to be taken, for the purposes of the Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, Sch 6 Pt II, to constitute a single vehicle: reg 38, Sch 6 para 8.

558. Manufacturers keeping vehicles for research and development.

A vehicle<sup>1</sup>: (1) kept by a motor trader<sup>2</sup>, being the holder of a trade licence<sup>3</sup> who is a manufacturer of vehicles; and (2) kept solely for the purposes of conducting research and development in the course of his business as such a manufacturer, may be used on a public road<sup>4</sup> by such person by virtue of the trade licence for the purposes of conducting research and development in the course of his business as a manufacturer of vehicles<sup>5</sup>.

Those purposes are not to be taken to include the conveyance of goods or burden of any description except: (a) a load which is carried solely for the purpose of testing the vehicle or any of its accessories or equipment and which is returned to the place of loading without having been removed from the vehicle except for such purpose or in the case of accident; or (b) any load built in as part of the vehicle or permanently attached to it<sup>6</sup>.

559. Use by vehicle testers.

The purposes for which the holder of a trade licence<sup>1</sup> who is a vehicle<sup>2</sup> tester may use a vehicle on a public road<sup>3</sup> by virtue of that licence are the purposes of testing it or any trailer drawn by it or any of the accessories or equipment on the vehicle or trailer in the course of the business of the holder of the trade licence as a vehicle tester<sup>4</sup>.

However, such purposes do not include the conveyance of goods or any other burden of any description on the vehicle except: (1) a load which is carried solely for the purpose of testing or demonstrating the vehicle or any of its accessories or equipment and is returned to the place of loading without having been removed from the vehicle except for that purpose or in the case of accident; or (2) a load which is built in as part of the vehicle or permanently attached to it<sup>5</sup>.

(7) CAPACITIES

560. Seating capacity of buses.

For the purpose of determining the annual rates of vehicle excise duty applicable to buses<sup>1</sup>, the seating capacity of a bus is to be taken to be the number of persons that may be seated in the bus at any one time, as determined in accordance with the following principles<sup>2</sup>.

Those principles are: (1) where separate seats for each person are provided one person is to be counted for each separate seat provided; (2) where the vehicle is fitted with continuous seats one person is to be counted for each specified length<sup>3</sup>; (3) where any continuous seat is fitted with arms in order to separate the seating spaces and the arms can be folded back or otherwise put out of use, the arms are to be ignored in measuring the seat; (4) no account is to be taken of the driver's seat<sup>4</sup> or any seats alongside the driver's seat, whether separate from or continuous with it, if the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup> is satisfied that the use of those seats by members of the public will not be permitted during the currency of the licence applied for<sup>6</sup>.

561. Cylinder capacity.

For the purposes of the provisions as to the annual rates of vehicle excise duty<sup>1</sup> the cylinder capacity of an internal combustion engine is taken to be: (1) in the case of a single-cylinder engine, the cylinder capacity attributable to the cylinder<sup>2</sup> of the engine; and (2) in the case of an engine having two or more cylinders, the sum of the cylinder capacities attributable to the separate cylinders<sup>3</sup>.

1 For the purposes of any rate of duty under the Vehicle and Registration Act 1994 s 2, Sch 1 (as amended): see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 719 et seq.

2 The cylinder capacity attributable to any cylinder of an internal combustion engine is deemed to be equal to: (1) in the case of a cylinder having a single piston, the product expressed in cubic centimetres of the square of the internal diameter of the cylinder measured in centimetres, and the distance through which the piston associated with the cylinder moves during one half of a revolution of the engine measured in centimetres multiplied by 0.7854; and (2) in the case of a cylinder having more than one piston, the sum of the products expressed in cubic centimetres of the square of the internal diameter of each part of the cylinder in which a piston moves measured in centimetres, and the distance through which the piston associated with that part of the cylinder moves during one half of a revolution of the engine measured in centimetres multiplied by 0.7854: Road Vehicles (Registration and Licensing) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2742, reg 43(2). In measuring cylinders for the purpose of calculating cylinder capacity, and in calculating cylinder capacity, fractions of centimetres are to be taken into account: reg 43(3).

(8) FOREIGN GOODS VEHICLES CARRYING PERISHABLE FOODSTUFFS

562. Foreign goods vehicles engaged in the international carriage of perishable foodstuffs.

For the purposes of the legislation relating to the international carriage of perishable foodstuffs<sup>1</sup>, a foreign goods vehicle is a goods vehicle which has been brought into the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> and which, if a motor vehicle, is not registered in the United Kingdom, or if a trailer, is drawn by a motor vehicle not registered in the United Kingdom which has been brought into the United Kingdom<sup>3</sup>. For these purposes, a motor vehicle which does not for the time being have exhibited on it a licence<sup>4</sup> or trade plates<sup>5</sup> issued under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 is presumed, unless the contrary is proved, not to be registered in the United Kingdom<sup>6</sup>.

- 6 International Carriage of Perishable Foodstuffs Act 1976 s 19(4) (amended by the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 63, Sch 3 para 9). Where, in accordance with the International Carriage of Perishable Foodstuffs Act 1976 s 19(4) (as amended), a motor vehicle is presumed not to be registered in the United Kingdom, but is subsequently proved to have been so registered, anything which: (1) has been done in relation to the vehicle, or in relation to a trailer drawn by it, by a person relying in good faith on that presumption and purporting to act by virtue of any provision of the International Carriage of Perishable Foodstuffs Act 1976; and (2) would have been lawfully done by virtue of that provision if the vehicle had not been registered in the United Kingdom, is to be treated as having been lawfully done by virtue of that provision: s 19(5). ## (9) REGISTRATION MARKS

(i) Assignment and Transfer

563. Registration marks.

Where the Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> registers a vehicle<sup>2</sup> he must assign to the vehicle a mark (a 'registration mark') indicating the registered number of the vehicle<sup>3</sup>. The Secretary of State may, in such circumstances as he may determine:

- 994 (1) assign a registration mark to a vehicle to which another registration mark has previously been assigned<sup>4</sup>;
- 995 (2) assign to a vehicle (whether on its first registration or later) a registration mark previously assigned to another vehicle<sup>5</sup>;
- 996 (3) (whether or not in connection with an assignment within head (1) or head (2) above) withdraw any registration mark for the time being assigned to a vehicle<sup>6</sup>; and
- 997 (4) reassign to a vehicle a registration mark previously assigned to it but subsequently withdrawn<sup>7</sup>.

The Secretary of State may by regulations: (a) provide that the registration mark for the time being assigned to a vehicle must be fixed, in the manner prescribed by the regulations, on the vehicle, on any other vehicle drawn by the vehicle or on both<sup>8</sup>; (b) prescribe the size, shape and character of registration marks to be fixed on any vehicle<sup>9</sup>, and the manner in which registration marks are to be displayed and rendered easily distinguishable (whether by day or by night)<sup>10</sup>; and (c) make provision for assigning general registration marks to persons holding trade licences<sup>11</sup> and (in particular) prescribe the registration marks to be carried by vehicles the use of which is authorised by a trade licence<sup>12</sup>, and make provision for the issue of trade plates to holders of trade licences and for the charging of a fee for the replacement of trade plates which are or may be lost, stolen, destroyed or damaged<sup>13</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with any such regulations is guilty of an offence<sup>14</sup>.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(9) REGISTRATION MARKS/(i) Assignment and Transfer/564. Assignment of registration marks by motor dealers.

564. Assignment of registration marks by motor dealers.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations make such provision as he considers appropriate with respect to the allocation of registration marks<sup>2</sup> for vehicles<sup>3</sup> to motor dealers<sup>4</sup> who apply for such allocations, and appear to the Secretary of State suitable to receive them, and with respect to the assigning of the marks to vehicles by motor dealers<sup>5</sup>. Such regulations<sup>6</sup> may, in particular, include provision: (1) as to the mode of application for the allocation of registration marks<sup>7</sup>; (2) as to the transfer of registration marks allocated to a motor dealer in cases where the motor dealer dies or becomes incapacitated or bankrupt and in such other cases as may be prescribed by the regulations<sup>8</sup>; and (3) as to the cancellation of allocations of registration marks<sup>9</sup>. Such regulations<sup>10</sup> may also provide for:

- 998 (a) restricting the circumstances in which a motor dealer may assign a registration mark to a vehicle<sup>11</sup>;
- 999 (b) securing that registration marks allocated to a motor dealer are assigned by him in such sequence as the Secretary of State considers appropriate and that no registration mark is assigned to a vehicle to which a registration mark has already been assigned<sup>12</sup>; and
- 1000 (c) requiring a motor dealer to furnish to the Secretary of State within the period prescribed by the regulations such particulars in respect of each vehicle to which the motor dealer assigns a registration mark as are so prescribed<sup>13</sup>.

Where the Secretary of State rejects an application by a motor dealer for an allocation of registration marks, or cancels an allocation of registration marks made to a motor dealer, and the motor dealer, within the period prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State, requests him to review his decision, the Secretary of State must comply with the request and in doing so consider any representations made to him in writing during that period by the motor dealer<sup>14</sup>. Where the Secretary of State cancels an allocation of registration marks made to a motor dealer, the cancellation does not take effect before the end of the period prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State<sup>15</sup>; and where during that period the motor dealer requests the Secretary of State to review his decision, the cancellation does not take effect before the Secretary of State gives notice<sup>16</sup> in writing of the result of the review to the motor dealer<sup>17</sup>.

Regulations<sup>18</sup> may provide that a person who contravenes or fails to comply with any specified provision of the regulations is guilty of an offence<sup>19</sup>.

565. Charge on request for registration mark.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations provide for a charge prescribed by the regulations to be made in cases where, by request, a particular registration mark<sup>2</sup> is assigned to a vehicle<sup>3</sup> (whether on its first registration or later), having previously been assigned to another vehicle<sup>4</sup>. The regulations may: (1) require the vehicle to which a mark is requested to be assigned, and in cases prescribed by the regulations, the other vehicle, to be made available for inspection at a place designated by or under the regulations<sup>5</sup>; and (2) provide for a charge prescribed by the regulations to be made for the inspection and for the whole or part of the charge to be retained whether or not the mark is assigned as requested<sup>6</sup>. Charges prescribed for these purposes<sup>7</sup> need not be related to the costs of making an assignment<sup>8</sup> or arranging for a vehicle to be inspected<sup>9</sup>.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with any such regulations is guilty of an offence<sup>10</sup>.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(9) REGISTRATION MARKS/(i) Assignment and Transfer/566. Retention of registration mark pending transfer.

566. Retention of registration mark pending transfer.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations<sup>2</sup> provide for a person in whose name a vehicle<sup>3</sup> is registered<sup>4</sup> or, if that person so requests, another person to be granted a right of retention<sup>5</sup> in respect of the registration mark for the time being assigned to the vehicle<sup>6</sup>.

Such regulations may, in particular, make provision:

1001 (1) for the manner in which an application for the grant of a right of retention is to be made to the Secretary of State<sup>7</sup>;

1002 (2) for the payment of a fee prescribed by the regulations on the making of such an application and for the whole or part of the fee to be retained whether or not the application is granted<sup>8</sup>;

1003 (3) for requiring the vehicle to which the registration mark is for the time being assigned to be made available for inspection at a place designated by or under the regulations<sup>9</sup>;

1004 (4) for authorising the Secretary of State to refuse such an application on such grounds as he thinks fit<sup>10</sup>;

1005 (5) with respect to the manner in which rights of retention are to be exercisable<sup>11</sup>;

1006 (6) for enabling or requiring the Secretary of State, on the payment to him of a fee prescribed by the regulations, to extend or (on one or more occasions) further extend the period referred to above<sup>12</sup> where the conditions so prescribed are fulfilled<sup>13</sup>, and he thinks fit to do so in the circumstances of the case<sup>14</sup>;

1007 (7) for rights of retention to be non-transferable (but without prejudice to the vesting of any such right in a person by operation of law)<sup>15</sup>;

1008 (8) with respect to the conditions which must be satisfied before a registration mark may be assigned to a vehicle pursuant to a right of retention<sup>16</sup>;

1009 (9) for authorising the Secretary of State to revoke a right of retention if it appears to him that there are special reasons for doing so<sup>17</sup>, or in any other circumstances prescribed by the regulations<sup>18</sup>;

1010 (10) for allowing a person to be nominated when an application for the grant of a right of retention is made or to be nominated at a later time<sup>19</sup>;

- 1011 (11) for allowing a different person to be nominated in place of a person already nominated<sup>20</sup>;
- 1012 (12) for the manner in which a nomination is to be made and for the payment of a fee prescribed by the regulations where a nomination is made in circumstances so prescribed<sup>21</sup>; and
- 1013 (13) for the payment, in connection with the assignment of a registration mark pursuant to a right of retention, of such charge as is for the time being prescribed<sup>22</sup>.

Such regulations<sup>23</sup> may exempt extensions or assignments of any class or description prescribed by the regulations from any fee or charge payable by virtue of head (6) or head (13) above<sup>24</sup>. An extension or nomination is exempt from a fee payable by virtue of head (6) or head (12) above if the Secretary of State considers it appropriate in the circumstances of the case<sup>25</sup>. Where such regulations provide in any case for there to be no charge in connection with the assignment of a registration mark pursuant to a right of retention<sup>26</sup>:

- 1014 (a) the fee prescribed by virtue of head (2) above in relation to an application for that right may include an amount representing the charge for which provision could have been made by virtue of head (13) above<sup>27</sup>; and
- 1015 (b) the regulations may provide for the part of any such fee which represents a charge for which provision could have been so made to be retained, except where conditions prescribed by the regulations are fulfilled, whether or not there is an assignment<sup>28</sup>.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(9) REGISTRATION MARKS/(i) Assignment and Transfer/567. Sale of rights to particular registration marks.

567. Sale of rights to particular registration marks.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations make a scheme providing for registration marks<sup>2</sup> to which the provision relating to the sale of rights to particular registration marks applies<sup>3</sup> to be assigned to vehicles registered<sup>4</sup> in the names of, or of the nominees of, persons who have acquired rights under the scheme to have the marks so assigned<sup>5</sup>. Such regulations may, in particular, make provision:

- 1016 (1) for a person to acquire a right under the scheme to have a particular registration mark to which this provision applies assigned to a vehicle registered in his name, or in the name of some other person nominated by him in accordance with the scheme, on payment of such sum as is payable in accordance with the scheme<sup>6</sup>:

51

108. (a) in respect of the acquisition of the right<sup>7</sup>; and

109. (b) where no charge is to be made by virtue of head (13) below in connection with an assignment pursuant to the right, in respect of such an assignment<sup>8</sup>;

52

1017 (2) with respect to:

53

110. (a) the manner in which agreements for the sale of such a right (a 'relevant right') may be effected<sup>9</sup>;

111. (b) the terms which may be contained in, or incorporated into, such agreements<sup>10</sup>; and

112. (c) rights and liabilities arising in connection with such agreements otherwise than under any such terms<sup>11</sup>;

54

1018 (3) for enabling the Secretary of State to determine as he thinks fit the prices at which particular relevant rights are to be sold or the reserve prices applicable to the sale of any such rights<sup>12</sup>, or the manner in which any such prices are to be determined<sup>13</sup>;

1019 (4) with respect to the manner in which relevant rights are to be exercisable<sup>14</sup>;

1020 (5) for relevant rights to be exercisable only on a single occasion falling within a period prescribed by the regulations (subject to any provision made by virtue of head (6) below)<sup>15</sup>;

1021 (6) for enabling or requiring the Secretary of State, on the payment to him of a fee prescribed by the regulations, to extend or (on one or more occasions) further extend any such period where<sup>16</sup> the conditions so prescribed are fulfilled<sup>17</sup>, and he thinks fit to do so in the circumstances of the case<sup>18</sup>;

1022 (7) for relevant rights to be non-transferable (but without prejudice to the vesting of any such right in a person by operation of law)<sup>19</sup>;

1023 (8) with respect to the conditions which must be satisfied before a registration mark may be assigned to a vehicle pursuant to a relevant right<sup>20</sup>;

1024 (9) for authorising the Secretary of State to revoke a relevant right<sup>21</sup> if it appears to him that there are special reasons for doing so<sup>22</sup>, or in any other circumstances prescribed by the regulations<sup>23</sup>;

1025 (10) for allowing a person to be nominated when a relevant right is acquired or to be nominated at a later time<sup>24</sup>;

1026 (11) for allowing a different person to be nominated in place of a person already nominated<sup>25</sup>;

1027 (12) for the manner in which a nomination is to be made and for the payment of a fee prescribed by the regulations where a nomination is made in circumstances so prescribed<sup>26</sup>;

1028 (13) for the payment, in connection with the assignment of a registration mark pursuant to a relevant right, of such charge as is for the time being prescribed<sup>27</sup>; and

1029 (14) for so much of any sum paid by virtue of head (1) above in respect of the assignment of a registration mark to be retained, except where conditions prescribed by the regulations are fulfilled, whether or not there is such an assignment<sup>28</sup>.

Such regulations may (without prejudice to the generality of head (2) above) make provision for authorising the Secretary of State to make arrangements with other persons by which such persons<sup>29</sup>:

1030 (i) are given authority (whether irrevocable or otherwise) to act on his behalf in offering for sale, and entering into agreements for the sale of, relevant rights in

- the case of such registration marks, and during such periods, as he may determine<sup>30</sup>;
- 1031 (ii) are required to account to him for sums due to him under such agreements (whether they have received any amounts due from the purchasers under the agreements or not)<sup>31</sup>; and
- 1032 (iii) may become entitled or subject to such rights or liabilities of the Secretary of State in connection with such agreements as may be prescribed by the regulations<sup>32</sup>.

Such regulations may exempt extensions or assignments of any class or description prescribed by the regulations from any fee or charge payable by virtue of head (6) or head (13) above<sup>33</sup>. An extension or nomination is exempt from a fee payable by virtue of head (6) or head (12) above if the Secretary of State considers it appropriate in the circumstances of the case<sup>34</sup>.

UPDATE

567 Sale of rights to particular registration marks

NOTE 5--SI 1995/2880 amended: SI 2008/2372.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/5. VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(9) REGISTRATION MARKS/(i) Assignment and Transfer/568. Registration plates.

568. Registration plates.

As from a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup> may by regulations:

- 1033 (1) prescribe specifications for registration plates<sup>3</sup> (whether relating to their size, shape, material of manufacture or otherwise);
- 1034 (2) provide for registration plates to contain or display such information other than registration marks or (as the case may be) special registration marks as may be specified or described in the regulations<sup>4</sup>.

1 The Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 27A is added by the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 34, as from a day to be appointed under s 44. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'registration plates' means:

148 (1) plates or other devices for displaying registration marks and for fixing them on vehicles or trailers in accordance with regulations under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 23(3) (see PARA 563 ante); or

149 (2) plates or other devices for displaying special registration marks and for fixing them on vehicles or trailers in accordance with regulations under s 22(2) (see PARA 523 ante), and includes plates or other devices which are also for containing or displaying information other than registration marks or (as the case may be) special registration marks (whether or not such information is to be contained or displayed by virtue of regulations under s 27A (as added)); s 27A(3) (s 27A as prospectively added: see note 1 supra). 'Special registration mark' means a mark indicating the registered number of a vehicle or trailer and assigned to the vehicle or trailer by virtue of regulations under s 22(2) (see PARA 523 ante); and 'trailer' has the same meaning as in Sch 1 Pt VIII (as amended) (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE: s 27A(4) (as so prospectively added)).

4 Ibid s 27A(1) (as prospectively added: see note 1 supra). Regulations under s 27A(1)(b) (see head (2) in the text) may, in particular, prescribe the form and manner in which any such information is to be contained or displayed: s 27A(2) (as so prospectively added).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/5. VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(9) REGISTRATION MARKS/(i) Assignment and Transfer/569. Marking of engines and bodies.

569. Marking of engines and bodies.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations make such provision as he thinks appropriate with respect to the marking of the engines and bodies of vehicles<sup>2</sup>. Such regulations may, in particular, include provision as to the persons by whom and the times at which engines and bodies of vehicles are to be marked<sup>3</sup>, as to the form of any mark and the manner and position in which it is to be made<sup>4</sup>, and for requiring particulars of marks made under the regulations to be furnished to the Secretary of State<sup>5</sup>.

Such regulations may provide that a person who contravenes or fails to comply with any specified provision of the regulations is guilty of an offence<sup>6</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.

2 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 28(1). For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 519 note 2 ante.

3 Ibid s 28(2)(a).

4 Ibid s 28(2)(b).

5 Ibid s 28(2)(c). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made under s 28 and none have effect under it by virtue of s 64, Sch 4 para 2 (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 717). However, there is a requirement for engines to be marked under the Road Vehicles (Construction and Use) Regulations 1986, SI 1986/1078: see reg 67; and PARA 365 ante.

6 Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 s 59(4). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 1 on the standard scale: s 59(5)(b). As to the standard scale see PARA 230 note 3 ante.

The Secretary of State may, if he sees fit, compound proceedings for an offence under the regulations: s 59(6) (b) (added by the Finance Act 1996 s 23, Sch 2 para 15).

(ii) Display of Registration Marks

570. Form of registration marks.

The size, shape and character of any registration mark<sup>1</sup> which is required to be fixed on a vehicle<sup>2</sup> must be in accordance with the prescribed provisions<sup>3</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registration mark' see PARA 563 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'vehicle' see PARA 519 note 2 ante. Unless the context otherwise requires, a reference in the Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561 (as amended) to a registration plate fixed or to be fixed to a vehicle, or a registration mark displayed or to be displayed on a plate, is to be construed, where the vehicle is towing a trailer, so as to include a reference to the registration plate which is required under those regulations to be fixed to the trailer or a reference to the mark displayed on the plate fixed to that trailer: reg 2(2).

3 Specific provision is made for: (1) the layout of the numbers and letters (see the Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, reg 13, Sch 3 Pt 1 Table A); (2) the size and spacing of characters (see regs 14, 14A, Sch 3 Pt 3 Table B (reg 14 amended by SI 2001/1079; SI 2002/2687; and the Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, reg 14A added by SI 2002/2687)); and (3) the style and font of characters (see the Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, reg 15, Sch 4). As to the prescribed requirements for registration plates see PARA 571 post.

See, in relation to an exempted vehicle, the Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Regulations 1985, SI 1985/610, reg 8(1); and PARA 581 post.

571. Specifications for registration plates.

A registration mark<sup>1</sup> must be displayed on a registration plate<sup>2</sup> conforming to the prescribed requirements<sup>3</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registration mark' see PARA 563 ante.

2 'Registration plate' means a plate or other device displaying the registration mark of the vehicle and in the case of a dual purpose plate means such part of the plate as is not intended for the display of the international distinguishing sign of the United Kingdom in accordance with EC Council Regulation 2411/98 (OJ L 299, 10.11.1998, p 1) on the recognition in intra-community traffic of the distinguishing signs of member states in which motor vehicles are registered: Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI

2001/561, reg 2(1). 'Dual purpose plate' means a plate or other device which displays both the registration mark of the vehicle and the international distinguishing sign of the United Kingdom: reg 2(1). The use of international distinguishing signs is prescribed by reg 16, Sch 2 (reg 16 amended by SI 2001/1079).

3 Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, reg 10(1). The construction, colour and other qualities of registration plates are prescribed by regs 10(2)-(6), 11, Sch 2 (reg 11 amended by SI 2002/2687).

UPDATE

571 Specifications for registration plates

NOTE 2--Definition of 'registration plate' amended; definition of 'dual purpose plate' omitted: SI 2001/651 r 2(1) (amended by SI 2009/811).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ROAD TRAFFIC (VOLUME 40(1) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 201-650; VOLUME 40(2) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 651-1131); VOLUME 40(3) (2007 REISSUE) PARAS 1132-1663)/5. VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(9) REGISTRATION MARKS/(ii) Display of Registration Marks/572. Vehicles registered on or after 1 October 1938.

572. Vehicles registered on or after 1 October 1938.

In relation to vehicles, other than works trucks<sup>1</sup>, road rollers and agricultural machines<sup>2</sup>, first registered on or after 1 October 1938<sup>3</sup>, a registration plate<sup>4</sup> must be fixed on the rear of the vehicle, or, where the vehicle is towing a trailer, the trailer, or, where the vehicle is towing more than one trailer, the rearmost trailer<sup>5</sup>. Where a vehicle, or, in a case where the plate is required to be fixed on a trailer, that trailer, has been constructed so as to satisfy the requirements of the relevant type-approval Directive<sup>6</sup>, whether or not it is required by law to satisfy them, the plate may be fixed in the space provided in accordance with those requirements but if it is not so fixed it must be fixed vertically or, where that is not reasonably practicable, in a position as close to the vertical as is reasonably practicable, and in such a position that in normal daylight the characters of the registration mark<sup>7</sup> are easily distinguishable from every part of a relevant area<sup>8</sup> having the specified diagonal length<sup>9</sup>.

A registration plate must be fixed on the front of the aforementioned vehicle vertically or, where that is not reasonably practicable, in a position as close to the vertical as is reasonably practicable, in such a position that in normal daylight the characters of the registration mark are easily distinguishable from every part of a relevant area having the specified diagonal length<sup>10</sup>. In the case of a motor cycle or a motor tricycle which does not have a body of a type which is characteristic of the body of a four-wheeled vehicle, a registration plate must not be fixed on the front of a vehicle if it was first registered on or after 1 September 2001, and a plate need not be fixed on the front of the vehicle if it was first registered before 1 September 2001<sup>11</sup>.

Where the aforementioned vehicle is being used on a road between sunset and sunrise the registration plate fixed on the rear of the vehicle, or, where the vehicle is towing a trailer, the trailer or, where the vehicle is towing more than one trailer, the rearmost trailer, must be lit as follows<sup>12</sup>. Where a vehicle or, in a case where the plate is required to be fixed on a trailer, that trailer, has been constructed so as to satisfy the requirements of the relevant type-approval Directive, whether or not it is required by law to satisfy them, that plate may be lit by a lamp which complies with those requirements; but if it is not so lit it must be lit so that it is easily distinguishable from every part of a relevant area of the prescribed<sup>13</sup> dimensions<sup>14</sup>.

1 'Works truck' means a vehicle which is designed for use in private premises, and used on public roads only for carrying goods between private premises and a vehicle on a road in the immediate vicinity, or in passing from one part of private premises to another or between private premises and other private premises in the immediate vicinity, or in connection with road works at or in the immediate vicinity of the site of the works: Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, reg 2(1). As to the provisions relating to works trucks etc see PARA 574 post.

2 'Agricultural machine' means a vehicle which is an agricultural tractor, or an off-road tractor, or a light agricultural vehicle, or an agricultural engine, or a mowing machine: ibid reg 2(1).

3 le the 'relevant date': see ibid reg 2(1). In Northern Ireland, the relevant date is 1 January 1948: reg 2(1).

4 For the meaning of 'registration plate' see PARA 571 note 2 ante.

5 Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, reg 5(1), (2).

6 'Relevant type-approval Directive' means, in the case of a motor cycle, motor tricycle or quadricycle, EC Council Directive 93/94 (OJ 311, 14.12.1993, p 83) as regards the space to be provided for fixing of the rear registration plate, and EC Council Directive 93/92 (OJ L311, 14.12.1993, p 1) as regards the rear registration plate lamp; and in the case of any other vehicle or a trailer, EC Council Directive 70/222 (OJ L76, 6.4.1970, p 25) as regards the space to be provided for fixing of the rear registration plate, and EC Council Directive 76/760 (OJ L262, 27.9.1976, p 85) as regards the rear registration plate lamp: Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, reg 4. 'Motor cycle' means a vehicle having two wheels and includes a vehicle of that description in combination with a sidecar; 'motor tricycle' means a vehicle having three wheels symmetrically arranged; and 'quadricycle' means a vehicle having four wheels, a maximum net engine power not exceeding 15 kw and an unladen mass, excluding the mass of batteries in the case of an electrically-powered vehicle, not exceeding 550 kg in the case of a goods vehicle and 400 kg in any other case: reg 2(1).

7 For the meaning of 'registration mark' see PARA 563 ante.

8 'Relevant area', in relation to a registration plate, means the area contained in a square described on the ground in front of the vehicle in the case of a plate fixed on the front of the vehicle, and behind the vehicle in the case of a plate fixed on the rear of the vehicle, where one corner of the square is immediately below the middle of the plate and the diagonal of the square from that corner is parallel to the longitudinal axis of the vehicle: Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, reg 4.

9 Ibid reg 5(3), (5). The diagonal length so specified is, in the case of a mark having characters the width of which is at least 57 mm, 22 m; in the case of a mark having characters the width of which is 50 mm, 21.5 m; and in the case of a mark having characters the width of which is 44 mm, 18 m: reg 5(6).

10 Ibid reg 6(1)-(3). The diagonal length so specified is, in the case of a mark having characters the width of which is at least 57 mm, 22 m; in the case of a mark having characters the width of which is 50 mm, 21.5 m; and in the case of a mark having characters the width of which is 44 mm, 18m: reg 6(4).

11 Ibid reg 6(5).

12 Ibid reg 9(1), (2).

13 le having a diagonal length, in the case of a plate displaying a mark having characters with a width of 44 mm, of 15 m, and, in any other case, of 18 m: ibid reg 9(5)(a), (b).

14 Ibid reg 9(3), (5).

VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(9) REGISTRATION MARKS/(ii) Display of Registration Marks/574. Works trucks, road rollers and agricultural machines.

574. Works trucks, road rollers and agricultural machines.

A registration plate<sup>1</sup> must be fixed to works trucks<sup>2</sup>, road rollers and agricultural machines<sup>3</sup> in a vertical position or, where that is not possible, in a position as close to the vertical as is reasonably practicable: (1) on both sides of the vehicle, so that the characters of the mark are easily distinguishable from both sides of the vehicle; or (2) on the rear of the vehicle, so that the characters of the mark are easily distinguishable from behind the vehicle; or (3) where the vehicle is towing a trailer or trailers and the plate is not fixed on the sides of the vehicle, on the trailer or the rearmost trailer, as the case may be, so that the characters of the mark are easily distinguishable from behind the trailer<sup>4</sup>.

Where the towing vehicle is an agricultural machine, a plate fixed on the trailer may, instead of displaying the registration mark<sup>5</sup> of the towing vehicle, display the mark of any other agricultural machine kept by the keeper of the towing vehicle<sup>6</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'registration plate' see PARA 571 note 2 ante.

575. Exempt vehicles.

Nothing in the regulations as to the display of registration marks<sup>1</sup> applies to:

1035 (1) an invalid vehicle, that is a vehicle the unladen weight of which does not exceed 254 kilograms and which is specially designed and constructed, and not merely adapted, for the use of a person suffering from a physical disability and solely used by that person; or

1036 (2) a pedestrian-controlled vehicle, that is a vehicle the unladen weight of which does not exceed 450 kilograms which is neither constructed nor adapted for the carriage of a driver or passenger<sup>2</sup>.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION/(9) REGISTRATION MARKS/(ii) Display of Registration Marks/576. International distinguishing signs and other material.

576. International distinguishing signs and other material.

No material other than a registration mark<sup>1</sup> may be displayed on a registration plate<sup>2</sup> except material complying with the requirements of any of the relevant specified<sup>3</sup> standards<sup>4</sup>. Where a mark is displayed on a dual purpose plate<sup>5</sup>, no material other than the international distinguishing sign of the United Kingdom displayed in accordance with the relevant Community legislation<sup>6</sup> may be placed in the space provided on the plate for that purpose and no part of the international distinguishing sign may encroach beyond the extreme left of the registration mark (that is to say, the outside edge of the prescribed<sup>7</sup> margin)<sup>8</sup>. Unless it forms part of a dual purpose plate, a registration plate may not be combined with a plate or device of any kind containing material which would not be permitted to be displayed on a dual purpose plate<sup>9</sup>.

576 International distinguishing signs and other material

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. No material other than a registration mark and material complying with the requirements of any of the relevant standards mentioned in the Road Vehicles (Display of Registration Marks) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/561, Sch 2 may be displayed on a registration plate: reg 16(1) (reg 16 substituted by SI 2009/811). Subject to the following provision, a registration plate may not be combined with any other plate or a device of any kind: reg 16(2). The letters 'GB' may be displayed on a plate or other device in accordance with the Annex to EC Council Regulation No 2411/98 on the recognition in intra-Community traffic of the distinguishing sign of the member state in which motor vehicles and their trailers are registered: reg 16(3). Subject to reg 16(5)-(8), there may be displayed on a plate or other device an arrangement of letters corresponding with reg 16(9)(a)-(k) and an emblem corresponding with reg 16(10)(a)-(d): reg 16(4). The arrangement of letters and emblem referred to in reg 16(4) must be displayed to the left of the registration plate and must not encroach into the margin, and for this purpose the expression 'margin' is to have the same meaning as in regs 14(9), 14A(2)(f) (see PARA 570): reg 16(5). The emblem referred to in reg 16(4) must be positioned above the arrangement of letters referred to in that paragraph: reg 16(6). Neither the arrangement of letters referred to in reg 16(4), nor the emblem referred to in that paragraph, must be more than fifty millimetres wide: reg 16(7). Regulation 16(4) does not apply if the letters 'GB' are displayed in accordance with reg 16(3) or if the relevant vehicle is recorded in the part of the register relating to Northern Ireland: reg 16(8). The arrangements of letters referred to in reg 16(4) are (1) 'United Kingdom' or 'UNITED KINGDOM'; (2) 'UK'; (3) 'Great Britain' or 'GREAT BRITAIN'; (4) 'GB'; (5) 'England' or 'ENGLAND'; (6) 'Eng' or 'ENG'; (7) 'Scotland' or 'SCOTLAND'; (8) 'Sco' or 'SCO'; (9) 'Wales' or 'WALES'; (10) 'Cymru' or 'CYMRU'; (11) 'Cym' or 'CYM': reg 16(9). The emblems referred to in reg 16(4) are (a) an image of the Union flag; (b) an image of the Cross of Saint George, as depicted on the flag of England; (c) an image of the Cross of Saint Andrew (the Saltire), as depicted on the flag of Scotland; (d) an image of the Red Dragon of Wales, as depicted on the flag of Wales: reg 16(10).

(10) VISITING VEHICLES

577. Production of documents.

A person resident outside the United Kingdom<sup>1</sup> who brings into Great Britain<sup>2</sup> a visiting vehicle<sup>3</sup> must, if he is at any reasonable time required to do so, produce to a registration authority specified documents that have been issued in respect of that vehicle<sup>4</sup>. The specified documents are:

- 1037 (1) a certificate of insurance, or a certificate of security or an insurance card<sup>5</sup>;
- 1038 (2) a visitor's registration document<sup>6</sup>;
- 1039 (3) a registration card<sup>7</sup>.

A person resident outside the United Kingdom who brings into Great Britain a visiting vehicle in respect of which a visitor's registration document has been issued must produce it for inspection if he is at any reasonable time required to do so by a police officer or by a person acting on behalf of the Secretary of State<sup>8</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 224 note 5 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 205 note 3 ante.

3 'Visiting vehicle' means a vehicle brought temporarily into Great Britain by a person resident outside the United Kingdom: Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Regulations 1985, SI 1985/610, reg 3. 'Vehicle' means a mechanically propelled vehicle intended or adapted for use on roads: reg 3.

4 Ibid reg 4(1).

5 Ibid reg 4(2)(a). For these purposes 'insurance card' has the same meaning as in the Motor Vehicles (International Motor Insurance Card) Regulations 1971, SI 1971/792, reg 3(1) (as amended) (see INSURANCE vol 25 (2003 Reissue) PARA 730); Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Regulations 1985, SI 1985/610, reg 3.

6 Ibid reg 4(2)(b). 'Visitor's registration document' means: (1) in the case of a vehicle registered in a country outside the United Kingdom, a registration certificate issued under the law of any country in respect of which a nationality sign has been assigned in, or notified to the Secretary-General of the United Nations under the International Convention relative to Motor Traffic (Paris, 24 April 1926; TS 11 (1930); Cmd 3510), the International Convention on Road Traffic (Geneva, 19 September 1949; TS 49 (1958); Cmd 578), or the International Convention on Road Traffic (Vienna, 8 November 1968; Misc 14 (1969); Cmd 4032), whether or not that country is a party to any of the said Conventions, and containing a registration mark, the name or the trade mark of the maker of the vehicle, the maker's identification or serial number, the date of its registration and the full name and permanent place of residence of the applicant for the said certificate; or (2) a certificate in form D as set out in the Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Order 1975, SI 1975/1208, art 1, Sch 1, issued under the law of a country outside the United Kingdom which is a party to the Convention relative to Motor Traffic (Paris, 24 April 1926; TS 11 (1930); Cmd 3510); or (3) in the case of a vehicle registered in accordance with the registration system of the British Authorities in Germany or the registration system of the United States Authorities in Germany, a registration certificate specifying the registered letter and number allotted to the vehicle under the system: Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Regulations 1985, SI 1985/610, reg 3.

'Nationality sign' means a sign complying with the provisions of the International Convention on Road Traffic (Vienna, 8 November 1968; Misc 14 (1969); Cmd 4032) Annex 3; the International Convention on Road Traffic (Geneva, 19 September 1949; TS 49 (1958); Cmd 578) Annex 4; or the International Convention relative to Motor Traffic (Paris, 24 April 1926; TS 11 (1930); Cmd 3510), Annex C, and bearing the distinctive letters specified in or under the Convention for the country under the law of which the vehicle is registered: Motor Vehicles (International Circulation) Regulations 1985, SI 1985/610, reg 3. As to registration marks see PARAS 563-576 ante. As to trade marks generally see TRADE MARKS AND TRADE NAMES.

7 Ibid reg 4(2)(c). 'Registration card' means a card issued under reg 6 (see PARA 579 post) or issued in Northern Ireland under provisions corresponding to reg 6: reg 3.

8 Ibid reg 4(3). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 236 ante. As to the transfer of certain functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 237 ante.
